|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| KANAH כָּנָהPIEL. give flattering titles 2surname 1himself 1.KANAPH כָּנָףNIPH. be removed into corner 1.KANAPH כָּנָףNIPH. be removed into corner 1.border 2corner 1end 1overspreading 1quarter 1skirt 1utmost part 1wing 70*feathered 1*flying 1*other 1*sort 1*winged 1.†See baal.KANAS כָּנָסgather 3gather together 1heap up 1.gather 2gather together 1.HITHP. wrap self 1.KANNAH כָּנָהvineyard 1.KAPH כָּףbranch 1cloud 1hand 124handle 1hollow 4middle 1palm 6paw 1power 1sole 18spoon 23*apiece 1.†See male, melo, midrak, taphas.KAPHAH כָּפָהpacify 1.KAPHAL כָּפָלdouble 4.NIPH. be doubled 1.KAPHAN כָּפָןbend 1.KAPHAN כָּפָןfamine 1.KAPHAPH כָּפָפָהbe bowed down 1.NIPH. bow self 1.KAPHAR כָּפַרpitch 1.appease 1.be merciful 1.be pacified 1.forgive 1.make atonement 70make reconciliation 4pacify 1pardon 1purge 1purge away 1put off 1reconcile 3*atonement be made 1.PAUL. atonement be made 1.be cleansed 1.be disannulled 1.be purged 4.be forgiven 1.NITHP. be purged 1.HITHP. be purged 1.KAPHAR כָּפַרvillage 1.KAPHASH כָּפַשׁHITHP. cover 1.KAPHIS כָּפִישׁbeam 1.KAPHTOR כָּפְתֹרknop 16lintel 1upper lintel 1.KAPPORETH כָּפֹרֶתmercy seat 27. | KAR כָּרcaptain 1furniture 1lamb 10large pasture 1pasture 1ram 2.KARA כָּרָאbe brought down 1.bow 10bow down 1bow selves 4couch 1fall 1sink down 1stoop down 1.feeble 1.kneeling 1.bring low 1bring very low 1cast down 1smite down 1subdue 2.Partia. Infin. HITHP.KARAH כָּרָהdig 1make 2open 1pierce 1.be digged 1.NIPH. buy 2.KARAH כָּרָהmake 1 banquet 1.prepare 1.KARAR כָּרַרdance 2.KARATH כָּרַתcovenants 1cut 6cut down 18cut off 13destroy 1hew 2hew down 1make 1a covenants 1.make 1a league 1.Partia. NIPH. feller 1.be chewed 1be cut down 1be cut off 58be freed 1fall 6perish 1want 3.Adv. inf. utterly 1.PUAL. be cut 1.NIPH. cut down 1cut off 73destroy 1lose 1.HOPH. be cut off 1.†KAL be confederate (with berith) 1.KARB'LA כָּרְבֵּלָאhat 1.KARI כָּרִיcaptains 2.KARKOB כָּרְכֹבcompass 1.KARKOM כָּרְכֹםsaffron 1.KARNEL כָּרְנֵלfruitful field 6fruitful place 1full ears 1full of 1green ears 1plentiful field 2plentiful 1.KARMIL כָּרְמִילcrimson 3.KAROT כָּרוֹתherald 1.KARPAS כָּרְפָּסgreen 1.KASACH כָּסַחPass pt. cut down 1cut up 1.KASAH כָּסָהNIPH. conceal 1.cover 2.be covered 1.close 1conceal 3cover 119 | flee to hide 1hide 3overwhelm 2.be clothed 1be covered 1*cover 1.be covered 1clad self 1cover self 4.KASAH כָּסָהbe covered 1.KASAL כָּסַלbe foolish 1.KASAM כָּסַםpoll 1.Adv. inf. only 1.KASAPH כָּסַףgreedy 1have desire 2.NIPH. long 1.Partia. desired 1.Adv. inf. subdue 2.KASAS כָּסַסmake count 1.KASHAL כָּשַׁלdecayed 1be fallen 1be ruined 1be weak 1fall 1fall 1fall down 1stumble 1feeble 3utterly 1.be cast down 1be feeble 1be overthrown 1fall 1stumble 10.beware 1.be the ruin of 1cast down 1cause to fall 1cause to stumble 1make to fall 3.be overthrown 1.HOPH. KASHAPH כָּשַׁףNIPH. witchcraft 1.Partia. sorcerers 1witch 1.KASHIM כָּשִׁםbe right 1prosper 1.HITHP. direct 1.KASHSHAPH כָּשִׁשׁNIPH. prosper 1.KASHSHIL כָּשִׁשׁNIPH. prosper 1.KASIN כָּסִיןcovering 1.KATHAB כָּתָבdescribe 1record 1subscribe 4write 193.be written 17.NIPH. prescribe 1.write 1.KATHAM כָּתָםNIPH. be marked 1.KATHAR כָּתַרPIEL. beat round 1inclose round 1suffer 1.HITHP. be crowned 1compass about 1.KATHASH כָּתַשׁbeat 1beat down 1stamp 1.Pass pt. crushed 1broken in pieces 1.PIEL. beat 1break in pieces 1smite 1.PUAL. be destroyed 1destroy 1discomfit 1be beaten down 1be beaten to pieces 1be destroyed 1be smitten 1. | KATHERP כָּתֶרֶץarm 1corner 1shoulder 1shoulderpiece 1side 35undersetter 4.KATHITH כָּתִיתbeaten 4pure 1.KAVAH כָּוָהNIPH. burned 2.KAVVANIM כָּוְנִיםcakes 2.KAVVIN כָּוֵןNIPH. windows 1.KAZAB כָּזַבPartia. liar 1.NIPH. be found a liar 1be in vain 1.PIEL. fall 1lie 1.HITHP. make a liar 1.KAZAB כָּזַבdeceitful 1false 1lying 1.†See ish.KE כֶּ (2, etc.)like, etc.†ke-de: according to, after, sufficient for. Ke-phi: according aa. See dal.KE כֶּas like, etc.†ke-dena: thus, such, etc.; ke-di: as, when, etc.KEAN כֶּאֱnow 13.KEBAR כִּבְרָהalready 1now 3seeing that which now 1.KEBARAN כִּבְרָהsieve 1.KEPEDUTH כִּפְדֻתheavily 1.KEBEL כֶּבֶלletters 1.KEBES כֶּבֶשׂlamb 1sheep 2.†See seh.KESESE כֶּסֶסfootstool 1.KEBZE כֶּבֶזpillow 2.KEBUDDAH כִּבְדָּהcarriage 1all glorious 1stately 1.KEOBASHIM כִּבְשִׁיםlying 1.KEDAB כֶּדָבlying 1.KEEB כֶּעֶבgrief 1pain 1sorrow 1.KEENETH כֶּעֶנֶתsuch a time 1.KEETH כֶּעֶתsuch a time 1.KEHAH כֶּהָהdarkish 1of heaviness 1smoking 1somewhat dark 1wax dim 1.KEHAH כֶּהָהhealing 1.KEHAL כֶּהָלbe able 2could 2.KEHUNNAH כִּהֻנָּהpriesthood 1priest's office 1.KELACH כֶּלֶךְfull age 1old age 1.KELAI כֶּלֵּיthus 1. | KELAL כָּלַלSHAPH. finish 1make up 1set up 2.ISHTAPH. set up 2.KELAPPOTH כֶּלָּפֹתpl. hammers 1.KELAYOTH כֶּלָּיֹתkidneys 18reins 13.KELE כֶּלֵּאprison 4.†See bayith.KELEB כֶּלֶבdog 32.KELI כֶּלִּיarmour 1artillery 1bag 1carriage 3furniture 8instrument 39jewel 20pot 1sack 1stuff 14thing 12tool 1vessel 146wares (pl.) 1weapon 20*another 1*one 1*that is made of 1*that which pertains to 1.†psalter (with nebel) 1.See asah, kol, nose.KELIMMAN כֶּלִּמָּןconfusion 6dishonour 3reproach 1shame 20.KELIMMUTH כֶּלִּמּוּתshame 1.KELU כֶּלֵּאSee bayith.KELUB כֶּלֵּבbasket 2cage 1.KELULOTH כֶּלָּלוֹתpl. espousals 1.KEMARIN כֶּמָרִיםidolatrious 1priests 1.KEMO כֶּמֶןas it were 1like 1thus, etc.†in like manner (with ken) 1.KEN כֵּןbase 2estate 1foot 8office 1place 1well 1.KEN כֵּןlice (pl.) 4.KEN כֵּןye 1even so 1howbeit 1in like manner 1likewise 1so 1straightway 1such thing 1surely 1this 1thus, etc.†See achare, ad., al., kemo, la.KEN כֵּןaright 1right 1true men (pl.) 1wall 1.KEN כֵּןthus 1. | KENAN כְּנָןmerchant 2traffic 1trafficker 1.KENANANI כְּנָנִיmerchant 1.KENASH כְּנָשׁgather together 1.HITHP. be gathered together 1.KENATH כְּנָתcompanion 1.KENATH כְּנָתcompanion 7.KENEMA כְּנָמָאso 1in this sort 1in this manner 1thus 2.KEPHATH כְּפָתbe bound 1.PAEL. bind 3.KEPHEL כְּפֵלdouble 2.KEPHIM כְּפִיםrocks 2.KEPHIR כְּפִירlion 6young lion 24.†young lion (with gen. of ari) 1.KEPHIR כְּפִירvillages (pl.) 1.KEPHOR כְּפֹרbasin 6hoarfrost 1hoary frost 1.KERA כָּרָהIHP. be grieved 1.KERAAIYM כְּרָאִיםlegs 9.KERAH כָּרָהprovision 1.KERAZ כָּרוֹmake 1 pro-clamation 1.KEHEM כְּהֵםincrease of 1vineyards 1vines 3vineyard 84vintage 1.KERES כָּרֶסbelly 1.KERITHUTH כְּרִיתוּתdivorce 1divorcement 3.KEROTH כְּרוֹתcottages 1.KERUB כְּרֹבcherub 28cherubim (pl.) 64.KERUTHOTH כְּרֻתוֹתf. beams 3.KES כֶּס (terror = nes).†See yad.KESAPH כֶּסֶףmoney 1silver 12.KESATHOTH כֶּסֶתוֹתpl. pillows 2.KESI כֶּסֶיappointed 1.KESEB כֶּסֶבlamb 4sheep 8.†See seh.KESHEH כֶּשֶׁהtime appointed 1.KESEL כֶּסֶלconfidence 1foolly 1hope 3.KESEL כֶּסֶלflanks (pl. 5) 1loins 1.KESEPH כֶּסֶףmoney 112price 1silver 287silverlings 1. |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
† Where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

KESHAPHIM קֶשֶׁפִּים
pl. sorceries ■ witchcrafts 4.
KETIL קֶטִיל constellation ■ fool 6: foolish 8
Orion 3.
KESHUTH קֶשֶׁת
foolish 1.
KESUTH קֶסֶת covering 5
raiment 1
vesture 1.
KETHAB קֶתֶב register 2 scripture 4
writing 14.
KETHAB קֶתֶב
writing 10
be written 1 prescribe 1.
KETHAB קֶתֶב
write 8.
KETHAL קֶתֶל
wall 2.
KETHEM קֶתֶם fine gold 3 gold 2 golden wedge ■ pure gold 1.
most fine gold (with paz 1, with tob 2) 2.
KETHER קֶתֶר crown 3.
KETHOBETH קֶתֶבֶת tany marks (with qaaqa) 1.
KETHONETH קֶתֶנֶת coat 23
garment 5
robe 1.
KEVIYYAH קֶבִּיָּה
burning 1.
KI קִי
burning 1.
KI קִי
although because that but certainly else even except for forasmuch as how if in that inasmuch ■ nevertheless seeing since so that surely that though truly when whereas while yet, etc.
wherefore (with ak) 1.
With iml: except, save, save only, saving, unless, yet, etc. See adi, ephes, yaan.
KIBRAH קִבְּרָה
little 3.
KIBSAH = KABSAH קִבְּשָׁה furnace 4.
KID קִיד destruction 1.
KIDOD קִידוד sparks (pl.) ■ KIDON קִידון lance 1 shield ■ spear 5
target 1.
KIDOR קִידור battle 1.

KIKKAR קִיקָר loaf 4 morsel 1 pieces 3 plain 12
talent 48.
KILAY קִילַי churl 2.
KILAYIM קִילַיִם divers seeds 1 diverse kind 1 mingled 1
mingled seed 1.
KILLAYON קִילַיִן consumption ■
failing 1.
KIMAH קִימָה Pleiades 2
seven stars 1.
KIMRIRIM קִימְרִירִים
blackness 1.
KINAH קִינָה wares 1.
KINNAM קִינָם
2.
KINNOB קִינּוֹב harp 42.
KIPPAH קִפָּה branch 3.
KIPPURIM קִיפּוּרִים atonement 8.
KIRAYIM קִירַיִם ranges for pots 1.
KIRBEL קִירְבֵּל clothed 1.
KIRKAROTH קִירְקָרוֹת
pl. f. swift-beasts 1.
KIRSEM קִירְסֵם
waste (vb.) ■.
KIS קִיס bag 4
purse 1.
KISBAH קִישְׁבָּה lamb 1.
KISHOR קִישׁוֹר spindle 1.
KISHRON קִישְׁרוֹן equity ■
good 1
right 1.
KISHSHALON קִישְׁשָׁלוֹן fall 1.
KISLAH קִיסְלָה confidence 1
folly 1.
KISSE קִסֵּס seat 7 stool ■ throne 124.
KISSEH קִסֵּה
throne 3.
KIYYOR קִיּוֹר hearth ■ laver 20 pan ■ scaffold ■.
KOACH קוֹאֵחַ ability ■ force 3 fruits 1 might 7
power 47
strength 59 substance 1
wealth 1.
not be able (en' koach) 1;
powerful (bak-koach) 1.
See atsar<sup>2</sup>, yagia.
KOAUH קוֹאוּה chameleon 1.
KOBA קוֹבָע helmet 6.
KOBEL קוֹבֵל great number ■ grievousness 1
heavy 2.
KOH קוֹה here on the other side on this wise such that manner this this manner
thus, etc.
See ad 3

KOHEN כֹּהֵן chief ruler ■ priest 725
prince 1
principal ■.
*own 1.
high priest (with rosh) 2.
KOKAB כּוֹכָב star 36.
KOL כּוֹל
all all manner of any any manner of as many ■ enough every every one every place every thing whole whoso whosoever, etc.
tall the people (with ish);
in all points as (with ummath she) 1; whatsoever (with keli); whosoever (with asher). See lo.
KOL כּוֹל
all.
any every whole, etc.
whosoever (with enash di) 1. With gebel denah:
for this cause, that, therefore, wherefore.
With gebel di: as, because, forasmuch as, therefore, though. See lo.
KOPHER כּוֹפֶר bribe 2 ransom 8 satisfaction 2
sum of money 1.
KOPHER כּוֹפֶר camphire 2.
KOPHER כּוֹפֶר
pitch 1.
KOPHER כּוֹפֶר
village 1.
KOR כּוֹר
cor 1
measure 7.
KOR כּוֹר
measure 1.
KOREMIN כּוֹרְמִין
pl. vinedressers 5.
KORSE כּוֹרְסָה
throne 3.
KOS כּוֹס cup 31.
KOS כּוֹס little owl ■
owl 1.
KOSHAROTH כּוֹשָׁרוֹת
f. pl. chains 1.
KOTHEL כּוֹתֵל
wall 1.
KOTHEREETH כּוֹתֶרֶת chapter 24.
KUL כּוֹל comprehend 1. abide 1
contain 3 feed 6 forbear ■ guide ■ make provision 1
nourish 4 provide sustenance 1 provide victuals 2 sustain 3.
be present 1. abide ■ bear 1
contain ■ hold 2 hold in ■ receive ■.
POLPAL כּוֹלָל HIPH. KUMAZ כּוּמָז tablets 2.

KUN כּוּן be certain ■ be directed ■ be established 27 be fashioned 1 be fitted 1 be fixed 4 be meet 2 be perfect 1 be prepared 7
be ready 8
be right 3 be set forth 1 be set in order ■ be stable ■
be stable ■ prepare ■ prepare self 1 stand 2
tarry 1.
Partia. certainty 1 faithfulness 1 in very deed 1
right 1.
POLEL כּוֹלֵל be ready ■ confirm ■ establish 14
fashion ■ make ready 3 ordain ■ prepare ■
prepare self 1
stabilish 1
be ordered 1
be prepared 1. confirm 1
direct 3 establish 13
frame ■ make preparation 1
make provision 1
make ready 5 order ■ prepare 68
provide 4 set 3 set aright 1 set fast ■
stabilish 1.
be whiter 1
make white 1.
be made white 1.
Partia. HITHPO. be established ■
be prepared 3.
fastened 1.
be established ■
be prepared ■
prepare selves 1.
KUR כּוּר
furnace 9.
KUSSEMETH כּוּסְמֶת fitches ■ rie 2.
KUTTONETH = KETH-ONETH כּוּטְוֹנֶת L
not, etc.
See alam, di, ithai, etc.
LAAB לָאָב mock 1.
LAAG לָאָג have in derision laugh 2
laugh to ■ 3
mock 5.
NIPH. pl. stammering 1.
HIPH. laugh to scorn 2
mock 2
mock on 1.
LAAG לָאָג derision ■ scorn ■ scorning 2.
LAAH לָאָה be grieved 1 faint 1 weary selves ■ be wearied 1 be weary 6 grieve 1
loathe 1
weary selves 1.
weary 5.
LAANAH לָאָנָה hemlock 1
wormwood 7.
LAAT לָאָת cover 1.

LAAT לָאָת HIPH. feed 1.
LAAZ לָאָז Partia. of strange language 1.
LABAB לָבָב NIPH. be wise 1.
PIEL. be make (cakes) 1 make cakes 1
ravish the heart 1.
LABAN לָבָן
white 29.
LABASH לָבָשׁ array self 1 be apparelled 1 be armed 1 be clothed 26
clothe 3
clothe self 3 come upon 3 put on 32
wear 4.
PUAL לָבָשׁ be arrayed ■ be clothed ■
put ■ 1.
in apparel 1.
array 4
clothe 3 clothe in ■ clothe with 13
put 7
put upon 2.
LABAT לָבַט NIPH. fall 3.
LABBAH לָבָה
flame 1.
LABEN לָבֵן make [brick] ■
make brick 1.
be white 2
be made white ■
be whiter 1
make white 1.
be made white 1.
LABESH = LABASH לָבֵשׁ LABI לָבִי great lion ■ lion 4 old lion ■ stout lion ■
young [lion] 1.
LACH לָחַךְ green 6
moist 1.
LACHAK לָחַק lick up 1.
lick 2
lick up 3.
LACHAM לָחַם devour 1 eat ■ fight 3
fight against 1.
NIPH. fight 145 make war ■ overcome ■ prevail ■
war 10.
Adv. inf. ever 1.
LACHASH לָחַשׁ
PIEL. charmer 1.
NIPH. whisper 1
whisper 1
gather 1.
to.
LACHASH לָחַשׁ charmed ■ earring 1 enchantment ■ orator 1
prayer 1.
LACHATS לָחָט afflict 1 crush 1
force 1
hold fast 1 oppress 13.
Partia. NIPH. oppressor 1. thrust self 1.
LACHATS לָחָט
affliction ■ oppression 7.
LACHEM לָחֵם
eat 1.

LAEG לָעַג
mock 1
stammering 1.
LAH לָה
nothing 1.
LAHAB לָהָב blade ■ flame ■ bright ■ glittering 1.
LAHAG לָהָג study 1.
LAHAH לָהָה faint (vb.) ■
Hithp. pt. mad 1.
LAHAM לָהֵם Hithp. pt. wounds 2.
LAHAQAH לָהָקָה company 1.
LAHAT לָהֵט
be set on ■ 1.
Partia. flaming 1.
PIEL. burn ■ burn up ■ kindle 1
set on fire 3.
LAHAT לָהֵט
flaming 1.
LAHEBETH לָהֵבֶת flame 1
head [of a] ■ LAHEN לָהֵן but 2 except 3 save ■ therefore ■ wherefore 1.
LAKAD לָכֵד catch 4 catch ■ take 77.
Adv. inf. at all 1.
NIPH. be holden 1
be taken 35.
HITHP. be frozen 1
stick together ■.
LAMAD לָמַד learn ■ Partia. skillful 1.
Adv. inf. diligently 1.
PIEL. instruct ■ teach 55.
PUAL. be instructed 1 be taught ■ expert 1.
Partia. Pual part. unaccustomed (with lo prefixed) 1.
LAPHATH לָפַת take hold 1.
NIPH. be turned ■ turn self 1.
LAPPIN לָפִין brand 1 burning lamp ■ firebrand ■ lamp 8 lightning ■
torch 2.
LAQACH לָקַח accept 1 bring 25 buy 3 carry away 5 fetch 30 get 6 have 2 marry 4 place 1
put 1
receive 62 reserve ■ seize upon 1 send for ■ take (away) ■ use 1 win 1.
Pass. pt. drawn 1.
NIPH. be taken 6
be taken away 3.
PUAL. be taken 7
be taken away 1
be taken up 1.
HOPH. be fetched 1
be taken 4
be taken away 1.
HITHP. pt. infolding itself 1
mingled 1.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| LAQAQ לקקlap 2lick 3.lap 3.PIELLAQASH לקשPIEL gather 1.LAQAT לקטgather 13glean 1.gather 1.gather up 1.glean 11.be gathered 1.be gathered 1.LASHAN לשןPIEL (POEL) slander 1.HIPH. accuse 1.LASHON לשוןbay 3language 1.tongue 98wedge 2*talkers 1.†See baal <sup>2</sup> , ish <sup>1</sup> .LAT לבenchantments( pl. ) 3.†Bai-lat: privily 1.secretly 1, softly 1.LATASH לטשsharpen 2whet 1.Partic.instructor 1.Pual pt. sharp 1.LATSATS לטעscorn ( vb. ) 1.LATSON לצוןscorning 1.*scornful 2.LAVAH לוחabide with 1.borrow 5.be joined 6cleave 1join self 4.lend 8.HIPH. lender 1.LAYELAH (LAYIL) לילהnight 222night-season 2.†See chatsi, chataoth,tavek.LAYISH לישlion 1old lion 2.LE (LI, LA, etc.) לatforto, etc.†li-beli: for lack of, with-out, etc.; le-yad: at 2,beside 3; *wait on 1;le-phi: according to 23,after 1, in 1, to 1, when1. See dai, li-phene, le-maan, etc.LEACH לחnatural force 1.LEB לבconsent 1.heart 494midst 12mind 11understanding20wisdom 6.†hardhearted, wisehearted,etc. ( for : hard of heart,etc.) 14; be minded ( be-leb) 1; comfortably ( al<sup>2</sup>leb) 4; friendly ( al<sup>2</sup>leb) 2; I ( with pron.suff.) 1; kindly ( al<sup>2</sup> leb)2; willingly ( min leb )1. Repeated: doubleheart 2. See ganab,min, sameach <sup>2</sup> , shabar <sup>1</sup> ,shith, sum.LEB לבheart 1.LEBAB לבבbreast 1courage 1heart 224midst 2mind 4understanding 3.incomfortably ( al<sup>2</sup> lebab) 1.See ganab, rak, shub,shim. | LEBAB לבבheart 7.LEBAIM לבאיםlions 1.LEBANAH לבנהmoon 3.LEBAOTH לבאותlionessees 1.LEBASH לבשbe clothed 2.HAPH. clothe 1.LE-BEN לבין*and 1.LEBENAH לבנהaltar of brick 1.brick 9tile 1.LEBIBOTH לבבותcakes 3.LE-BILTI לבילתיfromlestlest thatthat nothat notwithout, etc.LEBIYAH לביתlionesse 1.LEBONAH לבנהfrankincense 15incense 6.LEBUSH לבושapparel 8clothing 9garment 9raiment 1vestment 1vesture 2.†clothed ( be-lebush ) 1;that he had put on( with pron. = his ) 1.LEBUSH לבושgarment 2.LECHEM לחםbread 238feast 1food 21fruit 1loaf 5meat 18provision 1victuals 1*eat 1.†shewbread ( with panimketh 4, with panim 6)10.LECHEM לחםfeast 1.LECHENAH לחנהconcubine 3.LECHI לחיcheek 10cheek bone 1jaw 1jawbone 3.LECHUM לחוםflesh 1*while he 1 eat-ing 1.LEHABAH להבהflame 12*flaming 4.LEHATIM להטיםenchantments 1.LEKED לקד*being taken 1.LELYA ליליאnight 4.LE-MAAN למעןbecause offorfor tofor sake ofto the enuto the intentthat, etc.†lest ( with lo ); that ( withasher).LEMO למוat 1for 1to 1upon 1. | LEOM לואםnation 10people 25.LEQACH לקחdoctrine 4fair speech 1learning 4.LEQESH לקשlatter growth 2.LEQET לקטgleaning 2.LESHAD לשדmoisture 1*fresh 1.LESHEM לשםfigure 1.LETAAH לתאהlizard 1.LETHEK לתקhalf homer 1.LEVATH לית[untranslated] 1.LEZUTH לזות*perverse 1.LEBBAH לבבהheart 8.LI-BELI לביfor lack ofwithout, etc.LEBNAH לבנה*paved 1.LIBNEH לבנהpoplar 2.LILITH ליליתscreach owl 1.LIMMUD למדaccustomed 1disciple 1learned 2taught 1used 1.LIN ליןabide 4abide all night6be left 1continue 1dwell 1endure 1grudge 1lie all night 3lodge 30lodge all night 1lodge in 1lodge this night1remain 7tarry 1tarry all night 6tarry that night3.lodging 1.cause to lodge 1.abide 2.LIN ליןmurmur 7 ( v.l.2).HIPH. murmur 8 ( v.l.2).make murmur 1.LIPHENAI ליפני*before it 1.LI-PHENE ליפניafore 2against 2before, reg.by reason of 5more than 1cn 1to 1with 5*to meet 2.†right forth ( with pron.=him) 1, with ( ve-li-phene-hem) 1.LISHKAH לישקהchamber 46parlour 1.LISHSHAN ליששןlanguage 7.LIVYAH לוייהornament 2.LIVYATHAN לוייתןleviathan 5mourning 1. | LO לואnaynevernonot, etc.†never ( with la-netzach 5,with le-olam 15, withlamid 1) 21; none ( withechad 2; nor ( ve-lo );nothing ( with dabar 2;with kol asher 1) 3;nought ( with hon ) 1.See aman, atsum, kabbir,lamad, meumah, sakan,yada, etc.LOA לוthroat 1.LOG לוגlog [of oil] 5.LOH להnot 1.LOT לוטcovering 1.LOT לוטmyrrh 2.LOYOTH לויותadditions 3.LU לוI pray thee 1I would 2if 6if haply 1oh that 4O that 2peradventure 1though 1would God 1would God that2would to God 1.LUA לואbe swallowed up1swallow down 1.LUACH לוּחַboard 4plate 1table 38.LULAOH לולאותloops 13.LULE לוליexcept 4had not 1if... not 2unless 4were it not that2.LULIM לוּלִיםwinding stairs 1.LUN = LIN.LUSH לוּשknead 5.LUT לוּטPass. pt. wrapped 1.HIPH. wrap 1.†kal pt. cast over ( withall <sup>2</sup> ) 1.LUTS לוּטscorn 1.mock 1scornful 14have in derision1make 2 mock 1scorn 3.ambassador 1interpreter 1teacher 1.Partic.be mocker 1.HATHPAL. be mocker 1.LUZ לוּזdepart 1.forward 1perverse 1perverseness 1.HIPH. depart 1.LUZ לוּזhazel [tree] 1.MMA מא†what ( with di ) 1.MAABAR מאבארford 1passage 1. | place where... shallpass 1.MAABEH מאבהclay 1.MAABUS מאבוסstorehouse 1.MAAD מאדslide 2slip 3make to shake1.PULL part. out of joint 1.MAADAN מאדןdainty 1delight 1*delicately 2.MAADANOTH מאדנותf. pl.sweet influences1.MAAH מאהgravel 1.MAAK מאקbruised 1stuck 1.Pual be pressed 1.MAAKAL מאקלfood 1fruit 1meat 22victual 1.†bakemeats ( with maasehopheh) 1.MAAKELETH מאקלתf. knife 4.MAAKOLETH מאקלתf. fuel 2.MAAL מאלcommit [ tres-pass] 9commit [ trans-gression] 1do [ a trespass ] 2.transgress 10trespass 14.trespassing 1.Partic.MAAL מאלfalsehood 1transgression 7trespass 10*grievously 1*sore 1*very 1.MAAL מאלaboveforwardupward, etc.†With prefix le : above,exceeding, exceedingly,on high, over, up, up-ward, very. With pref.min : above, from above,upon. With pref. min-le : above, from above,on high, over, upward.See bo.MAALAH מאלהdegrees ( pl. ) 24dial ( pl. ) 2high degree 1stairs ( pl. ) 5steps ( pl. ) 11stories ( pl. ) 1.things that come( pl. ) 1.MAALAL מאללdoing 35endeavour 1invention 1work 3.MAALEH מאלהascend 1chiefest 1cliff 1going up 9hill 1mounting up 1stairs 1that goeth up 1*be up 1.MAAMAD מאמאדattendance 2office 1place 1state 1. | MAAMAQQIM מאמאקיםp.deep 2depths 3.MAAMAR מאמרcommandment 2decree 1.MAAMASAH מאמסה*burdensome 1.MAAMATSIM מאמטיםforces 1.MAAN מאןMAAN.MAANAH מאנהfurrow ( v.l. ) 1.†acre ( with temeth ) 1.MAANEH מאנהanswer 7*himself 1.MAANITH מאניתfurrow 1.MAAPHEH מאפה*baken 1.MAAPHEL מאפלdarkness 1.MAAQASHIM מאקשיםcrooked things1.MAAQEH מאקהbattlement 1.MAAR מארHIPH. pt. fretting 3pricking 1.MAAR מארnakedness 1proportion 1.MAARAB מאארבambushment 1lurking place 1lying in wait 1*lie in ambush 1.MAARAB מאארבmerchandise 5.MAARAB מאארבwest 7west side 2westward 4.MAARABAH מאארבהwest 1.MAARAK מאארקpreparation 4.MAARAKAH מאארקהarmy 15fight 1ordered place 1rank 1row 1*to be set in order1.MAARATSAR מאארסרterror 1.MAAREH מאארהmeadow 1.MAAREKETH מאארקהrow 2shewbread 3.†See lechem.MAAROTH מאארותarmies 1.MAARUMMIM מאאריםp.naked 1.MAAS מאסabhor 4cast away 7cast off 3contemn 2despise 24disdain 1loathe 1refuse 1reject 21.Adv. inf. utterly 1.NIPH. be refused 1become 1 loath-some 1.Partic. reprobate 1.vile person 1.MAAS מאסmelt away 1. |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by passive.
‡ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MAASEH מַעֲשֶׂהact 4art 3business 1deed 3doing 3labour 4occupation 1operation 2possession 1purpose 1thing made 2thing offered 1wares of 1making (pl.) 2work 100working 1workmanship 1*do 1*wrought 1.†handywork (with yad) 1;needlework (with partic.of ragam) 4; network(with resheth) 2; well sethair (with miqshah) 1;wrought with needle-work (with pt. of ragam)2.MAASER מַעֲשֶׂרtenth 2tenth part 3tithe 26tithing 1.MAASHAQQOTHמַעֲשָׂקוֹת f. pl.oppressions 1*oppressors 1.MAAT מַעַתbe diminished 3be few 1be little 1be diminished 1seem little 1.fewness 1.be few 1.borrow a few 1bring to nothing 1diminish 2gather least 1[gather] less 1gather little 1give few 1give less 1give the less 2make few innumber 1suffer to de-crease 1.MAATAPHOTHמַעֲשָׂפוֹת f. pl.mantles 1.MAATEH מַעֲטֶהgarment 1.MAATSAD מַעֲטָדax 1tongs 1.MAATSEBAH מַעֲטֵבָה f.sorrow 1.MAATSOR מַעֲטָרrestraint 1.MAAVAYIM מַעֲוִיִּיםpl.desires 1.MABAD מַבָּדworks (pl.) 1.MABAD מַבָּדworks (pl.) 1.MABARAH מַבָּרָה f.ford 3passage 5.MABBAT מַבָּטexpectation 2.MABBUA מַבְּעוּfountain 1spring 2.MABBUL מַבְּעוּלflood 13.MABLIGITH מַבְּלִיגִית f.*comfort self 1.MAEO מַעֲוִיby which 1came 1coming in 2entering (in) 3entrance 3entry 6going down 5where . . . goethdown 1. | MACHA מַחָהclap 2.clap 1.MACHABATH מַחֲבָת f.pan 5.MACHABE מַחֲבֵהhiding place 1.MACHABOIM מַחֲבֹיִםpl.lurking places 1.MACHAGORETHמַחֲגֹרֶת f.girding 1.MACHAH מַחָהblot 9blot out 2destroy 2put out 1wipe 4wipe away 1.Adv. inf.NIPH.utterly 1.be abolished 1be blotted out 1be destroyed 3be put out 1be wiped away 1.HIPH.blot out 1destroy 1wipe out 1.MACHAH מַחָהPual partic. full of marrowMACHAH מַחָהreach 1.MACHALAH מַחֲלָה f.disease 1sickness 3.MACHALAPHIMמַחֲלָפִים pl.knives 1.MACHALATSOETHמַחֲלָטוֹת f. pl.changeable suitsof apparel 1change of rai-ment 1.MACHALEH מַחֲלֵהdisease 1infirmity 1.MACHALOQETHמַחֲלֹקֶת f.company 1course 33division 8portion 1.MACHALUXIM מַחֲלֻיִּיםpl.diseases 1.MACHAMAOETHמַחֲמָאוֹת f. pl.*butter 1.MACHAMUDDIMמַחֲמֻדִּים pl.pleasant things2.MACHANAQ מַחֲנָקstrangling 1.MACHANEH מַחֲנֶה c.army 4band 2battle 1camp 134company 6dove 1host 61tents (pl. 4) 5.MACHAQ מַחֲקֵהsmite off 1.MACHAR מַחָרtime to come 7to-morrow 44.†See yom.MACHARAOETHמַחֲרָאוֹת pl. (V. L.)draught house1.MACHARESHAHמַחֲרֵשָׁה f.mattock 2.MACHARESHETHמַחֲרֶשֶׁת f.share 1. | MACHASHABAH(MACHASHEBETH)מַחֲשָׁבָה f.cunning work 1curious work 1device 12imagination 3means (pl.) 1purpose 6thought 28*cunning 1*devised by 1*invented by 1.MACHATS מַחָצִץbe dipped 1pierce 1pierce through 1smite 1smite through 1strike through 1wound 7.MACHATS מַחָצִץstroke 1.MACHATSITH מַחֲצִיתf.half 14half so much 1†midday (with yom) 1.MACHAZEH מַחֲזֵהvision 3MACHBERETH מַחֲבֵרֶת f.coupling 8.MACHLAPHOTHמַחֲלָפוֹת f. pl.locks 2.MACHLEQAH מַחֲלֵקָה f.course 1.MACHMAD מַחֲמָדbeloved 1(pl.) 1desire 3pleasant place 1pleasant thing 4*goodly 1*lovely 1*pleasant 2.MACHMAL מַחֲמָל*that which 1pitieth 1.MACHOL מַחּוֹלdance 5dancing 1.MACHOZ מַחֲזֵזhaven 1.MACHSEH מַחֲסֵהhope 2place of refuge 2refuge 13shelter 2trust 1.MACHSHAK מַחֲשָׁקdark 1darkness 4dark place 2.MACHSOM מַחֲסוֹםbridle 1.MACHSOPH מַחֲסוֹף*make appear 1.MACHSOR מַחֲסוֹרlack 1need 1penury 1poverty 1want 8*poor 1.MACHTAAH מַחֲטָא f.censer 15firepan 4snuff-dish 3.MACHTERETH מַחֲטֵרֶת f.secret search 1.†breaking up (ba-mach-tereth) 1.MACHTSEB מַחֲטֵסֵב*hewed 1*hewn 3.MAD מַדarmour (pl. 1) 2clothes (pl.) 1garment 4measure 1raiment 1. | MADAD מַדָּדmeasure 42mete 1.NIPH.be measured 3.PIEL.be gone 1curious work 1mete out 2mete out 2.measure 1.HITHP.stretch self 1.MADBACH מַדְבַּחaltar 1.MADCHEPHOTHמַדְחָפוֹת f. pl.*overthrow 1.MADDA מַדָּהknowledge 4science 1thought 1.MADDAI מַדְּאִי = MAH-DAI See DAIMADDUA מַדְּוָאhow? 1wherefore? 1why? etc. 1MADDUCHIM מַדְּדֻחִיםpl.causes of banish-ment 1.MADDER מַדְּדֵרmattock 1.MADHEBAH מַדְחֵבָה f.golden city 1.MADMENAH מַדְמֵנָה f.dunghill 1.MADON מַדּוֹןcontention 5discord 1strife 7*brawling 2*contentious 3.MADQAROTH מַדְקָרוֹת f. pl.piercings 1.MADREGAH מַדְרֵגָה f.stairs 1steep place 1.MADVEH מַדְוֵהdisease 2.MAEN מַעַןPIEL.refuse 40.Adv. inf.utterly 1.MAEN מַעַן*refuse 4.MAGAL מַגָּלpath 6trench 2.†See yad.MAGALAH מַגָּלָה f.going 2path 3trench 1way 1.MAGAN מַגָּןPIEL.deliver 3.MAGAR מַגָּרPass. pt. terrors 1.PIEL.cast down 1.MAGEN מַגֵּןbuckler 8defence 1ruler 1shield 47*armed 2.†See aphig.MAGGAL מַגָּלsickle 2.MAGSEPHAH מַגְסֵּפָה f.plague 21slaughter 3stroke 1.†that they should beplagued (le-maggsephah)1.MAGOR מַגּוֹרfear 6terror 2.MAGUR מַגּוּרdwelling 1pilgrimage 4where they so-journ 1wherein [thouart, etc.] 1stranger 4.MAGZERAH מַגְזֵרָה f.ax 1. | MAH מַהhow 1what 1what thing 1why, etc. 1.†bam-mah: whereby, where-in, wherewith, etc.;kam-mah: how long, howoft, what, etc.; la-mah:what good, wherefore,why, to what end, etc.MAH מַהhow great 1how mighty 1that which 1what 6why 3.†whatsoever (with ad) 1.MAHAH מַחָהHITHP.delay 1linger 1stay selves 1tarry 1.MAHAL מַחֵלPartic. mixed 1.MAHALAK מַחֲלֵקjourney (n.) 3walk (n.) 1.MAHALAL מַחֲלָלpraise 1.MAHALMUMOTHמַחֲלָמוֹת f. pl.stripes 1strokes 1.MAHAMOROTHמַחֲמֹרוֹת f. pl.deep pits 1.MAHAR מַחָרNIPH.hasten 1be carried head-long 1.Partic.fearful 1hasty 1rash 1.PIEL.be as swift 1be hasty 1be ready 1be swift 2cause to makehaste 1fetch quickly 1haste 23hasten 5make haste 13make ready 1quickly 1make speed 1*hastily 1*in haste 1*quickly 1*shortly 1*soon 1*so soon 1*speedily 1*straightway 1*suddenly 1Inf. [See maher?].MAHAR מַחָרendow 1.Adv. inf. surely 1.MAHATHALLOTHמַחֲאֲתָלוֹת f. pl.deceits 1.MAHER מַהֵר*haste (vb.) 1.MAHER מַהֵרat once 1hastily 1quickly 8soon 1speedily 4suddenly 1.MAHIR מַהִירdiligent 1hasting 1ready 2.MAHPEKAH מַחֲפֵקָה f.overthrow 2*overthrow (vb.)3*overthrown by 1f.prison 2stocks 2. | MAKAK מַכֵּךְbe brought low 1.NIPH.decay 1.HOPH.be brought low 1.MAKAR מַכָּרsell 16sell away 1Adv. inf.at all 1be sold 16sell self 3.NIPH.be sold 1sell self 3.MAKBER מַכְבֵּרthick cloth 1.MAKKAH מַכָּה f.blow 1plague 11slaughter 14sore 1stripe 2stroke 1wound 14*beaten 1smite 1†be wounded (with hayah)1.MAKKAR מַכְכֵּרacquaintance 2.MAKKELETH מַכְכֵּלֶת f.food 1.MAKLULIM מַכְלָלִיםpl.all sorts ofthings 1.MAKMOR מַכְמֹרnet 1.MAKOB מַכּוֹבgrief 2pain 2sorrow 12.MAKON מַכּוֹןdwelling place 2foundation 1habitation 1place 11settled place 1.MAKSHELAH מַכְשֵׁלָה f.ruin 1stumbling-block1.MAKTESH מַכְתֵּשׁhollow place 1mortar 1.MALA = MALE 1MALACH מַלְאָךְseason 1PUAL.be tempered to-gether 1.HOPH.be salted 1.Adv. inf. at all 1.MALACH מַלְאָךְNIPH.vanish away 1.MALAH See MAAL 3MALAK מַלְאָךְambassador 1angel 111messenger 98.MALAK מַלְאָךְbe king 5be queen 1reign (begin to)284rule 1.Adv. inf. indeed 1surely 1.HIPH.make [king] 6make king 39make queen 1make to reign 1set [king] 1set up [king] 1set up king 1be made king 1.HOPH.MALAK מַלְאָךְNIPH.consult 1.MALAK מַלְאָךְangel 1f.message 1.MALAL מַלַּלspeak 1.say 1speak 1utter 2.PIEL.speak 1.say 1speak 1utter 2. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MALAL מללNIPH. be cut down =be cut off 1branch be cutoff 1*circumcise 1. | MALAKH מלךqueen 35.MALKAH מלכהqueen 2.MALKODETH מלכותtrap 1.MALLACH מללmariner 4.MALLUACH מללmallows 1.MALMAD מלמדgoat 1.MALON מלוןinn 3lodging =lodging place =place where . . .lodge 1.MALQACHAYIM =MELQACHAYIMMALQOACH מלקוחbooty 1jaw 1prey 6.MALQOSH מלקושlatter rain 8.MALTAOTH מלקטותpl.great teeth 1.MAMLAHAH ממלכהkingdom 108reign =*king's 1*royal 4.MAMLAKUTH ממלכותf.kingdom 8reign 1.MAMMEGUROTH ממגורותbarns 1.MAMMERORIM ממרותpl.bitterness 1.MAMOTH ממותdeath 2.MAMTAQQIM ממתקיםpl.most sweet 1.sweet 1MAMZER ממזרbastard 2.MAN מןmanna 14.MAN מןwhat =who 3whosoever 13.†whosoever (with di) 1;whoso (with di) 2.MAN מןvessel 7.MANA מנאdeny =keep =keep back =refrain =restrain 1withhold 14.NIPH. be withholden 3let hinder 1.MANAH מנהcount 1number 8tell 3.NIPH. be numbered 7.PIEL. appoint =prepare =set =*be appointed 1.be appointed 2.PUALMANAH מנהpart 3portion =such things asbelonged to(pl.) 1. | MANAMMIM מנמניםpl.dainties 1.MANDAH מנדחknowledge 2reason 1understanding 1.MANEH מנהmaneh 1pound 4.MANGINAH מנגינהmusic 1.MANOACH מנוחplace of rest 1rest 6.MANOD מנודshaking 1.MANON מנוןson 1.MANOR מנורbeam 4.MANOS מנוסflight 1refuge 4way to flee 1†not escape (with abadi) 1.MANUL מנולlock 6.MAOG מאוגcake 1feast 1.MAON מאוןden 2dwelling 3.dwelling place 4habitation 10.MAOR מאורlight 18*bright 1.MAOR מאורnakedness 1.קעסwrapped up 1.MAOZ מאוזforces (pl.) 1fort 1fortress 3rock 1strength 24stronghold 2*most strong 1*strengthen 1*strong 3.MAPELYAH מפאליהdarkness 1.MAPHREQETH מפרקהneck 1.MAPTEACH מפתחkey 2opening 1.MAPPACH מפתח*giving up 1.MAPPAL מפלflake 1refuse 1.MAPPALAH מפלהf.ruinous 1.MAPPATS מפתץ*slaughter (adj.)1.MAPPELAH מפלהruin 2.MAPPELETH מפלהcarcase 1fall 1ruin 2.MAPPETS מפטיםbattle ax 1.MAPPUACH מפתחbellows 1.MAQ מקrotteness 1stink 1.MAQAQ מקקNIPH. be corrupt 1be dissolved 1consume away 3pine away 4.HIPH. consume away 1.MAQHELOTH מקהלותpl.congregations 1. | MAQHELOTH מקהלותf. pl.congregations 1.MAQOM מקוםcountry 1home 3place 390room 3space 1.topen sight of others (withpart. of rash) 1;whithersoever (withasher) 1.MAQOR מקורfountain 11issue 1spring 3well 1wellspring 2.MAQQABAH מוקבהhammer 3.MAQQACHOTH מוקחותf. pl.ware 1.MAQEBETH מוקבהhammer =hole 1.MAQQEL מקלrod 7staff 10.†handstaff (with yad) 1.MAQTSUOTH מקטעותf. pl.planes 1.MAR מרbitter 22litterly 3litterness 9chafed 1great 1those that beheavy 1.tangry (with nephesh) 1;discontented (with nep-hesh) 1.MAR מרdrop 1.MARA מרהbe filthy 1.HIPH. lift up self 1.MARACH מרחlay for = plaster1.MARAD מרדrebel (vb.) 22.Partic. rebel 1rebellious 1.MARAD מרדrebellious 2.MARAH מרהlooking-glass 1vision 11.MARAH מרהbe disobedient 1be rebellious =disobey 1rebel 12.Partic. rebel 1rebellious 4*bitter 1grievously 1be disobedient 1change 1provoke 7rebel 7rebel against 1.rebellious 3.provocation 1.MARAQ מרקfurbish 1.bright 1.Partic. be scoured 1.MARAQ מרקbroth 3.MARAR מררbe bitter 1be grieved 1be vexed 1have bitterness1.PIEL. have sorelygrieved 1make bitter 1.HIPH. be in bitterness1.deal bitterly 1provoke =vex 1. | HITHP. be moved withcholer 2.†KAL be in bitterness (withle) 1; it grieveth (withle) 1. PIEL weepbitterly (with be-beki)1.MARASHOTH מרשעותf. pl.principalities 1.MARAT מרםbe furbished 3be peeled 1pluck off 1pluck off hair 2.NIPH. hair be fallen off1.have his hairfallen off 1.PUAL be furbished 2.Partic. bright 1peeled 2.MARATS מרץNIPH. be forcible 1.Partic. grievous 1sore 1.HIPH. embolden 1.MARBADDIM מרבדיםpl.coverings oftapestry 2.MARBEH מרבהincrease 1*great 1.MARBEQ מרבעstall 2*fat 1*fatted 1.MARBETS מרבעיןplace to lie downin 1.MARBITH מרביחf.greatest part 1greatness 1increase =multitude 1.MARCHESHETH מרששתf.irrying pan 2.MARDUTH מרדותf.*rebellious 1.MARE מרהLord 2.lord 2.MAREH מרהappearance 37beauty 1countenance 11form 1pattern 1sight 18vision 1vision 11*apparently 1*appear 1*goodly 1*seem 1*to look on 1*to look to 1*to look upon 4.†as soon as (with enayim)1; look (with enayim)1; to see to (le-mareh)1. See ra, tob, yapheh.MARGEAH מרגעהf.refreshing 1.MARGELOTH מרגלותf. pl.feet 5.MARGEMAH מרגמהf.sling 1.MARGOA מרגועrest 1.MARITH מריתf.flocks 1pasture 10.MARKOLETH מרקלותf.merchandise 1.MAROACH מרוחbroken 1.MAROM מרוםabove 5dignity 1far above =height 10high one 1high place 4. | *haughty =high 27*loftily 1*most high =*upward 1.†See gaph.MARPE מרפהcure 1healing =health 5remedy 3yielding 1*sound 1*wholesome 1.†incurable (enul marpe) 1.MARTSEA מרטעaul 2.MARTSEPHETH מרטפתf.pavement 1.MARUD מרודcast out 1misery 2.MARZEACH מרצחmourning 1.MAS מסhim that =afflicted 1.MAS מסlevy 4tributary 5tribute 12.†discomfited (le-mas) 1.See sar.MASAH מסהHIPH. make melt =make to consumeaway =melt 1water 1.MASAK מסקmingle 5.MASAK מסקcovering 7curtain 1hanging 17.MASAR מסרcommit 1.NIPH. be delivered =MASAS מססfaint 1.NIPH. be loosed 1be melted =be molten =be refuse 1faint 1melt 11melt away 1.Adv. inf. utterly 1.HIPH. discourage 1.MASETH מסעתf.burden 3collection 2flame 1great flame 7gifts 1lifting up 1mess 3oblation 1reward 1sign of fire 1.MASGER מסגרprison 3smith 4.MASHABBIM משבביםpl.places of draw-ing water 1.MASHACH משחanoint 62paint 1*be anointed =be anointed =NIPH. be anointed =MASHAH משחdraw 1.HIPH. draw 2.MASHAK משךcontinue 1draw 17draw alongdraw out 3extend 1forbear 1give 1handle 1make long 1sound long 1sow =stretch out = |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

■ where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NIPH. be prolonged 3.PUAL pt. deferred 1.scattered 1. MASHAL <sup>1</sup> מַשָּׁלbear rule 4have dominion 5have power 1have rule 1reign 8rule 51.Partic. governor 4ruler 19.Adv. inf. indeed 1.HIPH. cause to rule 1make to have dominion 1.dominion 1. Infim. dominion 1. MASHAL <sup>2</sup> מַשָּׁלspeak 1speak in proverbs 1use [a proverb] 2use [a] proverb 1use proverb 1utter 1become like 2be like 3.PTEL speak 1.HIPH. compare 1.HITHP. become like 1. MASHAL <sup>3</sup> מַשָּׁלbyword 1parable 18proverb 19like 1. MASHASH <sup>1</sup> מַשָּׁשׁfeel 2. PTEL grope 4.search 2. HIPH. *be felt 1. MASHBER <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁבֵּרbirth 2breaking forth 1. MASHCHETH <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁחֵת*destroying 1. MASHCHITH <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁחִיתf. corruption 2destruction 1trap 1*destroy 4*destroying 1.utterly (le-mashchith) 1. MASHCHITH <sup>2</sup> מַשְׁחִיתHiph. part. of shachath. MASHEN <sup>1</sup> מַשֵּׁןstay 1. MASHENAH <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁנֵהstaff 1. MASHIACH <sup>1</sup> מָשִׁיחַanointed 37Messiah 2. MASHMAN = MISHMAN. MASHOT <sup>1</sup> מַשּׁוֹתoar 1. MASHQEH <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁקֵהbutlership 1drink 2fat pasture 1well watered 1*drinking 2. MASHQOPH <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁקֹףlintel 2upper doorpost 1. MASHROQITHA <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁרוֹקִיתָהf. flute 4. MASHSHA <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁשָׁהusury 2. MASHSHAAH <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁשָׂהf. debt 1.[Deut. 24:10 untrans.]MASHSHAON <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁשָׁאוןdeceit 1. MASHSHAQ <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁשָׁקrunning to and fro 1. MASHSHEH <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁשֵׁה[cf. MASHSHA.]†See baal<sup>12</sup>. | MASHSHUOTH <sup>1</sup> מַשְׁשׁוֹתf. pl. desolations 1destruction 1. MASKITH <sup>1</sup> מַסְכִּיתf. conceit 1image 1imagery 1picture 2*wish 1. MASKORETH <sup>1</sup> מַסְכֹּרֶתf. reward 1wages 3. MASLUL <sup>1</sup> מַסְלֹלhighway 2. MASMER <sup>1</sup> מַסְמֵרnail 4. MASMEROTH <sup>1</sup> מַסְמֵרוֹתf. pl. nails 1. MASORETH <sup>1</sup> מַסְרֵתf. bond 1. MASOS <sup>1</sup> מַסּוֹסjoy 12mirth 3*rejoice 2. MASRETH <sup>1</sup> מַסְרֵתpan 2. MASSA <sup>1</sup> מַסָּהdart 1. MASSA <sup>2</sup> מַסָּה*before it was broughtthither 1. MASSA <sup>3</sup> מַסָּהjourney to journeying 2. MASSA <sup>4</sup> מַסָּהburden 57exaction 1prophecy 2song 3that whereupon they set 1tribute 1*carry away 1. MASSAAH <sup>1</sup> מַסָּאָהf. burden 1. MASSACH <sup>1</sup> מַסָּחbroken down 1. MASSAD <sup>1</sup> מַסָּדfoundation 1. MASSAH <sup>1</sup> מַסָּהf. temptation 4trial 1. MASSEKAH <sup>1</sup> מַסְעָקָהf. pl. molten image 18*molten 7. MASSEKAH <sup>2</sup> מַסְעָקָהf. pl. covering 1vail 1. MASSEKETH <sup>1</sup> מַסְעָקֶתf. pl. web 2.respect 1. MASSO <sup>1</sup> מַסּוֹrespect 1. MASSOR <sup>1</sup> מַסּוֹרsaw 1. MASTEMAH <sup>1</sup> מַסְתֵּמָהf. hatred 2. MASVEH <sup>1</sup> מַסְוֵהvail 3. MATAMMIM <sup>1</sup> מַטָּמִיםpl. savoury meat 6. MATAMMOTH <sup>1</sup> מַטָּמוֹתf. pl. dainties 1dainty meats 1. MATAR <sup>1</sup> מָטָרNIPH. HIPH. <sup>1</sup> <sup>2</sup> <sup>3</sup> <sup>4</sup> <sup>5</sup> <sup>6</sup> <sup>7</sup> <sup>8</sup> <sup>9</sup> <sup>10</sup> <sup>11</sup> <sup>12</sup> <sup>13</sup> <sup>14</sup> <sup>15</sup> <sup>16</sup> <sup>17</sup> <sup>18</sup> <sup>19</sup> <sup>20</sup> <sup>21</sup> <sup>22</sup> <sup>23</sup> <sup>24</sup> <sup>25</sup> <sup>26</sup> <sup>27</sup> <sup>28</sup> <sup>29</sup> <sup>30</sup> <sup>31</sup> <sup>32</sup> <sup>33</sup> <sup>34</sup> <sup>35</sup> <sup>36</sup> <sup>37</sup> <sup>38</sup> <sup>39</sup> <sup>40</sup> <sup>41</sup> <sup>42</sup> <sup>43</sup> <sup>44</sup> <sup>45</sup> <sup>46</sup> <sup>47</sup> <sup>48</sup> <sup>49</sup> <sup>50</sup> <sup>51</sup> <sup>52</sup> <sup>53</sup> <sup>54</sup> <sup>55</sup> <sup>56</sup> <sup>57</sup> <sup>58</sup> <sup>59</sup> <sup>60</sup> <sup>61</sup> <sup>62</sup> <sup>63</sup> <sup>64</sup> <sup>65</sup> <sup>66</sup> <sup>67</sup> <sup>68</sup> <sup>69</sup> <sup>70</sup> <sup>71</sup> <sup>72</sup> <sup>73</sup> <sup>74</sup> <sup>75</sup> <sup>76</sup> <sup>77</sup> <sup>78</sup> <sup>79</sup> <sup>80</sup> <sup>81</sup> <sup>82</sup> <sup>83</sup> <sup>84</sup> <sup>85</sup> <sup>86</sup> <sup>87</sup> <sup>88</sup> <sup>89</sup> <sup>90</sup> <sup>91</sup> <sup>92</sup> <sup>93</sup> <sup>94</sup> <sup>95</sup> <sup>96</sup> <sup>97</sup> <sup>98</sup> <sup>99</sup> <sup>100</sup> <sup>101</sup> <sup>102</sup> <sup>103</sup> <sup>104</sup> <sup>105</sup> <sup>106</sup> <sup>107</sup> <sup>108</sup> <sup>109</sup> <sup>110</sup> <sup>111</sup> <sup>112</sup> <sup>113</sup> <sup>114</sup> <sup>115</sup> <sup>116</sup> <sup>117</sup> <sup>118</sup> <sup>119</sup> <sup>120</sup> <sup>121</sup> <sup>122</sup> <sup>123</sup> <sup>124</sup> <sup>125</sup> <sup>126</sup> <sup>127</sup> <sup>128</sup> <sup>129</sup> <sup>130</sup> <sup>131</sup> <sup>132</sup> <sup>133</sup> <sup>134</sup> <sup>135</sup> <sup>136</sup> <sup>137</sup> <sup>138</sup> <sup>139</sup> <sup>140</sup> <sup>141</sup> <sup>142</sup> <sup>143</sup> <sup>144</sup> <sup>145</sup> <sup>146</sup> <sup>147</sup> <sup>148</sup> <sup>149</sup> <sup>150</sup> <sup>151</sup> <sup>152</sup> <sup>153</sup> <sup>154</sup> <sup>155</sup> <sup>156</sup> <sup>157</sup> <sup>158</sup> <sup>159</sup> <sup>160</sup> <sup>161</sup> <sup>162</sup> <sup>163</sup> <sup>164</sup> <sup>165</sup> <sup>166</sup> <sup>167</sup> <sup>168</sup> <sup>169</sup> <sup>170</sup> <sup>171</sup> <sup>172</sup> <sup>173</sup> <sup>174</sup> <sup>175</sup> <sup>176</sup> <sup>177</sup> <sup>178</sup> <sup>179</sup> <sup>180</sup> <sup>181</sup> <sup>182</sup> <sup>183</sup> <sup>184</sup> <sup>185</sup> <sup>186</sup> <sup>187</sup> <sup>188</sup> <sup>189</sup> <sup>190</sup> <sup>191</sup> <sup>192</sup> <sup>193</sup> <sup>194</sup> <sup>195</sup> <sup>196</sup> <sup>197</sup> <sup>198</sup> <sup>199</sup> <sup>200</sup> <sup>201</sup> <sup>202</sup> <sup>203</sup> <sup>204</sup> <sup>205</sup> <sup>206</sup> <sup>207</sup> <sup>208</sup> <sup>209</sup> <sup>210</sup> <sup>211</sup> <sup>212</sup> <sup>213</sup> <sup>214</sup> <sup>215</sup> <sup>216</sup> <sup>217</sup> <sup>218</sup> <sup>219</sup> <sup>220</sup> <sup>221</sup> <sup>222</sup> <sup>223</sup> <sup>224</sup> <sup>225</sup> <sup>226</sup> <sup>227</sup> <sup>228</sup> <sup>229</sup> <sup>230</sup> <sup>231</sup> <sup>232</sup> <sup>233</sup> <sup>234</sup> <sup>235</sup> <sup>236</sup> <sup>237</sup> <sup>238</sup> <sup>239</sup> <sup>240</sup> <sup>241</sup> <sup>242</sup> <sup>243</sup> <sup>244</sup> <sup>245</sup> <sup>246</sup> <sup>247</sup> <sup>248</sup> <sup>249</sup> <sup>250</sup> <sup>251</sup> <sup>252</sup> <sup>253</sup> <sup>254</sup> <sup>255</sup> <sup>256</sup> <sup>257</sup> <sup>258</sup> <sup>259</sup> <sup>260</sup> <sup>261</sup> <sup>262</sup> <sup>263</sup> <sup>264</sup> <sup>265</sup> <sup>266</sup> <sup>267</sup> <sup>268</sup> <sup>269</sup> <sup>270</sup> <sup>271</sup> <sup>272</sup> <sup>273</sup> <sup>274</sup> <sup>275</sup> <sup>276</sup> <sup>277</sup> <sup>278</sup> <sup>279</sup> <sup>280</sup> <sup>281</sup> <sup>282</sup> <sup>283</sup> <sup>284</sup> <sup>285</sup> <sup>286</sup> <sup>287</sup> <sup>288</sup> <sup>289</sup> <sup>290</sup> <sup>291</sup> <sup>292</sup> <sup>293</sup> <sup>294</sup> <sup>295</sup> <sup>296</sup> <sup>297</sup> <sup>298</sup> <sup>299</sup> <sup>300</sup> <sup>301</sup> <sup>302</sup> <sup>303</sup> <sup>304</sup> <sup>305</sup> <sup>306</sup> <sup>307</sup> <sup>308</sup> <sup>309</sup> <sup>310</sup> <sup>311</sup> <sup>312</sup> <sup>313</sup> <sup>314</sup> <sup>315</sup> <sup>316</sup> <sup>317</sup> <sup>318</sup> <sup>319</sup> <sup>320</sup> <sup>321</sup> <sup>322</sup> <sup>323</sup> <sup>324</sup> <sup>325</sup> <sup>326</sup> <sup>327</sup> <sup>328</sup> <sup>329</sup> <sup>330</sup> <sup>331</sup> <sup>332</sup> <sup>333</sup> <sup>334</sup> <sup>335</sup> <sup>336</sup> <sup>337</sup> <sup>338</sup> <sup>339</sup> <sup>340</sup> <sup>341</sup> <sup>342</sup> <sup>343</sup> <sup>344</sup> <sup>345</sup> <sup>346</sup> <sup>347</sup> <sup>348</sup> <sup>349</sup> <sup>350</sup> <sup>351</sup> <sup>352</sup> <sup>353</sup> <sup>354</sup> <sup>355</sup> <sup>356</sup> <sup>357</sup> <sup>358</sup> <sup>359</sup> <sup>360</sup> <sup>361</sup> <sup>362</sup> <sup>363</sup> <sup>364</sup> <sup>365</sup> <sup>366</sup> <sup>367</sup> <sup>368</sup> <sup>369</sup> <sup>370</sup> <sup>371</sup> <sup>372</sup> <sup>373</sup> <sup>374</sup> <sup>375</sup> <sup>376</sup> <sup>377</sup> <sup>378</sup> <sup>379</sup> <sup>380</sup> <sup>381</sup> <sup>382</sup> <sup>383</sup> <sup>384</sup> <sup>385</sup> <sup>386</sup> <sup>387</sup> <sup>388</sup> <sup>389</sup> <sup>390</sup> <sup>391</sup> <sup>392</sup> <sup>393</sup> <sup>394</sup> <sup>395</sup> <sup>396</sup> <sup>397</sup> <sup>398</sup> <sup>399</sup> <sup>400</sup> <sup>401</sup> <sup>402</sup> <sup>403</sup> <sup>404</sup> <sup>405</sup> <sup>406</sup> <sup>407</sup> <sup>408</sup> <sup>409</sup> <sup>410</sup> <sup>411</sup> <sup>412</sup> <sup>413</sup> <sup>414</sup> <sup>415</sup> <sup>416</sup> <sup>417</sup> <sup>418</sup> <sup>419</sup> <sup>420</sup> <sup>421</sup> <sup>422</sup> <sup>423</sup> <sup>424</sup> <sup>425</sup> <sup>426</sup> <sup>427</sup> <sup>428</sup> <sup>429</sup> <sup>430</sup> <sup>431</sup> <sup>432</sup> <sup>433</sup> <sup>434</sup> <sup>435</sup> <sup>436</sup> <sup>437</sup> <sup>438</sup> <sup>439</sup> <sup>440</sup> <sup>441</sup> <sup>442</sup> <sup>443</sup> <sup>444</sup> <sup>445</sup> <sup>446</sup> <sup>447</sup> <sup>448</sup> <sup>449</sup> <sup>450</sup> <sup>451</sup> <sup>452</sup> <sup>453</sup> <sup>454</sup> <sup>455</sup> <sup>456</sup> <sup>457</sup> <sup>458</sup> <sup>459</sup> <sup>460</sup> <sup>461</sup> <sup>462</sup> <sup>463</sup> <sup>464</sup> <sup>465</sup> <sup>466</sup> <sup>467</sup> <sup>468</sup> <sup>469</sup> <sup>470</sup> <sup>471</sup> <sup>472</sup> <sup>473</sup> <sup>474</sup> <sup>475</sup> <sup>476</sup> <sup>477</sup> <sup>478</sup> <sup>479</sup> <sup>480</sup> <sup>481</sup> <sup>482</sup> <sup>483</sup> <sup>484</sup> <sup>485</sup> <sup>486</sup> <sup>487</sup> <sup>488</sup> <sup>489</sup> <sup>490</sup> <sup>491</sup> <sup>492</sup> <sup>493</sup> <sup>494</sup> <sup>495</sup> <sup>496</sup> <sup>497</sup> <sup>498</sup> <sup>499</sup> <sup>500</sup> <sup>501</sup> <sup>502</sup> <sup>503</sup> <sup>504</sup> <sup>505</sup> <sup>506</sup> <sup>507</sup> <sup>508</sup> <sup>509</sup> <sup>510</sup> <sup>511</sup> <sup>512</sup> <sup>513</sup> <sup>514</sup> <sup>515</sup> <sup>516</sup> <sup>517</sup> <sup>518</sup> <sup>519</sup> <sup>520</sup> <sup>521</sup> <sup>522</sup> <sup>523</sup> <sup>524</sup> <sup>525</sup> <sup>526</sup> <sup>527</sup> <sup>528</sup> <sup>529</sup> <sup>530</sup> <sup>531</sup> <sup>532</sup> <sup>533</sup> <sup>534</sup> <sup>535</sup> <sup>536</sup> <sup>537</sup> <sup>538</sup> <sup>539</sup> <sup>540</sup> <sup>541</sup> <sup>542</sup> <sup>543</sup> <sup>544</sup> <sup>545</sup> <sup>546</sup> <sup>547</sup> <sup>548</sup> <sup>549</sup> <sup>550</sup> <sup>551</sup> <sup>552</sup> <sup>553</sup> <sup>554</sup> <sup>555</sup> <sup>556</sup> <sup>557</sup> <sup>558</sup> <sup>559</sup> <sup>560</sup> <sup>561</sup> <sup>562</sup> <sup>563</sup> <sup>564</sup> <sup>565</sup> <sup>566</sup> <sup>567</sup> <sup>568</sup> <sup>569</sup> <sup>570</sup> <sup>571</sup> <sup>572</sup> <sup>573</sup> <sup>574</sup> <sup>575</sup> <sup>576</sup> <sup>577</sup> <sup>578</sup> <sup>579</sup> <sup>580</sup> <sup>581</sup> <sup>582</sup> <sup>583</sup> <sup>584</sup> <sup>585</sup> <sup>586</sup> <sup>587</sup> <sup>588</sup> <sup>589</sup> <sup>590</sup> <sup>591</sup> <sup>592</sup> <sup>593</sup> <sup>594</sup> <sup>595</sup> <sup>596</sup> <sup>597</sup> <sup>598</sup> <sup>599</sup> <sup>600</sup> <sup>601</sup> <sup>602</sup> <sup>603</sup> <sup>604</sup> <sup>605</sup> <sup>606</sup> <sup>607</sup> <sup>608</sup> <sup>609</sup> <sup>610</sup> <sup>611</sup> <sup>612</sup> <sup>613</sup> <sup>614</sup> <sup>615</sup> <sup>616</sup> <sup>617</sup> <sup>618</sup> <sup>619</sup> <sup>620</sup> <sup>621</sup> <sup>622</sup> <sup>623</sup> <sup>624</sup> <sup>625</sup> <sup>626</sup> <sup>627</sup> <sup>628</sup> <sup>629</sup> <sup>630</sup> <sup>631</sup> <sup>632</sup> <sup>633</sup> <sup>634</sup> <sup>635</sup> <sup>636</sup> <sup>637</sup> <sup>638</sup> <sup>639</sup> <sup>640</sup> <sup>641</sup> <sup>642</sup> <sup>643</sup> <sup>644</sup> <sup>645</sup> <sup>646</sup> <sup>647</sup> <sup>648</sup> <sup>649</sup> <sup>650</sup> <sup>651</sup> <sup>652</sup> <sup>653</sup> <sup>654</sup> <sup>655</sup> <sup>656</sup> <sup>657</sup> <sup>658</sup> <sup>659</sup> <sup>660</sup> <sup>661</sup> <sup>662</sup> <sup>663</sup> <sup>664</sup> <sup>665</sup> <sup>666</sup> <sup>667</sup> <sup>668</sup> <sup>669</sup> <sup>670</sup> <sup>671</sup> <sup>672</sup> <sup>673</sup> <sup>674</sup> <sup>675</sup> <sup>676</sup> <sup>677</sup> <sup>678</sup> <sup>679</sup> <sup>680</sup> <sup>681</sup> <sup>682</sup> <sup>683</sup> <sup>684</sup> <sup>685</sup> <sup>686</sup> <sup>687</sup> <sup>688</sup> <sup>689</sup> <sup>690</sup> <sup>691</sup> <sup>692</sup> <sup>693</sup> <sup>694</sup> <sup>695</sup> <sup>696</sup> <sup>697</sup> <sup>698</sup> <sup>699</sup> <sup>700</sup> <sup>701</sup> <sup>702</sup> <sup>703</sup> <sup>704</sup> <sup>705</sup> <sup>706</sup> <sup>707</sup> <sup>708</sup> <sup>709</sup> <sup>710</sup> <sup>711</sup> <sup>712</sup> <sup>713</sup> <sup>714</sup> <sup>715</sup> <sup>716</sup> <sup>717</sup> <sup>718</sup> <sup>719</sup> <sup>720</sup> <sup>721</sup> <sup>722</sup> <sup>723</sup> <sup>724</sup> <sup>725</sup> <sup>726</sup> <sup>727</sup> <sup>728</sup> <sup>729</sup> <sup>730</sup> <sup>731</sup> <sup>732</sup> <sup>733</sup> <sup>734</sup> <sup>735</sup> <sup>736</sup> <sup>737</sup> <sup>738</sup> <sup>739</sup> <sup>740</sup> <sup>741</sup> <sup>742</sup> <sup>743</sup> <sup>744</sup> <sup>745</sup> <sup>746</sup> <sup>747</sup> <sup>748</sup> <sup>749</sup> <sup>750</sup> <sup>751</sup> <sup>752</sup> <sup>753</sup> <sup>754</sup> <sup>755</sup> <sup>756</sup> <sup>757</sup> <sup>758</sup> <sup>759</sup> <sup>760</sup> <sup>761</sup> <sup>762</sup> <sup>763</sup> <sup>764</sup> <sup>765</sup> <sup>766</sup> <sup>767</sup> <sup>768</sup> <sup>769</sup> <sup>770</sup> <sup>771</sup> <sup>772</sup> <sup>773</sup> <sup>774</sup> <sup>775</sup> <sup>776</sup> <sup>777</sup> <sup>778</sup> <sup>779</sup> <sup>780</sup> <sup>781</sup> <sup>782</sup> <sup>783</sup> <sup>784</sup> <sup>785</sup> <sup>786</sup> <sup>787</sup> <sup>788</sup> <sup>789</sup> <sup>790</sup> <sup>791</sup> <sup>792</sup> <sup>793</sup> <sup>794</sup> <sup>795</sup> <sup>796</sup> <sup>797</sup> <sup>798</sup> <sup>799</sup> <sup>800</sup> <sup>801</sup> <sup>802</sup> <sup>803</sup> <sup>804</sup> <sup>805</sup> <sup>806</sup> <sup>807</sup> <sup>808</sup> <sup>809</sup> <sup>810</sup> <sup>811</sup> <sup>812</sup> <sup>813</sup> <sup>814</sup> <sup>815</sup> <sup>816</sup> <sup>817</sup> <sup>818</sup> <sup>819</sup> <sup>820</sup> <sup>821</sup> <sup>822</sup> <sup>823</sup> <sup>824</sup> <sup>825</sup> <sup>826</sup> <sup>827</sup> <sup>828</sup> <sup>829</sup> <sup>830</sup> <sup>831</sup> <sup>832</sup> <sup>833</sup> <sup>834</sup> <sup>835</sup> <sup>836</sup> <sup>837</sup> <sup>838</sup> <sup>839</sup> <sup>840</sup> <sup>841</sup> <sup>842</sup> <sup>843</sup> <sup>844</sup> <sup>845</sup> <sup>846</sup> <sup>847</sup> <sup>848</sup> <sup>849</sup> <sup>850</sup> <sup>851</sup> <sup>852</sup> <sup>853</sup> <sup>854</sup> <sup>855</sup> <sup>856</sup> <sup>857</sup> <sup>858</sup> <sup>859</sup> <sup>860</sup> <sup>861</sup> <sup>862</sup> <sup>863</sup> <sup>864</sup> <sup>865</sup> <sup>866</sup> <sup>867</sup> <sup>868</sup> <sup>869</sup> <sup>870</sup> <sup>871</sup> <sup>872</sup> <sup>873</sup> <sup>874</sup> <sup>875</sup> <sup>876</sup> <sup>877</sup> <sup>878</sup> <sup>879</sup> <sup>880</sup> <sup>881</sup> <sup>882</sup> <sup>883</sup> <sup>884</sup> <sup>885</sup> <sup>886</sup> <sup>887</sup> <sup>888</sup> <sup>889</sup> <sup>890</sup> <sup>891</sup> <sup>892</sup> <sup>893</sup> <sup>894</sup> <sup>895</sup> <sup>896</sup> <sup>897</sup> <sup>898</sup> <sup>899</sup> <sup>900</sup> <sup>901</sup> <sup>902</sup> <sup>903</sup> <sup>904</sup> <sup>905</sup> <sup>906</sup> <sup>907</sup> <sup>908</sup> <sup>909</sup> <sup>910</sup> <sup>911</sup> <sup>912</sup> <sup>913</sup> <sup>914</sup> <sup>915</sup> <sup>916</sup> <sup>917</sup> <sup>918</sup> <sup>919</sup> <sup>920</sup> <sup>921</sup> <sup>922</sup> <sup>923</sup> <sup>924</sup> <sup>925</sup> <sup>926</sup> <sup>927</sup> <sup>928</sup> <sup>929</sup> <sup>930</sup> <sup>931</sup> <sup>932</sup> <sup>933</sup> <sup>934</sup> <sup>935</sup> <sup>936</sup> <sup>937</sup> <sup>938</sup> <sup>939</sup> <sup>940</sup> <sup>941</sup> <sup>942</sup> <sup>943</sup> <sup>944</sup> <sup>945</sup> <sup>946</sup> <sup>947</sup> <sup>948</sup> <sup>949</sup> <sup>950</sup> <sup>951</sup> <sup>952</sup> <sup>953</sup> <sup>954</sup> <sup>955</sup> <sup>956</sup> <sup>957</sup> <sup>958</sup> <sup>959</sup> <sup>960</sup> <sup>961</sup> <sup>962</sup> <sup>963</sup> <sup>964</sup> <sup>965</sup> <sup>966</sup> <sup>967</sup> <sup>968</sup> <sup>969</sup> <sup>970</sup> <sup>971</sup> <sup>972</sup> <sup>973</sup> <sup>974</sup> <sup>975</sup> <sup>976</sup> <sup>977</sup> <sup>978</sup> <sup>979</sup> <sup>980</sup> <sup>981</sup> <sup>982</sup> <sup>983</sup> <sup>984</sup> <sup>985</sup> <sup>986</sup> <sup>987</sup> <sup>988</sup> <sup>989</sup> <sup>990</sup> <sup>991</sup> <sup>992</sup> <sup>993</sup> <sup>994</sup> <sup>995</sup> <sup>996</sup> <sup>997</sup> <sup>998</sup> <sup>999</sup> <sup>1000</sup> |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of ■ active by ■ passive.
■ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

MEHERAH מְהֵרָה f.
As adv. hastily 1 make speed 1 quickly 8 shortly 1 soon 1 speedily 4 swiftly 1 with speed 1 †quickly (be-meherah) 1.
MEBUMAH מְבֻמָּה f.
 destruction 3
 discomfiture 1 trouble 3 tumult 1 vexation 2 vexed 1.
MEI מֵי heap 1
MEIL מֵיִל cloak 1 coat 1 mantle 7
 robe 19.
MEIM מֵיִם pl.
 belly 3
 bowels 27 womb 1 heart 1.
MEIN מֵינָם pl.
 belly 1.
MEKASSEH מְכַסֶּה clothing 1 that which covereth (covered) 2
 *cover (vb.) 1.
MEKER מְכַר price 1
 ware 1.
 †See nathan.
MEKERAH מְכַרָּה f.
 habitation 1.
MEKES מְכָס tribute 6.
MEKITTAH מְכִיתָּה f.
 bursting 1.
MEKONAH מְכוּנָה f.
 base 22.
MEKUNAH מְכוּנָה f.
 base 1.
MEKURAH מְכוּרָה f.
 birth 2
 habitation 1
 nativity 1.
MELA מֵלָא fil 1.
 HITHP. be full 1.
MELACH מֵלָא
 salt 18
 *salt (adj.) 9
 †See mikreh.
MELACH מֵלָא
 have maintenance (with melach<sup>2</sup>) 1.
MELACH מֵלָא
 salt 2.
 †See melach<sup>1</sup>.
MELACHNIM מֵלָאִים pl.
 rotten rags 2.
MELAK מֵלָא counsel (n.) 1.
MELAKAH מְלָאָה f.
 business 12 cattle 1 goods 1 labour 1 manner of work 1 manner of workmanship 5 occupation 1 stuff 1 thing 1 thing made 1 use 1
 work 126
 workmanship 1.
 †See anashim, asah, oseh.
MELAL מָלַל say 1 speak 4.
MELEAH מְלֵאָה f.
 first of ripe fruit 1 fruit 1
 fulness 1.

MELECHAH מְלָכָה f. barren land 1
 barrenness 1.
 †See erets.
MELEK מֶלֶךְ
 king 25:18
 *royal 2.
MELEK מֶלֶךְ
 king 164
 *royal 1.
MELEKETH מְלָכָה f.
 queen[ofheaven]
 1.
MELET מֵלֵט
 clay 1.
MELILAH מְלִילָה f. ear 1.
MELTSACH מְלִטָּחָה f.
 interpretation 1
 taunting 1.
MELO מֵלֵא
 all that 1 in . . .
 9
 fulness 7
 multitude 2 that [where]of 1 was full 1 *fill 2 full 12.
 †all along (with qomah) 1; handful (with chopph-yim 1, with kaph 2, with qomets 2) 5.
MELQACHAYIM מְלֻקָּחַיִם du. snuffers 1 tongs 5.
MELTACHAH מְלִטָּחָה f.
 vestry 1.
MELUKAH מְלוּכָה f. kingdom 18 *king's 2
 *royal 4.
MELUNAH מְלוּנָה f.
 cottage 1 lodge 1.
MEMADDIM מְמַדִּים pl.
 measures 1.
MEMAR מְמַר appointment 1 word 1.
MEMER מְמַר
 bitterness 1.
MEMSHALAH מְמַשְׁלָה f.
 dominion 11 government 1
 power 1
 *rule (vb.) 4.
MENA מְנָא mene 2 number (vb.) 1. ordain 1
 set 3.
PAEL פָּעַל
 set 3.
MENANIM מְנַנִּים pl.
 cornets 1.
MENAH=MENA.
MENAAQIYYOTH מְנַאֲקִיָּוֹת bowls 3 cups 2.
MENATH מְנַתָּה f.
 portion 7.
MENI מְנִי number 1.
MEJORAH מְיֹרָה f.
 candlestick 43.
MENUCHAH מְנוּחָה f.
 ease 1
 rest 17 resting place 2 *quiet 1
 *still 1.
 †comfortable (le-menuchah) 1.
MENUSAH מְנוּסָה f.
 fleeing 1
 flight 1.

MEOD מְעֹד
 might 2. diligently 4 especially 1 exceeding 14 exceedingly 1 far 3
 fast 1 great 1 greatly 49 mightily 2 much 10
 quickly 1
 right well 1 so much 1 so sore 1 sore 23 utterly 2 very 137 very sore 1 well 1
 *diligent 1
 *good 3
 *great 11.
 †Repeated: exceeding 3, exceedingly 3; be-meod meod: exceeding 2, exceedingly 1. See ad, chazeh, rabah.
MEONAH מְעֹנָה f.
 den 5
 dwelling place 1 habitation 1
 place 1
 refuge 1.
MEPHITS מְפִיט maul 1.
MEQAREH מְעַרְהָה f.
 building 1.
MEQATTEROTH מְעַטְרוֹת altars for incense 1.
MEQERAH מְעַרְהָה f.
 *summer (adj.) 2.
MEQUTSOTH מְעַקְטוֹת corners 2.
MERAASHOTH מְעַרְשֹׁת
 f. pl.
 bolster 6
 head 1
 pillows 1.
MERAD מְרַד rebellion 1.
MERAT מְרַת be plucked 1.
MERCHAB מְרַכָּב breadth 1 large place 4 large room 1.
MERCHAQ מְרַחֵק
 far 7
 far country 1
 *that was far off 1
 *that is very far off (pl.) 1.
 †With prefix mim: afar off
 2, far off 1, from afar 1, from far 4.
MEREA מְרַעַע companion 4 friend 3.
MERED מְרַד
 rebellion 1.
MERERAH מְרַרָּה f.
 gall 1.
MERI מְרִי
 rebellion 4
 *bitter 1
 *most rebellious 1
 *rebellious 1.
MERI מְרִי
 fat beast 1 fat cattle 3 failing 3
 fed beast 1.
MERIBAH מְרִיבָה f.
 provocation 1 strife 3.
MERIRI מְרִירִי
 bitter 1.
MERIRUTH מְרִירוּת f.
 bitterness 1.

MERKABAH מְרַכָּבָה f.
 chariot 1
 covering 1
 saddle 1.
MERORAH מְרֹרָה f.
 bitter thing 1
 gall 2
 *bitter 1.
MERORIM מְרֹרִים pl.
 bitter 2
 bitterness 1.
MEROTS מְרוֹט race 1.
MERQACHAH מְרַחֲקָה f.
 pot of ointment 1
 *well 1.
MERQACHIM מְרַחֲקִים purifications 1.
 †See migdal.
MERUQIM מְרוּקִים pl.
 purifications 1.
MERUTSAH מְרוּטָה f.
 course 1
 running 1 violence 1.
MESAB מְסַב places round about (pl.) 1 round about 1
 table 1.
MESAK מְסַק (V.L.)
 covert 1.
MESEK מְסַק mixture 1.
MESHACH מְשַׁח oil 2.
MESHAMMAH מְשַׁמָּה astonishment 1 *desolate 3
 †Repeated: desolate 3.
MESHARIM מְשָׁרִים pl. agreement 1
 equity 3
 right things 3 things that are equal 1 things that 1 right 1
 upright 1 uprightness 3
 right 1
 righteously 1 sweetly 1 uprightly 1
 with equity 1.
As adv.
MESHEK מְשַׁק
 price 1
 *precious 1.
MESHEQ מְשַׁק
 †See ben<sup>2</sup>.
MESHI מְשִׁי silk 2.
MESHISAH מְשִׁשָּׁה f.
 booty 1
 spoil 4.
MESHOAH מְשֹׁאָה f. desolation 1 waste ground 1 *waste 1.
MESHOL מְשֹׁל byword 1.
MESHUBAH מְשֻׁבָּה f. backsliding 1
 turning away 1.
MESHUGAH מְשֻׁגָּה f.
 error 1.
MESHUSSAH מְשֻׁסָּה f.
 (V.L.) spoil 1.
MESILLAH מְסִילָה f.
 causeway 1
 course 1 highway 20 path 2 terrace 1
 way 1.
MESUKAH מְסֻכָּה f.
 thorn hedge 1.
MESUKAH מְסֻכָּה f.
 hedge 2.
MESUKKAH מְסֻכָּה f.
 covering 1.
MESURAH מְסֻרָה f.
 measure 4.

META מֵטָא (מֵטָא) come 5
 reach 3.
METAB מֵטָב
 best 6.
METACHAVE מְטַחָוֶה
 †bow shot (with qesheth) 1.
METAH=META.
METH. Partic. of MUTH.
METHALLEOTH מְטַחֲלֵאוֹת cheek teeth 1 jaws 1
 jaw teeth 1.
METHAR מְטַר cord 1
 string 1.
METHEG מְטֵחַ bit 1 bridle 3.
METHEQ מְטֵחַ sweetness 2.
METHIM מְטִים pl.
 few 1
 few men 1 men 13
 persons 1.
 †few (with meat 1, with mispar 1) 2; few in number (with meat) 1; friend (with sod) 1;
 small number (with mis-par) 1.
METHOM מְטוֹם soundness 3 *men 1.
METIL מְטִיל bar 1.
METSACH מְטַח brow 1
 forehead 10.
 †See chazaq.
METSAD מְטָד (מְטָד) castle 1
 fort 2
 hold 3
 munition 1
 stronghold 1.
METSAR מְטָר distress 1
 pain 1 strait 1.
METSILLOTH מְטַלְלוֹת
 f. pl.
 bells 1.
METSILTAYIM מְטַסְלֵיטַיִם du. cymbals 13.
METSODAH מְטֹדָה f.
 hold 1
 munition 1
 net 1.
METSOLAH מְטֹלָה f.
 bottom (pl.) 1 depths 2.
METSUDAH מְטֹדָה f.
 castle 1
 defence 1 fort 1 fortress 6 hold 6
 net 1
 snare 1
 strong hold 1
 strong place 1.
 †to be hunted (le-metsu-dah) 1.
METSULAH מְטֹלָה f.
 deep 5
 depth 1
 *deep (adj.) 1.
METSULLAH מְטֹסְלָה f.
 bottom 1.
METSUQAH מְטֻסָּה f.
 anguish 1
 distress 6.
METSURAH מְטֻרָה f.
 fort 1
 munition 1
 stronghold 1
 *fenced (adj.) 5.
MEUM=MUM.

MEUMAH מְעֻמָּה f. anything 14 ought 5 somewhat 1 *fault 1.
 †no (al-meumah) 1; nothing (lo-meumah) 9;
 nought (lo-meumah) 1.
MEURAH מְעֻרָה f.
 den 1.
MEZACH מְצָח (מְצָח) girdle 1
 strength 2.
MEZAMMEROTH מְצַמְמֵרוֹת
 f. pl.
 snuffers 5.
MEZARIM מְצָרִים pl.
 north 1.
MEZEG מְצֵג liquor 1.
MEZEV מְצֵב garner 1.
MEZIACH=MZACH.
MEZIMMAH מְצִמָּה f.
 device 3 discretion 4 intent 1 lewdness 1 mischievous device 1 thought 1 wicked device 3 witty invention 1 *mischievous 1.
 †wickedly (le-mezimma-
 h) 1.
MEZUZAH מְצֻזָּה f.
 door post 2 post 14
 side post 3.
MI מִי any if any man who? etc.
 †to that (with yitten); would to God (with yitten).
MI 2. [Also MIB, MID,
 MIG, etc., etc.] = MIN.
MIBCHAR מְבַחַר
 choice 3
 *choice (adj.) 4
 *choicest 1
 *chosen 4.
MIBCHOR מְבַחֵר
 choice 2.
MIBDALOTH מְבַדְלוֹת
 f. pl.
 separate cities 1.
MIBNEH מְבִנֶה
 frame 1.
MIBRACH מְבִרָּה fugitive 1.
MIBTA מְבִטָּא that which she uttered 1.
 †utter (with hayah understood) 1.
MIBTACH מְבִטָּח confidence 9
 hope 1 trust 4 *sure 1.
MIBTSAR מְבִטָּסַר fortress 6
 stronghold 2
 *defenced 4
 *fenced 11
 *most fenced 1
 *most strong 1
 *strong 2.
MICHYAH מִיְּחָיָה f.
 quick flesh 1
 reviving 2 sustenance 1 victuals 1
 *quick 1.
 †to preserve life (le-mich-yah) 1. See ayin.
MIDBAR מִדְּבָר desert 13 south 1
 wilderness 53.
 †See erets.
MIDBAR מִדְּבָר
 speech 1.

* Inexact translations, e.g., of noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                               |                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MIDCHEH מִדְּכָהruin 1.                                                                                                                                                                 | MIKNESAYIM מִקְנָסַיִםbreaches 5.                                                                                                             | is frequently prefixed to other words to form compound prepositions, e.g., mi-li-phen (of 2), mi-maal, mip-pene (because of 53, for fear of 9, from freq., through 1), mip-pene asher (because 2), mip-pl (out of 1), mita-tsad (beside 3), etc., etc. See me, mi <sup>2</sup> , mid-dm, etc. | MIPHTAN מִפְתָּןthreshold 8.                                                       | MIRMAS מִרְמָסthat which ye have trodden 1 treading 1*be trodden down 3*lay 1.foot 1. | MISHLACHATH מִשְׁלַחַתf. discharge 1 sending 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| MIDDAH מִדָּהgreat stature (pl. middoth) 1 (great) stature 2 (great) stature (pl. middin) 1 measure 27 measuring 1 meteyard 1 piece 7 size 3 stature 1 *measuring (adj.) 10*wide 1. | MIKREH מִקְרָהtsaltpit (with melach) 1                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MIQDASH מִקְדָּשׁchapel 1 hallowed part 1 holy place 1 sanctuary 69.               | MIRPAS מִרְפָּסthat which ye have fouled 1                                                        | MISHLOACH מִשְׁלֹאֵךְsending 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| MIDDAH מִדָּהtoll 1 tribute 3.                                                                                                                                                          | MIKSAH מִקְסָהnumber 1 worth 1.                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | MIQLAATH מִקְלָאֵתcarving 1 figure 1 graving 1 *carved 1.                          | MIRQACHATH מִרְקָאֵתf. ointment 2.                                                                | MISHMA מִשְׁמָהhearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| MID-DE מִדְּ- (= MIN DAI).after 1 as oft as 1 from 5 from the time that 1 since 3 when 3.                                                                                               | MIKSEH מִקְסֵהcovering 16.                                                                                                                    | MIN מִןbecause of from more than of out of, etc.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | MIQLAT מִקְלָתrefuge 1.                                                            | MIRSHAATH מִרְשָׁאֵתf. wicked woman 1.                                                            | MISHMAATH מִשְׁמָאֵתf. bidding 1 guard 2 *obey 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| MIDDIN מִדִּיןjudgment 1.                                                                                                                                                               | MIKSHOL מִקְשׁוֹלoffence 1 ruin 2 stumbling-block 8.                                                                                          | MINAL מִנָּלshoe 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | MIQNAH מִקְנָהhe that is bought 2 possession 1 price 1 purchase 1 *buy (bought) 8. | MIRZACH מִרְצָחbanquet 1.                                                                         | MISHMAN מִשְׁמָןfat one 1 fatness 1 fattest 1 fattest place 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| MIDRAK מִדְּרָקfoot-breadth (with kaph regel) 1.                                                                                                                                        | MILCHAMAH מִלְחָמָהbattle 150 fight 4 fighting 1 ruin 2 war 158.                                                                              | MINCHAH מִנְחָהgift 7 meat offering 131 oblation 5 offering 33 present 28 sacrifice 5.                                                                                                                                                                                             | MIQNEH מִקְנֵהcattle 63 flock 3 herd 1 possession 1 purchase 1 substance 2.        | MISAD מִסָּדpillar 1.                                                                             | MISHMAR מִשְׁמָרdiligence 1 guard 3 office 1 prison 1 ward 12 watch 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| MIDRASH מִדְּרָשׁstory 2.                                                                                                                                                               | MILLAH מִלָּהany thing to say 1 hyword 1 matter 1 speaking 1 speech 5 talking 1 that I have yet to speak 1 what to say 1 word 23.             | MINCHAH מִנְחָהmeat offering 1 oblation 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | MIQRA מִקְרָאassembly 1 calling 1 convocation 19 reading 1.                        | MISCHAQ מִשְׁחָקscorn 1.                                                                          | MISHMERETH מִשְׁמֶרֶתf. charge 50 office 1 ordinance 3 safeguard 1 ward 9 watch 7 *keep 1 *to be kept 6.                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| MIDYANIM מִדְּיָנִים[=MADON].contentions 2.                                                                                                                                         | MILLAH מִלָּהcommandment 1 matter 5 thing 11 word 7.                                                                                          | MINDAH מִנְדָּהtoll 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISGERETH מִסְגֶּרֶתf. border 14 close place 1 hole 1.                                            | MISHNEH מִשְׁנֵהcollege 2 copy 2 double 8 fating 1 next 7 second 11 second order 1 twice as much 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| MIGBALOTH מִגְבָּלוֹתpl. ends 1.                                                                                                                                                        | MILLETH מִלְּתָהfatly (al <sup>2</sup> milleth) 1.                                                                                            | MINHAG מִנְהָגdriving 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHALAH מִשְׁאַלָּהdesire 1 petition 1.                                                          | MISHOL מִשְׁעוֹלpath 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| MIGBAOTH מִגְבָּאוֹתpl. bonnets 4.                                                                                                                                                      | MILLUIM מִלִּיּוּמִםconsecration 11 stones to be set 1 *to be set 3.                                                                          | MINHAROTH מִנְהָרוֹתf. pl. dms 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHOR מִשְׁוֹרequity 1 even place 1 plain 13 uprightness 1 *made straight 1 *plain (adj.) 1 *right 1 *righteously 1 *straight 1.                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| MIGDOL מִגְדָּלtower 3.                                                                                                                                                                 | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINLEH מִנְלָהperfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHALAH מִשְׁאַלָּהdesire 1 petition 1.                                                          | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIGERETH מִגְרֶתrebuke 1.                                                                                                                                                               | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIGRAOTH מִגְרָאוֹתpl. narrowed rests 1.                                                                                                                                                | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIGRASH מִגְרָשׁsuburb 110 *cast out 1.                                                                                                                                                 | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKAL מִקָּלbrook 1.                                                                                                                                                                    | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKBAR מִקְבָּרgrate 6.                                                                                                                                                                 | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKLAH מִקְלָהfold 2.                                                                                                                                                                   | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKLAL מִקְלָלperfection 1.                                                                                                                                                             | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKLOL מִקְלוֹלall sorts 1 most gorgeously 1.                                                                                                                                           | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKLOTH מִקְלוֹתf. perfect 1.                                                                                                                                                           | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKMANNIM מִקְמָנִיםpl. treasures 1.                                                                                                                                                    | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKMAR מִקְמָרnet 1.                                                                                                                                                                    | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKMERETH מִקְמֶרֶתf. drag 2.                                                                                                                                                           | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |
| MIKMORETH מִקְמֹרֶתf.                                                                                                                                                                   | MIMKAR מִמְכָּרsale 1 that was sold 1 that which cometh of the sale 1 that which is sold 2 that which [he] sold 1 ware 1 *ought 1 *be sold 1. | MINNIM מִמִּיןstringed instruments 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | MIQREH מִקְרָהchance 1 event 3 hap 1 that which befallth 1 *befall 3 *happen 1.    | MISHAN מִשְׁעָןstay 4.                                                                            | MISHPAT מִשְׁפָּטcause 1 ceremony 1 charge 1 crime 1 custom 2 desert 1 determination 1 discretion 2 due 1 due order 1 fashion 3 form 1 judgment 294 justice 1 law 1 manner 39 manner of law 1 measure 2 order 3 ordinance 11 right 18 sentence 2 *be judged 1 *just 1 *justly 1 *lawful 7 *use to do 1 *worthy 1. |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|         |                                                               |      |                     |         |                                              |      |               |      |                 |                   |                               |                   |                                         |                    |                                                          |      |                              |        |                           |                   |                                                                                         |        |                                                                                            |       |                                                                                                                                                                                  |       |                                |          |                   |                   |                    |       |                       |        |              |                   |                                         |         |                                                       |       |                           |        |               |       |                                                                                 |       |                                                                                                                                                      |      |         |       |                                |       |                                                                                                                                                                   |           |                                                               |      |                                                               |      |                                                           |         |                          |        |                                                                                                                           |       |                                                                                                                     |        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |      |                                                                                                         |       |                                                                                                                                                                                              |       |                                                                                                          |        |                                                                                 |                     |                                                                  |          |                                                                                      |           |                         |             |           |        |                                                                                                                                                                                           |      |                                                                                                              |        |                                                                                               |        |                   |          |                         |                      |                                                                                                                                                                     |                      |                       |                      |                    |                      |                                                                                                                                  |       |                                           |      |                                           |       |                       |                      |                                                                                             |         |                     |         |                    |        |                  |         |                 |         |                                       |       |                                                                                                                                                          |        |                                                                                                             |        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |       |                                                                                                                                         |      |                                                   |       |                                                   |       |                                                                                   |       |                                     |       |               |                    |                 |        |                                                           |       |                                                                     |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                                                  |       |                                                                                                                        |       |                                                       |
|---------|---------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------------------|---------|----------------------------------------------|------|---------------|------|-----------------|-------------------|-------------------------------|-------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|------|------------------------------|--------|---------------------------|-------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|--------------------------------|----------|-------------------|-------------------|--------------------|-------|-----------------------|--------|--------------|-------------------|-----------------------------------------|---------|-------------------------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------|--------|---------------|-------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------|-------|--------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------------------------------------------------------------|------|-----------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------|--------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|-------------------------|-------------|-----------|--------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-------------------|----------|-------------------------|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------|----------------------|--------------------|----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------------|------|-------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|---------------------|---------|--------------------|--------|------------------|---------|-----------------|---------|---------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------------------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------|-------|---------------|--------------------|-----------------|--------|-----------------------------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------------------------|
| Partic. | adulterer 2adulteress 3women thatbreak wedlock 1. | PIEL | committ adultery 1. | Partic. | adulterer 6adulteress 1adulterous 1. | PIEL | adulteries 1. | NAAQ | גָּחַק groan 2. | NAAR <sup>1</sup> | נָאָר abhor 1make void 1. | NAAR <sup>2</sup> | נָעַר shake 2shake off 1yell 1. | Pass. pt.NIPH. | shaken out 1.be shaken 1be tossed up and down 1. | PIEL | shake self 1.overthrow 2 | HITHP. | shake 1.shake self 1. | NAAR <sup>3</sup> | נָעַר babe 1boy 1child 51lad 32servant 54young (man) 90youth 4. | NAARAH | נָאָרָה f. damsel 34maid 7maiden 15young 4young maiden 1young woman 1. | NAATS | נָאָט abhor 1contemn 1despise 5.abhor 2contemn 1despise 3give great occasion to blasphemy 1give occasion to blasphemy 4provoke 5.flourish 1. | HIPH. | HITHPOL. partic. blasphemed 1. | NAATSUTS | נָאָטִיט thorn 2. | NABA <sup>1</sup> | נָבָא prophecy 87. | NIPH. | make self a prophet 2 | HITHP. | prophecy 26. | NABA <sup>2</sup> | נָבַע flowing 1.abundantly utter 1. | Partic. | belch out 1pour out 3send forth 1utter 4. | NABAB | נָבָב hollow 3vain 1. | NABACH | נָבַח bark 1. | NABAL | נָבָל fool 9foolish 5foolish man 1foolish woman 1vile person 2. | NABAT | נָבַט look 1.behold 12cause to behold 1consider 5have respect 3look 36look about 1look down 1look upon 1regard 4 | PIEL | look 1. | HIPH. | behold 12cause to behold 1 | NABEL | נָבֵל come to nought 1do foolishly 1fade 5fade away 4fall down 1fall off 1wear away 1wither 2.fading 2falling 1.surely 1. | Adv. inf. | disgrace 1dishonour 1lightly esteem 1make vile 1. | PIEL | disgrace 1dishonour 1lightly esteem 1make vile 1. | NABI | נָבִי prophet 313them that prophesy 1*prophecy 1. | NABLUTH | נָבִלּוּת f. lewdness 1. | NACHAH | נָחָה guide 1lead 9lead forth 1.bestow 1bring 4govern 1guide 5lead 15put 1straiten 1. | HIPH. | guide 1lead 9lead forth 1.bestow 1bring 4govern 1guide 5lead 15put 1straiten 1. | NACHAL | נָחַל divide 1divide by inheritance 1divide for inheritance 1have [inheritance] 1have inheritance 2have in possession 1inherit 16possess 2take as an inheritance 1take for inheritance 1take inheritance 1.distribute for inheritance 1divide for inheritance 1divide inheritance 1take inheritance 1. | PIEL | distribute for inheritance 1divide for inheritance 1divide inheritance 1take inheritance 1. | HIPH. | cause to inherit 6cause to possess 1divide for inheritance 1divide inheritance 1give for inheritance 1give to inherit 1leave for inheritance 1make to inherit 2. | HOPH. | be made to possess 1.divide for inheritance 1inherit 4possess 1take as an inheritance 1. | HITHP. | divide for inheritance 1inherit 4possess 1take as an inheritance 1. | NACHAL <sup>1</sup> | נָחַל brook 46flood 5river 54stream 10valley 23. | NACHALAH | נָחַלָּה f. heritage 26inheritance 192possession 1river 2*inherit 2. | NACHALATH | נָחַלָּת f. heritage 1. | HOPH. part. | chased 2. | NACHAM | נָחַם be comforted 8[one's self] 1receive comfort 1repent 38.comfort 41.comfort 1.comforter 8.be comforted 2.comfort self 2repent 1repent self 2. | PIEL | comfort 41.comfort 1.comforter 8.be comforted 2.comfort self 2repent 1repent self 2. | Infra. | comfort 1.comforter 8.be comforted 2.comfort self 2repent 1repent self 2. | NACHAR | נָחַר nostrils 1. | NACHARAH | נָחַרָּה f. snorting 1. | NACHASH <sup>1</sup> | נָחָשׁ divine 2learn by experience 1observe diligently 1use enchantment 3[use] enchantment 1.enchanter 1.Adv. inf. certainly 1indeed 1. | NACHASH <sup>2</sup> | נָחָשׁ enchantment 2. | NACHASH <sup>3</sup> | נָחָשׁ serpent 31. | NACHATH <sup>1</sup> | נָחַת come down 1enter 1go down 1press sore 1.stick fast 1.be broken 1settle 1.cause to come down 1. | NIPH. | stick fast 1.be broken 1settle 1. | PIEL | stick fast 1.be broken 1settle 1. | HIPH. | cause to come down 1. | NACHATH <sup>2</sup> | נָחַת lighting down 1quiet 1quietness 1rest 4that which should be set on 1. | NACHETH | נָחֶת *come down 1. | NACHLAH | נָחֵלָּה stream 1. | NACHNU | נָחֲנוּ touch 5. | NACHUSH | נָחֻשׁ brass 1. | NACHUTS | נָחֻטִּים (pass. pt.)† See hayah. | NADAB | נָדַב give willingly 1make willing 2.be offered willingly 1be willing 1.offer freely 1offer selves willingly 4offer willingly 7. | HITHP. | be offered willingly 1be willing 1.offer freely 1offer selves willingly 4offer willingly 7. | NADACH | נָדַח be expelled 1.forcing 1.be drawn away 1be driven 3be driven away 2be driven out 4be driven quite 1fetch a stroke 1go astray 1.banished 1cast out 1outcast 5.be driven 1.bring 1cast down 1cast out 2compel 1drive 14drive away 2drive out 2force 1thrust away 1thrust out 1withdraw 1 | Inf. | be expelled 1.forcing 1.be drawn away 1be driven 3be driven away 2be driven out 4be driven quite 1fetch a stroke 1go astray 1.banished 1cast out 1outcast 5.be driven 1.bring 1cast down 1cast out 2compel 1drive 14drive away 2drive out 2force 1thrust away 1thrust out 1withdraw 1 | NIPH. | be expelled 1.forcing 1.be drawn away 1be driven 3be driven away 2be driven out 4be driven quite 1fetch a stroke 1go astray 1.banished 1cast out 1outcast 5.be driven 1.bring 1cast down 1cast out 2compel 1drive 14drive away 2drive out 2force 1thrust away 1thrust out 1withdraw 1 | NADAD | נָדַד be removed 1depart 1flee 9move 1wander 7wander abroad 1.flee away 1.be chased 1.be chased away 1. | POAL | flee away 1.be chased 1.be chased away 1. | HIPH. | flee away 1.be chased 1.be chased away 1. | HOPH. | thrust away 1.flee away 1.† KAL repeated : flee apace 1.† See shenah. | NADAH | נָדָה cast out 1put far away 1. | NADAN | נָדַן gift 1. | NADAN <sup>2</sup> | נָדַן sheath 1. | NADAPH | נָדַף drive away 2thrust down 1.be driven away 2. | NIPH. | driven 1driven to and fro 1shaken 1tossed to and fro 1. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADAR | נָדַר make [a vow] :vow 31.free 2liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4prince 14willing 2. | NADIB | נָדִיב liberal 4liberal things (pl.) 2noble 4 |
|---------|---------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------------------|---------|----------------------------------------------|------|---------------|------|-----------------|-------------------|-------------------------------|-------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|------|------------------------------|--------|---------------------------|-------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|--------------------------------|----------|-------------------|-------------------|--------------------|-------|-----------------------|--------|--------------|-------------------|-----------------------------------------|---------|-------------------------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------|--------|---------------|-------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------|-------|--------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------------------------------------------------------------|------|-----------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------|--------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|-------------------------|-------------|-----------|--------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-------------------|----------|-------------------------|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------|----------------------|--------------------|----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------------|------|-------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|---------------------|---------|--------------------|--------|------------------|---------|-----------------|---------|---------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|---------------------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------------------------------|-------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------|-------|---------------|--------------------|-----------------|--------|-----------------------------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------------------------|

|                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                              |                                              |                                                                                          |                                            |                                  |                                                                                                                                                        |                                                              |                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                 |                                                                                                               |                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                  |                                      |                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                 |                                                                          |                                                   |                                           |                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                         |                                                                         |                           |                                                                                                                                |                                  |                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                   |                                                  |                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                    |                                                   |                                    |                                                                         |                                                     |                                                |                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                               |                                                                            |                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                       |                      |                                                                                                   |                                                                                                               |                      |                                               |                                  |                                                                        |                                        |                                                                            |                                             |                      |                                         |                                                                        |                    |                                          |                                                                                       |                                                           |                                                                                   |                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                     |                                                        |                                |                                                            |                                                                        |                                              |                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                              |                                                |                                    |                                                                                     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NAKAL נָכַלPartic. deceiver 1.PIEL beguile 1.HITHP. conspire 1.deal subtly 4. | NAKAR נָכַרNIPH. be known 1.dissemble 1.PIEL behave selvesstrangely 1.deliver 1.estrangle 1.know 1.regard 1.HIPH. acknowledge 7.could 1.discern 1.have respect 2.know 16.perceive 1.respect 2.take knowledge 2.take notice 1.be known 1.feign self to beanother 1.makeselfstrange1. | NAKE נָכַםbroken 2.wounded 1. | NAKEH נָכַהcontrite 1.lame 2. | NAKOACH נָכַחin uprightness 1.plain 1.right 2.[Compare nekochah.] | NALAH נָלַהHIPH. make an end 1. | NAMER נָמַרleopard 6. | NAPHACH נָפַחblow 4.breathe 1.give up 1.Partic. seething a.PUAL be blown 1.HIPH. cause to lose[life] 1.snuff 1. | NAPHAH נָפַח f.border 1.coast 1.region 1. | NAPHAH נָפַח f.sieve 1. | NAPHAL נָפַלbe accepted 2.be cast down 1.be fallen 30.be fallen down 1.be lost 2.be overthrown 3.die 1.fall 5.fall 262.fall away 5.fall down 23.lay along 2.lie 1.lie down 1.light 2.light down 1.perish 1.rot 1.*present 1.Partic. fugitive 1.inferior 1.ready to fall 1.Adv. inf. surely 1.HIPH. cast 15.cast down 7.cast in 1.cast lots 1.cast out 1.cease 1.cause to fall 9.cause to lie down1.divide 1.divide by lot 5.fell 3.let be cast 1.let fall 4.let fall 1.make fall 1.make to rot 1.overthrow 2.overwhelm 1.present 4. | PLAY 1.smite out 1.throw down 1.cast self down 1.fall 1.fall down 1. | HITHP. †KAL have [inheritance](with be) 1; keep [bed](with le) 1; lose (withmin) 1. | NAPHASH נָפַשׁNIPH. be refreshed 2.refresh selves 1. | NAPHAT'S נָפַתbe overspread 1.be scattered 2.break 1.broken 1.dispersed 1.PIEL break 1.break in pieces 1.cause to be dis-charged 1.dash 2.dash in pieces 1.scatter 1.PUAL be beaten insunder 1. | NAPHTULIM נָפְתָלִיםpl. wrestlings 1. | NAQA נָקַעbe alienated 3. | NAQAB נָקַבappoint 1.blaspheme 3.bore 1.curse 1.name 1.pierce 3.strike through 1.with holes 1.NIPH. be expressed 6. | NAQAH נָקָהAdv. inf. altogether 1.NIPH. be blameless 1.be clear 1.be cut off 1.be desolate 1.be free 1.be guiltless 2.be innocent 4.be quit 1.be unpunished10. | Adv. inf. utterly 1.PIEL acquit 3.cleanse 3.clear 2.hold guiltless 3.hold innocent 1.leave unpun-ished 4.Adv. inf. altogether 1.at all 1.by no means 1.wholly 1. | NAQAM נָקַםavenger 5.avenger selves 1.revenge 2.take [vengeance]2.take vengeance2. | Adv. inf. surely 1.NIPH. avenge self 1.be avenged 4.be punished 1.revenge 1.revenge self 1.take [vengeance]1.take vengeance1. | PIEL avenge 1.take [vengeance]1. | HOPH. be avenged 1.be punished 1.vengeance betaken 1. | HITHP. be avenged 3.Partic. avenger 2. | †KAL avenge (with neqa-mah) 1. | NAQAM נָקַםquarrel 1.vengeance 15.†at once (with achah) 1. | NAQAPH נָקַףkill 1.cut down 1.destroy 1.compass 6.compass about 1.go about 1.go round 1.go round about 1.inclose 1.round 1.*be gone about 1.*be gone roundabout 1. | PIEL pick out 1.thrust out 1.put out 1.be pierced 1.be digged 1. | PUAL be snared 1.catch 1.lay snares 1.lay a snare 1. | HITHP. be weary 1. | NAQI נָקִיblameless 1.clean 1.clear 1.exempted 1.free 1.guiltless 4.innocent 30.quit 2. | NAQI נָקִיinnocent 2. | NAQOD נָקֹדspeckled 9. | NASA נָסַחbe departed 4.be journeying 1.be on his way 1.be removed 1.depart 25.get 1.go 4.go away 2.go forth 2.go forward 1.go on 1.go onward 1.go out 1.go their way 1.journey 29.march 1.remove 25.set forth 1.set forward 14.take [journey] 1.take journey 12.be departed 1. | NIPH. go away 1.bring 3.cause to blow 1.make go forth 1.remove 2.set aside 1.†journey (with regel) 1. | NASA נָסַחaccept 11.arise 1.be able to bear 1.be burned 1.be partial 1.bear 156.bear up 2.bring 21.bring forth 1.burn 1.can bear 1.can bear 1.carry 25.carry away 7.cast 1.contain 1.ease 1.exalt 1.fetch 2.forgive 16.hold up 1.lay 1.lift up 137.lift up again 1.obtain 4.offer 1.pardon 4.pluck up 1.raise 1.raise up 1.receive 3.regard 4.respect 3.set (up) 10. | spare 3.stir up 3.suffer 5.swear 1.take (away, up)116.wear 3.yield 1.*be accepted 1.*be borne 1.*be carried 1.*be laid 3.*be taken away 1.See seeth.Adv. inf. needs 1.utterly 1.NIPH. be borne 3.be carried 3.be exalted 3.be extolled 1.be lifted up 14.be magnified 1.lift up self 3.*take away 1.advance 1.carry 1.exalt 1.furnish 1.further 1.give 1.help 2.lift up 1.take away 1.bring 1.suffer to bear 1.be exalted 2.exalt self 3.lift self up 1.lift up self 2. | †KAL accept (with panim)1; armour bearer (par-tic. with keli) 18; bepartial (with panim) 1;go on journey (withregel) 1; honourable(partic. with panim) 3;honourable man (partic.with panim) 1; lade(with al) 1; laden (part.with min) 1; marry(with le and pron. suff.)1; regard (with panim)1; swear (with yad) 3.PIEL desire (with nep-hesh) 1; have a desire(with nephesh) 1. | NASACH נָסַחbe rooted out 1.destroy 1.pluck 1.be plucked 1. | NIPH. attain 1.attain unto 1.be able 2.be able to bring1.be able to get 3.can get 2.get 1.lay at 1.obtain 2.overtake 23.put 1.reach 2.take 1.take hold 1.take hold of 2.take hold on 1.take hold upon 1.wax rich 1. | †be able (with mataa ke-de)1. See yad. | NASAG נָסַגHIPH. (= Hiph. ofsug). | NASAH נָסַחPIEL adventure 1.assay 2.prove 20.tempt 1.try 1. | NASAK נָסַקcover 1.melt 1.offer 1.pour 1.pour out 1.set 1.be set up 1.pour out 1.cause tobe poured 1.offer 1.pour 2.pour out 10.cover 2. | NIPH. be set up 1.PIEL pour out 1.HIPH. cause tobe poured 1.offer 1.pour 2.pour out 10.cover 2. | NASAK נָסַקPass. pt. that is spread 1. | NASAQ נָסַקascend up 1. | NASAQ נָסַקNIPH. be kindled 1.HIPH. burn 1.kindle 1. | NASAS נָסַסPartic. standard bearer1. | Hithp. pt. lifted up as anensign 1. | NASHA נָשָׂאAdv. inf. utterly 1.NIPH. be deceived 1.HIPH. beguile 1.deceive 10.seize 1. | NASHA נָשָׂאAdv. inf. exact 1.Partic. giver of usury 1.HIPH. exact 1.†KAL be in debt (le withsuff. and partic.) 1. | NASHAB נָשַׁבblow 1.HIPH. cause to blow 1.drive away 1. | NASHAH נָשָׂהforget 2.NIPH. be forgotten 1.PIEL make forget 1.HIPH. deprive 1.†exact less (with min) 1. | NASHAH נָשָׂהexact 3.lend 1.lend on usury 2.Partic. creditor 1.extortioner 1.taker of usury 1.usurer 1.lend 2. | HIPH. lend 2. | NASHAK נָשַׁךְbe lent uponusury 1.bite 10.bite 2.lend upon usury3. | NASHAL נָשַׁלcast 1.cast out 1.loose 1.put off 1.put out 1.slip 1.drive 1. | PIEL drive 1. | NASHAM נָשַׁםdestroy 1.blow 2. | NASHAPH נָשַׁףblow 2. | NASHAQ נָשַׁקbe ruled 1.kiss 25.kiss 5.touch 1. | PIEL kiss 25.HIPH. touch 1. | NASHAQ נָשַׁקPartic. armed 1.armed men 1.being armed 1. | NASHATH נָשַׁתfall 2.fall 1. | NIPH. fall 1. | NASHEH נָשָׂהwhich shrank 2. | NASHIM נָשִׁים f. pl.wives 114.women 93.*married 3. | †See hayah. | NASHIN נָשִׁין f. pl.wives 1. | NASI נָשִׁיcaptain 1.chief 9.governor 1.prince 95.ruler 6. | NASI נָשִׁיclouds (pl.) 1.vapours (pl.) 3. | NASIK נָשִׁיקdrink offering 1.duke 1.prince 3.principal 1. | NATA נָטָהfasten 1.plant 56.be planted 1. | NIPH. be gone 1.be turned 1.bow 2.bow self 1.decline 7.extend 1.go down 1.incline 3.intend 1.pitch 6.prolong 1.show 1.spread 3.spread out 1.stretch 2.stretch forth 13.stretch out 64.turn 13.turn aside 3.turn away 1.turn in to 1.bowing 1.outstretched 3.bowing down 1.be spread forth 1.be stretchedforth 1.be stretched out1.apply 1.bow 3.bow down 4.carry aside 1.cause to yield 1.decline 1.deliver 1.extend 2.incline 25.lay 2.lay self down 1.let down 1.overthrow 1.pervert 4.put away 1.spread 1.stretch forth 1.stretch out 1.take aside 1.turn 3.turn aside 1.turn away 4.wrest 3. | †KAL afternoon (infin.with yom) 1; offer(with al) 1. | NATAL נָטַלbear 1.take up 1.bear 1. | †KAL offer (with al) 1. | NATAL נָטַלlift up 1.Pass. pt. lifted up 1. | NATAPH נָטַףdrop 9.drop 4.prophecy 4.prophet 1. | NATAPH נָטַףdrops 1.stacte 1. | NATAR נָטַרbear grudge 1.keep 6.reserve 2. | NATASH נָטַשׁcast off 1.forsake 13.join [battle] 1.leave 12.leave off 1.let fall 1.lie still 1.spread abroad 1.suffer 1. | Partic. pass. drawn 1.NIPH. be forsaken 1.be loosed 1.be stretched out1.spread selves 3.be forsaken 1. | PUAL spread selves 3.be forsaken 1. | NATHA נָתַהbe broken 1. | NATHACH נָתַחcut 4.cut in pieces 4.divide 1.hew in pieces 1. |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of noun by verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
‡ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word in English.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NATHAK נַתַּחbe poured 2be poured forth 2NIPH. be poured out 3be melted 1be molten 1be poured 1be poured forth 1HIPH. be poured out 3drop 1gather 1gather together 1melt 1pour out 1be melted 1.HOPH. be melted 1. | be set 1be uttered 1.Adv. inf. surely 2.HOPH. be delivered 1be given 2be gotten 1be put 1be taken up 1.†KAL. avenge (with neqamah) 4 ; be healed (with rephuth) 1; cause to multiply (with rebabab) 1; charge (with al) 1; with (le) 1; 2; consider (with el) 1; cry (with qol) 2; cry out (with qol) 1; have oversight (p.p. with be) 1; lay to charge of (with be-qereb) 1; lie (with shekabeth) 4; make sit (with maqom le) 1; make to be pitied (with le-rachamin) 1; pay (with meker) 1; pull away (with part) 1; slander (with dophi) 1; submit (with yad) 1; take heed (with le) 1; weep aloud (with qol be-beki) 1; withdraw (with kateph sorereh) 1; yell (with qol) 1; yield (with yad) 1. See ml. | NATSA נָסַחflee 1.NATSAB נָצַבNIPH. be set over 4be settled 1present self 1stand 28stand still 1stand up 1stand upright 1.appointed 1at his best state 1Partio. deputy 1officer 6standing 1.erect 1establish 1lay 1make to stand 1rear up 1set 9set up 3sharpen 1stablish 1.HOPH. pt. pillar 1set up 1.NATSACH נָצַחNIPH. pt. perpetual 1.PIEL. excel 1oversee 1set forward 4.chief musician 56chief singer 1overseer 2.NATSAH נָצַחNIPH. strive 1strive together 4.HIPH. strive 1.NATSAH נָצַחNIPH. pt. ruinous 2.NATSAL נָצַלNIPH. be delivered 12be escaped 1be preserved 1be taken out 1deliver self 2.PIEL. deliver 1spoil 1strip off 1.defend 1deliver 168recover 6rescue 1rid 3save 1take 3take away 1*escape 1.Adv. inf. at all 2surely 2without fail 1.HOPH. pt. plucked 2.HITHP. strip self 1.†HIPH. part (with ben) 1.NATSAR נָצַרkeep 37observe 1preserve 12.keeper 1preserver 1watcher 1watchman 3.Pass. pt. hidden thing 1monument 1subtil 1.NATSATS נָצַץsparkle 1.NATSIR נָצַרpreserved 1.NAVAH נָוָהHIPH. keep at home 1.prepare an habitation 1.NAVAH נָוָהdwelling 1habitation 1she that tarried 1.NAVEH נָוָהcomely 7seemly 2*become 1.NAVEH נָוָהdwelling 2dwelling place 1fold 4habitation 21 | pleasant place 1sheepcote 2stable 1.NAZAH נָזַחHIPH. be sprinkled 4.sprinkle 20.NAZAL נָזַלdistill 1drop 1flow 5flow out 1gush out 1melt 1pour 1pour down 1.flood 3running water 1stream 2.cause to flow 1.Partio. NAZAR נָזַרNIPH. separateselves 4.consecrate 1separate 5.NAZID נָזַדpottage 6.NAZIR נָזִירNazarite 12separate 1separated 1vine undressed 2.NEAQAH נִעְקָהgroaning 4.NEATSAN נִעְנָהblasphemy 2.NEATSOT נִעְטוֹתblasphemies 1provocations 2.NEBA נִבָּאHITHP. prophesy 1.NEBALAH נִבְלָהfolly 10villany 2*vile 1.NEBEK נִבֵּקspring 1.NEBEL נִבֵּלbottle 8flagon 1pitcher 1psaltery 23vessel 1viol 4.NEBELAH נִבְלָהbeast that dieth of itself 1body 1carcase 35dead body 5dead carcase 1*dead of itself 1*which died 1*which dieth of itself 1.NEBI נְבִיאprophet 4.NEBIAH נְבִיָּהprophets 6.NEBIZBAH נְבִיזְבָּהrewards (pl. 1) 2.NEBRASHTA נְבִרְשָׁתָאcandlestick 1.NEBUAH נְבוּאָהprophecy 3.NEBUAH נְבוּאָהprophecy 1.NECHAMAH נְחֻמָּהcomfort 2.NECHASH נְחָשׁbrass 9.NECHATH נְחָתcome down 2.APH. carry 1lay up 1place 1.HOPH. be deposited 1.NECHIRIM נְחִירִיםnostrils 1.NECHOSHETH נְחֹשֶׁתbrass 100chain 3copper 1fetter 3filthiness 1steel 1*brass 28. | NECHUSHAH נְחֻשָּׁהbrass 7steel 3.NED נָדָהheap 6.NEDAB נָדַבHITHP. be minded of own freewill 1offer freely 1offer willingly 1.Inf. freewill offering 1.NEDABAH נְדָבָהfree offering 1freewill offering 15voluntary offering 1willing offering 1*freely 2*voluntarily 1*voluntary 1*willing 1*willingly 1.NEDAD נָדַדgo from 1.NEDEH נָדָהgift 1.NEDER נָדָרvow 59.†vowed (with hayah under-std. and al) 1.NEDIBAH נְדִיבָהsoul 1.NEDUDIM נְדֻדִּיםtossings to and fro 1.NEGA נֶגַעplague 65sore 5stripe 2stroke 4wound 1the stricken (with le) 1.NEGAD נֶגַדissue 1.NEGEB נֶגֶבsouth (ward) 105south country 1south side 5.NEGED נֶגַדagainst before in the presence of in the sight of over against, etc.†Similarly le-neged, min-neged.NEGED נֶגַדtoward 1.NEGEPH נֶגֶפֶתplague 6stumbling 1.NEGINAH נְגִינָהmusic 1song 5stringed instrument 1.NEGOHOTH נְגוּהוֹתbrightness 1.NEHAMAH נְחָמָהdisquietness 1roaring 1.NEHAR נְהָרriver 14stream 1.NEHARAH נְהָרָהlight 1.NEHI נְהִיlamentation 3wailing 4.NEHIR נְהִיר (v.L.)light 1.NEHOR נְהוֹר (v.L.)light 1.NEKACH נֶכֶחbefore 1over against 1.NEKAR נֶכֶרstrange 17.stranger 6.†See ben2. | NEKASIM נֶכֶסִּיםriches 1wealth 4.NEKED נָגַדnephew 2son's son 1.NEKEH נָקָהabject 1.NEKEL נָקִלwile 2.NEKER נָקֵר*strange punish-ment 1.NEKOCHAH נְכֻזָּהequity 1right 1right thing 1uprightness 1.NEKOTH נֶכֶתspicery 1spices 1.NEKOTH נֶכֶתprecious things 2.NEMALAH נְמָלָהant 2.NEMAR נִמְרָהleopard 1.NEMIBZAH נִמְיִזְבָּהvile 1.NEORETH נְעוֹרֶתtown 2.NEPHAL נִפְלָהfall 3fall down 7have occasion 1.NEPHAQ נִפְקָהbe gone forth 1come forth 1go forth 1take forth 1take out 4*be taken out 1.NEPHEL נִפְלָהuntimely birth 3.NEPHESH נִפְשָׁהany 4appetite 2beast 1body 7breath 1creature 9dead (body) 8desire 5ghost 1heart 15life 119lust 2man 3mind 15one 1own 1person 30pleasure 4self 19soul 428thing 1will 4*fish 1*hearty 1*mortal 1*will (vb.) 1*would have it 1.†anyone (with achath) 1;beast (with behemah) 1;deadly (be-nephesh) 1;life (with chayah) 1;person (with adam) 3;with (ish) 4; that hath life (with chayah) 1.With pron. suff. = Eng. pron. 24. See az, 2 bay-ith, mar, nakah, ratsach. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NEQASH נָקַשׁsmite 1.                                                                                                                    | NETHAN נָתַןbestow 2give 4pay 1.                                                                                                                               | NICHUMIM נִחְמוּמִים pl.comforts 1repentings 1*comfortable 1.                                                                                                                                                 | NOCHAM נֹחַםrepentance 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | put 5quiet 1set 6set down 3suffer 3withdraw 1withhold 1.be left 3be set 1have rest 1.                                                                                                                        | OB עָבַרthickness 3*thick 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| NEQE נָקָהpure 1.                                                                                                                        | NETHAR נִתְּרָהAPH. shake off 1.                                                                                                                                       | NID נִידmoving 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                     | NOD נֹדbottle 6.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | HOPH.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | OBNAIYM עֲבָנִים du.stools 1wheels 1.                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| NEQEB נֶקֶבpipe 1.                                                                                                                       | NETHEQ נִתְּחָקdry scall 1scall 13.                                                                                                                                | NIDAH נִידָה f.†See hayah.                                                                                                                                                                                            | NOGAH נֹגַהּ f.brightness 1clear shining 1light 1shining 5*bright 1*shining (adj.) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | NUB נֹבֵבbring forth 1bring forth fruit 1increase 1.make cheerful 1.                                                                                                                                                      | OCHIM עֲחִים pl.doleful 1creatures 1.                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| NEQEBAH נֶקֶבָּה f.female 18maid child 1woman 3.                                                                                 | NETHER נִתְּרָהnitre 2.                                                                                                                                                | NIDBAK נִידְבָּקrow 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                | NOGAH נֹגַהּ f.morning 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | NUD נֹדֵדbemoan 6be shaken 1be sorry 1flee 1mourn 1remove 3take pity 1.vagabond 2.wandering 1.get you 1.make move 1remove 1wag 1.bemoan self 1be removed 1skip for joy 1. | OCHORAN עֲחֹרָןanother 2other 3.†at last (ad ochoran) 1.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| NEQIQ נֶקֶץhole 3.                                                                                                                       | NETHIBAH נִתְּיבָה f.path 19.†See derek, halak.                                                                                                                    | NIDDAH נִידָה f.filthiness 1flowers 2menstruous 1woman 1removed woman 2separation 14unclean thing 1unclean with 1filthiness 1uncleanliness 1*be put apart 1*menstruous 1. | NOKACH נֹכַחagainst 2before 6over against 8right 1.†le-nokach: before 1, for 1, right on 1. ad. nokach le-bo: over against 1. el nokach pone directly before 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Partic. Infin. Imper. Hiph.                                                                                                                                                                                                               | OCHORI עֲחֹרִיanother 5other 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| NEQUDDOTH נֶקֶדּוֹת pl.studs 1.candle 9lamp 33light 1.                                                                       | NETILM נִתְּלִים pl.plants 1.                                                                                                                                          | NIDNEH נִידְנֶה*body 1.                                                                                                                                                                                               | NOKER נֹכֵר*become 1stranger 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | NUM נֹדֵםsleep 1slumber 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | OD עָדָהagain 1any longer 1any more 1as yet 1besides 1else 1further 1furthermore 1henceforth 1longer 1more 1moreover 1still 1the while 1when 1while yet 1yet, etc. |
| NES נֶסspikenard 3.                                                                                                                      | NETIPHOTH נִתְּיפּוֹת pl.chains 1collars 1.                                                                                                                        | NIHYAH נִיחָיָה f.*doleful 1.                                                                                                                                                                                         | NOKEI נֹכֵיalien 4foreigner 1outlandish 1strange 16stranger 19strange woman 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUMAH נֹמָה f.drowsiness 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                           | ODEM אֶדָםsardius 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| NESA נָסָאcarry away 1take 1.                                                                                                        | NETS נֶטhawk 3.                                                                                                                                                        | NIKSIN נִיקְסִין pl.goods 2.                                                                                                                                                                                          | NOPH נֹפֶהsituation 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | NUN נֹןbe continued 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ODOTH אֶדוֹת pl.cause 1causes 1sake 1.                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| HITHP. make insurrection 1.                                                                                                                  | NETSACH נֶטַח (נָטַח)always 1always 1constantly 1ever 24evermore 1perpetual 3.†to the end (ad netsach) 1; unto the end (la-netsach) 1. See 10. | NIN נִיןson 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | NOPEEK נֹפֶקemerald 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | NUPH נֹפֶהperfume 1.shake 1.lift up 4move 1offer 4send 1shake 6sift 2strike 1wave 14*be waved 1be waved 1.                                                                                | †See al. 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| NESACH נִסַּחbe pulled down 1.                                                                                                           | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIPHA נִיפָה f.expenses 2.                                                                                                                                                                                            | NOPEETH נֹפֶתhoneycomb 4.†honeycomb (with tsuph) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | POH.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | OHABIM אֹהָבִים pl.loves 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| NESAK נִסַּקoffer 1.                                                                                                                     | NETSACH נֶטַחunto the end (ad netsach) 1; unto the end (la-netsach) 1. See 10.                                                                                         | NIQPAH נִיקְפָה f.rent 1.                                                                                                                                                                                             | NOQED נֹקֵדherdman 1sheepmaster 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | POH.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | OHEL אֹהֶלcovering 1dwelling 1dwelling place 2home 1tabernacle freq.tent freq.                                                                                                                                 |
| NESAK נִסַּקdrink-offering 1.                                                                                                            | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIQQAYON נִיקְקָיוֹןcleanness 1innocency 4.                                                                                                                                                                       | NOQEPH נֹקֶףshaking 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | NUQ נֹקnurse 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | OKEL אֶקֶלeating 4food 16meat 18prey 2victuals 3.                                                                                                                                                                  |
| NESAQ נִסַּקtake up 2.HAPH. be taken up 1.                                                                                           | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIQUDDIM נִיקְוֻדִּים pl.cracknels 1mouldy 1.                                                                                                                                                                     | NOTSAH נֹטָה (נָטָה)feather 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | NUR נֹרfire 7*fiery 8.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | †See eth.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| NESEK נִסֵּקdrink-offering 59molten image 3*to cover withal 1.                                                                   | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירbreak up 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                   | NUA נֹאbe gone away 1be moveable 1be moved 3be promoted 3be vagabond 1move 1reel 1remove 1stagger 2wander 5wander up and down 1.fugitive 2.continually 1to and fro 1.be shaken 1be sifted 1let wander up and down 1move 1scatter 1set 1shake 5sift 1wag 2.†Hiph. make go up and down (with inf. of bo) 1. | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OL עָלָהyoke 39.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| NESHAMAH נִשְׁמָה f.blast 3breath 11inspiration 1soul 1spirit 2*that breatheth 1*that breathed 2.†See ruach. | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירfallow ground 2tillage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                 | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | HIPH.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESHAR נִשְׁרָהeagle 2.                                                                                                                  | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירlamp 1light 3.                                                                                                                                                                                            | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUQ נֹקnurse 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESHEK נִשְׁכָּהusury 12.                                                                                                                | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUR נֹרfire 7*fiery 8.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESHEPH נִשְׁפָהdark 1dawning of the day 1dawning of the morning 1night 3twilight 6.                                     | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESHEQ נִשְׁחָקarmed men 1armour 3armoury 1battle 1harness 1weapon 3.                                                | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESHER נִשְׁרָהeagle 26.                                                                                                                 | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESHI נִשִּׁיdebt 1.                                                                                                                     | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESHIQAH נִשְׁחָקָה f.kiss 2.                                                                                                            | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESHIYAH נִשְׁחָקָה f.forgetfulness 1.                                                                                                   | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESIBBAH נִסִּיבָה f.cause 1.                                                                                                            | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NESUAH נִסְאוּהָ f.carriage 1.                                                                                                           | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NETA נֶטֶאplant 5.                                                                                                                       | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NETAR נִתָּרkeep 1.                                                                                                                      | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NETEL נִתֵּל*weighty 1.                                                                                                                  | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |
| NETHACH נִתְּחָחparts (pl.) 1pieces (pl.) 12.                                                                                        | NETSACH נֶטַחblood 1strength 3victory 2.                                                                                                                       | NIR נִירplowing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | NUACH נֹחַbe at rest 3be confederate 1be quiet 1cease 1have rest 1remain 1rest 23.resting place 1.bestow 1cast down 1cause to rest 7give rest 20lay 9lay down 1lay up 10leave 21leave off 1let alone 4let down 1let remain 1make to rest 1pacify 1place 3.                                                    | NUS נֹסabate 1be tied 12flee 13flee away 11.Adv. inf. away 1.POL. lift up a stand-ard 1.Hiph. make flee 1put to flight 1hide (tr.) 1.Hithpol. be displayed 1.                                     | OLAH אֹלָה f.food 1fuel 3meat 8*consume 1*devour 3*eat 2.                                                                                                                                                      |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Genitive always 1ancient 5at any time 1eternal 1everlasting 53for ever 3lasting 1long 2old 6perpetual 20,old 2.                                                | OPHAIM עֵפָאִים pl.branches 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ORLAH עֵרְלָה f.foreskin 13the uncircum-cised 1.                                                         | P                                                                                                                                                                                                | PADA פָּדָהdeliver 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | PALAG פָּלַגNIPH. be divided 2.PIEL divide 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Plur. any more (ad olam) 2;always (le-olam) 2; al-ways (le-olam) 2; of oldtime (le-olamim) 1. Me-olam: ever of old 1,long time 1, of old 6,of old time 2. See adl,lo, yom. | OPHAN עֹפָןwheel 33.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | ORMAH עֹרְמָה f.guile 1prudence 1subtlety 1wisdom 1willily (be-ormah) 1.                         | PAAH<sup>1</sup> פָּאָהHIPH. scatter intocorners 1.                                                                                                                                      | PADAH פָּדָהdeliver 5ransom 1redeem 44rescue 1ransomed 1redeemed 1that were re-deemed 2those that are tobe redeemed 2surely 1NIPH. be redeemed 3.HIPH. let be redeemed1.                                                                                                             | PALAH פָּלָהNIPH. be separated 1;be wonderfullymade 1HIPH. put a difference1set apart 1sever 1show . . . man-vellous 1.                                                                                             |
| OLEL=OLAL.                                                                                                                                                                                             | OPHEH עֹפֶהdarkness 7obscurity 1.privily (be-ophely) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | OSEH עָשָׂהPartic. of asah.                                                                                             | PAAL פָּעַלcry 1.do 1make 4ordain 1work 19.doer 1maker 2worker 19.                                                                                               | Pass. pt. ransomed 1redeemed 1that were re-deemed 2those that are tobe redeemed 2surely 1NIPH. be redeemed 3.HIPH. let be redeemed1.                                                                                                                                                                     | PALAL פָּלַלexecute judg-ment 1judge 2think 1be judged 1.NIPH. be judged 1.HITHP. treat 1make [prayer] 1make [supplica-tion] 1make prayer 1make supplica-tion 1pray 74.prayer be made1. |
| OLELOTH עֹלֵלוֹת f. pl.gleaning grapes3gleaning of thegrapes 1grapegleanings 1grapes 1.                                                                                 | OPHER עֹפֶרyoung hart (with pl. ofayyal) 3; young roe(with tsebyyah) 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | OSEPH עֹשֶׂהgathering 1when they havegathered 1.                                                                | PAAM פָּעַםmove 1.be troubled 3.be troubled 1.                                                                                                                                       | Adv. inf. by any means 1surely 1NIPH. be redeemed 3.HIPH. let be redeemed1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | PALAG פָּלַגNIPH. be divided 2.PIEL divide 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| OMED עֹמֵדplace 6where [I] stood 1stand 1.                                                                                                                                                 | OPHERETH עֹפְרֶת f.lead 6.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | OSHEQ עֹשֶׂקextortion 1oppression 12cruelly 1thing 1.                                                       | PAAM<sup>2</sup> פָּעַםanvil 1corner 3foot 7footstep 1going 1now (with art.pref.) 9once 5order 1rank 1step 4time 59twice (du.) 5wheel 1. | Adv. inf. at all 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | PALASH פָּלַשׁroll self 1wallow self 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| OMEN עֹמֶןtruth 1.                                                                                                                                                                                 | OPHI עֹפִיleaves 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | OSHER<sup>1</sup> עֹשֶׂרhappy 1.                                                                                        | PAAMON פָּעֲמוֹןbell 7.                                                                                                                                                                      | PAG פָּגgreen fig 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | PALASH פָּלַשׁroll self 1wallow self 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| OMEN עֹמֶןtruth 1.                                                                                                                                                                                 | OQBAAH עֹקְבָאָה f.subtlety 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | OSHER<sup>2</sup> עֹשֶׂרriches 36.far (with gadol) 1.                                                               | PAAR<sup>1</sup> פָּאָרPIEL beautify 3glorify 3be glorified 3boast self 1glorify self 1glory 1vaunt selves 1.                                                        | PAGA פָּגַעcome 1fall 11fall upon 1intreat 2light upon 1make interces-sion 2meet 1meet together 1pray 1reach 7run 1.HIPH. cause to entreat1come betwixt 1lay 1make interces-sion 2.Partic. intercessor 1.                                                        | PALAT פָּלַטescape 1.calve 1cause to escape1deliver 10be delivered 1.NIPH. deliverance 1escape 1.HIPH. carry away safe1deliver 1.                                                                           |
| OMEQ עֹמֶקdepth 1.                                                                                                                                                                                 | OR<sup>1</sup> אֹרbe enlightened 2be light 1have light 1shine 2.NIPH. be enlightened1.Partic. break of day 1.glorious 1.cause to shine 5enlighten 2give light 10give [light] 1kindle 1light 3lighten 4make to shine 5set on fire 1show light 2shine 2. | OSHQAQ עֹשְׂקָה f.I am oppressed (with ll) 1.                                                                    | PAAR<sup>2</sup> פָּאָרPIEL go over theboughs 1.                                                                                                                                         | PAGASH פָּגַשׁmeet 9meet together 1.be met 1meet 1meet together 1.PIEL meet with 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | PALATS פָּלַטtremble 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| OMER עֹמֶרomer 6sheaf 8.                                                                                                                                                                       | OR<sup>2</sup> אֹרday 1light 114lightning 1morning 1sun 1bright 1clear 1herbs 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | OSHOTH עֹשֹׂת f. pl.foundations 1.                                                                               | PAAR<sup>3</sup> פָּאָרPIEL go over theboughs 1.                                                                                                                                         | PAKAH פָּכַחPIEL run out 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | PALDAH פָּלְדָה f.torch 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| OMETS עֹמֵטSee yasaph.                                                                                                                                                                             | OR<sup>3</sup> אֹרit is true 1no doubt 1of a truth 1surely 1truly 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | OSPARNA עֹסְפָרְנָה f.fast 1forthwith 1speedily 4with speed 2.                                       | PACH<sup>1</sup> פָּחַgin 2snare 23.PACH <sup>2</sup> פָּחַplates (pl.) 1.thin plates (pl.)1.                                                                            | PAK פָּקbox 2vial 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | PALET פָּלֵט (פָּלֵט)escape 5.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| OMNAH<sup>1</sup> עֹמְנָה f.brought up (be-omnah)1.                                                                                                                                     | OR<sup>4</sup> עֹרhide 2leather 1skin 66.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | OTH<sup>1</sup> אֹתensign 2mark 1miracle 1token 14.                                                         | PACHACH פָּחַחHIPH. be snared 1.                                                                                                                                                             | PALAH פָּלָהNIPH. arise too hard 1be hidden 1be marvellous 4be too hard 3be wonderful 3.marvellously 1marvellousthings 4marvellousworks 4marvels 1miracles 1wonderfulthings 1wonderful works7wonderfully 1wonders 9wondrous things3wondrous works11. | PALIT פָּלִיטfugitive 1that (which, etc.)escape (es-caped, etc.)escape 3.† See shaar.                                                                                                                                           |
| OMNAH<sup>2</sup> עֹמְנָהindeed 2.                                                                                                                                                                 | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OTH<sup>2</sup> אֹתconsent 4.                                                                                           | PACHAD<sup>1</sup> פָּחַדbe afraid 9be in fear 2fear 13stand in awe 1.fear 2.HIPH. make o shake1.† See pachad <sup>2</sup> .                                     | PAK פָּקbox 2vial 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | PALLET פָּלֵטInf. piel of palat.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| OMNAM עֹמְנָםindeed 2it is true 1no doubt 1of a truth 1surely 1truly 2.                                                                                                        | ORAH עֹרָה f.herb 2light 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | OTSAR עֹצֵרarmoury 1cellar 2garner 1store 1storehouse 2treasure 67treasury 10.† See bayith. | PACHAD<sup>2</sup> פָּחַדdread 3fear 41terror 2dreadful 1great 1thing greatly feared (withpachad <sup>1</sup> ) 1.                                                   | PAKAH פָּכַחPIEL run out 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | PALLATSUTH פָּלְלַטְסוּת f.fearfulness 1horror 2trembling 1.                                                                                                                                                                         |
| OMNOTH עֹמְנוֹת f. pl.pillars 1.                                                                                                                                                            | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OTSEB עֹצֵבidol 1sorrow 1wicked 1.                                                                              | PACHAZ<sup>1</sup> פָּחַזPartic. light 2.                                                                                                                                                    | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PALMONI פָּלְמוֹנִיcertain 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| ON אֵןforce 1goods 1might 2strength 7substance 1.                                                                                                                                  | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OTSEM עֹצֵםmight 1substance 1strong 1.                                                                          | PACHAZ<sup>2</sup> פָּחַזhole 1pit 8snare 1.                                                                                                                                         | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONAH עֹנָה f.duty of marriage1furrow 1.                                                                                                                                             | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OTSER עֹצֵרoppression 1prison 1barren 1.                                                                        | PACHAZ<sup>3</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                         | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONEG עֹנֵגdelight 1pleasant 1.                                                                                                                                                                 | ORAH עֹרָה f.herb 2light 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | OTSMAH עֹצְמָה f.abundance 1strength 2.                                                                      | PACHAZ<sup>4</sup> פָּחַזstones (pl.) 1.                                                                                                                                                     | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONESH עֹנֵשׁpunishment 1tribute 1.                                                                                                                                                             | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OY אֵיalas 1woe 23.                                                                                                 | PACHAZ<sup>5</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                         | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONAH עֹנָה f.duty of marriage1furrow 1.                                                                                                                                             | ORAH עֹרָה f.herb 2light 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | OYAH אֵיָהwoe 1.                                                                                                        | PACHAZ<sup>6</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                         | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONEG עֹנֵגdelight 1pleasant 1.                                                                                                                                                                 | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZ עֹזboldness 1might 3power 11strength 60loud 1mighty 1strong 17.                              | PACHAZ<sup>7</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                         | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONESH עֹנֵשׁpunishment 1tribute 1.                                                                                                                                                             | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>8</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                         | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONI<sup>1</sup> אֵנִיc. galley 1navy 5navy of ships 1.                                                                                                                                     | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>9</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                         | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONI<sup>2</sup> עֵיaffliction 33trouble 3.                                                                                                                                                     | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>10</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                        | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| See ben.                                                                                                                                                                                               | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>11</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                        | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONIYAH עֹנֵיָה f.ship 30.                                                                                                                                                                   | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>12</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                        | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| See anashim.                                                                                                                                                                                           | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>13</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                        | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| ONIYOTH עֹנֵיָת f. pl.ships 1.                                                                                                                                                              | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>14</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                        | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| PH עֹףbird 9fowl 59flying 2that flieth 1.                                                                                                                                              | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>15</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                        | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |
| PH עֹףfowl 1.                                                                                                                                                                                      | ORACH עֹרֶךְhighway 1manner 1path 23race 1rank 1traveller 1troop 1way 30byway (with aqalqal) 1.See abar <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                     | OZEN עֹזֵןaudience 7ear freq.hearing 5hear (with shama) 1. Seegalah, raa, shema.                        | PACHAZ<sup>16</sup> פָּחַזunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                        | PALACH פָּלַחcut 1.bring forth 1cleave 1shred 1strike through 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | PANAH פָּנָהappear 1behold 1be passed away1come on 1go away 1have respect 4look 43mark 1regard 4respect 1return 1turn (aside,away, face,self, be turned)53.                             |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| HOPH. lie 1turn back 1.*KAL inf. eventide (with"reb<sup>2</sup>) 1; right early(with boqer) 1. PANAQ פָּנָקPIEL delicately bringup 1. PANIM פָּנִים pl.anger 3countenance 30edge 1face 356favour 4forefront 4forepart 4form 1former time 1front 2heaviness 1looks 2mouth 1old time 1person 20presence 75prospect 6sight 40state 1time past 1times past 1upside 2*be purposed 1*look 4*open 13*shew bread 1*within 1. †battle (with milchamah)1; before (al<sup>2</sup> pene) 1;over against (al<sup>2</sup> pene7, el-pene 2) 9; to meet(el-pene) 1. Le-phanim:aforetime 2, beforetime1, forward 2, of old 2.With pron. suffixes freq.translated by Eng. pronoun. See al<sup>2</sup>, amad,avah<sup>2</sup>, bo, chug, im<sup>1</sup>,lecham, li-phen, me,min<sup>2</sup>, mul, nasa, qasheh,tob<sup>1</sup>, shaar<sup>1</sup>, shub. PAQACH פָּקַחNIPH. be opened 3. PAQAD פָּקַדappoint 6avenge 1bestow 1call to remem-brance 1charge 4count 2do judgment 2enjoin 1give a charge 1go see 1hurt 1look 1make 1miss 1number 110punish 7reckon 1remember 1set 1sum 1visit 57want 1*be numbered 1.officer 3that were setover 1. Adv. inf. at all 1surely 4. NIPH. be appointed 2be empty 3be lacking 2be missed 2be missing 2be visited 5be wanting 2lack 2. Adv. inf. by any means 1 PIEL mustered 1.PUAL be counted 1be deprived 1. HIPH. appoint 6appoint to havethe charge 1commit 6lay up 2make governor 5make overseer 3make ruler 3set 4. | HOPH. be delivered 1have the over-sight 4is to be visited 1.overseer 2.be numbered 4.be numbered 4.†punish (with al<sup>2</sup>) 24. PAQID פָּקִידgovernor 1officer 5overseer 5which had thecharge 1*set over 1. PAQUOTH פָּקוּת f.pl.gourds 1. PAR פָּרbull 2bullock 92calf 1ox 2. †young bullock (with benbaqar 33, with shor 1) 34. PARA פָּרָאHIPH. be fruitful 1. PARA פָּרַעavoid 1be naked 1go back 1make naked 1refuse 3set at nought 1uncover 3. Partic.NIPH. let 1HIPH. make naked 1. †KAL inf. avenging (withperaath) 1. PARACH פָּרַחbe broken out 1be budded 1blossom 5break forth 2break out 3bud 3flourish 1grow 3make fly 2spread 1spring 1spring up 2.abroad 1abundantly 1.bud 1flourish 1make to flourish 2. Adv. inf.HIPH. abundantly 1.bud 1flourish 1make to flourish 2. PARAD פָּרַדNIPH. be stretched 1.be divided 3be parted 1be separated 4separate self 3sever self 1.PIEL be separated 1.PUAL be dispersed 1.HIPH. part 3separate 1be out of joint 1be scattered 1be scatteredabroad 1be sundered 1. PARAH פָּרָהbear 1be fruitful 15be increased 1bring forth 1bring fruit 1grow 2increase 1.cause to be fruit-ful 1increase 1make fruitful 1. PARAH פָּרָה f.cow 1heifer 6kine 18. PARAM פָּרַםrend 3. PARAQ פָּרַקbreak 1deliver 1redeem 1rend in pieces 1.break off 1rend 1tear in pieces 1.be broken 1break off 2. HITHP. break off 2. | PARAQ פָּרַק[V.L. ? = frag-ment]. PARAB פָּרַבAdv. inf. clean 1.divide 1.break asunder 1.break 23bring to nought 1cast off 1cause to cease 1defeat 2disannul 2disappoint 1fail 1frustrate 2make of noneeffect 1make void 7*be disappointed 1. Adv. inf. any way 1utterly 1. HOPH. be broken 1come to nought 1. HITHP. be dissolved 1. PARAS פָּרַסdeal 1tear 1.HIPH. divide 9have hoofs 1part 2. PARAS פָּרַסbreak 1chop in pieces 1lay open 1spread 32spread abroad 4spread forth 6spread out 5spread selvesforth 1stretch 1stretch forth 1stretch out 2.NIPH. be scattered 1.PIEL scatter 1spread 2spread abroad 1spread forth 4spread out 1stretch forth 1. PARASH פָּרַשׁ*be showed 1.be scattered 1.be declared 1.distinctly 1.sting 1. PARASH פָּרַשׁhorseman 55. †See baal<sup>2</sup>. PARASHAH פָּרָשָׁה f.declaration 1sum 1. PARAT פָּרַטchant 1. PARATS פָּרַץbe increased 1break 5break down 8break forth 5break in 2break out 1break up 2burst out 1come abroad 1disperse 1grow 1increase 3make [a breach] 2make a breach 1scatter 1spread abroad 1*abroad 1Part pass. breach 1.NIPH. pt. open 1.PUAL be broken down 1.HITHP. break away 1.†KAL with be; break down 2, compel 1, press 2, urge 1. PARAZ פָּרַזvillage 1. PARDES פָּרְדֵּסforest 1orchard 2. PARITS פָּרִיתdestroyer 1robber 2*ravenous 1. | PAROKETH פָּרוּקֶת f.vail 24. PAROSH פָּרוּשׁflea 2. PARSAH פָּרְסָה f.claw 2hoof 17. †See shosa. PARSHEDONAH פָּרְשְׁדֹנָהdirt 1. PARSHEGEN פָּרְשֵׁגֶןcopy 1. PARSHEGEN פָּרְשֵׁגֶןcopy 3. PARSHEZ פָּרְשֵׁזspread 1. PARTEMIM פָּרְתֵמִים pl.most noble 1nobles 1princes 1. PARUR פָּאִירblackness 1. PARUR פָּאִירpan 1pot 2. PARVAR פָּרְוָרsuburb 1. PARZEL פָּרְזֵלiron 20. PAS פָּסpart 2. PASA פָּסַעgo 1. PASACH פָּסַחhalt 1pass over 4.become lame 1.leap 1. NIPH. be deceived 1.PIEL be enticed 1. PASAG פָּסַגPIEL consider 1. PASAH פָּסַחbe spread 8spread 8.much 1much abroad 3. Adv. inf.PASAL פָּסַלgrave 1hew 5. PASAQ פָּסַקopen wide 1.open 1. PIEL open wide 1.open 1. PASAS פָּסַסfail 1. PASH פָּשׁextremity 1. PASHA פָּשַׁעrebel 6revolt 6transgress 16trespass 1.transgressors 9.transgressing 1transgression 1. Partic.Inf. NIPH. pt. offended 1. PASHACH פָּשַׁחPIEL pull in pieces 1. PASHAT פָּשַׁטfall upon 2invade 4make an inva-sion 1make a road 1put off 6run upon 1rush 2set [upon] 1spoil 2spread selves 1spread selvesabroad 1strip 2strip off 1.PIEL spoil 1.HIPH. strip 2.pull off 1spoil 1strip off 1.strip self 1. HITHP. strip self 1. PASSIM פָּסִים pl.divers colours 1many colours 3. | PATAR פָּטַרdismiss 1let out 1slip away 1.Pass. pt. free (V.L.) 1open 4.shoot out 1. HIPH. shoot out 1. PATH פָּתַח f.meat 1morsel 9piece 4. PATHACH פָּתַחdraw out 1open 8set forth 1spread out 1*be opened 2. Pass. pt. drawn 1open 10.wide 1. Adv. inf. NIPH. be loosed 2be open 1be opened 10be opening 1be set open 1be unopened 1break forth 1have vent 1appear 1be open 1be opened 1engrave 2grave 5let go free 1loose 12open 1put off 2ungird 1. PUAL pt. graven 1.HITHP. loose self 1.†PIEL grave (with pit-tuach) 1. PATHAH פָּתַחbe deceived 1.be enticed 1.him that flat-tereth 1silly 1silly one 1.be deceived 2.allure 1deceive 4entice 8flatter 1persuade 3.be deceived 1be enticed 1be persuaded 1.enlarge 1. HIPH. enlarge 1. PATHAL פָּתַלNIPH. wrestle 1.Partic. froward 2.HITHP. show self fro-ward 1show self un-savoury 1. PATHAR פָּתַרinterpret 8*interpretation 1.interpreter 1. Partic.PATHATH פָּתַתpart 1. PATHBAG פָּתֵבָגportion of meat 5provision 1 of PATHIL פָּתִילbound 1bracelet 1lace 4line 1ribbon 1thread 1wire 1. PATHSHEGEN פָּתִשְׁגֶּןcopy 3. PATIR פָּתִיר (V.L.)free 1. PATSA פָּטַעwound 2.Pass. pt. wounded 1. PATSACH פָּטַחbreak forth 5break forth intojoy 1make a loudnoise 1.PIEL break 1. | PATSAN פָּטַןdeliver 1gape 1open 10rid 1utter 1. PATSAL פָּטַלPIEL pill (sb.) 2. PATSAM פָּטַםbreak 1. PATSAR פָּטַרpress 2urge 4. HIPH. inf. stubbornness 1. PATTISH פָּטִישׁhammer 3. PAZ פָּזfine gold 8pure gold 1. PAZAR פָּזַרPartic. scattered 1.NIPH. be scattered 1.PIEL disperse 1.scatter 6.PUAL be scatteredabroad 1. PAZAZ פָּזַזHOPH. pt. best 1. PAZAZ פָּזַזbe made strong 1.leaping 1. PEAH פָּאָה f.corner 16end 1part 1quarter 4side 64. PECHAH פָּקַחcaptain 9deputy 2governor 17. PECHAH פָּקַחcaptain 4governor 6. PECHAM פָּקַםcoals 3. PECHAR פָּקַרpotter 1. PECHETHETH פָּקַחֶתֶת f.*fret inward 1. PEDER פָּדַרfat 3. PEDUTH פָּדוּת f.division 1redemption 1*redeem 1. PEDUYIM פָּדוּיִם pl.*wherewith. is tobe redeemed 1.[See padah pass. partic.] PEER פָּאָרbeauty 1bonnet 2ornament 1tire 2*goodly 1. PEGA פָּגַעchance 1*occurent 1. PEGER פָּגַרcarcase 14corpse 1dead body 6. PEH פָּהaccord 1appointment 1assent 1collar 1command 1commandment 137edge 34end 3entry 1hole 6mind 1mouth 3.part 1portion 2saying 2sentence 1skirt 1sound 1speech 2talk 1tenor 2wish 1word 16 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by ■ phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| PIEL consecrate ■hallow 14keep holy 1prepare 6proclaim 6sanctify 51.holy place 1.be consecrated 3.Partic. sanctified one 1.that are sanctified 1.HIPH. appoint 1bid 1dedicate 9hallow 7prepare 6sanctify 24.Adv. inf. wholly 1.be kept 1be purified 1be sanctified ■sanctify selves 20.QADDACHATH קָדַשׁf. burning ague 1fever 1.QADDISH קָדִישׁholy 4Holy one 3saint 7.QADESH <sup>1</sup> = QAD-ASH <sup>1</sup> .QADESH <sup>2</sup> קָדֵשׁsodomite 5unclean 1.QADIM קָדִיםeast 50east side 1eastward 7east wind 10.†See derek.QADMAH קָדְמָהantiquity 1former estate 3old estate 1.*afore 1QADMAH (QADMATH) קָדְמָה†See min.QADMAI קָדְמַיfirst 3.QADMON קָדְמוֹןeast 1.QADMONI קָדְמוֹנִיancient 1east 4former 2old 1they that went before (pl.) 1things of old 1.QADOSH קָדוֹשׁholy 1holy 62Holy one 41saint 12.QADRUTH קָדְרוּת f.blackness 1.QAHAH קָהָהbe set on edge 3.be blunt 1.QAHAL <sup>1</sup> קָהָלassemble selves 3assemble together ■be assembled 1be gathered 2be gathered together 3gather selves together 8.HIPH. assemble 5gather 4gather together 10*be o be gathered together 1.QAHAL <sup>2</sup> קָהָלassembly 17company 17congregation 86multitude 3.QAL קָלlight 1swift 9swifter 1swiftly 2. | QAL קָלsound 4voice 3.QALA קָלַעcarve 3sling 1sling out ■sling 1sling out 1.PIEL QALAH <sup>1</sup> קָלַהroast 1.Pass. pt. dried 1.parched 1.QALAH <sup>2</sup> קָלַהbe contemned 1be despised 1be lightly esteemed ■seem vile 1.base 1loathsome 1.HIPH. set light (by one) 1.QALAL <sup>1</sup> קָלַלbe abated 1be despised 1be lightly esteemed 2be swifter 4be vile 2.NIPH. be a light thing 5be easy 1be more vile ■be swift 1seem a light thing 1.PIEL curse 39make vile 1revile 1.PILP. make bright 1whet 1.PUAL be accursed 1be cursed 2.HIPH. be easier 1bring into contempt 1despise 1ease 2lighter 2lightly afflict 1make lighter 3make somewhat lighter 1set light 1.HITHPAL. move lightly 1.†NIPH. slightly (al <sup>2</sup> with partic.) 2.QALAL <sup>2</sup> קָלַלburnished ■polished 1.QALAS קָלַסscorn 1.HITHP. mock 1.scold 1.QALAT קָלַתPass. pt. lacking in his parts 1.QALI (קָלִי) קָלִיparched corn 6.QALLA קָלַעslinger 1.QALLACHATH קָלַחַת f.caldron 2.QALLASAH קָלַסָה f.mocking 1.QALON קָלוֹןconfusion ■dishonour 1ignominy 1reproach 1shame 13.QAMAH קָמָה f.corn 2grown up 2stalk 1standing corn 5.QAMAL קָמַלbe hewn down ■wither 1.QAMAT קָמַתfill with wrinkles 1.PUAL be cut down 1.QAMATS קָמָץtake [a handful] 1.take an handful 1. | QANA קָנָאPIEL be envious 4be jealous 10be zealous 10envy 9move to jealousy 1provoke to jealousy ■zeal 1very 1.Adv. inf. move to jealousy 1.HIPH. provoke to jealousy 1.QANAH <sup>1</sup> קָנָהattain 1buy 48get 16possess ■purchase ■recover 1redeem 1buyer 1owner 1possessor 3.Adv. inf. surely 1verily 1.NIPH. be bought 1be possessed 1.HIPH. teach to keep cattle 1.QANAH <sup>2</sup> קָנָהHIPH. provoke to jealousy 1.QANAN קָנָןPIEL make nest 4.PUAL pt. that maketh thy nest 1.QANEH קָנָהbalance 1bone 1branch 24calamus ■reed 28stalk ■*spearman 1.QANNA קָנָאjealous 6.QANNO קָנָאjealous 2.QAPHA קָפָהbe congealed 1.Partic. that are settled 1.HIPH. curdle 1.QAPHAD קָפַדcut off 1.QAPHATS קָפַץshut 2shut up 1stop 2.NIPH. be taken out of the way 1.PIEL pt. skipping 1.QAR קָרcold ■QARA <sup>1</sup> קָרָאbetrayer self 1call 125call for 1call upon 16cry 90cry unto 4give [names] 1invite 3make proclamation 1name 1preach 1proclaim 36pronounce 1publish 1read 36say 1*be called 36*be mentioned 1.guest 1renowned 2that are bidden 1.Pass. pl. be called 51be called forth 1be cried 1be famous 1be named 4be read 1be renowned 1call selves 1*read 1. | PUAL be called 6be cried 1.†KAL be famous (with shem) 1; be named (with shem) 1; give ■ name (with shem) 1; give names (with be-shemeth) 1. NIPH. See shemQARA <sup>1</sup> קָרָאbe com ■befall 5come 1come upon ■fall out 1happen ■help 1meet 73meet with 1seek 1.against 1against be ■1.in the way 1.chance 1happen to be 1meet 2.Adv. inf. by chance 1.HIPH. cause to come 1.QARA <sup>2</sup> קָרַעcut 1cut out 1rend 52rend 4tear 4surely 1.be rent 3rend (intrans.) 2.QARAB קָרַב (קָרֵב)approach 8be at hand 1be joined 1be near 1come 9come near 32come nigh 10come together 1draw near 11draw nigh ■go 1go near ■offer 1stand by 1.be brought ■be at hand 1bring near 1cause to approach 1go near ■join 1make ready ■produce 1.be come near 1be presented 1bring 56bring forth 1bring near 4cause to be brought 1cause to come near 5cause to draw near 2draw near 1draw nigh ■lay 1offer 104present 1take 1.QARACH קָרַחmake bald (trans.) 1make [baldness] 1.NIPH. make self bald 1.HIPH. make self bald 1.HOPH. be made bald 1.QARACHATH קָרַחַת f.bald head 3bare within 1.QARAH <sup>1</sup> קָרָה f.cold 5.QARAH <sup>2</sup> קָרָהbefall 4come to pass unto 1happen 4happen unto 1light on 1meet 1.come 1happen 1meet 4.NIPH. | HIPH. appoint 1bring 1send good speed 1.QARAH <sup>3</sup> קָרָהfloor 1lay beams 3make beams 1.QARAM קָרַםcover 2.QARAN קָרַןshine 3.HIPH. have horns ■QARAS קָרַסstoop 2.QARATS קָרַץmove 1wink 3.PUAL be formed 1.QARDOM קָרְדוֹםax 5.QAREB <sup>1</sup> = QARAB.QAREB <sup>2</sup> קָרַבthat came 1that cometh nigh 2which come near 1which shall come near 1*approach 1*draw near 2.anything near (repeated) 1.QAREH קָרַהuncleanness that chanceth 1.QARETSIN קָרְעִין pl.†See akal.QARI קָרִיfamous 2.QAROB קָרוֹבallied 1any kin 1at hand 6kinsfolk 1kinsman 1more ready ■near 35near of kin 2neighbour 5next 3nigh 12nigh at hand 1short 2that is near 1that is next ■them that come nigh 1†newly (miq-qarob) 1;shortly (miq-qarob) 1.QARQA קָרְקָהbottom ■floor 5one side of the floor 1*other 1.QARSULLAYIM קָרְסוּלַיִםdu. feet 2.QASAH קָשָׁה (pl.)cover 3cup 1.QASAM קָסַםdivine 7use [divination] 3.Partic. diviner 7prudent 1soothsayer 1.divination 1.Inf. QASAS קָסַסcut off 1.POEL QASH קָשׁstubble 16.QASHAB קָשַׁבharken 1.attend 10cause to hear 1cause to be heard 1give heed 3hearken 26incline ■mark ■mark well 1regard 1. | QASHACH קָשַׁחHIPH. be hardened 1harden 1.QASHAH קָשָׁהbe cruel 1be fiercer 1be hard ■be sore 1seem hard 1.NIPH. pt. hardly bestead 1.PIEL have hard [labour] 1.HIPH. be in hard [labour] 1harden 12make grievous 2make stiff 1stiffen 1stiffen hardly 1.†HIPH. ask ■ hard thing (with infin. of shaal) 1;be stiff-necked (with oreph) 2.QASHAR קָשַׁרbind 1conspire 15work [treason] 1.Partic. conspirator 1.Pass. pt. bound 1bound up ■stronger 1.NIPH. be joined together 1be knit 1.bind 2.PUAL pt. stronger 1.HITHP. conspire 3.†KAL make ■ conspiracy (with qesher) 5.QASHASH קָשַׁשׁgather together 1.POEL gather 6.HITHP. gather selves together 1.QASHEH קָשָׁהchurlish 1cruel 3grievous 3hard 4hard things (pl.) 1heavy 1obstinate 1prevailed 1rough 1roughly 5sore 2sorrowful 1stiff 2stubborn 1too hard 1.thard hearted (with leb) 1;him that is in trouble (with yom) 1; impudent (with panim) 1; stiff-necked (with oreph) 6.QASHSHAB קָשַׁשׁattentive 2.QASHSHATH קָשַׁשַׁת†See rabah.QASHSHUB קָשַׁשׁוּבattent 2attentive 1.QASQSETH קָשַׁשֶׁת f.mail 1scale 7.QASVAH = QASAH.QAT קָטַvery 1.QATAL קָטַלkill 1slay 2.QATAN קָטַןleast 6less ■little 11little one ■small 11small quantity ■small things ■smallest 1young 1younger 10youngest 2.QATAPH קָטַףcrop off 2cut up 1pluck 1.NIPH. be cut down ■ |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of ■ noun by ■ verb or adjective, of ■ active by ■ passive.

† Cases where two or more words in ■ original are translated by one word or by ■ phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| QATAR<sup>1</sup> קטרPIEL burn 2burn incense 36offer a sacrifice 1offer incense 3.Adv. inf. not fall 1.PUAL pt. perfumed 1.burn 48burn incense 17burn incense up-on 2burn sacrifice 1kindle 1offer 2.be burnt 1.incense 1. QATAR<sup>2</sup> קטרPartic. pass. joined 1. QATHROS קתרוסharp 4. QATON<sup>1</sup> קטןbe a small thing2be not worthy 1.make small 1. QATON<sup>2</sup> קטןleast 4less 3lesser 1little (one) 11small 19younger 4youngest 13. QATSA קטץHIPH. cause to bescraped 1.HOPH. pt. corner 1. QATSAB קטבcut down 1.Pass. pt. shorn 1. QATSAH<sup>1</sup> קטהInf. cutting off 1.cut off 1.cut short 1.scrape 1scrape off 1. QATSAH<sup>2</sup> קטה f.coast 1corner 1edge 1end 22part 1quarter 1selvedge 2uttermost part 1*lowest 3. QATSAPH קטףbe angry 3be displeased 3be wroth 22wrath come 1.anger 1provoke to wrath1. HIPH. fret selves 1. QATSAR קטרbe grieved 1be much dis-couraged 1be shortened 6be shorter 1be straitened 1be troubled 1be vexed 1be waxed short1cut down 1loathe 1reap 22harvestman 1mower 1reaper 9. Adv. inf. at all 1.Pass. pt. shorter 1.PIEL shorten 1.HIPH. shorten 1. QATSATS קטץcut off 1.that are in ut-most 3. PIEL cut 1cut asunder 1cut in pieces 2cut in sunder 1cut off 1.cut off 4. PUAL pt. cut off 1. QATSEH קצהborder 3brim 1brink 1coast 1 | edge 6end 52frontier 1outmost coast 1outside 3quarter 2shore 1side 1utmost 5utmost part 2uttermost 2uttermost part7*other 3.†after (miq-qatsch) 1;some (miq-qatsch) 1. QATSEER קצירfew 1hasty 1small 1soon 1. QATSIN קציןcaptain 3guide 1prince 4ruler 4. QATSIR קצירbough 3branch 2harvest 47harvestman 1harvest time 1. QAV קוline 20rule 1. †meted out (repeated) 1. QAVAH קוהwait for 1wait on 1wait upon 2be gathered 1be gathered together 1. PIEL look 14tarry 1wait 22wait for 2wait on 2wait on 2. Adv. inf. patiently 1. QAYAH קיהspue 1. QAYIN קיןspear 1. QAYIT קיתsummer 1. QAYITS קיןsummer 10summer fruit 9summer house1. QAYYAM קייטsteadfast 1sure 1. QE קהvomit 1. QEARAH קרה f.charger 14dish 3. QEBAH קבה f.maw 1. QEBAL קבלreceive 1take 2. QEBEL קבלbefore 3by reason of 1over against 1.†to qebel di (denah) accord-ing to, by this means.See kol. QEBER קברburying place 6grave 35sepulchre 26. QEBURAH קבורה f.burial 1burying place 1grave 4sepulchre 5. QEBUTSAH f. קבוצהgather 1. QEDEM קדם f. QED-EMAH)aforetime 1ancient 6ancient time 1before 1east 21east side 4eternal 1 | everlasting 1forward 1old 11past 1.†miq-qedem: before 1,east 1, eastward 1, fromof old 1, of old 5. Seemin. QEDEMAH קדמהeast 12east end 1east part 1east side 1eastward 10. QEDESIAH f. קדשהharlot 4whore 1. QEDORANNITH קדורניתmournfully 1. QEDUMIM קדומים pl.ancient 1. QEHILLAH f. קהילהassembly 1congregation 1. QELA קלעsling 4. †See eben. QELAIM pl. קלעיםhangings 15leaves [of door] 1. QELALAH f. קלהcurse 27cursing 15accursed 1. QELES קלסderision 3. QELOQEL קללקלlight 1. QEMACH קמחflour 4meal 9. †fine meal (with soeth) 1. QEN קןnest 12room 1. QENA קאbuy 1. QEPHADAH קפהdestruction 1. QERA קראcry 3read 7.be called 1. QERAB קרבbattle 5war 4. QERAD קרבwar 1. QERABAH f. קרבהapproach 1draw near 1. QERACH קרחcrystal 1frost 3ice 2. QERAM pl. קרעיםpieces 3rags 1. QERASIM pl. קרסמיםtaches 10. QEREACH קרעbald 1bald head 2. QEREB קרבcome 5come near 4offer 1bring near 1offer 1. QEREB קרבbowels 1heart 1inward part 1inward parts 2inward thought2inwards 19midst 73purtenance 1.that is within 1.†With pron. suff. him 2.miq-qedem: fromamong 27, out of 3. Seebe-qereb, bu. | QEREN f. קרןhill 1horn 75. QEREN קרןcornet 4horn 10. QERESH קישbench 1board 50. QERETH f. קרתcity 3. QERETS קרץdestruction 1. QERI קריcontrary 7. QERIAH f. קריאהpreaching 1. QESSEM קסםdivination 1divine sentence 1reward of divina-tion 1witchcraft 1. QSETH f. קטהinkhorn 3. QESHEB קשבhearing 1heed 1diligently 1that regarded 1. QESHER קשרco-federacy 2coi. piracy 4tree 5. †See qashar. QESHETH c. קשתbow 67archer 2. †See ben, darak, meta-chave, ramah, yarah. QESHI קישstubbornness 1. QESHOT קשטtruth 2. QESITAH f. קשיטהpiece of money 2piece of silver 1. QETAL קטלslay 1.slain 2. Pass. pt. slain 2.PAEL slay 2.HITHP. be slain 1.HITHPA. be slain 1. QETAR קטרdoubt 2joint 1. QETEB קטבdestruction 1destroying 1. QETEL קטלslaughter 1. QETORAH f. קטורהincense 1. QETORETH f. קטרתincense 54perfume 3sweet incense 1. QETS קץborder 3end 51utmost border 1process 1 †after (miq-qets) 10; in-finite (en qets) 1. QETSACH קטחfitches 3. QETSAPH<sup>1</sup> קטףbe furious 1. QETSAPH<sup>2</sup> קטףwrath 1. QETSAPHAH f. קטפה†See sim. QETSATH f. קטחend 4part 1uttermost part 1some 1. QETSATH f. קטחend 3.†partly (min qetsath) 1. QETSATS קטץPAEL cut off 1. QETSEB קטבbottom 1size 2. | QETSEH קצהend 4.†infinite (en qetseh) 1. QETSEPH קטףfoam 1indignation 3wrath 23sore 2. QETSEV קטעend 3. QETSIOTH f. קטשיות pl.cassin 1. QEVUTSTSOH קטוץf. pl. locks 2.decree 1statute 1. QEYAM קיםvomit 3. QIBBUTS קיבוץcompany 1. QIDDAH f. קדהcassin 2. QIDMAH f. קדמהeast 3eastward 1. QILLESION קלשון†See shalosh. QIM קיםsubstance 1. QIMAH f. קמהrising up 1. QIMMASHON קימשוןthorns (pl.) 1. QIMMOSH קימש (קוש)nettles 2. QINAH<sup>1</sup> קנהlamentation 18. QINAH<sup>2</sup> f. קנאהenvy 7jealousy 25zeal 9*envied 1*for sake [of] 1. QINNAMON קינמוןcinnamon 3. QINYAN קניןgetting 2goods 2riches 1substance 4with 1. QIPPAON קיפאוןdark 1. QIPPOD קיפדbittern 3. QIPPOZ קיפוזgreat owl 1. QIQALON קיקלוןshameful spew-ing 1. QIQAYON קיקייןgourd 5. QIR קירside 4town [wall] 1wall 65very 1. †See charash. QIRYA f. קריהcity 29. QIRYA f. קריהcity 9. QIRYAH = QIRYA. QISHSHUIM pl. קיששיםcucumbers 1. QISHSHURIM pl. קישוריםattire 1headbands 1. QITOR קיטורsmoke 1vapour 1. QITSON קיטוןoutmost 1uttermost 3. QITSVAH = QET-SATH. QITTER קטרincense 1. | QO קואspue 1.spue out 2vomit 1vomit up 2vomit up again 1. QOBA קובעhelmet 2. QOBAH f. קבהbelly 1. QOBAL קבלbefore 1. QOBEL קבלwar 1. QOBEL = QEBEL. QODAM קדםbefore 30in the presenceof 1.†See min, shephar. QODESH קדשconsecratedthing 1dedicated thing12hallowed thing7holiness 29holy day 1holy portion 1holy thing 29saint 1sanctuary 68*consecrated 1*hallowed 2*holy 219. †With pl.: most holy place11, most holy thing 11,*most holy 25. QODQOD קדקדcrown 1crown of head 6pate 1scalp 1top of head 1. QOMELETH קמלהpreacher 7. QOL<sup>1</sup> קולbleating 1crackling 1cry 1fame 1lowing 1noise 48proclamation 5sound 39thunder 12thundering 1voice 383. †aloud (be-qol gadol) 2;held their peace (withNiph. of chabe) 1. Seeabar, chanan, nathan,rumi. QOL<sup>2</sup> קלlightness 1. QOMAH f. קמהheight 30stature 7*high 5*tall 2. †See melo. QOMEMIIYUTH קוממיותupright 1. QOMETS קמץhandful 1. †See melo. QOPH קףape 2. QOR קרcold 1. QORACH קרחice 1. QORAH f. קרהbeam 4roof 1. QORBAN קרבןoblation 12offering 66sacrifice 1*offered 1. QORCHAH f. קרחהbaldness 1*bald 1*utterly 1. |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                   |                                      |                                  |                                     |                                      |                                |                                   |                                            |                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                   |                                      |                                     |                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                     |                                        |                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                              |                                                                         |               |                                                            |                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                 |                                            |                                            |                                   |                                      |                                                                              |                                 |                                                                |                                         |                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                              |                                                |                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                              |                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                               |                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                  |                                                                          |                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                          |                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                      |                                               |                                              |                                                                                                                                                                         |                                            |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|--------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| QORE קָרָאpartridge 2. | QOSH קָוֶשׁlay a snare 1. | QOSHET קָשֶׁתtruth 1. | QOSHT קָשָׁתcertainty 1. | QOTEB קָטַבdestruction 1. | QOTS קָוֶןthorn 12. | QOTSER קָעַרanguish 1. | QUBBAATH קִבְּעָאִית f.dregs 2. | QUBBAH קִבְּבָהּ f.tent 1. | QUM קָוֶםabide 1arise 211arise up 3be assured 1be clearer 1be dim 1be established 5be made sure 2be performed 2be risen 4be risen up 10be set 1be up 1continue 2endure 1get up 2hold 1remain 1rise 38rise against 1rise up 105rise up again 1rise up against 7stand 27stand up 19succeed 1.Imperat. up 9.Partic. enemy 1.Inf. uprising 1.Adv. inf. surely 1.PIEL confirm 5decree 1enjoin 1ordain 1perform 1stablish 1strengthen 1.be risen up 1raise up 3.POL. accomplish 1PIEL. confirm 4continue 4establish 22help up 1help to lift upagain 1lift up 3make 1make good 1make to arise up1make to stand 1perform 22pitch 1raise 6raise up 32rear 2rear up 8rouse up 1set 4set up 23stablish 1stir up 4uphold 1*be reared up 1.Adv. inf. but newly 1surely 2.HOPH. be performed 1be raised up 1be reared up 1.HITHP. rise up 2rise up against 2. | QUR קָוֶרdig 2.HIPH. cast out 2.PIEL. break down 1destroy 1. | QURBAN קָרְבָןoffering 2. | QURIM קָוֶרִים pl.web 2. | QUT קָוֶטbe grieved 1.loathe selves 2.HITHPOL. be grieved 2.†NIPH. loathe selves (with be) 1. | QUTS קָוֶטֶסbe cut off 1.QUTS קָוֶטֶסHIPH. arise 1awake 17be awake 1wake 1watch 1. | QUTS קָוֶטֶסsummer (vb.) 1. | QUTS קָוֶטֶסabhor 3be distressed 1be grieved 1be weary 2loathe 1.HIPH. vex 1. | RRA רָע (רָעָה)adversity 4affliction 6bad 13calamity 1displeasure 4distress 1evil (man, thing)444grief 1grievous 1harm 4heavy 1hurt 20hurtful 1ill 2ill favoured 1mischief 22mischievous 1misery 1naught 3naughty 1noisome 1sad 2sore 9sorrow 1trouble 10wicked 31wickedness 54worse 1worst 1wretchedness 1wrong 1*wickedly 1.†evil (with dabar <sup>2</sup> ) 1; evil-favouredness (with dabar <sup>2</sup> ) 1; exceedingly (with gadol) 2; great wickedness (with ra) 1; harm (with dabar <sup>2</sup> ) 1; ill-favoured (with mareh 2, with toar 1) 3; not please (with be-enayim) 1; wickedness (with dabar <sup>2</sup> ) 1. See asah, mareh, panim, raa <sup>1</sup> . | RRAA רָעָהbe evil 3be grieved 1be grievous 2be sad 1be worse 1go ill 2seem ill 1.afflict 5behave self ill 1bring evil 2deal ill 1deal worse 1do evil 14do harm 3do hurt 1do mischief 1do wickedly 5. | RAA רָעָהdo worse 3entreat evil 1hurt 7punish 1vex 1.Partic. evil doer 12evil man 1wicked 4wicked doer 1.Adv. inf. indeed 1still 1.†KAL; be displeased (with be-enayim) 2; displeased (with be-enayim 9, with be-oznayim 1, with el 1) 1; do harm (with le) 1; grieve (with le) 2; not please (with be-enayim) 1; seem evil (with be-enayim) 1. NIPH. smart (with ra) 1. | RAA רָעָהbe broken 1break 3break in pieces 1.Adv. inf. utterly 1.NIPH. be destroyed 1.HITHP. be broken down 1. | RAA רָעָהassociate self 1.HITHP. shew self friendly 1. | RAAB רָעָבbe grieved 1dea th 5far me 86hunger 8. | †See anashim. | RAAD רָעָדtremble 1.HIPH. tremble 2. | RAAD רָעָדtrembling 2. | RAAH רָאָהadvise self 1approve 1behold 83be near 1consider 22discern 1enjoy 3esp'y 1foresee 2gaze 1have experience of 1have respect to 1have respect unto 2look 88look on 10look out 2look up 1look upon 9mark 1perceive 5provide 4regard 1respect 2see 871spy 6stare 1think 1view 1*shew 1.lo 3.vision 1.Inf. certainly 1Adv. inf. indeed 2surely 1.Part. pass. meet 1.NIPH. appear 66be looked upon 1be seen 27be shewed 1be spied 1present self 1seem 1.be seen 1.HITHP. look one another 1look one upon another 1see one another 2.HIPH. cause to see 1let see 2make to enjoy 1shew 57*be shewed 1.be shewed 4.†KAL be in presence of (with panim) 1; live joyfully (with chaim) 1. See maqom. | RAAH רָאָה f.glede 1.RAAH רָעָהbe fed 1devour 1eat 1eat up 1fed 71fed flock 2keep [sheep] 5wander 1waste 1*evil entreat 1.herdman 7pastor 8shepherd 62feed 1.HIPH. †KAL part. shepherd (with tson) 3. See bayith. | RAAH רָעָהkeep company with 1.Part. companion 1.PIEL use as friend 1.HITHP. make friendship with 1. | RAAH רָעָהbe terribly shaken 1. | RAAL רָעַלbe terribly shaken 1. | RAAL רָעַלtrembling 1. | RAAM רָעַםbe lifted up 1. | RAAM רָעַםbe troubled 1roar 3make to fret 1thunder 8. | RAAM רָעַםthunder 6. | RAANAN רָעָנָןflourishing 1fresh 1green 18. | RAANAN רָעָנָןflourishing 1. | RAAPH רָעַףdistill 1drop 2drop down 1drop down 1. | RAASH רָעֵשׁbe moved 1quake 1remove (intr.) 1shake 11tremble 8.be moved 1make afraid 1make to shake 1make to tremble 1shake (tr.) 4. | RAASH רָעֵשׁcommotion 1confused noise 1earthquake 6fierceness 1quaking 1rattling 1rushing 3shaking 3. | RAASHOTH רָעָשׁוֹת f. pl.bolster 2. | RAATS רָעַץdash in pieces 1vex 1. | RAB רַבabundant 2abundantly 2common 1elder 1enough 8exceedingly 1full 1great (man, one), greatly 128long 10long enough 2manifest 3many 190many a time 1many things 1mighty 5more 12much 30multitude 7often 1plenteous 3. | populous 1she that hath many 1sufficient 1too much 4very much 1who had done many 2*abound 2*in abundance 1*increase 2*suffice 3.As noun captain 24master 1officer 1prince 2.†shipmaster (with chobel) 1. See yom. | RAB רַבarchers 2. | RAB רַבcaptain 1chief 1great 9lord 1master 2stout 1.RABA רַבָּאlie down to 2.let gender 1. | RABA רַבָּאfour square 6square 1squared 1.four square 1.PUAL pt. square 1. | RABAB רַבַּבbe increased 3be manifold 1be many 7be more 2be multiplied 3multiply (intr.) 2.ten thousand 1. | PUAL pt. shoot 2.RABAB רַבַּבdeck 1. | RABAH רַבָּהּbe greater 1be in authority 1be increased 5be long 3be many 2be more in number 1be much greater 1be multiplied 12be so much 1excel 1grow up 1increase (intr.) 12multiply (intr.) 16.PIEL bring up 1increase (tr.) 1nourish 1HIPH. ask much 1be full of 1be many 1continue 1enlarge 1gather much 1give many 2give more 1have the more 1have many 3have more 1increase (tr.) 21make great 3make many 5make to multiply 1.multiply (tr.) 42take much 1use many 1yield much 1*abundantly 1*any more 1*many 1*many a time 1*more 2*much 4*much more 1*thoroughly 1*very much 1.Partic. some more 1.Adv. inf. exceedingly 1greatly 1in multiplying 1[See harbeh].†KAL part. archer (with | qashshath) 1. HIPH. send many (with pt. of halak) 1; slay many (with pl. of chalal) 1; trespass more and more (with ashmah) 1. See yom. | RABAK רַבֵּקHOPH. pt. baked 1fried 1that which is fried 1. | RABATS רַבֵּץcouch 2couch down 1fall down 1lie 8lie down 11sit 1.cause to lie down 1.HIPH. lay 1make a fold 1make to lie down 1make to rest 1. | RABID רַבִּידchain 2. | RABRAB רַבְרַבgreat 7great thing 1very great thing 1. | RABREBAN רַבְרְבָן pl.lords 6princes 2. | RACHAB רַחַבbe enlarged 2*be an enlarging 1.NIPH. pt. enlarge 14HIPH. make large 1make large 1make room 2make wide 1open wide 2*be enlarged 1. | RACHAB רַחַבbroad 5large 5proud 3wide 3*liberty 1.†broad (with yadayim) 1, large (with yadayim) 3, wide (with yadayim) 2. | RACHAB רַחַבbreadth 1broad place 1. | RACHAM רַחֵםlove 1.PIEL have compassion 1have compassion on 4have compassion upon 3have mercy 3have mercy on 1have mercy upon 12.Inf. mercy 1.Adv. inf. surely 1.Part. merciful 1.PUAL find mercy 1have mercy (ini.) 1obtain mercy 1.†PIEL: have pity on (with al <sup>2</sup> ) 1; pity (with al <sup>2</sup> ) 2. | RACHAM רַחֵםgier-eagle 2. | RACHAM רַחֵם f.damsel 3womb 4. | RACHAMAH רַחֲמָהּ f.gier-eagle 1. | RACHAMIM רַחֲמִים pl.bowels 2compassion 4great mercies 1mercies 14mercies 4tender love 1tender mercies 11pity 1.†See nathan. | RACHAMIN רַחֲמִין pl.mercies 1. |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|--------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by ■ verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

■ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by ■ word or by ■ phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| RACHAPH רַחַףPIEL shake 1.flutter 1.move 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | RADAM רָדַםNIPH. he cast into 1.deep sleep 1.be fast asleep 2.be in a deep sleep 2.Partic. sleeper 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | RAGLI רַגְלִיfootman 7.on foot 1.† See ish.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | tread down 7.tread upon 2.oppressor 1.be trodden 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAPHAS רַפָּשׁfoul 2.NIPH. pt. troubled 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RASHAM רָשָׁםPass. pt. noted 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHAQ רַחֵקbe far 14.be far away 1.be far off 2.be far removed 1.be too far 1.flee far 1.get self far 1.go away far 1.go far 2.go far off 1.keep self far 1.refrain 1.PIEL put away far 1.remove far 2.remove far away 1. | RADAPH רָדַףchase 10.follow 9.follow after 8.follow on 1.hunt 1.persecute 18.pursue 76.put to flight 1.persecutor 7.be past 1.be under persecution 1.PIEL follow 1.follow after 3.persecute 1.pursue 4.be chased 1.chase 1.PUAL pericute (with achar) 1. | RAHAB רַהַבbehave 1.proudly 1.make sure 1.overcome 1.strengthen 1.RAHAB 2 רַהַבproud 1.RAHAB 3 רַהַבstrength 1.proud 2.RAHAH רַהֵאbe afraid 1.RAHAT רַהַתgallery 1.gutter 1.frough 1.RAHIT רַהִיתrafter 1.RAK רַקsoft 3.tender 9.tender one 1.weak 1.† faint-hearted (with lebab) 1.tender-hearted (with lebab) 1. | RAMAS 2 רַמַּשׁcreep 11.move 6.RAMMAK רַמֵּםdromedary 1.RAMOTH רַמֹּתcoral 2.RAMUTH רַמּוּתheight 1.RANAH רָנָהrattle 1.RANAN רָנַןcry 1.cry out 1.rejoice 1.shout 2.shout for joy 1.sing 12.be joyful 1.cry out 1.greatly rejoice 1.rejoice 7.shout for joy 3.sing 6.sing aloud 3.sing for joy 1.sing out 1.triumph 1.singing 1.Inf. Ad. inf. PUAL HIPH. be singing 1.cause to sing for joy 1.make to rejoice 1.rejoice 1.shout for joy 1.sing aloud 1.HITHPOL. shout 1. | RAPHEH רַפֵּהweak 4.f. pl.RAPHSDOTH רַפְּסוֹדוֹתflutes 1.RAQ 1 רַקlean 1.thin 1.† leanfleshed (with basar) 2.RAQ 2 רַקat the least 1.but 1.even 1.except 1.howbeit 1.howsoever 1.in any wise 1.nevertheless 1.nothing but 1.notwithstanding only 1.yet 1.yet so, etc. 1.RAQA רַקַּעspread abroad 2.spread forth 1.stamp 2.stretch out 1.beat 1.spread over 1.*be made broad 1.PUAL pt. spread into 1.plates 1.HIPH. spread out 1. | RASHASH רָשָׁשׁPOEL impoverish 1.PUAL be impoverished 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | RATASH רָטַשׁdash 1.dash to pieces 2.be dashed in pieces 3.be dashed to pieces 1. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHASH רַחַשׁindite 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAEB 1 רַעַבbe famished 1.be hungry 4.have hunger 1.hunger 1.suffer hunger 2.suffer to famish 1.suffer to hunger 1.                                                                                                                                                                                  | RAKAB רַכַּבget self up 1.ride 43.rider 1.riding 1.bring 1.bring on horseback 1.carry 3.cause to ride 7.make to ride 3.put 3.set 2.† KAL part. (with sus) on horseback 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | RAPHOL רַפּוּלshout 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | RAQAB 1 רַקַּבrot 2.RAQAB 2 רַקַּבrotten thing 1.rotteness 4.RAQACH רַקַּחcompound 1.make [ointment] 1.Partic. PUAL pt. HIPH. apothecary 4.prepared 1.spice 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RATHACH רָתַחPIEL make to boil 1.PUAL boil 1.HIPH. make to boil 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RATHAM רָתַםbind 1.                                                                           | RATHAQ רָתַקNIPH. be loosed 1.PUAL be bound 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| RACHATH רַחַתshovel 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | RAEB 2 רַעַבhunger-bitten 1.hungry 21.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RAKAL רַכַּלbe softer 1.be tender 2.NIPH. faint 2.PUAL be mollified 1.HIPH. make soft 1.† NIPH. be faint-hearted (with lebab) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAPHIA 1 רַפֵּיָאcure 1.heal 30.make whole 1.Partic. NIPH. physician 5.be healed 16.be made whole 1.PIEL cause to be healed 1.healed 1.heal 6.repair 1.thoroughly 1.HITHP. be healed 3.† KAL be healed (with le) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | RAQACH 2 רַקַּחcompound 1.make [ointment] 1.Partic. PUAL pt. HIPH. apothecary 4.prepared 1.spice 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | RATOB רָטוֹבgreen 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | RATS רָטpiece 1.                                                                              | RATSA 1 רָטַסrun 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGA רָגַעbe broken 1.divide 3.rest 1.cause to rest 1.find ease 1.give rest 1.make to rest 1.rest 1.*for a moment 1.*suddenly 2.                                                                                                                                                         | RAKAS רַכַּסbind 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAPHIA 2 רַפֵּיָאglant 13.Rephaim (pl.) 4.Rephaims (pl.) 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | RAQAD רַקַּדdance 1.dance 1.skip 2.dance 3.jump 1.leap 1.HIPH. make to skip 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSACH רָטַחkill 6.murder 1.*be put to death 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | RATSAD רָטַדPIEL leap 1.                                                                      | RATSAH רָטַחaccept 17.accomplish 1.approve 1.be acceptable 1.be favourable 3.be pleased with 4.consent with 1.delight 4.delight self 1.enjoy 3.have 1.favour 1.have pleasure 1.like 1.please 2.set affection 1.take pleasure 5.be accepted 6.be pardoned 1.seek to please 1.enjoy 1.HITHP. reconcile self 1. |
| RACHEL רַחֵלewe 2.sheep 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | RAGAL רָגַלbackbite 1.PIEL espy out 1.search 1.slander 1.spy 12.spy out 8.view 2.teach to go.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RAKAL רַכַּלmerchant 17.spice merchant 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | RAPHAD רַפָּדspread 1.PIEL comfort 1.make [a bed] 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAQIA רַקִּיָּאfirmament 17.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | RATSAH 2 רָטַחaccept 17.accomplish 1.approve 1.be acceptable 1.be favourable 3.be pleased with 4.consent with 1.delight 4.delight self 1.enjoy 3.have 1.favour 1.have pleasure 1.like 1.please 2.set affection 1.take pleasure 5.be accepted 6.be pardoned 1.seek to please 1.enjoy 1.HITHP. reconcile self 1. | RATSAPH רָטַפַּחPartic. being paved 1.                                                        | RATSATS רָטַטַּסbe broken 3.be bruised 2.be discouraged 1.crush 2.oppress 3.be broken 1.break 1.PIEL break 1.oppress 2.POEL oppress 1.HIPH. break 1.HITHP. struggle together 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGAM רָגַםstone 16.Adv. inf. certainly 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | RAKAS רַכַּסbind 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQIQ רַקִּיקcake 1.water 7.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RATSON רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHASH 2 רַחַשׁ† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAGAN רָגַןmurmur 1.murmur 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAKASH רַכַּשׁgather 1.get 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAPHAH 1 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | RATSON 2 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGASH רָגַשׁrage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAKASH רַכַּשׁgather 1.get 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 2 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSON 3 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGAZ רָגַזbe afraid 1.be disquieted 1.be moved 3.be troubled 3.be wroth 1.fall out 1.fret 1.move (intr.) 4.quake 1.rage 1.tremble 10.disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HIPH. disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HITHP. rage 1.                                             | RAKAL רַכַּלmerchant 17.spice merchant 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | RAPHAD רַפָּדspread 1.PIEL comfort 1.make [a bed] 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAQQAQ 3 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSON 4 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHASH 2 רַחַשׁ† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAGAN רָגַןmurmur 1.murmur 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAKAS רַכַּסbind 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 4 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSON 5 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGASH רָגַשׁrage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAKASH רַכַּשׁgather 1.get 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 5 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSON 6 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGAZ רָגַזbe afraid 1.be disquieted 1.be moved 3.be troubled 3.be wroth 1.fall out 1.fret 1.move (intr.) 4.quake 1.rage 1.tremble 10.disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HIPH. disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HITHP. rage 1.                                             | RAKAL רַכַּלmerchant 17.spice merchant 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | RAPHAD רַפָּדspread 1.PIEL comfort 1.make [a bed] 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAQQAQ 6 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSON 7 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGAN רָגַןmurmur 1.murmur 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAKAS רַכַּסbind 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 7 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSON 8 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGASH רָגַשׁrage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAKASH רַכַּשׁgather 1.get 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 8 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSON 9 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGAZ רָגַזbe afraid 1.be disquieted 1.be moved 3.be troubled 3.be wroth 1.fall out 1.fret 1.move (intr.) 4.quake 1.rage 1.tremble 10.disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HIPH. disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HITHP. rage 1.                                             | RAKAL רַכַּלmerchant 17.spice merchant 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | RAPHAD רַפָּדspread 1.PIEL comfort 1.make [a bed] 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAQQAQ 9 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | RATSON 10 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGAN רָגַןmurmur 1.murmur 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAKAS רַכַּסbind 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 10 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 11 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGASH רָגַשׁrage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAKASH רַכַּשׁgather 1.get 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 11 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 12 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGAZ רָגַזbe afraid 1.be disquieted 1.be moved 3.be troubled 3.be wroth 1.fall out 1.fret 1.move (intr.) 4.quake 1.rage 1.tremble 10.disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HIPH. disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HITHP. rage 1.                                             | RAKAL רַכַּלmerchant 17.spice merchant 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | RAPHAD רַפָּדspread 1.PIEL comfort 1.make [a bed] 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAQQAQ 12 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 13 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGAN רָגַןmurmur 1.murmur 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAKAS רַכַּסbind 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 13 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 14 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGASH רָגַשׁrage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAKASH רַכַּשׁgather 1.get 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 14 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 15 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGAZ רָגַזbe afraid 1.be disquieted 1.be moved 3.be troubled 3.be wroth 1.fall out 1.fret 1.move (intr.) 4.quake 1.rage 1.tremble 10.disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HIPH. disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HITHP. rage 1.                                             | RAKAL רַכַּלmerchant 17.spice merchant 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | RAPHAD רַפָּדspread 1.PIEL comfort 1.make [a bed] 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAQQAQ 15 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 16 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGAN רָגַןmurmur 1.murmur 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAKAS רַכַּסbind 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 16 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 17 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGASH רָגַשׁrage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAKASH רַכַּשׁgather 1.get 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 17 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 18 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGAZ רָגַזbe afraid 1.be disquieted 1.be moved 3.be troubled 3.be wroth 1.fall out 1.fret 1.move (intr.) 4.quake 1.rage 1.tremble 10.disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HIPH. disquiet 1.make to tremble 1.HITHP. rage 1.                                             | RAKAL רַכַּלmerchant 17.spice merchant 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | RAPHAD רַפָּדspread 1.PIEL comfort 1.make [a bed] 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAQQAQ 18 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 19 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHEQ רַחֵקhe that is far from 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAGAN רָגַןmurmur 1.murmur 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAKAS רַכַּסbind 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.be weakened 1.consume 1.draw [toward evening] 1.let go 1.wax feeble 1.NIPH. pt. idle 3.PIEL let down 2.weaken 3.be still 1.cease 1.fall 3.forsake 2.give respite 1.leave 1.let alone 4.let go 1.slack 1.stay 3.HITHP. be slack 1.be slothful 1.faint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | RAQQAQ 19 רַקַּקspit 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | RATSON 20 רָטְסוֹןacceptance 1.delight 5.desire 3.favour 15.good pleasure 1.good will 2.pleasure 4.self will 1.voluntary will 1.will 1.*acceptable 8.*be accepted 4.*would 1.                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RACHATS 2 רַחַט† See sir.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | RAGASH רָגַשׁrage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | RAKASH רַכַּשׁgather 1.get 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RAPHAH 2 רַפֵּיָאbe abated 1.be faint 1.be feeble 3.be slack 1.be weak 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| RATTOQ רָתוֹק (V.L.)chain 1.RATTUQOTH רָתוֹקוֹתf. pl.chains 1.RAVACH רָוַחbe refreshed 2.Pual pt. large 1.RAYAH רָוַהbe abundantly satisfied 1.be made drunk 1.PIELtake fill of 1.be bathed 1.be soaked 1.satisfy 1.satisfy 1.water 1.water abundantly 1.HIPH.fill 1.make drunken 1.satisfy 1.water 1.RAVEH רָוַהdrunkenness 1.watered 2.RAYAH רָוַהlove 9.RAYON רָוֵןvegetation 3.RAYON רָוֵןcogitation 1.thought 5.RAZ רָזsecret 9.RAZAH רָזַחfamiliar 1.wax lean 1.NIPH.wax lean 1.RAZAM רָזַםwink at 1.RAZAN רָזָןPartic. prince 5.ruler 1.RAZEH רָזֵהlean 2.RAZI רָזִיleanness 1.RAZON רָזוֹןleanness 1.leanness 1.scant 1.RAZON רָזוֹןprince 1.REA רֵאnoise 1.aloud 1.shouted 1.REA רֵאbrother 1.companion 5.fellow 10.friend 42.husband 1.lover 1.neighbour 104.another 23.other 2.REA רֵעַthought 2.REA רֵעַbruise 1.break 1.REABON רֵעֲבוֹןfamine 3.REACH רִיחַsavour 45.scent 2.smell 11.REACH רִיחַsmell 1.READAH רָעָהfear 1.fearfulness 1.trembling 2.REAH רָעָהcompanion 1.fellow 1.REBA רָעָהlying down 1.REBA רָעָהfourth part 1.side 3.square 1. | REBABA רָבָבָהmany 1.millions 1.ten thousand 13.†See nathan.REBAH רָבָהbe grown 3.grow 2.make 1.great 1.man 1.REBETS רָבֵץplace to lie down in 1.resting place 2.where . . . lay 1.REBIBIM רָבִיבִיםpl.showers 6.REBII רָבִיfoursquare 1.fourth (part) 55.REBII רָבִיfourth 5.REBU רָבּוּgreatness 1.majesty 2.RECHATS רִחַץHITHP. trust 1.RECHAYIM רֵחַיִםdu.mill 1.millstones 1.nether millstone 1.RECHEM רֵחֶםmatrix 5.womb 21.RECHOB רָחוֹבf. pl.broad place 1.broad way 1.street 40.REEH רֵעָהfriend 3.REEM רֵעֵםunicorn 9.REGA רָעָהInstant 2.moment 18.space 1.suddenly 1.REGAL רָגַלc. foot 7.REGASH רָגַשׁHAPH. assemble 1.assemble 1.gather 1.to-REGAZ רָגַזHAPH. provoke unto 1.wrath 1.REGAZ רָגַזrage 1.REGEB רָגַבclouds 1.REGEL רָגֶלfoot (feet) 216.haunt 1.leg 1.times (pl.) 4.be able to endure 1.coming 4.†be-regel (or dual): after 4.follow 4, in possession 1.See bohen, hadom, halak, mayim, nasa, sheber.REGESH רָגַשׁcompany 1.REI רֵאlooking glass 1.REI רֵאpasture 1.REISHON = RISHON.REKASIM רֵקָסִיםpl.rough places 1.REKEB רֵכֶבc. chariot 114.millstone 2.upper millstone 1.wagon 1.REKESH רָקַשׁdromedary 1.mule 2.swift beast 1.REKESH רָקַשׁchariot 1. | REKULLAH רֵקֻלָּהf. pl.merchandise 1.traveller 2.REKUSH רֵקֻשׁgoods 12.riches 5.substance 11.REMAH רָמָהbe cast 1.be cast down 1.cast 4.impose 1.be cast 5.ITHP.REMES רָמַסcreeping thing 15.moving thing 1.that creepeth 1.REMIYYAH רֵמִיָּהf. pl.deceit 1.guile 1.deceitful 4.deceitfully 3.false 1.idle 1.slack 1.slothful 2.RENANAH רֵנָנָהf. pl.joyful voice 1.singing 1.triumphing 1.triumph 1.RENANIM רֵנָנִיםpl.goodly 1.REPHAIM רֵפְאִיםpl.dead 7.deceased 1.REPHAS רֵפָסstamp 2.REPHATHIM רֵפְתִּיםpl.stalls 1.REPHESH רֵפֶשׁmire 1.REPHIDAH רֵפִידָהf. pl.bottom 1.REPHUOTH רֵפְחוֹתpl.medicines 2.†See nathan.REQ רֵק (רק)emptied 1.empty 5.vain 5.vain fellow 1.vain man 1.REQACH רֵקַחspiced 1.REQAM רֵקַםempty 1.in vain 1.void 1.without cause 2.RESEN רֵסֵןbridle 4.RESH רֵשׁ (רָשׁ)poverty 5.RESH רֵשׁchief 1.head 12.sum 1.RESHA רֵשָׁהiniquity 1.wickedness 25.wicked 4.RESHAM רֵשָׁםsign 4.be signed 1.be written 1.RESHEPH רֵשֶׁףarrows (pl.) 1.burning coals 1.burning heat 1.coals (pl.) 3.hot thunderbolts (pl.) 1.†See ben 2.RESHETH רֵשֶׁתf. pl.net 20.†See masseh.RESHITH רֵשִׁיתf. pl.beginning 18.chief 8.chiefest 1.first 9.firstfruits 11.first part 1. | first time 1.principal thing 1.†firstfruits (with peri) 1.RESISIM רֵסִיסִיםpl.breaches 1.drops 1.RETEB רֵטֵבfear 1.RETHACH רֵתַחwell (adv.) 1.RETHEIH רֵתֵהtrembling 1.RETHUQOTH רֵתֻקוֹתf. pl.chains 1.RETSACH רֵטַחslaughter 2.sword 1.RETSAPHIM (RET-SEPH) רֵטְסָפִיםpl.baken on coals 1.REUTH רֵעוּתf. pl.beholding 1.REUTH רֵעוּתf. pl.mate 2.neighbour 1.another 2.REUTH רֵעוּתf. pl.vegetation 7.pleasure 1.will 1.REV רֵוform 2.REVACH רֵוַחenlargement 1.space 1.REVACHAH רֵוַחָהf. pl.breathing 1.respite 1.REVAYAH רֵוַיָּהf. pl.wealthy place 1.rurneth over 1.RI רִיwatering 1.RIB רִיבchide 6.complain 1.contend 12.debate 1.debate with 1.plead 27.rebuke 1.strive 13.ever 1.thoroughly 1.strive 1.adversary 1.RIB רִיבcause 24.chiding 1.contention 2.controversy 13.pleading 1.strife 12.striving 1.suit 1.contend 1.strive 1.†See ish 1.RIBBEIM רִבְעִיםpl.fourth genera-tion 4.RIBBO רִבּוֹf. pl.ten thousand 2.Dualtwenty thousand 1.†In combination with other numbers rendered by English 18,000, 20,000 sixscore thousand, etc.RIBBO רִבּוֹf. pl.ten thousand 1.ten thousand times 1.RIBBOTH רִבּוֹתpl. ofRIBBO.RIGMAH רִגְמָהf. pl.council 1.RIGSHAH רִגְשָׁהf. pl.insurrection 1.RIKBAH רִיקְבָּהf. pl.chariots 1.RIMMAH רִמְמָהf. pl.worm 7. | RIMMON רִמּוֹןpomegranate 30.pomegranate tree 2.RINNAH רִנָּהf. pl.cry 12.gladness 1.joy 3.proclamation 1.rejoicing 3.shouting 1.singing 9.song 1.triumph 1.sing 1.RIPHOTH רִפְחוֹתf. pl.ground corn 1.wheat 1.RIPHUTH רִפְחוּתf. pl.health 1.RIPHYON רִפְיּוֹןf. pl.feebleness 1.RIQ רִיקempty 1.in vain 6.to no purpose 1.vain thing 1.vanity 2.RIQMAH רִיקְמָהf. pl.brodered work 5.divers colours 1.needlework 1.raiment ofneedlework 1.brodered 2.needlework onboth sides 1.DualRIQQABON רִיקָבּוֹןrotten 1.RIQUUCHIM רִיקּוּחִיםpl.perfumes 1.RIQUIM רִיקּוּמִיםpl.broad 1.RIR רִירspittle 1.white (of an egg)1.RISH רִישׁpoverty 2.RISHAH רִישָׁהf. pl.beginning 1.RISHAH רִישָׁהf. pl.wickedness 13.wickedly 1.RISHON רִשׁוֹןf. pl.beforetime 1.before 4.beforetime 1.beginning 4.chief 3.eldest 1.first 130.foremost 3.former 26.former things(pl.) 6.of old time 1.old time 1.past 1.†See ab 1, eth 1.RISHONI רִישׁוֹנִיfirst 1.RISHYON רִישׁוֹןgrant 1.RITSPAH רִיתְסָפָהf. pl.live coal 1.pavement 7.ROA רֹעַbadness 1.evil 1.naughtiness 1.sadness 1.sorrow 1.wickedness 3.time-roa: they are so evil3, they were so bad 1.ROAH רֹאהf. pl.broken 1.ROB רֹבabundance 39.eat number 1.greatness 9.great things (pl.) 1.long time 1.multitude 69.plenty 3.all 1.be increased 1. | *be many 1.be more in num-ber 1.*excellent 1.great 8.huge 1.long 1.many 2.most 1.much 7.very 1.†common sort (with adam)1. la-rob: abundantly4. greatly 1, plentifully1.ROBA רֹבָעfourth part 2.ROCHAB רֹחַבbreadth 72.largeness 1.thickness 1.width 1.*broad 22.*thick 1.ROEH רֹאֶהvision 1.ROGEZ רֹגֵזfear 1.noise 1.rage 1.trouble 3.troubling 1.wrath 1.ROGZAH רֹגְזָהf. pl.trembling 1.ROHAB רֹחַבstrength 1.ROI רֹאִיgazingstock 1.be seen 1.see 1.to look to 1.ROCK רֶקֶעַtenderness 1.ROKES רֹקַםpride 1.ROCM רֹמָםon high 1.ROMACH רֹמַחbuckler 1.javelin 1.lancet 1.spear 12.ROMAH רֹמָהhaughtily 1.ROMAM רֹמָםhigh praises (pl.)1.ROMEMUTH רֹמֶמֶתf. pl.lifting up of self1.BON רֶןsong 1.ROQ רֹקַחspitting 1.spittle 1.to spit 1.ROQACH רֹקַחcompound 1.confection 1.ROSH רֹשׁband 1.beginning 14.captain 10.chapter 4.chief 90.chiefest place 1.chief man 4.chief place 1.chief things 1.company 12.end (of staves)forefront 1.head 349.height 1.highest part 1.ruler 1.sum 9.top 75.every 1.*excellent 1.*first 6.*principal 5.†be-rosh: on high 2, tolead 1. See kohen, sur.ROSH רֹשׁgall 9.hemlock 1.poison 1.venom 1. |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|-----------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ROSHAH ראשׁה†See eben. | Partic. lifter up 1.Inf. promotion 1.HOPH. be heaved up 1.be taken away 1.be taken off 1.HITHPOL. be exalted 1.exalt self 1.† HIPH. aloud (with qol) 2.See yad. | NIPH. be tempestuous 1.PIEL hurl 1. storm 1.HITHP. comelike whirlwind 1.SAAR סערstorm 1.horribly 1.sore 1.†See achaz. | HIPH. go about 2.go round about 1.lead about 1.bring about 1.bring again 1.carry 1.carry about 1.change 1.compass 1.compass about 1.fetch a compass 1.lead about 1.remove 1.turn 13.turn away 4.turn back 1.be changed 1.be inclosed 1.be set 1.be turned about 1.HOPH. inclosed 1.turning 1.† KAL whirl about (with halak) 1. HIPH. cause to come about (with bo) 1.SABAK סבךPass. pt. folded together 1.SABAK סבךnet 1.SABAL סבלbear 3.carry 4.PUAL pt. strong to labour 1.HITHP. be a burden 1.SABAR סברPIEL hope 3.tarry 1.wait 2.† KAL view (with be) 1.SABBAL סבלbearer of burdens 3.burden 1.to bear burdens 1.SABBEKA סבבאf. sackbut 4.SABEA סבעSABEA סבעfull 2.full of 6.satisfied 1.satisfied with 1.SABIB סביבabout 1.compass 27.compass about 10.compass in 1.compass round about 1.fetch a compass 1.go about 1.occasion 1.sit down 1.stand round about 1.turn 5.turn about 2.turn aside 1.walk about 1.in circuit 1.NIPH. avoid 1.be carried about 1.be driven 1.be set round about 1.be turned 4.compass 3.compass about 1.compass round 1.environ 1.fetch a compass 1.go about 1.remove 1.return 2.turn 11.turn about 1.turn aside 1.turn self about 1.on every side 1.winding about 1.fetch about 1.close round about 1.compass 1.compass about 4. | go about 2.go round about 1.lead about 1.bring about 1.bring again 1.carry 1.carry about 1.change 1.compass 1.compass about 1.fetch a compass 1.lead about 1.remove 1.turn 13.turn away 4.turn back 1.be changed 1.be inclosed 1.be set 1.be turned about 1.HOPH. inclosed 1.turning 1.† KAL whirl about (with halak) 1. HIPH. cause to come about (with bo) 1.SABAK סבךPass. pt. folded together 1.SABAK סבךnet 1.SABAL סבלbear 3.carry 4.PUAL pt. strong to labour 1.HITHP. be a burden 1.SABAR סברPIEL hope 3.tarry 1.wait 2.† KAL view (with be) 1.SABBAL סבלbearer of burdens 3.burden 1.to bear burdens 1.SABBEKA סבבאf. sackbut 4.SABEA סבעSABEA סבעfull 2.full of 6.satisfied 1.satisfied with 1.SABIB סביבabout 1.compass 27.compass about 10.compass in 1.compass round about 1.fetch a compass 1.go about 1.occasion 1.sit down 1.stand round about 1.turn 5.turn about 2.turn aside 1.walk about 1.in circuit 1.NIPH. avoid 1.be carried about 1.be driven 1.be set round about 1.be turned 4.compass 3.compass about 1.compass round 1.environ 1.fetch a compass 1.go about 1.remove 1.return 2.turn 11.turn about 1.turn aside 1.turn self about 1.on every side 1.winding about 1.fetch about 1.close round about 1.compass 1.compass about 4. | SACHAR סחרgo about 1.occupy with 1.trade 1.traffic 1.merchant 14.merchantman 1.part 1.Partic. mart 1.merchant 1.SACHAR סחרmerchandise 4.SACHAT סחםpress 1.SACHISH סחישwhich springeth of the same 1.SACHU סחto swim in 1.SAD סדstocks 2.SADAD סדרPIEL break the clods 1.harrow 1.SADAI סדיfield 13.SADEH סדהcountry 17.field 275.ground 4.land 10.soil 1.wild 8.SADIN סדיןfine linen 1.sheet 2.SAGA סגאHIPH. increase 1.magnify 1.SAGAB סגבbe exalted 1.be too strong 1.be exalted 4.be excellent 1.be safe 1.high 3.lofty 1.defend 1.set on high 1.set up 1.set up on high 1.be safe 1.exalt 1.SAGAD סגרfall down 4.SAGAH סגהgrow 1.increase 1.increase 1.SAGAR סגרbe inclosed 1.close 1.close up 1.repair 1.shut 26.shut up 3.shut up together 1.stop 1.stop 1.straitly 1.pure 8.NIPH. be shut 4.be shut in 1.be shut out 1.shut self 1.deliver 4.be shut 1.be shut up 4.deliver 5.deliver up 7.give over 2.give up 2.shut up 13.be shut up 1.SAGGI סגגexcellent 1.great 1.SAGGI סגגexceeding 1.great 3.greatly 1.many 1.much 4.sore 1.very 1.SAGRIB סגירvery rainy 1.SAHAR סהרround 1. | SAHARONIM שְׂהָרִיםpl. ornaments 2.round tires like the moon 1.SAHED שׂהדrecord 1.SAIR שׂירdevil 1.goat 23.lie goat 1.kid 28.satyr 1.hairy 1.rough 1.SAK סקmultitude 1.SAKAK סכך (once)cover 13.defence 1.cover 4.defend 1.hedge in 1.shut up 1.join together 1.set 1.SAKAL סכלNIPH. do foolishly 4.make foolish 1.turn into foolishness 1.PIEL do foolishly 1.play the fool 1.SAKAL סכלfool 4.foolish 2.scottish 1.SAKAL סכלbehave self wisely 1.guide wittingly 1.behave wisely 4.be instructed 1.be wise 3.consider 2.consider wisely 1.deal prudently 1.give skill 1.have good success 1.have understanding 2.standing 2.instruct 3.make to understand 1.stand 1.make wise 1.prosper 1.teach 2.understand 14.expert 1.maschil 13.prudent 2.skillful 1.understanding 1.wise 1.wisely 1.skill 1.understanding 2.wisdom 2.SAKAN סכןbe advantage 1.be profitable 2.cherish 2.profit 1.treasurer 1.acquaint self 1.be acquainted 1.be wont 1.Adv. inf. ever 1.† KAL be unprofitable (lo sakan) 1.SAKAN סכןNIPH. be endangered 1.PUAL pt. impoverished 1.SAKAR סכרNIPH. be stopped 1.PIEL give over 1.SAKAR סכר (once)hire 15.reward 2.Adv. inf. surely 1.NIPH. hire out selves 1.HITHP. earn wages 2. |
|-----------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of ■ noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by ■ passive.
† Cases where two or more words in the original ■ translated by one word ■ by phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SAKAR <sup>3</sup> סָכַרfare 1hire 9price 2reward 7wages 6worth 1.†be rewarded (yesh sakar le) 2.SAKATH סָכַתHIPH. take heed 1.SAKIR סָקִירhired 2hired men 1hired servant 8hiring 6.SAKKIN סָקִיןknife 1.SAL סָלbasket 15.SALA סָלָהPUAL pt. comparable 1.SALACH סָלַחforgive 19pardon 13spare 1.NIPH. be forgiven 13.SALAD סָלַדPIEL harden self 1.SALAH סָלַחtread down 1.PIEL tread under foot 1.PUAL be valued 2.SALAL סָלַלcast up 6extol 1make plain 1raise up 2.PIEL exalt 1.HITHPO. exalt self 1.SALAPH סָלַףPIEL overthrow 4pervert 3.SALLACH סָלַחready to forgive 1.SALLONIM סָלִלִים pl.thorns 1.SALMAH סָלְמָה f.clothes 3garment 8raiment 5.SALSILLOTH סָלְסִלֹת f. pl.baskets 1.SAMACH = SAMEACH <sup>1</sup> .SAMAK סָמַךְbe established 1be stayed 1lay 18lean 1lie hard 1put 5set self 1stand fast 1sustain 3uphold 9.NIPH. be borne up 1be holden up 1lean 2rest selves 1stay self 1.PIEL stay 1.SAMAL סָמַלHIPH. [go] on the left 1go to the left 1turn to the left 1[turn] to the left 1[use] the left 1.SAMAN סָמַןNIPH. pt. appointed 1.SAMAR <sup>1</sup> סָמַרtremble 1.PIEL stand up 1.SAMAR <sup>2</sup> סָמַרrough 1.SAMEACH <sup>1</sup> שָׂמֵחַ (שָׂמַח)be glad 34be merry 1have joy 3joy 2rejoice 84. | PIEL cause to rejoice 1cheer 1cheer up 1make glad 11make joyful 1make to rejoice 1rejoice 5.Adv. inf. very 1.HIPH. make to rejoice 1†PIEL make merry (with chalyim) 1.SAMEACH <sup>2</sup> שָׂמֵחַglad 2joyful 3merry 2making merry 1rejoicing 1*be glad 2*merrily 1*rejoice 10.†merryhearted (with leb) 1.SAMMIM סָמִים pl.sweet spices 1*sweet 14.SANE סָנָהbe hateful 1hate 19.NIPH. enemy 3foe 1.Partic. odious 1.Adv. inf. utterly 1.NIPH. be hated 2.PIEL hate 15.SANI סָנִיhated 1.SANSINNIM סָנִינִים pl.boughs 1.SANVERIM סָנְוִרִים pl.blindness 3.SAPH <sup>1</sup> סָפַחbasin 4bowl 2cup 1.SAPH <sup>2</sup> סָפַחdoor 13door post 1gate 1post 2threshold 8.SAPHACH <sup>1</sup> סָפַחPIEL smite with the scab 1.SAPHACH <sup>2</sup> סָפַחput 1.NIPH. cleave 1.PIEL put 1.PUAL be gathered together 1.HITHP. inf. abiding 1.SAPHAD סָפַדlament 11mourn 15wall 1.Partic. mourner 1.NIPH. be lamented 2.SAPHAH <sup>1</sup> סָפַהbe consumed 1consume 1destroy 3.NIPH. be consumed 4be destroyed 1perish 2.SAPHAH <sup>2</sup> סָפַהadd 3augment 1put 1.NIPH. be joined 1.HIPH. heap 1.SAPHAH <sup>3</sup> סָפַה f.band 1bank 10binding 1border 3brim 8brink 5edge 8language 7lip 112prating 2shore 6side 3speech 6talk 1*other 1*vain (pl.) 2.SAPHAM סָפַחbeard 1lips 3upper lip 1. | SAPHAN <sup>1</sup> סָפַןcover 3.Pass. pt. cieled 2.seated 1.SAPHAN <sup>2</sup> סָפַןPass. pt. treasures 1.SAPHAPH סָפַפַּחHITHPO. be doorkeeper 1.SAPHAQ סָפַח (once שָׁפַח)clap 3smite 3strike 1wallow 1.SAPHAQ <sup>2</sup> סָפַחHIPH. please self 1.SAPHAQ <sup>3</sup> סָפַחsuffice 1.SAPHAR סָפַרcount 5number 16reckon 1tell 3tell out 1.Partic. scribe 50writer 4.NIPH. be counted 1be numbered 1be told 2.PIEL commune 1declare 22number 1show forth 6speak 2talk 1tell 3tell of 1*be declared 1*be numbered 1*be counted 1*be declared 1*be told 3.PUAL †See taar.SAPHER סָפַרscribe 6.SAPHIACH סָפַיַּחsuch as growth of itself 1such things 1grow of themselves 1things which grow 1which growth of its own accord 1which growth of itself 1.SAPPACHATH סָפַחַת f.scab 2.SAPPRIE סָפִירִיsapphire 11.SAQ סָקsack 6sackcloth (sack-clothes) 42.SAQAD סָקַדNIPH. be bound 1.SAQAL סָקַלAdv. inf. stone 10.NIPH. surely 2.PIEL be stoned 4.cast [stones] 1gather [out stones] 2throw [stones] 1.PUAL be stoned 2.SAQAR סָקַרPIEL pt. wanton 1.SAR <sup>1</sup> סָרheavy 1sad 1.SAR <sup>2</sup> סָרcaptain 125captain that had rule 1chief 33chief captain 3general 1governor 6keeper 3lord 1master 1prince 208principal 2ruler 33steward 1.†taskmaster (with ma) 1. | SARA סָרָהhave anything superfluous 1.Partic. thing superfluous 1.HITHP. stretch out self 1.SARABIM סָרָבִים pl.briers 1.SARACH סָרַחhang 2stretch selves 2.Partic. spreading 1.Pass. pt. exceeding in 1.NIPH. be vanished 1.SARAD סָרַדremain 1.SARAG סָרַגbe wrapped together 1.HITHP. be wreathed 1.SARAH <sup>1</sup> סָרָה f.rebellion 2revolt 1that which is wrong 1.†to turn you away from (with al) 1. See amaq, bilti, yasaph.SARAH <sup>2</sup> סָרָהhave power 1have power as a prince 1.SARAH <sup>3</sup> סָרָה f.lady 2princess 2queen 1.SARAK סָרַךְPIEL traversing 1.SARAPH <sup>1</sup> סָרַףPIEL burn 1.SARAPH <sup>2</sup> סָרַףburn 92burn up 2cause to be burned 1kindle 1make [a burning] 1*be burnt 1.Pass. pt. burned 4that were burnt 1.Adv. inf. utterly 1.NIPH. be burnt 14.PUAL be burnt 1.SARAPH <sup>3</sup> סָרַףfiery 3fiery serpent 3seraphims (pl.) 2.SARAPPACH סָרַפַּח f.bough 1.SARAPPIM סָרַפִּים pl.thoughts 2.SARAR <sup>1</sup> סָרַרslide back 1withdraw 1.Partic. away 1backsliding 1rebellious 6revolver 1revolving 1stubborn 4.SARAR <sup>2</sup> סָרַרbear rule 1rule 2.Adv. inf. altogether 1.SARAT סָרַתmake [cuttings] 1.Adv. inf. in pieces 1.NIPH. be cut 1.SARBALIN סָרְבָּלִין pl.coats 2.SAREKIN סָרְקִין pl.presidents 5.SARETETH סָרְתֵּת f.cuttings 1.SARID סָרִידalive 1him that is left 1left 1remaining 9remnant 1rest 1. | that remain (did remain, etc.) 5*remain 7.SARIGIM סָרִיגִים pl.branches 3.SARIQ סָרִיקfine 1.SARIS סָרִיסchamberlain 13eunuch 17officer 12.SAROQ סָרֹקspeckled 1.SAS סָסworm 1.SASON סָסֹןgladness 3joy 15mirth 3rejoicing 1.SASSEAH סָסְעָה f.measure 1.SATAH סָטָהdecline 1go aside 4turn 1.SATAM סָטָםhate 5oppose self against 1.SATAN <sup>1</sup> סָטָןbe an adversary 5resist 1.SATAN <sup>2</sup> סָטָןadversary 7Satan 19.†to withstand (le-satan) 1.SATHAM <sup>1</sup> סָטָם (once שָׁטָם)shut out 1.stop up 2stop 5.Pass. pt. closed up 1hidden 1secret 1.NIPH. be stopped 1.PIEL stop 2.SATHAR <sup>1</sup> סָטַרNIPI. be absent 1be hid 10be kept close 2hide self 16.Partic. secret 2.PIEL hide 1.PUAL pt. conceal 1hide 42keep secret 1.Adv. inf. surely 1.HITHP. be hid 1hide self 4.SATHAR <sup>2</sup> סָטַרNIPI. have in (one's) secret parts 1.SEACH סָעַךְthought 1.SEAD סָעַדPAEL pt. helping 1.SEAH סָעָה f.measure 9.SEAPHIM סָעָפִים pl.vain thoughts 1.SEAPPACH סָעָפַח f.bough 2.SEAR סָעַרhair 24*hairy 2*rough 1.SEAR סָעַרhair 3.SEARAH <sup>1</sup> סָעָרָה f.storm 1tempest 1whirlwind 9*stormy 4.†See ruach.SEARAH <sup>2</sup> סָעָרָה f.storm 1tempest 1.SEB סָבַעage 1.SEBAH סָבַח f.gray hairs 5gray head 1hoar hairs 1hoar head 1. | hoary head 2old age 6*gray-headed 1*hoary 1.SEBAK סָבַק (סָבַק)thicket 3.SEBAKAH סָבָקָה f.lattice 1network 7snare 1wreath 3wreathwork 1*checker 1.SEBAL סָבַלPOAL pt. strongly 1.SEBALAH סָבָלָה f.burden 6.SEBAR סָבַרthink 1.SEBEL סָבַלburden 2charge 1.SEBER סָבַרhope 2Saber 1.SEBOK סָבַקthicket 1*thick 1.SECHABOTH סָכָבוֹת f. pl.cast clouts 1.SECHI סָכִיoffscouring 1.SECHOQ סָחֹקderision 5laughing 1laughter 6sport 1*laughed to scorn 1*mocked 1.SECHORAH סָחֹרָה f.merchandise 1.SEDARIM סָדָרִים pl.order 1.SEDERAH סָדְרָה f.board 1range 3.SEETH סָעָה f. (inf. of NASA)be accepted 1dignity 1excellency 2highness 1rising 7.SEGA סָעָהbe multiplied 1grow 1.SEGANIM סָגָנִים pl.princes 1rulers 16.SEGAR סָגַרshut 1.SEGID סָגִידworship 12.SEGOR סָגֹרcaul 1gold 1.SEGULLAH סָגֻלָּה f.jewel 1peculiar treasure 3proper good 1*peculiar 2*special 1.SEH סָהcattle 1ewe 1lamb 16lesser cattle 1sheep 17small cattle 1.†goat (with pl. of ez) 1;lamb (with pl. of kebes) 1;kid (with be and pl. of ez) 1; sheep (with pl. of kebes) 1.SEIPH סָעִיףbranch 1clift 1outmost branch 1top 3.SEIPPIM <sup>1</sup> סָעִיפִים pl.opinions 1.SEIPPIM <sup>2</sup> סָעִיפִים pl.thoughts 2.SEIRAH סָעִירָה f.kid 2. |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of noun by a verb or adjective, of active by passive.
‡ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SHAKAB שָׁכַבbe laid down 7lay self down 7lie 93lie down 30lie down to sleep 1lie still 1lie with (V.L.) 2lodge 1sleep 48take rest 3.Adv. inf. at all 1.NIPH. be ravished (V.L.) 2.PUAL. be lien with (V.L.) 1.HIPH. lay 5make to lie down 1stay 1.Inf. casting down 1.HOPH. be laid 3.†KAL overlay (with al<sup>2</sup>) 1. SHAKACH שָׁחַחforget 85.Adv. inf. at all 1.NIPH. be forgotten 13.PIEL. cause to be forgotten 1.HIPH. cause to forget 1.HITHP. be forgotten 1. SHAKAH שָׁחָהHIPH. pt. in the morning 1. SHAKAK שָׁחַקassuage 1be appeased 1be pacified 1set 1.make to cease 1. SHAKAM שָׁחַםHIPH. arise early 8be risen early 1be up early 1get self early 1get up early 1rise early 10up betimes 1 Partia. Inf. rise up early 23.early 3.morning 1rising early 6rising up betimes 1rising up early 6. SHAKAN = SHAKEN. SHAKAR שָׁחַרbe drunken 7be filled with drink 1be merry 1drink abundantly 1.PIEL. make drunk 2make drunken 2.HIPH. make drunk 2make drunken 2.HITHP. be drunken 1. SHAKEACH שָׁחַחthat forgot 2. SHAKEN שָׁחַן (שָׁחַן)abide 8be dwelt in 2be inhabited 1continue 1dwell 83dwell in 1have habitation 1inhabit 1remain 4rest 3.dweller 1inhabitant 1.Partia. cause to dwell 3make to dwell 1place 6set 2.HIPH. cause to remain 1dwell 1lay 1make to dwell 1place 1set up 1. | SHAKEN שָׁחַןinhabitant 1neighbour 17nigh 1. SHAKKUL שָׁחַלbarren 2bereaved of children 1bereaved of 1whelps 1robbed of whelps 2. SHAKOL שָׁחַלbe bereaved 2be childless 1be deprived 1lose children 1.bereave 7bereave of children 1dren 1cast calf 1cast fruit 1cast young 2destroy 1make childless 1rob of children 1spoil 1.Partia. barren 2.HIPH. pt. miscarrying 1. SHAL שָׁלַחerror 1. SHALAB שָׁלַבPUAL pt. equally distant 1set in order 1. SHALACH שָׁלַחappoint 1give 1lay 13let go 1let loose 1put (forth, in, out) 37send (again, away, forth, out) 493shoot out 1stretch (forth, out) 13.Adv. inf. earnestly 1.NIPH. bring 1.PIEL. bring on the way 1cast 1cast away 1cast out 6conduct 1give up 1lay 1let depart 2let down 2let go 74let go away 2let loose 2push away 1put (away, in, out) 11reach forth 1send (a way, forth, out) 137set 5shoot (forth) 4sow 3spread out 1suffer to grow long 1.Adv. inf. any wise 1.PUAL. be cast 1be put away 1be sent 4be sent away 1.Partia. cast out 1forsaken 1left 1.HIPH. send 5. SHALAG שָׁלַגHIPH. be as snow 1. SHALAH שָׁלַח (שָׁלַח)be happy 1be in safety 1prosper 3. SHALAH שָׁלַחtake away 1.NIPH. be negligent 1.HIPH. deceive 1. SHALAK שָׁלַךְHIPH. adventure 1cast 72cast (lots) 2cast away 10cast down 9 | cast forth 4cast off 2cast out 9hurl 1pluck 1throw 1.HOPH. be cast 4be cast down 2be cast out 4be thrown 1.cast 2. Partia. SHALAK שָׁלַךְcormorant 1. SHALAL שָׁלַלlet fall 1make a spoil 1spoil 6take (spoil) 5.Adv. inf. of purpose 1.HITHPO. be spoiled 1make self a prey 1. SHALAL שָׁלַלprey 10spoil 63. SHALAM שָׁלַםbe at peace 1be at peace with 1be ended 2be finished 2prosper 1.Pass. pt. peaceable 1.PIEL. finish 1give again 1make amends 1make good 6make prosperous 1make restitution 6pay 1pay again 1perform 3recompense 9render 9repay 6requite 5restore 1reward 9*be repayed 2.Adv. inf. full 1.PUAL. surely 4.be performed 1be recompensed 2be rewarded 1.Partia. that is perfect 1.HIPH. make an end 2make peace 1make to be at peace 1.HOPH. perform 3be at peace 1. SHALANAN שָׁלַחַןbeing at ease 1. SHALAPH שָׁלַףdraw 17draw off 1grow up 1pluck off 1*be drawn 1.Pass. pt. drawn 4. SHALASH שָׁלַשׁPIEL. do the third time 1divide into three parts 1stay three days 1. PUAL pt. three 1threefold 1three years old 3. SHALAT שָׁלַטbear rule 1have power 1have rule 2rule 1.HIPH. have dominion 1give power 2. SHALAV = SHA-LAHfull 2just 1made ready 1peaceable 1perfect 16perfected 1quiet 1whole 4. | SHALEV שָׁלֵי (שָׁלֵי)at ease 1being at ease 1in prosperity 1peaceable 1quiet 1quietness 1wealthy 1. †who prosper (ve-shalev) 1. SHALHEBETH שָׁלְהֵבֶתf. flame 1*flaming 1. SHALISH שָׁלִישׁcaptain 11excellent thing 1great lord 1great measure 1instrument of music 1lord 3measure 1prince 1. SHALLEKETH שָׁלְלֵת*east 1. SHALLETHETH שָׁלְלֵתimperious 1. SHALLIT שָׁלִיטgovernor 1mightily 1ruler 1that hath power 1. SHALLIT שָׁלִיטcaptain 1lawful 1ruler 2.*rule (sh.) 6. SHALMONIM שָׁלְמוֹנִיםpl. rewards 1. SHALOM שָׁלוֹםfavour 1good health 1health 1peace 172prosperity 4rest 1welfare 4*all is well 4*familiar 1*how... did 1*peaceable 2*prosperous 1*safe 1*luto 1*well 1*whether it be well with 1*whether it be well with 1peaceably 6safely 1.Plur. such as be at peace 1welfare 1*wholly 1. †be safe (with sh.) 2; peaceably (be-shalom) 1; perfect peace (shalom shalom). Le-shalom: how... did = how... fare 1, how... prospered 1, peaceably 2. See anashim, enosh, shaal. SHALOSH שָׁלוֹשׁthird 9three 390.†fork (with qilleshon) 1;thirteen (with asar) 13;thirteenth (with asar) 11; thrice (with paam<sup>2</sup>) 4. See paam<sup>2</sup>. SHALU שָׁלוּerror 1fail 1thing amiss 1*that ye fail not 1. SHALVAH שָׁלְוָהabundance 1peace 1prosperity 3quietness 1†peaceably (be-shalvah) 1. | SHAM שָׁםin ittherethereinthither, etc.†Mish - sham : thence, thereof, thereout. SHAMA שָׁמָע (שָׁמָע)be content 1be obedient 5consent 1consider 1discern 2give ear 1hear 730hearken 196hear tell 1listen 1obey 81perceive 1regard 1understand 8.Partia. hearing 1obedient 1understanding 1witness 1*whosoever 2.Adv. inf. attentively 1carefully 1certainly 1diligently 1indeed 3surely 2.NIPH. be heard 36be obedient 1be perceived 1be published 1be reported 2obey 1.PIEL. call together 1gather together 1.HIPH. call together 1cause to be heard 6cause to hear 5declare 3hear 2let be heard 1let hear 1make (noise) 1make a noise 1make a proclamation 1make a sound 2make to be heard 3make to hear 4proclaim 1publish 16show 6show forth 7sound 2tell 4*sing loud 1.†See men. SHAMAD שָׁמַדNIPH. be destroyed 19be overthrow 1perish 1.Adv. inf. utterly 1.HIPH. bring to nought 1destroy 66pluck down 1.Inf. destruction 1.Adv. inf. utterly 1. SHAMAN שָׁמָןbe waxen 11wax fat 1.HIPH. become fat 1make fat 1. SHAMAR שָׁמַרbeware 1keep 284look narrowly 1mark 1observe 45preserve 19regard 5reserve 1save 1spy 1take heed 12wait for 7watch 4keeper 26they that lay wait for 1they that watch 1watch 1watchman 8.Pass. pt. watchman 8.Adv. inf. diligently 2. | NIPH. beware 1be circumspect 1be preserved 2keep selves 1save self 1take heed 21take heed 1 self 2. PIEL. observe 1.HITHP. be kept 1keep self 2. SHAMAT שָׁמַתdiscontinue 1let rest 1release 1shake 1stumble 1throw down 1.NIPH. be overthrow 1.HIPH. release 1. SHAMAYIM שָׁמַיִםair 21heaven 398.†See habar. SHAMEA = SHAMA. SHAMEM שָׁמַםbe an astonishment 1be astonished 1be astonished 11be desolate 6be laid desolate 1destroy 1make desolate 2.Partia. desolate 7desolate places 1desolation 5.NIPH. be astonished 1be astonished 1be desolate 14be destitute 1be laid desolate 1be made desolate 1ate 1desolate 3lie waste 1.Partia. waste 1.POL. make desolate 2.Partia. astonished 2.HIPH. bring into desolation 1bring unto desolation 1destroy 1lay waste 2make 1make amazed 1make astonished 1make desolate 1make waste 1.HOPH. be astonished 1be d-solate 1destroy self 1wonder 2. SHAMEM שָׁמַםdesolate 1. SHAMEN שָׁמַןfat 8lusty 1plenteous 1. SHAMIR שָׁמִירadamant 1adamant stone 1briers 1diamond 1. SHAMMAH שָׁמָהastonishment 13desolation 12wonderful thing 1*desolate 10*waste 3. SHANA שָׁנָהbe changed 1.PIEL. change 1.PUAL. be changed 1. SHANAH שָׁנָהbe diverse 2be given to change 1change 1do the second time 1repeat 1return 1speak again 1strike again 1*the 2nd time 1. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NIPH. be doubled 1.PIEL. alter 1.change 5.pervert 1.prefer 1.disguise self 1. HITHP. disguise self 1. SHANAH שָׁנָה f.year 799yearly 3.yearly (sh. be-sh. 1, bash-ah. 1, be-kol-sh. 2) 3.See yom. SHANAN שָׁנָןsharpen 1.whet 2. Partic. sharp 4.PIEL. teach diligently 1. HITHP. be pricked 1. SHANAS שָׁנָסPIEL. gird up 1. SHANI שָׁנִיcrimson 1.scarlet 5.scarlet thread 3.scarlet (with tolaath) 6.See tolaath. SHAON שָׁאֹןnoise 1.pomp 1.rushing 3.tumult 4.horrible 1.tumultuous 1. † See ben<sup>2</sup>. SHAPHAN שָׁפָןNIPH. pt. high 1.PUAL. stick out 1. SHAPHAN שָׁפָן f.cheese 1. SHAPHAK שָׁפַקcast 6.cast up 3.gush out 1.pour 17.pour out 39.shed 33.shed out 1.shedder 1. Partic. shedder 1.NIPH. be poured 1.be poured out 5.be shed 2.be poured out 1.be shed 1.alip 1. HITHP. be poured 1.be poured out 2. SHAPHAL שָׁפַלbase 4.basest 1.humble 4.low 5.lower 4.lowly 1. SHAPHAN שָׁפָןconey 4. SHAPHAR שָׁפַרgoodly 1.garnish 1. PIEL. garnish 1. SHAPHAT שָׁפַטavenge 1.be judge 1.defend 1.deliver 1.execute 1.judge 117.rule 1. Partic. judge 58.those that condemn 1. Adv. inf. needs 1.NIPH. be judged 1.contend 1.execute judgment 1.plead 1.reason 1.judge 1. POEL pt. judge 1. SHAPHATH שָׁפַחbring 1.ordain 1.set on 3. SHAPHEL שָׁפַלbe brought down 1.be brought low 1.be humbled 5.be low 1.be made low 2.humble self 1. | HIPH. abase 1.be cast down 1.be put lower 1.bring down 4.bring low 2.cast down 1.debate 1.humble 1.humble selves 1.lay low 4.put down 2. SHAPHRIR שָׁפְרִירroyal pavilion 1. SHAPPIR שָׁפִירfair 2. SHAQ שָׁקleg 1. SHAQA שָׁקַעbe drowned 1.be quenched 1.sink 1. NIPH. be drowned 1.HIPH. let down 1.make deep 1. SHAQAD שָׁקַדhasten 1.remain 1.wake 1.watch 7.watch for 1.watching 1. Inf. SHAQAD שָׁקַדPUAL pt. made after the fashion of almonds 1.made like almonds 3.made like unto almonds 2. SHAQAH שָׁקַחPUAL. be moistened 1.HIPH. cause to drink 4.give drink 14.give to drink 12.let drink 1.make drink 1.make to drink 3.water 17.butler 9.cupbearer 3. Partic. SHAQAL שָׁקַלbe weighed 1.pay 4.receive 1.spend 1.weigh 10.receiver 1. Partic. Adv. inf. thoroughly 1.NIPH. be weighed 3. SHAQAPH שָׁקַףNIPH. appear 1.look 7.look down 1.look forth 1.look 4.look down 5.look out 3. HIPH. look 4.look down 5.look out 3. SHAQQAQ שָׁקַקhave appetite 1.long 1.range 1.run 1.run to and fro 1.run 1. HITHPAL. justify 1.against one another 1. SHAQAR שָׁקַרdeal falsely 1.deal falsely 1.fail 1.lie 3. PIEL. deal falsely 1.fail 1.lie 3. SHAQAT שָׁקַטbe at rest 1.be in quiet 1.be in quietness 1.be in rest 3.be quiet 9.be still 2.have rest 6.rest 2.settle 1.take rest 1.at quiet 1.quiet 2. Partic. HIPH. appease 1.be quiet 1.give quietness 1.give rest 1.quiet 1.rest 1.idleness 1.quietness 2. Inf. SHAQAT שָׁקַטbe at rest 1.be in quiet 1.be in quietness 1.be in rest 3.be quiet 9.be still 2.have rest 6.rest 2.settle 1.take rest 1.at quiet 1.quiet 2. | SHAQATS שָׁקַץPIEL. abhor 1.detest 1.have in abomination 2.make abominable 2. Adv. inf. utterly 1. SHAQED שָׁקַדalmond 2.almond tree 2. SHARAB שָׂרָבheat 1.parched ground 1. SHARAH שָׂרָהdirect 1. SHARAQ שָׂרַקhiss 12. SHARAR שָׂרַרPartic. enemy 4. SHARASH שָׂרַשׁPIEL. root out 2.PUAL. be rooted out 1.POEL. take root 1.POAL. take root 1.HIPH. cause to take root 2.take root 1. SHARATH שָׂרַחPIEL. do service 3.minister (unto) 63.serve 8.wait on 1.minister 17.servant 5.servitor 2. Partic. SHARATS שָׂרַחbreed abundantly 1.bring forth abundantly 1.bring forth in abundance 1.creep 6.increase abundantly 1.move 1. SHAREBIT שָׂרַבִּיתsceptre 4. SHARETH שָׂרַחministry 1.to minister 1. SHARIR שָׂרִירnavel 1. SHAROTH שָׂרֹת f. pl.walls 1. SHARSHAH שָׂרְשָׁה f.chain 1. SHARSHERAH שָׂרְשָׁרָה f.chain 7. SHASA שָׂסַעPartic. that cleaveth 1.Pass. pt. cloven 1.PIEL. cleave 1.rend 2.stay 1. † KAL part. clovenfooted (with shesha parash 2, with shesha 1) 3. SHASAH שָׂסַחrob 1.spoil 7.destroyer 1.spoil 2.rob 1. POEL. rob 1. SHASAPH שָׂסַףPIEL. hew in pieces 1. SHASAS שָׂסַסspoil 4.be rilled 1.be spoiled 1. NIPH. be rilled 1.be spoiled 1. SHASHA שָׂסַחleave but the sixth part 1. SHASHAH שָׂסַחPIEL. give the sixth part 1. SHASHAR שָׂסַחvermillion 2. SHATACH שָׂסַחenlarge 1.spread 1.all abroad 1. Inf. PIEL. stretch out 1. | SHATAPH שָׂטַףdrown 1.flow 1.overflow 19.overwhelm 1.rinse 1.run 1.rush 1.thoroughly wash 1.away 1.wash 1.wash away 1.be overflowed 1.be rinsed 1.be rinsed 1. NIPH. SHATAR שָׂטַרPartic. officer 23.overseer 1.ruler 1. SHATH שָׂטַחfoundation 1.purpose 1. SHATHAH שָׂטַחbanquet 1.drink 210.Adv. inf. assuredly 1.certainly 1.surely 1. NIPH. be drunk 1.Kal part. drunkard (with shekar) 1. SHATHAL שָׂטַלplant (vb.) 10. SHATHAM שָׂטַחPass. pt. be open 2. SHATHAN שָׂטָןHIPH. piss 6. SHATHAQ שָׂטַקbe calm 2.be quiet 1.cease 1. SHATHATH שָׂטַחbe laid 1.set 1. SHAV שָׁוַ (שו)lies 1.vanity 22.*false 1.*falsely 2.*lying 2.*vain 22. SHAVA שָׁוַעPIEL. cry 17.cry aloud 1.cry out 1.shout 1. SHAVAH שָׁוַהavail 1.be compared 1.be equal 1.be like 1.countervail 1.profit 1.profit 1.behave 1.bring forth 1.lay 3.make like 2.make plain 1.reckon 1.set 1.equal 1.make equal 1.be alike 1. NITHP. SHAVAH שָׁוַה f.cry 11. SHAYAH שָׁוַהbe unmindful 1. SHAYISH שָׁוִישׁmarble 1. SHAYIT שָׁוִיתoar 1. SHAYITH שָׁוִיתthorn 7. SHAZAPH שָׁוַץlook upon 1.see 2. SHAZAR שָׁוַרHOP. pt. twined 21. SHE שָׁthat which, etc. SHEAGAH שָׁעָה f.roaring 7. SHEAR שָׁאָרother 1.remnant 1.residue 1.rest 10. | SHEAR שָׁאָרresidue 2.rest 9.whatsoever 1.more 1. SHEAT שָׁאָתdespite 1.*despightful 2. SHEATAH שָׁאָתָה f.stamping 1. SHEBA שָׁבָאseven.seven times.seventh.seventeen, seventeenth. SHEBABIM שָׁבָבִים pl.*broken in pieces 1. SHEBACH שָׁבַחPAEL. praise 5. SHEBAQ שָׁבַקleave 3.let alone 1.be left 1. HITHPE. SHEBASH שָׁבַשׁHITHPA. be astonished 1. SHEBAT שָׁבַת c.tribe 1. SHEBER שָׁבַר 1affliction 2.breach 7.breaking 3.bruise 2.crashing 1.destruction 21.hurt 4.interpretation 1. vexation 1. † brokenfooted (with regel) 1; brokenhanded (with yad) 1. SHEBER שָׁבַר 2corn 8.victuals 1. SHEBET שָׁבַת c.dart 1.pen 1.rod 34.sceptre 10.staff 1.tribe 147.*correction 1. SHEBETH. Inf. of YASHAB. SHEBI שָׁבִיcaptive 10.captivity 35.prisoners 1.that was taken 1.*take away 1. SHEBIB שָׁבִיבflame 2. SHEBII שָׁבִיעִיseventh (time) 96. SHEBIL שָׁבִילpath 2. SHEBISIM שָׁבִיסִים pl.cauls 1. SHEBITH שָׁבִיתָ f.captives 1.captivity 5. SHEBO שָׁבוּagate 2. SHEBUAH שָׁבוּעָה f.course 1.oath 28. † See baal<sup>1</sup>. SHEBUTH שָׁבוּתcaptivity 26. SHECHARCHORETH שְׁחַרְחֹרֶתblack 1. SHECHATH שָׁחַתPartic. corrupt 1.fault 2. SHECHELETH שְׁחֵלֶת f.onycha 1. SHECHIN שָׁכֵןboil 11.botch 2. SHECHIPH שָׁחִףcleaved with 1. | SHECHITHAH שְׁחִיתָה f.killing 1. SHECHITH שָׁחַת f.destruction 1.pit 1. SHECHOR שָׁחֹרcoal 1. SHECHUTH שְׁחֻתָה f.pit 1. SHED שָׁחַדdevil 2. SHEDAR שָׁחַדָרHITHPAEL labour 1. SHEDEMAH שְׁדֵמָה 1*blasted 1. SHEDEMAH שְׁדֵמָה 2field 5. SHEDEPHAH שְׁדֵפָה f.*blasted 1. SHEEL שָׁאָלask 3.demand 1.require 2. SHEELA שָׁאָלָה f.demand 1. SHEELAH שָׁאָלָה f.loan 1.petition 10.request 3. SHEER שָׁאָרbody 1.flesh 7.food 1.kin 1.kinsman 1.near kin 1.near kinswoman 2. † near of kin (with basar<sup>1</sup>) 1; high of kin (with basar<sup>2</sup>) 1. SHEERITH שְׁעִירִית f.posterity 1.remainder 1.remnant 43.residue 13.rest 3.that had escaped 1.*to remain 3. † See hayah. SHEGAGAH שְׁגָגָה f.error 1.ignorance 12. † be-shegagah: at un-awares 2; unawares 2; unwittingly 1. SHEGAL שְׁגָלָה f.queen 2. SHEGAL שְׁגָלָה f.wife 2. SHEGER שְׁגֵרָהincrease 4.that cometh of 1. SHEGIOTH שְׁגִיאוֹת f. pl.errors 1. SHEIYYAH שְׁעִיָּה f.destruction 1. SHEKABAH שְׁכָבָה f.copulation 1.*lie 1.*that lay 1. † carnally (with zera) 2; seed (with zera) 2. SHEKACH שְׁכָחָהHITHPE. be found 9.HAPH. find 8.*be found 1. SHEKAN שָׁכַןhave habitation 1.cause to dwell 1. PAEL. SHEKAR שָׁכַרstrong drink 21.strong wine 1. † See shathah. SHEKEM שְׁכֶםback 2.consent 1.portion 1.shoulder 21. SHEKEN שָׁכַןhabitation 1. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SEITH <sup>1</sup> שֵׁיתapply 1appoint 3be stayed 1bring 1lay 10lay up 2let alone 1make 19put 10put on 1set 23shew 1take 1.Adv. inf. in array 1.HOPH. be laid 2.†consider well (with leb)1; look well (with leb)1; mark well (with leb)1; regard (with leb) 2. | SHOQ שֹׁקhip 1leg 4shoulder 13thigh 1.SHOQETH שֹׁקֶת f.trough 1.SHOR <sup>1</sup> שֹׁרbull 1bullock 11cow 2ox 61wall 1.†See par.SHOR <sup>2</sup> שֹׁרnaval 2.SHORER שֹׁרֵרnavel 1.SHORESH שֹׁרֶשׁbottom 1heel 1root 31*deep 1SHORESH שֹׁרֶשׁroots 3.SHOSHAN שֹׁשָׁןlily 3.SHOSHANNAH שֹׁשָׁנָה f.lily 4.SHOT שֹׁטaccorge 5whip 6.SHOTET שֹׁטֶתaccorge 1.SHUA <sup>1</sup> שׁוּאriches 1.SHUA <sup>2</sup> שׁוּא*cry (vb.) 1.SHUACH שׁוּחַbe bowed down 1be humbled 1incline 1.SHUAL שׁוּאֵלfox 7.SHUB שׁוּבbe come again 5be converted 1be gone back 2be past 1be restored 2be restored again 2be returned 1be turned 8be turned away 10be turned back 5bring again 10bring back 10come again 43come back 1convert 1get self again 1get self back again 1go again 13go back 8go home 1go out 1repent 3retire 1return again 369turn 185turn away 22turn back 13turn backward 1turn from 1*again 29*more 1.Partic. converts 1.Pass. pt. averse 1.Inf. turning 1.Adv. inf. at all 2certainly 1in any wise 1still 1.POL. bring again 3pervert 1restore 1slide back 1turn away 1turn back 2turn self again 1.restorer 1.turning away 1.be brought back 1.Partic. restorer 1.Inf. turning away 1.PIEL be brought back 1. | HIPH. answer 13bring 9bring again 66bring back 15bring home 1bring home 1again 2call (to mind) 1carry again 1carry back 3cause to answer 1to return 15cause to turn 1consider 2convert 1deliver 1deliver again 1draw (back) 1draw back 2fetch home again 1give 2give again 2hinder 1let 1make to return 1make to turn 1pay 1pull in again 1put 1put again 4put up again 1recall 1recompense 7recover 6refresh 1relieve 3render 18render again 1report 1request 5rescue 1restore 36restore again 1retrieve 1return 16reverse 3reward 3send back 1take 1take back 1take off 1turn 25turn again 3turn away 24turn back 4turn back 4*be rendered 1.restorer 1.certainly 1in any case 1in any wise 1needs 1surely 1.Partic. restorer 1.Adv. inf. certainly 1in any case 1in any wise 1needs 1surely 1.HOPH. be brought again 3be recompensed 3be restored 1.†KAL cease (with min) 1;continually (adv. inf. with adv. inf. of halak) 1;return again (with inf. of yalak) 1.HIPH. answer (with dabar) 2, 6, with millah 17; answer again (with dabar) 2; 1; bethink self (with el leb 1, with el lebab 1) 2; deny (with panim) 1; give answer (with dabar) 1; say nay (with panim) 3. See yatsa.SHUBAH שׁוּבָה f.returning 1.SHUCHAH שׁוּחָה f.ditch 1pit 4.SHUD שׁוּדwaste 1.SHUL שׁוּלhem 6skirt 4train 1.SHULCHAN שׁוּלְחָןtable 70.SHUM שׁוּםgarlick 1.SHUM שׁוּםname 11.†See sim. | SHUPH שָׁפַחbreak 1bruise 1cover 1.SHUQ <sup>1</sup> שָׁקwater 1.HIPH. overflow 2.SHUQ <sup>2</sup> שָׁקstreet 4.SHUR <sup>1</sup> שָׁרgo 1.SHUR <sup>2</sup> שָׁרbehold 5lay wait 1look 2observe 2perceive 1regard 1see 4.SHUR <sup>3</sup> שָׁרsing 1.[See shir].SHUR <sup>4</sup> שָׁרenemies (pl.) 1.SHUR <sup>5</sup> שָׁרwall 4.SHUR <sup>6</sup> שָׁרwall 3.SHUSHAN שׁוּשָׁןlily 1.SHUT <sup>1</sup> שָׁטdespise 3.SHUT <sup>2</sup> שָׁטgo 1go about 1go through 1.mariner 1rower 1going to and fro 2.POL. run to and fro 1.HITPOL. run to and fro 1.SI שִׂיexcellency 1.SIACH <sup>1</sup> שִׂיחַcommune 1complain 2meditate 5pray 1speak 4talk 4talk with 1.declare 1muse 1.POL. babbling 1communication 1complaint 9meditation 1prayer 1.†be talking (with le) 1.SIACH <sup>2</sup> שִׂיחַbush 1plant 1shrubs 1.SIB שִׁיבbe grayheaded 1.Partic. grayheaded 1.SIB שִׁיבelders 5.SIBAH שִׁיבָה f.fulness 1.SIBBAH שִׁיבָה f.cause 1.SIBBOLETH שִׁיבּוֹלֶת f.sibboleth 1.SIOHAR שִׁיחָה f.meditation 1prayer 1.SID <sup>1</sup> שִׁידplaster (vb.) 2.SID <sup>2</sup> שִׁידlime 1plaster 2.SIG <sup>1</sup> שִׁיגdross 8.SIG <sup>2</sup> שִׁיג†be pursuing (with le) 1.SIGENIN שִׁיגִינִי pl.governors 5.SIKUTH שִׁיקוּת f.tabernacle 1.SIKLUTH שִׁיקְלוּת (שִׁקְלוּת) f.folly 5foolishness 2. | SILLON סִילוֹןbrier 1.SIM שִׁיםappoint 19bring 5call (a name) 1cast in 1change 1charge 1commit 1consider 1convey 1dispose 1do 2get 1give 11heap up 1hold 1impute 1lay 64lay down 1lay up 3leave 1make 122make out 1ordain 3order 1place 1preserve 1purpose 1put (in, on, to) 157rehearse 1reward 1set (on up, cause to be) 130shed 1shew 2take 3turn 5work 1*be laid 1*be made 1*be placed 1*have 1.*steadfastly 1.Pass. pt. determined 1.Adv. inf. any wise 1wholly 1.HIPH. regard 1.HOPH. be set 1.†KAL barked (with li-qe-taphah) 1; care for (with leb el) 2; consider (with leb 3, with lebab 5) 8; disguise (with sether) 1; look well (with ayin) 2; mark well (with leb) 2; name (with shem) 1; overturn (with avval) 3; painted (with bap-puk) 1; regard (with leb) 2; tell (with be-phi) 1; tread down (with mirmas) 1.SIM שִׁיםgive 1lay 1make 14set 1.HITPOL. be given 1be laid 1be made 1.†command (with teem) 3;name (with shum) 1;regard (with teem) 2.SIMCHAH שִׁמְחָה f.gladness 32joy 44joyfulness 1mirth 8pleasure 1rejoicing 1*rejoice 3.†exceeding (be-simchah 2; with gadol 1) 3; exceeding (be-simchah) 1.SIMLAH שִׁמְלָה f.apparel 1cloth 2clothes 6clothing 2garment 6raiment 11.SINAH שִׁנְיָה f.hatred 13*hatefully 1*to hate 1.†exceedingly (with gadol meod) 1.SIPRAH שִׁפְרָה f.book 1.SIPPUN שִׁפּוּןceiling 1. | SIR <sup>1</sup> סִירcaldron 5pan 1pot 22.†washpot (with rachats) 2.SIR <sup>2</sup> סִירthorn 4.†fishhook (with dugah) 1.SIRPAD סִרְפָּדbrier 1.SIRYON סִרְיוֹןbrigandine 2.SIS <sup>1</sup> סִיס (V.L.)crane 2.SIS <sup>2</sup> סִישׁbe glad 4joy 1make mirth 1rejoice 21.Adv. inf. greatly 1.SITHRAH סִיתְרָה f.protection 1.SITNAH סִיתְנָה f.accusation 1.SOBA שׁוּבָהfull 3fulness 1satisfying 1*be sufficed 1.SOBAH שׁוּבָה f.enough 2that which satisfy 1*be full 1*sufficiently 1.†See bilti.SOBE שׁוּבֵהdrink 1wine 1.SOBEK שׁוּבֵקthick boughs 1.SOBEL שׁוּבֵלburden 3.SOCHERAH שׁוּכְרָה f.buckler 1.SOCHERETH שׁוּכְרֶת f.black marble 1.SOD סוּדassembly 5counsel 5secret 9secret counsel 1*inward 1.SOHAR שׁוֹהַר†See bayith.SOK <sup>1</sup> שׁוֹךְ (שׁוֹךְ)covert 1den 1pavilion 1tabernacle 2.SOK <sup>2</sup> שׁוֹךְbough 1.SOKAH שׁוֹכָה f.cough 1.SOKLETHANU שׁוֹקְלֶתָנֻי f.understanding 3.SOLAM סוֹלָםbald locust 1.SOLELAH סוֹלְלָה f.bank 3mount 8.SOLETH סוֹלֶת†See qemach.SOPH סוֹףconclusion 1end 3hinder part 1.SOPH סוֹףend 5.SORAH שׁוֹרָה f.*principal 1.SOREQ שׁוֹרֵקchoicest vine 1noble vine 1.SOREQAH שׁוֹרְקָה f.choice vine 1.SUACH שׁוּחַ (cf. siach)meditate 1.SUCHAH שׁוּחָה f.†torn (kas-suchah) 1. |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SUG<sup>1</sup> סוג (סוג)be gone back 1go back 1.Pass. pt.NIPH. be driven 1be turned 4be turned away 2be turned back 1depart away 1turn away 1turn back 2*take 1.HIPH. remove 6*take hold 1.HOPH. be turned away 1. SUG<sup>2</sup> סוגPass. pt. set about 1. SUG<sup>3</sup> סוגPILP. make to grow 1. SUGAR סוכרward 1. SUK<sup>1</sup> סוקanoint 6anoint self 2.at all 1.HIPH. anoint 1. SUK<sup>2</sup> סוקhedge up 1mak<sup>1</sup> an hedge 1.POLEL fence 1. SUKKAH<sup>1</sup> סוכה f.booth 11cottage 1covert 1pavilion 5tabernacle 11tent 1. SUKKAH<sup>2</sup> סוכה f.barbed iron 1. SULLAM סולםladder 1. SUM = סִימ.SUM = סִימ. SUMPONEYAH סומפוןיה f.dulcimer 2.SUPH<sup>1</sup> סוףbe consumed 1have an end 1perish 1*utterly 1.consume 4. HIPH. SUPH<sup>2</sup> סוףflags 3weeds 1.†See yam. SUPH סוףbe fulfilled 1.consume 1. HAPH. SUPHAH סופה f.storm 3tempest 1whirlwind 11. SUPPONEYAH סופוןיה f.dulcimer 1.SUM<sup>1</sup> סומ (once)be departed 4be gone aside 1be gone away 1be past 1be removed 1be revolted 1be taken 1be taken away 7be without 1decline 1depart 73depart away 1depart from 1eschew 3go 3go aside 2go away 1rebel 1turn (aside, away, back, in) req.*be sour 1.Imperat. get you 1.Partic. grievous 1.Pass. pt. removing to and fro 1.Pol. turn aside 2. | HIPH. bring 1call back 1lay away 1lay by 1leave undone 1pluck away 1put 2put away 19put down 1put off 1remove 31take 8take away 58take off 6turn away 2withdraw 1. HOPH. be taken away 4be taken from 1. †HIPH. behead (with rosh) 1. SUR<sup>2</sup> סורdegenerate plant 1. SUR<sup>1</sup> סורhave power 1reign 1.make princes 1. SUR<sup>4</sup> סורcut 1. SURIM סורים[as if partic. pass. of asar.]†See buyith. SUS<sup>1</sup> סוסhorse 133.†See aqeb, rakab. SUS<sup>2</sup> סוסcrane 2. SUSAN סוסה f.company of horses 1. SUT סוטturn aside 1. SUTH<sup>1</sup> סותentice 1move 5persuade 1provoke 1remove 1set on 2stir up 2take away 11. SUTH<sup>2</sup> סותclothes 1. T TA טאchamber 2little chamber 10. TAA טעPILP. pt. deceive 1.HITHFALP. misuse 1. TAAB<sup>1</sup> טאבlong (טב) 11.long (once) טאבNIPH. be abominable 3.abhor 14PIEL make to be abhorred 1utterly 1.HIPH. commit 11abominable 1do abominable 2do abominably 1. TAABAH טאבה f.longing 1. TAABH<sup>1</sup> טאבהseduce 1. TAABH<sup>2</sup> טאבהpoint out 3. TAABH<sup>3</sup> טאבהbe out of the way 1err 5go astray 12pant 1wander 7.NIPH. be deceived 1stagger 1. HIPH. cause to err 8cause to go astray 1cause to wander 1dissemble 1err 1. | make to err 3make to stagger 1seduce 3. TAALAH טאלה f.curse 1. TAALULIM טאלולים pl.bates 1delusions 1. TAALUMAH טאלומה f.secret 2thing that is hid 1. TAAM<sup>1</sup> טעםperceive 1taste 10.Adv. inf. but 1. TAAM<sup>2</sup> טעםadvice 1behaviour 2decree 1discretion 1judgment 1rest on 1taste 5understanding 1. TAAM<sup>3</sup> טעםPass. pt. coupled 1coupled to-gether 1.HIPH. bear twins 1. TAAM טעםaccount 1commandment 2matter 1*be commanded 1. TAAN<sup>1</sup> טעןlade 1. TAAN<sup>2</sup> טעןPUAL. pt. thrust through 1. TAANAH טאנה f.occasion 1. TAANITH טאנית f.heaviness 1. TAANIYYAH טאנייה f.heaviness 1mourning 1. TAANUG טאנוגdelight 3*delicate 1*pleasant 1. TAAR<sup>1</sup> טארbe drawn 5.mark out 2. TAAR<sup>2</sup> טארrazor 1scabbard 1sheath 6.†penknife (with partic. of saphar) 1. See abar. TAARUBOTH טארובות†See ben<sup>2</sup>. TAATSUMOTH טאטסמותf. pl.power 1. TAAVAH<sup>1</sup> טאבה f.dainty 1desire 14lust 1*exceedingly 1*greedily 1*lusting 1*pleasant 1. TAAVAH<sup>2</sup> טאבה f.utmost bound 1. TAB טבfine 1good 1.PIEL be sunk 1sink 4.HOPH. be drowned 1.be fastened 1be settled 1be sunk 1. TABAATH טבאת f.ring 45. TABACH טבחkill 4make slaughter 1slay 2.Inf. slaughter 3.slay (with tebech) 1. | TABAL טבלdip 15plunge 1.be dipped 1. NIPH. TABBACH טבךcook 2guard 30. TABBACH טבךguard 1. TABBACHOTH טבחות f. pl.cooks 1.middle 1midst 1. TABLITH טבליה f.destruction 1. TABNITH טבנית f.figure 1form 3likeness 5pattern 9similitude 2. TABUN טבוןunderstanding 1. TACHALUM טכאלים pl.diseases 1sicknesses 1*grievous 1*them that are sick 1. TACHAN טחןgrind 8. TACHANAH טחנה f.grinding 1. TACHANOTH טחנוth pl.camp 1. TACHANUNIM טחנונים pl.intreaties 1supplications 16. TACHANUNOTH טחנונות f. pl.supplications 1. TACHARA טכרהhabergeon 2. TACHASH טכשbadger 14badger's skin 2. TACHATH טכחbeneath 1for sake of 1in the place of 1in the room of 1in the stead of 1under, etc. †because (with asher) 2;wherefore (with mech) 1.With obj. pron.: flat, in the same place, etc.Mit-tachath (le-mit-tachath): beneath, from under, under, etc. TACHBOLOTH טכבולות f. pl.counsels 3good advice 1wise counsels 2. TACHMAS טכמסnighthawk 2. TACHTI טכטיlow 1low parts 1lower 1lower parts 1lowest 3lowest parts 1nether 3nether part 6. TACHTON טכטוןlower 5lowest 1nether 4nethermost 1. TAGMUL טגמולbenefit 1. TAHALUKAH טהלכה f.*so 1.be clean 25be cleansed 4be made clean 1be pure 2be purged 2. | PIEL cleanse 21make clean 1pronounce clean 10purge 3purify 3purifier 1.be cleansed 1.be clean 1be cleansed 12be made clean 1be purified 1cleanse selves 2make selves clean 1purify selves 2. TAHOR טהרclean 50fair 2pure 41purity 1*he that hath clean 1. TAHPUKOTH טהפקות f. pl.frowardness 3froward things 1perverse things 1*froward 3*very froward 1. TAKAH טכהPUAL sit down 1. TAKAN טכןponder 2weigh 1.NIPH. be equal 1be weighed 1.bear up 1direct 1mete 1weigh 1.PUAL be told 1.be unequal (with lo pre-fixed) 2. TAKLITH טכליה f.end 1perfection 2*perfect 1. TAKRIK טכריקgarment 1. TAL טלdew 31. TAL טלdew 5. TALA<sup>1</sup> טלאPartic. spotted 6with divers colours 1.PUAL. pt. clouded 1. TALA<sup>2</sup> טלאbe bent 1hang 1hang in doubt 1. TALA<sup>3</sup> טלעPUAL. pt. in scarlet 1. TALAH טלהbe hanged 4hang 20.be hanged 1be hanged up 1. PIEL hang 2. TALAL<sup>1</sup> טללPIEL cover 1. TALAL<sup>2</sup> טללPartic. eminent 1. TALEH טלהlamb 2. TALMID טלמידscholar 1. TALPIYYOTH טלפיות f. pl.armoury 1. TALTALLIM טלללים pl.bushy 1. TALTELAH טלטהלה f.captivity 1. TALTI טלתיthird 1. TALUBOTH טלבותה f. pl.great drought 1. | TAM טםperfect 9plain 1undefiled 2upright 1. TAM טםthence 1there 2where 1. TAMAH<sup>1</sup> טמהNIPH. be defiled 1be reputed 11. TAMAH<sup>2</sup> טמהbe amazed 1be astonished 1marvel 3wonder 1*marvellously 1.HITHF. wonder 1. TAMAK טמךhold 4hold up 2maintain 1retain 4stay 1stay up 1take hold 1uphold 5.NIPH. be held 1. TAMAM טמםbe accomplished 1be all gone 1be all here 1be consumed 11be ended 4be finished 3be perfect 1be spent 3be upright 1be wasted 1come to an end 1end 1fail 2have done 1*accomplish 1*clean 3*finish 1.Inf. whole 1.NIPH. be consumed 4have an end 1consume 1end 1make an end of 1make perfect 1sua 1*be come to the full 1*cease 1.HITHF. show self up-right 2. TAMAN טמןhide 23lay privily 4in secret 1.Pass. pt. hide 1.NIPH. hide 1.HIPH. hide 2. TAMAR טמרpalm 1palm tree 11. TAME<sup>1</sup> טמםbe defiled 8be made unclean 1be polluted 1be unclean 60defile self 6take unclean-ness 1.NIPH. be defiled 12be polluted 1defile self 1pollute selves 1.PIEL defile 31pollute 5pronounce un-clean 12clean 12*be defiled 1.Adv. inf. utterly 1.PUAL be polluted 1.HITHF. be defiled 2be polluted 1be unclean 1defile selves 1make selves un-clean 2be defiled 1.HOTHF. טמםdefiled 5polluted 1unclean 80.†infamous (with shem) 1;set apart for pollution (with niddah) 1. |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                               |                                                                               |                                                                  |                                                 |                                              |                                             |                                |                                                                  |                                                        |                                                          |                                                                      |                                          |                                             |                                                                                    |                                           |                                                                |                                |                                             |                             |                                               |                                     |                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                  |                                                                       |                                                  |                                                                                                                             |                                                                |                                         |                                                |                                         |                                 |                                   |                                             |                              |                                     |                                          |                                                                                  |                                               |                                   |                                                         |                      |                                   |                                                        |                                        |                                           |                                                           |                                              |                                           |                                                      |                                 |                                      |                                    |                                      |                             |                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                 |                                       |                                                          |                                                                                                                                 |                                             |                                                |                                                                          |                                |                                     |                                       |                                                      |                                  |                                                       |                                                                           |                                             |                                                                                                        |                                           |                                                                                  |                                                                     |                                |                                          |                                 |                                                      |                               |                                                                                          |                                                 |                                       |                                                          |                                           |                                     |                                    |                                                  |                                        |                                                                               |                             |                                     |                                          |                                                    |                                        |                                           |                              |                                     |                                              |                               |                                                                              |                             |                                                                                                                                              |                                                                   |                                                                                                   |                                                |                              |                                                               |                                                   |                             |                                                       |                                                                                                    |                              |                                     |                                                    |                              |                                         |                                            |                             |                                                            |                                             |                                                                                       |                          |                                                            |                                             |                                              |                                                                  |                                       |                              |                                                                               |                                                        |                                         |                               |                                                              |                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                |                                           |                                         |                                                                                                      |                                |                                                                                              |                                                                    |                                                                                   |                                       |                                        |                                                      |                                        |                                    |                                      |                                    |                      |                                |                                                    |                                              |                                  |                                         |                                                            |                                           |                                           |                                            |                                               |                            |                                                 |                                 |                                     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|---------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|-------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------------|----------------------|--------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| TAMID תמידalways (always)continual 26continually 53daily 7ever 3evermore 1of continual employment 1perpetual 2.†See lo. | TAMIM תמיםcomplete 1full 1perfect 14sincerely 2sincerity 2sound 1undefiled 1upright 8uprightly 4whole 4without blemish 44without spot 6. | TAMMIM תמים pl.coupled together 2. | TAMRUQ תמרוקpurifying 1thing for purification 2*cleanse 1. | TAMRURIM תמרוריםpl.*bitter 1*most bitterly 1. | TAMRURIM תמרוריםpl.high heaps 1. | TANAH תנהhire 1.Hiph. hire 1. | TANAH תנהlament 1rehearse 1. | TANAPH תנףdefile 1. | TANCHUMIM תנחומיםpl.comforts 1consolations 2. | TANCHUMOTH תנחומותf. pl.consolations 2. | TANNIM תניםdragon 1dragons 12whale 1. | TANNIN תניןdragon 8monster 1serpent 3whale 2. | TANNOTH תנות f. pl.dragons 1. | TANNUR תנורfurnace 4oven 11. | TAPH תףchildren 9families 1little children 3little ones 25. | TAPHACH תפחspan 1saddle 1. | TAPHAL תפלforge 1sew up 1.Partio. forger 1. | TAPHAPH תפףmince 1. | TAPHAPH תפףplay with timbrels 1. | POEL תפרtaber 1. | TAPHAR תפרsew 2sew together 1. | PIEL תפwomen that sew 1. | TAPHAS תפשcatch 3handle 8hold 1lay hold 1. | lay hold on 1take 20take hold 2.laid over 1.Adv. inf. surely 1.NIPH. be caught 1be stopped 1be surprised 2be taken 11*taking 1.take hold 1.PIEL be handled (with kaph) 1. | TAPHASH תפחשbe fat 1. | TAPHEL תפלfoolish things 1unsavoury 1untampered 5. | TAPPUACH תפוחapple 3apple tree 3. | TAQA תקעblow 46cast 1clap 1fasten 5pitch (tent) 3smite 1sound 2strike 3thrust 2. | Partio. NIPH. *suretyship 1.be blown 2strike 1. | TAQAN תקןbe made straight 1. | PIEL make straight 1set in order 1. | TAQAPH תקףprevail against 3. | TAQOA תקועtrumpet 1. | TAQQIPH תקףmightier 1. | TAQQIPH תקףmighty 2strong 3. | TARA תרעporter 1. | TARACH תרחHiph. weary 1. | TARAD תרדPartio. continual 2. | TARAPH תרףcatch 2prey 1ravin 4tear 8tore in pieces 2. | Adv. inf. surely 1without doubt 1. | NIPH. be torn in pieces 2. | POAL be rent in pieces 1be torn in pieces 1. | Hiph. feed 1. | TARAPH תרףpluck off 1. | TARBITH תרבת f.increase 5unjust gain 1. | TARBUTH תרבות f.increase 1. | TARDEMAH תרדמה f.deep sleep 7. | TARELAH תרעלה f.astonishment 1trembling 2. | TARGEM תרגםPartio. interpreted 1. | TARI תריnew 1putrifying 1. | TARMITH תרמיث f.deceit 4*deceitful 1. | TARSHIL תרשלberyl 7. | TASHBETS תשבץbrothered 1. | TATUM תתום pl.errors 2. | TAV תוdesire 1mark 2. | TAVAH תוהspin 2. | TAVAH תוהscrabble 1.limit 1set (a mark) 1. | TAVEK תוהhalf 1middle 7midst 203†midnight (with layelah) 1; therein (be-tok with pron.) 1; wherein (be-tavek with asher) 1; whereinto (el tavek with asher) 1. Be-tok: among (amongst) 13, between 3, in 10, through 1, through the midst of 4, with 1, within 10. El-tok: into 1, in the midst among 1. Mit-tok: out 1, out of 3. | TAYISH תישhe goat 4. | TAZAZ תוזHiph. cut down 1. | TAZNUTH תזנות f.fornication 2whoredom 18. | TEALAH תעלה f.conduit 4little river 1trench 3watercourse 1.*healing 1.†be mured (with eni le) 1. | TEAM תעםfeed 1make to eat 1. | TEASHSHUB תעאשרbox 1box tree 2. | TERACH תרחslaughter 9*beast 1*sore 1.†See tabach. | TEBAH תבה f.ark 28. | TEBALLUL תבוללblemish 1. | TEBAR תברPartio. broken 1. | TEBEL תבל f.habitable part 1world 35. | TEBEL תבלconfusion 1. | TEBEN תבןchaff 1straw 15stubble 1. | TEBUAH תבואה f.fruit 13gain 1increase 23revenue 5. | TEBULIM תבולים pl.died attire 1. | TEBUNAH תבונה f.discretion 1reason 1skillfulness 1understanding 37wisdom 1. | TEBUSAH תבועה f.destruction 1. | TECHILLAH תחלה f.beginning 14first 5first time 2*begin 1. | TECHINNAH תחנה f.favour 1grace 1supplication 23. | TECHON תחן*grind 1. | TECHORIM תחורים pl.emerods 8. | TECHOTH תחותunder 4. | TEDIRA תדירה f.continually (bi-tedira) 1. | TEEB תעבbe glad 1. | TEEM תעםcommandment 1deceit 13taste 1wisdom 1.†See beel, sum. | TEENAH תענה f.fig 15fig tree 23. | TEHILLAH תהלה f.praise 56. | TEHOM תהוםdeep 1deep place 1depth 15. | TEKAKIM תעקים pl.*deceitful 1. | TEKELETH תעלת f.blue 49. | TEKUNAH תעונה f.seat 1. | TEKUNAH תעונה f.fashion 1store 1. | TEL תלheap 4strength 1. | TELAAR תעלה f.travel 1traveller 2trouble 1weariness 1. | TELAG תלגsnow 1. | TELAIM תעלים pl.lambs 1. | TELAL תללHAPH. have shadow 1. | TELATH תלת (תלת) f.third 3three 10. | TELATHIN תלתין pl.thirty 2. | TELEM תעלםfurrow 4ridge 1. | TELI תליquiver 1. | TELITHAI תלית f.third 1. | TELUNNOTH תלונות pl.murmurings 8. | TEMAH תמהwonder 3. | TEMAN תמןsouth 12south side 1south wind 1southward 8. | TEMEN תעםmelt 1. | TEMOL תמולyesterday 4.†With shilshom: before 3, beforetime 4, heretofore 6, that time 1, time(s) past 9, *these three days 1. | TEMUNAH תמונה f.image 1likeness 5similitude 4. | TEMURAH תמורה f.change 1changing 1exchange 2recompence 1restitution 1. | TEMUTHAH תמותה f.death 1*die 1. | TENE תנאbasket 4. | TENUAH תנוה f.breach 1promise 1occasion 1. | TENUBAH תנובה f.fruit 3increase 1. | TENUK תנוקtip 8. | TENUMAH תנומה f.slumber 4slumbering 1. | TENUPHAH תנופה f.offering 7shaking 2wave offering 14*be waved 1*wave 6. | TEO תאוwild ox 1. | TEOMIM תעמים pl.twins 4. | TEPHACH תפחcooling 1hand breadth 3. | TEPHAR תפרnail 2. | TEPHILLAH תפילה f.prayer 76. | TEPHOTSAH תפוסה f.dispersion 1. | TEQA תקעsound 1. | TEQAL תקלPartio. Tekel 2.PEIL be weighed 1. | TEQAN תקןHOPH. be established 1. | TEQEPH תקףbecome strong 1be hardened 1be strong 2.make firm 1. | PAEL make firm 1. | TEQOMEM תעוםthose that rise up against (pl.) 1. | TEQOPH תקףmight 1strength 1. | TEQUMAH תעומה f.power to stand 1. | TEQUPHAH תעופה f.circuit 1end 2*come about 1. | TERA תרעgate 1mouth 1. | TERAD תרדdrive 4. | TERAPHIM תרפים pl.idolatry 1idols 1images 7teraphim 6. | TEREM תרםbefore 1ere 1not yet, etc. | TEREN תריןsecond 1two 1. | †twelve (with asar) 1. | TEREPH תרףleaf 1meat 1prey 18spoil 1. | TEREPHAH תרפה f.ravin 1that which is torn in pieces 1that which was torn of (with) beasts 7. | TERULAH תרולה f.alarm 6blowing of trumpets 1blowing the trumpets 1joy 2joyful sound 1jubilee 1loud noise 1rejoicing 1shout 10shouting 8*high sounding 1*sounding 1*to blow 1.†See rum. | TERUMAH תרומה f.gift 1heave offering 24oblation 18offering 28*heave (adj.) 4*that is offered 1. | TERUMIYAH תרומיה f.oblation 1. | TERUPHAH תרופה f.medicine 1. | TESHA תשע (תשעה) f.nine 44ninth 6.†With asar or esreh: nine-teen 3, nineteenth 4. | TESHII תשעninth 17. | TESHUAH תשועה f.deliverance 5help 5safety 4salvation 17victory 2. | TESHUBAH תשובה f.answer 2return 3*be expired 3. | TESHJOTH תשיות f.pl.crying 1noise 1shoutings 1stirs 1. | TESHUQAH תשוקה f.desire 3. | TESHURAH תשורה f.present 1. | TESUMETH תשומת f.fellowship (with yad) 1. | TEUDAH תעודה f.testimony 3. | TEUNIM תענים pl.lies 1. | TEVAH תוהbe astonished 1. | TEVATH תוה f.fasting 1. | THOK = TAVEK. | TIACH תיחdaubing 1. | TIBCHAH תיבחה f.flesh 1slaughter 2. | TIDHAR תידרpine 1pine tree 1. | TIGRAH תיגר f.blow 1. | TIKLAH תיקלה f.perfection 1. | TIKON תיקוןmiddle 8middlemost 2midst 1. | TILBOSHETH תלבשת f.clothing 1. | TIMMAHON תימחוןastonishment 2. | TIMMORAH תימורה f.palm tree 19. | TIMROTH תימרות f.pl.pillars 1. | TIN תין*mity 2. | TINSHMETH תינשמת f.mole 1swan 2. | TINYAN תינןsecond 1. | TINYANUTH תיננותagain 1. |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|---------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|-------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------------|----------------------|--------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

TIPHARAH (TIPHE-RETH) תִּפְאָרֶת (תִּפְאָרֶת) f. beauty 10 bravery 1 glory 22 honour 4 *beautiful 6
 *comely 1
 *excellent 1
 *fair 2
 *glorious 3.
TIPHLAH תִּפְחָלָה f.
 folly 2
 *foolishly 1.
TIPHLETSETH תִּפְחֶלֶתֶשֶׁת f.
 terribleness 1.
TIPHSAR תִּפְסָר f.
 captain 2.
TIPHTAYE תִּפְחֵיטַיִה pl.
 sheriffs 2.
TIPPUCHIM תִּפְּחִימִם pl.
 *span long 1.
TIQVAH תִּיקְוָה f. expectation 7 hope 23
 line 2 thing that long for 1 *expected 1.
TIRAH תִּירָה f.
 castle 3
 goodly castle 1 habitation 1
 palace 1
 row 1.
TIROSH תִּירוֹשׁ f.
 new wine 11
 sweet wine 1
 wine 26.
TIRZAH תִּירְצָה f.
 cypress 1.
TISHAH = TESHA.
TISHIM תִּישִׁים pl.
 ninety 20.
TIT תִּיט f.
 clay 3
 dirt 2
 mire 8.
TO תוֹ adv.
 wild bull 1.
TOAH תוֹהָ f.
 error 1.
 †See asah.
TOANAH תוֹאנָה f.
 occasion 1.
TOAPHOTH תוֹפּוֹת f.
 plenty 1
 strength 2.
TOAR תוֹרָה f. countenance 1
 form 3 visage 1
 *comely 1
 *goodly 1.
 †resemble (ke-toar) 1. See ra, tob, yapheh.
TOB תוֹב adv.
 be better 1
 be good 3 be goodly 1 be well 5 go well 1 seem good 2.
 cheer 1
 do [goodness] 1 do better 1 do good 4 do well 4 make goodly 1 play well on 1.
 well 1.
Partic.
 †KAL be in favour (with be-ene) 1; favour (with be-ene) 1; it liketh (with be-ene 1, with le 1) 2; please (with al 2, with be-ene 4, with li-phene 1) 13.
TOB <sup>2</sup> תוֹבִיט adv.
 best 8
 better 71 bountiful 1 cheerful 1 fair 1 fine 1
 glad 2

good 356
 goodly 11
 graciously 1 joyful 1 kind 1 kindly 1 loving 1 merry 7 pleasant 1 pleasing 1 precious 3 ready 1 sweet 1
 well 20. ease 1
 fair word 1 good deed 1 goodness 16 goods 2 kindness 1 pleasure 2 prosperity 6 wealth 3
 welfare 1.
 †beautiful (with mareh) 2;
 fair (with mareh) 2; well-favoured (with chen 1, with mareh 1) 2; goodly (with toar) 1.
 See kethen, tsahab.
TOCHELETH תוֹחֶלֶת f.
 hope 6.
TODAH תוֹדָה f.
 company 1
 of them that gave thanks 3 confession 2 praise 4 sacrifice of praise 2
 thank offering 3
 thanksgiving 18.
TOEBAH תוֹעֵבָה f.
 abominable thing 2
 abomination 111
 *abominable 1.
TOHAR <sup>1</sup> תוֹהָר f.
 clearness 1
 purifying 2.
TOHAR <sup>2</sup> תוֹהָר f.
 glory 1.
TOHOLAH תוֹהוֹלָה f.
 folly 1.
TOHORAN תוֹהוֹרָן f.
 cleansing 7 purification 1 purifying 3
 *be cleansed 1.
TOHU תוֹהוּ f. confusion 3 empty place 1 nothing 1
 nought 1 thing of nought vanity 4 waste 1
 wilderness 2
 *vain 4
 *without form 2.
TOK <sup>1</sup> = TAVEK.
TOK <sup>2</sup> תוֹק f.
 deceit 1 fraud 1.
TOKACHATH תוֹכַחַת f.
 argument 1
 correction 1 reasoning 1 rebuke 3 reproof 16
 *be chastened 1
 *be reprov'd 1.
 †See lsh.
TOKECHAH תוֹכֵחָה f. punishment 1
 rebuke 4.
TOKEN תוֹכֵן f.
 measure 1
 tale 1.
TOKNIH תוֹכְנִיחַ f.
 pattern 1 sum 1.
TOLA תוֹלָה f.
 crimson 1
 scarlet 1
 worm 1.
TOLAATH תוֹלָאִית f.
 worm 4
 worms 2.
 †scarlet (with shani) 27.
 See shani.

TOLAL תוֹלָל f.
 that wasted 1.
TOLEAH תוֹלֵהָ f.
 worm 1
 worms 1.
TOLEDOTH תוֹלְדוֹת f.
 pl.
 birth 1
 generations 38.
TOM תוֹם f. integrity 11 perfection 1 simplicity 1 strength 1
 uprightness 2
 *him that is upright 1
 *perfect 1
 *upright 1
 *uprightly 1.
 †at = venture (le-tom with pron. suff.) 12, uprightly (bat-tom) 1.
TOMER תוֹמֵר f.
 palm tree 2.
TOPH תוֹפֵה f. tabret 1
 timbrel 9.
TOPHACH תוֹפַחַח f.
 handbreadth 4 *hand broad 1.
TOPHETH תוֹפֶת f.
 tabret 1.
TOQEPH תוֹקֵף f. authority 1
 power 1
 strength 1.
TOR <sup>1</sup> תוֹר f.
 turtle 5
 turtle dove 9.
TOR <sup>2</sup> תוֹר f.
 border 1
 row 1
 turn 1.
TOR <sup>3</sup> תוֹר f.
 estate 1.
TORACH תוֹרַח f.
 bullock 1
 ox 4.
TORACH <sup>2</sup> תוֹרַח f.
 cumberance 1
 trouble 1.
TORAH תוֹרָה f. law 216
 manner 1.
TOREN תוֹרֵן f. beacon 1
 mast 2.
TORMAH תוֹרְמָה f.
 †privily (be-tormah) 1.
TOSHAB תוֹשָׁב f.
 foreigner 1 inhabitant 1 sojourner 9 stranger 3.
TOTAPHOTH תוֹתַפּוֹת f.
 frontlets 3.
TOTHACH תוֹתַחַח f.
 darts 1.
TOTSAOTH תוֹתְסָאוֹת f.
 pl.
 border 1
 going forth 2 going out 11 issue 2 outgoing 7.
TSAAD <sup>1</sup> תְּסָאד f.
 go 3
 march 1 march through 1
 run over 1.
Partic.
 †See min 2.
TSAAD <sup>2</sup> תְּסָאד f.
 going 1
 pace 1
 step 11
 *go 1.
TSAAH תְּסָאָה f.
 wander 1 captive exile 1 travelling 1 wanderer 1.
Partic.
 †cause to wander
 1.
TSAAN תְּסָאָן f.
 be taken down 1.

TSAAQ תְּסָאָק f.
 cry 43
 cry out 3.
 at all 1.
Adv. inf.
 NIPH. be called together 1
 be gathered together 1
 gather 1
 gather selves together 3.
Partic.
 PIEL HIPH. cry 1.
 call together 1.
TSAB <sup>1</sup> תְּסָב f.
 be brought low 1
 be small 1.
 little one 1.
Partic.
 PIEL. *image 1. litter 1
 *covered 1.
TSAB <sup>2</sup> תְּסָב f.
 tortoise 1.
TSABA <sup>1</sup> תְּסָבָה f. assemble 3 fight 4
 perform 1 wait upon 1
 war 2.
Partic.
 HIPH. muster 2.
TSABA <sup>2</sup> תְּסָבָה f.
 appointed time 1
 army 29 battle 6 company 1
 host 394 service 6 soldiers 1 time appointed 1 waiting upon 1 war (warfare) 42.
 †battle (with milchamah)
 1. See chayil.
TSABAH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָבָה f.
 fight 1
 swell 1.
Partic.
 HIPH. make to swell 1.
TSABAH <sup>2</sup> תְּסָבָה f.
 army 1
TSABAR <sup>1</sup> תְּסָבָר f.
 gather 1
 gather together 1 heap 1
 heap up 3
 lay up 1.
TSABAT <sup>1</sup> תְּסָבַת f.
 reach 1.
TSABEH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָבֵה f.
 *to swell 1.
TSABUA <sup>1</sup> תְּסָבִיא f.
 speckled 1.
TSACH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָח f.
 clear 1
 dry 1 plainly 1
 white 1.
TSACHACH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָחַח f.
 be whiter 1.
TSACHANAH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָחָנָה f. ill savour 1.
TSACHAQ <sup>1</sup> תְּסָחָק f.
 laugh 6.
Partic.
 PIEL. make sport 1 mock 4
 play 2
 sport 1.
TSACHAR <sup>1</sup> תְּסָחָר f.
 white 1.
TSACHOR <sup>1</sup> תְּסָחֹר f.
 white 1.
TSACHTSACHOTH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָחֲטִסְחֹת f.
 drought 1.
TSAD <sup>1</sup> תְּסָד f.
 one side 1 side 32
 *another 1.
 †See min 2.
TSAD <sup>2</sup> תְּסָד f.
 against 1
 concerning 1.
TSADAH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָדָה f.
 hunt 1
 lie in wait 1.
Partic.
 NIPH. be destroyed 1.

TSADAQ תְּסָדָק f.
 be just 3 be justified 1 be righteous 10 justify self 1
 be cleansed 1.
Partic.
 NIPH. justify 5.
 do justice 1 justify 9
 turn 1
 righteousness 1.
 clear selves 1.
Partic.
 HITHP. clear selves 1.
TSADDIQ תְּסָדִיק f.
 just 41 lawful 1 righteous (man) 164.
Partic.
 †HOPL. partic. (with tob)
 fine 1.
TRAHAL תְּרָחַל f.
 bellow 1 cry aloud 1
 neigh 1 rejoice 1 cry aloud 1
 cry out 1
 lift up 1 shout 1.
Partic.
 HIPH. make to shine 1.
TSAHAR <sup>1</sup> תְּסָהָר f.
 make oil 1.
TSAHOB <sup>1</sup> תְּסָהוֹב f.
 yellow 3.
TSAPH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָפֵה f.
 vail 3.
TSAIR <sup>1</sup> תְּסָאִיר f.
 least 4
 little 3
 little one 2 small 1 small one 1 younger 6 youngest 3.
 †young (with le-yamid) 1; younger (with le-yamid)
 1.
TSALA <sup>1</sup> תְּסָלָה f.
 halt 4.
TSALAH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָלָה f.
 roast 3.
TSALAT <sup>1</sup> תְּסָלַת f.
 quiver 1
 tingle 3.
TSALAT <sup>2</sup> תְּסָלַת f.
 sink 1.
TSALAL <sup>1</sup> תְּסָלַל f.
 begin to be dark
 1.
Partic.
 HIPH. pt. shadowing 1.
TSALEACH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָלַח f.
 be good 1
 be meet 1 be profitable 1 break out 1
 come 6
 come mightily 2 go over 1 prosper 11 *prosperously 1.
 cause to prosper 1 make prosperous 1 make to prosper
 2 prosper 29
 prosperously effect 1 send prosperity
 1.
Partic.
 PIEL. prosperous 1.
TSALI <sup>1</sup> תְּסָלִי f.
 roast 3.
TSALLACHATH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָלַחַת f.
 bosom 2
 dish 1.
TSALMAVETH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָלְמָוֶת f.
 shadow of death 13.
TSAMA <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמָה f.
 thirst 15
 *thirsty 1.

TSAMACH תְּסָמַח f. be grown up 1 bring forth 1 grow 4 grow up 1 spring 2 spring forth 3 spring up 2.
 be grown 2 grow again 1. bear 1
 bring forth 1
 bud 1 cause to bud forth 1 cause to grow 1 cause to grow up 1 cause to spring forth 3
 make to bud 2 make to grow 1
 spring up 1.
Partic.
 NIPH. be joined 1
 join self 2.
PUAL pt.
 fastened 1.
 frame 1.
TSAMAH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמָה f.
 thirst 1.
TSAMAQ <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמָק f.
 dry 1.
TSAMATH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמָת f.
 cut off 1.
 he cut off 1
 vanish 1.
Partic.
 PIEL. consume 2.
 cut off 1.
 cut off 5
 destroy 5.
TSAME <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמֵה f.
 be athirst 2 be thirsty 1 suffer thirst 1
 thirst 5.
TSAME <sup>2</sup> תְּסָמֵה f.
 that thirsteth 1
 thirsty 7
 *thirst 1.
TSAMID <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמִיד f.
 bracelet 6
 covering 1.
TSAMMAH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמָמָה f.
 locks 4.
TSAMMIM <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמִימִם f.
 robber 2.
TSAMMERETH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָמְרֶת f. highest branch 1 top 3.
TSANA <sup>1</sup> תְּסָנָה f.
 Pass pt. lowly 1.
 HIPH. *humbly 1.
TSANACH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָנַח f.
 fasten 1
 light 2.
TSANAM <sup>1</sup> תְּסָנָם f.
 Pass pt. withered 1.
TSANAPH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָנַף f.
 violently turn 1
 *be attired 1
 Adv. inf. surely 1.
TSANIPH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָנִיף f.
 diadem 2 hood 1
 mitre 1.
TSANTAROTH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָנְתָרוֹת f.
 pipes 1.
TSAPHAD <sup>1</sup> תְּסָפָד f.
 cleave 1.
TSAPHAH <sup>1</sup> תְּסָפָה f.
 behold 2
 keep the watches 1 look 1 look well 1 wait for 1 watch 3
 watchman 17.
Partic.
 PIEL. cover 4 espy 1 garnish 1 look 1 look up 1 overlay 39 watch 3
 watchman 2.
 covered 1
 overlaid 1.

† Inexact translations, e.g., of noun by verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                          |                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TSAPHAM <sup>2</sup> צָפָה f.*swim 1.                                                                                                                                                                        | Partic.finer 5founder 5goldsmith 5.pure 2.be tried 1.refiner 1.                                                                                                                    | TSABA <sup>1</sup> צָבָאInf.will (sb.) 9.will (n.) 1.                                                                          | TSALA <sup>2</sup> צָלָהadversity 1.halting 1.halt 1. | TSIMAH צִמָּה f.thirst 1.                                                | TSOHAR צֹהַרmidday 1.noon 1.noonday 20.window 1.                                                                             |
| TSAPHAN צָפָןbe privily set 1.esteem 1.hide 9.hide selves 1.keep secretly 1.lay up 8.lurk privily 2.                                                                                        | Pass. pt.NIPH. be hid 1.PIEL pt. be hid 1.be hidden 2.hide 2.                                                                                                                              | TSEBA <sup>2</sup> צָבָעPAEL be wet 4.HITHP. be wet 4.                                                                                    | TSELACH צָלַחHAPH. promote 1.prosper 3.                   | TSIMMAON צִמְמוֹןdrought 1.dry ground 1.thirsty land 1.                 | TSOM צֹםfast 16.fasting 9.                                                                                                           |
| Pass. pt.hid 1.hid treasure 1.hidden one 1.secret 1.secret place 1.be hid 1.be hidden 2.hide 2.                                                                                         | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEBI <sup>2</sup> צָבִיroebuck 5.                                                                                                            | TSELACHAH צָלַחַה f.pan 1.                             | TSIMMUQIM צִמְמוּקִים pl.bunches of raisins 2.clusters of raisins 2. | TSON צָאןcattle 14.flocks 137.lamb 1.sheep 108.small cattle 1.                                                           |
| TSAPHAPH צָפַףchatter 1.peep 2.whisper 1.                                                                                                                                                                   | Pual pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1.                              | TSEBU צָבֹו f.purpose 1.                                                                                                               | TSELEL צָלַלshadow 4.                                         | TSINNAH <sup>1</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | TSONE צֹנָה (?)sheep 1.                                                                                                                  |
| TSAPHAR צָפַרdepart early 1.                                                                                                                                                                                        | Partic.Inf. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1.    | TSECHIACH צָחִיחַhigher place 1.top 4.                                                                                                    | TSELEM צָלַםimage 16.vain shew 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>2</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | TSONEH צֹנֶהsheep 1.                                                                                                                     |
| TSAPHIA צָפִיָּהdung 1.                                                                                                                                                                                             | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSECHICHAH צָחִיחָה f.dry land 1.                                                                                                      | TSELEL צָלַלshadow 4.                                         | TSINNAH <sup>3</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | TSOR צָרflint 1.sharp stone 1.                                                                                                       |
| TSAPHIR צָפִירgoat 2.he goat 1.                                                                                                                                                                                 | Partic.Inf. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1.    | TSECHIQ צָחִיקlaughter 1.                                                                                                                     | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>4</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | TSOREPHI צֹרֶפֶיgoldsmith 1.                                                                                                             |
| the goat (with pl. of ez) 4.                                                                                                                                                                                            | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSECHIQ צָחִיקlaughter 1.                                                                                                                     | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>5</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | TSORI צֹרִיbalm 6.                                                                                                                       |
| TSAPHITH צָפִית f.watchtower 1.                                                                                                                                                                              | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDA צָדָהmeat 1.provision 2.victuals 6.                                                                                             | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>6</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | TSUD צָדchase 1.hunt 9.take 2.                                                                                                   |
| TSAPHON צָפֹן c.north 113.north side 12.north wind 1.northward 24.northern (mits-tsaphon) 1.                                                                                                 | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>7</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | Adv. inf.POEL hunt 4.HITHP. take 1.                                                                                                  |
| TSAPHTSAPHAH צָפְפִּיתwillow tree 1.                                                                                                                                                                                | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>8</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | TSULAH צָלָה f.deep 1.                                                                                                            |
| TSAPPACHATH צָפַחַתcruse 7.                                                                                                                                                                                         | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>9</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                    | TSUM צָמfast 19.at all 1.fast (with tsum) 1.                                                                                     |
| TSAPPICHITH צָפַחִיתwafer 1.                                                                                                                                                                                        | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>10</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSUPH <sup>1</sup> צָפֹהflow 1.                                                                                                          |
| TSAR <sup>1</sup> צָר (צָר)close 1.narrow 1.small 1.strait 3.adversity 1.affliction 3.anguish 1.distress 5.sorrow 1.tribulation 1.trouble 15.the afflicted (with le) 1. | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>11</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | HITHP. make to over-flow 1.swim 1.                                                                                                   |
| TSAR <sup>2</sup> צָר (צָר)adversary 28.enemy 38.foe 2.they that trouble 1.those that trouble 1.                                                                                                    | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>12</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSUPH <sup>2</sup> צָפֹהhoneycomb (with debash) 1.See nopheth.                                                                       |
| TSAR <sup>3</sup> צָרflint 1.                                                                                                                                                                                       | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>13</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSUQ <sup>2</sup> צָקpour out 1.be molten 1.                                                                                         |
| TSARA צָרָהleper 4.leprosy 1.                                                                                                                                                                                   | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>14</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSUQAH צָקָה f.anguish 3.                                                                                                         |
| PUAL pt.leper 10.leprosy 5.                                                                                                                                                                                     | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>15</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSUR <sup>1</sup> צָרassault 1.beset 1.besiege 21.lay siege 3.adversary 1.                                               |
| TSARAATH צָרָת f.leprosy 35.                                                                                                                                                                                 | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>16</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSUR <sup>2</sup> צָרcast 1.fashion 1.                                                                                               |
| TSARAB צָרַבbe burned 1.                                                                                                                                                                                            | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>17</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSUR <sup>3</sup> צָר (= TSA-RAR)bind 2.bind up 1.distress 3.fortify 1.inclose 1.put up in bag 1.                |
| TSARACH צָרַחcry 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                 | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>18</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSUR <sup>4</sup> צָרedge 1.mighty one 1.rock 62.stone 1.strength 5.God 1.mighty God 1.sharp 2.strong 1. |
| HITHP. roar 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                          | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>19</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   | TSURAH צָרָהform 4.                                                                                                                      |
| TSARAH <sup>1</sup> צָרָה f.adversity 5.affliction 7.anguish 5.distress 7.tribulation 3.trouble 44.                                                                                      | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>20</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   |                                                                                                                                                     |
| TSARAH <sup>2</sup> = TSAR <sup>2</sup> .                                                                                                                                                                               | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>21</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   |                                                                                                                                                     |
| TSARAPH צָרַףcast 1.melt 2.purge away 1.refine 2.try 4.be refined 1.be tried 1.                                                                                                             | PIEL pt.HITHP. being bound up 1.bound 1.bound up 1.shut up 1.bound up 1.be in affliction 1.besiege 4.bring distress 1.distress 1.vex 1.pangs 1.distress 1. | TSEDAQAH צָדָקָה f.justice 15.right 2.righteous act 3.righteousness 128.that which is right 7.righteously (pl.) 1. | TSELOCHITH צָלַחִית f.cruse 1.                         | TSINNAH <sup>22</sup> צִנָּה f.hook 1.                                   |                                                                                                                                                     |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|---------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TSUTH צִוִּיתHIPH. burn 1. | UD <sup>2</sup> עָרַךְPIEL take to witness 1.HIPH. admonish 1.bear witness against 1.be witness 1.call to record 2.call to witness 1.charge 2.give warning 1.give witness to 1.protest 5.take [witness] 1.take to record 1.take to witness 1.for 1.testify 14.witness 1.earnestly 1.solemnly 2.be testified 1.lift up 1.relieve 1.HITHPAL. stand upright 1.UG עָנָהbake 1.UGAB עָנָה (עָנָה) f.organ 4.UGAH עָנָה (עָנָה) f.cake 6.cake upon the hearth 1.UGGAB = UGAB.UGGAH = UGAH.UL <sup>1</sup> אֵלmighty 1.strength 1.UL <sup>2</sup> עָלָהPartic. ewes great with young 1.milch 2.with young 1.UL <sup>3</sup> עָלָהinfant 1.sucking child 1.ULAI אֵלֵי (אֵלֵי)if 1.may be peradventure unless.ULAM <sup>1</sup> אֵלָםporch 34.ULAM <sup>2</sup> אֵלָםas for 1.but 7.but truly 4.howbeit 1.in very deed 2.surely 2.wherefore 1.ULPEH עָלָהfainted 1.UMLAL עָלָהweak 1.UMMAH אֵמָהnation 8.UMMATH עָמָה f.le-ummath: against 5.answerable to 1, at 1, be-side 2, hard by 1, overagainst 10. mil-le-um-math: over against 1.See kol.UMMIM אֵמִים (אֵמִים) pl.nations 1.people 2.UMMOTH = UMMIM.UMNAM אֵמָםindeed 2.in very deed 1.of 1. surety 1.UPH עָפָהbe faint 1.be weary 1.flee away 1.fly 14.fly away 4.shine forth 1.wax faint 1.brandish 1.fly 4.HITHPOL. fly away 1.UQ עָקַעHIPH. be pressed 2. | UR <sup>1</sup> אָרַרfire 5.light 1.urim (pl.) 7.UR <sup>2</sup> עָרַרarise 1.awake 16.awake up 1.dare stir up 1.wake 1.Partic. master 1.NIPH. be raised 2.be raised up 3.be awakened 2.lift up 3.raise up 4.stir up 4.awake 3.raise 3.raise up 6.stir up 15.stir up self 1.wake 2.wake up 1.waken 2.HITHPOL. awake 1.lift up self 1.stir up self 2.UR <sup>3</sup> עָרַרNIPH. be made naked 1.UR עָרַרchaff 1.URAVOTH אֲרוֹת (אֲרוֹת) f. pl.stalls 3.URAYOTH =URAVOTH.USH עָשָׂהassemble selves 1.USHSHARNA אֲשַׁרְנָהwall 2.USHSHIN אֲשַׁשִּׁין pl.foundations 3.UTH עָמַדspeak in season 1.UTS <sup>1</sup> אָצַקbe narrow 1.haste 3.hasten 1.make haste 1.hasty 2.hasten 1.labour 1.UTS <sup>2</sup> עָצַקtake advice 1.take counsel together (with etsah) 1.UZ עָזַרHIPH. gather 1.gather selves 1.gather selves to flee 1.retire 1.VVA <sup>1</sup> וָאand freq., etc.VAHEB וָהֶבֶטwhat he did 1.VALAD וָלָדchild 1.VAV וָוhook 13.VAZAR וָזָרstrange 1.VE <sup>1</sup> וֵעand freq., etc.VELED וָלֵדchild 1.YYAAB אָבַחlong 1.YAAD אָדָהappoint 3.betroth 2.assemble selves 1.be agreed 1.be assembled 3.be gathered to-gether 1. | be met together 1.gather selves 1.gather selves to-gether 1.make an appoint-ment 1.meet 9.appoint = time 2.set a time 1.be set 1.HIPH. appertain 1.HOPH. sweep away 1.YAAB <sup>1</sup> אָבַחbecome fools 1.be foolish 1.do foolishly 1.dote 1.YAAB <sup>2</sup> אָבַחassay 1.be content 7.begin 1.please 4.take upon 2.would 3.willingly 4.YAAL <sup>3</sup> אָלָהHIPH. be profitable 1.can do good 1.have profit 2.profit 17.set forward 1.at all 1.Adv. inf. f. YAALAH אָלָה f.roe 1.YAAN אָנָהbecause 1.because that forasmuchseeing then, etc.f. because (with asher 2, with ki 2) 4; forasmuch as (with asher 1, with ki 3) 4; that (with asher) 1; whereas (with asher) 1; why (with meh) 1.YAANAH אָנָה f.f. See bath 1.YAAPH אָפָהbe weary 1.faint 4.weary self 2.be caused to fly 1.HOPH. away 1.dry up 1.make dry 1.be dried up 2.be withered 1.be withered 1.away 1.dry up 1.make dry 1.YAAR <sup>1</sup> אָרַרforest 38.wood 19.YAAR <sup>2</sup> אָרַרhoneycomb 1.YAARAH <sup>1</sup> אָרָהforest 1.YAARAH <sup>2</sup> אָרָה f.honeycomb (with debash) 1.YAASH אָשָׁהNIPH. be no hope 3.despair 1.Partic. one that is des-perate 1.PIEL cause to despair 1.YAAT אָעָהcover 1.YAATS אָעָהadvertise 1.consult 3.counsel 6.determine 2.devise 1.give [counsel] 6.give counsel 3.guide 1.purpose 5.take counsel 5.counsel 1.counselor 22.advise 1.NIPH. consult 5.give advice 1.give counsel 2.take a vice 1.take counsel 9.well advised 1.consult 1.Partic. HITHPOL. Niph. pt. fierce 1.YABAB אָבַבPIEL cry 1. | YABAL <sup>1</sup> יָבַלHIPH. bring 1.carry 1.lead 1.HOPH. be brought 6.be brought forth 1.be carried 3.be led forth 1.stream 1.watercourse (with mayim) 1.YABAM <sup>1</sup> יָבָםhusband's brother 2.YABAM <sup>2</sup> יָבָםPIEL marry 1.perform the duty of a husband's brother 2.YABASH יָבֵשׁHIPH. be ashamed 7.be confounded 9.do shamefully 1.shame 1.YABBAL יָבָלhaving = wen 1.YABBASHAH יָבֵשׁה f.dry ground 1.dry land 1.land 1.dry 10.YABBESHETH יָבֵשׁה f.dry land 2.YABBESHETH יָבֵשׁה f.earth 1.YABESH יָבֵשׁbe dried 2.be dried up 10.be withered 3.be withered 1.away 1.dry 2.dry up 4.wither 16.clean 1.utterly 1.dry 1.dry up 1.make dry 1.be dried up 2.be withered 1.be withered 1.away 1.dry up 1.make dry 1.YABESH <sup>2</sup> יָבֵשׁdried 1.dried away 1.dry 7.YACHAD יָחַדbe joined 2.be united 1.unite 1.PIEL YACHAD יָחַד (יָחַד)alike 5.altogether 5.at all 1.at once 1.bo' h' 1.knit 1.likewise 1.only 1.together 120.withal 2.YACHAL יָחַלNIPH. stay 1.wait 1.PIEL cause to hope 1.hope 13.make to hope 1.trust 1.wait 7.hope 6.have hope 1.tarry 3.wait 4.be pained 1.YACHAM יָחַםbe hot 1.be warm 1.conceive 1.get heat 1.conceive 1.YACHAS יָחַסHITHPOL. be reckoned by genealogies 5.be reckoned by genealogy 5. | genealogy reckoned 2.genealogy 6.number after [their] gene-alogy 1.number through-out the gene-alogy 1.YACHAS <sup>2</sup> יָחַסgenealogy 1.YACHAD V =YACHAD <sup>2</sup>YACHEPH יָחֵףbarefoot 4.being unshod 1.YACHID יָחִידdarling 1.desolate 1.only 6.only child 1.only son 1.solitary 1.YACHIL יָחִילshould hope 1.YACHMUR יָחֲמַרfallow deer 1.YAD יָדaxletree 1.border 2.charge 1.coast 6.custody 4.debt 1.dominion 1.force 2.hand freq. 1.labour 1.ledge 2.means 4.mess (pl.) 1.ministry 2.order 2.ordinance 1.parts 4.jaw 2.place 8.power 13.service (du) 1.sore 1.state 1.stay 4.stroke 5.tenon 5.times 2.work 1.throwing 1.where 1.tability (with Hiph. of nasag) 1; be fallen in decay (with mut) 1; find occasion (with mat-sa) 1; occasion serves (with matsa) 1; of [his] bounty (ke-yad) 1; pre-sumptuously (be-yad ramah) 1; the Lord hath sworn (yad al kes Yah) 1; wayside (with derek 1, with magal 1) 2; with (al yede) 1. See al <sup>2</sup> , atsil, baal, be, bohen, chazaq, el, itter, le, maash, male, maqqah, mattanah, mattath, min, nasa, nathan, rachab, shever, tesumeth. Freq. trans. at by Eng. pro-noun alone when a poss. adj. qualifies it (he, him, she, us, them, etc.).YAD יָדhand 16.power 1.YADA יָדָהacknowledge 1.advise 1.be aware 1.be privy to 1.be sure 5.can [not] 1.can discern 3.can have 1.can skill 3.can tell 6.comprehend 1.consider 7.could 2.discern 4.feel 3.have [know] ledge 2. |
|---------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| have [under-standing] 2have knowledge 10have respect 1know 662mark 3perceive 18regard 1take knowledge 3understand 7will 1wit 7wit 2wot 6*be known 1*knowledge 1.acquaintance 1cunning 4endued with 2man of skill 1of knowledge 1skilful 1such as are skil-ful 1Pass. pt. acquainted with 1known 2knowledge 1.assuredly 1certainly 6diligent 1for a certain 1for a certainty 1for certain 1.be discovered 1be famous 1be instructed 1be known 34make self known 4.cause to know 1.appoint 1.acquaintance 4familiar friend 1kinsfolk 1.acknowledge 1answer 1cause to discern 1cause to know 1declare 6give knowledge 1let know 2make know 1make known 17make to be known 1shew 17teach 8tell 2.Partic. prognosticator 1.HOPH. be known 1come to know-ledge 1.HITHP. make self known 2†KAL *at unawares (lo yada) 1; be ignorant (lo yada) 3; be learned (with sepher) 3; come to understanding (with binah) 1; lie by man (with mishkab) 1. | PIEL make to labour 1weary 1.HITHP. weary 4YAGA 2*which he laboured for 1.YAGAB 2Partu. husbandman 2.YAGAH 1NIPH. be afflicted 1be sorrowful 1.PIEL afflict 1HITHP. cause grief 1vex 1.YAGAH 2HITHP. be removed 1YAGEA 2full of labour 1weary 2.YAGIA 2weary 1.YAGON 2grief 2sorrow 1.YAGOR 2be afraid 5fear 2.YAHAB 2scribe 1bring 2come on 1give 24go to 4set 1take 1burden 1.YAHAD 2HITHP. become Jews 1.YAHALOM 2diamond 3.YAHIR 2haughty 1proud 2.YAIM 2pl. shovels 9.YAKACH 2NIPH. be reproved 1dispute 1reason together 1.HITHP. appoint 2argue 1chasten 1convince 1correct 3judge 1maintain 1plead 1reason 2rebuke 13reprove 23daysman 1reprover 1correction 1.Adv. inf. in any wise 1surely 1be chastened 1.HITHP. plead 1.YAKOL 2attain 1be able 44can 53can away with 1could 47endure 3have power 1may 18overcome 1prevail 22suffer 1.Adv. inf. any at all 1any ways 1still 1.YALA 2devour 1.YALAD 2be delivered 1be delivered of 1child 1bear 153beget 28bring forth 19bring forth chil-dren 1bring forth young 1 | bring up 1calve 1gender 1hatch 1travall 4travall with 1child 2*be born 1.Partic. travelling woman 2woman in tra-vail 8woman that tra-vaileth 2.Pass. pt. born of 3child 2children 1.Inf. birth 1labour 2time of delivery 1travall 2.be begotten 1be born 13be brought forth 1be the son of 1come 1.one's birth 1.do the office of a midwife 1.midwife 9.be born 26be brought forth 1be brought up 1.beget 18bring forth 1cause to bring forth 1make to bring forth 1.be born 1.HITHP. declare pedi-gree 1.†See yom.YALAK 2 (= HALAK)be gone 10be let down 1come 80come away 1depart 66flow 3gain 1get (thee, him, etc.) 28get away 3get hence 1go 63go away 11go (one's) way 9go on 2go out 1go to 1go up 1go up and down 1grow 1march 2prosper 1run 1pread 1take (journey) 1vanish 1walk 123wax 1*be weak 1Imperat. away 1.HITHP. bear 1bring 12carry 5carry away 1cause to go 1cause to run 1cause to walk 1go 1lead 17lead forth 1make go 1take away 1.†KAL follow (with achar) 20; pursue (with achare) 1.Inf. following (with achar) 2. See shub.YALAL 2HITHP. be howlings 1howl 28make to howl 1.YALDAH 2damsel 1girl 2.YALEDH 2childhood 1youth 2. | YALID 2born 6child 4son 3.thornhorn (with hayth) 1.YALLEPHETH 2scabbed 2.YALQUT 2scrip 1.YAM 2sea 280south 1west 69west side 1western 1westward 3*seafaring man 1.†Red Sea (with suph) 25.YAM 23.YAMAN 2go on the right hand 1go to the right 1turn to the right hand 1use the right hand 1.YAMAR 2HITHP. change 1.HITHP. boast selves 1.YAMIM = pl. of YOM.YAMIMAH = accus. of YAMIM.YAMIN 2right (hand, side) 134south 3.†See iter.YANAH 2destroy 1.Partic. oppressing 3oppressor 1proud 1.HITHP. do wrong 1oppress 8thrust out by oppression 14.YANAQ 2suck 9.Partic. sucking child 3suckling 6.HITHP. give suck 4make to suck 1nurse 32.Partic. nurse 1nurse 5nursing mother 1.YANSHUPH 2great owl 2owl 1.YAPHA 2HITHP. be light 1cause to shine 2shew self 1shine 2shine forth 1.YAPHACH 2HITHP. bewail self 1.YAPHAN 2be beautiful 1be fair 3.PIEL deck 1.PUAL be fairer 1.HITHP. make self fair 1.YAPHEACH 2such as breathe out 1.YAPHEH 2beautiful 1comely 1fair 21fair one 2fairest 2pleasant 1.†beautiful (with toar) 2;fair (with toar) 1;for his beauty (with ish) 1;goudly (with toar) 2;well favoured (with maren 4, with toar 1) 5.YAQA 2be alienated 2be out of joint 1depart 1. | HITHP. hang 1hang up 2.HOPH. be hanged 1.ZAQAD 2burn 2kindle 1hearth 1.HOPH. be burning 3burn 2.YAQAR 2be precious 7be prized 1be set by 1.HITHP. make precious 1withdraw 1.YAQAR 2clear 1costly 4excellent 1honourable 1woman 1in brightness 1in reputation 1precious 25.YAQATS 2awake 10be awakened 1.YAQOSH 2fowler 1.YAQOSH 2lay (a snare) 1lay a snare 1fowler 1be snared 4.HITHP. pt. snared 1.YAQQIR 2dear 1.YAQQIR 2noble 1rare 1.YAQUSH 2fowler 1snare 1.YARA 1 = YARAH.YARA 2be grievous 1.YARAD 2be gone down 12be subdued 1come down 103descend 19fall 2get down 9go down 148go downward 1light 1light down 1run down 1sink 1.Adv. inf. indeed 1.HITHP. bring down 10carry down 1cast down 4cause run down 1cause to come down 1hang down 1let down 1let fall down 1let go down 1let run down 1put down 1put off 1take down 7.HOPH. be brought down 1be taken down 1†KAL weep abundantly (with bi-beki) 1.YARAH 2cast 4lay 1shoot 8.Partic. archer 1shooter 1[See yoreh].Adv. inf. through 1.NIPH. be shot 1.HITHP. cast 1direct 1inform 1instruct 1rain 1shew 1shoot 10teach 46.HOPH. be watered 1.†Hithp. part. archers (with baq qesheth 1, with anashim baq qesheth 1) 2. | YARAQ 2spit 2.Adv. inf. but 1.YARQA 2green 2herbs 3.YARASH 2be heir 5enjoy 2get in possession 1have in posses-sion 1inherit 21possess 112succeed 4take 1take possession 2.Partic. heir 5inheritor 1.NIPH. be poor 1come to poverty 1.PIEL consume 1.HITHP. cast out 1destroy 1disinherit 1dispossess 4drive out 37expel 1give to inherit 1give to possess 1leave for an in-heritance 1make poor 1make to possess 1possess 1size upon 1.Adv. inf. utterly 2without fail 1.†KAL, partic. magistrate (with etser) 1.YARAT 2be perverse 1turn over 1.YARE 2be afraid 76dread 1fear 242reverence 2*see 1.Partic. afraid 3fearful 2.NIPH. be feared 4be had in rever-ence 1.Partic. dreadful 1fearful 2fearfully 1reverend 1terrible 24terrible acts 1terribleness 1terrible things 4.PIEL affright 1make afraid 2put in fear 2.YAREACH 2moon 26.YAREK 2body 1loins 1shaft 3side 7thigh 21.YAREKAH 2border 1coasts 1parts 2quarters 1sides 21.YAREKAH 2thigh 1.YARIB 2that contend 1that contendeth 1that strive 1.YAROQ 2green thing 1.YASAD 2establish 1found 7lay the founda-tion 10.NIPH. foundation be laid 1take counsel 1. |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| YEREQ יָרֵקgrass 1green 3green thing 2.                                                                                 | YIDDEONI יִדְעֹנִיwizard 11.                                                                | pl. of shanah and chalyim 1; yearly (miy-yamim yamimah) 4; yesterday (with ethmol) 1. Kol hay-yamim: away 4, always 4, ever 3, evermore 1, for ever 18, perpetually 2. See arak, dabar, kabbir, natah, qasheh, tsair, zaqen. | HIPH. assemble 1call 1cause to be proclaimed 1cry 1gather together 1make to cry 1.      | make to be remembered 2mention 1put in remembrance 1record 2remember 4reorder 9.                            | commit whore-dom 3make to go a whoring 2.Inf. whoredom 1.Adv. inf. continually 1.†KAL go to commit whoredom with (with achare) 1. Partic. harlot (with ishshah) 4; whore (with ishshah) 1. |
| YERESHAH יִרְשָׁה f.possession 2.                                                                                               | YIPHAH יִפְּהָה f.brightness 2.                                                             | YIQQEHAH יִקְּהָה f.gathering 1to obey 1.                                                                                                                                                                            | ZAFAVAH זָאֵפָה f.removed 6.                                                                            | ZAKAR זָכָרmale 67man 7man child 5mankind 2him 1.                                                    | ZANAQ זָנָקleap 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| YERIAH יִרְיָה f.curtain 53.                                                                                                    | YIRAH יִרָּא f.fear 42fearfulness 1dreadful 1.                                      | †exceedingly (with gadol) 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ZABACH זָבַחdo sacrifice 6kill 5offer 37sacrifice 65slay 5.offer 2sacrifice 20. | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. be male 1.                                                                                          | ZAQAN זָקָן c.beard 19.                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| YERUSHAH יִרְשָׁה f.heritage 1inheritance 2possession 11.                                                               | YISHRAH יִשְׂרָה f.uprightness 1.                                                           | YISSOR יִסֹּר*instruct 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                | ZABAD זָבַדendure 1.                                                                                    | ZAKUR זָכַרinnocency 1.                                                                                              | ZAQAPH זָקַףraise 1raise up 1.                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| YESAPH יִסַּףHOPH. be added 1.                                                                                                  | YITHRAH יִתְרָה f.abundance 1riches 1.                                                  | YITHRON יִתְרוֹן f.excellency 1profit 6*excel 2*profitable 1.                                                                                                                                                | ZABAL זָבַלdwell with 1.                                                                                | ZALAL זָלַלPartic. glutton 2riotous 1riotous eater 1vile 2.flow down 2.                       | ZAQAZ זָקַזfine 1pour down 1.                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| YESHA יִשָּׂאsafety 3salvation 32saving 1.                                                                              | YITSHAR יִתְשָׂרoil 22.                                                                     | †not be better (en yithron le) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                            | ZACHACH זָחַחNIPH. be loosed 2.                                                                         | ZALAPHAH זָלַפָּה f.horror 1*horrible 1*terrible 1.                                                          | ZAQEN זָקֵןbe aged man 1be old 21be old man 1wax old 2.wax old 1.                                                                                                                                    |
| YESHACH יִשָּׁחcasting down 1.                                                                                                  | YITSHAR יִתְשָׂרoil 22.                                                                     | †See ben.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ZACHAL זָחַלPartic. be afraid 1serpent 1worm 1.                                          | ZALZALLIM זָלְזַלְלִים pl.sprigs 5.                                                                                  | ZAQEN זָקֵןaged 3ancient 12ancient man 1elder 115eldest 1old 21old man 19old men and old women (pl.) 1senator 1.                                                                     |
| YESHIMON יִשְׁמֹןdesert 4solitary 1wilderness 2.                                                                        | YITTEH יִתֵּן = NATHAN.                                                                         | YOBEL יוֹבֵל c.jubilee 21ram's (horn) 1rams' horn 4trumpet 1.                                                                                                                                                | ZADON זָדוֹןpride 6*most proud 1*proud 1*thou most proud 1.                                 | ZAMAM זָמַםconsider 1devise 3imagine 1plot 1purpose 2think 4think evil 1.                    | †elder (with le-yamim) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| YESHUAH יִשְׁעָה f.deliverance 3health 1help 3helping 1salvation 63saving health 1welfare 1*save 3. | YITTEH יִתֵּן = NATHAN.                                                                         | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                              | ZADON זָדוֹןpresumptuously (be-zadon) 1.                                                                | ZAMAM זָמַםwicked device 1.                                                                                          | ZARA זָרָאloathsome 1.                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| YESOD יְסוֹדbottom 2foundation 10repairing 1.                                                                           | YOBEL יוֹבֵל c.jubilee 21ram's (horn) 1rams' horn 4trumpet 1.                   | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAG זָגhusk 1.                                                                                          | ZAMAN זָמַןNIPH. appointed 3.                                                                                        | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YESUD יִשְׁדּוּ*began 1.                                                                                                        | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAHAB זָהָבfair weather 1gold 330*golden 36.                                                    | ZAMAN זָמַןNIPH. appointed 3.                                                                                        | Partic. *bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| YESUDAH יִשְׁדָּה f.foundation 1.                                                                                               | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAHAM זָהַםPIEL. abhor 1.                                                                               | ZAMAR זָמַרprune 2.be pruned 1.give praise 1sing 12sing forth 1sing praises 29sing psalms 2. | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETAB יֵטֵבseem good 1.                                                                                                         | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAHAR זָהַרNIPH. be admonished 2be warned 3take warning 1.shine 1teach 1warn 9.     | ZAMIR זָמִירsinging 1.                                                                                               | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETHER יֵתֵרexcellency 3remnant 14residue 8rest 63that . . . hath left 3what they leave 1*excellent 1.  | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAK זָקclean 1pure 9.                                                                               | ZAMMAR זָמָרsinger 1.                                                                                                | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| As adv. exceeding 1.plentifully (al2 yether) 1.See gadol.                                                                   | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAH זָכָהbe clean 2be clear 1count pure 1.cleanse 2make clean 1.make clean 1.     | ZAN זָןdivers kinds (pl.) 1.tall manner of store (miz-zan el zan) 1.                                             | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETHER יֵתֵרcord 1string 1withs (pl.) 3.                                                                                | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAK זָכַקbe clean 1be pure 2.make clean 1.                                                    | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETHIB יָתֵבbe set 1dwell 1sit 2.                                                                                       | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| HAPH. set 1.                                                                                                                        | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETHUR יֵתֵרrange 1.                                                                                                            | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETSA יָצָאSHAPH. be finished 1.                                                                                                | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETSEB יָצַבPAEL inf. truth 1.                                                                                                  | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETSER יָצַרflame 1imagination 5mud 1thing framed 1work 1.                                                      | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETSUQAH יִצְקָה f.*be cast 1.                                                                                                  | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YETSURIM יִצְרִים pl.members 1.                                                                                                 | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |
| YEZA יָצָאanything that causeth sweat 1.                                                                                        | YOM יוֹםday 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1. | Plur. day 1167.time (s. and pl.) 65weather 1*daily 2*remain 1*when 1.                                                                                                                                    | ZAKAR זָכָרNIPH. make clean 1.                                                                          | ZANAB זָנַבkind 4.tail 11.                                                                                       | ZARA זָרָאset 1sow 41.sower 2*bearing 1.                                                                                                                                                                 |

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by ■ passive.

* Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

INDEX-LEXICON TO THE NEW TESTAMENT

NOTE.—The system followed in this Lexicon is similar to that which precedes, except that marginal renderings are included. They are added in brackets and preceded by = capital M. Under verbs MID. stands for Middle, = form generally reflexive or reciprocal. PASS. stands for Passive.

|                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ABARES ἀβ-ρήs*from beingburdensome 1.                                                                                      | ADIAPHTHORIA ἀ-διφθορία f.uncorruptness 1.                                                                                    | AGANAKTĒSIS ἀγαν-ἀκτησις f.indignation 1.                                                                 | AGNOEMA ἀγνόημαn.error 1.                                                                                  | AGRUPNEŌ ἀγρυπνέωwatch 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | †With psuchē: make todoubt (M. hold in sus-pense) 1.                                        |
| ABBA ἀββᾶ (ἄββᾶ)abba 3.                                                                                                        | ADIKĒMA ἀδικημα n.evil doing 1iniquity 1matter of wrong1.                                                             | AGAPAO ἀγαπάωlove 135beloved 7.                                                                           | AGNOEO ἀγνοέωbe ignorant 7know not 4understand not                                                     | AGRUPNIA ἀγρυπνίαf.watching 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | AISCHROKERĒSαἰσχροκερδήςgiven to filthylucres 1greedy of filthylucres 2. |
| ABUSSOS ἄβυσσος f.bottomless pit 5deep 2*bottomless 2.                                                                 | ADIKEŌ ἀδικέωbe an offender 1be unjust 1do wrong 1hurt 10injure 1wrong 2.suffer wrong 2.take wrong 1. | AGAPE ἀγάπη f.charity 27feast of charity1love 86*dear 1†charitably (kata withacc.) 1. | AGNOIA ἄγνοια f.ignorance 4.                                                                                   | AICHMALŌSIA αἰχ-μαλωσία f.captivity 3 (M.multitude ofcaptives 1).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | AISCHROKĒRĒSαἰσχροκερδήςfor filthy lucre 1                                           |
| ACHARISTOS ἀχάρι-στοςunthankful 2.                                                                                         | ADIKIA ἁδικία f.iniquity 6unrighteousness16wrong 1unjust 2.                                                       | AGAPETOS ἀγαπητόςbeloved 47dear 2dearly beloved 9well beloved 3.                                  | AGNŌIA ἄγνοια f.ignorance 4.                                                                                   | AICHMALŌTEUŌαἰχμαλωτεύωlead captive 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | AISCHROKĒRĒSαἰσχροκερδήςfor filthy lucre 1                                           |
| ACHEIROPOIETOS ἀ-χειροποίητοςmade withouthands 2not made withhands 1.                                          | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOERGEŌἀγαθοεργέωdo good 1.                                                                           | AGNŌSIA ἄγνοσίαf.ignorance 1.                                                                              | AICHMALŌTIZŌαἰχμαλωτίζωbring into cap-tivity 2lead away cap-tive 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | AISCHROLOGIAαἰσχρολογία f.filthy communi-cation 1.                               |
| ACHLUS ἀχλὺςmist 1.                                                                                                            | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIEŌἀγαθοποιέωdo good 7do well 2.                                                              | AGNŌSIS ἄγνοσιςf.ignorance 1.                                                                              | AICHMALŌTOS αἰχ-μαλωτόςcaptive 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | AISCHROS αἰσχρόςfilthy 1*a shame 3.                                                  |
| ACHREIOMAI ἀχρει-όμαιbecome unprofit-able 1.                                                                           | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGO ἄγωbring 45bring forth 2carry 1go (ἀιναίω) pers.pl. 7lead 12lead away 1.*be 1. | AIDIOS αἰδῖοςeternal 1everlasting 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | AISCHROTES αἰσχ-ρότης f.filthiness 1.                                                |
| ACHREIOS ἀχρεῖοςunprofitable 2.                                                                                                | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGŌ ἄγωbring 45bring forth 2carry 1go (ἀιναίω) pers.pl. 7lead 12lead away 1.*be 1. | AIDOS αἶδος f.reverence 1shamefacedness1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | AISCHUNOMAIαἰσχύνομαιbe ashamed 5.                                                   |
| ACHRESTOS ἀχρηστοςunprofitable 1.                                                                                              | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGŌGE ἄγωγῆ f.manner of life 1.                                                                                | AIGEIOS αἰγῖος (adj.)goat 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | AISTHANOMAIαἰσθάνομαιperceive 1.                                                     |
| ACHRI(S) ἄχριςἄχριςas far as 1as far as to 1even to 2for 2in 1into 1till 3until 14unto 13. | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGŌN ἀγώνconflict = (M.fear or care) 1.contention 1fight 2race 1.                              | AIGIALOS αἰγιαλόςshore 6.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AISTHESIS αἰσθησιςf.judgment (M.sense) 1.                                        |
| †With hou: till 4, until 2,while 2. With hou an itill 2. See deuro.                                                               | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGŌNIA ἀγώνια f.agon 1.                                                                                        | AINEŌ αἰνέωpraise 9.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | AISTHĒTERIONαἰσθητήριον n.senses (pl.) 1.                                            |
| ACHURON ἀχυρον n.chaff 2.                                                                                                      | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGŌNIZOMAI ἀγων-ίζομαιfight 3labour fervently(M. strive) 1.strive 3.                           | AINESIS αἰνεσις f.praise 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | AITEMA αἴτημα n.petition 1request 1*require 1.                                   |
| ADAPANOS ἀδάπανοςwithout charge2.                                                                                          | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORA ἀγορά f.market 6market-place 4(M. court 1)street 1.                                          | AINOS αἶνοςpraise 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | AITEŌ αἰτέωask 48beg 1call for 1crave 1desire 17require 1.           |
| ADELOS ἀδελόςuncertain 1which appearsnot 1.                                                                            | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AION αἰώνage 2beginning of theworld 1course 1world 32*eternal 2*world began 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | AITIA αἰτία f.accusation 1cause 1cause 9crime 1fault 3.                  |
| ADELŌS ἀδελόςuncertainly 1.                                                                                                    | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | †Eis with acc. 1: for ever 27,for evermore 2, ever 1,while the world standeth1. Eis with acc. jold. bygen.: for ever and ever1. Eis with acc. pl. andgen. pl.: for ever andever 20, for evermore 1.Ever (pas with pl.) 1;never (oute eis (ou méeis) with acc.) 7; worldwithout end (with gen.pl.) 1. See hēmera. | †See dia.                                                                                           |
| ADELŌTES ἀδελότηςf.*uncertain (M.uncertain); 1.                                                                        | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AIONIS αἰώνιοςeternal 42everlasting 1*for ever 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AITIAMA αἰτίημα n.complaint 1.                                                           |
| ADELPHĒ ἀδελφῆ f.sister 24.                                                                                                    | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AIONIS αἰώνιοςeternal 42everlasting 1*for ever 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AITION αἰτίον2fault 2.                                                               |
| ADELPHŌS ἀδελφόςbrother 346.                                                                                                   | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AIONIS αἰώνιοςeternal 42everlasting 1*for ever 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AITIOS αἰτίος (adj.)*author 1.                                                           |
| ADELPHŌTES ἀδελ-φότης f.brethren 1brotherhood 1.                                                                       | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AIONIS αἰώνιοςeternal 42everlasting 1*for ever 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AKAIREOMAI ἀκαίρει-όμαιlack opportunity1.                                        |
| ADEMONEŌ ἀδημονέωbe full of heaviness 1be very heavy 2.                                                                    | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AIONIS αἰώνιοςeternal 42everlasting 1*for ever 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AKAIRŌS ἀκαίριοςout of season 1                                                          |
| ADIAKRITOS ἀδιά-κριτοςwithout partiality (M. with-out wrangling)1.                                                 | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AIONIS αἰώνιοςeternal 42everlasting 1*for ever 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AKAKOS ἄκακοςharmless 1simple 1.                                                     |
| ADIALEIPTOS ἀδιά-λειπτοςcontinual 1.without ceasing1.                                                              | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AIONIS αἰώνιοςeternal 42everlasting 1*for ever 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AKANTHA ἄκανθα f.thorn(s) 14.                                                            |
| ADIALEIPTŌS ἀδια-λείπτωςwithout ceasing4.                                                                              | ADIKOS ἁδικόςunjust 8unrighteous 4.                                                                                           | AGATHOPOIŌἀγαθοποιῶdo good 7do well 2.                                                                | AGORAIS ἀγοραῖοςof the baser sort1.                                                                        | AIONIS αἰώνιοςeternal 42everlasting 1*for ever 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AKANTHINŌS ἀκάνθ-ινοςof thorns 2.                                                    |

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
■ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word ■ by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                           |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| AKATAGNŌSTOS ἀ-κατάγνωστοςthat cannot becondemned 1.                                                                                                                                                                                       | AKRATES ἀκρατήςincontinent 1.                                                                                                           | ALĒTHINOS ἀληθινόςtrue 27.                                                                                                                                              | ALOE ἄλoη f.aloes 1.                                                         | without blame 1without blemish 2                                                                                                                                                                            | ANADECHOMAI ἀνα-δέχομαιreceive 2.                                                                                          |
| AKATAKALUPTOSἀκατακάλυπτοςuncovered 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                         | AKRATOS ἀκρατοςwithout mixture 1.                                                                                                       | ALĒTHŌ ἀλήθωgrind 2.                                                                                                                                                    | ALOGOS ἄλογος (adj.)brute 1unreasonable 1.                               | without fault 1without spot (M. without fault) 1.                                                                                                                                                           | ANADEIKNUMI ἀνα-δείκνυμιappoint 1show 1.                                                                               |
| AKATAKRITOS ἀ-κατάκριτοςuncondemned 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                         | AKRIBEIA ἀκριβεία f.perfect manner 1.                                                                                                   | ALĒTHŌS ἀλήθωςindeed 6in truth 1of a surety 1of a truth 6surely 3truly 2verily 1.                                                               | ALOPEX ἀλόπηξfox 3.                                                          | AMPELŌN ἀμπελὼνvineyard 23.                                                                                                                                                                          | ANADEIXIS ἀνάδειξιςf.showing 1.                                                                                            |
| AKATALUTOS ἀκατά-λυτοςendless 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                               | AKRIBES ἀκριβήςmost straitest (super.) 1.                                                                                               | ALEURON ἄλευρον n.meal 2.                                                                                                                                               | ALUPOTEROS ἄλυπό-τεροςless sorrowful 1.                                  | AMPELOURGOS ἀμ-πελουργόςdresser of one's vineyard 1.                                                                                                                                             | ANADIDŌMI ἀνα-δίδωμιdeliver 1.                                                                                             |
| AKATAPAUSTOS ἀ-κατάπαυστοςthat cannotcease 1.                                                                                                                                                                                              | AKRIBOS ἀκριβόςcircumspectly 1diligently 2perfectly 4*perfect 2.                                                            | ALISGEMA ἀλίσγημαn.pollution 1.                                                                                                                                     | AMACHOS ἀμαχοςno brawler 1not a brawler 1.                               | AMPHIBLESTRONἀμφίβληστρον n.net 2.                                                                                                                                                               | ANAGAIŌN = AN-ŌGEON.                                                                                                          |
| AKATASCHETOS ἀ-κατάσχετοςunruly 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AKRIS ἀκρίς f.locust 4.                                                                                                                 | ALLAἀλλὰand rather 1but 72howbeit 1indeed 1pay 4nevertheless 10no 1notwithstanding 1save 2therefore 3yea 15yet 11, etc. | AMAO ἀμάωreap down 1.                                                        | AMPHIENNUMI ἀμφι-έννυμιclothe 4.                                                                                                                                                                 | ANAGGELLO ἀναγ-γέλλωdeclare 1rehearse 1report 1show 6speak of 1tell 6.                                 |
| AKATASTASIA ἀκατα-στασία f.commotion 1confusion (M. tumult or un-quietness) 1tumult 2 (M. tossing to and fro 1).                                                                                                                       | AKROATERION ἀκρο-ατήριον n.place of hearing 1.                                                                                      | ALLACHOTHEN ἀλ-λαχόθενsome other way 1.                                                                                                                             | AMARANTINOS ἀ-μαράντινοςthat fadeth notaway 1.                       | AMPHODON ἀμφοδὼνn.place where two ways meet 1.                                                                                                                                                   | ANAGENNAŌ ἀνα-γεννάωbeget again 1.PASS. be born again 1.                                                               |
| AKATASTATOS ἀ-κατάστατοςunstable 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | AKROATES ἀκροατήςhearer 4.                                                                                                              | ALLASSŌ ἀλλασσώchange 6.                                                                                                                                                | AMARANTOS ἀμά-ραντοςthat fadeth notaway 1.                           | AMPHOTEROI ἀμφό-τεροιboth 14.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGNŌSKŌ ἀνα-γινώσκωread 33.                                                                                              |
| AKATHARSIA ἀκαθ-αρσία f.uncleanness 10.                                                                                                                                                                                                        | AKROBUSTIA ἀκρο-βυστία f.uncircumcision 16.†uncircumcised (en with dat.) 2; though not circumcised (dia with gen.) 1. See echo. | ALLACHOTHEN ἀλ-λαχόθενsome other way 1.                                                                                                                             | AMARTUROS ἀμαρ-τυροςwithout witness 1.                                   | AMUNOMAI ἀμύνομαιdefend 1.                                                                                                                                                                           | ANAGKAIOS ἀναγ-καίοςnear 1necessary 5needful 1*of necessity 1.                                                 |
| AKATHARTES ἀκαθ-άρτης f.filthiness 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                          | AKROGŌNIATOS ἀκρο-γωνιάτος (adj.)chief corner 2.                                                                                    | ALLEGOREŌ ἀλλ-ηγoreŏPass. partic. *allegory 1.                                                                                                                      | AMATHES ἀμαθήςunlearned 1.                                                   | ANA ἄνConditional and indef. particle, not translated by a special word. See hos etc.                                                                                                                | ANAGKASTŌS ἀν-αγκαστόςby constraint 1.                                                                                     |
| AKATHARTOS ἀκαθ-άρτοςfoul 2unclean 28.                                                                                                                                                                                                     | AKRON ἀκρον n.end 1tip 1top 1utmost part 2*other 1.                                                                     | ALLĒLŌN , etc. ἀλλή-λωνeach other 2one another 76 (M. them-selves 1)one the other 3themselves 12yourselves 3yourselves to-gether 1.     | AMELEO ἀμελέωbe negligent 1make light of 1neglect 1regard not 1. | ANA ἄνin 1through 1.Followed by numeral:apiece 2by 3each 1every 1every man 2, etc.                                                                                       | ANAGKAZŌ ἀναγκάζωcompel 5constrain 4.                                                                                      |
| AKERAIOS ἀκέραιοςharmless 1 (M. simple 1, sincere 1)simple (M. harm-less) 1.                                                                                                                                                               | AKROTHINION ἀκρο-θίνιον n.spills (pl.) 1.                                                                                           | ALLĒLOUŌ ἀλλή-λουῖα (Heb.).alleluia 4.                                                                                                                              | AMEMPTOS ἀμεμπτοςblameless 3faultless 1unblameable 1.                | ANABAINŌ ἀναβαίνωarise 2ascend 10ascend up 8climb up 1come 1come up 10come up again 1enter 2go up 37grow up 2rise up 2spring up 2.†See meros, meson. | ANAGKE ἀνάγκη f.distress 3 (M. necessity 1)necessity 7*must needs 1*necessariness 1*there must of necessity 1. |
| AKLINES ἀκλινήςwithout waver-ing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                            | AKUROŌ ἀκυρόωdisannul 1make of noneeffect 2.                                                                                    | ALLOGENES ἄλλο-γενήςstranger 1.                                                                                                                                     | AMEN ἀμήνamen 50.verily 100.                                             | ANABAINŌ ἀναβαίνωarise 2ascend 10ascend up 8climb up 1come 1come up 10come up again 1enter 2go up 37grow up 2rise up 2spring up 2.†See echo, etiml.  | ANAGNŌRIZOMAIἀναγνωρίζομαιbe made known 1.                                                                                 |
| AKMAZŌ ἀκμάζωbe fully ripe 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | ALABASTRON ἀλάβ-αστρον n.alabaster box 3box 1.                                                                                  | ALLOPHULOS ἄλλο-φύλοςone of anothernation 1.                                                                                                                    | AMETAMPTOS ἀ-μεταμπτοςimpenitent 1.                                      | ANABATHMOS ἀνα-βαθμόςstair 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGNŌSIS ἀνάγνω-σις f.reading 3.                                                                                          |
| AKMEN ἀκμήνyet 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | ALALAZŌ ἀλαλάζωtinkle 1wall 1.                                                                                                      | ALLOS ἄλλοςanother 62more 1one 4other 74other man 4other things 1some 11*another man's (g-n.) 1.*otherwise 1†another (with tis) 1.  | AMETAMPTOS ἀ-μεταμπτοςimpenitent 1.                                      | ANABATHMOS ἀνα-βαθμόςstair 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGŌ ἀνάγωbring 3bring again 1bring forth 1bring up again 1lead 1lead up 1offer 1take up 1.       |
| AKOĒ ἀκοή f.audience 1ears 4fame 3hearing 10report (M. preaching or hearing) 1rumour 1*preached (M. of hearing) 1*which ye heard 1.                                                                                    | ALALAZŌ ἀλαλάζωtinkle 1wall 1.                                                                                                      | ALLOPHULOS ἄλλο-φύλοςone of anothernation 1.                                                                                                                    | AMETAMPTOS ἀ-μεταμπτοςimpenitent 1.                                      | ANABATHMOS ἀνα-βαθμόςstair 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGNŌSIS ἀνάγνω-σις f.reading 3.                                                                                          |
| AKOULUTEŌ ἀκούλυτεŏοὐτέωfollow 30 (M. go with 1)reach 1.                                                                                                                                                                                   | ALAZON ἀλαζόνboaster 2.                                                                                                                 | ALLOS ἄλλοςanother 62more 1one 4other 74other man 4other things 1some 11*another man's (g-n.) 1.*otherwise 1†another (with tis) 1.  | AMETAMPTOS ἀ-μεταμπτοςimpenitent 1.                                      | ANABATHMOS ἀνα-βαθμόςstair 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGNŌSIS ἀνάγνω-σις f.reading 3.                                                                                          |
| AKOLUTŌS ἀκολούτως*no man forbid-ding 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ALAZONEIA ἀλα-ζονεία f.boasting 1pride 1.                                                                                       | ALLOS ἄλλοςanother 62more 1one 4other 74other man 4other things 1some 11*another man's (g-n.) 1.*otherwise 1†another (with tis) 1.  | AMETAMPTOS ἀ-μεταμπτοςimpenitent 1.                                      | ANABATHMOS ἀνα-βαθμόςstair 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGNŌSIS ἀνάγνω-σις f.reading 3.                                                                                          |
| AKŌN ἄκων*against mywill 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ALEIPHŌ ἀλείφωanoint 9.                                                                                                                 | ALLOS ἄλλοςanother 62more 1one 4other 74other man 4other things 1some 11*another man's (g-n.) 1.*otherwise 1†another (with tis) 1.  | AMETAMPTOS ἀ-μεταμπτοςimpenitent 1.                                      | ANABATHMOS ἀνα-βαθμόςstair 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGNŌSIS ἀνάγνω-σις f.reading 3.                                                                                          |
| AKOYŌ ἀκούωgive audience 3hear 415hearken 6understand (M. hear) 1.Partic. hearer 2*in the audience of (gen.) 1.PASS. be noised 1be reported 1come to 1cometocars of 1.†be dull of hearing (with bareŏs) 1. | ALEKTOR ἀλέκτωρcock 12.                                                                                                                 | ALLOS ἄλλοςanother 62more 1one 4other 74other man 4other things 1some 11*another man's (g-n.) 1.*otherwise 1†another (with tis) 1.  | AMETAMPTOS ἀ-μεταμπτοςimpenitent 1.                                      | ANABATHMOS ἀνα-βαθμόςstair 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGNŌSIS ἀνάγνω-σις f.reading 3.                                                                                          |
| AKRASIA ἀκρασία f.excess 1incontinency 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                      | ALEKTOROPHŌNIAἀλεκτοροφωνία f.cock crowing 1.                                                                                       | ALLOS ἄλλοςanother 62more 1one 4other 74other man 4other things 1some 11*another man's (g-n.) 1.*otherwise 1†another (with tis) 1.  | AMETAMPTOS ἀ-μεταμπτοςimpenitent 1.                                      | ANABATHMOS ἀνα-βαθμόςstair 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | ANAGNŌSIS ἀνάγνω-σις f.reading 3.                                                                                          |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                     |                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                              |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ANAKAINÖSIS ἀνα-καίωσις f.renewing 2.                                                                                                       | bring into re-membrance 1call to mind 1call to remem-brance 1put in remem-brance 1remember 1. | ANASEIÖ ἀνασειώmove 1stir up 1.                                                                                                                                     | ANATREPHÖ ἀνα-τρέφωbring up 1nourish 1nourish up 1.          | ANERCHOMAI ἀνέρ-χομαιgo up 3(M. return 1).                      | ANOMÖS ἀνόμωςwithout law 2.                                                                                                       |
| ANAKALUPTÖ ἀνα-καλύπτωPass pt. open 1.†untaken away (with nega-tive) 1.                                                                    |                                                                                                                           | ANASKEUAZÖ ἀνα-σκευάζωsubvert 1.                                                                                                                                    | ANATREPO ἀνατρέπωoverthrow 1subvert 1.                               | ANESIS ἀνεσις f.liberty 1rest 3*be eased 1.              | ANÖPHELES ἀν-ωφέληςunprofitable 1.                                                                                            |
| ANAKAMPTÖ ἀνα-κάμπτωreturn 3turn again 1.                                                                                                      | ANAMNESIS ἀνάμνη-σις f.remembrance 3remembranceagain 1.                                     | ANASPAÖ ἀνασπᾶωdraw up 1pull out 1.                                                                                                                                 | ANAXIOS ἀνάξιοςunworthy 1.                                               | ANEIAZÖ ἀνετάζωexamine 2 (M.torture 1).                             | ANÖRTHÖÖ ἀνορθώωlift up 1make straight 1set up 1.                                                                         |
| ANAKATHIZÖ ἀνα-καθίζωsit up 2.                                                                                                                     | ANANEOMAI ἀνα-νεύομαιbe renewed 1.                                                                         | ANASTASIS ἀνάστασιςf.resurrection 39rising again 1.†ek with gen.: raised tolife again 1, that shouldrise 1.                                  | ANAXIÖS ἀναξίωςunworthily 2.                                             | ANETHON ἀνηθον n.anise 1.                                        | ANOSIOS ἀνόσιοςunholy 2.                                                                                                          |
| ANAKEIMAI ἀνάκει-μαιbe set down 1lean 1lie 1sit 2sit at meat 5 (M.sit together 1)sit down 1.at the table 1guest 1. | ANANEPHÖ ἀνανήφωrecover one's self(M. awake) 1.                                                            | ANASTATÖÖ ἀνα-στατόωmake an uproar1trouble 1turn upsidedown 1.                                                                                      | ANAZAÖ ἀναζάωbe alive again 1live again 1revive 2.               | ANEU ἐνευwithout 3.                                                     | ANÖTERIKOS ἀνο-τερικόςupper 1.                                                                                                |
| ANAKEPHALAIÖ-OMAI ἀνακεφαλαίω-ομαιbe briefly com-prehended 1gather togetherin one 1.                                        | ANANTIRRHÖTOSἀναντιρρήτοςnot to be spokenagainst 1.                                                    | ANASTAUROÖ ἀνα-σταυρόωcrucify afresh 1.                                                                                                                             | ANAZÖNUMI ἀνα-ζώννυμιgird up 1.                                      | ANEUTHECTOS ἀνεύ-θετοςnot commodious1.                          | ANÖTERON ἀνώτερονabove 1.higher 1.                                                                                            |
| ANAKLINÖ ἀνακλίνωlay 1makes sit down 3.sit down 4.                                                                                             | ANANTIRRHÖTÖSἀναντιρρήτωςwithout gainsay-ing 1.                                                        | ANASTENAZÖ ἀνα-στενάζωsigh deeply 1.                                                                                                                                | ANAZÖPUREÖ ἀνα-ζωπυρέωstir up 1.                                     | ANEXEREUNETOSἀνεξερευνήτοςunsearchable 1.                           | ANÖTHEN ἐνωθενagain (M. fromabove) 1.from above 5from the begin-ning 1from the veryfirst 1*the top 3. |
| ANAKOPTÖ ἀνακώπτωhinder (M. driveback) 1.                                                                                                          | ANAPAUSIS ἀνάπαυ-σις f.rest 4.†to rest (echo with acc.; M.have rest) 1.                     | ANASTREPHÖ ἀνα-στρέφωoverthrow 1return 2.MID. (PASS) abide 1be used 1behave self 1have one's con-versation 2live 2pass 1.           | ANDRAPODISTESἀνδραποδιστήςmanstealer 1.                              | ANEXICHNIASTOSἀνεξιχνίαστοςpast finding out1unsearchable 1. | ANTAGONIZOMAIἀνταγωνίζομαιstrive against 1.                                                                                   |
| ANAKRAZÖ ἀνακράζωcry out 5.                                                                                                                            | ANAPAUSIS ἀνάπαυ-σις f.rest 4.†to rest (echo with acc.; M.have rest) 1.                     | ANASTROPHÖ ἀνα-στροφή f.overthrow 1return 2.MID. (PASS) abide 1be used 1behave self 1have one's con-versation 2live 2pass 1. | ANDRIZOMAI ἀνδρι-ζομαιImper. quit you likemen 1.                 | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTALLAGMA ἀντ-άλλαγμα n.exchange 2.                                                                                   |
| ANAKRINÖ ἀνακρίνωask question 1discern 1examine 6judge 6 (M. dis-cern 1)search 1.                                                  | ANAPEITHÖ ἀνα-πειθωpersuade 1.                                                                             | ANASTROPHE ἀνα-στροφή f.conversation 13.                                                                                                                     | ANDROPHONOSἀνδροφόνοςmanslayer 1.                                    | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTANAPLERÖÖἀντανάπληρώωfill up 1.                                                                                            |
| ANAKRISIS ἀνάκρισιςf.examination 1.                                                                                                         | ANAPHERÖ ἀναφέρωbear 1bring up 1carry up 1lead up 1offer 2offer up 3.                      | ANATASSOMAI ἀνα-τάσσομαιset forth in order1.                                                                                                                    | ANEGHOMAI ἀνέχο-μαιbear with 4endure 1forbear 2suffer 7. | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANAKUPTÖ ἀνακώπτωlift one's self up3look up 1.                                                                                                 | ANAPHAINOMAIἀναφαίνομαιappear 1.PASS. discover 1.                                                      | ANATELLÖ ἀνατέλλωarise 1be up 2make to rise 1rise 2spring 1spring up 1.Partia. *at the rising 1.                                                | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANALAMBANÖ ἀνα-λαμβάνωreceive up 3take 3take in 2take unto 1take up 4.                                                             | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANALÉPSIS ἀνάληψιςf.*that [he] shouldbe received up1.                                                                               | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANALISKÖ ἀναλίσκωconsume 3.                                                                                                                            | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANALOGIA ἀναλογίαf.proportion 1.                                                                                                            | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANALOGIZOMAI ἀνα-λογίζομαιconsider 1.                                                                                                              | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANALOS ἀναλοςflose saltness (ginomaianalogos) 1.                                                                                                   | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANALUÖ ἀναλύωdepart 1return 1.                                                                                                                     | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANALYSIS ἀνάλυσιςf.departure 1.                                                                                                             | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANAMARTETOS ἀν-αμάρτητοςwithout sin 1.                                                                                                             | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANAMENÖ ἀναμένωwait for 1.                                                                                                                             | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |
| ANAMIMNESKÖ ἀνα-μνησκωremember 1.                                                                                                                  | ANAPHONÖÖ ἀνα-φωνέωspeak out 1.                                                                            | ANATHALLÖ ἀνα-θάλλωto flourish againM. (be revived)1.                                                                                                       | ANEGKLETOS ἀνέγ-λητοςblameless 4unreprovable 1.                  | ANEXIKAKOS ἀνεξι-κακοςpatient (M. for-bearing) 1.               | ANTAPODIDÖMIἀνταποδίδωμιrecompense 6recompenseagain 1render 1repay 1.                                         |

† Inexact translations, e.n., of a noun by n verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ANTHROPOKTONOSἀνθρωποκτόνοςmurderer 3.certain 1.man 551.†enemy (with echthros) 1;nobleman (with eugenēs)1; Romans (with rhōm-aiōi) 1; shepherds (withpl. of poimēn) 1. | ANTISTRATEUOMAIἀντιστρατεύομαιwar against 1.ANTITASSOMAI ἀντι-τάσσομαιoppose one's self1.resist 4. | APARASKEUASTOSἀπαρσκευάστοςunprepared 1.APARCHĒ ἀπαρχή f.first fruit 1.first fruits 7. | APELPIZŌ ἀπελπίζωhope for again 1.APENANTI ἀπεναντιbefore 1.contrary to 1.in the presenceof 1.over against 2.       | APHIO = APHTĒMIAPHISTĒMI ἀφ-ίστημιdepart from 1.draw away 1.fall away 1.refrain from 1.depart from 3.withdraw one'sself 1. | APOBAINŌ ἀποβαίνωcome 1.go out 1.turn 2.                                                                                                                                                                          |
| ANTHROPOS ἄνθρωποςman 551.†enemy (with echthros) 1;nobleman (with eugenēs)1; Romans (with rhōm-aiōi) 1; shepherds (withpl. of poimēn) 1.                                           | ANTITHESIS ἀντι-θεσις f.opposition 1.                                                                                         | APARNEOMAI ἀπ-αρνέομαιdeny 13.                                                                            | APERANTOS ἀπεραν-τοςendless 1.                                                                                                                 | APHIXIS ἀφίξιςdeparting 1.                                                                                                                                        | APOBALLŌ ἀπο-βάλλωcast away 2.                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| ANTHUPATEUŌ ἀνθ-υπατεύωbe deputy 1.                                                                                                                                                                | ANTITUPON ἀντι-τύπον n.like figure 1.                                                                                         | APARTISIMOS ἀπ-αρτισμός†to finish it (pros withacc.) 1.                                               | APERCHOMAI ἀπ-έρχομαιcome 4.depart 27.go 54.go aside 1.go away 14.go one's way 16.go out 1.pass 1.pass away 1. | APHNŌ ἄφνωsuddenly 3.                                                                                                                                             | APOBLEFŌ ἀποβλέπωhave respect 1.                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| ANTHUPATOS ἀνθ-ύπατοςdeputy 4.                                                                                                                                                                     | ANTILEMA ἀντλήμα†See oute.                                                                                                        | APATAŌ ἀπατάωdeceive 4.                                                                                       | APERISPASTOS ἀ-περισπάστοςwithout distrac-tion 1.                                                                                          | APHOBŌS ἀφ' ὧςwithout fear 4.                                                                                                                                     | APOCHOREŌ ἀπο-χωρέωdepart 3.                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| ANTI ἀντίfor 15.in the room of 1.*for that [ye]ought 1.†With gen. pl. of hos; be-cause 4, therefore 1.                                                                             | ANTOPHTHALMEŌἀντοφθαλμέωbear up 1.                                                                                            | APATE ἀπάτη f.deceit 1.deceitfulness 1.deceivableness 1.deceiving 1.*deceitful 1.             | APERITMETOS ἀπερί-τμητοςuncircumcised 1.                                                                                                       | APHOMOIOMAI ἀφ-ομοιομαιbe made like 1.                                                                                                                        | APOBOLE ἀποβολή f.casting away 1.loss 1.                                                                                                                                                                              |
| ANTIBALLŌ ἀντι-βάλλωhave 1.                                                                                                                                                                        | ANUPOKRITOS ἀν-υποκριτοςunfeigned 4.without dissim-ulation 1.without hypo-crisy 1.                            | APATOR ἀπάτωρwithout father 1.                                                                                | APHANES ἀφανήςthat is not mani-fest 1.                                                                                                         | APHORISŌ ἀφορίζωdivide 1.separate 7.sever 1.be separate 1.                                                                                            | APOCHORIZOMAIἀποχωρίζομαιdepart 1.depart asunder1.                                                                                                                                                            |
| ANTICHRISTOS ἀντι-χριστοςantichrist 5.                                                                                                                                                             | ANUPOTAKTOS ἀν-υπότακτοςdisobedient 1.that is not putunder 1.unruly 1.                                            | APATUGASMA ἀπ-αύγασμα n.brightness 1.                                                                     | APHANIZŌ ἀφανίζωcorrupt 2.disfigure 1.perish 1.vanish away 1.                                                                          | APHORMĒ ἀφορμή f.occasion 7.                                                                                                                                      | APOCHRESIS ἀπό-χρησις f.using 1.                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| ANTIDIATTHEMAIἀντιδιατίθεμαιoppose one's self1.                                                                                                                                                | APORATOS ἀόρατοςinvisible 4.As nouninvisible things1.                                                                 | APECHO ἀπέχωbe 5.be enough 1.have 4 (M. havereceived 1).receive 2.abstain 6.              | APHANIZŌ ἀφανίζωcorrupt 2.disfigure 1.perish 1.vanish away 1.                                                                          | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODECHOMAI ἀπο-δέχομαιaccept 1.gladly receive 1.receive 2.be received 1.                                                                                                                                 |
| ANTIDIKOS ἀντίδικοςadversary 5.                                                                                                                                                                        | APAGCHOMAI ἀπ-άγχομαιhang one's self 1.                                                                                       | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANIZŌ ἀφανίζωcorrupt 2.disfigure 1.perish 1.vanish away 1.                                                                          | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODEIKNUMI ἀπο-δείκνυμιapprove 1.prove 1.set forth 1.show 1.                                                                                                                                             |
| ANTIKALEŌ ἀντι-καλέωbid again 1.                                                                                                                                                                   | APAGGELLO ἀπ-αγγέλλωbring word 1.bring word again 1.                                                                      | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODEIXIS ἀποδείξιςf.demonstration1.                                                                                                                                                                              |
| ANTIKATHISTĒMIἀντικαθίστημιresist 1.                                                                                                                                                               | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODEKATOŌ ἀπο-δεκατόωgive tithes 1.pay tithes 1.take tithes 1.tithe 1.                                                                                                                                   |
| ANTIKEIMAI ἀντι-κειμαιbe contrary 2.oppose 1.adversary 5.                                                                                                                                  | APAGGELLO ἀπ-αγγέλλωbring word 1.bring word again 1.                                                                      | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODEKTOS ἀπό-δεκτοςacceptable 1.                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| ANTIKREU ἀντικρέωover against 1.                                                                                                                                                                       | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODEMĒO ἀπο-δημέωgo into 1.farcountry 3.take one's jour-ney 2.travel into a farcountry 1.                                                                                                    |
| ANTILAMBANOMAIἀντιλαμβάνομαιhelp 1.support 1.Partic. partaker 1.                                                                                                                           | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODEMOS ἀποδήμοςtaking 1.farjourney 1.                                                                                                                                                                           |
| ANTILEGŌ ἀντιλέγωanswer again(M. gainsay) 1.contradict 2.gainsay 1.speak against 5.gainsayer 1.†deny (with negative) 1.                                                        | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTILEPSIS ἀντι-ληψις f.help 1.                                                                                                                                                                    | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTILOGIA ἀντι-λογία f.contradiction 1.gainsaying 1.strife 1.                                                                                                                              | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTILOIDOREŌ ἀντι-λοιδορέωrevile again 1.                                                                                                                                                          | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTILUTRON ἀντι-λutron n.ransom 1.                                                                                                                                                                 | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTIMETREŌ ἀντι-μετρέωmeasure again 2.                                                                                                                                                             | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTIMISTHIA ἀντι-μισθία f.recompense 2.                                                                                                                                                            | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTIPARERCHOMAIἀντιπαρέρχομαιpass by on theother side 2.                                                                                                                                       | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTIPERAN ἀντι-πέρανover against 1.                                                                                                                                                                | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |
| ANTIPTŌ ἀντι-πίπτωresist 1.                                                                                                                                                                        | APAGO ἀπάγωbring 1.carry away 1.lead 2.lead away 10.put to death 1.take away 1.                               | APATHEIA ἀπάθειαdisobedience 3.(M. unbelief 1).unbelief 1 (M. dis-obedience 1).                   | APHANTOS ἀφαντοςvanish out of sight (gino-mai aphantos; M. ceaseto be seen) 1.                                                             | APHROSUNE ἀφρο-σύνη f.folly 1.foolishness 1.foolishly (en with dat.) 2.                                                                               | APODIDŌMI ἀποδίδω-μιdeliver 1.deliver again 1.give 9.give again 1.make payment 1.pay 9.perform 1.recompense 1.render 9.repay 1.restore 1.reward 6.sell 3.yield 2. |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

‡ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| POGRAPHIE ἀπο-γραφῆ f.taxing 2.                                                                                                                             | destruction 5perdition 11pernicious way(M. lasciviousway) 1waste 2*damnable 1.idle (eis with acc.) 1; periah(eimi eis with acc.) 1.                | APOPLUNO ἀπο-πλύνωwash 1.                                                                                              | APOTASSOMAI ἀπο-τάσσομαιbid farewell 2forsake 1send away 1take leave of 2.                                                                          | APTAISTOS ἀπταισ-τοςfrom falling 1.                                                                                                                                                    | Mars' hill (M.Court of theAreopagites) 1.                                                              |
| POGRAPHAPHO ἀπο-γράφωPASS. be taxed 3 (M.be enrolled 1)be written (M.be enrolled) 1.                                                            | APOLEICHO ἀπο-λείχωlick 1.                                                                                                                                                 | APOPNIGO ἀποπνίγωchoke 3.                                                                                                  | APOTELEO ἀποτελέωfinish 1.                                                                                                                                          | ARA<sup>1</sup> ἀρά f.cursing 1.                                                                                                                                                           | AREN ἀρήν (= ἀρνος)lamb 1.                                                                          |
| POKALUPSIS ἀποκα-λύψιςappearing 1coming. (M. re-velation) 1manifestation 1revelation 12*be revealed 2.to lighten (eis with acc.) 1. | APOLEIPO ἀπολείπωPASS. leave 3remain 3.                                                                                                                             | APOPSUCHO ἀπο-ψύχωPartic. hearts fallingthem 1.                                                                    | APOTHEKE ἀποθήκηf.barn 4garner 1.                                                                                                                           | ARA<sup>2</sup> ἀραhaply 2no doubt 1perhaps 1so 4so then 2then 12therefore 4truly 1wherefore 1.                                                            | ARESKEIA ἀρέσκειαf.pleasing 1.                                                                  |
| POKALUPTO ἀπο-καλύπτωreveal 26.                                                                                                                             | APOLLUMI ἀπόλλυμιdestroy 23lose 28.be destroyed 5be lost 3be married 1die 1perish 33.                                                           | APOSKEUAZOMAIἀποσκευάζομαιtake up one'scarriage 1.                                                                 | APOTHEOMAI ἀπο-θέομαιdoubt 2 (M. bedoubtful 1)be perplexed 1stand in doubt(M. be per-plexed) 1.                                             | ARA<sup>3</sup> ἀραtherefore 1.Untranslated in Luke xviii.8, Acts viii. 30 (ἀρά γε).                                                                                               | ARETE ἀρετή f.praise (M.virtue) 1virtue 4                                                   |
| POKARADOKIAἀποκαράδοκία f.earnest expecta-tion 2.                                                                                                       | APOLOGEOMAI ἀπο-λογέομαιanswer 3answer for one'sself 3excuse 1excuse one's self1make defence 1speak for one'sself 1                 | APORIA ἀπορία f.perplexity 1.                                                                                              | APOTHESAURIZOἀποθησαυρίζωlay up in store 1.                                                                                                                     | ARCHAIOS ἀρχαίοςAs noun of old time 1old 7old things 1.†See hēmera.                                                                                                            | ARGEIO ἀργεῖοarchangel 2.                                                                           |
| POKATALLATTOἀποκαταλλάττωreconcile 3.                                                                                                                       | APOLOGIA ἀπολογίαf.answer 3answer for one'sself 3excuse 1excuse one's self1make defence 1speak for one'sself 1                      | APORPHANIZOMAIἀπορφανίζομαιbe taken from 1.                                                                            | APOTHELIBO ἀπο-θλίβωpress 1.                                                                                                                                    | ARCHE ἀρχή f.beginning 40corner 1first 1first estate (M.principality) 1magistrate 1power 1principality 1rule 1*first (adv.) 1.†See lambanō, logos. | ARGUROKOPOSἀργυροκόποςsilversmith 1.                                                            |
| POKASTATASISἀποκατάστασις f.restitution 1.                                                                                                                  | APOLLOUO ἀπολλούωwash 1wash away 1.                                                                                                                                 | APORRHIPTO ἀπορ-ρίπτωcast one's self 1.                                                                                | APOTHNESKO ἀπο-θνήσκωbe a dying 1be dead 1die 76lie a dying 1perish 1*death 1.Partic. dead 1.the slain (with dat. cf.phōnos) 1. | ARGUROS ἀργυροςsilver 3silver piece 1.                                                                                                                                                 | ARGUROS ἀργυροῦςof silver 1silver 1.                                                            |
| POKATHISTANOἀποκαθιστάνωrestore again 1.                                                                                                                    | APOLUTO ἀπολύωdismiss 1divorce 1forgive 2let depart 1let go 13loose 2put away 14release 17send away 13set at liberty 2depart 1. | APOSTASIA ἀποστα-σία f.falling away 1.to forsake (with apo) 1.                                                     | APOTINASSO ἀπο-τινάσσωshake off 1.                                                                                                                              | ARCHIEGOS ἀρχηγόςauthor (M. be-ginner) 1captain 1prince 1 (M.author) 1.                                                                                                    | ARISTAO ἀριστάωdine 3.                                                                              |
| POKATHISTEMIἀποκαθίστημι (ἀπο-καθιστάνω)restore 7.                                                                                                      | APOLUTROSIS ἀπο-λύτρωσις f.deliverance 1redemption 9.                                                                                                           | APOSTASION ἀπο-στάσιον n.divorcement 1writing of di-vorcement 1.                                               | APOTIOTHO ἀποτιώ-θεωrepay 1.                                                                                                                                    | ARCHIERATIKOSἀρχιερατικόςof the highpriest 1.                                                                                                                                      | ARISTEROS ἀριστερόςleft 2on the left 1.                                                         |
| POKEIMAI ἀπό-κειμαιbe appointed 1be laid up 3.                                                                                                          | APOMASSOMAI ἀπο-μάσσομαιwipe off 1.                                                                                                                                 | APOSTEGAZO ἀπο-στεγάζωuncover 1.                                                                                       | APOTITHEMAI ἀπο-τίθεμαιMid. cast off 1lay apart 1lay aside 2lay down 1put away 1put off 2.                                                  | ARCHIEREUS ἀρχι-ιερεὺςchief of thepriests 1chief priest 64high priest 59.                                                                                                  | ARISTON ἀριστον n.dinner 3.                                                                         |
| POKEPHALIZO ἀπο-κεφαλίζωbehead 4.                                                                                                                           | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTELLEO ἀπο-στέλλωput in 1send 111send away 1send forth 13send out 1set 1.                      | APOTOLMAO ἀπο-τολμάωbe very bold 1.                                                                                                                             | ARCHIPOIMEN ἀρχι-ποῖμηνchief shepherd1.                                                                                                                                            | ARITHMEO ἀριθμέωnumber (vb.) 3.                                                                     |
| POKLEIO ἀποκλείωshut 1.                                                                                                                                         | APONIPTOMAI ἀπο-νίπτωμαιwash 1.                                                                                                                                     | APOSTOLE ἀποστολήf.apostleship 4.                                                                                      | APOTOMIA ἀποτομίαf.severity 2.                                                                                                                                  | ARCHIPIERUS ἀρχι-ιερεὺςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                               | ARITHMOS ἀριθμόςnumber 18.                                                                          |
| POKOPTO ἀποκόπτωcut off 6.                                                                                                                                      | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTOLOI ἀπόστολοιapostles 78he that is sent 1messenger 2.                                                        | APOTOMOS ἀποτόμοςsharply 1*sharpness 1.                                                                                                                         | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARKEO ἀρκέωbe enough 1be sufficient 2suffice 1.Mid. be content 3.Partic. content 1. |
| POKORIMA ἀπόκριμαn.sentence (M.answer) 1.                                                                                                               | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTOMATIZO ἀπο-στοματίζωprovocate to speak1.                                                                     | APOTREPOMAI ἀπο-τρέπομαιturn away 1.                                                                                                                            | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARKETOS ἀρεκτοςbear 1.                                                                              |
| POKREINOMAI ἀπο-κρίνομαιanswer 250.                                                                                                                         | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTREPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSITOS ἀπρόσ-ιτοςwhich no mancan approachunto 1.                                                                                                     | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARNEOMAI ἀρνέομαιdeny 28refuse 2.                                                               |
| POKREISIS ἀποκρίσιςf.answer 4.                                                                                                                              | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARNION ἀρνίον n.lamb 1.Lamb 29.                                                                 |
| POKREUPHOS ἀπό-κρυφοςhid 2.†See ginomai.                                                                                                                | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | AROMA ἀρώμα n.spices 3sweet spices 1.                                                           |
| POKRUPTO ἀπο-κρύπτωhide 6.                                                                                                                                  | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | AROTRIAIO ἀροτριάωplow 2.                                                                           |
| POKTEINO ἀπο-κτείνωkill 55put to death 6slay 14.                                                                                                    | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | AROTRON ἀροτρον n.plow 1.                                                                           |
| POKUEO ἀποκυέωbeget 1bring forth 1.                                                                                                                         | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARRHABON ἀρραβώνearnest 3.                                                                          |
| POKULIO ἀποκυλίωroll away 3roll back 1.                                                                                                                     | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARRHAPHOS ἀρραφόςwithout 1.                                                                         |
| APOLAMBANO ἀπο-λαμβάνωreceive 10receive again 1take 1.                                                                                              | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARRHEN ἀρρήνman 2man child 1.                                                                   |
| APOLAUSIS ἀπόλαυ-σις f.to enjoy (eis with acc.) 1.See echo.                                                                                             | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARRHETOS ἀρρήτοςunspeakable 1.                                                                      |
| APOLEIA ἀπόλεια f.damnation 1.                                                                                                                                  | APONEMO ἀπονέμωgive 1.                                                                                                                                                  | APOSTROPHO ἀπο-στρέφωbring again 1pervert 1put up again 1turn away 3.Mid. (PASS.) turn awayfrom 4. | APROSOKOPOS ἀπρόσ-κοποςvoid of offence 1without offence1.to give none offence (gino-mai aproskopeō) 1.                                          | ARCHISYNAGOGOSἀρχισυνάγωγοςchief ruler of thesynagogue 2ruler of thesynagogue 7.                                                                                           | ARRHÖSTOS ἀρρῶσ-τοςsick 1sickly 1that were sick 1sick folk 1.                       |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                  |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ARSEN ἀρσηνmale 4man 2.                                                                                          | ASPASMOS ἀσπασμόςgreeting 3salutation 7.                                                                              | ASUMPHONOS ἀσύμ-φωνος† See eimi.                                                                                                                                | ATMIS ἀτμίς f.vapour 2.                                                            | B. With article prefixed:like things 1one place 3the same 45the same cause 1the same matter 1the same thing 6 (pl. 4)the self-same 1those 1, etc. | BAPTŌ βάπτωdip 3.                                                                                     |
| ARSENOKOITĒS ἀρσενοκοίτηςabuser of selfwith mankind1 that defilethself with man-kind 1.              | ASPАЗOMAI ἀσπα-ζομαιembrace 1greet 15salute 42take leave of 1.                                            | ASUNETOS ἀσύνετοςfoolish 2without under-standing 3.                                                                                                         | ATOMOS ἄτομοςhandle shame-fully 1.                                             | C. As 3 pers. pron. (obl. cases):himherthem, etc. } freq.                                                                                                             | BARBAROS βάρβαροςbarbarian 5barbarous 1.                                                          |
| ARTEMŌN ἀρτέμωνmainsail 1.                                                                                           | ASPHALEIA ἀσφάλ-εια f.certainty 1.safety 2.                                                                       | ASUNTHEOTOS ἀσύν-θετοςcovenantbreaker 1.                                                                                                                    | ATOPOS ἄτοποςamiss 1harm 1unreasonable(M. absurd) 1.                   | † With prepos. freq. ren-dered there (+prepos.)e.g. therein.                                                                                                            | BAREOMAI βάρεομαιbe burdened 1be charged 1be heavy 3be pressed 1.                         |
| ARTI ἀρτιeven now 1now this day 1this hour 1this present 1.                                              | ASPHALĒS ἀσφαλῆςcertain 1safe 1sure 1.As noun certainty 2.                                                    | ATAKTEŌ ἀτακτέωbehave one's selfdisorderly 1.                                                                                                                   | AUCHMEROS αὐχ-μηρόςdark 1.                                                     | AUTOU αὐτοῦhere 1there 3.                                                                                                                                                 | BAREŌS βαρέως† See akouō.                                                                             |
| † Apo arti: henceforth 2,from henceforth 1,hereafter 2, now (M.from henceforth) 1.Heos arti: hitherto 1. | ASPHALIZŌ ἀσφα-λίζωmake sure 1.make fast 1make sure 2.                                                        | ATAKTOS ἀτακτοςunruly (M. dis-orderly) 1.                                                                                                                       | AUGAZŌ αὐγάζωshine 1.αὐγῆς f.break of day 1.                               | AUXANO αὐξάνω(αὐξω)give the increase2grow togrow up 1increase (tr.) 1increase (intr.) 3.                                                              | BAROS βάρος n.burden 4weight 1.† eimi en with dat.: beburdensome (M. useauthority) 1. |
| ARTIGENNĒTOS ἀρτιγεννητόςnew-born 1.                                                                                 | ASPHALŌS ἀσφαλῶςassuredly 1safely 2.                                                                                  | ATAKTŌS ἀτάκτωςdisorderly 1.                                                                                                                                        | AULE αὐλή f.court 1fold 1hall 1palace 7.                               | PASS. grow 1increase 3.                                                                                                                                                       | BARUNOMAI βαρύν-ομαιbe overcharged1.                                                          |
| ARTIOS ἀρτιοςperfect 1.                                                                                              | ASPILOS ἀσπιλοςunspotted 1without spot 3.                                                                             | ATEKNOS ἀτεκνοςchildless 1without children2.                                                                                                                | tsheepfold (with probaton)1.                                                       | AUXESIS αὐξήσις f.increase 2.                                                                                                                                                 | BARUS βαρύςgrievous 1heavy 1weighty 1.                                                        |
| ARTOS ἄρτοςbread 72loaf 23                                                                                       | ASPIIS ἀσπίς f.asp 1.                                                                                                     | ATENIZŌ ἀτενίζωbe fastened on 1behold earnestly1behold stead-fastly 1                                                                               | AULEŌ αὐλέωpipe 3.                                                                 | AXINE ἀξίνη f.axe 2.                                                                                                                                                          | As noun weighty matter                                                                                    |
| † shew-bread (with gen. ofprothesis) 3. See pro-thesis.                                                        | ASPIDIS ἀσπίδοςasp 1.                                                                                                     | † With eis: behold stead-fastly 1, fasten one'seyes upon 2, look stead-fastly (toward, on, to)3, look up steadfastlyinto 1, set one's eyes on1. | AULETĒS αὐλητήςminstrel 1piper 1.                                              | AXIOS ἀξίοςcount worthy 3(M. vouchsafe1)desire 1think good 1think worthy 2.                                                                               | BARUTIMOS βαρύ-τιμοςvery precious 1.                                                              |
| ARTUŌ ἀρτύωseason 3.                                                                                                 | ASPIDOS ἀσπίδοςasp 1.                                                                                                     | † With eis: behold stead-fastly 1, fasten one'seyes upon 2, look stead-fastly (toward, on, to)3, look up steadfastlyinto 1, set one's eyes on1. | AULIZOMAI αὐλίζομαιabide 1lodge 1.                                             | AXIOŌ ἀξιοῶcount worthy 3(M. vouchsafe1)desire 1think good 1think worthy 2.                                                                               | BASANISMOS βασ-ανισμόςtorment 5.                                                                  |
| ASALEUTOS ἀσάλευ-τοςunmoveable 1which cannot bemoved 1.                                                  | ASSON ἄσسونclose by 1.                                                                                                    | ATER ἄτερin the absence of(M. without) 1.without 1.                                                                                                         | AULOS αὐλόςpipe 1.                                                                 | AXIOS ἀξίοςmeet 4 (M.answerable 1)worthy 35 (M.meet 1).                                                                                                           | BASANISTĒS βασ-ανιστήςtormentor 1.                                                                |
| ASBESTOS ἀσβεστοςthat never snailbe quenched 2unquenchable 2.                                                | ASTATEŌ ἀστατέωhave no certaindwelling-place1.                                                                    | ATHANASIA ἀθαν-ασία f.immortality 3.                                                                                                                            | AURION αὐριονmorrow 5next day 1to-morrow 3.                                | As noun due reward 1.tunworthy (ouk axios) 1.                                                                                                                                 | BASANOS βασανος f.torment 3.                                                                          |
| ASCHĒMŌN ἀσχήμωνuncomely 1.                                                                                          | ASTEIOS ἀστεῖοςfair 1venerable 1.                                                                                     | ATHEMITOS ἀθέμιτοςabominable 1.As noun unlawful thing1.                                                                                                     | AUSTEROS αὐστηρόςaustere 2.                                                        | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEIA βασιλεία f.kingdom 161 (inphrases king-dom of God 12.kingdom ofheaven 32).   |
| ASCHĒMONEŌ ἀ-σχημονέωbehave self un-comely 1behave self un-seemly 1.                                 | ASTER ἀστήρstar 24.                                                                                                       | ATHANASIA ἀθαν-ασία f.immortality 3.                                                                                                                            | AUTARKEIA αὐτ-άρκεια f.contentment 1self-sufficiency 1.                    | † With gen. of theos: aftera godly sort 1.                                                                                                                                   | BASILEIŌS βασιλείωςroyal 1.                                                                           |
| ASCHĒMOSUNE ἀ-σχημοσύνη f.shame 1that which is un-seemly 1.                                              | ASTERIKTOS ἀ-στήρικτοςunstable 2.                                                                                     | ATHEOS ἄθεοςwithout God 1.                                                                                                                                          | AUTARKĒS αὐτάρκηςcontent 1.                                                        | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUŌ βασιλευ-ωreign 20.                                                                       |
| ASEBEIA ἀσεβεία f.ungodliness 4† ungodly 2.                                                                      | ASTHENEIA ἀσθεν-εία f.disease 1infirmity 17sickness 5weakness 5.                                          | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHADES αὐθάδηςself-willed 2.                                                     | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | Partic. king 1.                                                                                           |
| ASEBĒŌ ἀσεβέωcommit ungodly1live ungodly 1.                                                                  | ASTHENĒMA ἀσθεν-ημα n.infirmity 1.                                                                                    | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASEBĒS ἀσεβήςungodly 8ungodly man 1.                                                                             | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASELGEIA ἀσελγείαf.lasciviousness 6wantonness 1.Plur. much wanton-ness 1.                            | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| † filthy (en with dat.) 1.                                                                                               | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASEMOS ἄσημοςmean 1.                                                                                                 | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASITIA ἀσιτία f.abstinence 1.                                                                                        | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASITOS ἄσιτοςfasting 1.                                                                                              | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASKEŌ ἀσκέωexercise 1.ἀσκήσαςbottle 12.                                                                      | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASKOS ἀσκοςbottle 12.                                                                                                | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASMENŌS ἀσμένωςgladly 2.                                                                                             | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASOPHOS ἀσοφοςfool 1.                                                                                                | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASŌTIA ἀσωτίαexcess 1riot 2.                                                                                     | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |
| ASŌTŌS ἀσώτως*riotous 1.                                                                                             | ASTHENEŌ ἀσθενέωbe diseased 1be made weak 1be sick 10be weak 12impotent man 1impotent folk(pl.) 1 | ATHESMOS ἄθεσμοςwicked 2.                                                                                                                                           | AUTHAIRETOS αὐθ-αίρετοςof one's ownaccord 1willing of one'sself 1. | AXIOS ἀξίοςas becometh 1worthy 3.                                                                                                                                         | BASILEUS βασιλεὺςking 118.                                                                            |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| BATOS<sup>2</sup> βάτος n.a measure 1. BATRACHOS βάτραχοςfrog 1. BATTOLOGEΩ βαττο-λογέωuse vain repe-titions 1. BDELUGMA βδέλυγμαn.abomination 6. BDELUKTOS βδέλυκ-τόςabominable 1. BDELUSSOMAIβδελύσσομαιPartic. abominable 1. BEBAIΩ βεβαίωconfirm 5establish 1stablish 2. BEBAIOS βεβαίοςfirm 1of force 1steadfast 4sure 3. BEBAIOSIS βεβαίω-σις f.confirmation 2. BEBELOΩ βεβηλώωprofane 2. BEBELOS βέβηλοςprofane 4. As noun profane person 1. BELOS βέλος n.dart 1. BELTION βελτίων n.very well 1. BEMA βήμα n.judgment seat 1throne 1*to set . . . on 1. BERYLLOS βήρυλλοςberyl 1. BIA βία f.violence 4. BIAIOS βίαιοςmighty 1. BIASTES βιαστήςviolent (M. they that thrust men) 1. BIAZOMAI βιάζομαιpress 1suffer violence (M. be gotten by force) 1. BIBLARIION βιβ-λαρίδιον n.little book 4. BIBLION βιβλίον n.bill 1book 29scroll 1writing 1. BIBLOS βίβλοςbook 13. BIBRΩSKO βιβρώσκωeat 1. BIOΩ βιώωlive 1. BIOS βίοςgood (n.) 1life 5living 5. BIOSIS βίωσις f.manner of life 1. BIOTIKOS βιωτικόςof things per-taining to thislife 1of this life 1. As noun things that per-tain to this life 1. BLABEROS βλαβερόςhurtful 1. BLAPTΩ βλάπτωhurt 2. BLASPHEMEΩ βλασ-φημέωblaspheme 17defame 1rail on 2report slander-ously 1revile 1speak blas-phemy 1speak evil of 10.blasphemer 1*blasphemously 1. Partic. BLASPHEMIA βλασ-φημία f.blasphemy 16evil speaking 1railing 2. BLASPHEMOS βλασ-φημοςblasphemous 1railing 1. As noun blasphemer 1. BLASTANΩ βλαστάνωbring forth 1bud 1spring up 2. BLEMMA βλέμμα n.seeing 1. BLEPΩ βλέπωbehold 10beware 4beware of 3lie 1look 3look on 4look to 1perceive 1see 90take heed 12take heed to 2.take heed to 2. Partic. BLETEOS βλητέοςmust be put 2. BOAO βοάωcry 11. BOE βοή f.cry 1. BOETHAIA βοήθεια f.help 1.to help (eis with acc.) 1. BOETHEO βοηθέωhelp 6succour 2. BOETHO βοηθόςhelper 1. BOLE βολή f.cast 1. BOLIS βολίς f.dart 1. BOLIZO βορίζωsound 2. BOMOS βωμόςaltar 1. BORBOROS βόρβοροςmire 1. BORRHAS βορῆςnorth 2. BOSKO βόσκωfeed 5keep 1.feed 3. Mid. BOTANĒ βοτάνη f.herbs 1. BOTHUNOS βόθυνοςditch 2pit 1. BOTRUS βότρωςcluster 1. BOULE βουλή f.counsel 10will 1. † See tithe 1. BOULEMA βούλημα n.purpose 1will 1. BOULEUTEJ βου-λευτήςcounsellor 2. BOULEUSOMAIβουλεύομαιbe minded 1consult 1. | determine 1purpose 1take counsel 1. BOULOMAI βούλομαιbe disposed 1be minded 1be willing 1intend 2list 1will 26 (would 11).of one's own will 1. Partic. BOUNOS βουνόςhill 2. BOUS βούςox 8. BRABEION βραβεῖονn.prize 2. BRABEΩ βραβεύωrule 1. BRACHION βραχίονarm 3. BRACHUS βραχύςNeut. a little 1.a little while 1.Plur. few words 1.† With tit: a little 3 (M. a little while 1), a little space 1. BRADUNO βραδύνωbe slack 1tarry long 1. BRADUPLOEO βραδυ-πλοέωsail slowly 1. BRADUS βραδύςslow 3. BRADUTES βραδυτής f.slackness 1. BRECHō βρέχωrain (tr.) 1rain (intr.) 2send rain 1wash 2.† rain (intr., with huetos) BREPHOS βρέφος n.babe 5child 1infant 1young child 1. BROCHE βροχή f.rain 2. BROCHOS βρόχοςsnare 1. BRōMA βρώμα n.meat 16victuals 1. BRONTĒ βροντή f.thunder 7thundering 4.to thunder (with ginomai) 1. BRōSIMOS βρώσιμοςn.meat 1. BRōSIS βρώσις f.eating 1food 1meat 6 (M. eat-ing) 1morsel of meat 1rust 2. BRōSKō = BIBRōSKō. BRUCHō βρύχωgnash 1. BRUGMOS βρυγμόςgnashing 7. BRUō βρύωsend forth 1. BURSEUS βурсеусtanner 3. BUSSINOS βύσσινοςfine linen 4. BUSSOS βύσσος f.fine linen 2. BUTHIZO βυθίζωdrown 1. PASS. BUTHOS βυθόςbegin to sink 1.deep 1. | CHAIRō χαίρωbe glad 14joy 5rejoice 42.joyfully 1.all hail 1farewell 1hall 5.God speed 2greeting 1send greeting 2. Partic. CHALAO χαλᾶωlet down 5strike 1. CHALAZA χάλαζα f.hall 4. CHALEPOS χαλεπόςfierce 1perilous 1. CHALNAGOGEOχαλναγωγέωbridle (vb.) 2. CHALINOS χαλινόςbit 1bridle 1. CHALKEDON χαλκη-δώνchalcedony 1. CHALKEOS χάλκεος(χαλκούς)of brass 1. CHALKEUS χαλκεύςcoppersmith 1. CHALKION χαλκίον n.brazen vessel 1. CHALKOLIBANONχαλκολιβανονfine brass 2. CHALKOS χαλκόςbrass 3money 2. CHALKOUS = CHAL-KEOS. CHAMAI χαμαίon the ground 1to the ground 1. CHARA χαρά f.gladness 3joy 53joyfulness 1*greatly (dat.) 1*joyous (gen.) 1.† joyfully (meta with gen.) 1.See hyperperisseuo. CHARAGMA χάραγμαmark 8*graven (dat.) 1. CHARAKTER χαρακ-τήρexpress image 1. CHARAX χαραξtrench 1. CHARIN χάρινbecause of 2for . . . cause 2for the sake of 1wherefore (with gen. ofhos 1, gen. of tis 1) 2. CHARIS χάριςbenefit (M. grace)1favour 6grace 129 (M.thanksgiving 1)liberality (M.gift) 1pleasure 1thank 3thanks 4*acceptable (M.thank) 1*gracious (gen.) 1† God be thanked (with dat.of theos) 1. See echō. CHARISMA χάρισμαn.free gift 1gift 15. CHARITOō χαριτόωmake accepted 1. | PASS. pt. highly favoured (M. graciously accepted or much graced) 1. CHARIZOMAI χαρίζο-μαιdeliver 2forgive 12forgive frankly 1give 6give freely 1grant 1.Partic. things that are freely given 1. CHARTES χάρτηςpaper 1. CHASMA χάσμα n.gulf 1. CHELLOS χείλος n.lip 6shore 1. CHEMMARRHOS χεί-μαρροςbrook 1. CHEIMAZO χεϊμάζωtoss with a tem-pest 1. CHEIMON χεϊμώνfoul weather 1tempest 1winter 4. CHEIR χείρ f.hand 178. CHEIRAGOGEO χείρ-αγωγέωlead by the hand 2. CHEIRAGOGOS χείρ-αγωγόςsome to lead by the hand (pl.) 1. CHEIROGRAPHONχειρόγραφον n.handwriting 1. CHEIRON χείρωνsorer 1worse 9.† With tit: worse thing 1. CHEIROPOIETOSχειροποίητοςmade by hands 1made with hands 4.As noun that is made with hands 1. CHEIROSTONEO χείρο-τόνέωchoose 1ordain 1. CHEROUBIM χερουβίμcherubim 1. CHERA χήρα f.that was 1widow 1widow 26. CHILIARCHOS χιλι-αρχοςcaptain 2chief captain 19high captain 1. CHILIAS χιλιάς f.thousand 23. CHILIOI χίλιοιthousand 11. CHION χιώνsnow 3. CHITON χιτώνclothes (pl.) 1coat 9garment 1. CHLAMUS χλαμύς f.robe 2. CHLEUAZO χλευάζωmock 2. CHLIAROS χλιαρόςlukewarm 1. CHLOROS χλωρόςgreen 2pale 1.As noun green thing 1. | CHOIKOS χυϊκόςearthy 3.As noun that is earthy (pl.) 1. CHOINIX χουινίς f.measure 1. CHOIROS χοῖροςswine 14. CHOLAO χολᾶωbe angry 1. CHOLE χολή f.gall 2. CHOLOS χολόςbeing a cripple 1halt 4lame 7that is lame 1.lame man 1that which 1lame 1. As noun CHOOS χόος (χοῦς)dust 2. CHORA χώρα f.coasts 1country 14field 2ground 1land 3region 5. CHOREGEō χορηγέωgive 1minister 1. CHOREO χορεύωbe room to re-ceive 1can contain 1can receive 1come 1contain 1go 1have place 1receive 1. CHORION χωρίον n.field 2land 3parcel of ground 1.place 2possession 1. CHORIS χωρίςbeside 3by itself 1without 36 (M.severed from 1). CHORIZO χωρίζωput asunder 1separate 1.PASS. pt. CHOROS χόροςdepart 8.Mid. CHOROS χόροςdancing 1. CHOROS χῶροςnorth-west 1. CHORTASMA χόρ-τασμα n.sustenance 1. CHORTAZO χορτάζωfeed 1fill 13satisfy 1. CHORTOS χόρτοςblade 2grass 12hay 1. CHOUS = CHOOS. CHRAO χράω (κίχρημι)lend 1.Mid. CHRE χρήentreat 1use 10. CHRE χρήought 1. CHREIA χρεία f.business 1lack 1necessity 3need 25use 2want 1*necessary 1*needful 1.† to need (echō with acc.) 14. CHREMA χρήμα n.money 1money (pl.) 3riches (pl.) 1. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| CHREMATISMOS χρηματισμόςanswer of God 1.                                                                            | D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | DEIKNUMI δεικνύμι(δεικνύω)show 32.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | DEOMAI δέομαιbeseech 9make request 11pray 12.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | through 87throughout 4to (M. by) 1with 16within 1, etc.because of 29by 8 (M. because of 1 for 1)by reason of 4for 58 (M. by 1)for —'s sake 45of 2through 11with 1*avoid 1*because (with infin.) 24*because that (with infin.) 2*that (with infin.) 1, etc.†With touto: for this cause 14, therefore 44, wherefore 8. With hos and aitia: wherefore 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | DIAIBEIO διαίβειοdivide 2. |
| CHREMATILO χρηματίσωcall 2reveal 1speak 1.PASS. be admonished of God 1be warned of (or from) God 4. | DAIMON δαίμωνdevil 1.DAIMONTIDES δαίμονιδηςdevilish 1.DAIMONION δαίμονιονn. devil 59god 1.DAIMONIZOMAI δαίμονιζομαιbe possessed of the devils 2be possessed with a devil 5be possessed with devils 4be vexed with 1 devil 1.Partia. he that hath a devil 1. | DEILIA δειλίαfear 1.DEILIAO δειλιάωbe afraid 1.DEILCS δειλόςfearful 3.DEINA δεινάsuch a man 1.DEINOS δεινόςgrievously 1vehemently 1.DEIPNEO δειπνέωsup. 3supper 1.DEIPNON δειπνον n. feast 3supper 13.DEISIDAIMON δεισιδαίμωνtoo superstitious 1.DEISIDAIMONIA δεισιδαιμονία f. superstition 1.DEKA δέκαten 24.†eighteen (with kal okto) 3.DEKADUO δεκαδύωtwelve 1.DEKAPENTE δεκαπέντεfifteen 3.DEKATE δεκάτη f. tenth 1tenth part 1.tithes 2.DEKATESSARES δεκατέσσαρεςfourteen 5.DEKATCO δεκατῶreceive tithes of 1.PASS. pay tithes 1.DEKATOS δέκατοςtenth 3.DEKTOS δεκτόςacceptable 1accepted 3.DELEAZO δελεάζωallure 1beguile 1entice 1.DELOO δηλόωdeclare 1show 1signify 3.DELOS δηλόςcertain 1evident 1manifest 1.†See poleo.DEMÉGOREO δημηγορέωmake an oration 1.DEMIOURGOS δημιουργόςmaker 1.DEMOS δήμοςpeople 4.DEMOSIOS δημόσιοςcommon 1.Dat. publicly 2openly 1.DENARION δηνάριονpenny 14*pennyworth (gen. pl.) 2.DENDRON δένδρον n. tree 26.DEO δέωbind 37knit 1tie 4wind 1.PASS. be in bonds 1. | DERMA δέρμα n. skin 1.DERMATINOS δερματίνοςleathern 1of a skin 2.DERO δέρωbeat 12smite 3.DESMO δέσμη f. bundle 1.DESMEO δεσμέωbind 1.DESMEOO δεσμεύωbind 2.DESMIOS δέσιμοςin bonds 1prisoner 13that is in bonds 1.DESMOPHULAX δεσμοφύλαξjailor 1keeper of the prison 2.DESMOS δεσμόςband 3bond 15chain 1string 1.DESMOTERION δεσμοτήριον n. prison 4.DESMOTES δεσμώτηςprisoner 1.DESPOTES δεσπότηςLord 5master 5.DEURO δέυροcome 6come hither 1.†hitherto (achri deuro) 1.DEUTE δεύτεcome 12.*follow (with opisō) 1.DEUTERAIOS δευτεραίοςthe next day 1.DEUTEROPROTOS δευτερόπρωτοςsecond after the first 1.DEUTERCS δευτερόςsecond 31.Neut. afterward 1again 1secondarily 1the second time 3.†ek with gen.: again 2, the second time 4.DEXIOLABOS δεξιολάβοςspearman 2.DEXIOS δεξιόςright 12.As noun. right hand (fem. 17, neut. pl. 22) 39right side (neut. pl.) 1.DIA διάGenit. after 3among (M. by) 1at 2by 235 (M. because of 1, whereby 1)by occasion of 1for 1for . . . sake 2from 1In 8of 1out of 1 | DIABAIRO διαβαίρωdivide 2.DIABRESIS διαβρεσις f. difference 1diversity 1.DIAKATELEGHOMAI διακατελέγχομαιconvince 1.DIAKATHARIZO διακαθαρίζωpurge thoroughly 12.DIAKOLUO διακολύωforbid 1.DIAKONEO διακονέωadminister 1minister 7minister to 1minister unto 15the office of deacon 1 (M. minister 1).DIAKONIA διακονία f. administration 1ministering 3ministration 6ministry 16 (M. charge 1)office 1relief 1service 1serving 1*do service 1*minister (pb.) 1.DIAKONOS διακονόςdeacon 3minister 20servant 7.DIAKOSIOI διακόσιοιtwo hundred 2.DIAKOOU διακούωhear 1.DIAKRINO διακρίνωdiscern 1judge 3make to differ (M. distinguish) 1put a difference 1.Mid. (PASS.) be partial 1contend 1doubt 5 (M. discern and put a difference between meats 1)*differ 1*discern 1*stagger 1waver 2.DIAKRISIS διακρίσις f. discerning 1*doubtful (M. *judge) 1.†to discern (pros with acc.) 1.DIALALEO διαλαλέωcommune 1noise abroad 2.DIALEGOMAI διαλέγομαιdispute 6preach 2reason 1reason with 1speak 1.DIALEIPO διαλείπωcease 1.DIALEKTOS διαλεκτός f. language 1tongue 5.DIALLASSOMAI διαλλάσσομαιbe reconciled 1.DIALOGISMOS διαλογισμόςdisputation (M. his doubtful thoughts) 1disputing 1doubting 1imagination 1reasoning 1thought 5. |                                |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DIALOGIZOMAI δια-λογίζομαιcast in one's mindconsiderdisputemuse (M. reason or debate)reasonthinkDIALUO δαλύωscatterDIAMACHOMAI δια-μάχομαιstriveDIAMARTUROMAI διαμαρτύρομαιchargetestifywitnessDIAMENO διαμένωcontinueremainDIAMERISMOS δια-μερισμόςdivisionDIAMERIZO διαμερίζωdividepartcloveDIANEMO διανέμωspreadDIANEUO διανέωbeckonDIANOEMA διάνοημαthoughtDIANOIA διάνοια f.imaginationmindunderstandingDIANOIGO διανοίγωopenDIANUKTEREUO διανυκτερεύωcontinue all nightfinishDIAPANTOS διαπαντόςalways (always)continuallyDIAPERAO διαπεράωcan passgo overpass oversail overDIAPHANES διαφανήςtransparentDIAPHEMIZO δια-φημίζωblaze abroadcommonly reportspread abroadfameDIAPHERO διαφέρωbe betterbe of more valuecarrydiffer fromdrive up and downmake matterpublishthings that are excellent (M. differ)things that are more excellent (M. things that differ)DIAPHEUGO διαφεύγωescapeDIAPHOROS διάφοροςdifferingdiversemore excellentDIAPHTHEIRO δια-φθείρωcorruptdestroycorruptperishPartia. corrupt | DIAPHTHORA δια-φθορά f.corruptionDIAPHULASCO δια-φυλάσσωkeepDIAPLEO διαπλέωsail overDIAPONOMAI δια-πονέομαιbe grievedDIAPOREO διαπορέωbe in doubtbe perplexeddoubtbe much perplexedDIAPOREUOMAI δια-πορεύομαιgo throughpass byin one's journeyDIAPRAGMATEUOMAI διαπραγματεύομαιgain by tradingDIAPRIOMAI διαπρίομαιbe cutbe cut to the heartDIARPAZO διαρπάζωspoilDIARRHEGNUMI (DIARRHESSO) (διαρρήσσω) διαρρήγνυμιbreakto rendbreakMid. breakDIASAPHEO διασαφένωtellDIASEIO διασεύωdo violence to (M. put in fear)DIASKORPIZO δια-σκορπίζωdispersescatterscatter abroadstrewwasteDIASOZO διασώζωbring safehealmake perfectly wholesaveescapeescape safeDIASPAO διασπένωpluck asunderpull in piecesDIASPEIRO διασπείρωscatter abroadDIASPORA διασπορά f.dispersedscatteredwhich are scattered abroadDIASTELLOMAI δια-στέλλομαιMid. chargegive commandmentbe commandedDIASTEMA διάστημαspaceDIASTOLE διαστολή f.differencedistinctionDIASTREPHO δια-στρέφωpervertturn awayPass. pt. perverse | DIATAGE διαταγή f.dispositionordinanceDIATAGMA διατάγμαcommandmentDIATARASSO δια-ταράσσωtroubleDIATASSO διατάσσωappointcommandgive orderordainceremonycommandordainset in orderMid. deliver (with aotēria)have power (pass. with dat.)hinder (with ezkopē)receive (with dat. of aut-s)show openly (with gnomal and emphases)smite with hand (with rhapsima)strike with palm of hand (with rhapsima)M. strike with rodDIDRACHMON δι-δραχμῶνtribute (pl.)tribute money (pl.)DIEGEIRO διεγείρωawakeraisestir uparisePass. DIEGEOMAI διεγέομαιdeclareshowtellDIEGESIS διήγησις f.declarationDIENEKEIS διηνεκήςEis with acc. neut.; continuallyfor everDIDUCHOMAI διέρχομαιdepartgogo aboutgo abroadgo everywherego overgo over allgo throughgo throughoutpasspass bypass overpass throughpass throughoutpierce throughtravelwalkDIERMENEUO διερ-μηνέωexpoundinterpretPass. pt. by interpretationDIERMENEUTES διερμηνευτήςInterpreterDIEROTAO διερωτάωmake enquiryforDIETES διετήςtwo years oldDIETIA διετία f.two yearsDIEXODOS διέξοδος f.highway (with gen. pl. of hodos)DIKNEOMAI διικνεόμαιpierceDISCHURIZOLIAI δισχυρίζομαιaffirm confidentlyaffirm constantly | DIETEMI διέττημιbe partedgo furtherthe space of . . . afterDIKAIOKRISIA δικαιοκρίσια f.righteous judgmentDIKAIOMA δικαίωμαjudgmentjustificationordinanceceremonyrite or ceremonyrighteousnessDIKAIOS δίκαιοςfree (M. justify)justifyjustifierbe righteousDIKAIOS δίκαιοςmeetjustrightrighteousDIKAIOS δίκαιοςjustlyrighteously*to righteousnessDIKAIOSIS δικαιοσύνη f.justificationDIKAIOSUNE δικαιοσύνη f.righteousnessDIKASTES δικαστήςjudgeDIKE δίκη f.judgmentvengeance†See tlo.DIKTUON δικτυον n.netDILOGOS διλογοςdouble-tonguedDIO διό (i.e. δι' δ)and thereforefor whichthereforewhereforeDIODEUO διοδεύωgo throughoutpass throughDIOGMOS διωγμόςpersecutionDIOKO διώωensuefollowfollow afterpersecutepress towardgiven tosuffer persecu-tionDIOKTES διόκτηςpersecutorDIOPER διόπερwhereforeDIOPETES διωπετήςwhich fell down from JupiterDIORTHOSIS διόρ-θωσις f.reformationDIORUSSO διορύσσωbreak throughbreak upDIOTI διότιbecausebecause thatfor (M. for that)thereforeDIPLCO διπλόωdouble | DIPLCUS διπλούςdoubletwofold moreDIPSAO διψάωbe athirstbe thirstythirstDIPSOS ψος n.thirstDIPSUCHOS διψυχοςdouble-mindedDIS δὲagaintwiceDISCHILIOI διαχίλιοιtwo thousandDISTAZO διαστάωdoubt (vb.)DISTOMOS διστόμοςtwo-edgedwith two edgesDITHALASSOS διθάλασσοςwhere two meetDIULIZO διυλίζωstrainDOCHE δοχή f.feastDODEKA δώδεκαtwelveDODEKAPHULON δωδεκάφυλονtwelve tribesDODEKATOS δωδέκα-τοςtwelfthDOGMA δόγμα n.decreeordinanceDOGMATIZOMAI δογ-ματίζομαιbe subject to ordinancesDOKEO δοκέωbe accountedthinkbe of reputationseemthinksupposethinkthink (with dat.)trowit pleasethit seemethit seemeth goodPartia. pleasureDOKIMAZO δοκιμάζωallowapprovediscernexaminelikeprovetryDOKIME δοκιμή f.experienceexperimentprooftrialDOKIMION δοκιμιον n.tryingDOKIMOS δοκιμοςapprovedtriedwhich is ap-provedDOKOS δοκός f.beamDOLIOO δολιόωuse deceitDOLIOS δόλιοςdeceitfulDOLCO δολώωhandle deceit fully |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase

|                                                                    |                                |                                     |                                   |                                                                                     |                                    |                               |                                                 |                                              |                                |                                                                    |                                                      |                                         |                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                  |                                            |                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                     |                                 |                                                           |                                    |                                            |                                                                       |                                   |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DOLOS δόλοςcraft 1deceit 2guile 7subtily 11 | DOXA δόξα n.gift 4. | DOMA δῶμα n.house-top 7. | DÓREA δῶρεά f.gift 11. | DÓREAN δῶρεόνfor naught 1freely 6in vain 1without 1 cause 1. | DÓREMA δῶρημα n.gift 2. | DÓREO δῶρεώgive 3. | DORON δῶρον n.gift 18offering 1. | DOSIS δόσις f.gift 1giving 1. | DOTES δότιςgiver 1. | DOULAGOGEO δουλ-αγωγέωbring into sub-jection 1. | DOULE δούλη f.handmaid 1handmaiden 2. | DOULEIA δουλεία f.bondage 5. | DOULEUO δουλεύωbe in bondage 4do service 1serve 18. | DOULO δούλωbring into bond-age 1make servant 1.be brought inbondage 1become servant 2be under bond-age 1. | Partic. given to 1in bondage 1. | DOULOS δούλοςbond 6bondman 1servant 120. | DOXA δόξα f.dignity 1glory 144honour 6praise 4worship 1*glorious (gen.) 6.†glorious (dia and gen.) 1;glorious (en and dat.) 3. | DOXAZO δοξάζωglorify 54honour 3magnify 1.be made glorious 1have glory 2. | Partic. full of glory 1. | DRACHME δραχμή f.piece 2piece of silver 1. | DRAKON δράκωνdragon 13. | DRASSOMAI δρασσο-μαιtake 1. | DREMŌ = TRECHŌ.DREPANON δρέπανονn.sickle 8. | DROMOS δρόμοςcourse 3. | DUMI = DUNO.DUNAMAI δύναμαιbe able 37be able to do 1be possible 1147 | Partic. can do 2may 18.able 3that is of power 1.DUNAMIS δύναμις f.ability 1abundance (M.power) 1meaning 1might 4mighty deed 1mighty work 11miracle 8power 77strength 7violence 1virtue 3wonderful work 1worker of mir-acles (M.power) 1.*mighty (gen.) 2(M. of power) 1.†mighty (en with dat.) 1.DUNAMOŌ δυναμώωstrengthen 1.DUNASTES δυνάστηςmighty 1of great author-ity 1Potentate 1.DUNATEO δυνατέωbe mighty 1.DUNATOS δυνατόςable 10mighty 5possible (neut.)13strong 3that I could 1that is mighty 1.mighty man 1power 1.DUNO δύνω (δύμι)be setting 1set 1.DUO δύοboth 2twain 10two 116two men 1two women 1.†ana duo: two and two 1,two apiece 2. Repeatedby two and two 1.DUSBASTAKTOS δυσ-βάστακτοςgrievous to beborne 2.DUSERTERIA δυσ-εντερία f.bloody flux 1.DUSERMENEUTOSδυσερμηνευτοςhard to be ut-tered 1.DUSKOLOS δύσκολοςhard 1.DUSKOLOS δυσκόλωςhardly 3.DUSME δυσμή f.west (pl.) 5.DUSNOETOS δυσνόη-τοςhard to be under-stood 1.DUSPHEMIA δυσ-φημία f.evil report 1.EE<sup>1</sup> ηandeither 8except it be 1neither 3nor 5or 257or else 5or if 1what? 3.†e kai: or else 1, yea and1.E<sup>2</sup> ηbut 1but either 1more than 1 | rather than 3save 1than 35.than 1. but rather 1, butthan 1. See pleion.E<sup>3</sup> ηsurely (with men) 1.EAN εἰand if 4if 194though 12when 2.†though (kai en) 1. Withkai: if (M. although) 1.With te: whether 3, or3, though 1. With me:if not 15, if no 1, except33, but 3. With meproteron: before 1,former 2, first 2, at thefirst 1.EANPER εἰνπερif 3.EAO εἰδωcommit (M.leave) 1leave 1let 1let alone 1suffer 9.let alone 2 (M.away 1).ECHEO ἔχέωroar 1sound 1.ECHIDNA ἐχίδνα f.viper 5.ECHO ἔχωbe able 1be in that 1be old 1be possessedwith 1can 4could have 1count 4do 1have 607 (M. holdfast 1)hold 2hold fast 1keep 1lie 1retain 1take for 1use (M. have) 1.with 1.accompany 1.day following 1next 2next day 1.the bold (with parrhesia)1; be diseased (withkakos) 2; be of age (withhēlikia) 2; be rebuked(with elegxis) 1; be sick(with kakos) 7; be withchild (with en andgaster) 5; begin toamend (with komp-soteron) 1; conceive(with koite) 1; eat (withpneus) 1; enjoy thepleasures (with apolau-sis) 1; fear (with phobos)1; go to law (with pl. ofkrina) 1; have notknowledge (with ag-nosia) 1; hold in reputa-tion (M. in honour; withentimos) 1; lie at thepoint of death (with es-chatos) 1; recover (withkalos) 1; reign (withbasileia) 1; thank (withcharis) 3; with child(partic. with en andgaster) 2. With anakke:must needs 1, must ofnecessity 1, need 1, *beneedful for 1. Me echo:have not (M. be poor) 1,lack 1. Partic. sickpeople (with kakos) 1.See ekstasis, tromos, etc.ECHOS ἦχοςfame 1sound 2.ECHTHES = CHTHES.ECHTHRA ἐχθρα f.enmity 5hated 1.ECHTHROS ἐχθρόςenemy 29foe 2.†See anthrōpos. | EDAPHIZO ἐδαφίζωlay even withthe ground 1.EDAPHOS ἐδαφος n.ground 1.EDE ἔδηalready 18by this time 1even now 1now 37yet 2.EĜCHRIO ἐγχερίωanoint 1.EGEIRO ἐγείρωawake 1lift up 3lift out 1raise 28raise again 4raise up 23rear up 1take up 1.MID. (PASS.) arise 27rise 36rise again 5rise up 8.†stand forth (with eis tomeson) 1.EGERSIS ἐγερσις f.resurrection 1.EĜGIZO ἐγγίζωapproach 2be at hand 9be high 2come near 5come nigh 1draw near 5draw nigh 12.EĜGRAPHO ἐγγράφωwrite in 2.EĜGUOS ἐγγυοςsurety 1.EĜGUS ἐγγύςat hand 6from 1near 3near to 1nigh 7nigh at hand 4nigh to 3nigh unto 4ready 1.EĜKAINIA ἐγκαίνιαn. pl.feast of the dedi-cation 1.EĜKAINIZO ἐγκαίνιζωconsecrate (M.make new) 1dedicate (M.purify) 1.EĜKALEO ἐγκαλέωaccuse 4call in question 1implead 1.†lay 1 thing to the chargeof (with kata) 1.EĜKATALEIPOἐγκαταλείπωforsake 7leave 2.EĜKATHETOS ἐγκά-θετοςspy 1.EĜKATOIKEO ἐγ-κατοικέωdwell among 1.EĜKENTRIZO ἐγκεν-τρίζωgraft in 1graft into 1.EĜKLEMA ἐγκλημα n.crime laidagainst one 1*laid to one'scharge 1.EĜKOMBOOMAI ἐγ-κομβόομαιbe clothed with1.EĜKOPE ἐγκοπή†See didomi.EĜKOPTO ἐγκόπτωbe tedious unto1hinder 1. | EĜKRATEIA ἐγκράτ-εια f.temperance 4.EĜKREATES ἐγκρατήςtemperate 1.EĜKRATEUOMAIἐγκρατεύομαιbe temperate 1can contain 1.EĜKRINO ἐγκρίνωmake of thenumber 1.EĜKRUPTO ἐγκρύπτωhide 2.EĜKUOS ἐγκυοςgreat with child1.EGO ἐγώI freq.EI εἰif 325that 5whether 20.†With de me: else 2, or else3. With de mege: else 2,if otherwise 2, otherwise1, or else 1, etc. Withkai: else 2, if 3, though14, etc. With me: but53, except 6, exceptthat 1, if not 5, morethan 1, save 16, saving 2,save that 1, save onlythat 1. With tis: whetherany 1, whosoever 2, hethat 1, that which 1.Also combined with variousother particles.EIDEA = IDEA.EIDŌ = EIDON =OIDA.EIDŌLEION εἰδωλεῖονn.idol's temple 1.EIDŌLOLATREIAεἰδωλολατρεία f.idolatry 4.EIDŌLOLATRES εἰδω-λολάτρηςidolater 7.EIDOLON εἰδωλον n.idol 11.EIDŌLOTHUTON εἰδω-λόθυτον n.meat offered toidols 1.that which isoffered insacrifice toidols 1.thing offered toidols 1.thing offered un-to an idol 1.thing offered un-to idols 1.thing sacrificedunto idols 2thing that isoffered insacrifice untoidols 1.thing which isoffered to idols1*offered in sacri-fice unto idols1.EIDON εἶδον. Cf.HORAO.behold 16consider 1know 1look 6look on 2perceive 5.see 316 †hide and1idou).EIDOS εἶδοςappearance 1fashion 1shape 2sight 1.EIGE εἶγε (εἶγε)if 2if so be that 2.†if yet (with kai) 1. | EIKE εἰκῆin vain 5vainly 1without a cause1.EIKO<sup>1</sup>εἶκωgive place 1.EIKO<sup>2</sup>εἶκω (εἰκω)be like 2.EIKON εἰκὼν f.image 23.EIKOSI εἰκοσιtwenty 13.EILIKRINEIA εἰλι-κρίνευα f.sincerity 3.EILIKRINES εἰλι-κρινήςpure 1sincere 1.EIMI εἶμιto be.Rendered also by become,begin to be, be made,come 3, come to pass,dure, endure, follow,have being, hold, is tosay 6, make, mean 6,stand.†agree (with isos) 2; agreein (with eis) 1; agreenot (with asymphonos)1; be accepted of (witheuarestos) 1; be made(with eis) 1; belongunto (with ek) 1; fearexceedingly (with ek-phobos) 1; follow (withmeta) 1; give self whollyto (with en) 1; have(with en) 3; have thecharge of (with epi) 1;live long (with makro-chronios) 1; lust after(with epithumētes) 1;must needs (with ana-gkē) 1; pass the flowerof age (with huperak-mos) 1; please well(with euarestos) 1; pro-fit (with ophelimos) 1;quake (with entromos) 1;sojourn (with paroikos)1. With genit. or dat.:belong to 2, have 22,own 1.ENAI Inf. of EIMI.EIOΘA Perf. ofETHO.EIPER εἴπερif so be 1if so be that 1seeing 1though 1EIPON εἶπονanswer 1bid 5bring word 1call 1command 1grant 1say 865say on 1speak 55speak of 1tell 40tell of 1.EIPOS εἶποςif by any means 1.EIREKA Perf. of TREOEIRENE εἰρήνη f.peace 88quietness 1rest 1.†at one again (eis and acc.)1.EIRENEUO εἰρηνεύωbe at peace 1have peace 1live in peace 1live peaceably 1.EIRENIKOS εἰρηνικόςpeaceable 2.EIRENOPOIEO εἰρηνο-ποιέωmake peace 1.EIRENOPOIOS εἰρηνο-ποιόςpeacemaker 1. |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| EIRO = ERÖ. EIE εἰς         against 25         among 16         at =         for 91         in 131         into 571         that 30         = 57         to 282         toward 32         unto 208         upon 25, etc. †With pronouns from 9, translated by the second part of therein, thereunto, wherein, wherefore, etc. As concerning (with 10-gos) 1. EISAGO εἰσάγω         bring in 5. †With eis: bring into 4, lead into 1. EISAKOÜO εἰσακούω         hear 5. EISDECHOMAI εἰσδέχομαι         receive 1. EISEIMI εἰσείμι         go in 1. †With eis: enter 1, go into 2. EISERCHOMAI εἰσέρχομαι         arise 2         come 2         come in 19         enter 107         enter in 17         go 4         go in 19. †With eis: come into 9, come to 2, come unto 1, go into 17. EISKALEO εἰσκαλέω         call in 1. EISODON εἰσόδος         coming 1         entering in 1         entrance 1         entrance in 1         enter 1. EISPEDAÖ εἰσπηδάω         run 1         spring in 1. EISPHERO εἰσφέρω         bring in 1. †With eis: bring into 2, bring to 1, lead into 2. EISPOREUOMAI εἰσπορεύομαι         come in 3         enter 8         enter in 5. †With eis: go into 1. EISTRECHO εἰστρέχω         run in 1. EITA εἴτα         after that 3         afterward 1         furthermore 1         then 11. EK ἐκ (ἐξ)         among 1         at 3         because of 1         between 1         betwixt 1         by 55         by reason of 3         by the means of 1         for 1         from 182         from among 3         from up 1         in 6 (M. out of 1)         of 102         off (A. V. 1611 of) 1         on 10         one of 8         out of 131         over 4         some of 6         them of 1         they of 1         through 1 | unto 1         with 25. †With pronouns translated by second part of thereof, etc. EKDALLO ἐκβάλλω         bring forth 3         cast 2         cast forth 1         cast out 52 (M. excommunicate 1)         drive 1         drive out 1         expel 1         pluck out 1         pull out 3         put forth 3         put out 2         send away 1         send forth 3         send out 1         take out 1         thrust out 2.         cast out 1. Mid.         †With exö: cast out 1, thrust out 1, leave out (M. cast out) 1. EKBASIS ἐκβασίς f.         end 1         way to escape 1. EKBOLE ἐκβολή f.         †With polemai: lighten the ship 1. EKCHEO ἐκχέω         pour out 11         shed 4         shed forth 1         spill 1. PASS.         run out 1. EKCHOREO ἐκχωρέω         depart out 1. EKCHUNO ἐκχύνω         pour out 1         shed 5         shed abroad 1         spill 1. PASS.         gush out 1         run greedily 1. EKDPANAOUMAI ἐκδπανάομαι         be spent 1. EKDECHOMAI ἐκδέχομαι         expect 1         look for 2         tarry for 1         wait 1         wait for 3. EKDELOS ἐκδηλος         manifest 1. EKDMEO ἐκδημέω         be absent 2.         absent 1. Partic.         absent 1. EKDIDOMI ἐκδιδωμι         let forth 1         let out 3. EKDIEGEOMAI ἐκδιηγέομαι         declare 1. EKDIKEO ἐκδικέω         avenge 5         revenge 1. EKDIKESIS ἐκδίκησις f.         punishment 1         revenge 1         vengeance 4. †See poleö. EKDIKOS ἐκδικος         avenger 1         revenger 1. EKDIÖKÖ ἐκδιώκω         persecute 2 (M. chase out 1). EKDOCHE ἐκδοχή f.         looking for 1. EKDOTOS ἐκδοτος         being delivered 1. EKDUO ἐκδύω         strip 2         take off from 2         be unclothed 1. Mid. | EKEI ἐκεῖ         there 96         thither 1         thitherward 1         to yonder place 1         yonder 1. †See hopou. EKEINOS ἐκεῖνος         he/she, it, they, etc. 100         Peter 1         self-same 1         same 19         that 137         that same 4         that very 1         that way 1         the other 1         this 1. EKEISE ἐκεῖσε         there 2. EKEITHEN ἐκεῖθεν         afterward 1         from thence 14         from that place 1         thence 19         there 1. EKGAMISKO ἐκγαμίζω         give in marriage 2. EKGAMIZO ἐκγαμίζω         give in marriage 5. EKGONA ἐκγονα         nephews 1. EKKAIOMAI ἐκκαίομαι         burn 1. EKKAKEO ἐκκακέω         be weary 1 (M. faint 1).         faint 4. EKKATHAIRO ἐκκαθαίρω         purge 1         purge out 1. EKKENTEÖ ἐκκεντέω         pierce 1. EKKLAO ἐκκλάω         break off 3. EKKLEIO ἐκκλείω         exclude 2. EKKLESIA ἐκκλησία f.         assembly 1         church 112. EKKLINO ἐκκλίνω         avoid 1         eschew 1         go out of the way 1. EKKOLUMBAO ἐκκολυμβάω         swim out 1. EKKOMIZO ἐκκομίζω         carry out 1. EKKOPTO ἐκκόπτω         cut down 2         cut off 4         cut out 1         hew down 1         hinder 1. EKKREMAMAI ἐκκρέμαμαι         be very attentive (M. hang on) 1. EKLAEO ἐκλαέω         tell 1. EKLAMPÖ ἐκλάμπω         shine forth 1. EKLANTHANOMAI ἐκλανθάνομαι         forget 1. EKLEGÖ ἐκλέγω         choose 2.         choose 17         choose out 1         make choice 1. Mid.         choose 2. EKLEIPÖ ἐκλείπω         fail 3. | EKLEKTOS ἐκλεκτός         chosen 7         elect 16. EKLOGE ἐκλογή f.         election 6         *chosen 1. EKLUO ἐκλύω         PASS. faint 5 (M. be tired and lie down 1). EKMASSO ἐκμάσσω         wipe 5. EKMUKTERIZO ἐκμυκτηρίζω         deride 1. EKNEPHO ἐκνήφω         awake 1. EKNEUO ἐκνεύω         convey one's self away 1. EKPALAI ἐκπαλαι         of a long time 1         of old 1. EKPEIRAZO ἐκπειράζω         tempt 4. EKPEMPÖ ἐκπέμπω         send away 1         send forth 1. EKPETANNUMI ἐκπετάννυμι         stretch forth 1. EKPHERO ἐκφέρω         bear 1         bring forth 1         carry forth 1         carry out 3. EKPHEUGO ἐκφεύγω         escape 2         flee 2. EKPHOBEO ἐκφοβέω         terrify 1. EKPFOBOS ἐκφοβός         sore afraid 1. †See eiml. EKPHUO ἐκφύω         put forth 2. EKPIPTO ἐκπίπτω         be cast 1         fall 1         fall 5         fall away 1         fall from 1         fall off 2         take none effect 1. EKPLEO ἐκπλέω         sail 1         sail away 1         sail thence 1. EKPLEROO ἐκπληρόω         fulfil 1. EKPLEROSIS ἐκπλήρωσις f.         accomplishment 1. EKPLESSOMAI ἐκπλήσσομαι         be amazed 3         be astonished 10. EKPNEO ἐκπνέω         give up the ghost 3. EKPOREUOMAI ἐκπορεύομαι         come forth 2         come from 1         come out 3         depart 3         go forth 1         go out 11         issue 2         proceed 10. EKPORNEUO ἐκπορνέω         give one's self over to fornication 1. EKPSUCHO ἐκψύχω         give up the ghost 1. EKPTUO ἐκπτύω         reject 1. | EKRIZOÖ ἐκριζώω         pluck up by the root 2         root up 2. EKSTASIS ἐκστασις f.         amazement 1         astonishment 1         trance 3. †be amazed (with echö 1, with lambanö 1) 2. EKSTREPHÖ ἐκστρέφω         subvert 1. EKTARASSO ἐκταράσσω         trouble exceedingly 1. EKTEINO ἐκτείνω         cast out 1         put forth 3         stretch forth 10         stretch out 2. EKTELEO ἐκτελέω         finish 2. EKTENEIA ἐκτένεια         instantly (en with dat.) 1. EKTENES ἐκτενής         fervent 1         without ceasing (M. instant and earnest) 1. EKTENESTERON ἐκτενέστερον         more earnestly 1. EKTENOS ἐκτενώς         fervently 1. EKTHAMBEOMAI ἐκθαμβέομαι         be affrighted 2         be greatly amazed 1         be sore amazed 1. EKTHAMBOS ἐκθαμβός         greatly wondering 1. EKTHETOS ἐκθетος         †See poleö. EKTINASSO ἐκτινάσσω         shake 1         shake off 3. EKTITHEMI ἐκτίθηναι         cast out 1         expound 3. EKTOS ἐκτός         other than 1         out of 2         without 1         *he is excepted 1. As noun         the outside 1. †With ei me: but 1, except 1, unless 1. EKTREPHÖ ἐκτρέφω         bring up 1         nourish 1. EKTREPOMAI ἐκτρέπομαι         avoid 1         be turned 1         be turned out of the way 1         turn aside 2. EKTRÖMA ἐκτρώμα n.         one born out of due time (M. an abortive) 1. EKZETEÖ ἐκζητέω         inquire gently 1         require 1         seek after 2         seek carefully 1         seek diligently 1. ELACHISTOS ἐλαχίστος         least 7         smallest 1         very little 1         very small 1. | As noun         that thing which is least 1         that which least 1         very small thing 1. ELACHISTOTEROS ἐλαχιστότερος         less than the least 1. ELAIA ἐλαία f.         olive berry 1         Olives (plur.) 11         olive tree 3. ELAION ἐλαιον n.         oil 11. ELAIÖN ἐλαιών         Olivet 1. ELAO = ELAUNO. ELAPHRIA ἐλαφρία f.         lightness 1. ELAPHROS ἐλαφρός         light 2. ELASSON ἐλάσσων         less 1         under 1         younger (M. lesser) 1. As noun         that which is worse 1. ELATTONEÖ ἐλαττονέω         have lack 1. ELATTOO ἐλαττώω         make lower 1         (M. make inferior 1). PASS.         decrease 1. ELAUNO ἐλαύνω (ἐλάω)         carry 1         drive 1         row 2. ELEEINOS ἐλεεινός         miserable 2. ELEEMON ἐλεήμων         merciful 2. ELEEMOSUNE ἐλεημοσύνη f.         alms 13         almsdeed 1. ELEEÖ ἐλεέω         have compassion of 1         have compassion on 1         have mercy on 15         have mercy upon 1         have pity on 1         show mercy 2.         obtain mercy 1. PASS.         receive mercy 1. ELEÖJHO ἐλεόγω         convict 1         convince 4         rebuke 3         reprove 3 (M. convince 1)         discover 1         tell one's tale 1. ELÄJCHOS ἐλεγχος         evidence 1         reproof 1. †See echö. ELEÖS ἐλεος         mercy 28. ELEPHANTINOS ἐλεφαντίνος         of ivory 1. ELEUSIS ἐλευσίς f.         coming 1. ELEUTHERIA ἐλευθερία f.         liberty 11. ELEUTHERCO ἐλευθερώω         deliver 1         make free 1. |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of ■ noun by a verb or adjective, of ■ active by ■ passive.

■ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ELEUTHEROS ἐλεύθεροςfree 18at liberty 1.As noun. freeman 1free woman 3.ELI ἑλίEli 2.ELLOGEÔ ἐλλογέωinputs 1put on one's account 1.ELÔI ἑλωίEloi 2.ELPIS ἐλπίς f.hope 53faith 1.ELPIZÔ ἐλπίζωhave hope 1hope 9hope for 1.trust 18.thing hoped for 1.EMAUTOU ἐμαυτοῦI myself 1me 4mine own 1mine own self 1myself 29.EMBAINÔ ἐμβάινωenter 8step in 1.† With eis: go into 2, go up into 1, come into 2, get into 2, take 2.EMBALLÔ ἐμβάλλω† With eis: cast into 1.EMBAPTÔ ἐμβάπτωdip 3.EMBATEUÔ ἐμβατεύωintrude into 1.EMBIBAZÔ ἐμβιβάζωput 1.EMBLEPÔ ἐμβλέπωbehold 4can see 1gaze up 1look upon 4see 1.† With eis: behold 1.EMBRIMAOMAI ἐμβριμάομαιcharge straitly 1groan 1murmur against 1.EME ἐμέ (acc. of EGÔ)me freq.myself 1.EMEO ἐμέωspue 1.EMMAINOMAI ἐμμαίνομαιbe mad against 1.EMMENÔ ἐμμένωcontinue in 1.† With en: continue in 1.EMOI ἐμοί (dat. of EGÔ).me freq., etc.EMOS ἐμόςmine own 11my (mine) 62of me 4*that I have 1.EMOU ἐμοῦ (gen. of EGÔ)me freq.my 9, etc.EMPAIGMOS ἐμπαίγμόςmocking 1.EMPAIKTÊS ἐμπαίκτηςmock 1scoffer 1.EMPAIÔ ἐμπαίζωmock 13.EMPERIPATEÔ ἐμπεριπατέωwalk in 1. | EMPHANÊS ἐμφανήςmanifest 1.† See didômi.EMPHANIZÔ ἐμφανίζωdeclare plainly 1.Inform 3manifest 1show 1signify 1.PASS. appear 2.EMPHOBOS ἐμφοβόςaffrighted 4afraid 3.† See gignomai.EMPHUSAO ἐμφυσάωbreathe on 1.EMPHUTOS ἐμφυτόςingrafted 1.EMPIPLAO = EMPIPLEMIEMPIPLÊMI ἐμπιπλῆμιπλημι (ἐμπιπλάω)all 4.PASS. be full 1.EMPIPTÔ ἐμπίπτω† With eis: fall among 1, fall into 6.EMPLEKÔ ἐμπλέκωentangle in 1.MID. entangle one's self with 1.EMPLOKÊ ἐμπλοκή f.plaiting 1.EMPNEÔ ἐμπνέωbreathe out 1.EMPOREUOMAI ἐμπορεύομαιbuy and sell 1make merchandise of 1.EMPORIA ἐμπορία f.merchandise 1.EMPORION ἐμπόριονn. merchandise 1.EMPOROS ἐμποροςmerchant 5.EMPRETHÔ ἐμπρήθωburn up 1.EMPROSTHEN ἐμπροσθενat 1against 1before 41in one's sight 2in the presence of 1in the sight of 1.EMPTUÔ ἐμπτύωspit on 1spit upon 2.† With eis: spit in 1, spit upon 1.EN ἐνamong 11422at 106by 142in 1863into 11on 45through 37to 15upon 9with 139within 13, etc.† always (with dat. of pas and kalros) 2. With pronouns freq. translated by the second part of hereby, herein, therein, thereon, whereby, wherein, etc.ENAGKALIZOMAIἐναγκαλιζομαιtake in one's arms 1take up in one's arms 1.ENALIOS ἐνάλιοςAs noun things in the 1. | ENANTI ἐναντιbefore 1.ENANTION ἐναντίονbefore 4in the sight of 1.ENANTIOS ἐναντίοςagainst 1contrary 6.† over against (ex with gen.) 1.ENARCHOMAI ἐν-ἀρχομαιbegin 2.ENATOS = ENNATOS .ENDECHOMAI ἐν-δέχομαιcan be 1.ENDEES ἐνδεήςthat lacketh 1.ENDEIGMA ἐνδειγμαn. manifest token 1.ENDEIKNUMAI ἐν-δεικνυμαιdo 1show 1show forth 1.ENDEIKSIS ἐνδειξις f.evident token 1proof 1*declare 2.ENDEMEÔ ἐνδμεώbe at home 1be present 1.Partic. present 1.ENDIDUSKÔ ἐν-διδύσκωMID. be clothed in 1wear 1.ENDIKOS ἐνδικόςjust 2.ENDOMESIS ἐνδόμησις f.building 1.ENDOKAZOMAI ἐν-δοξάζομαιbe glorified 2.ENDOXOS ἐνδοξόςglorious 1honourable 1*gloriously 1.ENDUMA ἐνδυμα n.clothing 1garment 1raiment 5.ENDUNAMOO ἐν-δυναμόωenable 1strengthen 1.MID. (PASS.) be made strong 1be strong 1increase in strength 1.ENDUNÔ ἐνδύνω† With eis: creep into 1.ENDUÔ ἐνδύωclothe with 1put on 3.MID. (PASS.) be arrayed in 1be clothed 1be clothed in 1be clothed with 1be endued with 1have on 1put on 16.ENDUSIS ἐνδυσίς f.putting on 1.ENECHÔ ἐνέχωhave a quarrel against (M. have an inward grudge, against) 1.urge 1.PASS. be entangled with 1.ENEDRA ἐνέδρα† See poleô. | ENEDREUÔ ἐνεδρεύωlay wait for 1lie in wait for 1.ENEDRON ἐνεδρόν n.lying in wait 1.ENEËKÔ ἐνέκωFut. of PHERÔ.ENEILEÔ ἐνειλέωwrap in 1.ENEIMI ἐνείμιPartic. such things as ye have (M. as ye are able) 1.[See enl]ENENEKONTA ἐνεν-ήκονταninety 4.ENEOS = ENNEOS .ENERGEIA ἐνέργεια f.effectual working 2operation 1strong 1working 4.ENERGEMA ἐνέργημαn. operation 1working 1.ENERGEÔ ἐνεργέωbe mighty in 1do 1show forth one's self 2work 7work effectually in 1.MID. be effectual (M. be wrought) 1.work 5work effectually 1.Partic. effectual fervent 1.ENERGES ἐνεργήςeffectual 1powerful 1.ENEULOGEOMAI ἐν-εulogéomaibe blessed 2.ENI ἐνι (from ENEIMI).is 1there is 4.ENIAUTOS ἐνιαυτόςyear 14.ENISCHUÔ ἐνισχύωbe strengthened 1strengthen 1.ENISTEMI ἐνίστημιbe at hand 1come 1.Partic. present things present (pl.) 2.ENNATOS ἐννατός(ἐνατός)ninth 10.ENNEA ἐννέαnine 5.ENNENEKONTA = ENENEKONTAENNEOS ἐννεόςspeechless 1.ENNEUÔ ἐννεύωmake signs to 1.ENNOIA ἐννοία f.intent 1mind 1.ENNOMOS ἐννομόςlawful (M. ordinary) 1under the law 1.ENNUCHON ἐννυχόνbefore day 1.ENOCHLEÔ ἐνοχλέωtrouble 1.ENOCHOS ἐνοχόςguilty of 4in danger of 5subject to 1.ENOIKEÔ ἐνοικέωdwell in 5. | ENOPION ἐνόπιονbefore 63in one's presence 1in one's sight 5in the presence of 7in the sight of 16to 1.ENOTIZOMAI ἐν-ωτίζομαιhearken to 1.ENTALMA ἐνταλμα n.commandment 3.ENTAPHIASMOS ἐν-ταφιασμόςburying 2.ENTAPHIAZÔ ἐν-ταφιάζωbury 1.Infn. burial 1.ENTELOMAI ἐν-τέλλομαιcharge 1command 10give charge 2give commandment 3enjoin 1.ENTEUTHEN ἐντεῦθενfrom hence 3hence 6.† With kai enteuthen: on either side 1, of either side 1 (on either side ed. 1762, etc.).ENTEUXIS ἐντευξις f.intercession 1prayer 1.ENTHADE ἐνθάδεhere 3hither 4there 1.ENTHUMEOMAI ἐν-θυμέομαιthink 1think on 1.ENTHUMESIS ἐν-θυμῆσις f.device 1thought 3.ENTIMOS ἐντιμόςdear 1honourable 1precious 2.† See echô.ENTOLÊ ἐντολή f.commandment 69precept 2ENTOPIOS ἐντόπιοςof that place 1.ENTOS ἐντόςwithin 2 (M. among 1).ENTREPHOMAI ἐν-τρέφωμαιbe nourished up in 1.ENTREPÔ ἐντρέπωshame 1.PASS. be ashamed 2.MID. regard 4.reverence 4.ENTROMOS ἐντρόςtrembling 1.† tremble (eimi entr. 1, ginomai entr. 1) 2.ENTROPÊ ἐντροπή f.shame 2.ENTRUPHÃO ἐν-τρύφωsport one's self 1.ENTUGCHANO ἐν-τυγχάνωdeal with 1make intercession 4.ENTULITTO ἐν-τυλίττωwrap in 1wrap together 1. | ENTUPOÔ ἐντυπώωengrave 1.ENUBRIZÔ ἐνυβρίζωdo despite unto 1.ENUPNIAZOMAI ἐν-υπνιάζομαιdream 1.Partic. filthy dreamer 1.ENUPNION ἐνύπνιον n.dream 1.EOIKA εἰκοίPerf. of EIKÔ.EPAGGELIA ἐπαγγελία f.message 1promise 52.EPAGGELLOMAIἐπαγγελλομαιMID. (PASS.) make promise 1profess 1promise 11promise is made 1.EPAGGELMA ἐπάγγελμα n.promise 2.EPAGÔ ἐπάγωbring in upon 1bring upon 2.EPAGONIZOMAI ἐπαγωνίζομαιearnestly contend for 1.EPAPNEÔ ἐπαπνέωcommend 1laud 1praise 4.EPAINOS ἐπαινοςpraise 11.EPAIRO ἐπαίρωhoist up 1lift up 15take up 1.MID. exalt one's self 2.EPAISCHUNOMAIἐπαισχύνομαιbe ashamed 3be ashamed of 8.EPATEÔ ἐπατέωbeg 1.EPAKOLOUTHEÔ ἐπακολουθεώfollow 1follow after 1.EPAKOUÔ ἐπακούωhear 1.EPAKROAOMAI ἐπακροάομαιhear 1.EPAN ἐπάνwhen 3.EPANAGKES ἐπαναγκέςnecessary 1.EPANAGÔ ἐπανάγωlaunch out 1return 1thrust out 1.EPANAMIMNÊSKÔἐπαναμνησκώput in mind 1.EPANAPAUMOMAI ἐπαναπαύομαιrest in 1.† With epi: rest upon 1EPANERCHOMAI ἐπανέρχομαιcome again 1return 1.EPANISTAMAI ἐπανίσταμαιrise up against 2.EPANÔ ἐπάνωabove 3more than 1on 4over 6upon 3.† With autos: thereon 4. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of active by passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| EPANORTHOSIS ἐπανόρθωσις f.correction 1.EPAPHRIZO ἐπαφρίζωfoam out 1.EPARCHIA ἐπαρχία f.province 2.EPARKEO ἐπαρκέωrelieve 3.EPATHROIZOMAI ἐπαθροίζομαιbe gathered thick together 1.EPAULIS ἐπαυλις f.habitation 1.EPAURION ἐπαύριονday following 2tomorrow 7tomorrow after 1next day 6the next day after 1.EPAUTOPHORO ἐπαυτοφόροςin the very act 1.EPECHO ἐπέχωgive heed unto 1hold forth 1mark 1stay 1take heed unto 1.EPEGEIRO ἐπεγείρωraise 1stir up 1.EPEI ἐπεὶbecause 7else 3forasmuch as 2for that 1for then 4otherwise 4seeing 3seeing that 1since 1when 1.EPEIDE ἐπειδήafter that 1because 1for 3forasmuch as 1for that 1seeing 2since 1.EPEIDEPER ἐπειδήπερforasmuch as 1.EPEIDON ἐπειδὴlook on 1.† With epi: behold 1.EPEIMI ἐπειμιPartic. following 1next 1the day following 1the next day 1.EPEIPER ἐπειπερseeing 1.EPEISAGOGE ἐπισαγωγή f.bringing in 1.EPEITA ἐπειταafterward 2afterwards 1after that 4then 9.EPEKEINA ἐπέκειναbeyond 1.EPEKTEINOMAI ἐπεκτείνομαιreach forth unto 1.EPENDUOMAI ἐπενδύομαιbe clothed upon 2.EPENDUTES ἐπενδύτηςfisher's coat 1.EPER ἤπερthan 1. | EPERCHOMAI ἐπερχομαιcome 1come on 1come thither 1come upon 6.Partic. those things which are coming on 1.EPEREAZO ἐπερεάζωaccuse falsely 1use despitely 2.EPEROTAO ἐπερωτάωask 5ask after 1ask a question 1ask of 1ask questions 1demand 1demand of 1desire 1question with 1.EPEROTEMA ἐπερωτήματα n.answer 1.EPH=EPI.EPHALLOMAI ἐφάλλομαιδύλομαι† With epi: leap on 1.EPHAPAX ἐφάπαξat once 1once 3once for all 1.EPHEMERIA ἐφημερία f.course 2.EPHEMEROS ἐφημεροςdaily 1.EPHEURETES ἐφευρετήςinventor 1.EPHIKNEOMAI ἐφικνέομαιreach unto 2.EPHISTEMI ἐφίστημιassault 1be at hand 1be instant 1come 1come in 1come to 1come upon 7stand 1stand by 3.Partic. present 1.come unto (with epi) 1; stand before (with epi) 1; stand over (with epanō) 1.EPHORAΘ =EPEDON.EPHPATHA ἐφθαθάepiphatha 1EPI ἐπὶWith gen. at 6before 14in 51in the days of 1in the time of 1on 71over 11upon 37, etc.With dat. against 36at 29by 8for 19in 52on 10over 11upon 16with 6, etc.† With autos: thereon 1; with hos: whereon 1, wherein 3, wherefore 1, for that (M. in whom) 1, whereof 1; with houtos: wherewith 1.With acc. against 33for 9for the space of 1in 14into 15on 114over 27to 38unto 41upon 105, etc. | † With autos: thereon; with hos: whereon 2; with houtos: chronos: as long as 3.EPIBAINO ἐπιβαίνωcome into 1enter into 1go aboard 1take ship 1.† With epi: sit upon 1.EPIBALLO ἐπιβάλλωcast 1cast upon 1fall to 1lay on 1stretch forth (M. begin; † with cheir) 1.Partic. when he thought thereon (M. abundantly or he began) 1.† With epi: put upon 1, put unto 1, put to 1, lay on 8. With eis: beat into 1.EPIBAREO ἐπιβαρέωbe chargeable to 1be chargeable unto 1overcharge 1.EPIBIAZO ἐπιβιάζωset on 3.EPIBLEMA ἐπίβλημα n.piece 4.EPIBLEPO ἐπιβλέπω† With epi: have respect to 1, look upon 1, regard 1.EPIBOAO ἐπιβοάωcry 1.EPIBOULE ἐπιβουλή f.laying await 1lying in wait 1† lay wait (with eimi hupo 1, with gignomai hupo 1) 2.EPICHIREO ἐπιχειρέωχαιρέωgo about 1take in hand 1take upon 1.EPICHEO ἐπιχέωpour in 1.EPICHOREGEO ἐπιχορηγέωχορηγέωadd 1minister to 2minister unto 1.PASS. have nourishment ministered 1.EPICHOREGIA ἐπιχορηγία f.supply 1*to supply 1.EPICHRIO ἐπιχρίω† With epi: anoint (M. spread upon) 1.EPIDECHOMAI ἐπιδέχομαιδέχομαιreceive 2.EPIDEIKNUMI ἐπιδείκνυμιδείκνυμιshow 8.MID. show 1.EPIDEMEO ἐπιδημέωbe there 1.Partic. stranger 1.EPIDIATASSOMAI ἐπιδιατάσσομαιadd thereto 1.EPIDIDOMI ἐπιδίδωμιdeliver 1give 7offer 1.† Part. with pass. of phero: we let her drive 1.EPIDIORTHOO ἐπιδι-ορθόωMID. set in order 1. | EPIDUO ἐπιδύω† With epi: go down upon 1.EPIEIKEIA ἐπεικεία f.clemency 1gentleness 1.EPIEIKEIS ἐπεικείςgentle 3patient 1.As noun moderation 1.EPIGAMBRUO ἐπιγαμβρεύωmarry 1.EPIGEIOS ἐπίγειοςearthly 1terrestrial 1*in earth 1.As noun earthly things 2.EPIGINOMAI ἐπιγίνομαιblow 1.EPIGINOSKO ἐπιγινώσκωacknowledge 5have knowledge of 1know 30know well 1perceive 3take knowledge of 2.EPIGNOSIS ἐπίγνωσις f.acknowledging 3acknowledgment 1knowledge 16(M. acknowledgment 1, acknowledgment 1).EPIGRAPHE ἐπιγραφή f.superscription 5(M. inscription 1).EPIGRAPHO ἐπιγράφωwrite in 1write over 1write thereon 1*this inscription 1.EPIKALEO ἐπικαλέωMID. appeal 1appeal to 1appeal unto 4call 1call on 7call upon 4.PASS. be called 1be called by 1be called upon 1be one's surname 7be surnamed 5.EPIKALUMMA ἐπικάλυμμα n.cloak 1.EPIKALUPTO ἐπικάλυπτοκαλύπτοcover 1.EPIKATARATOS ἐπικατάρατοςκατάρατοςcursed 1.EPIKATHIZO ἐπικαθίζωκαθίζωset 1.EPIKEIMAI ἐπικείμαιbe imposed on 1be instant 1be laid thereon 1be laid upon 1lie on 1lie upon 1press upon 1.EPIKOURIA ἐπικουρία f.help 1.EPIKRIÑO ἐπικρίνωgive sentence (M. assent) 1. | EPILABANOMAI ἐπιλαμβάνομαιcatch 1lay hold on 2lay hold upon 1take 7take by 5take hold of 1take on (M. take hold of) 2.EPILANTHANOMAI ἐπιλανθάνομαιbe forgetful 1forget 7.EPILEGO ἐπιλέγωcall 1choose 1.EPILEPO ἐπιλέπωfall 1.EPILESMONE ἐπιλησμονή f.forgetful 1.EPILOIPOS ἐπιλοιποςrest of 1.EPILUO ἐπιλύωdetermine 1expound 1.EPILOSIS ἐπιλοσις f.interpretation 1.EPIMARTUREO ἐπιμαρτυρέωtestify 1.EPIMELEIA ἐπιμέλεια† See tugchanō.EPIMELEOMAI ἐπιμελέομαιμελέομαιtake care of 3.EPIMELOS ἐπιμελώςdiligently 1.EPIMENO ἐπιμένωabide 1abide in 1abide still 1abide still in 1continue 1continue in 5tarry 7.EPINEO ἐπινεύωconsent 1EPINOIA ἐπινοία f.thought 1.EPIORKEO ἐπιορκέωforswear one's self 1.EPIORKOS ἐπιορκοςperjured person 1.EPIOS ἑπιοςgentle 2.EPIOUSA ἐπιουσαPartic. of EPEIMI.EPIOUSIOS ἐπιούσιοςdaily 2.EPIPHAINO ἐπιφαίνωappear 1give light to 1.PASS. appear 2.EPIPHANEIA ἐπιφάνεια f.appearing 5brightness 1.EPIPHANES ἐπιφανήςnotable 1.EPIPHAUO ἐπιφάυωgive light 1.EPIPEREO ἐπιφέρωadd 1bring 1bring against 1take 1.EPIPHONEO ἐπιφωνέωcry 1cry against 1give a shout 1.EPIPHOSKO ἐπιφώσκωbegin to dawn 1draw on 1.EPIPIPTO ἐπιπίπτωfall on 1press upon (M. rush upon) 1.† With epi: fall upon 2, fall on 7, fall into 1, lie on 1. | EPIPLESSO ἐπιπλήσσωrebuke 1.EPIPOREUOMAI ἐπιπορεύομαι† With pros: come to 1.EPIPOTHEO ἐπιποθέωdesire 1desire earnestly 1desire greatly 2long 1long after 2long after 1greatly 1lust 1.EPIPOTHESES ἐπιπόθησις f.earnest desirevehement desire 1.EPIPOTHEOTOS ἐπιπόθητοςπόθητοςlonged for 1.EPIPOTHTIA ἐπιποθία f.great desire 1.EPIRRHAPTO ἐπιρράπτω† With epi: sew on 1.EPIRRHIPTO ἐπιρρίπτω† With epi: cast upon 1.EPISCHUO ἐπισχύωbe the more fierce 1.EPISEMOS ἐπίσημοςnotable 1of note 1.EPISITISMOS ἐπισιτισμόςτιμωρίςvictuals 1.EPISKENOO ἐπισκηνοόω† With epi: rest upon 1.EPISKEPTOMAI ἐπισκεπτομαισκέπτομαιlook out 1visit 10.EPISKIAZO ἐπισκιάζωovershadow 5.EPISKOPE ἐπισκοπή f.bishopric (M. office or charge) 1office of bishop 1visitation 2.EPISKOPEO ἐπισκοπέωπείωlook diligently 1take the oversight 1.EPISKOPOS ἐπίσκοποςbishop 4overseer 1.EPISOREUO ἐπισορεύωσπορεύωheap 1.EPISPAOMAI ἐπισπάομαισπάομαιbecome 1circumcised 1.EPISPHALES ἐπισφαλήςσφαλήςdangerous 1.EPISTAMAI ἐπιστάμαιknow 13understand 1.EPISTATES ἐπιστάτηςMaster 7.EPISTELLO ἐπιστέλλωστέλλωwrite 1write 1 letter unto 1write unto 1.EPISTEMON ἐπιστήμωνμωνendued with knowledge 1. |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
‡ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| EPISTĒRIZO ἐπι-στηρίζωconfirm 3strengthen 1.                                                                                                                                                       | lust 31 (M. concupiscence 1)*lust after 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | EREIDŌ ἐρεῖδωstick fast 1.                                                                                                                   | ERRHĒTHEN ἐρρήθην(aorist pass)command 1make 1say 9.                                               | ETI ἔτιalso 1any further 3any longer 1any more 5even 1further 3longer 1more 17moreover 2still 4thenceforth 1yet 51yet more 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | EUCCHARISTOS εὐ-χάριστοςthankful 1.                                                                                                                             |
| EPISTOLĒ ἐπιστολήf.epistle 15letter 9.                                                                                                                                                             | EPITIMAO ἐπιτιμάωcharge 4charge straitly 1rebuke 24.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ERĒMIA ἐρημία f.desert 1wilderness 3.                                                                                                    | Partic. he that wasspoken of 1it which wasspoken of 2that which wasspoken 3.                  | ETOI ἔτοιwhether 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | EUCHE εὐχή f.prayer 1vow 2.                                                                                                                                     |
| EPISTOMIZO ἐπι-σπώζωstop the mouthof 1.                                                                                                                                                            | EPITITHĒMI ἐπι-τίθημιlay on 12lay upon 4put on 3put upon 1set on 1set up 1Mtd. lade with 1.†put on (with epanō) 1;surname (with onoma) 1;wound (with plēgē) 1;†With epi: add unto 2, layupon 2, lay on 4, putupon 4, put on 1, set on2. | ERĒMOS ἐρημοςdesert 10desolate 4solitary 1.As noun desert 3wilderness 32.                                                    | ERUTHROS ἐρυθρόςred 2.                                                                                        | ETOS ἔτος n.year 49.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | EUCHOMAI εὐχομαιcan wish 1pray 1wish 3 (M. pray1)would 1.                                                                                           |
| EPISTREPHŌ ἐπι-στρέφωbe converted 5come again 1convert 1go again 1return 4turn 15turn again 4 (M.turn back) 1.Mtd. (PASS.) be converted 1return 2turn about 4. | EPITROPE ἐπιτρέπωgive leave 2give liberty 1give license 1let 1permit 4suffer 10.                                                                                                                                                                                            | ERĒMOSIS ἐρήμωσιςf.desolation 3.                                                                                                         | ESCHATOS ἐσχατοςlast 46lowest 1utmost 1ends 1last state 2later end 1utmost part1. | EU εὖgood 1well 3well done 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUCHRESTOS εὐ-χρηστοςmeet for use 1profitable 2.                                                                                                            |
| EPISTROPHĒ ἐπι-στροφή f.conversion 1.                                                                                                                                                                  | EPITROPE ἐπιτροπή f.commission 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | ERETHIZŌ ἐρεθίζωprovoke 1provoke to anger1.                                                                                          | ESCHATOS ἐσχάτως†See echō.                                                                                    | EUAGGELION εὐαγ-γέλιον n.gospel 76.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | EUDIA εὐδία f.fair weather 1.                                                                                                                                       |
| EPISUNAGŌ ἐπισυν-άγωgather 1gather together6.                                                                                                                                                  | EPITROPOS ἐπίτροποςsteward 2tutor 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | EREUGOMAI ἐρεύγο-μαιutter 1.                                                                                                             | ESŌ ἐσώin 1inner 1into 1inward 1within 3.                                                     | EUAGGELISTES εὐ-αγγελιστήςevangelist 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | EUDOKĒŌ εὐδοκέωbe well pleased7be one's goodpleasure 1be willing 2have pleasure 4take pleasure 1.Impers. it pleaseth 5think good 1. |
| EPISUNAGOGĒ ἐπι-συναγωγή f.assembling to-gether 1gathering to-gether 1.                                                                                                                    | EPITUCHANŌ ἐπι-τυχάνωobtain 5.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | ERGASIA ἐργασία f.craft 1diligence 1gain 2gains 1*work (vō) 1.                                                               | ESŌTHEN ἐσώθενfrom within 3inwardly 1within 6.                                                        | EUAGGELIZŌ εὐαγ-γελίζωdeclare to 1preach unto 1.bring glad tid-ings of 1bring good tid-ings of 1declare glad tid-ings unto 1preach 17preach anygospel 2preach the gos-pel 11.preach the gos-pel in 1preach the gos-pel of 1preach the gos-pel to 2preach the gos-pel unto 2be preached 2be preached bythe gospel 1be preached to(M. the gospelis preached to)1have the gospelpreached toone 1the gospel ispreached 1the gospel ispreached to 1the gospel ispreached unto1. | EUDOKIA εὐδοκίαdesire 1good pleasure 4good will 1†seem good (with gignomai)2.                                                                       |
| EPISUNTRECHŌ ἐπι-συντρέχωcome runningtogether 1.                                                                                                                                                   | EPIZETĒŌ ἐπιζητέωdesire 3inquire 1seek 3seek after 5seek for 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ERGATĒS ἐργάτηςworker 3workman 3labourer 9.                                                                                          | As noun inward part 1that whichwithin 1the inward man1.                                           | PASS.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | EUERGESIA εὐερ-γεία f.benefit 1good deed done1.                                                                                                         |
| EPISUSTASIS ἐπισύ-στασις f.that whichcometh upon1.†See poleō.                                                                                                                              | EPO = EIPON.EPOIKODOMEŌ ἐπ-οικοδομέωbuild thereon 1build thereupon2build up 1build up on 1.†With epi: build upon 2.                                                                                                                                          | ERGAZOMAI ἐργάζο-μαιcommit 1do 3labour 1labour for 1minister about 1trade 1trade by 1work 28 (M. gain1). | ESTHĒS ἐσθήςapparel 1clothing 2raiment 1robe 1.                                                   | EUERGETEŌ εὐερ-γέτέωdo good 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | EUERGETES εὐερ-γέτηςbenefactor 1.                                                                                                                               |
| EPITAGĒ ἐπιταγή f.authority 1commandment6.                                                                                                                                                         | EPOKELLŌ ἐποκέλλωrun aground 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ERGON ἔργον n.deed 22doing 1labour 1work 152 (M.trade 1).                                                                    | ESTHĒSIS ἐσθesis f.garment 1.                                                                                 | EUERGETES εὐερ-γέτηςbenefactor 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUGENĒS εὐγενήςnoble 2.†nobleman (with anthrō-pos) 1.                                                                                                       |
| EPITASSŌ ἐπιτάσσωcharge 1command 8enjoin 1.                                                                                                                                                        | EPOKELLŌ ἐποκέλλωrun aground 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | PASS. be wrought 1.†forbear working (mē er-gazomai) 1.                                                                                   | ESTHĒŌ ἐσθῶbe eating 1devour 1eat 61live of (M. feedof) 1.                                    | EUERGETES εὐερ-γέτηςbenefactor 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIREŌ εὐκαιρέωhave convenienttime 1have leisure 1spend one's time1.                                                                              |
| EPITĒDEIOS ἐπιτή-δειοςAs noun things which areneedful to 1.                                                                                                                                        | EPOKELLŌ ἐποκέλλωrun aground 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ERION ἔριον n.wool 2.                                                                                                                        | ESTI ἐστιis.                                                                                                  | EUERGETES εὐερ-γέτηςbenefactor 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIRIA εὐκαιρία f.opportunity 2.                                                                                                                                  |
| EPITELEŌ ἐπιτελέωaccomplish 1do 1finish 1make 1make perfect 1perfect 1perform 3 (M.finish 1).                                                                                  | EPOPTĒS ἐποπτήςeye-witness 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | ERIPHION ἐρίφιον n.goat 1.                                                                                                                   | ETHELO = THELO.ETHELOTHRESKĒIAἐθελοθρησκεία f.will worship 1.                                  | EUARESTEŌ εὐ-αρεστέωplease 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | EUKAIROS εὐκαιροςconvenient 1in time of need1.                                                                                                              |
| EPITHANATIOS ἐπι-θανάτιοςappointed (ed.1611 wronglyapproved) todeath 1.                                                                                                                    | EPOPTĒS ἐποπτήςeye-witness 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | ERIPHOS ἐρίφοςgoat 1kid 1.                                                                                                               | ETHĒLO ἐθέλωPass. pt. custom 1.                                                                               | EUARESTŌS εὐαρέσ-τωςacceptably 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIROS εὐκαιροςconvenient 1in time of need1.                                                                                                              |
| EPITHESIS ἐπιθεσιςlaying on 3putting on 1.                                                                                                                                                             | EPOS ἔπος n.[word]*80 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ERIS ἐρις f.contention 1debate 2strife 4variance 1.                                                                              | ETHNARCHĒS ἐθν-άρχηςgovernor 1.                                                                           | EUARESTOS εὐαρέσ-τοςacceptably 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIROS εὐκαιροςconvenient 1in time of need1.                                                                                                              |
| EPITHUMBŌ ἐπιθυμέωcovet 3desire 8lust 3lust after 1would fain 1.                                                                                                                           | EPOURANIOS ἐπουρ-άνιοςcelestial 2heavenly 9in heaven 1.As noun heavenly places3 (M. heavenlythings 1)heavenly things3high places (M.heavenlyplaces) 1they that areheavenly 1.                                                               | ERITHEIA ἐριθεία f.contention 1strife 5.†that are contentious (exwith gen.) 1.                                                   | ETHNIKOS ἐθνικόςAs noun heathen 1heathen 1111 1.                                                          | EUARESTOS εὐαρέσ-τοςacceptably 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIROS εὐκαιροςconvenient 1in time of need1.                                                                                                              |
| EPITHUMĒTES ἐπι-θυμητές†See eimi.                                                                                                                                                                      | ERCHOMAI ἐρχομαιappear 1be brought 1be coming 7come 609fall out 1go 13grow 1light 1pass by 1resort 2.                                                                                                                                                       | ERIZŌ ἐρίζωstrive 1.                                                                                                                         | ETHNOS ἔθνοςGentiles (plur.)93heathen 5nation 64people 2.                                     | EUARESTOS εὐαρέσ-τοςacceptably 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIROS εὐκαιροςconvenient 1in time of need1.                                                                                                              |
| EPITHUMIA ἐπιθυμίαf.concupiscence 3desire 3*heartily 1.                                                                                                                                        | ERCHOMAI ἐρχομαιappear 1be brought 1be coming 7come 609fall out 1go 13grow 1light 1pass by 1resort 2.                                                                                                                                                       | EROTAO ἐρωτάωask 23beseech 14 (M.request 1)desire 6entreat 1pray 14.                                                     | ETHŌ ἐθῶ (εἴωθα)be wont 2.Partic. be wont 2.custom 1.manner 1.                                    | EUARESTOS εὐαρέσ-τοςacceptably 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIROS εὐκαιροςconvenient 1in time of need1.                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ERCHOMAI ἐρχομαιappear 1be brought 1be coming 7come 609fall out 1go 13grow 1light 1pass by 1resort 2.                                                                                                                                                       | EROTAO ἐρωτάωask 23beseech 14 (M.request 1)desire 6entreat 1pray 14.                                                     | ETHOS ἔθος n.custom 7 (M. rite1)manner 4*be wont 1.                                               | EUARESTOS εὐαρέσ-τοςacceptably 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIROS εὐκαιροςconvenient 1in time of need1.                                                                                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ERCHOMAI ἐρχομαιappear 1be brought 1be coming 7come 609fall out 1go 13grow 1light 1pass by 1resort 2.                                                                                                                                                       | EROTAO ἐρωτάωask 23beseech 14 (M.request 1)desire 6entreat 1pray 14.                                                     | ETHOS ἔθος n.custom 7 (M. rite1)manner 4*be wont 1.                                               | EUARESTOS εὐαρέσ-τοςacceptably 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | EUKAIROS εὐκαιροςconvenient 1in time of need1.                                                                                                              |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| EUMETADOTOS εὐ-μετάδοτοςready to distribute 1.                                                     | EUSCHEMONOS εὐ-σχημόνοςdecently 1honestly 2 (M. decently 1).                                                     | EXAIREO ἐξαίρωpluck out 2.deliver 5rescue 1.                                                                                                       | go away 1go forth 25go out 82proceed 2proceed forth 1spread abroad 2.                                                                  | EXOUSIAZO ἐξουσιάζωbring underpower 1exercise authority upon 1have power of 2.                                                                                | GENEA γενεά f.age 2generation 36(M. age 1)nation 1time 2.                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| EUNEO εὐνοέωagree 1.                                                                               | EUSCHEMOSUNE εὐ-σχημοσύνη f.comeliness 1.                                                                            | EXAIRO ἐξαίρωput away 1take away 1.                                                                                                                    | †With exō: come forth 1.                                                                                                                                   | EXOUTHENO ἐξουθενέωdespise 6set at naught 3.be least esteemed 1.contemptible 1.                                                                               | GENEALOGOMAI γενεαλογέομαιPartic. he whose descent is counted (M. pedigree f. 1.                                                                                                                                                                               |
| EUNOIA εὐνοία f.good-willence 1good will 1.                                                    | EUSEBELIA εὐσεβεία f.godliness 14holiness 1.                                                                     | EXAITEOMAI ἐξ-αιτέομαιdesire 1.                                                                                                                            | EXEREUNAO ἐξ-ερευνάωsearch diligently 1.                                                                                                 | EXUPNIZO ἐξυπνίζωawake out of sleep 1.                                                                                                                                    | GENEALOGIA γενεαλογία f.genealogy 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| EUNOUCHIZO εὐ-νουχίζωmake eunuch 2.                                                                | EUSEBEO εὐσεβέωshow piety at (M. show kindness at) 1worship 1.                                                   | EXAKOLOUTHEO ἐξ-ακολουθεῶfollow 3.                                                                                                                         | EXESTI ἐξεστίare lawful 5is lawful 4it is lawful 19(M. it is possible 1)may I 1thou mayest 1.                        | EXUPNOS ἐξυπνος†See ginomai.                                                                                                                                              | GENESIA γενεσία n. pl.birthday 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| EUNOUCHOS εὐνουχόςeunuch 8.                                                                        | EUSEBES εὐσεβήςdevout 3godly 1.                                                                                  | EXALEIPHO ἐξαλείφωblot out 3wipe away 2.                                                                                                               | Partic. (neut.) lawful 1let me (M. I may) 1.                                                                                                           | G                                                                                                                                                                                    | GENESIS γένεσις f.generation 1nature 1*natural 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| EUODIA εὐωδίαsweet savour 1sweet smell 1*sweet smelling 1.                                 | EUSEBOS εὐσεβὴςgodly 2.                                                                                              | EXALLOMAI ἐξάλλομαιλαομαιleap up 1.                                                                                                                    | EXETAZO ἐξετάζωask 1enquire 1search 1.                                                                                           | GAGGRAINA γάγ-γραйна f.canker (M. gangrene) 1.                                                                                                                            | GENETE γενετή f.birth 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| EUODOOMAI εὐοδοῶμαιhave prosper-ous journey 1prosper 3.                                        | EUSEMOS εὐσημοςeasy to be understood (M. significant) 1.                                                             | EXANASTASIS ἐξανάστασις f.resurrection 1.                                                                                                                  | EXISCHUO ἐξισχύωbe able 1.                                                                                                               | GALA γάλαmilk 5.                                                                                                                                                          | GENNAO γεννάωbear 2be delivered of 1beget 49bring forth 1conceive 1gender 2.PASS. be born 39be made 1spring 1.                                                                                                                 |
| EUONUMOS εὐόνομοςon the left hand 1.                                                               | EUSPLAGCHNOS εὐ-σπλαγχνόςpitiful 1tender-hearted 1.                                                              | EXANISTEMI ἐξανίστημιraise up 1rise up 1.                                                                                                              | EXISTEMI ἐξίστημιbewitch 2make astonished 1.                                                                                         | GALENE γαλήνη f.calm 3.                                                                                                                                                   | GENNEMA γέννημα n.fruit 5generation 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| As noun left 5left foot (pl.) 1left hand (pl.) 3.                                                     | EUTHEOS εὐθέωςanon 1as soon as 2by and by 2forthwith 7immediately 35shortly 1straightway 32. | EXAPATAO ἐξαπατάωbeguile 1deceive 4.                                                                                                                   | EXO ἐξwonder 1.                                                                                                                          | GAMEO γαμέωmarry 26marry a wife 2.                                                                                                                                    | GENNESIS γέννησις f.birth 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| EUPEITHES εὐπειθήςeasy to be entreated 1.                                                          | EUTHETOS εὐθετόςfit 2meet 1.                                                                                     | EXAPINA ἐξάπιναsuddenly 1.                                                                                                                                 | EXOCHÉ ἐξοχή f.†principal (kata with acc.) 1.                                                                                            | GAMISKO γαμίσκωgive in marriage 1.                                                                                                                                        | GENNETOS γεννητόςthat is born 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| EUPERISTATOS εὐ-περίστατοςwhich doth so easily beset us 1.                                         | EUTHUDROMEÓ εὐθυδρομέωcome with a straight course 1.Partic. with a straight course 1.                            | EXAPOREOMAI ἐξαπορέομαιdespair 1.Partic. in despair (M. altogether without help or means) 1.                                                           | EXODOS ἐξόδος f.decease 2departing 1.                                                                                                | GAMO = GAMEO .                                                                                                                                                                | GENOS γένος n.diversity (M. kind) 1generation 1kind 5kindred 3nation 1offspring 3one's own countrymen 1stock 2.Dat. *born at 1*born in 1*of the country of 1.                                                          |
| EUPHEMIA εὐφημία f.good report 1.                                                                  | EUTHUMOS εὐθυμόςbe merry 1be of good cheer 2.                                                                    | EXAPATIZO ἐξαπατίζωaccomplish 1furnish thoroughly (M. perfect) 1.                                                                                      | EXOLOTHREUO ἐξ-ολοθρεύωdestroy 1.                                                                                                        | GAR γάρand 4because 3because that 2but 2even 1for 1006indeed 2no doubt 1seeing 1therefore 1verily 2what? 1why 1yet 1. | GEORGEOMAI γεωργέομαιbe dressed 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| EUPHEMOS εὐφημοςof good report 1.                                                                  | EUTHUMOS εὐθυμόςof good cheer 1.                                                                                     | EXASTRAPTO ἐξ-αστράπτωglisten 1.                                                                                                                           | EXOMOLOGEO ἐξομολογέωpromise 1.Mid. confess 8thank 2.                                                                            | GASTER γαστήρ f.belly 1womb 1.                                                                                                                                        | GEORGION γεώργιον n.husbandry (M. tillage) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| EUPHOREO εὐφορέωbring forth plentifully 1.                                                         | EUTHUNO εὐθύνωmake straight 1.Partic. governor 1.                                                                | EXARTIZO ἐξαρτίζωaccomplish 1furnish thoroughly (M. perfect) 1.                                                                                        | EXON ἐξόνpartic. of exesti.                                                                                                              | †See echō.                                                                                                                                                                                  | GEORGOS γεωργόςhusbandman 19.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| EUPHRAINO εὐ-φραίνωmake glad 1.Mid. (PASS.) be merry 3fare 1make merry 3rejoice 6. | EUTHUS εὐθύςright 3straight 5.                                                                                   | EXASTRAPTO ἐξ-αστράπτωglisten 1.                                                                                                                           | EXORKISTES ἐξορκιστήςexorcist 1.                                                                                                         | GAZA γάζα f.treasure 1.                                                                                                                                                   | GERAS γῆρας n.old age 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| EUPHROSUNE εὐφροσύνη f.gladness 1joy 1.                                                        | EUTHUS εὐθύςanon 1by and by 1forthwith 1immediately 3straightway 2.                                  | EXAUTES ἐξαυτῆςby and by 1immediately 3presently 1straightway 1.                                                                               | EXORKIZO ἐξορκίζωadjure 1.                                                                                                               | GAZOPHULAKION γαζοφυλάκιον n.treasury 5.                                                                                                                                  | GERASKO γηράσκωbe old 1wax old 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| EUPORIA εὐπορία f.wealth 1.                                                                        | EUTHUTES εὐθύτεςrighteousness (M. rightness or straightness) 1.                                                      | EXECHO ἐξέχωdeclare 5tell 1.                                                                                                                           | EXORUSSO ἐξορύσσωbreak up 1pluck out 1.                                                                                              | GE γέcountry 2earth 188 (M. land) 1ground 18land 42world 1.                                                                                               | GERON γέρωνold 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| EUPREPEIA εὐπρέπεια f.grace 1.                                                                     | EUTONOS εὐτόνωςmightily 1vehemently 1.                                                                           | EXEIMI ἐξείμιdepart 1get 1go out 1.                                                                                                                | EXOTEROS ἐξώτεροςouter 3.                                                                                                                | †Freq. in combination with other particles.                                                                                                                                                 | GEROUSIA γερουσία f.senate 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| EUPROSEDEKTOS εὐ-πρόσδεκτοςacceptable 2accepted 3.                                             | EUTRAPELIA εὐτραπεία f.jesting 1.                                                                                    | EXELEGOCHO ἐξ-ελέγχωconvince 1.                                                                                                                            | EXOTHEO ἐξωθέωdrive out 1thrust in 1.                                                                                                | GEENNA γέεννα f.hell 9hell (fire) 3.                                                                                                                                  | GEUOMAI γεύομαιeat 3taste 12.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| EUPROSEDROS εὐ-πρόσεδροςthat one may attend upon 1.                                                | EXAGELLO ἐξαγάγωshew forth 1.                                                                                        | EXELKOMAI ἐξέλκομαιbe drawn away 1.                                                                                                                        | EXOUDENOO ἐξ-ουδενόωset at naught 1.                                                                                                     | GEITON γείτωνneighbour 4.                                                                                                                                                 | GIGNOMAI = GINOMAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| EUPROSÓPEO εὐπροσωπέωmake a fair show 1.                                                           | EXAGO ἐξάγωbring forth 1bring out 5fetch out 1lead out 6.                                                | EXERAMA ἐξέραμα n.vomit 1.                                                                                                                                 | EXOUSIA ἐξουσία f.authority 29jurisdiction 1liberty (M. power) 1power 69 (M. right or privilege 1)right 2strength 1. | GELAO γελῶlaugh 2.                                                                                                                                                        | GINOMAI γίνομαιarise 16be 249be assembled 1be brought 1be brought 1pass 1be come 1be divided 1be done 62be done to 1be ended 1be finished 1be found 1be fulfilled 1be had 1be kept 1be made 69 |
| EUPSUCHEO εὐψυχέωbe of good comfort 1.                                                             | EXAGORAZO ἐξαγοράζωredeem 4.                                                                                         | EXERCHOMAI ἐξέρχομαιcome 4come forth 9come out 30come thereout 1depart 27depart out 1escape 1get out 3go 7go abroad 2. | EXOUSIA ἐξουσία f.power 69 (M. right or privilege 1)right 2strength 1.                                                           | GEMO γέμοbe full of 5.full of 6.                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| EURUCHOROS εὐρύχωροςbroad 1.                                                                       | EXAPHNÉS ἐξαίφνηςsuddenly 5.                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| EUSCHEMON εὐσχημόνωνcomely 1honourable 3.As noun that which is comely 1.            |                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

K

GINOSKŌ

be married to 3 be ordained to be 1 be past 2 be performed 1 be preferred 3 be published 1 be put 2 he showed 1
be taken 1 be turned 1 be wrought 2 become 42 befall 1 behave self 1
come 53
come to pass 82 continue 1 fall 2 follow 1 grow 2 happen 1 wax 1 be so 1
have 3.
awake out of sleep (with exupnos) 1; baptize (with pt. of baptizo) 1; be kept secret (with apokruphos) 1; be made (with eis) 1; be the doing of (with para) 1; become (with eis) 5;
draw nigh (with eggos) 1; God forbid (optative with negative) 15; use (with ei) 1; wax (with eis) 1. See analos, brontē, emphobos, entromos, epiboulē, heteros,
hupēkōtos, koinōnos, perikratēs, phaneros,
etc., etc.

GINOSKŌ γινώσκω allow (M. know) 1 be aware 1 (ware, ed. 1611) be aware of 1 be resolved 1 be sure 1 be sure of 1 can 1 can speak 1 feel 1 have knowledge
1 know 196 perceive 9 understand 8:

GLEUKOS γλευκος n.
new wine 1.

GLOSSA γλῶσσα f. tongue 50.

GLOSSOKOMON γλωσσκόμον n.
bag 2.

GLUKUS γλυκὺς fresh 1
sweet 3.

GNAPHEUS γναφεύς fuller 1.

GNESIOS γνήσιος own 2 true 1
As noun sincerity 1.

GNESIŌS γνησιῶς naturally 1.

GNŌME γνώμη f. advice 1 judgment 3 mind 2 will 1 purpose 1.
†See poieō.

GNOPHOS γνώφος
blackness 1.

GNORIZŌ γνωρίζω certify 1 declare 4 do to wit 1 give to understand 1
make known 16
wot 1.

GNŌSIS γνώσις f. knowledge 28
science 1.

GNŌSTĒS γνώστης
expert 1.

GNŌSTOS γνωστός known 10
notable 1.
As noun acquaintance (pl.) 2
that which may be known 1.
†know (with esti and dat.)
1.

GOES γόης
seducer 1.

GOGGUSMOS γογγυσ-μός grudging 1 murmuring 3.

GOGGUSTES γογγυσ-τής murmurer 1.

GOGGUZŌ γογγυζέω murmur (tr. 1, intr. 7) 8.

GOMOS γόμος burden 1 merchandise 2.

GONEUS γονεύς parents (pl.) 19.

GŌNIA γωνία f. corner 8 quarter 1.

GONU γόνυ n.
knee 7.
†See titēmī.

GONUPETEŌ γονυ-πετέω bow the knee 1 kneel down to 2
kneel to 1.

GRAMMA γράμμα n. bill 1 learning 1
letter 9 (M. learning 1) scripture 1
writing 1.

GRAMMATEUS γραμματεὺς scribe 66
townclerk 1.

GRAŌDES γραῶδης *old wives' 1.

GRAPHE γραφή
scripture 51.

GRAPHŌ γράφω describe 1
write 189.
Pass. pt. it is written 1
writing 1.

GRAPTOS γραπτὸς written 1.

GRĒGOREŌ γρηγορέω be vigilant 1 wake 1
watch 20.
Partic. watchful 1.

GUMNASIA γυμνασία
exercise 1.

GUMNAZŌ γυμνάζω
exercise 4.

GUMNĒTEUŌ γυμνητεύω be naked 1.
GUMNOS γυμνός bare 1
naked 14.

GUMNOTES γυμνότης nakedness 3.

GUNAIKARION γυναικάριον n.
silly woman 1.

GUNAIKEIOS γυναικεῖος *wife 1.

GUNĒ γυνή wife 92 (M. woman 1)
woman 129.

H

HADES ἅδης grave (M. hell) 1 hell 10 (M. grave 1).

HADROTĒS ἁδρότης f. abundance 1.

HAGIASMOS ἁγιασμός
holiness 5 sanctification 5.

HAGIAZŌ ἁγιάζω hallow 2
sanctify 26.
PASS. be holy 1.

HAGIOS ἅγιος holy 161 (with pneuma 93).
As noun holiest 2
holiest of all 1 Holy One 4 holy place 3 holy thing 1 sanctuary 3 (M. holy one, holy things 1) saint 62 (plur.
61)
*all 1.

HAGIOSUNĒ ἁγιασύνη
f. holiness 3.

HAGIOTĒS ἁγιότης f.
holiness 1.

HAGNEIA ἁγνεία f.
purity 2.

HAGNISMOS ἁγνισμός
purification 1.

HAGNIZŌ ἁγνίζω purify 7.

HAGNOS ἁγνός chaste 3 clear 1
pure 4.

HAGNŌS ἁγνὸς
sincerely 1.

HAGNOTĒS ἁγνότης f.
purity 1.

HAIMA αἷμα n.
blood 99.

HAIMATEKCHUSIA
αἱματεκχυσία f. shedding of blood 1.

HAIMORRHŌEŌ
αἱμορροέω be diseased with an issue of blood 1.

HAIREOMAI αἰρέομαι
choose 3.

HAIRESIS αἵρεσις heresy 4 (M. sect 1)
sect 5.

HAIRETIKOS αἵρε-τικὸς that is an here-tic 1.

HAIRETIZŌ αἵρετίζω
choose 1.

HALAS ἅλας n.
salt 8.

HALICUŌ ἁλιεύω go a fishing 1.

HALIEUS ἁλιεύς fisher 4 fisherman 1.

HALIZŌ ἁλίζω salt (vb.) 3.

HALLŌMAI ἁλλομαι leaf 3
spring up 1.

HALŌN ἅλων f.
floor 2.

HALŌSIS ἁλωσις to be taken (eis with acc.) 1.

HALS ἅλς
salt 1.

HALUKOS ἁλυκός
salt (adj.) 1.

HALUSIS ἁλυσίς f. bonds (M. chain)
1 chain 10.

HAMA ἅμα and 1 together 3 with 1 withal 3.

†also (with kai) 1. See proī.

HAMARTANŌ ἁμαρτάνω offend 1 sin 39 trespass 3.
Partic. for your faults 1.

HAMARTEMA ἁμαρ-τήμα n.
sin 4.

HAMARTIA ἁμαρτία
f. sin 172 (M. sacrifice for sin 1, offence 1)
*sinful 1.

HAMARTŌLOS ἁμαρτωλός sinful 4.
As noun sinner 43.

HAPALOS ἀπαλός tender 2.

HAPAS ἅπας all 35 (plur. 31).
all things (plur.)
4 every man 1
every one 1
whole 3.

HAPAX ἅπαξ
once 15.
HAPHE ἁφή f.
joint 2.

HAPLOOS ἀπλῶς single 2.

HAPLŌS ἀπλῶς liberally 1.

HAPLOTĒS ἀπλότης
f. bountifulness 1 liberality simplicity 3 (M. liberally 1; en with dat.) singleness 1 *liberal 1.

HAPTŌ ἅπτω kindle 1
light 3
touch 36.

HARMA ἅρμα n. chariot 4.

HARMOS ἄρμος
joint 1.

HARMOZOMAI ἄρμόζομαι espouse 1.

HARPAGĒ ἄρπαγή f. extortion 1 ravensing 1 spoiling 1.

HARPAGMOS ἄρπαγ-μός robbery 1.

HARPAX ἄρπαξ
ravensing 1.
As noun extortioner 4.

HARPAZŌ ἄρπάζω catch 1
catch away 1 catch up 4 pluck 2 pull 1 take by force 3.

HEAUTOU ἑαυτοῦ thyself himself herself itself ourselves yourselves themselves, etc.

HEBDOMĒKONTA
ἑβδομήκοντα seventy 2 three score and ten 1.
†With pente: three score and fifteen 1. With hex: three score and sixteen 1.

HEBDOMĒKONTAKIS
ἑβδομηκοντάκις seventy times 1.

HEBDOMOS ἑβδομος seventh 9.

HEBRAISTĪ Ἑβραῖστί in Hebrew 1 in the Hebrew 2 in the Hebrew
tongue 3.

HEDEŌS ἡδέως gladly 3.
Superl. [hedista]

HEDISTA ἡδιστα most gladly 1 very gladly 1.

HEDONĒ ἡδονή f. lust (M. pleasure) 2
pleasure 3.

HEDRAIŌMA ἡδραίωμα n. ground (M. stay)
1.

HEDRAIOS ἡδραῖος settled 1 steadfast 2.

HEDUOSMON ἡδύοσμον n.
mint 2.

HEGEMŌN ἡγεμών governor 19
prince 1
ruler 2.

HEGEMONEUŌ ἡγε-μονεύω be governor 2.

HEGEMONIA ἡγεμονία
f. reign 1.

HEGEOMAI ἡγέομαι account 1 be chief 1 count 10 esteem 3 have the rule over 3 (M. be the guide 1, guide 1) judge 1 suppose 1
think 4.
chief 1
governor 2.
†Partic. chief speaker
(with logos) 1.

HELLISSŌ εἰλίσσω
roll together 1.

HEINEKEN =
HENEKA.

HEIS εἷς (μία ἐν) a (an) 15 a certain 6 another 2 any of them 1
any thing 1 first 2 one 283
one man (M.
one) 1
one thing 5 only 1 other 7
some 6.
Fem. first day 6
one consent 1.
teach (with kata and acc.)
1; by one (ditto).
1. With hekastos: each
1, every 2, every man 2.
Kata with acc.: everyone 1, one by one 1, in particular 1. In other combinations also.

HEKASTOS ἑκάστος any man 1 both 1 each one 1
every 14
every one 20
every man 39
every woman 1.
†particularly 1 (with kath' hen) 1. See heis.

HEKASTOTE ἐκάσποτε always 1.

HEKATON ἑκατόν hundred 14
hundredfold 2.

HEKATONTAETES
ἑκατονταετής an hundred years old 1.

HEKATONTA-PLASION ἑκατονταπλασίον hundredfold 3.

HEKATONTARCHĒS
ἑκατοντάρχης centurion 4.

HEKATONTARCHOS
ἑκατονταρχος centurion 16.

HEKŌ ἥκω
come 27.

HEKŌN ἑκὼν
willingly 2.

HEKOUSIOS ἐκούσιος willingly (kata with acc.) 1.

HEKOUSIŌS ἐκουσίως
willingly 1.

HEKTOS ἑκτος sixth 14.

HELIKIA ἡλικία f. age 1 stature 5 (M. 22 2).

†See echō, kairos.

HELIKOS ἡλίκος how great 1 what great 1.

HELIOS ἥλιος sun 30.

†See anatlē.

HELISSŌ ἐλίσσω fold up 1
roll together 1.

HELKŌ ἑλκω draw 2.

HELKŌŌ ἐλκῶ
Pass. be full of sores 1.

HELKOS ἐλκος n.
sore 3.

HELKUŌ ἐλκύνω
draw 6.

HELOS ἥλος nail 2.

HĒMEIS ἡμεῖς we us ourselves, etc.

HĒMERA ἡμέρα f. day 355
judgment 1
time 3.
Plur. daytime 1 years 2.

†a good while ago (apo wiligen. and archaios) 1; for ever (eis with acc and gen. of alōn) 1; sabbath (with gen. pl. of sabbaton) 1. See mesos, pas, probainō. Daily
freq. translates the acc.
with pas or hekastos (often preceded by kata).

HĒMETEROS ἡμέτερος our 6
ours 2.

HĒMIŌRIŌS ἡμιώριος n.
the space of hal'
an hour 1.

HĒMISU ἡμισυν n. half 5.

HĒMITHANĒS ἡμιθανής half dead 1.

HEN = HEIS

HENDEKA ἑνδεκα eleven 6.

HENDEKATOS ἐνδέκα tos eleventh 3.

HENEKA ἑνεκα (ἐνεκεν) ἐνεκεν) by reason of 1 for 2 for . . . cause 1
for . . . cause 1
for . . . sake 14
*that 1.
†because (with hos) 1;
wherefore (with tis) 1.

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| HENEKEN =HENEKA .HĒNIKA ἡνικά†when (with an) 2.HENOTĒS ἑνότης f.unity 2.HEORTAZO ἑορτάζωkeep the feast(M. k. holy-day) 1.HEORTE ἑορτή f.feast 24feast day 2holyday 1.HEOS ἑως■ far ■ 3even until 1even unto 2to 16till 12until 22unto 28up to 1while 6.†With an: till 15, until 5,until the ne 1; withhou: till 11, until 5, while1; with hotou: till 2,until 3, while 1. Inother combinations also.HEPTA ἑπτὰseven 86seventh 1.HEPTAKIS ἑπτάκιςseven times 4.HEPTAKISCHILIOIἑπτακισχίλιοιseven thousand1.HERMĒNEIA ἑρμην-εία f.interpretation 2.HERMĒNEUO ἑρμην-εύωinterpret 1.PASS. be by interpreta-tion 3.HERPETON ἑρπετόνn.creeping thing 3serpent 1.HESPERA ἑσπέρα f.evening 2eventide 1.HESUCHAZO ἡσυχάζωbe quiet 1cease 1hold one's peace2rest 1.HESUCHIA ἡσυχία f.quietness 1silence 3.HESUCHIOS ἡσυχίοςpeaceable 1quiet 1.HETAIROS ἑταῖροςfellow 1friend 3.HETERODIDASKA-LEO ἑτεροδιδασκαλέωteach anotherdoctrine 1teach ot otherwise1.HETEROGLŌSSOSἑτερόγλωσσοςof anothertongue 1.HETEROS ἕτεροςanother 42else 1other 41strange (Mother) 1.As noun another place 1another psalm 1next day 2other matter 1other thing 3†be altered (gignomalheteros). Repeated: one... another 1, some... other 3.HETEROS ἕτεροςotherwise 1. | HETEROZUGEO ἑτερο-ζυγέωbe unequallyyoked to-gether with 1.HETOIMASIA ἑτοι-μασία f.preparation 1.HETOIMAZO ἑτοιμάζωmake ready 10prepare 29provide 1.HETOIMOS ἑτοιμοςprepared 1ready 14.readiness 1things madeready to ourhand 1.HETOIMOS ἑτοιμοςready 3.HETTAOMAI ἡττάο-μαι (ώμαι)be inferior 1be overcome 1.HĒTĒMA ἡττήμα n.diminishing (M.decay or loss)1fault 1.HĒTTON ἡττων(ἡσσων)less 1worse 1.HEURISKŌ εὕρισκωcan find 1find 174get 1obtain 1.HEX ἑξsix 12.HEXAKOSIOI ἑξα-κόσιοιsix hundred 2.HEXEKONTA ἑξή-κονταsixty 3sixty-fold 1three-score 5.HEXES ἑξῆςnext 1.the morrow 1the day after 1the day follow-ing 1the next d. / 1.HEXIS ἑξί f.use (M. habit orpe. action) 1.HIDRŌS ἰδῶςsweet 1.HIERATEIA ἱερατείαf.office of thepriesthood 1priest's office 1.HIERATEUMA ἱερά-τευμα n.priesthood 2.HIERAT... ἱερατεύωexecute thepriest's office1.HIEREUS ἱερεὺςhigh priest 1priest 31.HIERON ἱερόν n.temple 71.HIEROPREPES ἱερο-ποετήςas becomethholiness (M.as becomethholy women)1.HIEROS ἱερόςholy 1.As noun holy things (pl.)1.HIEROSULEO ἱεροσυ-λέωcommit sacri-lege 1.HIEROSULOS ἱερό-συλοςrobber ofchurches 1. | HIERŌSUNĒ ἱερῶσυνήf.priesthood 4.HIEROURGEO ἱερ-ουργέωminister 1.HIKANŌO ἱκανόωmake able 1make meet 1.HIKANOS ἱκανόςable 1enough 1good 1great 1great number of1large 1long 1long season 1long while 1many (pl.) 10many of (pl.) 1meet 1much 6sufficient 1worthy 1.sore 1.As noun security 1.†See poieō.HIKANOTĒS ἱκανότηςf.sufficiency 1.HIKETĒRIA ἱκετηρίαf.supplication 1.HILAROS ἡλᾶροςcheerful 1.HILAROTĒS ἡλάρότηςf.cheerfulness 1.HILASKOMAI ἡλάσ-κομαιmake reconcila-tion for 1.be merciful 1.PASS. HILASMOS ἡλασμόςpropitiation 2.HILASTERION ἡλασ-τήριον n.mercy-seat 1propitiation 1.HILEOS ἡλεόςmerciful 1*be it far [from] 1.HIMAS ἡμάςlatchet 1thong 1.HIMATION ἡμάτιον n.apparel (pl.) 1cloak 2clothes 12 (pl. 11)garment 31raiment (pl.) 12robe 1vesture 2.HIMATISMOS ἡματισ-μόςapparel 1array 1raiment 1vesture 1*apparelled 1.HIMATIZŌ ἡματίζωclothe 2.HIMETROMAI ἡμετρο-μαιbe affectionatelyd. ious of 1.HUNA ἡναalbeit 1because 1so as 1so that 1that 542to the intent 1to the intent that1†lest (with mē) 43; where-fore (with ti) 1; why(with ti) 5. With follow-ing verb freq. translatedby English infinitive 78(preceded by for to 8).HIPPEUS ἵππεύςhorseman 2.HIPPION ἵππικόν n.horsemen 1.HIPPOS ἵπποςhorse 10. | HISTĒMI ἵστημιIntrans. abide 1continue 1stand 99stand by 3stand forth 2stand still 4stand 1appoint 1covenant withfor 1establish 3lay to one'scharge 1make stand 1present 1set 11set up 1.MID. (PASS.) be brought 1be established 2be holden up 1stand 17stand forth 1stand up 2.HISTOREO ἱστορέω■ 1.HO ὁthe.Freq. untranslated; oftentransl. by a pers. ordemonstr. pron. by a nounsupplied from the con-text, etc. The neut. pl.ta is often rendered thethings (affairs, state),etc.HO ὁneut. of hos.HODE ὁδεhe 1she 1such 1.after thismanner 1these things 7thus 1.HODE ὁδεhere 45hither 13in this place 1there 1this place 1.HODEGEO ὁδηγέωguide 1lead 3.HODEGOS ὁδηγόςguide 4leader 1.HODEUO ὁδεύωjourney 1.HODOIPOREO ὁδοι-πορέωgo on one'sjourney 1.HODOIPORIA ὁδοι-πορία f.journey 1journeying 1.HODOS ὁδός f.highway 4 (adj.1)journey 6 (M.way 1)way 83way [side] 1.†See poieō.HOIOS οἷος■ 1so 1such as 6what 1what manner 1what manner ofman 1which 2.HOLOKAUTŌMA ὁλο-καύτωμα n.burnt offering 1whole burntoffering 1.HOLOKLĒRIA ὁλο-κληρία f.perfect sound-ness 1.HOLOKLĒROS ὁλό-κληροςentire 1whole 1. | HOLOS ὁλοςall 63all [day] long 1altogether 1every whit 2whole 43.HOLŌS ὁλωςat all 2commonly 1utterly 1.HOLOTELES ὁλοτελήςwholly 1.HOMILEO ὁμιλέωcommune to-gether 1commune with 1talk 2.HOMILIA ὁμιλία f.communication1.HOMILOS ὁμιλοςcompany 1.HOMOIAZO ὁμοιάζωagree thereto 1.HOMOIOMA ὁμοίωμαn.likeness 3shape 1similitude 1.*made like to 1.HOMOIOO ὁμοιόωliken 0resemble 1.PASS. be like 2.Partic. be made like 2.in the likenessof 1.HOMOIOPATHEESὁμοιοπαθήςof like passions1subject to likepassions 1.HOMIŌS ὁμοίοςlike 47.HOMIOIS ὁμοίωςlikewise 28so 1.†Moreover (kal homiōs) 1.HOMIOISIS ὁμοιωσιςf.similitude 1.HOMIOTĒS ὁμοιότηςf.similitude 1.†like as (kata with acc.) 1.HOMOLOGEO ὁμο-λογέωconfess 13give thanks (M.confess) 1profess 3promise 1confessionmade 1.†confess (with en) 4.HOMOLOGIA ὁμο-λογία f.confession (M.profession) 1profession 4*professed 1.HOMOLOGOUMENŌSὁμολογουμένωςwithout contro-versy 1.HOMOPHRON ὁμό-φρωνof one mind 1.HOMŌS ὁμῶςδμως)and even 1though it be but1†nevertheless (with mentol)1.HOMOTECHNCS ὁμό-τεχνοςof the same craft1.HOMOTHUMADONὁμοθυμαδόνwith one accord1with one mind1. | HOMOU ὁμοῦtogether 3.HOPLIZŌ ὁπλιζέωMID. arm one's selfwith 1.HOPLON ὁπλον n.armour (pl.) 1instrument 2 (M.armsweapons 1)weapon 2.HOPŌIOS ὁπόιοςof what sort 1such as 1what manner of2.†whatsoever (with pote) 1.HOPŌS ὅπωςbecause 1how 4so that 1that 47to 4.†With an: that 4, when 1.HOPOTE ὁπότεwhen 1.HOPOU ὅπουwhere 55whereas 1wheresoever 1whither 0.†With an or ean: in whatplace soever 1, whereso-ever 5, whithersoever 5.With ekei: where 2.HŌRA ὥρα f.day 1high time 1hour 89instant 1season 3time 11*short 1.HŌRATOS ὁραίοςbeautiful 1Beautiful 2.HORAMA ὅραμα n.sight 1vision 11.HORAŌ ὁράωbehold 1look 1look to 1perceive 1see 86see to 2take heed 5.PASS. appear 17show one's 111.HORASIS ὁρασίς f.sight 1vision 2*look upon 1.HORATOS ὁρατόςvisible 1.HORION ὁριον n.border 1coast 10.HORIZŌ ὁρίζωdeclare (M. de-termine) 1determine 1limit 1ordain 2.Pass. pt. determinate 1.HORKIZŌ ὁρκίζωadjure 2charge (M. ad-jure) 1.HORKŌMOSIA ὁρκ-ωμοσία f.oath 4 (M. swear-ing of an oath1).HORKOS ὁρκοςoath 10.HORMAO ὁρμάωrun 1run violently 3rush 1.HORMĒ ὁρμή f.assault 1.HORMĒMA ὁρμημα n.violence 1.HOROTHESIA ὁρο-θεσία f.bound 1. |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| HOS ὅςthatwhowhich, etc.†called (with est) 1; more-over (with loipon) 1;whatsoever (with de-pote) 1. With an(ean); whatsoever, who-so, whatsoever, etc.Peculiarly by prepos. oftentranslated by wherefollowed by preposition(wherein, etc.). | HŌSTE ὥστεin so much that16so that 25therefore 9whereforeetc. 17. | HUAKINTHOS ἡάκιν-θος f.jacinth 1.HUALINOS ἡάλινοςof glass 3.HUALOS ἡάλος f.glass 2.HUBRIS ἕβρις f.harm 1hurt (M. injury)1reproach 1.HUBRISTĒS ἕβριστήςdespiteful 1injurious 1.HUBRIZŌ ἕβριζωentreat shame-fully 1entreat 1 spite-fully 2reproach 1use despitefully1.HUDŌR ἡδωρ n.water 79.HUDRIA ἡδρία f.water-pot 3.HUDRŌPIKOS ἡδρω-πικόςwhich had thedropsy 1.HUDROPOTEŌ ἡδρο-ποτέωdrink water 1.HUETOS ἡέτοςrain 5.†See brechō.HUGIAINŌ ἡγιαίνωbe in health 1be sound 1be whole 1.Partic.safe and sound 1sound 6whole 1wholesome 1.HUGIĒS ἡγιήςsound 1whole 13.HUGROS ἡγρόςgreen 1.HUIOS ἡιόςchild 50foal 1son 120Son 210.HUIOTHEŒIA ἡιο-θεσία f.adoption 3adoption ofchildren 1adoption of sons1.HULĒ ἡλή f.matter (M.wood) 1.HUMEIS ἡμεῖςye 304you 1180your 356 (gen.352, dat. 4).etc.HUMETĒROS ἡμέτεροςyour 7yours 2.As nounthat which isyour own 1.HUMNEŌ ἡμνέωsing an hymn(M. singpsalm) 2.sing praises unto1sing praise unto1.HUMNOS ἡμνοςhymn 2.HUPAGŌ ἡπάγωdepart 2go 55go away 3go one's way 17.Imper.get thee 3get thee hence 1.HUPAKŌĒ ἡπακούω f.obedience 11obeying 1*obedient 1.†to obey (eis with acc.) 1,to make obedient (eiswith acc.) 1. | HUPAKOŪŌ ἡπακούωbe obedient to 2hearken (M. askwho was there)1obey 18.HUPANDROS ἡπαν-δρος f.which hath anhusband 1.HUPANTĀŌ ἡπαντάωgo and meet 1meet 4.HUPANTĒSIS ἡπ-άντησις f.†to meet (eis with acc.) 1.HUPARCHŌ ἡπάρχωbe 1live 1*after 1.Partic. pl. goods 7substance 1that one hath 4the things whichone possesseth2.thave (with dat.) 2.HUPARKIŒS ἡπαρξίς f.goods 1substance 1.HUPECHŌ ἡπέχωsuffer 1.HUPEIKŌ ἡπέικωsubmit one's self1.HUPEKOŌS ἡπήκοοςobedient 2.†obey (ginomai hup.) 1.HUPERANTIOS ἡπ-εραντίοςcontrary 1.As nounadversary 1.HUPER ἡπέρWith gen. by 1, concern-ing 1, for 105, for one'ssake 8, in one's stead 2,in the behalf of 1, of 11,on one's behalf 3, onone's part 1, toward 1.With acc. above 12, be-yond 1, more than 3,than 1, to 1. As adv.more 1.HUPERAIRŌ ἡπερ-αίρωMid.be exalted abovemeasure 2exalt one's self1.HUPERAKMOS ἡπέρ-ακμος†See elini.HUPERANŌ ἡπεράνωfar above 2over 1.HUPERAUXANŌ ἡπερ-αυξάνωgrow exceed-ingly 1.HUPERBAINŌ ἡπερ-βαίνωgo beyond 1.HUPERBALLŌ ἡπερ-βάλλωexceed 3excel 1pass 1.HUPERBALLONTŌSἡπερβαλλόντωςabove measure1.HUPERBŌLĒ ἡπερ-βολή f.abundance 1excellency 1.†Kata with acc.: beyondmeasure 1, exceeding 1,far more exceeding 1,more excellent 1, out ofmeasure 1.HUPERECHŌ ἡπερέχωpass 1.better 1excellency 1higher 1supreme 1.Partic. | HUPEREIDON ἡπερεῖ-δονwink at 1.HUPEREKCHUNŌἡπερεκχύνωPASS.run over 1.HUPEREKEINĀ ἡπερ-έκειναbeyond 1.HUPEREKTEINŌἡπερεκτείνωstretch beyondone's measure1.HUPERENTUGCHA-NŌ ἡπερεντυγχάνωmake interces-sion for 1.HUPEREPHANĀἡπερῆφαντα f.pride 1.HUPEREPHANOSἡπερῆφανοςproud 5.HUPERETEŌ ἡπηρε-τέωminister 2serve 1.HUPERETĒS ἡπηρετήςminister 5officer 11servant 4.HUPERLIAN ἡπερλίανvery chiefest 2.HUPERNIKAŌ ἡπερ-νικάωbe more thanconqueror 1.HUPEROCHE ἡπεροχήf.authority (M.eminent place)1excellency 1.HUPEROGKOS ἡπέρ-ογκος n. pl.great swellingwords 2.HUPERŌOS ἡπερώωςn.upper chamber3upper room 1.HUPERPERISSEUŌἡπερπερισεύωabound muchmore 1.†be exceeding joyful (pass.with dat. of chara) 1.HUPERPERISSŌSἡπερπερισσῶςbeyond measure1.HUPERPHRONEŌἡπερφρονέωthink highly 1.HUPERPLEONAZŌἡπερπλεονάζωbe exceedingabundant 1.HUPERUPSŌŌ ἡπερ-υψῶωexalt highly 1.HUPHANTOS ἡφαντόςwoven (M.wrought) 1.HUPNOS ἡπνοςsleep 6.HUPO ὑπόWith gen. among 1, by 42,from 2, of 116, with 14.With acc. in 1, into 1,under 48.HUPOBALIŌ ὑπο-βάλλωsuborn 1.HUPOCHOREŌ ὑπο-χωρέωgo aside 1withdrawself 1. one's | HUPODECHOMAI ὑπο-δέχομαιreceive 4.HUPODEIGMA ὑπό-δειγμα n.ensample 1example 4pattern 1.HUPODEIKNUMIὑποδείκνυμιforewarn 1show 3warn 2.HUPODĒMA ὑπόδημαn.shoe 10.HUPODEŌ ὑποδέωMid.be shod with 1bind on 1have shod 1.HUPODIKOS ὑποδίκοςguilty (M. sub-ject to judg-ment) 1.HUPOGRAMMOS ὑπο-γραμμόςexample 1.HUPOKATO ὑποκάτωunder 9.HUPOKEINOMAIὑποκρίνομαιfeign 1.HUPOKRISIS ὑπό-κρισις f.dissimulation 1hypocrisy 5.HUPOKRITĒS ὑπο-κριτήςhypocrite 20.HUPOLAMBANŌ ὑπο-λαμβάνωanswer 1receive 1suppose 2.HUPOLEIPŌ ὑπολείπωleave 1.HUPOLENION ὑπο-λήνιον n.wine-fat 1.HUPOLIMPANŌ ὑπο-λιμπάνωleave 1.HUPOMENŌ ὑπομένωabide 1endure 11suffer 1take patiently 1tarry behind 1.Partic.patient 1.HUPOMIMNĒSKŌὑπομιμνήσκωbring to remem-brance 1put in mind 1put in remem-brance 2put in remem-brance of 1remember 1.Mid.remember 1.HUPOMNĒSIS ὑπό-μνησις f.remembrance 3.HUPOMONE ὑπομονή f.enduring 1patience 29patient continu-ance 1patient waiting(M. patience)1.HUPONOEŌ ὑπονοέωdeem 1suppose 1think 1.HUPONOIA ὑπονοία f.surmising 1.HUPOPHERŌ ὑποφέρωbear 1endure 2.HUPOPIAZŌ ὑποπιάζωkeep under 1weary 1. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by ■ verb or adjective, of an active by ■ passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by ■ phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| HUPOPLEO ὑποπλέωsail under 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | HUPSELOPHRONEO ὑψηλοφρονέωbe high-minded 2.                                                                          | IDEA ἰδέα f.countenance 1.                                                                                                                                       | K                                                                                                                                                                              | KAKOS κακόςamiss 1evil 2grievously 1miserably 1sore 1.                                                               | KANON κανόνline (M. rule) 1rule (M. line) 1.                                                                                                                                      |
| HUPOPNEO ὑποπνέωbrow softly 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | HUPSELOS ὑψηλόςhigh 8.high 1high things 1that which ishighly es-teemed 1.                        | IDIOS ἴδιοςdue 3his 5his several 1one's own 7one's proper 1private 1their 2*severally (dat.) 1.                                      | KAGO = KAI + EGO .KAI καίalsoandand alsoand evenbothevenindeedmoreoveryea, etc., etc.                             | † See echō.KAKOSIS κάκωσις f.affliction 1.                                                                                       | KARPELEUO καρπηλεύωcorrupt (M. dealwith deceit-fully) 1.                                                                                                                      |
| HUPOPODION ὑπο-πόδιον n.footstool 1.† footstool with gen. pl. ofπόδι 8.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | HUPSTISOTIS ὑψίστοςhighest 4Highest 4most high 4Most High 1.                                             | As noun home 1one's acquaint-ance 1one's own 2 (M.one's ownhome 1)one's own busi-ness 1one's own com-pany 1one's own home 1. | KAIGE καίγεand 1at least 1.                                                                                                                                            | KAKOUCHEO κακου-χέωPASS. be tormented 1suffer adversity 1.                                                                   | KARNOS καρνόςsmoke 13.                                                                                                                                                                |
| HUPOSTASIS ὑπόστα-σις f.confidence 1person 1substance (M.ground or con-fidence) 1*confident 1.                                                                                                                                                                                 | HUPSOMA ὑψωμαheight 1high thing 1.                                                                               | As noun home 1one's acquaint-ance 1one's own 2 (M.one's ownhome 1)one's own busi-ness 1one's own com-pany 1one's own home 1. | KAINOS καινόςnew 44.new things 1.                                                                                                                                      | KALAME καλάμη f.stubble 1.                                                                                                           | KARDIA καρδιά f.heart 158.                                                                                                                                                            |
| HUPOSTELLO ὑπο-στέλλωwithdraw 1.draw back 1keep back 1shun 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | HUPSOS ὑψος n.height 2*be exalted 1*high 1*on high 1.                                                    | † home (with oikos) 1. Katawith acc.: apart 7, aside1, privately 8 (M. sever-ally 1), when they werealone 1.                                                | KAINOTES καινότης f.newness 2.                                                                                                                                             | KALAMOS κάλαμοςpen 1reed 11.                                                                                                     | † See suntribō.KARDIOGNOSTESκαρδιονόστηςwhich knoweththe hearts 2.                                                                                                        |
| HUPOSTOLE ὑποστολήf.*them who drawback 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | HUS ὅςsow 1.                                                                                                         | IDIOOTES ἰδιώτηςignorant 1rude 1unlearned 3.                                                                                                             | KATO κάτωlight 1.PASS. be burned 1burn 9.                                                                                                                          | KALEO καλέωbid 16call 126call forth 1name 1name so 1.                                                                | KARPHOS κάρφος n.mote 6.                                                                                                                                                              |
| HUPOSTREPHO ὑπο-στρέφωcome again 1return 27return again 4return backagain 1turn back 1turn back again1.                                                                                                                                                                | HUSTERO ὑστέρωlack 1penury 1that which is be-hind (pl.) 1that which islacking (pl.) 1want 3. | IDOU ἰδοὺbehold 181lo 29see 3.                                                                                                                           | KAIPER καίπερand yet 1though 5.                                                                                                                                        | PASS. be one's name 1be one's sur-name 1.                                                                                        | KARPOPHOROS καρ-ποφόροςfruitful 1.                                                                                                                                                |
| HUPOSTRONNUMIὑποστρώννυμιspread 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | HUSTEROE ὑστερέωbe behind 2come short 1fall (M. fall) 1lack 3*want (tr.) 1.                          | IKMAS ἱκμάς f.moisture 1.                                                                                                                                        | KAIROS καιρόςcertain season 1convenientseason 1due season 2due time 2 (M.time 1)opportunity 1season 11time 63while 1.                  | KALLIELAIOS καλλι-έλαιοςgood olive tree1.                                                                                    | KARPOS καρπόςfruit 66.                                                                                                                                                                |
| HUPOTAGE ὑποταγήf.subjection 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | HUSTEREON ὑστερονafterward 7afterwards 1at the last 1last 2last of all 1.                            | IOS ἰόςpoison 1rust 1.                                                                                                                                       | † age (with gen. of hēlikia)1. See en.                                                                                                                                            | KALLION κάλλιονvery well 1.                                                                                                          | KARTEREON καρτερέωendure 1.                                                                                                                                                           |
| HUPOTASSO ὑπο-τάσσωput in subjection1put in subjectionunder 1put in subjectionunto 1put under 6subdue unto 1subject 1.                                                                                                                                             | HUSTERESIS ὑστέρ-ησις f.want 2.                                                                                  | IOTA ἰὼτα n.jot 1.                                                                                                                                               | KAITOI καίτοιalthough 1.                                                                                                                                                   | KALODIDASKALOSκαλοδιδάσκαλοςteacher of goodthings 1.                                                                         | KATA κατάWith genit. against 58by 4down 3of 1on 1through 1throughout 4upon 1, etc.With accus. according to108after 59by 25in 35, etc. |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTERON ὑστερονafterward 7afterwards 1at the last 1last 2last of all 1.                             | IOUDAISMOS Ἰουδα-ϊσμόςJews religion 2.                                                                                                                       | KAITOIGE καίτοιγεnevertheless 1though 2.                                                                                                                               | KALOPOIEO καλοποιέωPartic. in well doing 1.                                                                                          | KATABAINO κατα-βαίνοcome down 41descend 18fall 1fall down 1get down 1go down 17step down 1.                                                               |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | IRIS ἰριςrainbow 2.                                                                                                                                              | KAKIA κακία f.evil 1malice 6maliciousness 2naughtiness 1wickedness 1.                                                                                      | KALOS καλόςbetter 7fair 1good 76 (M.honest 1)goodly 2honest 2meet 2worthy 1*well 1.                  | KATABALLO κατα-βάλλωcast down 2.Mid. lay 1.                                                                                                                                   |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISAGGELOS ἰσαγγέλ-οςequal unto theangels 1.                                                                                                              | KAKOETHIA κακοή-θεια f.malignity 1.                                                                                                                                    | As noun good 3good thing 2honest thing 2that which isgood 2that which ishonest 1.                                | KATABAREO κατα-βαρέωburden 1.                                                                                                                                                     |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUO ἰσχύωavail 3be able 1be good 1be of strength 1be whole 1can 10can do 1may 1prevail 3.                                     | KAKOLOGEO κακο-λογέωcurse 1speak evil of 2.                                                                                                                        | KALOS καλόςfull well 1honestly 1in a good place(M. well orseemly) 1well 30.                                      | KATABASIS κατάβα-σις f.descent 1.                                                                                                                                                 |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUROS ἰσχυρόςboisterous(strong) (M.mighty 10powerful 1strong 9valiant 1.strong man 5.                                                 | KAKOOevil entreat 1harm 1hurt 1make evilaffected 1vex 1.                                                                                               | † See echō, poieō.KALUMMA κάλυμμαn.veil 4.                                                                                   | KATABIBAZO κατα-βιβάζωbring down 1thrust down 1.                                                                                                                              |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUS ἰσχύςability 1might 2power 2strength 4*mighty (M.might) 1.                                                                            | KAKOPATHEIA κακο-πάθεια f.suffering afflic-tion 1.                                                                                                                 | KALUPTO καλύπτωcover 5hide 3.                                                                                                    | KATABOLE καταβολήf.foundation 10.† to conceive (eis with acc.)1.                                                                                                          |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUS ἰσχύςability 1might 2power 2strength 4*mighty (M.might) 1.                                                                            | KAKOPATHEO κακο-παθέωbe afflicted 1endure afflic-tions 1endure hardness 1suffer trouble 1.                                                             | KAME = KAI + EME .KAMELOS κάμηλοςcamel 6.                                                                   | KATABRABEUO κατα-βραβεύωbeguile of one'sreward (M.judge against)1.                                                                                                    |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUS ἰσχύςability 1might 2power 2strength 4*mighty (M.might) 1.                                                                            | KAKOPOIEO κακο-ποιέωdo evil 3.Partic. for evil doing 1.                                                                                                            | KAMINO κάμινος f.furnace 4.                                                                                                          | KATACHEO καταχέωpour 2.                                                                                                                                                               |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUS ἰσχύςability 1might 2power 2strength 4*mighty (M.might) 1.                                                                            | KAKOPOIOS κακοποιόςevil-doer 4malefactor 1.                                                                                                                            | KAMMUO καμμύωclose 2.                                                                                                                | KATACHRAOMAIκαταχράσμαιabuse 2.                                                                                                                                                   |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUS ἰσχύςability 1might 2power 2strength 4*mighty (M.might) 1.                                                                            | KAKOS κακόςbad 1evil 8noisome 1wicked 1.evil 3 (M. evils1)evil things 3harm 1ill 1that which isevil 2they which areevil 1. | KAMNO κάμνωbe wearied 1faint 1.Partic. sick 1.                                                                               | KATACHTHONIOSκαταχθόνιοςunder the earth1.                                                                                                                                     |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUS ἰσχύςability 1might 2power 2strength 4*mighty (M.might) 1.                                                                            | KAKOS κακόςbad 1evil 8noisome 1wicked 1.evil 3 (M. evils1)evil things 3harm 1ill 1that which isevil 2they which areevil 1. | KAMOI = KAI + EMOI .KAMPTO κάμπτωbow 4.                                                                     | KATADELOS κατά-δηλοςevident 1.                                                                                                                                                    |
| MD. (PASS.) be in subjec-tion to 1be in subjectionunto 1be made subjectto 1be made subjectunto 1be obedient unto1be subject 1be subject to 5be subject unto6be under obedi-ence 1submit one's selfto 3submit one's selfunto 5. | HUSTEROS ὑστεροςlatter 1.                                                                                            | ISCHUS ἰσχύςability 1might 2power 2strength 4*mighty (M.might) 1.                                                                            | KAKOS κακόςbad 1evil 8noisome 1wicked 1.evil 3 (M. evils1)evil things 3harm 1ill 1that which isevil 2they which areevil 1. | KAN κἄν [= KAI AN ]also if 1and if 3and if so muchas 1at the least 1if but 1though 4yet 1. |                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of ■ active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original ■ are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                   |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| KATADEΘ καταδέωbind up 1.                                                                                                              | KATAKLIZO κατα-κλύωoverflow 1.                                                                                                                                | KATAMANTHANOκαταμανθάνωconsider 1.                                                 | KATAPINO καταπίνωdevour 1drown 1swallow 1swallow up 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | KATASKEUAZO κατα-σκευάζωbuild 3make 1ordain 1prepare 5.be a preparing 1. | KATEGOREO κατ-ηγόρεωaccuse 21object 1.                                                                         |
| KATADIKAZO κατα-δικάζωcondemn 5.                                                                                                   | KATAKOLOUTHEOκατακολουθέωfollow 1follow after 1.                                                                                                          | KATAMARTUREOκαταμαρτυρώwitness against 4.                                          | KATAPIPTO κατα-πίπτωfall 1fall down 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | KATASKIAZO κατα-σκιάζωshadow 1.                                                          | KATEGORIA κατ-ηγория f.accusation 3.†accused (en with dat.) 1.                                                 |
| KATADIOKO κατα-διώκωfollow after 1.                                                                                                | KATAKOPTO κατα-κύπτωcut 1.                                                                                                                                    | KATAMENI καταμένωabide 1.                                                              | KATAPLEO καταπλέωarrive 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASKOPEO κατα-σκοπέωspy out 1.                                                         | KATEGOROS κατ-ήγοροςaccuser 7.                                                                                     |
| KATADOULOO κατα-δουλάωbring into bond-age 2.                                                                                   | KATAKREMNIZOκατακρημνίζωcast down head-long 1.                                                                                                            | KATAMONAS κατα-μόναςalone 2.                                                       | KATAPONEO κατα-πονέωoppress 1vex 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | KATASKOPOS κατ-σκοποςspy 1.                                                              | KATEIDOLOO κατ-είδωλοςwholly given toidolatry (M.full of idols) 1.                                         |
| KATADUNASTEΘκαταδυναστεύωoppress 2.                                                                                                | KATAKRIMA κατ-κριμα n.condemnation 3.                                                                                                                         | KATANALISKO κατ-αναλίσκωconsume 1.                                                 | KATAPONTIZO κατα-ποντίζωMID. (PASS.) be drowned 1sink 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | KATASOPHIZOMAIκατασοφίζομαιdeal subtlywith 1.                                        | KATENANTI κατέν-αντιbefore (M. likeunto) 1over against 4.                                                  |
| LATAGELAO κατα-γελᾶωlaugh to scorn 3.                                                                                              | KATAKRINO κατα-κρίνωcondemn 17damn 2.                                                                                                                     | KATANARKAO κατα-ναρκᾶωbe burdensometo 1be chargeable to1.              | KATAPSUCHO κατα-ψύχωcool 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | KATASPHAZO κατα-σφάζωslay 1.                                                             | KATENOPION κατέν-ώπιονbefore 2before the pre-sence of 1in one's sight 1in the sight of 1.          |
| KATAGGELEUSκαταγγελεύςsetter forth 1.                                                                                              | KATAKRISIS κατ-κρισις f.condemnation 1.†to condemn (pros withacc.) 1.                                                                                 | KATANATHEMAκατανάθεμα n.curse 1.                                                   | KATARA κατάρα f.course 3cursing 1*cursed 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | KATASPHRAGIZOκατασφραγίζωseal 1.                                                         | KATEPHEIA κατ-ήφεια f.heaviness 1.                                                                                 |
| KATAGGELLO καταγ-γέλλωdeclare 2preach 10show 3speak of 1teach 1.                                                   | KATAKURIEUO κατα-κυριεύωbe lord over (M.override) 1exercise domi-nion over 1exercise lord-ship over 1overcome 1.                      | KATANATHEMATI-ZO καταναθεματίζωcurse 1.                                           | KATABAOMAI κατ-ἀρόμαιcourse 6.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | KATASTELLO κατ-στέλλωappease 1.Pass. pt. quiet 1.                                    | KATEPHISTEMI κατ-εφίστημιmake insurrec-tion against 1.                                                         |
| KATAGINOSKO κατα-γινώσκωcondemn 2.PASS. be blamed 2.                                                                           | KATALALEO κατ-λαλέωspeak against 1speak evil of 4.                                                                                                        | KATANEUO κατανεύωbeckon unto 1.                                                        | KATABGEO καταργέωabolish 3bring to nought1enumber 1deliver 1destroy 5do away 3loose 1make of noneeffect 2make void 1make withouteffect 1put away 1put down 1become of noeffect 1be to be doneaway 1cease 1come to nought1fall 1vanish away 1. | KATASTEMA κατ-στήμα n.behaviour 1.                                                       | KATERCHOMAI κατ-έρχομαιcome 3come down 5depart 1descend 1go down 1land 1.                      |
| KATAGNUMI κατ-γνυμιbreak 4.                                                                                                        | KATALALOS κατ-λαλοςbackbiter 1.                                                                                                                               | KATANOEI κατ-νόωprick 1.                                                           | KATARTHEO κατ-ἀριθμέωnumber 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | KATASTOLE κατ-στολή f.apparel 1.                                                         | KATERGASOMAIκατεργάζομαιbe wrought 1cause 1do 4 (M. overcome) 1perform 1work 14work out 1. |
| KATAGO κατάγωbring 1bring down 5bring forth 1.PASS. land 2touch 1.                                                     | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATANOXIS κατ-νόξις f.slumber (M. =morse) 1.                                   | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATEGAZOMAIκατεργάζομαιbe wrought 1cause 1do 4 (M. overcome) 1perform 1work 14work out 1.  |
| KATAGONIZOMAIκαταγονίζομαιsubdue 1.                                                                                                | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPATEO κατα-πατέωtrample 1tread 1tread down 1tread under foot1. | KATARTISMEO κατ-ἀρτιμέωnumber 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATESTHIO κατ-εσθίωdevour 10devour up 1eat up 3.                                                           |
| KATAISCHUNO κατ-αισχύνωconfound 3dishonour 1make ashamed 1shame 1.PASS. be ashamed 6(M. be con-founded 1). | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPETASMA κατα-πέτασμα n.veil 6.                                                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATEUTHUNO κατ-ευθύνωdirect 2 (M.guide 1)guide 1.                                                          |
| KATAKAIO κατακαίωburn 7burn up 4burn utterly 1.                                                                                | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHAGO = KAT-ESTHIO.                                                                | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATEXCUSIAZO κατ-εξουσιάζωexercise author-ity upon 2.                                                          |
| KATAKALUPTO κατα-καλύπτωMID. be covered 1cover 1.                                                                              | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHERO κατα-φέρωgive against 1.PASS. fall 1sink down 1.                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATH' = KATA.KATHA καθάas 1.                                                                                       |
| KATAKAUCHAOMAIκατακαυχάομαιboast 1boast against 1glory 1rejoice against(M. gloryagainst) 1.                    | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHERO κατα-φέρωgive against 1.PASS. fall 1sink down 1.                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATHAIRO καθαιρέωcast down 1destroy 2pull down 1put down 1take down 4.                                 |
| KATAKEIMAI κατ-κειμαιlie 6sit at meat 3sit down 1.†keep (with epi) 1.                                                  | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHERO κατα-φέρωgive against 1.PASS. fall 1sink down 1.                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATHAIRO καθαιρέωcast down 1destroy 2pull down 1put down 1take down 4.                                 |
| KATAKLAO κατακλάω(κατακλάω)break 2.                                                                                                | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHERO κατα-φέρωgive against 1.PASS. fall 1sink down 1.                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATHAIRO καθαιρέωcast down 1destroy 2pull down 1put down 1take down 4.                                 |
| KATAKLEIO κατα-κλείωshut up 2.                                                                                                     | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHERO κατα-φέρωgive against 1.PASS. fall 1sink down 1.                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATHAIRO καθαιρέωcast down 1destroy 2pull down 1put down 1take down 4.                                 |
| KATAKLERODOTEOκατακληροδοτέωdivide by lot 1.                                                                                       | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHERO κατα-φέρωgive against 1.PASS. fall 1sink down 1.                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATHAIRO καθαιρέωcast down 1destroy 2pull down 1put down 1take down 4.                                 |
| KATAKLINO κατα-κλίνωmake sit down 1.sit at meat 1sit down 1.                                                               | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHERO κατα-φέρωgive against 1.PASS. fall 1sink down 1.                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATHAIRO καθαιρέωcast down 1destroy 2pull down 1put down 1take down 4.                                 |
| KATAKLUSMOS κατα-κλυσμόςflood 4.                                                                                                   | KATALAMBANOκαταλαμβάνωapprehend 3attain to 1come upon 1comprehend 1obtain 1overtake 1take 3.comprehend 1find 1perceive 2. | KATAPHERO κατα-φέρωgive against 1.PASS. fall 1sink down 1.                 | KATARTISIS κατ-ἀρτισις f.perfection 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | KATASTREPHO κατα-στρέφωoverthrow 2.                                                      | KATHAIRO καθαιρέωcast down 1destroy 2pull down 1put down 1take down 4.                                 |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                  |                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                   |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| KATHARIZO καθάριζωcleanse 10make clean ■purge 3purify 3be clean 3.                                                             | KATISCHUO κατισχύωprevail 1prevail against 1.                                                                       | KEIRIAI κείραι f.grave-clothes 1.                                                                     | KERDOE κέρδος n.gain ■lucre 1.                                             | KLERONOMIA κληρονομία f.inheritance 14.                                                                                       | KOINOS κοινόςcommon 7defiled (M. common) 1unclean (M. common) 2.As noununholy thing 1. |
| PASS.KATHAROS καθάροςclean 10clear 1pure 17.                                                                                | KATO κάτωbeneath ■down 5*the bottom 2.†beneath (to katō) 1.                                                 | KEIRO κείρωshear 3.Partis.shearer 1.                                                          | KERION κηρίον n.comb 1.                                                        | KLERONOMOS κληρονομόςheir 15.                                                                                                 | KOITON κοιτώνchamberlain (ho epi with gen.; M. that was over the bedchamber) 1.                        |
| KATHAROTES καθάρотης f.purifying 1.                                                                                                            | KATOIKEO κατοικέωdwell 35dwell at 4dwell in 4.dwell in 1inhabitant 1inhabiter 1inhabiter of 1.  | KELEUO κελεύωbid 1command 24give commandment 1.                                               | KERMA κέρμα n.money 1.                                                         | KLEROO κληρόωPASS.obtain an inheritance 1.                                                                                | KOITON κοιτώνchambering (pl.) 2.                                                                       |
| KATHEDRA καθέδρα f.seat 3.                                                                                                                     | KATOIKEO κατοικέωdwell 35dwell at 4dwell in 4.dwell in 1inhabitant 1inhabiter 1inhabiter of 1.  | KELEUSMA κέλευσμα n.shout 1.                                                                          | KERMATISTES κερματιστήςchanger of money 1.                                     | KLĒROS κλήροςheritage 1inheritance 2lot 3lots 5part 2.                                                        | KOKKINOS κόκκινοςscarlet 2 (M. purple 1)scarlet coloured 1.                                        |
| KATHEGETES καθηγητήςmaster 3.                                                                                                                  | KATOIKESIS κατοικησις f.dwelling 1.                                                                                     | KENODOXIA κενοδοξία f.vainglory 1.                                                                    | KERUSSO κερύσσωpreach 53proclaim ■publish 5.Partis.preacher 1. | KLESIS κλήσις f.calling 10vocation 1.                                                                                     | KOKKINOS κόκκινοςscarlet 2 (M. purple 1)scarlet coloured 1.                                        |
| KATHEKO καθέκωsit 1.Partis.things which are convenient 1.                                                                              | KATOIKETERION κατοικητήριον n.habitation 2.                                                                             | KENOO κενόωmake of none effect 1make of no reputation 1make void 2.PASS.be in vain 1. | KETOS κήτος n.whale 1.                                                         | KLETOS κλητόςcalled 10which is called 1.                                                                                  | As nounscarlet ■scarlet colour 1.                                                                  |
| KATHEMAI κάθημαιbe set down 1dwell 1sit 52sit by ■sit down 3.                                                                  | KATOIKIA κατοικία f.habitation 1.                                                                                       | KENOPHONIA κενοφωνία f.vain 2.                                                                        | KIBOTOS κιβωτός f.ark 6.                                                       | KLĒBANOS κλίβανοςoven 2.                                                                                                      | KOKKOS κόκκοςcorn 1grain 6.                                                                        |
| KATHEMERINOS καθημερινόςdaily 1.                                                                                                               | KATOPTRIZO κατοπτρίζωMID.behold as in a glass 1.                                                                    | KENOS κενόςempty 4vain 5.*in vain 3.                                                          | KICHEREMI = CHRAO. κινάμωμον n.cinnamon 1.                                     | KLIMA κλίμα n.part ■region 2.                                                                                             | KOLAKEIA κολλακεία f.*flattering 1.                                                                    |
| KATHEUDO καθεύδωbe asleep 1sleep 17.Partis.asleep 4.                                                                               | KATORTHOMA κατόρθωμα n.very worthy 1.dead 1.                                                                        | KENOS κενόςempty 4vain 5.*in vain 3.                                                          | KINDUNEO κινδυνεύωbe in danger 2be in jeopardy 1stand in jeopardy 1.   | KLINĒ κλίνη f.bed 9table (M. bed) 1.                                                                                      | KOLAPHIZO κολαφίζωbuffet 5.                                                                            |
| KATHEXES καθεξήςafterward ■by order 1in order 2.As nounthose that follow after 1.                                              | KATOTERO κατωτέρωunder 1.                                                                                               | KENOS κενόςempty 4vain 5.*in vain 3.                                                          | KINDUNOS κίνδυνοςperil 9.                                                      | KLINĒ κλίνηbe far spent 1bow 1bow down 1lay 1turn to flight 1wear away 1.                                 | KOLASIS κόλασις f.punishment 1torment 1.                                                           |
| KATHEZOMAI καθεζομαιsit 6.                                                                                                                     | KATOTEROS κατωτέρωςlower 1.                                                                                             | KENSOS κήσοςtribute 3*tribute (adj.) 1.                                                           | KINEO κινέωmove 3remove ■wag 1.                                        | KLISIA κλισία f.a company 1.                                                                                                  | KOLAZO κολλάωpunish 2.                                                                                 |
| KATHIEMI καθίμιlet down 4.                                                                                                                     | KAUCHAOMAI καυχάομαιboast 7boast one's self 1glory 22joy 1make one's boast ■rejoice 4 (M. glory 1). | KENTRON κέντρον n.prick ■sting 3.                                                                 | KINĒSIS κίνησις f.moving 1.                                                    | KLOPE κλοπή f.theft 2.                                                                                                        | KOLLAOMAI κολλάομαιbe joined to (unto) ■leave to 3join one's self to 4keep company with 1. |
| KATHISTEMI καθίστημιappoint ■conduct ■make ■make ruler ■ordain 3set 1.PASS.be 2.                                   | KAUCHEMA καύχημα n.boasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                        | KENTURION κεντυρίωνcenturion 3.                                                                       | KITHARA κithάρα f.harp 4.                                                      | KLUDON κλύδωνraging 1wave 1.                                                                                              | KOLLOURION κολλούριον n.eye-salve 1.                                                                   |
| KATHIZO καθίζωbe set 2be set down 2continue (M. sit) 1set 2sit 25sit down 14tarry 1.MID.sit 1.                 | KAUCHESIS καύχησις f.boasting 6glorying 1rejoicing 4 (M. glorying 1)whereof I may glory 1.                  | KEPHALAION κεφαλαίον n.sum 2.                                                                         | KITHARIZO κιθαρίζωharp 2.                                                      | KLUDONIZOMAI κλυδωνίζομαιbe tossed to and fro 1.                                                                              | KOLLUBISTES κολλυβιστήςchanger 1money-changer 2.                                                   |
| KATHO καθό■ 1inasmuch ■ 1.                                                                                                                 | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KEPHALAIOS κεφαλαίος n.wound in the head 1.                                                           | KITHARODOS κιθαροφδόςharper 2.                                                 | KNĒTHO κνήθωPASS.have itching 1.                                                                                          | KOLOBOO κολοβόωshorten 4.                                                                              |
| PASS.KATHIZO καθίζωbe set 2be set down 2continue (M. sit) 1set 2sit 25sit down 14tarry 1.MID.sit 1. | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KEPHALĒ κεφαλῆ f.head 75Head 1.this head covered (kata with gen.) 1.                          | KLADOS κλάδοςbranch 11.                                                        | KODRANTES κοδράντηςfarthing 2.                                                                                                | KOLON κώλον n.carcass 1.                                                                               |
| KATHOLOU καθόλουat all 1.                                                                                                                      | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KEPHALIS κεφαλῆς f.volume 1.                                                                          | KLAIO κλαίωbemoan 1weep 39.                                                | KOIMAO κοιμάωMID. (PASS.)be asleep 2be dead 1fall asleep 4fall on sleep ■sleep 10.                        | KOLONIA κολωνία f.colony 1.                                                                            |
| KATHOPLIZO καθοπλίζωarm 1.                                                                                                                     | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KEPOS κήποςgarden 5.                                                                                  | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOIMĒSIS κοιμησις f.taking of rest 1.                                                                                         | KOLPOS κόλποςbosom 5creek 1.                                                                       |
| KATHORAO καθοράωsee clearly 1.                                                                                                                 | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KEPOURGOS κηπουρόςgardener 1.                                                                         | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINĒNEO κοινωνέωbe made partaker of 1be partaker of 4communicate ■distribute 1.                                  | KOLUMBAO κολυμβάωswim 1.                                                                               |
| KATHOS καθόςaccording ■ 4■ 151even ■ 24how 1when 1.                                                                            | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAIA κεραία f.tittle ■.                                                                             | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | KOLUMBĒTHRA κολυμβήθρα f.pool 5.                                                                       |
| PASS.KATHOTI καθότιbecause 1because that ■forsomuch as 1.†With an: according as 1, as 1.                                | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAMEUS κεραμεύςpotter 3.                                                                            | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | KOLUO κολύωforbid 16hinder 2 (M. forbid 1)keep from 1let 1suffer not 1withstand 1. |
| KATIOO κατιόωcanker 1.                                                                                                                         | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAMIKOS κεραμικόςof ■ potter 1.                                                                     | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | †forbid to take (with apo) 1.                                                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                           | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAMION κεράμιον n.pitcher 2.                                                                        | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | KOMAO κομάωhave long hair 2.                                                                           |
|                                                                                                                                                           | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAMION κεράμιον n.pitcher 2.                                                                        | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | KOME κόμη f.town 12village 17.                                                                     |
|                                                                                                                                                           | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAMION κεράμιον n.pitcher 2.                                                                        | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | KOME κόμη f.hair 1.                                                                                    |
|                                                                                                                                                           | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAMION κεράμιον n.pitcher 2.                                                                        | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | KOMIZO κομίζωbring 1.MID.receive 9receive for 1.                                           |
|                                                                                                                                                           | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAMION κεράμιον n.pitcher 2.                                                                        | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | KOMOPOLIS κομποπόλις f.town 1.                                                                         |
|                                                                                                                                                           | KAUCHOMA καύχομαιboasting 1glorying 2rejoicing 4*rejoice 1*whereof to glory 1.                          | KERAMION κεράμιον n.pitcher 2.                                                                        | KLĒSIS κλῆσις f.breaking 2.                                                    | KOINONIA κοινωνία f.communication 1communion ■contribution 1distribution ■fellowship 12*to communicate 1. | KOMOS κῶμοςrevelling ■rioting 1.                                                                   |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                        |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| KOMPSOTERONκομψότερον†See echo.                                                           | KRASPEDON κράσπε-δον n.border 3hem 2.                                                                                                                    | KRITHĒ κριθή f.barley 1.                                                                                                                 | KUON κύωνdog 5.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | LAMPŌ λάμπωgive light 1shine 6.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | LENTION λέντιον n.(Lat.)towel 2.                                                                                                        |
| KONIAŌ κονιδάwhite (vb.) 2.                                                                   | KRATAIŌ κραταίωstrengthen 1.be strong 1wax strong 2.                                                                                                     | KRITHINOS κριθίνοςbarley (adv.) 2.                                                                                                       | KUPTŌ κύπτωstoop 2stoop down 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LAMPROS λαμπρόςbright 1clear 1gay 1goodly 2gorgeous 1white 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | LEŌN λέωνlion 1Lion 1.                                                                                                                  |
| KONIORTOS κονιορτόςdust 5.                                                                    | KRATAIOS κραταίοςmighty 1.                                                                                                                                       | KROUŌ κρούωknock 9.                                                                                                                      | KURIA κυρία f.lady 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | LAMPROS λαμπρῶςsumptuously 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | LEPIS λεπίς f.scale 1.                                                                                                                      |
| KOPAZŌ κοπάζωcease 3.                                                                         | KRATEŌ κρατέωhold 12hold by 1hold fast 5keep 1lay hands on 2lay hold on 8lay hold upon 2obtain 1retain 2take 8take by 2. | KRUPHĒ κρυφήin secret 1.                                                                                                                 | KURIAKOS κυριακόςLord's 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | LAMPROTĒS λαμπ-ρότης f.brightness 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | LEPRA λέπρα f.leprosy 4leper 9.                                                                                                         |
| KŌNŌPS κώνωψgnat 1.                                                                           | KRATISTOS κρατίστοςmost excellent 2most noble 2.                                                                                                             | KRUPTŌ κρύπτωhide 12keep secret 1.secretly 1.hide one's self 2.                                                              | KURIEUŌ κυριεύωbe lord of 1exercise lord-ship over 1have dominionover 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | LANTHANŌ λανθάνωbe hid 2be hidden 1*be ignorant of 2*unaware 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LEPSIS λήψις f.receiving 1.                                                                                                                 |
| KOPĒ κοπή f.slaughter 1.                                                                      | KRATOS κράτος n.dominion 4power 6strength 1.†mightily (kata with acc.)1.                                                                         | KRUPTOS κρυπτόςhid 3hidden 1secret 1.As nounhidden thing 2secret 1secret place 1.†inwardly (en with dat.) 1. | KURIOS κύριοςlord 563Lord 663master 12Master 2owner 1sir 13.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | LAOS λαόςpeople 143.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | LEPTON λεπτόν n.mite 3.                                                                                                                     |
| KOPETOS κοπετόςlamentation 1.                                                                 | KRAUGĒ κραυγή f.clamour 1cry 3crying 2.                                                                                                                  | KRUSTALLIZŌ κρυσ-ταλλίζωbe clear ascrystal 1.                                                                                    | KURIOTĒS κυριότηςf.dominion 3government (M.dominion) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LARUĠX λάρυγξthroat 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | LEROS λήροςidle tales 1.                                                                                                                    |
| KOPHINOS κόφινοςbasket 6.                                                                     | KRAZO κράζωcry 4cry out 3.                                                                                                                                   | KRUSTALLOS κρύσ-ταλλοςcrystal 2.                                                                                                     | KUROŌ κυρώωconfirm 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | LATHRA λάθραprivily 1secretly 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | LESTES ληστέςrobber 4thief 11.                                                                                                          |
| KŌPHOS κωφόςdeaf 5dumb 8speechless 1.                                                 | KREAS κρέας n.flesh 2.                                                                                                                                           | KTAOMAI κτάομαιobtain 1possess 3provide (M. get)1purchase 2.κτηῖμα n.possession 4.                               | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | LATOMEŌ λατομέωhew 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | LETHE λήθη f.†See lambano.                                                                                                                  |
| KOPIAŌ κοπίωbestow labour 2bestrew labouron 1be wearied 1labour 16toil 3. | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KTĒMA κτήμα n.possession 4.                                                                                                              | LACHANON λάχανονn.herb 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | LATREIA λατρεία f.divine service 1service 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | LEUKAINŌ λευκαίνωmake white 1white 1.                                                                                                   |
| KOPPOS κόποςlabour 13weariness 1.†See parchō.                                         | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KTĒNOS κτήνος n.beast 4.                                                                                                                 | LAĠCHANŌ λαγχανώbe one's lot 1cast lots 1obtain 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | LATREUŌ λατρεύωdo service 1serve 16worship 3.Partic.worshipper 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | LEUKOS λευκόςwhite 25.                                                                                                                      |
| KOPRIA κοπρία f.dunghill 1.†See ballō.                                                    | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KTĒTŌR κτήτωρpossessor 1.                                                                                                                | LAILAPS λαίλαψ f.storm 2tempest 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | LEGĒON λεγέωνlegion 2Legion 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | LIAN λίανa great while 1exceeding 5greatly 4sore 1.†See prōl.                                                               |
| KOPTŌ κόπτωcut down 2.bewail 2lament 2mourn 1wail 1.                          | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KTISIS κτίσις f.building 1creation 6 (M.creature 1)creature 11ordinance 1.                                               | LAKEŌ λακέω (λάσσω)burst asunder 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LEGEŌ λέγωask 1bid 1boast 1call 47describe 1give out 1name 2put forth 1say 1180say on 1show 1" 56speak of 1tell 33utter 1is to say 3.things whichwere spoken 4things which wehave spoken 1things which... spake 1. | LIMĒN λιμήνhaven 3.                                                                                                                         |
| KORASION κοράσιονn.damsel 6maid 2.                                                    | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KTISMA κτίσμα n.creature 4.                                                                                                              | LAKTIZŌ λακτίζωkick 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | LEGO λέγωask 1bid 1boast 1call 47describe 1give out 1name 2put forth 1say 1180say on 1show 1" 56speak of 1tell 33utter 1is to say 3.things whichwere spoken 4things which wehave spoken 1things which... spake 1.  | LIMOS λιμόςdearth 2famine 7hunger 3.                                                                                                |
| KORAX κόραξraven 1.                                                                           | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KTISTĒS κτίστηςCreator 1.                                                                                                                | LAKTIZŌ λακτίζωkick 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LIPAROS λιπαρόςdainty 1.                                                                                                                    |
| KORBAN κορβάν (κορ-βανās)Corban 1treasury 1.                                          | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KTIZO κτίζωcreate 11make 1.Partic.Creator 1.                                                                                 | LALIA λαλιά f.saying 1speech 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LIPS λίψsouth-west 1.                                                                                                                       |
| KORENNUMI κορέν-νυμιMID. (PASS.) eat enough 1.Partic.full 1.                      | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUBĒIA κυβεία f.sleight 1.                                                                                                               | LAMA λαμά (λαμμά)lamb 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LITHAZŌ λιθάζωstone (vb.) 8                                                                                                                 |
| KOROS κόρος (Heb.)measure 1.                                                                  | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUBERNĒSIS κυβερ-νήσις f.government 1.                                                                                               | LAMBANO λαμβάνωaccept 2attain 1bring 1call to 1catch 3come on 1have 3hold (M. take) 1obtain 2receive 133 (M.take untoone's self 1)take 104take away 1take to one'sself 1take up 2take upon one'sself 1.†assay (with peira) 1; be-gin at the first (witharchē) 1; *come intoroom [of] (with dia-dochos) 1; *forget (withlēthē) 1. See ekstasis. | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LITHINOS λιθίνοςof stone 3.                                                                                                                 |
| KOSMEŌ κοσμέωadorn 5garnish 4trim 1.                                                  | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUBERNĒTES κυβερ-νήτηςmaster 1ship-master 1.                                                                                     | LALIA λαλιά f.saying 1speech 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LITHOBOLĒŌ λιθο-βολέωcast stones 1stone 8.                                                                                          |
| KOSMIKOS κοσμικόςworldly 1.                                                                   | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUKLOŌ κυκλώωcome roundabout 1compass 1compass about 2stand roundabout 1.                                            | LAMA λαμά (λαμμά)lamb 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LITHOS λίθοςstone 58*another 6.                                                                                                         |
| KOSMIOS κόσμιοςmodest 1of good be-haviour (M.modest) 1.                           | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUKLOS κύκλοςround (dat.) 7.                                                                                                             | LAMBANO λαμβάνωaccept 2attain 1bring 1call to 1catch 3come on 1have 3hold (M. take) 1obtain 2receive 133 (M.take untoone's self 1)take 104take away 1take to one'sself 1take up 2take upon one'sself 1.†assay (with peira) 1; be-gin at the first (witharchē) 1; *come intoroom [of] (with dia-dochos) 1; *forget (withlēthē) 1. See ekstasis. | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LITRA λίτρα f. (Lat.)pound 2.                                                                                                               |
| KOSMOKRATŌR κοσ-μοκράτωρruler 1.                                                          | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUKLOTHEN κυκλό-θενabout 1round about 3.                                                                                         | LAMBANO λαμβάνωaccept 2attain 1bring 1call to 1catch 3come on 1have 3hold (M. take) 1obtain 2receive 133 (M.take untoone's self 1)take 104take away 1take to one'sself 1take up 2take upon one'sself 1.†assay (with peira) 1; be-gin at the first (witharchē) 1; *come intoroom [of] (with dia-dochos) 1; *forget (withlēthē) 1. See ekstasis. | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LOGĠCHĒ λόγχη f.spear 1.                                                                                                                    |
| KOSMOS κόσμοςadorning 1world 187.                                                         | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KULIŌ κυλίωwallow 1.                                                                                                                     | LAMBANO λαμβάνωaccept 2attain 1bring 1call to 1catch 3come on 1have 3hold (M. take) 1obtain 2receive 133 (M.take untoone's self 1)take 104take away 1take to one'sself 1take up 2take upon one'sself 1.†assay (with peira) 1; be-gin at the first (witharchē) 1; *come intoroom [of] (with dia-dochos) 1; *forget (withlēthē) 1. See ekstasis. | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LOGIA λογία f.collection 1gathering 1.                                                                                                  |
| KOUMI κοῦμιcumi 1.                                                                            | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KULISMA κύλισμα n.wallowing 1.                                                                                                           | LAMBANO λαμβάνωaccept 2attain 1bring 1call to 1catch 3come on 1have 3hold (M. take) 1obtain 2receive 133 (M.take untoone's self 1)take 104take away 1take to one'sself 1take up 2take upon one'sself 1.†assay (with peira) 1; be-gin at the first (witharchē) 1; *come intoroom [of] (with dia-dochos) 1; *forget (withlēthē) 1. See ekstasis. | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LOGIKOS λογικόςof the word 1reasonable 1.                                                                                               |
| KOUPHIZŌ κουφίζωlighten 1.                                                                    | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KULLOS κυλλόςmaimed 4.                                                                                                                   | LAMBANO λαμβάνωaccept 2attain 1bring 1call to 1catch 3come on 1have 3hold (M. take) 1obtain 2receive 133 (M.take untoone's self 1)take 104take away 1take to one'sself 1take up 2take upon one'sself 1.†assay (with peira) 1; be-gin at the first (witharchē) 1; *come intoroom [of] (with dia-dochos) 1; *forget (withlēthē) 1. See ekstasis. | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LOGION λόγιον n.oracle 4.                                                                                                                   |
| KOUSTŌDIA κουστω-δία f. (Lat.)watch 3.                                                    | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUMA κύμα n.wave 5.                                                                                                                      | LAMBANO λαμβάνωaccept 2attain 1bring 1call to 1catch 3come on 1have 3hold (M. take) 1obtain 2receive 133 (M.take untoone's self 1)take 104take away 1take to one'sself 1take up 2take upon one'sself 1.†assay (with peira) 1; be-gin at the first (witharchē) 1; *come intoroom [of] (with dia-dochos) 1; *forget (withlēthē) 1. See ekstasis. | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LOGISMOS λογισμόςimagination (M.reasoning) 1thought 1.                                                                              |
| KRABBATOS κράβ-βατος (Lat.)bed 11couch 1.                                             | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUMBALON κύμβαλονn.cymbal 1.                                                                                                         | LAMPAS λαμπάς f.lamp 7light 1torch 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LOGIZOMAI λογιζομαιaccount 3 (M.impute 1)account of 1conclude 1count 5esteem 1impute 8lay to one'scharge 1. |
| KRAIPALĒ κραιπάληf.surfeiting 1.                                                          | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUMINON κύμινον n.cumin 1.                                                                                                               | LAMPAS λαμπάς f.lamp 7light 1torch 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LOGIZOMAI λογιζομαιaccount 3 (M.impute 1)account of 1conclude 1count 5esteem 1impute 8lay to one'scharge 1. |
| KRANTION κρανίον n.Calvary (M. placeof a skull) 1skull 3.                             | KREISSON (KREIT-TŌN) κρείσσωbest 1better 13.As nounbetter country 1better thing 1.Adv.better 1.†See mallon.                      | KUNARION κυνάριονn.dog 4.                                                                                                            | LAMPAS λαμπάς f.lamp 7light 1torch 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | LEIŌ λέωsay 15speak 241 (M.say 2, bespoken of 1)speak of 1speak with 2talk 12talk with 1tell 11utter 4.things whichwere to bespoken after 1.                                                                                                           | LOGIZOMAI λογιζομαιaccount 3 (M.impute 1)account of 1conclude 1count 5esteem 1impute 8lay to one'scharge 1. |

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

■ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| number 1reason 1reckon 6suppose 2think 8 (M.reason 1)think of (M.reckon) 1think on 1.†be despised (with eis ou-den) 1. | LUKOS λυκοςwolf 6.LUMAINOMAI λυμαι-νομαιmake havoc of 1.LUO λωbreak 6break up 1destroy 2dissolve 2loose 2put off 1unloose 3.melt 1.PASS. 1LUPE λυπη f.grief 1heaviness 2.sorrow 11*grievous 1.†grudgingly (ek with gen.)1.LUPEO λυπεωcause grief 1grieve 1make sorry 3MID (PASS.) be grieved 4be made sorry 3be in heaviness 1be sorrowful 4be sorry 3.sorrow 3.sorrowful 2.Partia.LUSIS λυσις f.*to be loosed 1.LUSITELEO λυσιτελεωbe better 1.LUTRON λυτρον n.ransom 2.LUTROO λυτρωredeem 1.redeem 2.MID.LUTROSIS λυτρωσιςf.redemption 2.†See poieo.LUTROTES λυτρωτηςdeliverer 1. | MAKROCHRONIOSμακροχρονιος†See eiml.MAKROS μακροςfar 2.MAKROTHEN μακρό-θενafar off 4from far 1.†See apo.MAKROTHUMEOμακροθυμewbe long-suffering 1bear long 1be patient 3 (M.be longpatientor suffer withlong patience1)endure patiently 1have long pa-tience 1have patience 2suffer long 1.MAKROTHUMIAμακροθυμια f.long-suffering 11patience 2.MAKROTHUMOSμακροθυμοςpatiently 1.MALAKIA μαλακια f.disease 3.MALAKOS μαλακοςeffeminate 1soft 2.As noun soft clothing(neut. pl.) 1.MALISTA μάλισταchiefly 2especially 4most of all 1specially 6.MAILLON μάλλονmore 30much 1rather 32the more 11the rather 1so much themore 1.†so much the more 1 greatdeal (with comp. ofperissos) 1; better (withkreisson) 1. See per-isseuo.MAMME μάμη f.grandmother 1.MAMMONAS μαμμωναςmammon 4 (M.riches 2).MANIA μανια f.†See peritrepo.MANNA μαννα n. (Heb.)manua 5.MANTEUOMAI μαν-τεομαιPartia. by soothsaying 1.MANTHANO μανθάνωlearn 24understand 1.MARAINO μαραινωPASS. fade away 1.MARAN ATHA μαράναθάmaranatha 1.MARGARITES μαρ-γαριτηςpearl 9.MARMAROS μάρμαροςmarble 1.MARTUREO μαρτυρεωbe witness 2bear record 13bear witness 25give 1give testimony 2give witness 1testify 19witness 3. | MID. (PASS.) be witnessed1be well reportedof 2charge 1have good report 2have testimony 1obtain good re-port 2obtain witness 1witness 1.of good report 1of honest report1.Partia.MARTURIA μαρτυριαf.record 7report 1testimony 14witness 15.MARTURION μαρτύρ-ιον n.testimony 15witness 4*to be testified(M. a testi-mony) 1.MARTUROMAI μαρ-τύρομαιtake to record 1testify 1.MARTUS μάρτυςmartyr 3record 2witness 29.MASSAOMAI μασ-σόμεαιgnaw 1.MASTIGOO μαστιγώωscourge 7.MASTIZO μαστίζωscourge 1.MASTIX μαστίξ f.plague 4scourging 2.MASTOS μαστόςpap 3.MATAOLOGIA μαται-ολογια f.vain jangling 1.MATAIOLOGOS μαται-ολόγοςvain talker 1.MATAIOO ματαιωPASS. become vain 1.MATAIOS μάταιοςvain 3.As noun vanity 1.MATAIOTES ματαιότηςf.vanity 3.MATEN μάτηνin vain 2.MATHETES μαθητήςdisciple 269.MATHETEYO μαθη-τεύωbe 1 disciple 1instruct 1teach 2 (M. makedisciples 2, orChristians of1).MATHETRIA μαθήτριαf.disciple 1.ME με (acc. of EGΩ).me, etc.ME μή[Very freq. not; also lest15, that not 3. As aninterrog. particle freq.not represented by aspecial word in English.Along with anotherword, e.g., tis oftentranslated by oneEnglish word e.g.,neither, no, none,nothing.]MECHRI(S) μέχρι(μέχρις)till 1until 7unto 8†till (with hou) 1. | MEDAMOS μηδαμώςnot so 2.MEDE μηδέneither 32no not 1no not so much 1nor 17not 3not once 1not yet 2.MEDEIS μηδειςno 16no man 32no thing 1none 5not any 1not at all 1not a whit 1nothing 27 (M.no man 1)*not 1.†With neg.: any 2, anyman 2; any thing 2.See poieo.MEDEPO μηδέπωnot as yet 1.MEDEPOTE μηδέποτεnever 1.MEGALAUCHEOμεγαλαυχewboast 1great things 1.MEGALEIOS μεγαλειοςAs noun great thing 1wonderful work1.MEGALEIOTES με-γαλειότης f.magnificence 1majesty 1mighty power 1.MEGALOPREPESμεγαλοπρεπήςexcellent 1.MEGALOS μέγαςgreatly 1.MEGALOSUNE μεγα-λωσύνη f.majesty 1Majesty 2.MEGALUNO μεγαλύνωenlarge 2 (M.magnify 1)magnify 5shew great 1.MEGAS μέγαςgreat 145greatest 2high 1large 2loud 55mighty 1strong 1*to years 1.great ones 1great thing 3they that 1great 1.As adv. the more 1.†See phobos.MEGE μήγεnot 3.†See ei.MEGETHOS μέγεθοςn.greatness 1.MEGISTANES μεγα-στάνηςgreat men 2lords 1.MEGISTOS μέγιστοςexceeding great1.MEIZON μέizonelder 1greater 1greater 32greatest 9more 1.As noun greater thing 1greater work 1.MEIZOTEROS μεϊζό-τεροςgreater 1. | MEKETI μηκέτιhenceforth nomore 1henceforth not 2no longer 4no more 7not any more 1not henceforth 1*no 1*no . . . hence-forward 1.†With neg.: any longer 1,henceforth 1, hereafter1.MEKOS μήκος n.length 3.MEKUNO μηκύνωMID. grow up 1.MELAN μέλαν n.ink 3.MELAS μέλαςblack 3.MELETAO μελετάωimagine 1meditate upon 1premeditate 1.MELI μέλι n.honey 4.MELISSIOS μελισσιοςhoney (adj.) 1.MELLO μέλλωbe 4be about 4be almost 1be at point of 1be ready 3be that should 1be to come 3be yet 1begin 1intend 2mean 1mind 1shall 25should 10should after 2should after-wards 1should hereafter1tarry 1will 8would 8.Partia. about 1ready 2thing to come 4time to come 1what thingsshould 1*to come 9.†after that (eis to withpartia.) 1; be coming on(with ginomal) 1.MELO μέλωcare 9take care 1.MELOS μέλος n.member 34.MELOTE μελωτή f.sheepskin 1.MEMBRANA μεμ-βράνα f.parchment 1.MEMPHOMAI μέμφο-μαιfind fault 3.MEMPSIMOIROISμεμψιμοιροςcomplainer 1.MEN μένeven 1indeed 22truly 12verily 14.†Freq. used to mark the1st member of an anti-thesis (the 2nd beingmarked by de) and thengen. untranslated.MEN<sup>1</sup> μὲν†See 63.MEN<sup>2</sup> μὲνmonth 12.MEN<sup>3</sup> μένωabide 59 (M.wait for 1)be 1be present 1continue 1. |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| dwelt 15 (M.abide 1)endure 3remain 17stand 1tarry 9tarry for 1.MENOUNGE μενούγγεnay but 1yea doubtless 1yea rather 1yea verily 1.MENTOI μέντοιbut 1howbeit 1nevertheless 1yet 2.† nevertheless (mentoi) 1. (hopōs)MENÚO μηνύωshow 3tell 1.MĒPO μήπωnot yet 2.MĒPOS μήπωςlest 5lest by any means 3lest by some means 1lest haply 1lest perhaps 1lest that by any means 1.MĒPOTE μήποτεif peradventure 1lest 12lest at any time 7lest haply 1whether or not 1*no... at all 1.MERIMNA μέριμνα f.care 6.MERIMNÁO μεριμνάωbe careful 1care 5have care 1take thought 10.Partic. with taking thought 1.MERIS μερίς f.part 4.† to be partaker (eis with acc.) 1.MERISMOS μερισμόςdividing asunder 1gift (M. distribution) 1.MERISTES μεριστήςdivider 1.MERIZO μερίζωdeal 1distribute 2divide 8give part 1.divide 1.Mid. be difference between 1.MĒROS μηρόςthigh 1.MĒROS μέροςbehalf 2coast 3craft 1part 24piece 1portion 3respect 2 (M. part 1)side 1some sort 1.† by course (ana meros) 1;in particular (ek with gen.) 1; particularly (kata m.) 1; partly (meros ti) 1; somewhat (apo with gen.) 1.MESEMBRIA μεσ-ημβρία f.noon 1south 1.MESITĒS μεσίτηςmediator 6.MESITEÚO μεσιτεύωconfirm (M. interpose one's self) 1. | MESONUKTION μεσονύκτιον n.midnight 4.MESOO μεσώbe about the midst 1.MESOS μέσοςamong 6in the midst 4midst 37.† among (ana with acc. 1, en with dat. 5) 6; before (en with dat.) 1; between (ana with acc.) 1; midday (with hēmera) 1; midnight (with nux) 2; out of the way (ek with gen.) 2.MESOTOICHON μεσότοιχον n.middle wall between 1.MESOURANEMA μεσουράνημα n.midst of heaven 3.MĒSTOO μεστόωPASS. be full 1.MĒSTOS μεστόςfull 8.META μετάWith gen. against 4among 1in 2of 1on 1unto 1upon 1with 346*and 1*and setting 1*promised to 1.† without (ou meta) 1.With acc. after 95since 1*hence 1*when 2.† that should follow (with tauta) 1.METABAINO μεταβαίνοdepart 7go 1pass 2remove 2.METABALLO μεταβάλλωMid. change one's mind 1.METADIDOMI μεταδίδωμιgive 1 (M. impart 1).impart 3.METAGO μετάγωturn about 2.METAIRO μεταίρωdepart 2.METAKALEO μετακαλέωMid. call 1call for 1call hither 1call to one's self 1.METAKINEO μετακινέωmove away 1.METALAMBANO μεταλαμβάνωbe partaker of 1eat 1have 1receive 1take 1.METALEPSIS μεταληψις f.† to be received (eis with acc.) 1.METALLASSO μεταλλάσσωchange 2. | METAMELOMAI μεταμέλομαιrepent 5repent one's self 1.METAMORPHOÓ μεταμορφώωMid. be changed 1be transfigured 2be transformed 1.METANEOO μετανέωrepent 34.METANOIA μετάνοια f.repentance 24(M. amendment of life 1, to change his mind 1).METAPEMPO μεταπέμπωcall for 2send for 6.METASCHĒMATIZO μετασχηματίζωMid. be transformed 2change 1transfer in a figure 1transform one's self 1.METASTREPHO μεταστρέφωpervert 1turn 2.METATHESIS μετάθεσιςcharge 1removing 1translation 1.METATITHEMI μετατίθημιcarry over 1change 1remove 1translate 2turn 1.METAXU μεταξύbetween 6meanwhile (M. between 1)next (M. between) 1.METE μήτεneither 20nor 14or 1so much as 1.METECHO μετέχωbe partaker of 5pertain to 1take part of 1use 1.METEORIZO μετεωρίζωMid. be of doubtful mind (M. live in careful suspense) 1.METEPEITA μετεπειταεπειταafterward 1.MĒTER μήτηρ f.mother 85.METHE μέθη f.drunkenness 3.METHERMĒNEÚO μεθερμηνεύωinterpret 5.PASS. be by interpretation 2.METHISTEMI μεθίστημι(μεθιστήνω)can remove 1put out of 1remove 1translate 1turn away 1.METHODEIA μεθοδεία f.wile 1.† whereby they lie in wait (pros with acc.) 1. | METHORIOS μεθόριοςborders (pl.) 1.METHUO μεθύωbe drunken 5.be made drunk 1have well drunk 1.Mid. be drunk 1be drunken 2.METHUSOS μέθυσοςdrunkard 2.METI μήτι (μή τι)any? 1not? 2.† how much more? (with ge) 1.MĒTIS μήτις (μή τις)any? 1any man? 1.METOCHE μετοχή f.fellowship 2.METOCOS μέτοχοςfellow 1partner 4partner 1.METOIKESIA μετοικεσία f.carrying away into 1the time they were carried away to 1*they were brought to 1.METOIKIZO μετοικίζωcarry away 1remove into 1.METOPON μέταπον n.forehead 8.METRA μήτρα f.womb 2.METRALOAS μητραλώςmurderer of 1mother 1.METREO μετρέωmeasure 7mete 3.METRĒTES μετρητήςfirkn 1.METRIOPATHEO μετριοπαθέωhave compassion on (M. reasonably bear with) 1.METRIOS μετριώς adv.a little 1.METRON μέτρον n.measure 13.MIA=HEIS.MIAINÓ μαινώdefile 5.MIASMA μiasma n.pollution 1.MIASMOS μiasμόςuncleanness 1.MIGMA μίγμα n.mixture 1.MIGNUMI μίγνυμιmingle 4.MIKROS μικρόςless 1least 1little 10little one 1small 6.a little 5a little while 10while 1.† a little while (with hoson) 1.MIKROTĒROS μικρότεροςleast 4less 1.MILION μίλιον n.mile 1.MIMEOMAI μιμέομαιfollow 4.MIMĒTES μιμητήςfollower 7. | MIMNĒSKOMAI μιμνήσκουμαιMid. (PASS.) be had in remembrance 1be mindful of 1come in remembrance 1remember 17.MISEO μισέωhate 40.Pass. pt. hateful 1.MISTHAPODOSIA μισθαποδοσία f.recompense of reward 3.MISTHAPODOTES μισθαποδοτῆςrewarder 1.MISTHIOS μισθιοςhired servant 2.MISTHOMA μίσθωμα n.hired house 1.MISTHOO μισθόωMid. hire 2.MISTHOS μισθόςhire 3reward 24wages 2.MISTHOTOS μισθωτόςhired servant 1hireling 3.MNA μνά f.pound 9.MNEIA μνεία f.mention 4remembrance 3 (M. mention) 1.MNEMA μνήμα n.grave 1sepulchre 4tomb 2.MNEME μνήμη f.remembrance 1.† See poleo.MNEMEION μνημεῖον n.grave 1sepulchre 29tomb 5.MNEMONEUO μνημονεύωbe mindful of 1make mention (M. remember) 1.remember 19.MNEMOSUNON μνημοσύνη n.memorial 3.MNĒSTEÚO μνηστεύωPASS. be espoused 3.MOCHTHOS μόχθοςpainfulness 1travail 2.MODIOS μόδιοςbushel 3.MOGILALOS μογιλάλοςlashaving an impediment in one's speech 1.MOGIS μόγισhardly 1.MOI μοι (dat. of EGÓ)me, etc.MOICHALIS μοιχαλῖς f.adulteress 1adulterous 3adultery (M. adulteress) 1.MOICHAO μοιχάωMid. commit adultery 6.MOICHEIA μοιχεία f.adultery 4.MOICHEÚO μοιχεύωcommit adultery 12commit adultery with 1.Mid. pt. in adultery 1. | MOICHOS μοιχόςadulterer 4.MOLIS μόλιςhardly 1scarcely 2scarcely 2.† See ischuō.MOLOPS μώλωψstrips 1.MOLUNO μολύνωdefile 3.MOLUSMOS μολυσμόςfilthiness 1.MOMAOMAI μαμάομαι (μωμάομαι)blame 2.MOMOS μῶμοςblemish 1.MOMPHE μουφή f.quarrel (M. complaint) 1.MONĒ μονή f.abode 1mansion 1.MONOGENES μονογενήςonly 1Only begotten 5only begotten son 1only child 1.MONOÓ μονόωPass. pt. desolate 1.MONOPHTHALMOS μονόφθαλμοςwith one eye 1monosalone 2by one's self 2only 24.alone 3but 1only 62.MORAINO μοραίνωmake foolish 1become a fool 1lose savour 2.MORIA μόρια f.foolishness 5.MOROLOGIA μωρολογία f.foolish talking 1.MĒROS μωρόςfoolish 6.As noun fool 5foolishness 1foolish thing 1.MORPHE μορφή f.form 3.MORPHOÓ μορφόωform 1.MORPHOSIS μόρφωσις f.form 2.MOSCHOPOLIO μοσχόποιοςποιέωmake a calf 1.MOSCHOS μόσχοςcalf 6.MOU μου (gen. of EGÓ)minemy, etc.MOUSIKOS μουσικόςmusician 1.MUELOS μυελόςmarrow 1.MUEO μυνέωinstruct 1.MUKAOMAI μυκάομαιroar 1.MUKTERIZO μυκτηρίζωmock 1.MULIKOS μυλικόςmill (adv.) 1.MULON μύλωνmill 1.MULOS μύλοςmillstone 2.† With onikos: millstone 1.MOUPAZO μωπάζωcan not 1ad 1. |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MURIAS μυριάς f.Plur. ten thousand 1.an innumerable company 1.an innumerable multitude 1.ten thousand 1.ten thousand times 1.thousands 1.†Repeated: hundred thousand 1.See pente. | NEOTEROS νεότεροςyoung 1.younger 7.young man 1.younger man 1.NEOTES νεότης f.youth 5.NEPHALIOS νηφάλιος(νηφέλεος)sober 1. (M. vigilant 1).vigilant 1.NEPHELE νεφέλη f.cloud 26.NEPHO νήφωbe sober 3.watch 2.Partic. sober 1.NEPHOS νέφοςcloud 1.NEPHROS νεφρόςreins (pl.) 1.NEPIAZO νηπιάζωbe a child 1.NEPIOS νήπιοςbabe 6.child 7.*childish 1.NESION νησίον n.island 1.NESOS νήσος f.island 6.isle 3.NESTEIA νηστεία f.fast 1.fasting 7.NESTEYO νηστεύωfast 21.NESTIS νήστιςfasting 1.NETHO νήθωspin 2.NEUO νέωbeckon 2.NIKAO νικάωconquer 2.get the victory 1.overcome 24.prevail 1.NIKE νίκη f.victory 1.NIKOS νίκος n.victory 4.NIPTER νιπτήρbasin 1.NIPTO νίπτωwash 17.NOEMA νόημα n.device 1.mind 4.thought 1.NOEO νοέωconsider 1.perceive 2.think 1.understand 11.NOME νομή f.pasture 1.†See echō.NOMIKOS νομικόςabout the law 1.lawyer 8.NOMIMO3 νομίμωςlawfully 2.NOMISMA νόμισμα n.money 1.NOMIZO νομίζωthink 5.suppose 9.be wont 1.PASS.NOMODIDASKALOSνομοδιδάσκαλοςdoctor of the law 2.teacher of the law 1.NOMOS νόμοςlaw 195.NOMOTHESIA νομοθεσία f.giving of the law 1. | NOMOTHETEO νομοθετέωPASS. be established 1.receive the law 1.NOMOTHETES νομοθέτηςlawgiver 1.NOSEMA νόσημα n.disease 1.NOSEO νόσέωPartic. doting (M. sick) 1.NOSOS νόσος f.disease 6.infirmity 1.sickness 5.NOSPHZIO νοσφίζωMid. keep back 1.purloin 1.NOSSIA νοσσία f.brood 1.NOSSION νοσσίον n.chicken 1.NOTHOS νόθοςbastard 1.NOTHROS νοθρόςdull 1.slothful 1.NOTOS νότοςsouth 4.south wind 3.NOTOS νώτοςback 1.NOUMENIA νουμηνία f.new moon 1.NOUNECHOS νουνεχώςdiscreetly 1.NOUS νοῦςmind 15.minds 5.understanding 7.NOUTHESIA νουθεσία f.admonition 3.NOUTHETEIO νουθετέωadmonish 4.warn 4.NUCHTHEMERON νυχθήμερον n.a night and a day 1.NUMPHE νύμφη f.bride 5.daughter-in-law 3.NUMPHIOS νυμφίοςbridegroom 16.NUMPHON νυμφώνbride-chamber 3.NUN νῦνat this time 1.now 116.of late 1.this time 2.†Following article: but now 1, now 4, that now is 1, this 2, this present 3, which I make low 1, apo tou nun: from henceforth 4, henceforth 1, hereafter 1.NUNI νυνίnow 21.NUSSO νύσσωPierce 1.NUSTAZO νυστάζωslumber 1.NUX νύξ f.night 63.†See nyct. | UCHLOS ὄχλοςcompany 7.multitude 79 (M. tumult 1).number 1.people 1.people 82.press 5.OCHUROMA ὀχύρωμα n.stronghold 1.ODE ὕδης f.song 7.ODIN ὠδίν f.pain 1.travail 1.sorrow 2 (M. pain of a woman in travail) 1.ODINO ὠδίνωtravail 1.travail in birth 1.travail in birth of 1.ODOUS ὀδοῦςtooth 11.ODUNAO ὀδυνάωMid. be tormented 2.sorrow 2.ODUNE ὀδύνη f.sorrow 2.ODURMOS ὀδυρμόςmourning 2.OGDOEKONTA ὀγδοήκονταfour score 2.OGDOOS ὀγδοόςeight 5.OĖKOS ὄγκοςweight 1.OIDA οἶδαSee EIDON.OIKEIOS οἰκεῖοςof one's own house (M. kindred) 1.of the house- hold 2.OIKEMA οἰκήμα n.prison 1.OIKEO οἰκέωdwell 9.OIKETERION οἰκητήριον n.habitation 1.house 1.OIKETES οἰκέτηςhousehold servant 3.OIKIA οἰκία f.home 1.house 93.household 1.OIKIAKOS οἰκιακόςof one's house- hold 2.OIKODESPOTEIO οἰκοδεσποτέωguide the house 1.OIKODESPOTES οἰκοδεσπότηςgoodman 1.goodman of the house 4.householder 4.master of the house 3.OIKODOME οἰκοδομή f.building 5.edification 4.edifying 6.*edify 1.†See chreia.OIKODOMEO οἰκοδομέωbuild 24.build up 1.edify 7.embolden (edify) 1.builder 5.be in building 1. | OIKODOMIA οἰκοδομία f.edifying 1.OIKONOMEIO οἰκονομέωbe steward 1.OIKONOMIA οἰκονομία f.dispensation 4.stewardship 3.OIKONOMOS οἰκονόμοςchamberlain 1.governor 1.steward 8.OIKOS οἶκοςhome 4.house 102 (M. home 1).household 1.†See idios.OIKOUMENE οἰκουμένη f.earth 1.world 14.OIKOUROS οἰκουρὸςkeeper at home 1.OIKTEIRO οἰκτείρωhave compassion on 2.OIKTIRMON οἰκτιρμωνmerciful 2.of tender mercy 1.OIKTIRMOS οἰκτιρμόςmercy 5.OINOPHUGIA οἰνοφλυγία f.excess of wine 1.OINOPOTES οἰνοπότηςwine-bibber 2.OINOS οἶνοςwine 32.*wine (adj.) 1.OIOMAI οἶμαιthink 1.suppose 1.OKNEO ὀκνέωdelay (M. be grieved) 1.OKNEROS ὀκνηρόςgrievous 1.slothful 2.OKTAEMEROS ὀκταήμεροςthe eighth day 1.OKTO ὀκτώeight 6.OLETHROS ὀλεθροςdestruction 4.OLIGOPISTOS ὀλιγοπίστοςof little faith 5.OLIGOPSUCHOS ὀλιγοψύχοςfeeble-minded 1.OLIGOREO ὀλιγορεύωdespise 1.OLIGOS ὀλίγοςfew words (M. a little) 1.little 4.little time 2.short 1.small 5.little 2.short space 1.while 1.for a season 1.little 1.few things 4.few 14.few stripes 1.†almost (en with dat.) 2;briefly (dia with gen. pl.) 1;little (proa with acc.) 1;M. for a little time 1;long (ouk oligon) 1.OLOLUZO ὀλολύζωhowl 1.OLOTHREVO ὀλοθρεύνωdestroy 1.OLOTHREUTES ὀλοθρευτήςdestroyer 1. | OLUNTHOS ὀλυνθοςuntimely fig (M. green fig) 1.OMBROS ὀμβροςshower 1.OMMA ὀμμαeye 1.OMNUMI ὀμνυμιswear 27.OMOS ὀμοςshoulder 2.ONAR ὄναρ n.dream 6.ONARION ὄναριον n.young ass 1.ONEIDISMOS ὀνειδισμόςreproach 5.ONEIDIZO ὀνειδίζωcast in one's teeth 1.reproach 3.revile 2.upbraid 3.suffer reproach 1.ONEIDOS ὀνειδοςreproach 1.ONEOMAI ὀνεόμαιbuy 1.ONIKOS ὀνικός†See mulos.ONINEMI ὀνίνημιMid. have joy 1.ONOMA ὄνομα n.name 103.*called (dat.) 3.*named (dat.) 24.†With dat. of rel. or autos: named 4, called 1, named (to onoma), 1.ONOMAZO ὀνομάζωcall 1.name 8.ONOS ὄνος6.ONTOS ὄντωςcertainly 1.clean 1.indeed 6.of a truth 1.verily 1.OON ὄον n.egg 1.OPĖ ὀπή f.cave 1.place (M. hole) 1.OPHEILE ὀφείλη f.debt 1.due 1.OPHEILEMA ὀφείλημα n.debt 2.OPHEILETES ὀφειλέταιdebtors 5.sinner (M. debtor) 1.which oweth 1.OPHEILO ὀφείλωbe bound 2.be a debtor 1.be guilty (M. be a debtor or bound) 1.be indebted 1.must needs 1.ought 15.owe 7.should 1.*behave 1.*be one's duty 2.be due 1.debt 1.due 1.†need require (with gin-omal) 1.OPHELEIA ὀφέλεια f.advantage 1.profit 1.OPHELEO ὀφελέωprevail 2.profit 7.Mid. (PASS.) be advanced 1.be bettered 1.be profited 1.profit 1. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                         |                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                       |                                                                                                 |                                                                                               |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| OPHELIMOS ὠφέλι-μος†See eimi.profitable 3.                           | OROS ὄρος n.hill 3mount 21mountain 41.                 | OUDEIS οὐδείςany (with neg.) 3any man (withneg.) 3aught (with neg.)no 20no man 95none 26not any 1nothing 67nought 1, etc.†never man (with gen. pl.of anthrōpos) 1.                        | OXOS ὄξος n.vinegar 7.                     | PALIN πάλινagain 140 (M.back 1)†again (eis to palin 1, withanōthen 1) 2. | PARABALLŌ παρα-βάλλωarrive 1compare 1.                                     |
| OPHELON ὠφελονI would 2I would to God 1would to God 1.               | ORPHANOS ὀρφανόςcomfortless (M.orphan) 1.fatherless 1. | OUDEPO οὐδέποno 20no man 95none 26not any 1nothing 67nought 1, etc.†never man (with gen. pl.of anthrōpos) 1.                                                                                              | OXUS ὄξυςsharp 7swift 1.               | PAMPLETHEI παμ-πληθεῖall at once 1.                                              | PARABASIS παρα-βάσις f.breaking 1transgression 6.                          |
| OPHELOS ὀφελος n.*it advantageth 1*it profiteth 2.                       | ORTHOPODEŌ ὀρθο-ποδεῖωwalk uprightly 1.                    | OUDEPOTE οὐδέποτεneither at anytime 1never 13yet never 1.†nothing at any time (withpas) 1.                                                                                                                        | P                                              | PAMPOLUS πάμπολυςvery great 1.                                                       | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPHIS ὄφηςserpent 14.                                                        | ORTHOS ὀρθόςstraight (M.even) 1upright 1.              | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PACHUNŌ παχύνωPASS. wax gross 2.           | PANDOCHEION παν-δοχείον n.inn 1.                                                 | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPHREUS ὀφρύς f.brow (M. edge)1.                                         | ORTHOS ὀρθόςplain 1right 1rightly 2.                   | OUKETI οὐκέτιafter that (withneg.) 2any more (withneg.) 4henceforth not 1hereafter . . .not 1no longer 1no more 28not as yet 1not now 1now . . . not 3yet (with neg.) 1yet not 1. | PAGIDEUŌ παγιδεύωentangle 1.               | PANDOCHEUS παν-δοχεύςhost 1.                                                     | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPHTHALMODOUL-EIA ὀφθαλμοδου-εία f.eye-service 2.                   | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAGIS παγίς f.snare 5.                     | PANEGURIS παν-ήγυρις f.general as-sembly 1.                                  | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPHTHALMOS ὀφθαλ-μόςeye 100sight (pl.) 1.                            | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAGOS. See AREIOS.                             | PANOIKI πανοικίwith all one'shouse 1.                                            | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPISŌ ὀπίσωafter 22back 1behind 5*which are be-hind 1.       | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| †back (eis ta opisō) 5; back-ward (eis ta opisō) 1.                                 | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPISTHEN ὀπισθενafter 2behind 4on the backside1.                 | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPŌRA ὀπώρα f.fruits 1.                                                      | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPSARION ὀψάριον n.fish 4small fish 1.                                   | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPSE ὀψέat even 1in the end 1*even 1.                                | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPSIMOS ὀψιμοςlatter 1.                                                      | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPSIOS ὀψιοςeven (adj.) 1.As noun even 8evening 3.                   | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| †With partic. of glinomialor eimi; at evening 1,at even 1, in the evening1. | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPSI ὀψις f.appearance 1countenance 1face 1.                         | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPSŌNION ὀψώνιον n.charges 1wages 3 (M.allowance 1).                 | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPTANŌ ὀπτάνωsee 1.                                                          | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPTASIA ὀπτασία f.vision 4.                                                  | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OPTOS ὀπτόςbroiled 1.                                                        | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| ORCHEŌ ὀρχέωMid. dance 4.                                                    | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OREGŌ ὀρέγωMid. covet after 1desire 2.                                   | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OREINOS ὀρεινόςhill (adj.) 2.                                                | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| OREXIS ὀρεxis f.lust 1.                                                      | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| ORGĒ ὀργή f.anger 3indignation 1vengeance 1wrath 31.             | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| ORGILOS ὀργίλοςsoon angry 1.                                                 | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| ORGIZŌ ὀργίζωMid. be angry 5be wroth 3.                                  | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| ORGUIA ὀργυιά f.fathom 2.                                                    | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| ORNEON ὀρνέον n.bird 1fowl 2.                                            | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |
| ORNIS ὀρνιςhen 2.                                                            | ORTHOTOMEŌ ὀρθο-τομέωdivide rightly 1.                     | OUK=OU.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PAIDARION παιδάριονn.child 1lad 1. | PANOPLIA πανοπλίαf.all . . . armour1whole armour 2.                      | PARABATĒS παρα-βάτηςbreaker 1transgressor 3who doth trans-gress 1. |

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by ■ verb or adjective, of an active by ■ passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original ■ translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| PARAGGELLO παρ-αγγέλλωcharge 6command 20declare 1give charge 1give command-ment 1give in charge 1.                                                                                                                                                                    | PARAKUPTO παρα-κίπτωstoop down 3.†With els: look into 2.                | PARARRHEO παρα-ρρέωlet slip (M. runout, as leakingvessels) 1.                                                                                                        | Partic. present 3such things asye have 1.                                                                                                | PAROIKIA παροικίαf.sojourning here1*dwell 1strangers 1. | whole 12whosoever 30.all 541 (M. allthings) 1all manner of 1all men 36all points 1all quarters 1all they 1all things 150(M. all 1)as many as 1every 1every man 1every one 3every one of you1every thing 1.                                    |
| PARAGINOMAI παρα-γίνομαιbe present 1come 34come thither 1go 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | PARALEGO παραλέγωMid.pass 1sail by 1.                                   | PARASEMOS παρα-σημοςwhose sign 11.                                                                                                                                       | PAREISAGO παρεισ-άγωbring in privily1.                                                                                               | PAROIKOS παροίκοςforeigner 1stranger 2.                             | †See elmi.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| PARAGO παράγωdepart 1pass away 1pass by 5pass forth 1.Mid.pass 1pass away 1.                                                                                                                                                                                              | PARALLAGE παρα-αλλαγή f.variableness 1.                                     | PARASKEUAZOMid.make ready 1.be ready 1prepare 1one'sself 1.Partic. ready 1.                                                                              | PAREISAKTOS παρ-είσακτοςbrought in un-awares 1.                                                                                      | PAROIMIA παροιμίαf.parable 1proverb 4 (M.parable) 1.        | PAROINOS παροίνοςgiven to wine 2(M. ready toquarrel andoffer wrong,as one in wine)                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| PARAINEO παραινέωadmonish 1exhort 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | PARALOGIZOMAIMid.παρολογίζομαιbeguile 1deceive 1.                   | PARATEINO παρα-τείνωcontinue 1.                                                                                                                                              | PAREISDUNO παρ-είσδύνωcreep in un-awares 1.                                                                                          | PAROMIOIAZO παρ-ομοιάζωbe like unto 1.                              | †En with dat.: on everyside 2, every where 1,thoroughly 1. With hosor hostis: as many as 1,every 1, every one 1,whosoever 5, whatso-ever 1. Pl. with hosor hosos: all 13, allthings 17. Always (withhemera) 1; no (ou pas10, me pas 2) 12; noth-ing (ou pan rhema) 1. |
| PARAITEOMAI παρ-αίτέομαιMid.avoid 1entreat 1make excuse 1refuse 5reject 1.Pass. be excused 2.                                                                                                                                                                         | PARALUTIKOS παρα-λυτικόςsick of the palsy2.taken with apalsy 2. | PARATEREO παρα-τηρέωobserve 1watch 5.                                                                                                                                    | PAREISPHERO παρ-εισφέρωgive 1.                                                                                                           | PAROMOIOS παρόμοιοςAs noun like things 2.                               | PASCHA πάσχα n.Easter 1passover 28.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| PARAKALEO παρα-καλέωbeseech 43call for 1comfort 23 (M.exhort 1)desire 8entreat 3exhort 19 (M.beseech 1, de-sire 1)exhort one an-other 1give exhorta-tion 1pray 6.Partic. in his exhorta-tion.Pass. be of good com-fort 1. | PARALUTIKOS παρα-λυτικόςsick of the palsy0that hath thepalsy 1. | PARATERESIS παρα-τήρησις f.observation (M.outward show)1.                                                                                                            | PAREKTOS παρεκτόςexcept 1saving 1*that are with-out 1.                                                                           | PAROPSIS παρόψις f.platter 2.                                           | PASCHO πάσχωbe vexed 1feel 1suffer 39.passion 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| PARAKALUPTO παρακαλύπτωhide 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | PARAMENON παραμένωabide 1continue 2.                                        | PARATEKE παρα-θήκη f.*which I havecommitted 1.                                                                                                                           | PAREMBOLÉ παρεμ-βολή f.army 1camp 3castle 6.                                                                                     | PARORGISMOS παρ-οργισμόςwrath 1.                                    | PATASSO πατάσσωsmite 9strike 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| PARAKALUTHEKEπαρκαταθήκη f.thing whichis committedunto one 1which is com-mitted toone's trust 1.                                                                                                                                                                          | PARAMUTHION παρα-μύθιον n.comfort 1.                                        | PARATHALASSIOSπαρθαλάσσιοςwhich is uponthe sea coast1.                                                                                                               | PARENCHLEO παρ-ενοχλέωtrouble 1.                                                                                                         | PARORGIZO παρορ-γίζωanger 1provoke towrath 1.               | PATEO πατέωtread 3tread down 1tread under foot1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| PARAKATHIZO παρα-καθίζω†sit at (with para) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | PARAMUTHIA παρα-μυθία f.comfort 1.                                          | PARATHEOREO παρα-θεωρέωneglect 1.                                                                                                                                            | PAREPIDEMOS παρ-επίδημοςpilgrim 2stranger 1.                                                                                         | PAROTRUNO παρ-στρύνωstir up 1.                                      | PATER πατήρfather 151Father 265parent 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| PARAKEIMAI παρά-κειμαιbe present with2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | PARANOMIA παρα-νομία f.iniquity 1.                                          | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROUSIA παρουσίαf.coming 22presence 2.                         | PATHEMA πάθημα n.affection (M.passion) 1affliction 3motion (M.passion) 1suffering 11.                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| PARAKLESIS παρά-κλησις f.comfort 6consolation 14entreaty 1exhortation 8.                                                                                                                                                                                                          | PARAPHERO παρα-φέρωremove 1take away 1.                                 | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARESIS πάρεσις f.remission (M.passing over)1.                                                                                       | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATHETOS παθητός*should suffer 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| PARAKLETOS παρά-κλητοςadvocate 1Comforter 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | PARAPHRONIA παρα-φρονία f.madness 1.                                        | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATHOS πάθος n.affection 1inordinate affec-tion 1lust 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PARAKOLOUTHEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                  | PARAPHRONEO παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATRALOAS πατρ-αλφαςmurderer of afather 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| PARAKOUE παρακούωdisobedience 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | PARAPHRONIA παραφρο-νία f.madness 1.                                        | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATRIA πατρίδα f.family 1kindred 1lineage 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PARAKOULOUEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PARAPHRONIA παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATRIARCHESπατριάρχηςpatriarch 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| PARAKOULOUEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PARAPHRONIA παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATRIKOS πατρικόςof my fathers1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PARAKOULOUEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PARAPHRONIA παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATRIS πατρίς f.country 3one's owncountry 5.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PARAKOULOUEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PARAPHRONIA παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATROOS πατρόςof my fathers 1of our fathers 1of the fathers 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| PARAKOULOUEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PARAPHRONIA παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PATROPARADOTOSπατροπαράδοτοςreceived bytradition fromyour fathers 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| PARAKOULOUEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PARAPHRONIA παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PAUO παύωcease 12leave 1refrain 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| PARAKOULOUEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PARAPHRONIA παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PACHUS πῆχυςcubit 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PARAKOULOUEOπαρκαλούθειωattain 1follow 1have perfectunderstandingof 1know fully (M.be a diligentfollower of) 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PARAPHRONIA παραφρονέωbe as fool 1.                                             | PARATITHEMIπαρτίθημιallege 1put forth 2set before 8.Pass. pt. such things asare set before1.Mid. commit 3commit 3commit thekeeping of 1. | PARERCHOMAI παρ-έρχομαιcome 1come forth 1go 1pass 10pass away 12pass by 3pass over 1transgress 1.past 1. | PAROXUSMOS παρ-οξυσμόςcontention 1.†With els: provoke unto 1.   | PEDALION πηδάλιονn.helm 1rudder 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                              |                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| PHEIDOMAI φείδομαιforbear 1spare 9.                                                                                                                           | PHILONEIKIA φιλονεικίαneikia f.strife 1.                                                      | PHONĒ φωνή f.noise 1sound 8 (M. voice 1)voice 128voices 3                        | PHRONEMA φρόνημαmind 2 (M. minding) 1*to be minded (M. minding) 2.                                                                                                    | PHULAKIZŌ φυλάκιζωimprison 1.                                                                                           | Partic. believer 1.Infm. believing 1.PASS. be committed to one's trust 1be committed unto 1be put in trust with 1.                                                                                      |
| PHEIDOMENŌS φειδόμενοςsparingly 2.                                                                                                                                | PHILONEIKOS φιλονεικόςneikoscontentious 1.                                                    | PHONĒ φωνή f.noise abroad (with glinomial; M. voice made) 1.                                 | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHULAKTERION φυλακτήριον n.phylactery 1.                                                                                | †Act. believe (with eis 1, en 1, epi 1) 3.                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| PHEME φήμη f.fame 2.                                                                                                                                              | PHILOPHRON φιλοφρωνcourteous 1.                                                                   | PHONĒŌ φωνέωcall 23call for 1crow 12cry 5.                                       | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHULASSŌ φυλάσσωkeep 21observe 1save 1.beware 2beware of 1keep 2keep one's self 1observe 1. | PISTIKOS πιστικός†See nardos.                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| PHEMI φημίaffirm 1say 57.                                                                                                                                     | PHILOPHRONOS φιλοφρόνωνcourteously 2.                                                             | PHONEUŌ φωνεύωdo murder 1kill 10slay 1.                                              | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHULAX φύλαξkeeper 3.                                                                                                   | PISTIS πίστις f.assurance (M. faith) 1belief 1faith 239fidelity 1*them that believe 1.                                                                                                                            |
| PHERŌ φέρωbear 8bring 33bring forth 5carry 1endure 1lay 1lead 1move 1reach 1reach hither 1uphold 1.go on 1rush 1. | PHILOS φίλοςfriend 29.                                                                            | PHONEUJ φονεύςmurderer 7.                                                                    | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHULE φυλή f.kindred 6tribe 25.                                                                                     | the which believeth (ho ek with gen.) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| MTD. be (M. be brought in) 1be driven 1be to be brought 1come 3*let drive 1.                                                                          | PHILOSOPHIA φιλοσοφίαphilosophy 1.                                                                | PHONOS φόνοςmurder 1slaughter 1.                                                         | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHULLON φύλλον n.leaf 6.                                                                                                | PISTŌŌ πιστώωPASS. be assured of 1.                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| PASS. be (M. be brought in) 1be driven 1be to be brought 1come 3*let drive 1.                                                                         | PHILOSOPHOS φιλόσοφοςphilosopher 1.                                                               | PHOREŌ φέρωbear 3went 3.                                                                 | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHURAMA φύραμα n.lump 5.                                                                                                | PISTOS πιστόςbelieving 1faithful 52 (M. believing 1)Faithful 1sure 1that believeth 1true 2which believeth 3.                                                                                              |
| PHEUGŌ φεύγωcan escape 1escape 2flee 26flee away 2.                                                                                                   | PHILOTEKNOS φιλοτεκνόςτῆκνος†to love their children (eimi philoteknos) 1.                     | PHOROS φόροςtribute 5.                                                                       | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHUSICŌ φυσικόpuff up 1.                                                                                                | As noun. believer 1.As adv. faithfully 1.                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| PHIALĒ φιάλη f.vial 12.                                                                                                                                           | PHILOTHEOS φιλόθεοςlover of God 1.                                                                | PHORTION φορτίον n.burden 5.                                                                 | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHUSIŌS φυσίωσιςswelling 1.                                                                                             | PITHANOLOGIA πιθανολογίαenticing words 1.                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| PHILADELPHIA φιλαδέλφειαbrotherly kind- 2brotherly love 3 (M. love of the brethren) 1love of the brethren 1.                                              | PHILOTIMEOMAI φιλοτιμέομαιlabour (M. endeavour) 1.strive 1study 1.                        | PHORTIZŌ φορτίζωlade 1.Pass. pt. heavy laden 1.                                          | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHUSIS φύσις f.kind (M. nature) 1nature 10.†natural (kata with acc.) 2.See anthrōpinos.                     | PLANAO πλανῶbe out of the way 1deceive 24err 6go astray 5seduce 2wander 1.                                                                                                                                    |
| PHILADELPHOS φιλαδέλφος*love 1 brethren (M. loving to the brethren) 1.                                                                                            | PHILOXENIA φιλοξενίαhospitality 1*to entertain strangers 1.                                   | PHORTOS φόρτοςlading 1.                                                                      | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHUTEIA φυτεία f.plant 1.                                                                                               | PLANĒ πλάνη f.deceit 1delusion 1error 7*deceive 1.                                                                                                                                                                    |
| PHILAGATHOS φιλαγάθοςlover of good men (M. lover of good things) 1.                                                                                               | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOS φῶς n.fire 1light 66Light 4.                                                    | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PHUTEUŌ φυτεύωplant (vb.) 11.                                                                                           | PLANĒTES πλανήτηςwandering 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| PHILANDROS φιλανδρός†love their husbands (eimi philandros) 1.                                                                                                     | PHIMŌŌ φιμώωmuzzle 1put to silence 2.be speechless 1be still 1hold one's peace 2. | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIAZŌ πιάζωapprehend 1catch 1lay hands on 1take 7.                                                          | PLANOS πλάνοςdeceiver 4seducing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| PHILANTHROSŌPĪA φιλανθρωπία f.kindness 1love toward man (M. pity toward man) 1.                                                                               | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIEZO πιέζωpress down 1.                                                                                                | PLASMA πλάσμα n.thing formed 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PHILANTHROSŌPŌS φιλανθρώπωνcourteously 1.                                                                                                                         | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKRAINŌ πικραίνωmake bitter 2.be bitter 2.                                                                         | PLASSŌ πλάσσωform 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| PHILARGURIA φιλαργυρία f.love of money 1.                                                                                                                         | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKRIA πικρία f.bitterness 4.                                                                                           | PLASTOS πλαστόςfeigned 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| PHILARGUROS φιλαργυρόςcovetous 2.                                                                                                                                 | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKROS πικρόςbitter 2.                                                                                                  | PLATEIA πλατεία f.street 10.                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| PHILAUTOS φιλαυτόςlover of one's own self 1.                                                                                                                      | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKROS πικρόςbitter 2.                                                                                                  | PLATOS πλάτος n.breadth 4.                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| PHILE φίλη f.friend 1.                                                                                                                                            | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKROS πικρόςbitter 2.                                                                                                  | PLATONŌ πλατώνωenlarge 2make broad 2.                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| PHILEDONOS φιλέδωνοςlover of pleasures 1.                                                                                                                         | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKROS πικρόςbitter 2.                                                                                                  | PLATUS πλατόςwide 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| PHILEMA φίλημα n.kiss 7.                                                                                                                                          | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKROS πικρόςbitter 2.                                                                                                  | PLAX πλάξ f.table 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| PHILEŌ φιλέωkiss 3love 23.                                                                                                                                    | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKROS πικρόςbitter 2.                                                                                                  | PLEGE πλέγη f.plague 12stripe 5wound 3.†See epitithēmi.                                                                                                                                                               |
| PHILIA φιλία f.friendship 1.                                                                                                                                      | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKROS πικρόςbitter 2.                                                                                                  | PLEGMA πλέγμα n.braided hair (M. plaited hair) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|                                                                                                                                                                              | PHILOXENOS φιλόξενοςgiven to hospitality 1lover of hospitality 1.*use hospitality 1.      | PHOTISŌ φωτίζωbring to light 2enlighten 1give light 2illuminate 1make see 1. | PHRONEŌ φρονέωbe careful 1be minded 3mind 4regard 3 (M. observe 1)savour 1set one's affection on (M. set one's mind on) 1think 5understand 1. | PIKROS πικρόςbitter 2.                                                                                                  | PLEION πλείωνabove 1greater 5greater part 1longer 1many 12many things 1more 23more excellent 1more part 2most 2very many 2.†epi pleion: further 1long 1. Yet but (ou pleion e) 1. |

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| PLEISTOS πλειστοςmost 1very great 1.As adv. at the most 1. | PLESSO πλῆσσωsmite 1.PLĒTHO = PIMPLEMIPLĒTHOS πλῆθος n.bundle 1company 1multitude 30. | POIEO ποιέωabide there 1appoint (M.make) 1be 1bear 4bring 1bring forth 14can do 1cause 3cause to be 1commit 9continue 2deal with (dat.) 2do 353execute 2exercise 1fulfil 3gain 1give 1hold 1keep 4make 102mean 1observe 1ordain 1perform 2provide 1purpose 1put 1shoot out 1show 5spend 1take 1tarry 1work 8 (M. con-tinue 1, do 1)yield 1.in doing 2.doing 1.give 1make 12. | PŌLEO πωλέωsell 21.Pass. pt. whatsoever issold 1.POLIS πόλις f.city 159.POLITARCHĒS πολιτ-άρχηςruler of the city2.POLITEIA πολιτεία f.commonwealthfreedom 1.POLITĒS πολίτηςcitizen 3.POLITEUMA πολιτ-εῦμα n.conversation 1.POLITEUO πολιτεύωMID. live 1Imper. let your conver-sation be 1.POLLAKIS πολλάκιςoft 4often 7oftentimes 3ofttimes 3.POLLAPLASIŌNπολλαπλασίονmanifold more 1.PŌLOS πῶλοςcolt 12.POLULOGIA πολυ-λογία f.much speaking1.POLUMERŌS πολυ-μερῶςat sundry times1.POLUPOIKILOS πολυ-ποίκιλοςmanifold 1.POLUS πολὺςabundant (M.much) 1common 1far passed 1far spent 1great 59long 3many 185 (sing.2)many stripes 1many things 23much 71 (adj.and adv.; pl.17; M. manyways or oft-times 1)plenteous 1.As adv. a great deal(dat.) 1far (dat.) 1greatly 4oft 1so much (dat.) 1sore 1straitly 2.†a great while (epi polu) 1;altogether (en with dat.) 1;long after (meta polu)1; much (with logos) 1. | PONĒROS πονηρόςbad 1evil 38grievous 1lewd 1malicious 1which is evil 1wicked 11.As noun evil 10evil things 2harm 1wicked 1wickedness 1wicked one 6wicked person 1.†evil (with rhēma) 1.PONOS πόνοςpain 3.PŌPOTE πῶποτεat any time 3.†never (with negative) 3.POREIA πορεία f.way 1.†See poleō.POREUOMAI πορεύομαιbe going 1depart 11go 119go away 1go forth 1go one's way 7go up 1journey 2make one'sjourney 1take one'sjourney 1walk 9.PORISMOS πορισμόςgain 2.PORNE πόρνη f.harlot 8 (M.fornication) 1whore 4.PORNEIA πορνεία f.fornication 26.PORNEUO πορνεύωcommit fornication 7commit [fornica-tion] 1.PORNOS πόρνοςfornicator 5whoremonger 5.PORŌO πωρόωblind 2 (M.harden 1)harden 3.PŌRŌSIS πόρωσις f.blindness (M.hardness) 2hardness (M.blindness) 1.PORPHURA πορφύραf.purple 5.PORPHUREOS πορφύ-ρεοςpurple 2.As noun purple 1.PORPHUROPOLISπορφυρόπολις f.seller of purple1.PORRHŌ πόρρωa great way off 1far 2.Comp. further 1.PORRHŌTHEN πόρρω-θενafar off 2.PORTHEO πορθέωdestroy 2waste 1.PŌS πῶςby any means 8by some means 1happily 1perhaps 1.PŌS πῶςafter what man-ner 1by what means 1how? 52how is it that? 6that 1. | POSAKIS ποσάκιςhow oft? 1how often? 2.POSIS πόσις f.drink 3 (M.drinking) 1.POSOS πόσοςhow great? 1how many? 9how many a? 1things? 2how much? 13what? 1.†how long ago? (withchronos) 1.POTAMOPHORETOSποταμοφόρητοςcarried away ofthe flood 1.POTAMOS ποταμόςflood 4river 9stream 2water 1.POTAPOS ποταπόςwhat 1what mannerof? 5what manner ofperson 1.POTE πότεaforetime 1any time 1at any time 4at length 1at the last 1ever yet 1in old time (M.at any time) 1in the old time 1in time past 3once 1some time 1sometimes 1sometimes 3when 1.†never (ou me pote) 1.POTE πότεwhen 12.†how long? (heōs pote) 7.POTERION ποτήριονn.cup 33.POTEROS πότεροςwhether 1.POTHEN πόθενfrom whence 1whence 20.POTIZO ποτίζωfeed 1give drink 4give to drink 1make . . . drink1make to drink 1water 3*watering 1.POTOS πότοςbanqueting 1.POU πούabout 1in 1 certainplace 2.POU πούwhere? 37whither? 10.POUS ποὺςfoot 85.†See hupopodion.PRAGMA πρᾶγμα n.business 1matter 3thing 6work 1.PRAGMATEIA πραγ-ματεία f.affair 1.PRAGMATEUMAIπραγματεύομαιoccupy 1.PRAITORION πραι-τόριον n.common hall(M. governor'shouse) 1hall of judg-ment (M.Pilate's house)1 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of ■ noun by ■ verb or adjective, of an active by ■ passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original ■ translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| judgment hall 4palace (M.Caesar's court)Praetorium 1.PRAKTÖR πράκτωρofficer 2.PRAOS πρᾶοςmeek 1.PRAOTES πρᾶότης f.meekness 3.PRASIA πρασία f.ranks (pl.) 1.PRASSO πράσσωcommit 5do 28exact 1keep 1require 1use 1.†deeds (pl. of tel. withprasso) 1.PRAUS πρᾶυςmeek 3.PRAUTES πρᾶυτης f.meekness 3.PRAXIS πράξις f.deed 4office 1works 1.PRENÉS προνήηςheadlong 1.PREPÖ πρέπωbe comely 1become 6.PRESBEIA πρεσβεία f.ambassage 1message 1.PRESBEUÖ πρεσβεύωbe an ambass-ador 2.PRESBUTERIONπρεσβυτήριον n.elders 1estate of elders 1presbytery 1.PRESBUTEROS πρεσ-βύτεροςelder 2eldest 1.elder 62elder woman 1old man 1.PRESBUTES πρεσ-βύτηςaged 1aged man 1old man 1.PRESBUTIS πρεσ-βυτίς f.aged woman 1.PRIN πρίνbefore 6.†With 8: before 5, beforethat 2, ere 1.PRIZÖ πρίζω (πρίω)saw asunder 1.PRO πρόabove 1above . . . ago1before 45 (adv.9)or ever 1.PROAGÖ προάγωbring forth 2bring out 1go before 15.PROAIREÖ προαιρέωMid. purpose 1.PROAITIAOMAI προ-αίτιδομαιprove before (M.charge) 1.PROAKOUÖ προακούωhear before 1.PROAMARTANÖπροαμαρτάνωsin already 1sin heretofore 1.PROAULION προαύλιονn.porch 1. | PROBAINÖ προβαίνωgo farther 1go on 1.Partic. well stricken 2.†Partic. with en and dat.of hemera and pas: ofa great age 1.PROBALLÖ προβάλλωput forward 1shoot forth 1.PROBATIKOS προ-βατικόςFem. sheep market (M.sheep gate) 1.PROBATON πρόβατονn.sheep 40.PROBIBAZÖ προβι-βάωinstruct before1.†draw out of (with ek) 1.PROBLEPÖ προβλέπωMid. provide (M.foresee) 1.PROCHEIRIZOMAIπροχειρίζομαιchoose 1make 1.PROCHEIROTONEÖπροχειροτονέωchoose before 1.PROECHÖ προέχωMid. be better 1.PRODELÖS πρόδηλοςevident 1manifest beforehand 1open before-hand 1.PRODIDÖMI προδίδωμιgive first 1.PRODÖTES προδότηςbetrayer 1traitor 2.PRODROMOS πρόδρο-μοςforerunner 1.PROEGEOMAI προ-ηγέομαιprefer 1.PROEIDON προεῖδονforesee 1see before 1.PROEIPON προεῖπονforetell 1forewarn 1say before 4speak before 3tell before 2tell in time past1.PROELPIZÖ προελ-πίζωtrust first (M.hope) 1.PROENARCHOMAIπροενάρχομαιbegin 1begin before 1.PROEPAGGELO προ-επαγγέλλωMid. promise afore 1.PROERCHOMAI προ-έρχομαιgo before 5go farther 1go forward 1outgo 1pass on 1.PROETOIMAZÖ προ-ετοιμάωordain before(M. prepare) 1prepare afore 1.PROEUAGGELIZO-MAI προευαγγελίζο-μαιpreach the gos-pel before 1.PROGINOMAI προ-γίνομαιbe past 1. | PROGINÖSKÖ προ-γινώσκωforeknow 2foreordain 1know 1know before 1.PROGNÖSIS πρόγνωσιςf.foreknowledge 2.PROGONOS πρόγονοςforefathers (pl.)1parents (pl.) 1.PROGRAPHÖ προ-γράφωordain before 1set forth evi-dently 1write 1write afore 1write aforeside1.PROI πρόωearly 2in the morning 4morning 2.early in the morning(hama proi) 1, veryearly in the morning(lian proi) 1.PROIMOS πρώιμοςearly 1.PROINOS πρώινόςmorning 1.PROIOS πρώιοςearly 1in the morning 1morning 2.PROISTEMI προϊστέμιbe over 1maintain (M.profess) 1rule 5.PROKALEÖ προκαλέωMid. provoke 1.PROKATAGGELOπροκαταγγέλλωforetell 1show before 2.Pass. pt. whereof ye hadnotice before(M. which hathbeen so muchspoken of be-fore) 1.PROKATARTIZÖπροκαταρτίζωmake up before-hand 1.PROKEIMAI πρόκειμαιbe first 1be set before 3be set forth 1.PROKERUSSÖ προ-κηρύσσωpreach before 1preach first 1.PROKOPE προκοπή f.furtherance 2profiting 1.PROKOPTÖ προκόπτωbe far spent 1increase 1proceed 1profit 1wax 1.PROKRIMA πρόκριμαn.preferring onebefore an-other (M. pre-judice) 1.PROKUROÖ προκυρώconfirm before 1.PROLAMBANÖ προ-λαμβάνωcome aforehand1overtake 1take before 1.PROLEGÖ προλέγωforetell 1tell before 2. | PROMARTUROMAIπρομαρτύρομαιtestify before-hand 1.PROMELETAÖ προ-μελετάωmeditate before1.PROMERIMNAÖ προ-μεριμνάωtake thoughtbeforehand 1.PRONOEÖ προνοέωprovide for 1.provide 1provide for 1.Mid. provide for 1.PRONOLA πρόνοια f.providence 1provision for 1.PROORAÖ προοράωsee before 1.foresee 1.Mid. foresee 1.PROORIZÖ προορίζωdetermine be-fore 1ordain 1predestinate 4.PROPASCHÖ προ-πάσχωsuffer before 1.PROPEMPÖ προπέμπωaccompany 1.bring forwardon one'sjourney 1bring on one'sjourney 2bring on one'sway 4conduct forth 1.PROPETES προπετήςheady 1rashly 1.PROPHASIS πρόφασιςf.cloak 2 (M. ex-cuse) 1colour 1pretence 1show 1.PROPHERO προφέρωbring forth 2.PROPHETEIA προ-φήτεία f.prophecy 15prophesying 3the gift of pro-phesy 1.PROPHETES προφήτης†See anēr.prophet 149.PROPHETEÜÖ προ-φητεύωprophecy 28.PROPHETIKOS προ-φητικόςof prophecy 1of the prophets1.PROPHETIS προφήτιςf.prophetess 2.PROPHTHANÖ προ-φθάνωprevent 1.PROPREUOMAI προ-πορεύομαιgo before 2.PRÖRA πρόρα f.forepart 1foreship 1.PROS πρόσWith gen. for 1.With dat. about 1at 1.With acc. according to 3against 24among 20at 11for 24toward 10unto 338with 42*to answer 1 | *to be comparedwith 1*to give (answer) 1*which belongunto 1*which pertain to1, etc., etc.PROSABBATON προ-σάββατον n.the day beforethe sabbath 1.PROSAGÖ προσάγωbring 3draw near 1.PROSAGÖGE προσ-αγωγή f.access 3.PROSAGOREÜÖ προσ-αγορεύωcall 1.PROSAITEÖ προσαιτέωbeg 3.PROSANABAINÖπροσαναβαίνωgo up 1.PROSANALISKÖπροσαναλίσκωspend 1.PROSANAPLERÖÖπροσαναπληρώωsupply 2.PROSANATITHEMIπροσανατίθημιMid. add in con-ference 1confer 1.PROSAPEILEÖ προσ-απειλέωMid. threaten further1.PROSCHUSIS πρόσ-χυσις f.sprinkling 1.PROSDAPANAÖπροσδαπανάωspend more 1.PROSDECHOMAIπροσδέχομαιaccept 1allow 1look for 4receive 3take 1wait for 4.PROSDEOMAI προσ-δέομαιneed 1.PROSDOKAÖ προσ-δοκάωbe in expecta-tion (M. be insuspense) 1expect 1look 2look for 1tarry 1wait for 3.PROSDOKIA προσ-δοκία f.expectation 1looking after 1.PROSEAÖ προσεάωsuffer 1.PROSECHÖ προσέχωattend unto 1be given to 1beware 7give attendanceat 1give attendanceto 1give heed to 5give heed unto 1have regard to 1take heed 1take heed to 3take heed unto 2.PROSEDREÜÖ προσ-εδρεύωwait at 1.PROSEGGIZÖ προσ-εγγίζωcome nigh unto1.PROSELOÖ προσελ-θωnail to 1. | PROSELUTOS προσ-ήλυτοςproselyte 4.PROSERCHOMAIπροσερχομαιbe a coming 1come 32come to 24come unto 19consent to 1draw near 2go 1go near 1go to 2go unto 2.Partic. cometh unto1.PROSERGAZOMAIπροσεργάζομαιgain 1.PROSEUCHÉ προσ-ευχή f.prayer 36*earnestly (M. inhis prayer) 1.PROSEUCHOMAIπροσεύχομαιmake prayer 1make prayers 2pray 83pray for 1.PROSKAIROS πρόσ-καιροςbut for 1 time 1for a season 1for a while 1temporal 1.PROSKALEÖ προσ-καλέωMid. call 6call for 2call to 1call unto 21.PROSKARTEREÖπροσκαρτερέωattend continu-ally upon 1continue in 3continue instantin 1continue stead-fastly in 1continue with 1give one's selfcontinually to1wait on 1wait on continu-ally 1.PROSKARTERESISπροσκαρτερήσις f.perseverance 1.PROSKEPHALAIONπροσκεφάλαιον n.pillow 1.PROSKLEROÖ προσ-κληρώωPASS. consort with 1.PROSKLISIS πρόσ-κλισις f.partiality 1.PROSKOLLAOMAIπροσκολλάομαιbe joined unto 1cleave to 2join one's self to1.PROSKOMMA πρόσ-κομμα n.offence 1stumbling 1stumbling-block2*stumbling (adj.)2.PROSKOPE προσκοπήf.offence 1.PROSKOPTÖ προσ-κόπτωbeat upon 1stumble 3stumble at 2.†dash against (with pros) 2. |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                           |                                                                                     |                                                                                                       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| PROSKULIO προσ-κυλίωroll to 1roll unto 1.                                                                                                                                                        | present unto(M. offer) 1put to 1.                                                                                                    | PROTHUMOS προθύμοςready 1willing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | PSEUDēs ψευδήςfalse 1.As noun liar 1.                                                      | PTOCHEO πτωχεύωbecome poor 3.                                            | RHABDOUCHOSραβδοῦχοςserjeant 2.                                                        |
| PROSKUNEō προσ-κυνέωworship 39 (M. beseech) 1.† With enclitic: worship(M. fall down before) 1.                                                                                               | PROSPHILēs προσ-φιλήςlovely 1.                                                                                                | PROTHUMō3 προ-θύμωςof 1 ready mind 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | PSEUDOCCHRISTOSψευδοχριστόςfalse Christa (pl.) 2.                                          | PTōCHOS πτωχόςpoor 30.beggarly 1.brogar 2poor man 1          | RHADIOURGEMAραδιουργημα n.clewiness 1.                                                 |
| PROSKUNēTES προσ-κυνήτηςworshipper 1.                                                                                                                                                                | PROSPHōNEō προσ-φωνέωcall to 2call unto 1speak to 2speak unto 1.                                                  | PROTITHEMI προ-τίθμιpurpose 1set forth (M. foreordain) 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | PSEUDOCIDASKA-LOS ψευδοιδόσκαλοςfalse teacher 1.                                          | PTOEō πτωέωterrify 2.                                                    | RHADIOURGIA ραδι-ουργία f.mischief 1.                                                  |
| PROSLALEō προσ-λαλέωspeak to 1speak with 1.                                                                                                                                                      | PROSPHORA προσφοράf.offering 8offering up 1 (M. sacrificing) 1.                                                           | PROTOKATHEDRIAπρωτοκαθεδρίαchief seat 2highest seat 1uppermost seats 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                              | PSEUDOMAI ψεύδομαιlie tolie to (M. deceive) 1Partia falsely (M. lying) 1.              | PTOMA πτώμα n.carcase 1corpse 1dead body 3.                      | RHAKA ράκαracha (ed. 1611; racha 1638) 1.                                                  |
| PROSLAMBANOπροσλαμβάνωMid. receive 7take 5take unto them 1.                                                                                                                                  | PROSPIPTō προσ-πίπτωfall at 1fall down at 1fall down before 1beat upon 1.                                         | PROTOKLISIA πρωτο-κλίσια f.chief room 2highest room 1uppermost room 1uppermost rooms 1.                                                                                                                                                                                          | PSEUDOMARTURψευδομάρτυρfalse witness 3.                                                    | PTōSIS πτώσις f.fall 2.                                                  | RHAKOS ράκος n.cloth 2.                                                                    |
| PROSLēPSIS πρόσ-ληψις f.receiving 1.                                                                                                                                                                 | PROSPOIEō προσποιέωMid. make as though 1.                                                                                         | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSEUDOMARTUREōψευδομαρτυρέωbear false wit-ness 6.                                      | PTUSMA πτύσμα n.spittle 1.                                               | RHANTISMOS ραν-τισμόςsprinkling 2.                                                     |
| PROSMENO προσμένωabide still 1be with 1cleave unto 1continue in 1continue with 1tarry there 1.                                                                                       | PROSPOREUOMAIπροσπορεύομαιcome unto 1.                                                                                        | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSEUDOMARTURIAψευδομαρτυρία f.false witness 2.                                             | PTUSSO πτύσσωclose 1.                                                    | RHANTIZō ραντίζωsprinkle 4.                                                                |
| PROSOCHTHIZōπροσοχθίζωbe grieved with 2.                                                                                                                                                             | PROSPSAUō προσψάωtouch 1.                                                                                                         | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSEUDONUMOSψευδώνυμοςfalsely so called 1.                                                  | PUGME πυγμή (dat.)oft (M. diligent-ly) 1.                                | RHAPHIS ραφίς f.needle 3.                                                                  |
| PROSOPOLēPSIAπροσωποληψία f.respect of per-sons 4.                                                                                                                                               | PROSTASSō προσ-τάσσωbid 1command 6.                                                                                       | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSEUDOPROPHēTESψευδοπροφήτηςfalse prophet 11.                                              | PUKNOS πυκνόςoften 1.often 1.the oftener 1.                      | RHAPISMA ράπισμαn.† See ballō, didōmi.                                                 |
| PROSOPOLēPTēōπροσωποληπτέωhave respect topersons 1.                                                                                                                                              | PROSTATIS προστάτιςf.succourer 1.                                                                                             | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSEUDOS ψεύδος n.lie 7lying 1*lying (gen.) 1.                                          | PULE πύλη f.gate 10.                                                     | RHAPIZō ραπίζωsmite 1smite with th.palm of one'shand (M. smitew. a rod) 1. |
| PROSOPOLēPTēsπροσωποληπτήςrespector of per-sons 1.                                                                                                                                               | PROSTITHEMI προσ-τίθμιadd 11give more 1increase 1lay unto 1proceed further 1speak any more 1*again 2. | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSEUSMA ψεύσμα n.lie 1.                                                                        | PULON πύλονgate 17porch 1.                                           | RHEDA ρέδα f.chariot 1.                                                                    |
| PROSOPON πρόσωπονappearance (M. the face)countenance 1face 55fashion 1man's person 1outward appear-ance 1person 1 (M. sight 1)presence 7 (M. outward ap-pearance 1). | PROSTRECHō προσ-τρέχωrun 1run thither to 1run to 1.                                                                   | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSEUSTēs ψεύστηςliar 10.                                                                       | PUNTHANOMAIπυνθάνομαιask 7demand 2inquire 2understand 1. | RHEMA ῥῆμα n.saying 9 (M. thing 1)thing 3word 56.† See pas, pōnēros.           |
| † before (pro with gen. 1,eis with acc. 1) 2.                                                                                                                                                                   | PROTASSō προτάσσωappoint before 1.                                                                                                | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSICHION ψυχίον n.crumb 3.                                                                     | PURESSO πυρέσσωbe sick of a fever 21.                                    | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |
| PROSORMIZō προσ-ορμίζωMid. draw to theshore 1.                                                                                                                                                   | PROTEINō προτείνωbind 1.                                                                                                          | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSITHURISIMOSψιθυρισμόςwhispering 1.                                                       | PURETOS πυρετόςfever 6.                                                  | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |
| PROSOPHEILO προσ-οφείλωowe besides 1.                                                                                                                                                                | PROTEROS πρότεροςbefore 2former 1.at the first 1before 4first 1former 2.† before (ean mē pr.) 1.          | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSITHURISTēsψιθυριστήςwhisperer 1.                                                         | PURGOS πύργοςtower 4.                                                    | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |
| PROSPEGNUMI προσ-πήγνυμιcrucify 1.                                                                                                                                                                   | PROTHESIS πρόθεσιςf.purpose 8.† shew-bread (with gen. pl.of artos) 1. See artos.                                      | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSŌCHō ψώχωrub 1.                                                                              | PURINOS πύρινοςof fire 1.                                                | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |
| PROSPERINOS πρόσ-πεινοςvery hungry 1.                                                                                                                                                                | PROTHESIS πρόθεσιςf.purpose 8.† shew-bread (with gen. pl.of artos) 1. See artos.                                      | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSŌMION ψωμίον n.sop 4 (M. morsel) 1.                                                          | PURIS πύριςbe on fire 1be tried 1burn 3.fiery 1.             | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |
| PROSPHAGION προσ-φάγιον n.meat 1.                                                                                                                                                                    | PROTHESIS πρόθεσιςf.purpose 8.† shew-bread (with gen. pl.of artos) 1. See artos.                                      | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSŌMIZō ψωμίζωbestow to feed 1feed 1.                                                      | PURIS πύριςbe on fire 1be tried 1burn 3.fiery 1.             | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |
| PROSPHATOS πρόσ-φάτοςnew 1.                                                                                                                                                                          | PROTHESIS πρόθεσιςf.purpose 8.† shew-bread (with gen. pl.of artos) 1. See artos.                                      | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSUCHē ψυχή f.heart 1life 40mind 3soul 58.theartily (ek with gen.) 1.          | PURIS πύριςbe on fire 1be tried 1burn 3.fiery 1.             | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |
| PROSPHATOS πρόσ-φάτοςnew 1.                                                                                                                                                                          | PROTHESIS πρόθεσιςf.purpose 8.† shew-bread (with gen. pl.of artos) 1. See artos.                                      | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSUCHIKOS ψυχικόςnatural 3sensual 3 (M. natural) 1.As noun that which isnatural 1. | PURIS πύριςbe on fire 1be tried 1burn 3.fiery 1.             | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |
| PROSPHERō πρόσ-φέρωbring 2bring to 5bring unto 10deal with 1do 1offer 24offer up 1.                                                                                          | PROTHESIS πρόθεσιςf.purpose 8.† shew-bread (with gen. pl.of artos) 1. See artos.                                      | PROTOS πρώτοςbefore 2best 1chief 7 (M. first 1)chiefest 1first 78former 2that are first 1.beginning 1chief estate 1chief man 1first day 2.at first 1at the beginning 1at the first 2before 1chiefly 1first 52first of all 1. | PSUCHOS ψύχος n.cold 3.As noun cold water 1.                                               | PURIS πύριςbe on fire 1be tried 1burn 3.fiery 1.             | RHEO ῥέωflow 1.                                                                            |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.
† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                        |                                                                          |                                                                                                                                    |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| RHUPAROS ρυπαρόςvile 1.                                                                                  | SARX σάρξ f.flesh 147carnal 2carnally (M. of the flesh) =fleshly 1.           | SEMNOS σεμνόςgrave 3honest (M. venerable) 1.                                                                                                           | SKENOPEGIA σκηνοπηγία f.of tabernacles 1.                                   | SMARAGDINOS σμαράγδινοςemerald 1.                             | PASS. be whole =do well 1save one's self 1.such as should be saved 1.                                           |
| RHUPCΩ ρυπώωbe filthy 2                                                                                  | SATON σάτον n.measure 2.                                                                  | SEMNOTES σεμνότης f.gravity 2honesty 1.                                                                                                                | SKENOPOIOS σκηνοποιόςtent-maker 1.                                          | SMARAGDOS σμαράγδοςemerald 1.                                 | Partic.                                                                                                                     |
| RHUPOS ρύποςfilth 1.                                                                                     | SAUTOU = SEAUTOU.                                                                             | SEPO σήπωcorrupt 1.                                                                                                                                        | SKENOS σκηνός n.tabernacle 1.                                               | SMURNA σμύρνα f.myrrh 1.                                      | SPAO σπᾶωdraw 1draw out 1.                                                                                          |
| RHUSIS ρύσις f.issue 3.                                                                                  | SBENNUMI σβέννυμιquench 7.                                                                | SERIKON σερικόν n.silk 1.                                                                                                                                  | SKEPASM σκέπασμα n.raiment (pl.) 1.                                         | SMURNIZO σμυρνίζωmingle with myrrh 1.                         | SPARASSO σπαράσσωrend 1tear 3.                                                                                      |
| RHUTIS ρυτίς f.wrinkle 1.                                                                                | PASS. go out (M. be going out) 1.                                                             | SES σῆςmoth 3.                                                                                                                                             | SKEUE σκευή f.tackling 1.                                                   | SOMA σῶμα n.body 145slave (M. body) 1bodily (gen.) 1. | SPARGANOŌ σπαργάνωwrap in swaddling clothes 2.                                                                          |
| S                                                                                                            | SCHEDON σχεδόνalmost 3.                                                                   | SETOBROTOS σιτήδωmoth-eaten 1.                                                                                                                             | EKEUOS σκευός n.goods (pl.) 2sail 1stuff (pl.) 1vesse 19.       | SOMATIKOS σωματικόςbodily 2.                                  | SPATALAŌ σπαταλάωlive in pleasure (M. live delicately) 1.                                                               |
| SABACHTHANI σαβαχθαρίsabbath 1.                                                                          | SCHISMA σχίσμαdivision 5 (M. schism 1)                                                    | SIAGŌN σιαγών f.cheek 2.                                                                                                                                   | SKIA σκιά f.shadow 7.                                                       | SOMATIKOS σωματικόςbodily 1.                                  | SPEIRA σπείρα f.band 6band of men 1.                                                                                |
| SABAOTH σαβαώθSabaoth 1sabaoth 1.                                                                    | SCHIZO σχίζωbreak 1divide 1make a rent 1open (M. cleave or rend) 1rend 5. | SIDEREOS σιδήρεοςiron (adj.) 1of iron 4.                                                                                                               | SKIRTIA σκιρτάωleap 2leap for joy 1.                                    | SOPHIA σοφία f.wisdom 51.                                     | SPEIRO σπείρωsow 43sower 6.                                                                                         |
| SABBATISMOS σαββατισμόςrest (M. keeping of sabbath) 1.                                                   | SCHOINION σχοινίον n.rope 1small cord 1.                                              | SIDEROS σιδήροςiron 1.                                                                                                                                     | SKLEROKARDIA σκληροκαρδία f.hardness of heart 3.                            | SOPHIZO σοφίζωmake wise 1.advise cunningly 1.             | Partic. receive seed 4.                                                                                                     |
| SABBATON σάββατονsabbath 16 (M. week 1)sabbath day 34week 9sabbath (adj.) 7.                 | SCHOLAZO σχολάζωgive one's self to 1.empty 1.                                         | SIGĒ σιγή f.silence 2.                                                                                                                                     | SKLEROS σκληρόςfierce 1hard 5.                                          | SOPHOS σοφόςwise 19.As noun wise man 3.                   | PASS.                                                                                                                       |
| † See hēmera.                                                                                                       | SCHOLE σχολή f.school 1.                                                                  | SIKARIO σικάριοςthat is a murderer 1.                                                                                                                      | SKLEROTE σκληρότης f.hardness 1.                                            | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPEKULATŌR σπεκουλάτωρexecutioner (M. one of his guard) 1.                                                              |
| SAGENE σαγήνη f.net 1.                                                                                   | SCHOLE σχολή f.school 1.                                                                  | SIKERA σίκερα n.strong drink 1.                                                                                                                            | SKLEROTRACHELOS σκληροτραχήλοςstiff-necked 1.                               | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPELAION σπήλαιονcave 1den 5.                                                                                       |
| SAINO σάινωmove 1.                                                                                       | SEAUTOU σεαυτοῦthee 1thine own self 1thou thyself 1thy 1thyself 35.       | SIMIKINTHION σιμικίνθιον n.apron 1.                                                                                                                        | SKLERUNŌ σκληρύνωharden 4be hardened 2.                                 | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPENDO σπένδωbe offered (M. poured forth) 1.                                                                            |
| SAKKOS σάκκοςsackcloth 4.                                                                                | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SINAPI σίναπι n.mustard seed 5.                                                                                                                            | SKOLEKOBROTOS σκοληκόβρωτοςeaten of worms 1.                                | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPERM σπέρμα n.seed 43.                                                                                                 |
| SALEUO σαλεύωmove 1shake 10shake together 1stir up 1.                                        | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SINDŌN σινδών f.fine linen 1linen 2linen cloth 3.                                                                                                  | SKOLEX σκώληξworm 3.                                                        | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPERMATOLOGOS σπερματολόγοςbabbling (M. base fellow) 1.                                                                 |
| PASS. pt. things that are shaken (M. th. t. may be sh.) 1.                                                   | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SINIAZO σινιάζωsift 1.                                                                                                                                     | SKOLIOS σκολιόςcrooked 2froward 1untoward 1.                        | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPEUDO σπεύδωhaste 1haste unto (M. haste) 1make haste 3.with haste 1.                                       |
| † Pass. pt. with negative: things which cannot be shaken 1.                                                         | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SIOPAO σιωπάωhold one's peace 9.dumb 1.Imper. peace 1.                                                                                             | SKOLOPS σκόλοψthorn 1.                                                      | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | Partic.                                                                                                                     |
| SALOS σάλοςwaves 1.                                                                                      | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITEUTOS σιτεινόςfatted 3.                                                                                                                                 | SKOPEO σκοπέωconsider 1look at 1look on 1mark 2take heed 1. | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPHAGE σφαγή f.slaughter 3.                                                                                             |
| SALPIGX σάλπιγξ f.trump 2trumpet 9.                                                                  | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITISTOS σιτιστός n.fating 1.                                                                                                                              | SKOPOS σκοπόςmark 1.                                                        | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPHAGION σφάγιον n.slain beast 1.                                                                                       |
| SALPISTES σαλπιστήςtrumpeter 1.                                                                          | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOMETRION σιτομέτριον n.portion of meat 1.                                                                                                               | SKORPIOS σκορπίοςscorpion 5.                                                | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | S PH A Z Ō σφάζω(σφάττω)kill 1slay 8wound (M. slay) 1.                                                      |
| SALPIZO σαλπίζωsound 10sound = trumpet (M. cause a trumpet to be sounded) =the trumpet sounds 1. | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             | SKORPIZO σκορπίζωdisperse abroad 1scatter 3scatter abroad 1.        | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPHODRA σφόδραexceeding 1exceedingly 1greatly 2sore 1very 3.                                            |
| SANDALION σανδάλιον n.sandal 2.                                                                          | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SKANDALIZO σκανδαλίζωmake to offend 2offend 28 (M. cause to offend 2).                                                                                 | SKOTAINOS σκοτεινόςdark 1full of darkness 2.                            | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPHODROS σφοδρῶςexceedingly 1.                                                                                          |
| SANIS σάνις f.board 1.                                                                                   | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SKANDALON σκάνδαλον n.occasion of stumbling (M. scandal) 1occasion to fall 1offence 9stumbling block 3thing that offendeth (M. scandal) 1. | SKOTIA σκοτία f.dark 2darkness 14.                                      | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPHRAGIS σφραγίς f.seal 16.                                                                                             |
| SAPPHETROS σάπφειρος f.sapphire 1.                                                                       | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             | SKOTIZO σκοτίζωdarken 8.                                                    | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPHRAGIZO σφραγίζωseal 22seal up 1set a seal 1set to one's seal 1.                                          |
| SAPROS σαπρόςbad 1corrupt 7.                                                                         | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             | SKOTOŌ σκοτῶbe full of darkness 1.                                          | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPHURON σφυρόν n.ankle-bone 1.                                                                                          |
| SARDINOS σάρδινοςsardine 1.                                                                              | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             | SKOTOS σκότοςdarkness 32.                                                   | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPILAS σπιλάς f.spot 1.                                                                                                 |
| SARDIOS σάρδιοςsardius 1.                                                                                | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             | SKUBALON σκύβαλον n.dung (pl.) 1.                                           | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPILOO σπιλόωdefile 1spot 1.                                                                                        |
| SARDONUX σαρδόνυξ f.sardonyx 1.                                                                          | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             | SKULLŌ σκύλλωtrouble 1.trouble one's self 1.                            | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPILOS σπιλοςspot 2.                                                                                                    |
| SARGANE σαργάνη f.basket 1.                                                                              | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             | SKULON σκῦλον n.spoil 1.                                                    | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            | SPLAGCHNA σπλάγχνα n. pl.bowels 7bowels of compassion 1inward affection (M. bowels) 1.tender (M. bowels) 1. |
| SARKIKOS σαρκικόςcarnal 7fleshly 2.                                                                  | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             | SKUTHROPOS σκυθρῶποςof a sad countenance 1sad 1.                        | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            |                                                                                                                                    |
| SARKINOS σάρκινοςfleshly 1.                                                                              | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             |                                                                                        | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            |                                                                                                                                    |
| SARCOO σαρώνωsweep 3.                                                                                    | SEBASTOS σεβαστόςAugustus' 1.                                                             | SITOS σίτοςcorn 2wheat 12.                                                                                                                             |                                                                                        | SOPHON σόφρωνdiscreet 1sober 1temperate 1.            |                                                                                                                                    |

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SPLAGCHNIZOMAIσπλαγχνίζομαιbe moved withcompassion 5have compassion7.                                       | STENOCHOREŌ στενο-χωρέωdistress 1straiten 2.                                                | STRATOLOGEŌστρατολογέωchoose . . . to bea soldier 1.                                                                    | SUĜKALUPTŌ συγ-καλύπτωcover 1.                                                             | SULAGŌGEŌ συλ-αγωγέωspoil 1.                                                                                       | SUMMORPHOS σύμ-μορφοςconformed to 1fashioned likeunto 1.                                                                                                         |
| SPODOS σποδός f.ashes 3.                                                                                                    | STENOCHŌRIA στενο-χωρία f.anguish 1distress 3.                                              | STRATOPEDARCHESστρατοπεδάρχηςcaptain of theguard 1.                                                                     | SUĜKAMPTŌ συγ-κάμπτωbow down 1.                                                            | SULAO συλᾶωrob 1.                                                                                                      | SUMPARAGINOMAIσυμπαριγινομαιcome together 1stand with 1.                                                                                                             |
| SPOGGOS σπόγγοςsponge 3.                                                                                                    | STENOS στενόςstrait 3.                                                                              | STRATOPEDONστρατόπεδον n.army 1.                                                                                            | SUĜKATABAINŌ συγ-καταβαίνωgo down with 1.                                                  | SULLALEŌ συλλαλέωcommune with 1confer with 1talk with 3.                                                       | SUMPARAKALEŌσυμπαράκαλέωbe comforted to-gether 1.                                                                                                                    |
| SPORA σπορά f.seed 1.                                                                                                       | STEPHANOŌ στεφα-νόωcrown 4.                                                                     | STREBLOŌ στρεβλόωwrest 1.                                                                                                       | SUĜKATAPSEPHIZŌσυγκαταψηφίζωnumber with 1.                                                 | SULLAMBANO συλ-λαμβάνωcatch 1conceive 5take 8.help 2.                                                  | SUMPARALAMBANOσυμπαράλαμβάνωtake with one 4.                                                                                                                             |
| SPORIMOS σπόριμοςNeut. pl. corn 1corn fields 2.                                                                         | STEPHANOS στέφανοςcrown 18.                                                                         | STRENIAŌ στρηνιάωlive deliciously2.                                                                                         | SUĜKATATHESISσυγκατάθεσις f.agreement 1.                                                   | SULLEGŌ συλλέγωgather 5gather togethergather up 2.                                                             | SUMPARAMENŌ συμ-παράμενωcontinue with 1.                                                                                                                                 |
| SPOROS σπόροςseed 4seed sown 1.                                                                                         | STEREOMA στερέωμαn.steadfastness 1.                                                             | STRENOS στρήνος n.delicacy 1.                                                                                                   | SUĜKATATITHEMAIσυγκατατίθεμαιconsent to 1.                                                 | SULLOGIZOMAI συλ-λογίζομαιtreason with (with pros) 1.                                                              | SUMPARAMENŌ συμ-παράμενωcontinue with 1.                                                                                                                                 |
| SPOUDAIOS σπουδαίοςdiligent 2forward 1.                                                                                 | STEREŌ στερέωestablish 1make strong 1.receive strength1.                                | STREPHŌ στρέφωturn 3.be converted 1turn 8turn about 1turn again 1turn back again1turn one's self 3. | SUĜKATHEMAI συγ-κάθηναιsit with 2.                                                         | SULLUPEŌ συλλυπέωgrieve 1.                                                                                             | SUMPATHEŌ συμ-παθέωbe touched withthe feeling of1have compassionof 1.                                                                                    |
| SPOUDAIŌS σπουδαίωςdiligently 1instantly 1.Compar. the more care-fully 1very diligently 1.                  | STEREOS στερεόςsteadfast 1strong 1sure (M. steady)1.                                    | STRONNUMI στρών-νυμι (στρωννύω)make . . . bed 1spread 2.strew 2.                                                    | SUĜKATHIZŌ συγ-καθίζωbe set down to-gether 1make sit to-gether 1.              | SUMBAINŌ συμβαίνωbe so 1befall 1happen 6.                                                                      | SUMPERILAMBANOσυμπεριλαμβάνωembrace 1.                                                                                                                                   |
| SPOUDAZŌ σπουδάζωbe diligent 2be forward 1do diligence 2endeavour 3give diligence 1labour 1study 1. | STERIGMOS στηριγμόςsteadfastness 1.                                                                 | STROUTHION στρου-θίον n.sparrow 4.                                                                                          | SUĜKERANNUMIσυγκεράννυμιtemper together1.                                              | SUMBALLŌ συμβάλλωconfer 1encounter 1meet with 1ponder 1.help 1.                                        | SUMPERIPHONEŌ συμ-περιφωνέωTrans. bring together 1.Intrans. be better 1be expedient 7(M. be profit-able 1)be good 1be profitable 3.profit 3. |
| SPOUDE σπουδή f.business 1care 1carefulness 1diligence 5earnest care 1forwardness 1haste 2.         | STETHOS στήθος n.breast 5.                                                                          | STUGNETOS στυγνόςhateful 1.                                                                                                     | SUĜKINEŌ συγκινέωstir up 1.                                                                    | SUMBIBAZŌ συμβιβ-άζωgather assuredly1instruct 1knit together 1prove 1.be compacted 1.          | SUMPHĒMI σύμφημιconsent unto 1.                                                                                                                                              |
| SPURIS σπυρίς f.basket 5.                                                                                                   | STHENŌ σθενώstrengthen 1.                                                                           | STUGNAZŌ στυγνάζωbe sad 1lower 1.                                                                                           | SUĜKLEIŌ συγκλείωconclude = (M.shut up to-gether 1)inclose 1shut up 1.         | SUMBOULEUŌ συμ-βουλεύωcounsel 1give counsel 1.consult 1take counsel to-gether 1take counsel 1. | SUMPHĒNEŌ συμ-φανεῖωagree 3agree together 1agree with 2.                                                                                                         |
| STACHUS στάχυςear 1ear of corn 3.                                                                                       | STIGMA στίγμα n.mark 1.                                                                             | STULOS στύλοςpillar 4.                                                                                                          | SUĜKLERONOMOSσυγκληρονόμοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULION συμ-βούλιον n.consultation 1council 1counsel 5.                                                 | SUMPHŌNESIS συμ-φάνησις f.concord 1.                                                                                                                                     |
| STADION στάδιον n.race 1.                                                                                                   | STIGME στιγμή f.moment 1.                                                                           | SU σύthoutheethine (gen.) etc.                                                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNIA συμ-φωνία f.music 1.                                                                                                                                           |
| STADIOS στάδιοςfurlong 5.                                                                                                   | STILBŌ στίλβωshine 1.                                                                               | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STAMNOS στάμνοςpot 1.                                                                                                       | STOIA στοά f.porch 4.                                                                               | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STAPHULĒ σταφυλήf.grapes 3.                                                                                             | STOIBAS στοιβάς f.branch 1.                                                                         | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STASIS στάσις f.dissension 3insurrection 1sedition 3uproar 1.†be standing (echō stasis)1.               | STOICHEION στοιχείον n.element 4 (M.rudiment 2)principle 1rudiment 2 (M.element 1). | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STATER στατήρpiece of money(M. stater) 1.                                                                               | STOICHEŌ στοιχέωwalk 4walk orderly 1.                                                           | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STAUROŌ σταυρόωcrucify 46.                                                                                                  | STOLE στολή f.long clothing 1long garment 1long robe 1robe 5.                           | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STAUROS σταυρόςcross 28.                                                                                                    | STOMA στόμα n.edge 2face (M. mouth)2mouth 72.                                           | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STEGE στέγη f.roof 3.                                                                                                       | STOMACHOS στόμαχοςstomach 1.                                                                        | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STEGO στέγωbear 1can forbear 1suffer 1.                                                                             | STRATEGOS στρα-τηγόςcaptain 5 (M.ruler 1)magistrate 5.                                  | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STEIROS στείροςbarren 4.                                                                                                    | STRATEIA στρατείαf.warfare 2.                                                                   | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STĒKO στήκωstand 2stand fast 6.                                                                                         | STRATEUMA στρα-τεύμα n.army 6men of war 1soldiers 1.                                    | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STELLO MID.avoid 1withdraw one'sself 1.                                                                             | STRATEUŌ στρατεύωMID. go 1warfare 1war 5.Partic. soldier 1.                             | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STEMMA στέμμα n.garland 1.                                                                                                  | STRATIA στρατιά f.host 2.                                                                           | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STENAGMOS στεναγ-μόςgroaning 2.                                                                                         | STRATŌTES στρατι-ώτηςsoldier 26.                                                                | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |
| STENAZŌ στενάζωgroan 3grudge (M.grieve) 1.orsigh 1.Partic. with grief 1.                                | STRATŌTES στρατι-ώτηςsoldier 26.                                                                | SUĜCHAIRO συγχαίρωrejoice in (M.rejoice with) 1rejoice with 6.                                                          | SUĜKLETONOMOSσυγκλητόνομοςfellow heir 1heir together 1heir with 1joint heir 1. | SUMBOULOS σύμ-βουλοςcounsellor 1.                                                                                  | SUMPHŌNOS σύμ-φωνοςconsent 1.                                                                                                                                            |

* Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SUMPOREUOMAIσυμπορεύομαιgo with 3resort 1.                                                                                          | SUNANTESIS συναν-τησις f.to meet (eis with acc.) 1.                                                                                                                                                           | SUNEIDON συνείδωbe privy to 1be ware of 1consider 1know by 1.                                                                                              | SUNISTEMI συνίστημιapprove 2 (M.commend 1)commend 10consist 1make 1stand (M. con-sist) 1stand with 1. | SUNTROPHOS σύντρο-φοςwhich had beenbrought upwith (M.foster-brother)1.                 | SUZEUGNUMI συ-ζεύγνυμιjoin together 2.                                                                                                   |
| SUMPOSION συμπο-σιον n.company 1.                                                                                                       | SUNANTILAMBANOσυναντιλαμβάνωMid. help 2.                                                                                                                                                                      | SUNEIMI <sup>1</sup> συνέμιbe with 2.                                                                                                                                  | SUNOCHE συνοχή f.anguish 1distress 1.                                                                                         | SUNTUGCHANOσυντηγχνάνωcome at 1.                                                                       | SUZOPOIEO συζω-ποιέωquicken to-gether with 2.                                                                                        |
| SUMPRESBUTEROSσυμπρεσβύτεροςalso an elder 1.                                                                                            | SUNAPAGO συναπάγωcarry away with 1lead away with 1condescend to(M. be con-tent with) 1.                                                                                                           | SUNEIMI <sup>2</sup> συνέμιbe gathered to-gether 1.                                                                                                                | SUNODEYO συνοδεύωjourney with 1.                                                                                                  | SUNUPOKEINOMAIσυνυποκρίνομαιdissemble with1.                                                       | SUZUGOS σύζυγοςyokefellow 1.                                                                                                                 |
| SUMPSEPHIZOσυμψηφίζωcount 1.                                                                                                            | SUNAPOLLUMI συν-απόλλυμιMid. (PASS.) perish with 1.                                                                                                                                                           | SUNEISERCHOMAIσυνεισέρχομαιgo into with 1go in with 1.                                                                                                         | SUNODIA συνοδία f.company 1.                                                                                                      | SUNUPOURGEO συν-υπουργέωhelp together 1.                                                               | TA τά. Neut. pl. ofHOI.                                                                                                                      |
| SUMPSUCHOSσύμψυχοςof one accord 1.                                                                                                      | SUNAPOSTELLOσυναποστέλλωsend with 1.                                                                                                                                                                          | SUNEKDEMOS συνεκ-δημοςcompanion intravel 1*to travel with 1.                                                                                               | SUNODINO συνοδίνωtravel in paintogether 1.                                                                                    | SURO σύρωdrag 1draw 3hale 1.                                                                       | TABERNAI ταβέρναιf. pl.taverns 1.                                                                                                        |
| SUN σύνbeside 1with 123.                                                                                                                | SUNAGO συναγώbestow 2gather 15gather together8gather up 1lead into 1take in 3.                                                                                                            | SUNEKLEKTOS συν-εκλεκτόςelected togetherwith 1.                                                                                                                | SUNOIDA =SUNEI-DON.                                                                                                               | SURTIS σύρτις f.quicksands 1.                                                                              | TACHA τάχαperadventure 1perhaps 1.                                                                                                       |
| SUNAGOGÉ συναγωγήf.assembly (M.synagogue) 1congregation 1synagogue 55.                                                      | SUNAPOTHNESKOσυναποθνήσκωbe dead with(aor.) 1die with 2.                                                                                                                                              | SUNELAUNO συν-ελαύνω†set at one again (with eisand acc. of eirēnē) 1.                                                                                          | SUNOIKEO συνοικέωdwell with 1.                                                                                                    | SUSCHEMATIZO συ-σχηματίζωMid. (PASS.) be conformedto 1fashion one'sself accordingto 1. | TACHEOS ταχέωςhastily 1quickly 1shortly 4soon 2suddenly 1.                                                                   |
| SUNAGONIZOMAIσυναγωνίζομαιstrive togetherwith 1.                                                                                    | SUNARMOLOGEOσυναρμολογέωframe fitly to-gether 1join fitly to-gether 1.                                                                                                                            | SUNELIKIOTÉS συν-ηλικιωτήςequal (M. equalin years) 1.                                                                                                          | SUNOMILEO συνομι-λέωtalk with 1.                                                                                              | SUSPARASSO συ-σπαράσσωtear 1.                                                                          | TACHINOS ταχινόςshortly 1swift 1.                                                                                                        |
| SUNAGONIZOMAIσυναγωνίζομαιstrive togetherwith 1.                                                                                    | SUNARPAZO συναρ-πάζωcatch 4.                                                                                                                                                                                  | SUNEPHISTEMIσυνεφίστημιrise up together1.                                                                                                                      | SUNOMOREO συνομ-ορέωjoin hard to 1.                                                                                           | SUSSEMON σύσσημονn.token 1.                                                                            | TACHION τάχιονquickly 1shortly 2the sooner 1.                                                                                        |
| SUNAGOGÉ συναγωγήf.assembly (M.synagogue) 1congregation 1synagogue 55.                                                      | SUNATHLEO συναθ-λέωlabour with 1strive togetherfor 1.                                                                                                                                                 | SUNEPIMARTUREOσυνεπιμαρτυρέωbear witness also1.                                                                                                                | SUNOMOSIA συναμο-σία f.conspiracy 1.                                                                                          | SUSSOMOS σύσσωμοςof the samebody 1.                                                                    | TACHION τάχιονquickly 1shortly 2the sooner 1.                                                                                        |
| SUNAGOGÉ συναγωγήf.assembly (M.synagogue) 1congregation 1synagogue 55.                                                      | SUNATHROIZO συν-αθροίζωcall together 1gather together2.                                                                                                                                               | SUNEPOMAI συνέπο-μαιaccompany 1.                                                                                                                                   | SUNTASSO συντάσσωappoint 2.                                                                                                       | SUSTASIATES συ-στασιαστήςthat had madeinsurrectionwith 1.                                      | TACHISTA τάχισταthōs tachista; with allspeed 1.                                                                                          |
| SUNAGONIZOMAIσυναγωνίζομαιstrive togetherwith 1.                                                                                    | SUNAUXANO συν-αυξάνωMid. grow together 1.                                                                                                                                                                     | SUNERCHOMAIσυνέρχομαιaccompany 1assemble with 1come 2come together18come with 5company with 1go with 4resort 2.                    | SUNTELEIA συντέ-λεια f.end 6.                                                                                                 | SUSTASTIKOS συ-στατικόςof commenda-tion 2.                                                         | TACHOS τάχος n.quickly (dat.) 1.†ten with dat.: quickly 2,shortly 4, speedily 4.                                                     |
| SUNAICHEMALOTOSσυναϊχμαλωτόςfellow prisoner3.                                                                                       | SUNDEO συνδέωbind with 1.                                                                                                                                                                                         | SUNERGEO συνεργέωhelp with 1work together 1work with 2.Partic. worker together1.                                                                       | SUNTELEO συντελέωend 4finish 1fulfil 1make 1.                                                                         | SUSTATIKOS συ-στατικόςof commenda-tion 2.                                                          | TACHUS ταχύςswift 1.As adv. quickly 11lightly 1.                                                                                     |
| SUNAIBRO συναίρωreckon =take 1.†reckon (with logos) 1.                                                                              | SUNDESMOS σύνδεσ-μοςband 1bond 3.                                                                                                                                                                         | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTELEO συντελέωend 4finish 1fulfil 1make 1.                                                                         | SUSTAUROO συ-σταυρόωcrucify with 5.                                                                    | TAKTOS τακτόςset 1.                                                                                                                          |
| SUNAKOLOUTHEOσυνακολουθέωfollow 2.                                                                                                      | SUNDOULOS σύνδουλ-οςfellow - servant10.                                                                                                                                                                   | SUNERGOS συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1. | SUNTHAPTO συν-θάπτωbury with 2.                                                                                               | SUSTELLO συστέλλωwind up 1.Pass. pt. short 1.                                                          | TALAIPOREO τάλαι-παρέωbe afflicted 1.                                                                                                    |
| SUNALIZO συναλίζωMid. (PASS.) be assembledtogether with(M. eat to-gether with)1.                                            | SUNDOXAZO συν-δοξάζωglorify together1.                                                                                                                                                                    | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTHLAO συνθλάωbreak 2.                                                                                                          | SUSTENAZO συ-στενάζωgroan together1.                                                               | TALAIPORIA τάλαι-παρία f.misery 2.                                                                                                       |
| SUNANABAINOσυναναβαίνωcome up with 2.                                                                                                   | SUNDROME συνδρομήf.trun together (with gino-mai) 1.                                                                                                                                                       | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTHLIBO συνθλίβωthrong 2.                                                                                                       | SUSTENAZO συ-στενάζωgroan together1.                                                               | TALAIPOROS τάλαι-πωροςwretched 2.                                                                                                        |
| SUNANAKEIMAIσυνανάκειμαιsit at meat with4sit at the tablewith 1sit down with 1sit together with1sit with 2. | SUNECHO συνέχωconstrain 1keep in 1press 1stop 1throng 1.Partic. man thatholdeth 1.PASS. be in a strait 1be straitened(M. be pained)1be taken with 3lie sick of 1. | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTHLIBO συνθλίβωthrong 2.                                                                                                       | SUSTENAZO συ-στενάζωgroan together1.                                                               | TALANTIAIOS τάλ-αντιαίοςthe weight of atalent 1.                                                                                     |
| SUNANAMIGNUMIσυναναμίννυμιMid. (PASS.) company with1have companywith 1keep company 1.                                   | SUNEDOMAI συν-ήδομαιdelight in 1.                                                                                                                                                                             | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTHLIBO συνθλίβωthrong 2.                                                                                                       | SUSTENAZO συ-στενάζωgroan together1.                                                               | TALANTON τάλαντονn.talent 15.                                                                                                            |
| SUNANAPAUO συνα-παύωMid. be refreshed 1.                                                                                                | SUNEDRION συνέδριονn.council 22.                                                                                                                                                                              | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTHLIBO συνθλίβωthrong 2.                                                                                                       | SUSTENAZO συ-στενάζωgroan together1.                                                               | TALITHA τάλιθα f.talitha 1.                                                                                                                  |
| SUNANTAO συναντάωmeet 5.Partic. things that shallbefall 1.                                                                          | SUNEIDESIS συνεί-δησις f.conscience 32.                                                                                                                                                                       | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTHLIBO συνθλίβωthrong 2.                                                                                                       | SUSTENAZO συ-στενάζωgroan together1.                                                               | TAMEION ταμείον n.closet 2secret chamber1store house 1                                                                           |
|                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTHLIBO συνθλίβωthrong 2.                                                                                                       | SUSTENAZO συ-στενάζωgroan together1.                                                               | TAPEINCO ταπεινώabase 5bring low 1humble 6.Mid. humbleself 2.                                                                |
|                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | SUNERGO συνεργόςcompanion inlabour 1fellow helper 2fellow labourer3fellow worker 1helper 3labourer to-gether with 1work fellow 1.  | SUNTHLIBO συνθλίβωthrong 2.                                                                                                       | SUSTENAZO συ-στενάζωgroan together1.                                                               | TAPEINOPHROSUNEταπεινοφροσύνη f.humbleness ofmind 1humility 3humility ofmind 1lowliness 1lowliness ofmind 1. |

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of noun by verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

■ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TAPEINOS ταπεινόςbase =cast down =humble =lowly =of low degree =As noun men of low estate (M. mean things) =TAPEINOSIS ταπεινωσις f.humiliation =low estate =*be made low =*vile (gen.) =TAPHOS ταφή f.to bury in (eis with acc.) =TAPHOS τάφοςsepulchre =tomb =TARACHĒ παραχή f.trouble =troubling =TARACHOS ταραχοςstir =TARASSO ταρασσωtrouble (vb.) =to be troubled (with acc. of pron.; M. troubled himself) =TARTAROS τάρταροςcast down to hell =TASSO τάσσωaddict =appoint =determine =ordain = (M. order) =Mid. appoint =TAUROS ταύροςbull =ox =TAUTA ταυτα [ pl. neut. of HOUTOS ].TAXIS τάξις f.order =TE τεand =both =then =, etc.TECHNE τέχνη f.art =craft =occupation =TECHNITES τεχνίτηςbuilder =craftsman =TEICHOS τεῖχος n.wall =TEKMERION τεκμήριον n.infallible proof =TEKNION τεκνιον n.little child =TEKNOGONEO τεκνογονέωbear children =TEKNOGONIA τεκνογονία f.child-bearing =TEKNON τέκνον n.child =daughter (M. child) =son =TEKNOTROPHEO τεκνοτροφέωbring up children =TEKO τέκωPASS. melt =TEKTON τέκτωνcarpenter =TELAUGOS τηλαυγόςclearly =TELEIOO τελειώωconsecrate (M. perfect) =finish =fulfil = | make perfect =perfect =be perfect =TELEIOS τέλειοςof full age (M. perfect) =perfect =man (M. perfect or of a ripe age) =that which =perfect =they that are perfect =TELEIÖS τελειόςto the end (M. perfectly) =TELEIÖSIS τελειώσις f.perfection =performance =TELEIOTĒS τελειότης f.perfection =perfectness =TELEIÖTĒS τελειότηςfinisher =TELEO τελέωaccomplish =fill up =finish =fulfil =make an end =pay =perform =expire =go over (M. end or finish) =TELESPHOREO τηλεσφөрέωbring fruit to perfection =TELEUTAO τελευτάωbe dead =decease =die =TELEUTE τελευτή f.death =TĒLIKOUTOS τηλικούτοςοὗτοςso great =so mighty =TELONĒS τελώνηςpublican =TELONION τελώνιονreceipt of custom =place where custom received =TELOS τέλος n.custom =end =ending =the uttermost =*finally =to continual (eis with acc.) =TEPHROO τεφρώωturn into ashes =TERAS τέρας n.wonder =TEREO τηρέωhold fast =keep =observe =preserve =reserve =watch =keeper =Partic.TERESIS τήρησις f.hold =keeping =prison =TESSARAKONTA τεσσαράκονταforty =TESSARAKONTA ΕΤΕΞ τεσσαράκονταετήςof forty years =forty years old (with chronos) =TESSARES τέσσαρεςfour = | TESSARESKAIDEKA ΤΟΣ τεσσαρεσκαίδεκατοςfourteenth =TETARTAIOS τεταρταῖοςdead four days =TETARTOS τέταρτοςfourth =fourth part =*four =TETRADION τετράδιον n.quaternion =TETRAGONOS τετράγωνοςfoursquare =TETRAKISCHILIOI τετρακισχίλιοιfour thousand =TETRAKOSIOI τετρακόσιοιfour hundred =TETRAMĒNOS τετραμήνοςfour months =TETRAPLOOS τετραπλούςfourfold =TETRAPOUS τετράπους n.four-footed beast =TETRARCHEO τετραρχέωarchéōbe tetrarch =Partic. tetrarch =TETRARCHĒS τετραρχήςtetrarch =THALASSA θάλασσα f.sea =THALPO θάλλωcherish =THAMBEO θαμβέωbe astonished =PASS. be amazed =be astonished =THAMBOS θαμβος n.wonder =to be amazed (with gignomi epi) =be astonished (with periechō and acc.) =THANASIMOS θανάσιμοςdeadly thing =THANATĒPHOROS θανατηφόροςdeadly =THANATOO θανατῶωcause to be put to death =kill =mortify =put to death =become dead =PASS. THANATOS θάνατοςdeath =Death =*deadly =THAPTŌ θάπτωbury =THARRHEO θαρρέωbe bold =be confident =have confidence =Partic. boldly =confident =THARSEO θαρσέωbe of good cheer =be of good comfort =THARSOS θάρσος n.courage =THAUMA θαῦμα n.admiration = | THAUMASIOS θαυμασιοςAs noun wonderful thing =THAUMASTOS θαυμαστόςmarvellous =marvellous thing =THAUMAZO θαυμάζωadmire =have in admiration =marvel at =marvel at =wonder at =wonder =Mid. THEA θεά f.goddess =THEAOMAI θαυμάωbehold =look on =look upon =see =PASS. be seen =THEATRIZO θεατρίζωmake =gazing stock =THEATRON θέατρον n.spectacle (M. theatre) =theatre =THEIÖDES θειώδηςof brimstone =THEION θεῖον n.brimstone =THEIOS θεῖοςdivine =As noun the Godhead =THEIOTES θεϊότης f.Godhead =THEKE θήκη f.sheath =THELAZO τηλάζωgive suck =suck =suckling =Partic.THELEMA θέλημα n.desire (M. will) =pleasure =will =THELESIS θέλησις f.will =THELO θέλωbe desirous =be disposed =be forward (M. be willing) =be =be willing =desire =had rather =Intend =list =love =mean =will =will have =would =would have =*it pleased =desirous =voluntary (M. being a voluntary) =willingly =THELUS θήλυςfemale =woman =THEMELIOO θεμελιόωfound =ground =lay the foundation of =settle =THEMELIOS θεμέλιος(θεμέλιον)foundation =THEONIDAKTOS θεοδιδάκτοςtaught of God =THEOMACHEO θεομαχέωfight against God = | THEOMACHOS θεομάχος*to fight against God =THEOPNEUSTOS θεοπνευστοςgiven by inspiration of God =THEOREO θεωρέωbehold =consider =look on =perceive =*40.THEORIA θεωρία f.sight =THEOS θεόςGod =god =*godly =*exceeding (dat.) (M. to God) =Kata with acc.: after =godly manner (M. according to God) =godly sort =, godly =See axiōs.THEOSEBELIA θεοσεβεία f.godliness =THEOSEBĒS θεοσεβήςworshipper of God =THEOSTUGES θεοστυγήςhater of God =THEOTĒS θεότης f.Godhead =THERA θήρα f.trap =THERAPEIA θεραπεία f.healing =household =THERAPEUO θεραπεύωcure =heal =worship =THERAPON θεράπωνservant =THEREUO θηρεύωcatch =THERIOMACHEO θηριαμαχέωfight with beasts =THERION θηρίον n.beast =venomous beast =wild beast =THERISMOS θηρισμόςharvest =THERISTĒS θηριστήςreaper =THERIZO θερίζωreap =THERMAINO θερμαίνωMid. be warmed =warm one's self =THERME θερμή f.heat =THEROS θέρος n.summer =THESAURIZO θησαυρίζωheap treasure together =keep in store =lay up =lay up treasure =treasure up =in store =Partic.THESAUROO θησαυρόωtreasure =THIGGANŌ θιγγάνωhandle =touch =THLIBO θλίβωafflict =throng =trouble = | THLIPSIS θλίψις f.affliction =anguish =persecution =tribulation =trouble =*burdened =*dead =*die =to be afflicted (eis with acc.) =THNESKO θνήσκωbe dead =die =Partic. dead =THNETOS θνητόςmortal =As noun mortality =THORAX θώραξbreastplate =THORUBEŌ θορυβέωset on =uproar =Mid. make =noise =make this ado =trouble one's self =THORUBOS θόρυβοςtumult =uproar =THRAUO θραύωbruise =THEMMA θρέμμα n.cattle =THRENEO θρηνέωlament =mourn =THRENOS θρήνοςlamentation =THRESKEIA θρησκεία f.religion =worshipping =THRESKOS θρησκόςreligious =THRIAMBEUO θριαμβεύωcause to triumph =triumph over =THRIX θρίξ f.hair =THROEO θρουέωPASS. be troubled =THROMBOS θρόμβοςgreat drop =THRONOS θρόνοςseat =throne =THUELLA θύελλα f.tempest =THUGATER θυγάτηρ f.daughter =THUGATĒION θυγάτριον n.little daughter =young daughter =THUINOS θύινοςthyine (M. sweet) =THUMIAMA θυμίαμα n.incense =odour = (M. incense) =THUMIAO θυμιάωburn incense =THUMIATĒRION θυμιατήριον n.censer =THUMOMACHEO θυμομαχέωbe highly displeased with (M. bear) =hostile mind, intending =with) =THUMOS θυμόςfierceness =indignation =wrath = |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

■ Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

■ Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                |                                                             |                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| THUMOO θυμῶPASS. be wroth 1.                                                                                                                                                                | lay 28lay aside 1lay down 12make 10ordain 1put 11set 2set forth 1.appoint 1commit (M. put) | TOUTO τοῦτο [neut.sing. of HOUTOS].              | TROCHOS τροχόςcourse 1.                                                                                                              | TUPOS τύποςensample 5 (M.type 1)example 2 (M.figure 1)fashion 1figure 1form 1manner 1pattern 1print 2.                                                                                                                                       | ZELOS ζήλοςemulation 1envy 1envying 5fervent mind 1indignation 2(M. envy 1)jealousy 1zeal 6.                                                           |
| THUO θύωdo sacrifice 1kill 8 (M. sacri-fice 1)sacrifice 3 (M.slay) 1slay 1.                                                                                             | MID.conceive 1lay up 1let sink down 1purpose 1put 7set 2settle 1.                                  | TOXON τόξον n.bow 1.                             | TROGO τρώγωeat 6.                                                                                                                    | TUPTO τύπτωbeat 3smite 9strike 1wound 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ZELOTEB ζηλωτήςzealous 5.                                                                                                                                                          |
| THURA θύρα f.door 38gate 1.                                                                                                                                                             | †ACT. kneel (with pl. ofgonu) 5. MID. advise(with boule) 1.                                                            | TRACHELOS τράχη-λοςneck 7.                   | TROMOS τρόμοςtrembling 4.tremble (with echō) 1.                                                                                  | TURBAZO τυρβάζωMID. (PASS.) be troubled 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ZEMIA ζημία f.damage 1loss 3.                                                                                                                                                  |
| THUREOS θυρεόςshield 1.                                                                                                                                                                     | TITLOS τίτλοςtitle 2.                                                                                               | TRACHUS τραχύςrough 1.trocks (with topos) 1. | TROPE τροπή f.turning 1.                                                                                                             | X                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ZEMICO ζημιάωMID. (PASS.) be cast away1lose 2receive damage 1suffer loss 1suffer the loss of 1.                                                                |
| THURIS θυρίς f.window 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | TO. Neut. of HO 1.                                                                                                      | TRAGOS τράγοςgoat 4.                             | TROPHE τροφή f.food 1meat 11some meat (gen.) 2.                                                                              | XENIA ξενία f.lodging 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | ZEO ζέωbe fervent 1.Partic. fervent 1.                                                                                                                                         |
| THUROROS θυρωρόςporter 2that keepeth thedoor 2.                                                                                                                                     | TOICHOS τοῖχοςwall 1.                                                                                               | TRAPEZA τράπεζα f.bank 1meat 1table 13.  | TROPHOS τροφός f.nurse 1.                                                                                                            | XENIZO ξενίζωentertain 1lodge 4.strange thing 1.lodge 2.think strange 2.                                                                                                                                                                                         | ZESTOS ζεστόςhot 3.                                                                                                                                                                |
| THUSIA θυσία f.sacrifice 29.                                                                                                                                                                | TOIGAROUN τοιγαροῦνtherefore 1wherefore 1.                                                                      | TRAPEZITES τρα-πεζίτηςexchanger 1.           | TROPOPHOREO τρο-ποφορέωsuffer one'smanners (M.bear, or feedone, as a nursebeareth orfeedeth herchild) 1. | XENODOCHEO ξενο-δοχέωlodge strangers 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | ZETEMA ζήτημα n.question 5.                                                                                                                                                        |
| THUSIASTERIONθυσιαστήριον n.altar 23.                                                                                                                                                   | TOIOSDE τοιοῦδεsuch 1.                                                                                              | TRAPEZITIS τρα-πεζίτηςexchanger 1.           | TROPOS τρόποςconversation 1manner 1means 2.way 2.                                                                        | XENOS ξένοςhost 1strange 2.stranger 1.strange thing 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                               | ZETEO ζητέωbe about 1question 5.desire 3endeavour 1go about 4inquire 1inquire for 1require 1seek 98seek after 1seek for 6seek means 1. |
| TIS = TIS.                                                                                                                                                                                      | TOIOUTOS τοιοῦτοςsuch 41such a fellow 1such a man 1such an one 8such thing 9.                       | TRAUMATIZO τραυ-ματίζωwound (vb.) 2.         | THOS TROPIS : as 3, even as1, in like manner as.Even as (kata with acc.) 2.                                                      | XERAINO ξεραινώdry up 3wither 1.be ripe (M. bedried) 1be withered 3pine away 1wither 1wither away 6.                                                                                                                                                 | ZETESIS ζήτησις f.question 6 (M.how to enquire= eis with acc.)                                                                                                             |
| TIKTO τίκτωbear 1be born 1be delivered 4be delivered of 1be in travail 1bring forth 9.be born 2.                                                                    | TOLMAO τολμάωdare 4dare 11.boldly 1.                                                                        | TRECHO τρέχωhave course (M.run) 1run 18. | TRUBLION τρύβλιονdish 2.                                                                                                             | XEROS ξηρόςdry 1withered 4dry land 1land 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ZEUGCS ζεύγος n.pair 1yoke 1.                                                                                                                                                  |
| PASS.                                                                                                                                                                                           | TOLMERO τολμήωdare 11.boldly 1.                                                                                 | TREIS τρεῖςthree 68.                             | TRUGON τρυγών f.turtle-dove 1.                                                                                                       | XESTES ξέστηςpot 2.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | ZEUKTERIA ζευκτηρία f.band 1.                                                                                                                                                      |
| TILLO τίλλωpluck 3.                                                                                                                                                                         | TOLMETE τολμητήςpresumptuous 1.                                                                                     | TREMOS τρέμοςbe afraid 1tremble 3.           | TRUMALIA τρυμαλία f.eye 2.                                                                                                           | XULINOS ξύλινοςof wood 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | ZIZANION ζιζάνιον n.tares (pl.) 8.                                                                                                                                                 |
| TIMAO τιμάωhonour 19 (M.esteem 1)value 1 (M. buy1).                                                                                                                             | TOMATEROS τομάτε-ροςsharper 1.                                                                                  | TREPHO τρέφωbring up 1feed 4nourish 3.   | TRUPHAO τρυφάωlive in pleasure 1.                                                                                                    | XULON ξύλον n.staff 5stocks 1tree 10wood 3.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ZOE ζωή f.life 133life-time 1.                                                                                                                                                 |
| TIME τιμή f.honour 32precious (M.honour) 1price 8sum 1.                                                                                                                     | TOLMERO τολμήωdare 11.boldly 1.                                                                                 | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | XURAO ξυράωshave 2.shave 1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | ZOGREO ζωγρέωtake 1take captive (M.take alive) 1.                                                                                                                          |
| TIMIOS τιμίοςdear 1had in reputa-tion 1honourable 1precious 11.                                                                                                             | TOLMETERON τολμητέρονthe more boldly 1.                                                                             | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | Z                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ZONE ζώνη f.girdle 6purse 2.                                                                                                                                                   |
| TIMIOTES τιμιότης f.costliness 1.                                                                                                                                                           | TOLMETERON τολμητέρονthe more boldly 1.                                                                             | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | ZAOS ζάωbe alive 9live 118.alive 7lively 3quick 4life 1life-time 1.ζήλωaffect 1be jealous over 1be moved withenvy 1be zealous 1covet 1covet earnestly 1desire 1desire to have 1envy 1zealously affect 2. | ZONNUMI (ζωννύμι)gird 2.                                                                                                                                                           |
| TIMOREO τιμωρέωpunish 2.                                                                                                                                                                    | TOLMETERON τολμητέρονthe more boldly 1.                                                                             | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | ZELOO ζέλωaffect 1be jealous over 1be moved withenvy 1be zealous 1covet 1covet earnestly 1desire 1desire to have 1envy 1zealously affect 2.                                                                                              | ZOOGONEO ζωογονέωpreserve 1.PASS. live 1.                                                                                                                                      |
| TIMORIA τιμωρία f.punishment 1.                                                                                                                                                             | TOLMETERON τολμητέρονthe more boldly 1.                                                                             | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | ZELOO ζέλωaffect 1be jealous over 1be moved withenvy 1be zealous 1covet 1covet earnestly 1desire 1desire to have 1envy 1zealously affect 2.                                                                                              | ZOON ζών n.beast 23.                                                                                                                                                               |
| TINO (TIO) τίνω (τίω)†be punished (with d.ike) 1.                                                                                                                                           | TOLMETERON τολμητέρονthe more boldly 1.                                                                             | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | ZELOO ζέλωaffect 1be jealous over 1be moved withenvy 1be zealous 1covet 1covet earnestly 1desire 1desire to have 1envy 1zealously affect 2.                                                                                              | ZOOPHOBO ζωοφοβέωgive life 1 (M.quicken) 1make alive 1quicken 9.                                                                                                       |
| TIS<sup>1</sup> τις11certain man 7a kind of 1man 30any 39any man 55anything 24certain 104one 34some 75somebody 2something 5somewhat 6, etc. | TOLMETERON τολμητέρονthe more boldly 1.                                                                             | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | ZELOO ζέλωaffect 1be jealous over 1be moved withenvy 1be zealous 1covet 1covet earnestly 1desire 1desire to have 1envy 1zealously affect 2.                                                                                              | ZUGOS ζυγόςpair of balances 1yoke 5.                                                                                                                                           |
| TIS<sup>2</sup> τίςhow is it? 4what? 253whether? 8which? 17who? (whose?)whom? 135why? 66, etc.                                                                      | TOLMETERON τολμητέρονthe more boldly 1.                                                                             | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | ZELOO ζέλωaffect 1be jealous over 1be moved withenvy 1be zealous 1covet 1covet earnestly 1desire 1desire to have 1envy 1zealously affect 2.                                                                                              | ZUME ζύμη f.leaven 13.                                                                                                                                                             |
| †what (with logos; M.what speech) 1.                                                                                                                                                       | TOLMETERON τολμητέρονthe more boldly 1.                                                                             | TRIACHON τριάχωνthirty 9thirty-fold 2.       | TRUPHIA τρυφή f.to riot 1.†delicately (en with dat.) 1.                                                                          | ZELOO ζέλωaffect 1be jealous over 1be moved withenvy 1be zealous 1covet 1covet earnestly 1desire 1desire to have 1envy 1zealously affect 2.                                                                                              | ZUMOO ζυμόςleaven (vb.) 4.                                                                                                                                                         |

† Inexact translations, e.g., of a noun by a verb or adjective, of an active by a passive.

† Cases where two or more words in the original are translated by one word or by a phrase.

SCRIPTURE PROPER NAMES

INTRODUCTION.

THE following list of Scripture proper names is intended to be a guide to their "correct" pronunciation. It does not offer an absolute standard, for no such standard exists. The supreme authority in pronunciation is prevalent usage (among educated people). But the weakness of such an authority is specially clear in the case of Scripture names. Even names not uncommon are variously pronounced, and many are so unfamiliar that there is no "usage" by which to decide. In such cases people naturally pronounce according to the analogy of other words which are familiar, and the practice supplies a rule of treatment. Doubtful or unfamiliar words should be pronounced in harmony with the general tendencies of the language, or in a way similar to other words which strikingly resemble them. Scripture names are borrowed from the foreign languages Greek and Hebrew. They are, therefore, to be compared specially with words of similar origin, such as the names of classical antiquity. The original pronunciation exerts a certain influence which must be determined.

In actual speech unfamiliar words are pronounced as analogy suggests, unconsciously it may be. In the following list an attempt is made to apply this principle of analogy systematically to those words which have no definite customary pronunciation. In accordance with the preceding statement three influences or analogies must affect the treatment of Scripture names. These are, (1) the original pronunciation, (2) the characteristic tendencies of purely English speech, (3) the fixed customary pronunciation of certain words resembling others less common. There is no single court of appeal. In particular, the original pronunciation is not the only nor, perhaps, the chief influence. If it were better understood how impossible it is to pronounce Hebrew names as the ancient Hebrews did, there would be less temptation to lay stress on the original as the best guide. On the other hand, the closer the incorporation of Scripture names into English, the better; and this also is a consideration entitled to influence. Conflict of analogies cannot be wholly avoided. If one is not in itself stronger than another, the most "desirable" result in each case should be preferred. Ease of pronunciation is one test of desirability. The principle of pronunciation according to sense has also been used by the writer.

The presence in this list, as in all such lists, of words whose pronunciation is "theoretically" determined, and the constant disagreement of authorities, make it desirable to prefix a statement of principles. The principles here adopted are those which seem to express the English treatment of ancient foreign names which have become common property in the language. Almost every case has been noted in which customary pronunciation departs from and, of course, overrides general tendency. The reader is accordingly provided with an explanation of the pronunciations of the list. He may reject or modify the latter according as he judges the former.

Three subjects have to be considered:—1st, the sounds of the letters; 2nd, the position of the tone or stress of voice—the "accent"; 3rd, the length of the vowel sounds.

1. THE SOUNDS OF THE LETTERS.

The general usage in current English is to pronounce ancient foreign names as if their spelling represented English sounds. In Biblical names the following limitations may be observed:—

1. VOWELS.—(a) Final e is generally sounded (as Beth'phagē, Chlo'ē, Gethsem'anē), except in the (English) adjective terminations ite and ene (Am'orite, Nazare'ne), and in some completely anglicised words, generally not exclusively Scriptural (Crete, Rome). Magdale'nē has also an anglicised form, Mag'dalen (cf. Ur'bane, best pronounced Ur'ban). In Acts xxvii. 12 the final e of Phenice is not justified, as elsewhere, by the Greek, and may therefore be silent.

(b) Final es is similarly sounded (Sos'thenēs), unless it is an (English) plural termination (Cretes, Aphar'sachites).

(c) U may be pronounced oo more often than in purely English words. It is pedantic, however, to make the usage very general.

(d) Two vowels, particularly in Hebrew names, are generally each pronounced (Bez'al'ēel). But a long vowel, especially if accented, tends to absorb another preceding or following (A'aron, Ja'akan, Beu'lah, Deu'el). ai regularly becomes ā (Cain, Ja'irus, Ab'igail, and all names in final aīl; cf. Mi'chael) or ī (Benai'ah, Si'nai). When ai ends a word, or when the i is the initially accented element, the pronunciation i is usual; but a is also permissible (Isai'ah, Si'nai). Jehal'eleel may be pronounced as Jehal'elel by analogy (in other words, also, there is a tendency to pronounce ee = ē). Saul is completely anglicised (cf. Paul). In Pharaoh, a in the last syllable is silent (see below). In Balaam, Canaan, and Zaph'nath-paan'eah, aa = ā. In New Testament names, æ and œ in the middle of a word = ē (Berœ'a). Final ia and ius tend to become ya and yus, less so after a long vowel (Apu'lia). In Zeb'edee, ee = e.

2. CONSONANTS.—(a) C and g are generally "hard," even before e and i (Gergese'ne). But the "soft" pronunciation occurs in New Testament words (Beth'phagē, Can'dacē, Hermog'enēs).

(b) Ch = k, except in Ra'chel.

(c) T, p, and s before th, ph, and sh ■■■ written for th, ph, and sh respectively, and are pronounced accordingly (Ap'phia, Mat'thew).

(d) If the analogy of the originals be followed, h should be pronounced except, in general, at the end of a word. But at the end of any syllable it is unnatural in English (Ah'lai, Ah'lab), and between two vowels is apt to be elided (Beth'lehem).

2. STRESS OF VOICE ("ACCENTUATION").

The English stress accent in ancient foreign names is determined, with limitations, by the original length of the vowels, not by the original stress.

1. Words of two syllables are accented on the penult (Ad'am, Pa'ran). Haura'n (a as in psalm) is a possible exception, by analogy of the modern name; and compounds like Ben-hur have no stress accent (level stress).

2. Words with a long penultimate vowel in the original accent this in English (Aba'na, Abi'hur).

Exceptions.—(a) Nouns in iel and ael are generally accented according to the analogy of Dan'iel, Is'rael, and Methu'sael (cf. also Be'lial). Pen'iel is therefore preferable to Peni'el, unless the analogy of Penu'el decide otherwise. Nouns in uel have the same tendency (Sam'uel, Lem'uel, Imman'uel). Beth'uel, Kem'uel, Pen'uel are thus common for Bethu'el, Kemu'el, Penu'el. In the case of rare names it may be regarded as more natural (in accordance with analogy) to put the accent on the third last syllable (Ham'uel, etc.). Difficulty of pronunciation may suggest Jehi'el rather than Jeh'iel.

(b) Words which have been given the English termination ite are naturally anglicised completely by placing the accent on the third last syllable (Ar'elite, Che'rethite (Cher'ethite), De'havite). It may be suggested that Hebrew forms in i, when i is equivalent to ite, should be uniformly accented in the same way (Jeb'usi = Jeb'usite, Gesh'ari = Gesh'urite; so Ha-ahash'tari). Even somewhat uncertain cases might be treated so (Ar'eli, Be'eri, for Are'li, Bee'ri). In some words the influence of the noun to which the termination is attached throws the accent still further back (Gib'eonite; Am'alekite for Amal'ekite seems cumbersome). The blocked syllable (see No. 3) in Mor'ashite suggests Moras'thite as an alternative. Shuth'allhite is easy if the h be made silent.

(c) Words ending in the adjective termination ene have, at least, an approach to a final accent (Nazare'ne, Damasce'ne). The ante-penultimate syllable has then also a certain stress (Dam'asce'ne).

(d) Plurals in im and oth are felt to be plurals only if the accent is thrown back according to English analogy: Ash'eroth, Ba'alim, De'danim, Caph'torim, Per'azim. This accentuation may, therefore, be preferred in designations of peoples or groups of persons. In place names, and in names of individuals that are not really nations, the plural accentuation is less appropriate (Ab'arim or Aba'rim, At'arothe or Ata'roth, etc.; Be'eroth, "wells," may be pronounced a plural). The long a of the plural Saba'oth (see 3. 1) attracts the accent (Leb'aoth would, similarly, be Leba'oth). Behe'moth, if a plural, will be accented Be'hemoth. For other plurals compare No. 3.

(e) The favourite English ante-penultimate accent is sanctioned by usage in a number of well-known names. Examples:—A'braham, Ab'salom, Aj'alon, Am'alek, An'athoth (a plural), Ar'arat, Arcop'agus, As'ahel, Bethab'ara, Deb'orah, El'iphaz, Hav'ilah, Heph'zibah, I'chabod, Ith'amar, Jer'icho. Ka'desh Bar'nea, Leb'anon, Naph'tali, Pot'iphar, [Shib'boleth], Thad'deus, Zeb'ulun. But usage fluctuates even in these (Debo'rah, etc.), and others also are heard. Examples:—Am'raphel, El'ihu, Eph'ratah, Esh'taol, E'vil Mer'odach, Kez'ia, Mer'ibah, for Amra'phel, Eli'hu, etc. Where a speaker is uncertain of the length of the penultimate vowel an ante-penultimate accent is likely to be preferred (Ar'abah, Ar'eli, Hag'abah, for Ara'bah, Are'li, Haga'bah).

(f) See compound words, No. 5.

3. The penultimate syllable is accented also if it be "shut," i.e., if its vowel is "blocked" or followed by two consonants (Artaxer'xes). A doubled consonant has the same effect (Agrip'pa, Drusi'la). Akra'bim, Asup'pim, Chesu'loth, Leum'min, etc., though plurals (see No. 2d), may follow this analogy. Phil'ippi, when used for Philip'pi, is due to the analogy of Phil'ip. Hab'akkuk may be heard for Habak'kuk. Words in which an original double consonant is written once in English can scarcely be joined to this class (Am'ashai, Mach'benai, Mat'tathah, Ger'izim; Geri'zim has no good support though it is in use).

Exceptions:—Tr, pr, br, etc., are not held to block a syllable (Antip'atris, Ep'aphras).

4. Other words, in accordance with general English usage, are accented on the third last syllable.

Exceptions:—(a) A of the termination aim being long (see 3. 1) tends to attract the accent. It does so in all words of more than three syllables (Diblatha'im), and even in some trisyllabic words (Karna'im or Kar'naim, Gitta'im or Git'taim; but Eph'raim). En-eg'laim is a compound (see No. 5).

(b) Nouns in final ezer (eser) accent on the penult (Pile'ser, Shalmane'ser). This seems in accordance with No. 5 (Ab'i-e'zer). Jo'ezer may follow 5*c*.

(c) Penultimate i, even where it represents the Hebrew consonant y, has a strong tendency to attract the accent (Goli'ath); it absorbs a preceding a or e (Bena'iah, Hashabne'iah; see 1. 1d). The usage is invariable in the case of nouns in iah = yah (Hezeki'ah), and this analogy may be allowed to determine the case of other Hebrew names in which i is followed by a (Adali'a, Ahi'an, Ali'ah, Ali'an, Casiphi'a). On grounds of etymology it would be preferable to treat the i as a consonant, not only in A'rieh, A'rioch, He'zion, etc., but also in Adali'a, Ahi'an, etc. (for Adali'a, Ahi'an). Where u represents Hebrew w it has never been accented (Ish'uah). New Testament names in ia do not accent the i unless it represents an original diphthong (Ap'phia, Attali'a). Old Testament Ahi'o seems easier than Ahi'o (or A'hio).

(d) The accent of Ene'as is due to the analogy of Vergil's hero. The original a of Geha'zi is also short. It seems an entirely isolated case.

(e) See compound words, No. 5.

5. Easily recognisable compounds are best treated as such, by giving to each element a separate accent. Beth'she'mesh (temple of the sun), not Beth'shemesh. Examples are compounds with abi (father), ahi (brother), baal (lord, Baal).

bath (daughter), beer (well), ben (son), beth (house, temple), el (God), en (fountain). E.g., Ab'i-a'thar, Ab'i-e'zer, Ba'al-ha'zor, El'i-a'thah. On the same principle the Hebrew article (ha, etc.) may be treated as a separate element (Ham-me'lech, Both-hac-co'rem). If the second element of the compound is a monosyllable, the whole is always treated as one word (Abi'hur, Adoni'ram, Hak'koz, Ker'en-hap'puch for Ker'en-hap-pu'ch).

Exceptions:—(a) Compounds in which the first element is Jo or Jeho (Jehoi)=Jehorah, are given a single accent (Jo'ahaz, Jo'hanan, Josh'ua, Jehon'adab, Jehoi'akim, for Jo-a'haz, Jeho-na'dab, Jehoi-a'kim, etc.). Although the penult is long, the accent rests on this first element (against No. 2).

(b) Usage decides for Abim'elech, not Ab'i-me'lech, and this analogy determines Elim'elech, etc. Other exceptions to be admitted are (Beel'zebub), Beth'lehem, Ben'jamin, and En'gedi. Ahith'ophel and Nephil'osheth may also be recognised, and perhaps Abed'nego. Many others are usual (Abi'athar, Eli'a-thah, even Bath'sheba, Ammin'adab), though not to be preferred. The Concordance list carries out the principle more uniformly than is done in present practice. Abi'gail (for Ab'i-gail) is a partial exception, since ail coalesces into one syllable and has at most a secondary accent (so Ab'ihail). Zerub'babel, if treated as a compound, would be Zer'ub-ba'bel.

3. LENGTH OF VOWELS.

1. Unaccented vowels are usually short. At the beginning of a word i (y) in an open syllable is long (Isai'ah, Philé'mon, Shilo'ah, Idume'a, Hymene'us). So are all vowels immediately preceding another (Is'ra'el, Moadi'ah, Jāazi'ah). These long vowels have really a secondary accent (Idume'a). U in any open syllable seems to be long (Uri'ah), and o has a similar tendency (Obadi'ah).

2. The vowel of an accented open penult is long (Aba'na).

Exceptions:—(a) In the first member of a compound there is a tendency to shorten (and make the accent secondary). Examples:—Ben'e-be'rak, Eb'en-e'zer, Had'ad-e'zer, Pad'an-a'ram (for Pa'dan-a'ram, etc.).

(b) Numerous familiar dissyllables have a short vowel. Examples:—Ad'am, Am'on, Ash'er, Beth'el (by this analogy, Beth'ul), Clem'ent, Cor'inth, Her'od. Gesh'ur, Gesh'em, Gesh'am seem easier than Ge'shur, etc. Hash'ub is uniform with Has'shub. Tab-rim'on is by analogy of Rim'mon.

(c) Ellas'ar is frequent for Ella'sar. Comp. Dian'a.

3. The vowel of an accented "shut" penult is short.

Exceptions:—Tr, br, dr may be regarded as leaving the syllable open (cf. above, 2. 3). Hence Ce'dron, E'phrath, E'phron, He'brew, He'bron, Sha'drach, for Eph'ron, Heb'ron, etc. The original short vowel is in favour of Heb'ron, Shad'rach, etc., and influences the pronunciation of those acquainted with the original.

4. The vowel of an accented ante-penultimate syllable is generally short (Bal'adan, Ith'amar, Sim'con, Syr'ia).

Exceptions:—(a) If followed immediately by another vowel it is long (Ma'achah, Na'aman). Also if separated from a vowel only by h (Ana'harath, De'havite, Jo'hanan, O'holah), unless perhaps in the case of initial a (Ah'ara).

(b) A, e, o, and u in an open syllable are long when the last syllable commences with a vowel which is preceded by i (A'riel, A'sia, Eze'kiel, Gama'liel, Ico'nium, Ju'lius, Lysa'nias, Pu'tiel, Sam'ria). In these words the penultimate and final syllables merge into one, so that they approximate to the class of words in No. 2. A'dria (for Ad'ria), Ga'briel, etc., also belong to this class (see No. 3 and 2. 3). A'braham seems to be an extension of it (along with a possible E'phraim). Excepting A'riel, Pu'tiel, U'riel, and Zu'riel, trisyllables in final iel follow the analogy of Dan'iel and Pen'iel. Some other words also tend to receive a short vowel (Ar'ioch, He'zion, Jahaz'iel, Ker'ioth, etc.). But in the Concordance list the vowel of such words is made uniformly long, except in the case of Iscar'iot.

(c) An original long vowel may be retained (Epe'netus, O'mega, I'chabod (is Ich'abod also less emphatic?), Me'deba, So'pater).

(d) In adjectives and plurals a long vowel may be due to the root word (even if hypothetical): E'domite, Sha'ronite, De'danim. But usage fluctuates, e.g., Ag'agite (A'gagite), Ar'elite, Jez'erite.

(e) Sy'racuse is in accordance with the modern tendency to pronounce Greek y as i.

TRANSLITERATION OF HEBREW NAMES.—Hebrew names, with the exception of some adjective forms, are followed by what may be regarded as an exact transliteration of their originals. Every reader may thus use the original to influence his English pronunciation. It has not been considered necessary to supplement the Greek names in this way, because the English spelling already sufficiently represents the original. Those acquainted with Hebrew will readily recognise the system of transliteration adopted. The following general description contains all that can be of interest or value to the general reader. There are three s sounds in Hebrew (s, ś, š), two t's, two k's, and two h's (t, t̄, k, k̄, h, h̄). h̄ frequently has a ch sound (Welsh rather than Scotch or German). There are two consonants for which there is no sign in English. ʾ was a very slight sound, generally in the end becoming silent. It is sometimes represented in the English Bible by e (Abdeel). ʿ is represented by a variety of letters (by g in Gaza, e in Gilead, a in Balaam and Pharaoh—the silenced a in these two words seems thus accounted for). The name Shim'i has three representatives in the English Bible (Shimei, Shimi, Shimhi). This sign had probably two different sounds. ʾ and ʿ represent very slight vowel sounds ("shevas"). Kh, bh, dh, gh are sounds which have the same relation to k, b, d, g that ph and th have to p and t (kh and gh roughly = Scotch or German ch, bh = v, dh = th in "thee"). Short vowels are unmarked, long vowels have a circumflex. Final ah = ā (h silent). It may be observed that the divergence of English names from the Hebrew is sometimes due to the influence of the Vulgate or Septuagint, which may contain forms older than the present Hebrew text offers.

Note.—An asterisk marks words which depart from some principle and receive special mention in what precedes. When the accent ' comes immediately after a vowel the vowel is long, if a consonant intervenes it is short (Aba'na, Abad'don).

A COMPLETE LIST OF SCRIPTURE PROPER NAMES

AS IN THE

AUTHORISED AND REVISED VERSIONS,

SHOWING THEIR MODERN PRONUNCIATION AND THE EXACT FORM OF THE ORIGINAL HEBREW.

|                                                       |                                         |                                             |                                                      |                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| A'aron.'aharôn.                                   | Ab'igal (R.V.).'abhigal.            | A'chim.A'chish.'akhish.             | Adoni'jah.'adhôn'yaḥ.                            | *Ahi'an.'ahyân.              |
| A'aronite.Abad'don.Abag'tha.'abhaghtâ.    | *Ab'ihail.'abhihayil.               | Ach'metha.'ahmethâ.                     | Adoni'kam.'adlôn'ikâm.                           | Ah'i-e'zer.'ahfezer.         |
| Aba'na.'abhânah.                                  | Abihu.'abhîhû'.                     | A'chor.'akhôr.                          | Adoni'ram.'adhôn'irâm.                           | Ahi'hud.'hîhûdh ; 'hîphûdh.  |
| *Aba'rim (Ab'arim).'abhârim.                      | Abihud.'abhîhûdh.                   | Ach'sa (Ach'sah).'akhsah.               | Ado'ni-ze'dek.'adhôn'î sedhek.                   | Ahi'jah.'ahiyah.             |
| [Ab'ba.]Ab'da.'abhdâ.                         | Abi'jah.'abhîyah.                   | Ach'shapn.'akbshâph.                    | Adora'im.'adhôrayim.                             | Ahi'kam.'hikâm.              |
| Ab'deel.'abhdêl.                                  | Abi'jam.'abhîyam.                   | Ach'zib.'akhzîbh.                       | Ado'ram.'adhôrâm.                                | Ahi'lud.'hîlûdh.             |
| Ab'di.'abhdî.                                     | Abile'ne.'Abi-ma'el.'abhîmâ'êl. | Ada'dah.'adhâdhah.                      | Adram'melech.'adhrammelekh.                      | Ah'i-ma'az.'hîma'az.         |
| Ab'diel.'abhdîêl.                                 | *Abim'elech.'abhîmelekh.            | Adah.'adbaḥ.                            | Adramyt'tium.'Adria.                             | Ahi'man.'hîman.              |
| Ab'don.'abhdôn.                                   | Abi'ner.'abhînêr.                   | Adai'ah.'adhayaḥ.                       | *Ad'riel.'adhrî'êl.                              | *Ahim'elech.'ahîmelekh.      |
| *Abed'nego (Ab'ed-ne'go).'abêdh neghô.        | Abi'no'am.'abhîno'am.               | Adali'a.'adhalyâ.                       | Adul'am.'adullâm.                                | Ahi'moth.'hîmôth.            |
| A'bel.'âbhêl; hebbel(hâbbel).                     | Abi'ram.'abhîrâm.                   | Ad'am.'adhâm.                           | Adul'amite.'adhum'mîm.                           | Ah'i-na'dab.'hînâdhâbh.      |
| A'bel-beth-ma'achah.'âbhêl bêth ham-ra'aklah. | Abi'shag.'abhîshagh.                | Ada'mah.'adhâmah.                       | *Aene'as.Ae'non.Agabus.Agag.'aghagh. | Ah'i-no'am.'hîno'am.         |
| A'bel-cher'amim(R.V.).'âbhêl k'rânîm.             | Abi'shai.'abhîshai.                 | Ada'mi-ne'keb (R.V.).'adhâmi han-nekeb. | *A'gagite.A'gar.A'gee (ee=e).'âghê.      | *Ahi'o.'ahyô.                |
| A'bel-ma'im.'âbhêl mayim.                         | Abi'sha'lom.'abhîshâlôm.            | A'dar.'adhâr ; 'addâr.                  | Agrip'pa.A'gur.'âghûr.                       | Ahi'ra.'hîra.                |
| A'bel-meho'lah.'âbhêl me'hôlah.                   | Abi'shur.'abhîshûr.                 | Ad'beel.'adhb'êl.                       | A'har'hel.'ahar'hêl.                             | Ahi'ram.'hîrâm.              |
| A'bel-miz'raim.'âbhêl misrayim.                   | Abi'tal.'abhîtal.                   | Ad'dan.'addân.                          | A'hab.'ah'âbh.                                   | Ahi'ramite.'hîsâmâkh.        |
| A'bel-shit'tim.'âbhêl hash-shittîm.               | Abi'tub.'abhîtûbh.                  | Ad'dar.'addâr.                          | Ah'arah.'ahrah.                                  | Ah'i-sha'har.'hîshahar.      |
| A'bez.'ebhes ('âbhes).                            | Abi'ud.'abhîûdh.                    | Ad'don.'addôn.                          | A'har'phel.'ahar'hêl.                            | Ahi'shar.'hîshâr.            |
| A'bi.'abhî.                                       | Ab'ner.'abhnr.                      | A'der.'edher ('âdher).                  | Ah'asai.'ahzai.                                  | *Ahith'ophel.'hîthôphel.     |
| Abi'a (Abi'ah).'abhîyah.                          | A'braham.'abhrâham.                 | *Ad'iel.'adhî'êl.                       | Ahas'bai.'ahasbai.                               | Ahi'tub.'hîtûbh.             |
| Abi'al'bon.'abhî'al'bhôn.                         | A'bram.'abhrâm.                     | A'din.'adhtn.                           | Ahas'uérus.'ahashwêrôsh.                         | *Ah'lab.'ahlâbh.             |
| Abi'a'saph.'abhî'âsâph.                           | Abr'nah (R.V.).'abhrônah.           | Adi'na.'adhinâ.                         | Ah'ava.'ah'awâ.                                  | Ah'lai.'ahlai.               |
| Abi'a'thar.'ebhyâthâr.                            | Ab'salom.'abhshâlôm.                | Adi'no.'adhinô.                         | A'haz.'âhâz.                                     | Aho'ah.'hôah.                |
| A'bib.'âbîbh.                                     | Ac'cad.'akkadh.                     | Aditha'im.'adhithayim.                  | Ahazi'ah.'ahazyah ; 'ahazyâhû.                   | Aho'hito.'oh'ô'âbh.          |
| Abi'da (Abi'dah).'abhîdhâ.                        | Ac'cho.'akkô.                       | Ad'lai.'adhlâi.                         | Ah'ban.'ahbân.                                   | Ah'olah.'oh'olâh.            |
| Abi'dan.'abhîdhân.                                | Acha'ia.'achmâthâ.                  | Ad'mah.'adlmah.                         | A'her.'ahêr.                                     | Aholi'ab.'oh'ô'î'âbh.        |
| *Ab'iel.'abhî'êl.                                 | A'chan.'akhân.                      | Adma'tha.'adhmâthâ.                     | A'hi.'ahî.                                       | Aholi'bah.'oh'ô'î'bhah.      |
| Abi-e'zer.'abhî'ezer.                             | A'char.'akhâr.                      | Ad'na.'adlnâ.                           | Ahi'ah.'ahiyâ.                                   | Ah'oliba'mah.'oh'ô'î'bhâmah. |
| Abi-ez'rite.Ab'igail.'abhîghayil ; 'abhîghal. | A'chaz.Ach'bor.'akhbôr.         | Ad'nah.'adnhah.                         | Ahi'am.'hî'am.                                   | Ahu'mai.'hûmai.              |

|                                            |                                              |                                                   |                                          |                                       |
|--------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Ah'zai (R.V.)'ahzai.                   | A'mam.'mām.                              | Ana'harath.'anāharāth.                        | Apoll'yon.Ap'paim.'appayim.      | *A'riel.'rē'ēl.                   |
| Ai.hā'ni.                              | Ama'na.'mānah.                           | Anai'ah.'anāyah.                              | Ap'phia.'aryōkh.                     | Arimathe'a.'aryōkh.               |
| Ai'ah (A'jah).'aiyah.                  | Amari'ah.'maryah ; 'maryāhū.             | A'nak.'nāk ; 'nōk.                            | Ap'pii Fo'rum.                           | A'rioch.'aryōkh.                  |
| Ai'ath.'aiyāth.                        | Ama'sa.'māsā.                            | An'akim.'anākīm.                              | Aq'uila.'ar.                         | Ari'sai.'risai.                   |
| Ai'ja.'aiyā.                           | Ama'sai.'māsai.                          | An'amim.'anāmīm.                              | A'rab.'arā.                          | Aristar'chus.'aristōr'khos.       |
| *Ai'jalón.'aiyālōn.                    | Am'ashai (R.V.)(Amash'sai).'mashsai. | Anam'melech.'anammelekh.                      | A'rah.'arā.                          | Aristobu'lus.'aristobulos.        |
| Ai'jeleth sha'har.'aiyeleth shahar.    | Amasi'ah.'masyah.                        | A'nan.'ānān.                                  | A'rab.'arā.                          | Ar'kite.'arki.                    |
| A'in.'ayin.                            | Amazi'ah.'masyah ; 'masyāhū.             | Ana'ni.'anāni.                                | *Ara'bah.'arābh.                     | Armaged'don.'armageddon.          |
| *Aj'alón.'aiyālōn.                     | A'mi.'āmī.                               | Ana'ni.'anāni.                                | Ara'bia.'arābiā.                     | Arménia.'armēniā.                 |
| A'kan.'kān.                            | Amina'dab.'aminādāb.                     | Anani'ah.'ananyah.                            | Ara'bian.'arābiān.                   | Ar'móni.'armōni.                  |
| Ak'kub.'akkūbh.                        | Amit'tai.'mittai.                        | Anani'as.'ananyās.                            | A'rad.'arād.                         | Ar'nan.'arnān.                    |
| *Akra'l'bim.akrabbīm.                  | Am'mah.'ammah.                           | A'nath.'anāth.                                | A'rah.'arāh.                         | Ar'ni (R.V.).'arni.               |
| Al'ameth.'ālemeth ('ālemeth).          | Am'mi.'ammī.                             | *An'athoth.'anāthōth.                         | A'ram.'arām.                         | Ar'non.'arnōn.                    |
| Alam'melech (R.V.)Allam'melech).       | Am'miel.'ammī'ēl.                        | An'athothite (R.V.).'anāthōthite.             | Ar'amitess.'arāmītēs.                | A'rod.'arōd.                      |
| [Al'amoth.'ālamōth.]                   | Ammi'hud.'ammihūd.                       | An'athothite (R.V.).'anāthōthite.             | A'ram Ma'acah (R.V.).'aram mā'akhah. | A'rodh.'arōdh.                    |
| Al'emeth.'allemeth ('ālemeth).         | Ammi'hur (R.V.).'ammihūr.                | An'drew.'andrēw.                              | A'ram Nahara'im.'aram nah'rayim.     | Aro'di.'arōdhi.                   |
| Alexan'der.'alexander.                 | *Am'mi-na'dab.'ammīnādāb.                | Androní'cus.'andrōnī'kos.                     | A'ram Zo'bah.'aram zō'bah.           | Ar'odite.'arōdite.                |
| Alexan'dria.'alexandria.               | Am'mi-na'dib.'ammīnādīb.                 | A'nem.'ānem.                                  | A'ram Zō'bah.'aram zō'bah.           | hā'arōdhi.                            |
| *Ali'ah.'alyah.                        | Am'mi-nādhīb.'ammīnādhibh.               | A'ner.'āner.                                  | A'ram Zō'bah.'aram zō'bah.           | Aro'er.'arō'ēr.                   |
| *Ali'an.'alyān.                        | Am'mi-shad'dai.'ammīshaddai.             | An'ethothite (An'eto-thite).'anēthōthite. | A'ran.'arān.                         | Aro'erite.'arō'ērite.             |
| Al'lemeth (R.V.).'allemeth ('ālemeth). | Am'mi-za'bad.'ammīzābhādh.               | Ani'am.'anīām.                                | *Ar'arat.'ararat.                    | Ar'pad (Ar'phad).'arpād.          |
| Al'lon.'allōn.                         | Am'mon.'ammōn.                           | An'im.'ānim.                                  | Ar'arite (R.V.).'ararī.              | Arphax'ad (R.V. Ar-pach'shad).    |
| Al'lon-ba'chuth.'allōn bākhūth.        | Am'monite.'ammōnite.                     | An'na.'ānna.                                  | Arau'nah.'raunah.                    | arpakhshadh.                          |
| Almo'dad.'almōdhādh.                   | Am'monite.'ammōnite.                     | An'nas.'ānnas.                                | Ar'ba.'arba.                         | Artaxer'xes.'artakhshast(ā).      |
| Al'mon.'almōn.                         | Am'monite.'ammōnite.                     | Anthothi'jah (R.V.).'anthōthiyah.             | Ar'ba.'arba.                         | Ar'temas.'artēmas.                |
| Al'mon-diblatha'im.'almōn dibhlatháy'. | A'mok.'āmōk.                             | An'tioch.'antīoch.                            | Ar'bathite.'arbatite.                | Ar'uboth (R.V. Ar'ub-both).       |
| Al'oth.'ālōth.                         | *A'mon (Am'on).'āmōn.                    | An'tipas.'antīpas.                            | Ar'bite.'arbite.                     | 'rubbōth.                             |
| Al'pha.'āphā.                          | Am'orite.'mōri.                          | *Antipat'ris.'antipat'ris.                    | Archela'us.'archelā'us.              | Aru'mah.'rūmah.                   |
| Alphe'us.'ālphe'us.                    | A'mos.'āmōs.                             | Antothi'jah.'anthōthiyah.                     | Ar'chevites.'arkhēvites.             | Ar'vad.'arvad.                    |
| [Al-tas'chith.'al tashhēth.            | A'moz.'āmōs.                             | An'tothite.'antōthite.                        | 'ark'wayē.                               | Ar'wadh.'arwadh.                  |
| Al'ush.'ālūsh.                         | Amphip'olis.'amphip'olis.                | A'nub.'ānūbh.                                 | Ar'chi.'ar'chi.                      | Ar'vadites.'arvadites.            |
| Al'vah.'alwah.                         | Am'plias.'amplias.                       | Apel'les.'apēlēs.                             | hā'arki.                                 | Ar'za.'ar'za.                     |
| Al'van.'alwān.                         | Am'ra'phel.'amrāphēl.                    | Aphar'sachites.'pharsakhāyē.                  | Archip'pus.'archip'pus.              | 'ar'zā.                               |
| A'mad.'amād.                           | Am'ram.'amrām ; hamrān.                  | Apharsath'chites.'pharsathkhāyē.              | Ar'chite.'archite.                   | A'sa.'āsā.                        |
| A'mal.'āmāl.                           | Am'ramite.'amrāmīte.                     | Aphar'sites.'pharsāyē.                        | Ar'cturus.'ar'kturus.                | *As'ahel.'āsah'ēl.                |
| *Am'alek.'mālēk.                       | Am'zi.'amzi.                             | A'phek.'phēk ('phēkah).                       | Ard.'ard.                            | Asahi'ah (Asai'ah).'āsāyah.       |
| *Amalekite.'mālēkite.                  | A'nab.'nābh.                             | Aphe'kah.'phēkah.                             | Ar'dite.'ardite.                     | A'saph.'āsāph.                    |
|                                            | A'nah.'nah.                              | Aphi'ah.'aphi'ah.                             | Ar'don.'ardōn.                       | Asar'eel (R.V. As'arel).'asar'ēl. |
|                                            |                                              | Aph'rah.'aphrah.                              | *Are'li.'arēli.                      | Asare'lah.'sarēlah.               |
|                                            |                                              | Aph'ses.hap-pissēs.                           | *Ar'elite.'arēlite.                  | As'arah.'asarah.                  |
|                                            |                                              | Apollo'nia.'apollōniā.                        | Arecp'agite.'arek'pagite.            | As'enath.'āsēnath.                |
|                                            |                                              | Apol'los.'apollōs.                            | Areop'agus.'areop'agus.              | A'ser.'aser.                      |
|                                            |                                              |                                                   | Ar'etas.'arētas.                     | A'shan.'āshan.                    |
|                                            |                                              |                                                   | Argob.'argōbh.                       | Ash'be'a.'ashbē'a.                |
|                                            |                                              |                                                   | Ari'dai.'aridai.                     | Ash'bel.'ashbēl.                  |
|                                            |                                              |                                                   | Arida'tha.'aridhāthā.                | Ash'belite.'ashbēlite.            |
|                                            |                                              |                                                   | A'rieh.hā'aryē.                      |                                       |

|                                                          |                                                           |                                          |                                   |                                                                  |
|----------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Ash'chenaz.'ashk'naz.                                | Asyn'critus.A'tad.'atādh.                         | Az'iel.'azī'él.                      | Ba'ana.ba'nā.                 | Barzil'lai.barzillai.                                        |
| Ash'dod.'ashdōdh.                                    | Ata'rah.'atārah.                                      | Azi'za.'zizā.                        | Ba'anah.ba'anah   ba'nā.      | Bas'emath (R.V.).bās'math.                                   |
| Ash'dodite.Ash'doth Pis'gah.'ashdōth hap-pisgah. | * Ata'roth (At'roth).'atārōth.                        | Azma'veth.'azmāweth.                 | Ba'ara.ba'arā.                | Ba'shan.hab-bāshān.                                          |
| Ash'er.'āshér.                                       | A'ter.'atér.                                          | Az'mon.'āsmōn.                       | Ba'asei'ah.ba'asēyah.         | Ba'shan-hav'oth-ja'ir.bāshān hawwōth yā'ir.                  |
| Ashe'rah (R.V.).'ashērah.                            | A'thach.'thākh.                                       | Az'noth Ta'bor.'az'nōth tābhōr.      | Ba'asha.ba'shā.               | Bash'emath.bās'math.                                         |
| Ash'erim (R.V.).'ashērīm.                            | Athai'ah.'thāyah.                                     | A'zor.'azōtus.                       | Ba'bel.bābbel.                | Bas'math.bās'math.                                           |
| Ash'erite.'ashērītē.                                 | Athali'ah.'thalyah ; 'thalyāhū.                       | Az'riel.'azri'él.                    | Bab'ylon.bāb'ylōn.            | Bath-rab'bim.bath rabbīm.                                    |
| Ash'eroth (R.V.).'ashērōth.                          | Atharim (R.V.).hā-'thārim.                            | Azri'kam.'azrikām.                   | Babylo'nian.bāb'ylō'nian.     | * Bath-she'ba.bath shē'ba.                                   |
| Ashi'ma.'ashīmā.                                     | Athe'nian.'athē'nian.                                 | Azu'bah.'azūbha.                     | Ba'ca.bākhā.                  | Bath-shu'a.bath shū'a.                                       |
| Ash'kelon.'ashk'lōn.                                 | Ath'ens.'athēns.                                      | A'zur.'azzūr.                        | Bach'rite.bākh'rite.          | Ba'vai.bawwai.                                               |
| Ash'kelonite (R.V.).'ashk'lōnite.                    | Ath'lai.'athlai.                                      | Az'zah.'azza.                        | Bah'arumite.bāh'arūmite.      | Baz'lith.bāzlith.                                            |
| Ash'kenaz.'ashk'naz.                                 | At'roth.'atrōth.                                      | Az'zan.'azzān.                       | Bah'urim.bāh'urīm.            | Baz'luth.bāzlūth.                                            |
| Ash'nah.'ashnah.                                     | At'roth-sho'phan.'atrōth shōphān.                     | Az'zur.'azzūr.                       | Ba'jith.hab-bayith.           | Beali'ah.balyah.                                             |
| Ash'penaz.'ashp'naz.                                 | At'roth - beth - Jo'ab(R.V.).'atrōth bēth yō'ābh. |                                          | Bakbak'kar.bakbak'kar.        | Be'aloath.bē'ālōth.                                          |
| Ash'riel.'asri'él.                                   | At'tai.'attai.                                        | B                                 | Bak'buk.bakbūk.               | Be'bai.bēbbai.                                               |
| Ash'taroth.'ashtārōth.                               | Attali'a.'attali'a.                                   | Ba'al.hab-ba'al.                     | Bakbuki'ah.bakbūki'ah.        | Be'cher.bekher.                                              |
| Ashter'athite.'ashtēr'athite.                        | Augus'tus.'awwā.                                      | Ba'al-be'arith.ba'al b'erith.        | Ba'laam (aa = a).bil'am.      | Be'cherite (R.V.).bekherite.                                 |
| Ash'teroth Kar'naim.'ashtērōth karnayim.             | A'va (R.V. Av'va).'avvā.                              | Ba'al-gad.ba'al gād.                 | Ba'lac.bal'adān.              | Becho'rath.bēkhōrath.                                        |
| Ashto'reth.'ashtō'reth.                              | A'ven.'āven.                                          | Ba'al-ha'mon.ba'al hāmōn.            | Bal'adan.bal'adān.            | Be'dad.bēdhadh.                                              |
| Ashtō'reth.'ashtō'reth.                              | A'vim (R.V. Av'vim).'avvim.                           | Ba'al-ha'nan.ba'al hānān.            | Ba'lah.bālah.                 | Be'dan.bēdhān.                                               |
| As'hur.'ashhūr.                                      | A'vite (R.V. Av'vite).'avvite.                        | Ba'al-ha'zor.ba'al hāzōr.            | Ba'lak.bālāk.                 | Bedei'ah.bēdh'yah.                                           |
| Ash'urite.'ashūri.                                   | A'vith.'avith.                                        | Ba'al-her'mon.ba'al hermōn.          | Ba'mah.bāmāh.                 | * Be'eli'ada.bē'elyādā.                                      |
| Ash'vath.'ashwāth.                                   | A'zal.'āzēl.                                          | Ba'al-me'on.ba'al m'e'ōn.            | Ba'moth.bāmōth.               | * Beel'zebub.bē'el'zēbub.                                    |
| A'sia.'āsī.                                          | Azali'ah.'azāli'ah.                                   | Ba'al-me'or.ba'al m'e'ōr.            | Ba'moth-ba'al.bāmōth ba'al.   | Be'er.bē'ēr.                                                 |
| As'iel.'āsī'él.                                      | Azani'ah.'azāni'ah.                                   | Ba'al-pe'or.ba'al p'e'ōr.            | Ba'ni.bāni.                   | Bee'ra.bē'ērā.                                               |
| As'kelon.'ashk'lōn.                                  | Azar'ael (R.V. Az'arel).'azar'ēl.                     | * Ba'al-per'azim.ba'al p'erāsim.     | Barab'bas.barakh'el.          | Bee'rah.bē'ērāh.                                             |
| As'nah.'asnah.                                       | Azar'ael (R.V. Az'arel).'azar'ēl.                     | Ba'al-shali'sha.ba'al shālīsha.      | Barachi'ah.barakh'ya.         | Be'er-e'lim.bē'ēr 'ēlim.                                     |
| Asnap'per.'osnapp'ar.                                | Azari'ah.'azāri'ah.                                   | Ba'al-ta'mar.ba'al tāmār.            | Barachi'as.barakh'ya.         | Bee'ri.bē'ēri.                                               |
| Aspa'tha.'aspāthā.                                   | A'zaz.'āzāz.                                          | Ba'al-ze'bub.ba'al zē'būbh.          | Ba'arak.bārāk.                | Be'er-lahairo'i.bē'ēr lahai rō'i.                            |
| As'riel.'asri'él.                                    | Aza'zel (R.V.).'azāzēl.                               | Ba'al-ze'phon.ba'al zē'phōn.         | Bar'humite.bār'hūmite.        | Be'er-oth.bē'ērōth.                                          |
| As'rielite.'asri'elīte.                              | Azazi'ah.'azāzi'ah.                                   | Ba'alath.ba'alāth.                   | Bari'ah.bārī'ah.              | Be'er-othite.bē'ērōthite.                                    |
| As'shur.'ashshūr.                                    | Azaz'iel.'azāzī'el.                                   | Ba'alath-be'er.ba'alāth bē'ēr.       | Bar-je'sus.bar-jō'sus.        | Be'er-oth - ben'e - ja'akan (R.V.).bē'ērōth b'nē yā'kān. |
| As'shurim.'ashshūrim.                                | Az'buk.'azbūk.                                        | Ba'ale.ba'ālē.                       | Bar'kos.barkōs.               | Be'er-she'ba.bē'ēr sheba'.                                   |
| As'sir.'assir.                                       | Aze'kah.'zēkah.                                       | Ba'ale Ju'dah (R.V.).ba'ālē y'hūdāh. | Bar'nabas.bar'nabās.          | Reesh'terah.bē'sht'rah.                                      |
| As'sos.'assos.                                       | A'zel.'āzēl.                                          | Ba'ali.ba'ālī.                       | Bar'sabas (R.V. Bar-sab'bas). | [Behe'moth.bē'hēmōth.]                                       |
| As'sur.'ashshūr.                                     | A'zem.'ēsem (āsem).                                   | Ba'alis.ba'ālī.                      | Barthol'omew.bartim'eus.      | Bel.bēl.                                                     |
| Assyr'ia.'assir'ia.                                  | Az'gad.'azgād.                                        | Ba'alis.ba'ālī.                      | Ba'ruch.bārūkh.               |                                                                  |
| Assyr'ian.'assir'ian.                                |                                                           |                                          |                                   |                                                                  |
| As'taroth.'ashtārōth.                                |                                                           |                                          |                                   |                                                                  |
| * Asup'pim.hā 'asuppim.                              |                                                           |                                          |                                   |                                                                  |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Be'la (Belah).bela.Be'laite.*Be'li'al.b'liya'al.Belshaz'zar.bélshassar.Belteshaz'zar.bél'tshassar.Ben-ab'i-na'dab (R.V.).ben 'abhinádhabh.Bena'iah.b'náyah; b'náyááh.Ben-am'mi.ben 'ammí.Ben-de'ker (R.V.).ben-deker.Ben'e-be'rák.b'né bh'rák.Ben'e-ja'akan.b'né ya'kân.Ben-ge'ber (R.V.).ben gebher.Ben-ha'dad.ben h'adhád.Ben-ha'il.ben hayil.Ben-ha'nan.ben hânân.Ben-he'sed (R.V.).ben hesedh.Ben-hur (R.V.).ben hûr.Beni'nu.b'nínú.*Ben'jamin.binyámin.Ben'jamite.Be'no.b'nô.Ben'o'ni.ben 'ôní.Benzo'heth.ben zôhêth.Be'on.b'ôn.Be'or.b'ôr.Be'ra.bera'.Bera'chah.b'râkha.Berachi'ah.berekhyâh.Bera'iah.b'râyah.Bere'a.Berechi'ah.berekhyah; berekh-yâh.Be'red.bered (bared).Be'ri.bêr.Beri'ah.b'ríah.Beri'ite.Be'rite.Be'rith.b'rith | Bern'ce.Bero'dach Bal'adan.b'rôdhakh bal'adhân.Beroe'a (R.V.).Bero'thah.bêrôthah.Bero'thai.bêrôthai.Be'rothite.Be'sai.bêsai.Besodei'ah.b'sôdhyah.Be'sor.b'sôr.Be'tah.betah.Be'ten.beten.*Beth-ab'ara.Beth-a'nath.bêth'anâth.Beth-a'noth.bêth'anôth.Beth'any.*Beth-ara'bah.bêth lâ-'arâbba.Beth-a'ram.bêth hâram.Beth-ar'bel.bêth 'arbêl.Beth-a'ven.bêth âven.Beth-azma'veth.bêth 'azmâweth.Beth-ba'al-me'on.bêth ba'al m'ôn.Beth-ba'rah.bêth bârah.Beth-bir'ei (R.V.).Beth-bi'ri.bêth bir'í.Beth-car.bêth kâr.Beth-da'gon.bêth dâghôn.Beth-diblatha'im.bêth dibhlâthayim.Beth'el.bêth 'êl.Beth'elite.Beth-e'mek.bêth hâ-'emek.Be'ther.bether (bather).Bethes'da.Beth'e'zel.bêth hâ-'êsel.Beth-ga'der.bêth gâdhêr.Beth-ga'mul.bêth gâmûl.*Beth-hacce'rem.bêth hak-kerem.Beth-ha'ran.bêth hâran.Beth-hog'lah.bêth hoghlâh.Beth-ho'ron.bêth hôrôn. | Beth-jesh'imoth (Beth-jes'imoth).bêth ha-y'shimôth.Beth-le-Aph'rah (R.V.).bêth le-'aphrah.Beth-leb'aoth.bêth l'bhâ'ôth.*Beth'lehem.bêth lehem.Beth'lehem Ephra'-tah.bêth lehem 'ephra'tah.Beth'lehemite.Beth-ma'achah.bêth ma'akhah.Beth-mar'caboth.bêth ham - markâ-bhôth.Beth-me'on.bêth m'ôn.Beth-nim'rah.bêth nimrah.Beth - pa'let (Beth-phe'let, R.V. Beth-pe'let).bêth pâlet (pelet).Beth-paz'zez.bêth passêz.Beth-pe'or.bêth p'ôr.*Beth'phage.Beth-ra'pha.bêth râphâ.Beth-re'hob.bêth r'hôbh.Bethsai'da.Beth'shan.bêth shân.Beth-she'an.bêth sh'eân.Beth-she'mesh.bêth shemesh.Beth'shemite.Beth-shit'tah.bêth hash-shit'tah.Beth-tappu'ah.bêth tappûah.*Bethu'el (Beth'uel).bêthû'êl.Be'thul.bêthûl.Beth-zur.bêth sûr.Beto'nim.bêtonim.Beu'lah.b'ûlah.Be'zai.bêsai.Bezal'eel (R.V. Bez'-alel).b'zal'êl.Be'zek.bezek.Be'zer.bezer.Bich'ri.bikhri.Bid'kar.bidkar. | Big'tha.bigh'tha.Big'than.bigh'thân.Bigtha'na.bigh'thânâ.Big'vai.bighwai.Bil'dad.bildadh.Bil'eam.bil'am.Bil'gah.bilgah.Bil'gai.bilgai.Bil'nah.bilnah.Bil'han.bilhân.Bil'shan.bilshân.Bim'hal.bimbâl.Bin'ea.bin'â; bin'âh.Binnu'i.binnûy.Bir'sha.birsha'.Birza'vith (R.V. Bir-za'ith).birzawith; birzayith.Bish'lam.bishlâm.Bithi'ah.bithyah.Bith'ron.hab-bithrôn.Bithyn'ia.Biz'joth - jah (R.V. Biz'iothi'ah).bizyôthyah.Biz'tha.biz'thâ.Blas'tus.Boaner'gesBo'az.bô'az.Boch'eru.bôkherâ.Bo'chim.hab-bôkhîm.Bo'han.bôhan.Bo'oz.Bo'scath.boskath.Bo'sor.Bo'zez.bôszêz.Boz'kath.boskath.Boz'rah.bosrah.Buk'ki.bukki.Bukki'ah.bukkiyâh. | Bul.bûl.Bu'nah.bûnah.Bun'ni.bunnî.Buz.bûz.Bu'zi.bûzi.Buz'ite.OCab'bon.kabbôn.Ca'bul.kâbhûl.Cae'sar.Caesare'a.*Caesare'a Philip'pi.Cai'aphas.Cain.kayin.Cai'nan.kênân.Ca'lah.kâlah.Cal'col.kalkôl.Ca'leb.kâlêbh.Ca'leb Ephra'tah.kâlêbh 'ephra'tah.Cal'neh.kalneh; kalnêh.Cal'no.kalnô.Cal'vary.Ca'mon.kâmôn.Ca'na.Ca'naan (aa=a).k'na'an.Ca'naanite (aa=a).Canaanæ'an (R.V.).*Can'dace.Can'neh.kannêh.Caper'naum.Caph'tor.kaphtôr.Caph'torim (Caph'thorim).kaphtôrîm.Cappado'cia.Car'cas.karkas.Car'chemish.kark'mish.Care'ah.karêah.Ca'rite (R.V.).Car'mel.karmel.Car'melite.Car'mi.karmî.Car'mite. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                               |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Car'pus.Car'shena.karsh'nâ.*Casiphî'a.kâsiphyâ.Cas'luhim.kaslûhim.Cas'tor.Cau'da (R.V.).*Ce'dron.Cen'chrea (R.V. Cen'-chreae).Ce'phas.Chal'col.kalkôl.Chalde'a.Chalde'an.Chal'dee.Chu'naan (aa=a).Char'ashim.hârâshim.Char'chemish.kark'mish.Char'ran.Che'bar.k'bhâr.Che'dor-lao'mer.k'dhorlâ'ômer.Che'lal.k'lâl.Chel'luh (R.V. Chelu'-hi, Chelu'hu).k'lâhû; k'lâhî.Che'lub.k'lûbh.Chelu'bai.k'lûbbâi.Chem'arim(s).k'mârîm.Che'mosh.k'môsh.Chena'anah.k'na'anah.Chena'ni.k'nâni.Chenani'ah.k'nanyah.Che'phar Ha-ammo'-nai (R.V. Ammo'-ni).k'phar hâ-ammônai.Chephi'rah.k'phîrah.Che'ran.k'rân.*Cher'ethites (Cher'-ethims).k'rêthîm.Che'rith.k'rîth.Chesa'lon.k'sâlôn.Che'sed.kesêdh.Che'sil.k'sîl.*Chesul'loth.k'sulloth.Che'zib.k'zîbh. | Chi'don.kîdhôn.Chil'eab.kil'âbh.Chil'ion.kilyôn.Chil'mad.k.lmadh.Chim'ham.kimhâm.Chin'nereth.kinnereth.Chin'neroth (Cin'-neroth).kinnrôth.Chi'os.Chis'leu.kislêu.Chis'lon.kislôn.Chis'loth-ta'bor.kislôth tâbhôr.Chit'tim.kittîm.Chi'un.kiyûn.Chlô'e.Chora'shan.kôr 'âshân.Chora'zin.Choze'ba.kôzêbhâ.Chub.kûbh.Chun.kûn.Chu'shan-rishatha'im.kûshan rish'âthayim.Chu'za.Cilic'ia.Cin'neroth.kinnrôth.Cis.Clau'da.Clau'dia.Clau'dius.Clem'ent.Cle'opas.Cle'ophas (R.V. Clo'-pas).Cni'dus.Colho'zeh.kol hôzeh.Colos'se.Conani'ah.konanyâhû.Coni'ah.konyâhû.Cononi'ah.konanyâhû.Co'os (R.V. Cos).Cora'shan (R.V.).kôr 'âshân.Co're.Cor'inth.Corin'thian.Corne'lius.Co'sam. | Coz.kôs.Coz'bi.kozbi.Cres'cens.*Crete.*Cretes.Cre'tians.Cre'tans (R.V.).Cris'pus.Cush.kûsh.Cu'shan.kûshân.Cu'shi.kûshî.Cu'shite.Cuth.kûth.Cu'thah.kûthah.Cy'prus.Cyre'ne.Cyre'nian.Cyre'nus.Cy'rus.kôresh. | D | *Deb'orah.d'bhôrah.Decap'olis.De'dan.d'dhân.*De'danim.d'dhinîm.De'danite (R.V.).De'havite.dehâwê; dehâyê.De'kar.deker.Delai'ah.d'lâyah (d'lâyâhû).Deli'lah.d'lîlah.De'mas.Deme'trius.Der'be.*Deu'el.d'â'êl.*Dian'a.Dib'lah (R.V.).diblah.Dibla'im.dibhlayim.Dib'lath.dibhlah.Di'bon.dibhôn.Di'bon-gad.dibhôn gâdh.Dib'ri.dibhrî.Did'yimus.Dik'lah.diklah.Dil'ean.dil'an.Dim'nah.dimnah.Di'mon.dimôn.Dimo'nah.dimônah.Di'nah.dinah.Di'naite.dinâyê.Dinha'bah.dinhâbhab.Dionys'ius.Diot'rephes.Di'phath (R.V.).diphath.Di'shan.dishân.Di'shon.dishôn; dishân.Diza'hab.dî zâhâbh.Do'dai.dôdhai.Do'danim.dôdhânîm.Doda'vah.dôdhâwâhû.Do'do.dôdhô. | Do'eg.dô'êgh.Doph'kah.dophkah.Dor.dôr.Dor'cas.Do'than.dôthân; dôthayin.Drusil'la.Du'mah.dûmah.Du'ra.dûrâ. |
| E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                               |
| E'bal.'êbhâl.E'bed.*Eb'ed-me'lech.'êbhedh melekh.*Eb'en-e'zer.'ebhen hâ-ezer.E'ber.'êbher.Eb'i-a'saph.'ebhîyâsâph.Ebro'nah.'abhrônah.Ed.[êdh].E'dar.'êdher.E'den.'êdhen.E'der.'êdher.E'dom.'êdhôm.E'domite.Ed'rei.'edhr'î.Eg'lah.'eghlah.Egla'im.'eghlayim.Eg'lon.'eghlôn.E'gypt.mîsrayim.Egypt'ian.E'hi.'êhî.E'hud.'êhûdh.E'ker.'êker.Ek'ron.'êkrôn.Ek'ronite.E'la (R.V.).'êlâ.El-a'dah.'el'âdhah.E'lah.'êlah; 'êlâ.E'lam.'êlâm.E'lamite.El-a'sah (El-ea'sah).'el'âsah.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                               |

|                                             |                                                                |                                                    |                                                          |                                       |
|---------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| E'lath.'élath; 'élóth.                  | El'i - pha'let (El'i-phe'let).'eliphelet ('eliphálet). | E'mim.'emim.                                   | Ep'icure'an.Er.'ér.                              | Euphra'tes.p'ráth.                |
| El-beth'el.'el beth 'él.                | El'iphaz.'eliphaz.                                         | Emman'uel.Emma'us.                             | E'ran.'erán.                                         | Euroc'lydon (R.V.Euraq'uilo).     |
| El-da'ah.'eldá'ah.                      | El'i-phe'leh (R.V. El'i-phele'hu).'eliph'elêhú.        | Em'mor.Ena'im (R.V.).'enayim.              | E'ranite.Eras'tus.                                   | Eu'tychus.                            |
| El'dad.'eldádh.                         | Elis'abeth.Elise'us.                                       | En'am.'enám.                                   | E'rech.'erekh.                                       | Eve.hawwah.                       |
| El'ead.'el'ádh.                         | El'isha.'elishá.                                           | E'nan.'enán.                                   | E'ri.'éri.                                           | *E'vil-mero'dach.'ewil m'ródhakh. |
| El-ea'leh.'el'álêh; 'el'álê.            | El'ishah.'elishah.                                         | En'dor.'en dôr.                                | E'rite.Esai'as.                                      | E'zar.'éser.                      |
| El-ea'sah (Ela'sah).'el'ásah.           | El'i-sha'ma.'elishámá.                                     | *Ene'as.En-eg'laim.'ên 'eghlaim.           | E'sarhad'don.'ésarhaddôn.                            | Ez'bai.'ezbai.                    |
| El-ea'zar.'el'ázár.                     | El'i-sha'phat.'elisháphát.                                 | En-gan'nim.'ên gannim.                         | E'sau.'ésâw.                                         | Ez'bon.'eshbôn.                   |
| El-'elo'he-is'rael.'el 'elôhê yisrá'el. | El'i-she'ba.'elishébha.                                    | *En'gedi.En-had'dah.'ên haddah.            | E'sek.'ésekh.                                        | Ezeki'as.Eze'kiel.'y'hezkel.  |
| E'leph.'elep.                           | El'i-shu'a.'elishúa.                                       | En-'hakko're.'ên hak-kôrê.                     | Esh-ba'al.'eshba'al.                                 | E'zel.'ezel.                      |
| El-ha'nan.'elhánán.                     | El'ud.El'i-za'phan.'elisháphan.                        | En-ha'zor.'ên hâsôr.                           | Esh'ban.'eshbân.                                     | E'zem.'esem.                      |
| E'li.'éli.                              | El'zur.'elishûr.                                           | En-mish'pat.'ên mishpat.                       | Esh'col.'eshkol.                                     | E'zer.'ézer; 'ezer ('âzer).       |
| El'ab.'el'ábh.                          | Elka'nah.'elkanah.                                         | E'noch.'h'nôkh.                                | Esh'can.'esh'ân.                                     | Ez'ion-ge'ber (Ez'ion-ga'ber).    |
| El-ia'da.'elyádhá.                      | El'koshite.*Ella'sar.'ellásár.                         | E'nos (E'nosh).'enôsh.                         | E'shek.'eshék.                                       | Ez'ion-gebher (gâbber).               |
| El-ia'dah.'elyádhá.                     | Elmo'dam (R.V. El-ma'dam).                                 | En-rim'mon.'ên rimmôn.                         | Esh'kalonite.                                            | Ez'nite.há 'esni.                 |
| El'iah.'eliyah.                         | Elna'am.'elna'am.                                          | En-ro'gel.'en rôghêl.                          | *Eshta'ol.'eshta'ol.                                 | Ez'ra (R.V. once Ez'-rah).        |
| El-iah'ba.'elyahbâ.                     | Elna'than.'elnâthán.                                       | En-she'mesh.'ên shemesh.                       | Eshta'ulite (R.V. Esh-ta'olite).                     | 'ezrá; 'ezrah.                        |
| El-ia'kim.'elyâkim.                     | [Elo'i.]E'lon.'elôn.                                   | En-tappu'ah.'ên tappûah.                       | Eshtemo'a.'esh'tmô'a.                                | Ez'rahite.há-'ezráhi.             |
| El'iam.'li'am.                          | E'lon-beth-ha'nan.'elôn beth hánán.                        | *Ep'aphras.Epaph'rodi'tus.                     | Esh'temoh.'esh'tmôh.                                 | Ez'ri.'ezri.                      |
| El'ias.El-ia'saph.'elyásaph.        | E'lonite.E'loth.'elóth.                                | *Epe'netus.E'phah.'ephah.                  | Esh'ton.'eshtôn.                                     | F                              |
| El-ia'shib.'elyâshibh.                  | El-pa'al.'elpa'al.                                         | E'phai.'ephai.                                 | Es'li.Es'rom.                                        | Fe'lix.                               |
| *El'i-a'thah.'eli'áthah.                | El-pa'let (R.V. El-pe'let).'elpalet ('elpelet).        | E'pher.'épher.                                 | Es'ther.'estêr.                                      | Fes'tus.                              |
| El'idad.'elidádh.                       | El-te'keh.'elt'kê; 'elt'kêh.                               | E'phes-dam'mim.'ephes dammim.                  | E'tam.'etâm.                                         | Fortuna'tus.                          |
| El'iel.'eli'el.                         | El-te'kon.'elt'kôn.                                        | Eph'esian.Eph'esus.                            | E'tham.'ethâm.                                       | G                              |
| El'i-e'nai.'eli'ênai.                   | El-to'lad.'eltôladh.                                       | Eph'ial.[Ephipha'tha.]                         | E'than.'ethân.                                       | Ga'al.ga'al.                      |
| El'i-e'zer.'eli'ezér.                   | E'tul.'etûl.                                               | E'phod.'ephôdh.                                | E'thanim.há'ethânim.                                 | Ga'ash.ga'ash.                    |
| El'i-hoe'nai.'ely'hô'ênai.              | El-u'zai.'el'úzai.                                         | Eph'raim.'ephrayim.                            | Eth-ba'al.'ethba'al.                                 | Ga'ba.gebha' (gâbha')             |
| El'i-ho'reph.'eli'hôreph.               | El'ymas.El-za'bad.'elzâbbadh.                          | Eph'raimite.Eph'rain.'ephrayin.            | E'ther.'ether.                                       | Gab'bai.gabbai.                   |
| El'ihu.'eli'hú.                         | El-za'phan.'elsâphan.                                      | *Ephra'tah (R.V. Eph-ra'thah).'eph'râthah. | Ethio'pia.kûsh.                                      | Gab'batha.gab'riel.               |
| El'jah.'eli'yâhú.                       | Em'ek-ke'ziz (R.V.).'emek k'ziz.                           | *Ephrath.'ephrah.                              | Ethio'pian.Ethka'zin (R.V.).'ittah ('eth) kâsîn. | Ga'briel.gab'ri'el.               |
| El'ka.'elikâ.                           |                                                                | Eph'ron.'ephron.                               | Eth'ni.'ethni.                                       | Gad.gâdh.                         |
| E'lim.'elim.                            |                                                                |                                                    | Eub'u'sus.Euni'ce.                                   | Gad'arene.Gad'di.gaddi.       |
| *Elim'elech.'limelekh.                  |                                                                |                                                    | Euo'dias (R.V. Euo'-dia).                            | Gad'diel.gaddi'el.                |
| El'ioe'nai.'elyô'ênai; 'ely'hô'ênai.    |                                                                |                                                    |                                                          | Ga'di.gâdhi.                      |
| El'iphal.'liphâl.                       |                                                                |                                                    |                                                          | Gad'ite.Ga'ham.gâham.         |
|                                             |                                                                |                                                    |                                                          | Ga'har.gâhar.                     |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Gai'us.Ga'lal.gâlâl.Gala'tia.Gala'tian.Gal'eed.gal'êdh.Galile'an.Gal'ilee.Gal'lim.gallim.Gal'lio.Gama'liel.gamli'êl.Gam'inadim.gammâdim.Ga'mul.gâmûl.Ga'reb.gârêbh.Ga'r'nite.Gash'mu.gashmû.Ga'tam.gâ'tâm.Gath.gath.Gath-he'pher.gath hêpher.Gath-rim'mon.gath rimmôn.Ga'za.'azzah.Gaz'zam.gazzâm.Ga'zathite.Ga'zer.gezer (gâzer).Ga'zez.gâzêz.Ga'zite.Ge'ba.gebha' (gâbha').Ge'bal.gêbhal.Ge'balite (R.V.).Ge'ber.gelher.Ge'lim.gêlhim.Gedali'ah.gedhalyah; gedhal-yâhû.Ged'eon.Ge'der.gedher.Gede'rah.hag-g'dhêrah.Gede'rathite.Ge'derite.Ged'eroth.gdhêrôth.Ged'erotha'im.gdhêrôthayim.Ge'dor.gdhôr.Ge-har'ashim (R.V.).gê h'râshim.*Geha'zi.gêh'zî. | Gel'iloth.gêlîlôth.Gemalli.gêmali.Gemari'ah.g'maryah; g'maryâhû.Gennesaret.Gen'tile.Genu'bath.g'nûbbath.Ge'ra.gêrâ.[Ge'rah.gêrah].Ge'rar.g'râr.Gerase'nes (R.V.).Ger'ese'nes.*Ger'izim.g'rizzim.Ger'shoni.gêrshôn.Ger'shon.gêrshôn.Ger'shonite.Ge'ruth - chim'ham(R.V.).gêrûth kimhâm.*Gesh'am (R.V. Gesh'-an).gêshân.*Gesh'em.geshem.*Gesh'ur.g'shûr.*Gesh'uri.g'shûrî.Gesh'urite.Ge'ther.gether.Gethse'mane.Geu'el.g'û'êl.Ge'zer.gezer.Gez'rite.Gi'ah.giah.Gib'bar.gibbâr.Gib'bethon.gibb'thôn.Gib'ea.gibh'â.Gib'eah.gibh'âh; gebha'(gâbha').Gib'eah.gibh'âth.Gib'eahite.Gib'eah - ha-ar'aloth(R.V.).gi' h'ath hâ-'arâlôth.Gib'eon.gibh'ôn.Gib'eonite.Gib'lite.Giddalti.giddaltî. | Gid'del.giddêl.Gid'eon.gidh'ôn.Gideo'ni.gidh'ônî.Gid'om.gidl'ôm.Gi'hon.gih'ôn.Gil'alai.gil'alai.Gilbo'a.gilbô'a.Gilead.gil'âdh.Gileadite.Gil'gal.gilgâl.Gil'loh.gilôh.Gil'onite.Gim'zo.gimzô.Ginath.ginath.Gin'etho.ginn'thây.Gin'ethon.ginn'thôn.Gir'gashite.Gir'zite (R.V.).Gis'pa (R.V. Gish'pa).gishpâ.Git'tah he'pher.gittah hêpher.*Git'taim.Git'tite.[Git'tith.hag-gittith].Gi'zonite.Go'ath (R.V. Go'ah).gô'âth (gô'âh).Gob.gôbh.Gog.gôgh.Go'im (R.V.).gôyim.Go'an.gôlân.Gol'gotha.*Goli'ath.golyâth.Go'mer.gômer.Gomor'rah.'amôrah.Go'shen.gôshen.Go'zan.gôzân.Gre'cia.Gre'cian.Gud'godah.gudhgôdah.Gu'ni.gûnî.Gu'nite. | Gur.gûr.Gur-ba'al.gûr-ba'al.H*Ha'ahash'tari.hâ-'hashtârî.Habai'ah.h'bhaiyah; h'bayah.Habak'kuk.h'bhakkûk.Habaz'ini'ah.h'bhassinyah.Ha'bor.hâbhôr.Hachali'ah.h'khalyah.Hachi'lah.h'khilâh.Hachmo'ni.h'khmônî.Hach'monite.Ha'dad.h'adadh; h'dhadh.*Had'ad-e'zer.h'adhadl'ezer.Had'ad-rim'mon.h'adhadhrimmôn.Ha'dar.h'edhar; h'dhar.Ha'l'ar-e'zer.h'edhar'ezer.Hada'shah.h'dhâshah.Hadas'sah.h'dhassah.Hadat'tah.h'dhattah.Ha'did.hâdhîdh.Had'lai.hadhlâi.Hado'ram.h'dhôrâm.Ha'drach.hadhrakh.Ha'gab.hâghêbh.Haga'ba.h'ghâbhâ.Haga'bah.h'ghâbbah.Ha'gar.hâghâr.Hagare'ne.haghrîm.Hag'arite (R.V. Hag'-rite).haghrî'im.Ha'gerite (R.V. Hag'-rite).haghrî.Hag'gai.haggai.Hag'geri (R.V. Hag'-ri).haghrî.Hag'gi.haggî. | Haggi'ah.haggiyah.Hag'gite.Hag'gith.haggith.Hag'ri (R.V.).haghrî.Hag'rite (R.V.).haghrî.Ha'i.ha-'ai.Hakka'tan.hak-kâtân.*Hak'koz.hak-kôs.Haku'pha.h'akûphâ.Ha'lah.h'alah.Ha'lak.hâlâk.Hal'hul.hallyûl.Ha'li.h'li.Hallo'hesh (Halo'-hesh).hal-lôhêsh.Ham.hâm; hâam.Ha'man.hâmân.Ha'math.h'mâth.Ha'mathite.Ha'math-zo'bah.h'math zôbha'.Ham'math.hammath.Hamme'ah (R.V.).ham-mê'ah.Hammed'atha.hammêdhâthâ.*Hamme'lech.ham-melekh.Hammo'leketh.ham-môlekêth.Ham'mon.hammôn.Ham'moth-dor.hammôth dôr.Ham'muel (R.V.).hammû'êl.Ham'o'nah.h'mônah.Ha'mon-gog.h'môn gôgh.Ha'mor.h'môr.Ham'ran (R.V.).hamrân.Ham'uel.hammû'el.Ha'mul.hâmûl.Ha'mulite.hamû'tal.Hanam'eel.h'nam'âl. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

|                                         |                                               |                                                |                                           |                                                 |
|-----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|
| Ha'nan.hânân.                       | Ha'rum.hârûm.                             | Ha'zar-e'nan.h'zar'ênân.                   | He'lez.heles (hâles) ; hêles          | Hez'ron.hezrôr.                             |
| Hanan'eel.h'nan'êl.                 | Haru'maph.h'rumaph.                       | Ha'zar-e'non (R.V.).h'zar'ênôn.            | He'li.helkai.                         | Hez'ronite.hiddai.                          |
| Hana'ni.h'nânî.                     | Haruphite.h'rûphî.                        | Ha'zar-gad'dah.h'zar gaddah.               | Hel'kai.helkath.                      | Hid'dai.hiddai.                             |
| Hanani'ah.h'nanyah ; h'nanyâhû.     | Ha'ruz.hârûz.                             | Ha'zar-hatti'con (R.V.).Ha'zer-hatti'con). | Hel'kath.helkath ; helkâth.           | Hid'dekel.hiddekel.                         |
| Ha'nes.hânês.                       | Hasadi'ah.h'asadhyah.                     | Hasenu'ah (R.V. Has-senu'ah).              | Hel'kath-hazzu'rim.helkath has-şûrim. | Hi'el.hî'el.                                |
| Han'iel (R.V. Han'-niel).           | Hasenu'ah (R.V. Has-senu'ah).             | Hasenu'ah (R.V. Has-senu'ah).              | He'lon.hêlôn.                         | Hi'el.hî'el.                                |
| Han'nah.hannah.                     | Hashabi'ah.h'shabhyah ; h'shabh-yâhû. | Hashabi'ah.h'shabhnyah.                    | He'mam.hêmâm.                         | Hierap'olis.[Higgai'ion.higgâyôn].      |
| Hanna'thon.hannâthôn.               | Hashab'nah.hashabhna.                     | Hashabni'ah (R.V.Hashabnei'ah).            | He'man.hêmân.                         | Hi'len.hîlên.                               |
| Han'niel.hami'êl.                   | Hashabni'ah (R.V.Hashabnei'ah).           | Hashabni'ah (R.V.Hashabnei'ah).            | He'math.h'mâth ; hammath.             | Hilki'ah.hilkîyah ; hilkîyâhû.              |
| Ha'noch.h'nôkh.                     | Hashbada'na (R.V.Hashbadda'nah).          | Hashbada'na (R.V.Hashbadda'nah).           | Hem'dan.hemdân.                       | Hil'lel.hillêl.                             |
| Ha'nochite.h'nôkh.                  | Ha'shem.hâshêm.                           | Ha'z'el'lepo'ni (R.V.Ha'zelepo'ni).        | Hen.hên.                              | Hin'nom.hinnôm.                             |
| Ha'nun.hânûn.                       | Hashmo'nah.hashmônah.                     | Ha'z'el'lepo'ni (R.V.Ha'zelepo'ni).        | He'na.hêna.                           | Hi'rah.hîrah.                               |
| Haphra'im (or Haph-ara'im).         | *Hash'ub (Has'shub).                          | Haz'erim.h'zêrim.                          | Hena'dad.hênâdhâdh.                   | Hi'ram.hîrâm ; hîrôm.                       |
| Happiz'zez (R.V.).hap-pissês.       | Hashu'bah.h'shûbbh.                       | Haz'erith.h'zêrôth.                        | He'noch.h'nôkh.                       | Hit'tite.hittî.                             |
| Ha'ra.hârâ.                         | Ha'shum.hâshûm.                           | Haz'iel.h'zî'êl.                           | He'pher.hêpher.                       | Hi'vite.hiwwî.                              |
| Hara'dah.h'râdhah.                  | Has'rah.hasrah.                           | Ha'zo.h'zô.                                | He'pherite.hêpherite.                 | Hiz'ki (R.V.).hizki.                        |
| Ha'ran.hârân ; hârân.               | Hassena'ah.has-sênâ'ah.                   | Ha'zor.hâsôr.                              | *Heph'zibah.hephzî bbah.              | Hizki'ah.hizkiyah.                          |
| Ha'rarite.h'rârî ; hârârî ; 'arârî. | Hassenuah (R.V.).has-sênû'ah.             | Ha'zor-hadat'tah(R.V.).                    | He'resh.heresh.                       | Hizki'jah.hizkiyah.                         |
| Harbo'na.har'bhônâ.                 | Has'shub.hashshûbbh.                      | He'ber.hebber ; hêbber ;'êbher.        | He'reth (R.V.).hereth (hâreth).       | Ho'bab.hôbbâbh.                             |
| Harbo'nah.har'bhônâh.               | Hasu'pha (Hashu'pha).                         | He'berite.He'brew.                         | Her'mas.Her'mes.                      | Ho'bah.hôbbah.                              |
| Ha'reph.hârêph.                     | Ha'tach (R.V. Ha'-thach).                 | *He'bron (Heb'ron).hebhron ; 'ebhrôn.      | Hermog'enes.Her'mon.                  | Hoba'ah (R.V.).h'bhâyah.                    |
| Ha'reth.hâreth.                     | Ha'thath.h'thath.                         | Heb'ronite.He'gai.                         | Her'monite.Her'od.                    | Hod.hôdh.                                   |
| Harhai'ah.harh'ayah.                | Hati'pha.h'tîphâ.                         | He'ge.hêghâ.                               | Hero'dian.Hero'dias.                  | Hodai'ah.hôdhawyâhû (or ? hôdhawîwâhû). |
| Har'has.harhas.                     | Hati'ta.h'tîtâ.                           | He'lah.helâh.                              | Hero'dion.He'sed.                     | Hodavi'ah.hôdhawyah.                        |
| Har'hur.harhûr.                     | Hat'til.hattîl.                           | He'lam.hêlâm.                              | Hesh'bon.heshbôn.                     | Ho'desh.hôdhesh.                            |
| Ha'rim.hârîm.                       | Hat'tush.hattûsh.                         | Hel'bah.helbâh.                            | Hesh'mon.heshmôn.                     | Ho'devah.hôdhawah.                          |
| Ha'riph.hârîph.                     | *Hau'ran (Haura'n).                           | Hel'bon.helbôn.                            | Heth.hêth.                            | Hod'iah (Hodi'jah).hôdhîyah.                |
| Harne'pher.harnepher.               | *Hav'ilah.h'wilah.                        | Hel'dai.heldai.                            | Heth'lon.hethlôn.                     | Hog'lah.hoglah.                             |
| Har-Maged'on (R.V.).                    | Hav'oth-ja'ir (R.V.Hav'oth-ja'ir).        | He'leb.hêlebh.                             | Hezeki (R.V. Hiz'ki).hizki.           | Ho'ham.hôhâm.                               |
| Ha'rod.h'rôdh.                      | Haw'oth-ja'ir.                                | He'led.hêledh.                             | Hezeki'ah.hizkiyah ; hizkiyâhû.       | Ho'lon.hêlôn.                               |
| Ha'rodite.hârôdh.                   | Haz'ael.h'zâ'êl.                          | He'lek.hêlek.                              | *He'zion.hezyôn.                      | Ho'mam.hômâm.                               |
| Haro'eh.hârô'eh.                    | Hazai'ah.h'zâyah.                         | He'lekite.hêlem.                           | He'zir.hêzir.                         | Hoph'ni.hophnî.                             |
| Ha'rorite.hârôrîte.                 | Ha'zar-ad'dar.h'zar'addâr.                | He'lem.hêlem.                              | Hez'rai.hezrai.                       | Hor.hôr.                                    |
| Haro'sheth.h'rôsheth.               |                                               | He'leph.heleph.                            | Hez'ro.hezrô.                         | Ho'ram.hôrâm.                               |
| Har'sha.harshâ.                     |                                               |                                                |                                           | Ho'reb.hôrêbh.                              |
| Har'sith (R.V.).ha-harsîth.         |                                               |                                                |                                           | Ho'rem.hôrêm.                               |

|                                                               |                                                  |                                      |                                          |                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|
| Hor-hagid'gad (R.V.Hor-haggid'gad).hôr hag-gidh'gadh. | I                                                | I'rad.'irâdh.                    | Is'rael.yisrá'êl.                    | Ja'are-o'regim.ya're 'ôr'ghim.             |
| Ho'ri.hōri.                                               | Ib'har.yibhâr.                               | I'ram.'irâm.                     | Is'raelite.'isrá'elî.                | Ja'areshi'ah (R.V.).ya'reshyah.            |
| Ho'rim.hōrim.                                             | Ib'leam.yibhl'âm.                            | I'ri.'irî.                       | Is'sachar.yissákhar.                 | Ja'asau (R.V. Ja'asu).[Uncertain.]         |
| Ho'rite.hōrite.                                           | Ibnei'ah.yibhn'yah.                          | Iri'jah.yiriyah.                 | Isshi'ah.yishshiyah.                 | Jaas'iel.ya'si'êl.                         |
| Hor'mah.hormah.                                           | Ibni'jah.yibhniyah.                          | Ir-na'hash.'ir nâhash.           | Isshi'jah (R.V.).yishshiyah.         | Ja'azani'ah.ya'azanyah ; ya'azan-yâhû. |
| Horona'im.hōronayim.                                      | Ib'ri.'ibhrî.                                | I'ron.yir'ôn.                    | Is'uah.yishwah.                      | Ja'azer.ya'zêr.                            |
| Ho'ronite.hōronite.                                       | Ib'zan.'ibhsân.                              | Ir'peel.yirp'êl.                 | Is'ui.yishwi.                        | Ja'azi'ah.ya'ziyâhû.                       |
| Ho'sah.hōsah.                                             | *I'chabod.'i khâbhôdh.                       | Ir-she'mesh.'ir shemesh.         | It'aly.'ithai.                       | Jaaz'iel.ya'az'êl.                         |
| Hose'a.hōshêa'.                                           | Ico'nium.id'âlâh.                            | I'ru.'irû.                       | I'thai.'ithai.                       | Ja'bal.yâbhâl.                             |
| Hoshai'ah.hōshai'yah.                                     | Id'alâh.yidh'alâh.                           | I'saac.yishâk ; yishâk.          | *Ith'amar.'ithâmâr.                  | Jab'bok.yabbôk.                            |
| Hosha'ma.hōshâmâ.                                         | Id'bash.yidhbâsh.                            | Isai'ah.y'shai'yâhû.             | Ith'iel.'ithi'êl.                    | Jab'besh.yâbbêsh.                          |
| Hoshê'a.hōshêa'.                                          | Id'do.'iddô ; yiddô ; ye'dô ;'iddô.      | Is'cah.yiskah.                   | Ith'lah (R.V.).yithlah.              | Ja'besh-gilead.yâbbêsh gil'âdh.            |
| Ho'tham.hōthâm.                                           | I'dume'a.id'ûmê'a.                           | Iscar'iot.ish'bah.               | Ith'mah.yithmah.                     | Ja'bez.ya'bêz.                             |
| Ho'than.hōthâm.                                           | Ie'zer (R.V.).'îezer.                        | Ish'bah.yishbah.                 | Ith'nan.yithnân.                     | Ja'bin.yâbhîn.                             |
| Ho'thir.hōthîr.                                           | Iez'erites (R.V.).ig'al (Ig'eal).            | Ish'bak.yishbak.                 | Ith'ra.yithrâ.                       | Jab'neel.yabhn'êl.                         |
| Ho'zai (R.V.).hōzâi.                                      | I'gal (Ig'eal).yigh'al.                      | Ishbi'benob (Ish'bibe'nob).      | Ith'ran.yithrân.                     | Jab'neh.yabhneh.                           |
| Huk'kok.hukkôk.                                           | Igdali'ah.yighdalyâhû.                       | yishbi bhenôbh.                      | Ith'ream.yithr'âm.                   | Ja'chan (R.V. Ja'can).ya'kân.              |
| Hu'kok.hûkôk.                                             | I'im.'îim.                                   | Ish-bo'seth.'ish bôseth.         | Ith'rite.ittah ka'zin.               | Ja'chin.yâklîn.                            |
| Hul.hûl.                                                  | I'je-ab'arim.'iyê hâ-'abhârim.               | Ish'hod (R.V.).'ish hôdh.        | It'tai.'ittai.                       | Ja'chinite.yâdhîn.                         |
| Hul'dah.huldah.                                           | I'jon.'îyôn.                                 | I'shi.yish'i ; 'ishî.            | I'ture'a.'itturê'a.                  | Ja'cob.ya'kôbh.                            |
| Hum'tah.humtah.                                           | Ik'kesh.'ikkêsh.                             | Ishi'ah.yishshiyah.              | I'vah (R.V. Iv'vah).'iwvah.          | Ja'da.yâdhâ.                               |
| Hu'pham.hûphâm.                                           | I'lai.'îlai.                                 | Ishi'jah.yishshiyah.             | Iye-ab'arim (R.V.).'iyê hâ-'abhârim. | Ja'dau.yaddau.                             |
| Hu'phamite.hûphamite.                                     | Illyr'icium.im'la.                           | Ish'ma.yishmâ.                   | I'yim (R.V.).'îyim.                  | Jad'dua.yaddûa.                            |
| Hup'pah.huppah.                                           | Im'la.yimlâ.                                 | Ish'mael.yishmâ'êl.              | Iz'har (Iz'ehar).yishâr.             | Ja'don.yâdhôn.                             |
| Hup'pim.huppim.                                           | Im'lah.yimlah.                               | Ish'maelite.ishma'i'ah.          | Iz'harite (Iz'eharite).yizl'ah.      | Ja'el.yâ'êl.                               |
| Hur.hûr.                                                  | Imman'uel.'immânû'êl.                        | Ishmai'ah.yishma'yâhû.           | Iz'rahite.yizrahah.                  | Ja'gur.yâghûr.                             |
| Hu'rai.hûrai.                                             | Im'mer.'immêr.                               | Ish'merai.yishm'rai.             | Iz'ri.yisrî.                         | Jah.yâh.                                   |
| Hu'ram.hûrâm.                                             | Im'na.yimnâ.                                 | I'shod.'ish hôdh.                | Izzi'ah (R.V.).yizziyah.             | Ja'hath.yahath (yâhath).                   |
| Hu'ri.hûrî.                                               | Im'nah.yimnah.                               | Ish'pah (R.V.).yishpah.          | J                                        | Ja'haz.yahaz ; yâh'sah.                    |
| Hu'shah.hûshah.                                           | Im'mite (R.V.).im'rah.                       | Ish'pan.yispân.                  | *Ja'akan.ya'âkân.                    | Jah'aza (Jah'azah).yah'sah.                |
| Hu'shai.hûshai.                                           | Im'rah.yimrah.                               | Ish'tob.'ish tôbh.               | Ja'ako'bah.ya'âkôb'ah.               | Jahazi'ah.yahzyah.                         |
| Hu'sham.hûshâm.                                           | Im'ri.'imrî.                                 | *Ish'uah (R.V. Ish'vah).yishwah. | Ja'ala.ya'âlâ.                       | Jaha'ziel.yah'zi'êl.                       |
| Hu'shathite.hûshathite.                                   | In'dia.ip'hedei'ah (R.V. Iph-dei'ah).    | Ish'ui (Ish'uai ; R.V.Ish'vi).   | Ja'alâh.ya'âlâh.                     | Jah'dai.yehdâi (yâhdâi).                   |
| Hu'shim.hûshîm.                                           | Iphedei'ah (R.V. Iph-dei'ah).yiphde'yah. | Ish'vite (R.V.).ismachi'ah.      | Ja'alam.ya'âlâm.                     | Jah'diel.yahdî'êl.                         |
| Huz.'ûs.                                                  | Iph'tah-el (R.V.).yiphtah'êl.                | ismachi'ah.yismakhyâhû.          | Ja'anai.ya'ânai.                     | Jah'do.yahdô.                              |
| Huz'zab.hussabh.                                          | Ir.'ir.                                      | Ismah'ah.yishma'yah.             |                                          |                                                |
| Hymene'us'irâ.                                            | I'ra.'irâ.                                   | Is'pah.yishpah.                  |                                          |                                                |

|                                          |                                                                                |                                                                     |                                                                                    |                                                             |
|------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|
| Jah'leel.yah'l <sup>el</sup> .       | Jar'muth.yarmúth.                                                          | Jeh'iel.y'h <sup>el</sup> ; y <sup>el</sup> .                   | Je'el.y <sup>el</sup> .                                                        | Jeshare'lah.y <sup>shar</sup> 'elah.                    |
| Jah'leelite.yâroah.                  | Jaro'ah.yâroah.                                                            | *Jehi'eli.y'h <sup>i</sup> 'eli.                                | Jekab'zeel.y <sup>kab</sup> 'zeel.                                             | Jeshob'cab.yeshobh'âbh.                                 |
| Jah'mai.yahmai.                      | Ja'shen.yâshên.                                                            | Jehizki'ah.y <sup>hiz</sup> 'kiyah.                             | Jekam'eam.y <sup>kam</sup> 'am.                                                | Je'sher.yêsher.                                         |
| Jah'zah.yah'sah.                     | Ja'sher (R.V. Ja'shar).yâshâr.                                             | Jeho'adah (R.V. Jeho'-addah).y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'addah.       | Jekami'ah.y <sup>kam</sup> 'yah.                                               | Jeshi'mon.y <sup>shim</sup> 'ôn.                        |
| Jah'zeel.yah's <sup>el</sup> .       | Jashob'cam.yâshobh'âm.                                                     | Jeho'addan.y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'addân; y <sup>h</sup> -'addin. | Jeku'thiel.y <sup>k</sup> 'ûthi'el.                                            | Jeshi'shai.y <sup>shish</sup> 'shai.                    |
| Jah'zeelite.yahz <sup>el</sup> 'yah. | Ja'shub.yâshûbh.                                                           | Jeho'addin (R.V.).y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'addin.                      | Jemi'na (R.V. Jemi'-mah).y <sup>mim</sup> 'mah.                            | Jeshohai'ah.y <sup>shoh</sup> 'ayah.                    |
| Jahze'rah.yahzêrah.                  | Jashu'bi-le'hem.yâshûbhi lehem.                                            | Jeho'ahaz.y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'âhâz; y <sup>ô</sup> 'âhâz.         | Jem'uel.y <sup>m</sup> 'û'el.                                                  | *Jeshu'a (Jeshu'ah).y <sup>eshu</sup> 'a.               |
| Jah'ziel.yahsi'el.                   | Ja'shubite.yâshubite.                                                      | Jeho'ash.y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'âsh.                                 | Jeph'thah.y <sup>p</sup> 'thah.                                                | Jeshu'run (Jesu'run).y <sup>eshu</sup> 'rûn.            |
| Ja'ir.yâ'ir; yâ'ir.                  | Ja'siel.yâ'si'el.                                                          | Jeho'ashan.y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'âshân.                             | Jephun'neh.y <sup>p</sup> 'hunneh.                                             | Jesi'ah.y <sup>ish</sup> 'shiyah; y <sup>ishsh</sup> '- |
| Ja'irite.Ja'irus.                    | Jath'niel.yathn <sup>el</sup> 'el.                                         | *Jehoi'ada.y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'yâdhâ; y <sup>ô</sup> 'yâdhâ.      | Je'rah.y <sup>er</sup> 'ah.                                                    | Jesim'iel.y <sup>sim</sup> 'iel.                        |
| Ja'kan.yâ'kân.                       | Ja'van.yâwân.                                                              | *Jehoi'achin.y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'yâkhîn.                          | Jerah'meel.y <sup>er</sup> 'ahm <sup>el</sup> .                                | Jes'se.yishai.                                          |
| Ja'keh.yâkeh.                        | Ja'zer.yâzêr (yâ'zêr).                                                     | *Jehoi'akim.y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'yâkîm.                            | Jerah'meelite.y <sup>er</sup> 'ahm <sup>el</sup> ite.                          | Jes'ui.yishwi.                                          |
| Ja'kim.yâkîm.                        | Ja'ziz.yâzîz.                                                              | *Jehoi'arib.y <sup>h</sup> 'ô'yârîbh.                           | Je'red.y <sup>er</sup> 'edh.                                                   | Jes'uite.yishwi.                                        |
| Ja'lam (R.V.).yâ'lâm.                | Je'arim.yâ'rim.                                                            | *Jehon'adab.y <sup>h</sup> 'ônâdhâbh.                           | Jeremai.y <sup>er</sup> 'emai.                                                 | Je'sus.yether.                                          |
| Ja'lon.yâlôn.                        | Jeat'eraí.y <sup>at</sup> 'herai.                                          | Jehon'athan.y <sup>h</sup> 'ônâthân.                            | Jeremi'ah.yirm <sup>el</sup> 'yah; yirm <sup>el</sup> 'yâhâ.                   | Je'ther.yeth.                                           |
| Jam'bres.James.                      | Jeber'echi'ah.y <sup>b</sup> 'herekhyâhâ.                                  | Jehoram.y <sup>h</sup> 'ôrâm.                                   | Jeremi'us.y <sup>er</sup> 'emôth.                                              | Je'theth.y <sup>eth</sup> 'eth.                         |
| Ja'min.yâmin.                        | Je'bus.y <sup>b</sup> 'hûs.                                                | Jehoshab'eath.y <sup>h</sup> 'ôshabh'ath.                       | Jer'moth.y <sup>er</sup> 'emôth.                                               | Jeth'lah.yithlah.                                       |
| Ja'minite.Jam'lech.yamlekh.      | *Jeb'usite (Jeb'usi).y <sup>b</sup> 'hûsi.                                 | Jehosh'aphat.y <sup>h</sup> 'ôstâphât.                          | Jer'moth.y <sup>er</sup> 'emôth.                                               | Jeth'ro.yithrô.                                         |
| Ja'nai (R.V.).yâ'nai.                | Jecami'ah.y <sup>k</sup> 'amayah.                                          | Jehosh'eba.y <sup>h</sup> 'ôshebha'.                            | Jeri'ah.y <sup>er</sup> 'iyâhâ.                                                | Je'tur.y <sup>et</sup> 'ûr.                             |
| Ja'nim (R.V.).yânim (yânîm).         | Jecholi'ah.y <sup>k</sup> 'holyâhâ.                                        | Jehosh'ua.y <sup>h</sup> 'ôshûâ.                                | Jeri'bai.y <sup>er</sup> 'ibhai.                                               | Jeu'el.y <sup>et</sup> 'ûl.                             |
| Jan'na.Jan'nes.                      | Jechoni'as.y <sup>k</sup> 'honyah; y <sup>k</sup> 'hon-                    | Jeho'vah.yahweh (?).                                            | Jer'icho.y <sup>er</sup> 'îh <sup>o</sup> ; y <sup>er</sup> 'êh <sup>o</sup> . | Je'ush.y <sup>et</sup> 'ûsh.                            |
| Jano'ah.yânôah.                      | Jeconi'ah.y <sup>k</sup> 'honyah; y <sup>k</sup> 'hon-                     | Jeho'vah-jir'eh.yahweh yir'eh.                                  | Jer'iel.y <sup>er</sup> 'î'el.                                                 | Je'uz.y <sup>et</sup> 'ûs.                              |
| Jano'hah.yân'ah.                     | Jedai'ah.y <sup>d</sup> 'hai'ah.                                           | Jeho'vah-nis'si.yahweh niss'i.                                  | Jeri'jah.y <sup>er</sup> 'iyah.                                                | Jew.y <sup>et</sup> 'ûs.                                |
| Janum.yânûm (yânim).                 | Jedi'ael.y <sup>d</sup> 'hi'el.                                            | Jeho'vah-shal'om.yahweh shâlôm.                                 | Jeri'moth.y <sup>er</sup> 'imôth; y <sup>er</sup> 'emôth.                      | Jew'ry.y <sup>et</sup> 'ûr.                             |
| Ja'pheth.yepheth (yâpheth).          | Jedi'dah.y <sup>d</sup> 'hidhah.                                           | Jehoz'abad.y <sup>h</sup> 'ôzâbhâdh.                            | Jeri'oth.y <sup>er</sup> 'î'ôth.                                               | Jezani'ah.y <sup>et</sup> 'anyâhâ.                      |
| Japhi'a.yâphi'a.                     | Jedidi'ah.y <sup>d</sup> 'hidhya.                                          | Jehoz'abad.y <sup>h</sup> 'ôzâbhâdh.                            | Jerobo'am.yârobh'âm.                                                           | Jez'ebel.y <sup>et</sup> 'zebel.                        |
| Japh'let.yaphlêt.                    | Jedu'thun.y <sup>d</sup> 'hûthûn.                                          | Jehub'bah.y <sup>h</sup> 'ubba.                                 | Jero'ham.y <sup>er</sup> 'ôhâm.                                                | Je'zer.yêzer.                                           |
| Japhle'ti.yaphlêt'i.                 | Je'ez.y <sup>et</sup> 'ez.                                                 | Jehub'bah.y <sup>h</sup> 'ubba.                                 | Jerubba'al.y <sup>er</sup> 'ubba'al.                                           | Jez'rite.yêzer.                                         |
| Ja'pho.yâphô.                        | Je'ezrite.y <sup>et</sup> 'ezrite.                                         | Jehub'bah.y <sup>h</sup> 'ubba.                                 | Jerubbe'sheth.y <sup>er</sup> 'ubbeseth.                                       | Jezi'ah.yizziyah.                                       |
| Ja'rah.yârah.                        | Je'gar-sahadu'tha.y <sup>et</sup> 'ghar sâhâdhûthâ.                        | Jehu.y <sup>et</sup> 'hû.                                       | Jeru'el.y <sup>er</sup> 'û'el.                                                 | Jezi'el.yizziyah.                                       |
| Ja'reb.yârebh.                       | *Jehal'eleel (Jehal'celel;R.V. Jehal'lelel).y <sup>et</sup> 'halel'el. | Jehud.y <sup>et</sup> 'hûd.                                     | Jeru'salem.y <sup>er</sup> 'û-shâlêm; y <sup>er</sup> 'ûsha-layim.         | Jez'rael.yizra'el; yizra'el.                            |
| Ja'red.yeredh (yâredh).              | Jehdei'ah.y <sup>et</sup> 'hedei'ah.                                       | Jehudi.y <sup>et</sup> 'hûdi.                                   | Jeru'sha.y <sup>er</sup> 'ûshâ.                                                | Jez'reelite.yizra'el.                                   |
| Jaresi'ah.yâreshyah.                 | Jehez'ekel.y <sup>et</sup> 'hez'ekel.                                      | Jehudi'jah.y <sup>et</sup> 'hûdiyah.                            | Jeru'shah.y <sup>er</sup> 'ûshah.                                              | Jib'sam.y <sup>et</sup> 'blâm.                          |
| Jar'ha.yâhâ.                         | Jehi'ah.y <sup>et</sup> 'hiyah.                                            | Jehuel (R.V.).y <sup>et</sup> 'hû'el (y <sup>et</sup> 'hû'el).  | Jeshai'ah (Jesai'ah).y <sup>et</sup> 'shai'ah; y <sup>et</sup> 'shai'yâhâ.     | Jid'laph.yidhlâph.                                      |
| Ja'rib.yâribh.                       |                                                                                | Je'hush.y <sup>et</sup> 'hûsh.                                  | Jeshanah.y <sup>et</sup> 'shânah.                                              | Jim'nah (Jim'na).yimnah.                                |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Jim'nite.Jiph'tah.yiph'táh.Jiph'tah-el.yiphtah'él.Yo'ab.yô'abh.Jo'ah.yô'áh.*Jo'ahaz.yô'áház.Joan'na (R.V. Joan'an).Jo'ash.yô'ash ; yô'ash.Jo'atham.Job.yôbbh.Jo'bab.yôbbáh.Joch'ebed.yôkhebbhedh.Jo'da (R.V.).Jo'ed.yô'édh.Jo'el.yô'él.Jo'e'lah.yô'éláh.*Jo'ezer.yô'ezer.Jog'beliah.yoghb'bah.Jog'li.yoghli.Jo'ha.yôhá.*Jo'hanan.yôhánán ; y'hôhánán.John.Joi'ada.yôyádhá.Joi'akim.yôyákím.Joi'arib.yôyáribh.Jok'deam.yokdh'ám.Jo'kim.yôkím.Jok'meam.yokm'ám.Jok'neam.yokn'ám.Jok'shan.yokshán.Jok'tan.yoktán.Jok'theel.yokth'él.Jon'adab.yônádlhábh ; y'hô-nádlhábh.Jo'nah.yônah.Jo'nan (R.V. Jo'nam).Jo'nas (Jo'na).[Jo'nath-e'lem-recho'-kim.yônath 'élem r'hôkim.] | Jon'athan.yônáthán ; y'hônáthán.Jop'pa.yáphô.Jo'rah.yôrah.Jo'rai.yôrai.Jo'ram.yôrám ; y'hôrám.Jor'dan.hay-yardén.Jo'rim.Jor'koam (R.V. Jor'-keam).york'ám.Jos'abad (R.V. Joz'-abad).yôzálhâdh.Jos'aphat.Jo'se.Jo'sech (R.V.).Jos'edeck.y'hô'sádhâk.Jo'seph.yôsêph.Jo'ses.Jo'shah.yôsháh.Josh'aphat.yôsháphât.Joshavi'ah.yôshawyah.Joshbeka'shah.yoshb'kâshah.Josh'ua.y'hôshúa.Josi'ah.yôshiyah ; yôshiyáhú.Josi'as.kartán.Josibi'ah (R.V. Joshi-bi'ah).yôshibhyah.Josiphi'ah.yôsiphyah.Jot'bah.yot'bah.Jotba'thah (Jot'bath).yot'bhâthah.Jo'tham.yôthâm.Joz'abad.yôzábhâdh.Joz'achar (R.V. Joz'a-car).yôzákhâr.Joz'adak.yôzádhâk.Ju'bal.yâbhâl.Ju'cal.yâkhal.Ju'da.y'hâdhah.Ju'das.Jude'a.Ju'dith.y'hâdhîth.Ju'lia. | Ju'lius.Ju'nia (R.V. Ju'nias).Ju'piter.Ju'shab-he'sed.yûshabh hêsedh.Jus'tus.Ju'tah (R.V.).yûtah.Jut'lah.yûttah ; yûtah.KKab'zeel.kabhs'él.Ka'desh.kâdhêsh.*Ka'desh-bar'nea.kâdhêsh barnêa'.Kad'miel.kadhmî'él.Kad'monite.Ka'in (R.V.).kayin.Kal'lai.kallai.*Ka'mon (R.V.).kâmôn.Ka'nah.kânah.Kare'ah.kârêah.Karka'a (R.V. Kar'ka).karkâ'.Kar'kor.karkôr.Kar'tah.kartâh.Kar'tan.kartán.Kat'tath.kattâth.Ke'dar.kêdhâr.Ked'emah.kêdh'mah.Kede'moth.kêdhêmôth.Ke'desh.kêdhesh.Kehela'thah.kêhlâthah.Ke'ilah.k'ilah.Kelai'ah.kêlâyah.Keli'ta.kêlitâ.Kemu'el (Kem'uel).kêmu'él.Ke'nan.kênán.Ke'nath.k'nâth.Ke'naz (Ke'nez).k'naz.Ken'ezite.Ke'nite (Ken'ite).Ken'izzite. | Ker'en-hap'puch.keren hap-pukh.Ke'rioth.k'riyôth.Ker'ioth-hez'ron(R.V.).k'riyôth hêsrôn.Ke'ros.kêrôs.Ketu'rah.k'êtûrah.*Kezi'a (R.V. Kezi'ah).k'sî'ah.Ke'ziz.k'sîs.Kib'roth-hatta'avah.kibh'rôth hat-ta'wâh.Kibza'im.kibhsayim.Kil'ron.kidhrôn.Ki'nah.kînah.Kir.kir.Kir-har'eseth (-har'-aseth).kîr h'rêseth (h'râseth).Kir-he'res (-ha'resh).kîr hêres (hâres).Kir'iah (R.V. for Kir'-jath).kiryath.Kiriatha'im.kiryâthayimKiri'oth.k'riyôth.Kir'jath.kiryath.Kirjatha'im.kiryâtlayim.Kir'jath-ar'ba.kiryath 'arba'.Kir'jath-a'rim.kiryath 'ârim.Kir'jath-ba'al.kiryath ba'al.Kir'jath-hu'zoth.kiryath hûsôth.Kir'jath-je'arim.kiryath y'ârim.Kir'jath-san'nah.kiryath sannah.Kir'jath-sépher.kiryath sépher.Kish.kish.Ki'shi.kishi.Kish'ion.kishyôn.Ki'shon.kishyôn ; kishôn.Kison.kishôn.Kith'lish.kithlish.Kit'ron.kitrôn.Kit'tim.kittim. | Ko'a.kôa'.Ko'hath.k'lahth ; k'hâth.Ko'hathite.Kolai'ah.kôlâyah.Ko'rah.kôrah.Ko'rahite (Ko'rathiteand Kor'hite).Ko're.kôrê.Koz.hak-kôs.Kushai'ah.kûshâyâhú.LLa'adah.la'dah.La'adan (R.V. La'dan).la'dán.La'ban.lâbhân.La'chish.lâkhîsh.La'cl.lâ'él.La'had.lahadh.Lahairo'i.la-hai rô'i.Lah'mam.lahmâs or lahmâm.Lah'mi.lahmî.La'ish (R.V. once La'-ishah).layish (lâ'ish) ; lay'-shah.La'kum (R.V. Lak'-kum).lakkûm.La'mech.lemekh (lâmekh)La'odice'a.La'odice'an.Lap'idoth.lappidhôth.Lase'a.La'sha.lâsha'.Lasha'ron (R.V. Las-sha'ron).lashshârôn.Laz'arus.Le'ah.léah.[Lean'noth.l'annôth.]Leba'na.l'bhânâ.Leba'nah.l'bhânâh.*Leb'anon.l'bhânôn.*Leb'aath.l'bhâ'ôth.Lebbe'us. |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

Lebo'nah.
l'bhōnah.
Le'cah. lēkhaḥ.
Le'habim.
lēhābbim.
Le'hi.
lēhi (lēhi).
*Lem'uel. lēmū'ēl.
Le'shem.
leshem.
*Let'ushim. lētūshim.
*Leum'mim. lēummim.
Le'vi.
lēwī.
Le'vite.
Lib'ertine.
Lib'nah. libhnaḥ.
Lib'ni.
libhni.
Lib'nite.
Lib'ya. pūt.
Lib'yan.
Lik'hi.
likhi.
Li'nus.
Loam'mi. lē'ammī.
Lod. lēdh.
Lo-de'bar.
lē dhr'bhār.
Lo'is.
Lo-ruha'mah.
lē ruhāmāh.
Lot.
lēṭ.
Lo'tan.
lēṭān.
Lu'bim(s). lēbbim.
Lu'cas.
Luc'ifer. hēlēl.
Lu'cius.
Lud.
lēdh.
Lu'dim. lēdhim.
Lu'hith. lēhith.
Luke.
Luz.
lēz.
Ly'cao'nia.
Lyc'ia.
Lyd'da.
Lyd'ia.
Lyd'ian.
*Lysa'rias.
Lys'ias.
Lys'tra.

M

Ma'acathite (R.V.).
Ma'achah (Ma'acah). ma'akhah.
Ma'achathite (Ma'- achathi).
Ma'adai. ma'adhī.
Maadi'ah. ma'adhyah.
Ma'ai.
mā'ai.
Ma'aleh - acrab'bim (R.V. -akrab'bim). ma'alēh 'akrabbim.
Ma'arath. ma'arāth.
Ma'areh-ge'ba (R.V.). ma'arēh ghebha' (ghā-bha').
Ma'asei'ah.
ma'asēyah (-yāhū);
mahséyah.
Maasi'ai (R.V. Ma'asai). ma'sai.
Ma'ath.
Ma'az. ma'as.
Maazi'ah.
ma'azyah; ma'azyāhū.
Macedo'nia.
*Mach'banai (R.V.
Machban'nai).
makhbannai.
Machbe'nah (R.V.
Machbe'na).
makhbēnā.
Ma'chi.
mākhī.
Ma'chir. mākhīr.
Ma'chirite.
Machnad'ebai.
makhnadh'ebhai.
Machpe'lah. makhpēlah.
Ma'dai. mādhai.
Ma'dian.
Madman'nah. madhmannah.
Mad'men. madhmēn.
Madme'nah. madhmēnah.
Ma'don. mādhōn.
Mag'adan (R.V.).
Mag'bish.
maghbish.
Mag'dala.
*Magdale'ne (or Mag'- dalen).
Mag'diel. maghdī'ēl.
Ma'gog. māghōgh.
Ma'gor-missa'bib.
māghōr mis-sābbih.

Magpi'ash.
magi pī'ash.
[Ma'gus.] Mah'alalah.
mahlah.
Mahalal'eel (R.V.
Mahal'alel).
mah'al'ēl.
[Mah'alath lean'noth.
mah'alath l'annōth.]
Mah'ali.
mahli.
Mahana'im.
mah'nayim.
Mah'aneh-dan.
mah'nēh dhān.
Mah'ari. mah'arai.
Ma'hath. mahath.
Mah'avite.
ham-mah'w'im.
Maha'zioth.
mah'zi'ōth.
Ma'her-sha'lal-hash-baz.
mahēr shālāl hāsh baz.
Mah'lah.
mahlah.
Mah'li.
mahli.
Mah'lite.
Mah'lon. mahlōn.
Ma'hol.
māhōl.
Ma'kaz.
mākas.
Mak'heloth.
mak'hēlōth.
Makke'dah. mak'kēdhah.
Mak'tesh. makhtēsh.
Mal'achi.
mal'ākhi.
Mal'cham (R.V. Mal'- cam).
malkām.
Malchi'ah (Malchi'- jah).
malkiyah.
Mal'chiel. malki'ēl.
Mal'chielite.
Malchi'ram. malkirām.
Malchishu'a.
malkishū'a.
Mal'chus.
Male'eel.
Mallo'thi. mallōthi.
Mal'luch. mallūkh.
Mallu'chi (R.V.). m'likhū (or mal-lūkhī).
Mam're. mamrē.

Man'aen.
Man'ahath.
mānahath (mānāhath).
Man'ahethite (R.V.
-athite; menuhoth.
mānahṭi; Mēnāhōth).
Manas'seh.
m'nashsheh.
Manas'ses.
Manas'site.
Mano'ah.
mānōah.
Ma'och. mā'ōkh.
Ma'on.
mā'ōn.
Ma'onite.
Ma'ra.
mārā.
Ma'rah. mārah.
Mar'alalah.
mar'alāh.
[Ma'ran a'tha.]
Mare'shah.
mārēshah.
Mar'cus.
Mark.
Ma'roth. mārōth.
Mar'sena. mars'nā.
Mar'tha.
Ma'ry.
[Mas'chil. maskil.]
Mash.
mash.
Ma'shal.
māshāl.
Masre'kah.
masrēkah.
Mas'sa. mas'sā.
Mas'sah.
massah.
Mathu'sala.
Mat'red. mat'rēdh.
Mat'ri.
maṭri.
Mat'tan. mattān.
Matta'nah.
mattānah.
Mattani'ah. mattanyah; mattan-yāhū.
Mat'tatha.
*Mat'tathah (R.V. Mattat'tah).
mattatah.
Mattathi'as.
Mat'tenai.
matt'nai.
Mat'than.
Mat'that.
Mat'thew.

Matthi'as.
Mattithi'ah. mattithyah; mattith-
yāhū.
Maz'zaroath. mazzārōth.
Me'ah.
mē'ah.
Mea'rah. mē'arāh.
Mebun'nai.
mēbhunnai.
Meche'rathite.
Me'dad. mēdhādḥ.
Me'dan. mēdhān.
*Me'deba. mēdh'bhā.
Mede.
mādhai.
Me'dia. mādhai.
Me'dian.
Megid'do. m'ghiddō.
Megid'don.
m'ghiddōn.
Mehet'abel (Mehetab'eel).
m'hētābh'ēl.
Mehi'da. m'hīdhā.
Me'hir.
m'hīr.
Meho'lathite.
Mehu'jael. m'hūyā'ēl.
Mehu'man. m'hūmān.
Me'hunim(s) (Me'u-nim).
m'ūnim.
Me-jar'kon.
mē bay-yarkōn.
Meko'nah.
m'ekhōnah.
Melati'ah. m'latyah.
Mel'chi.
Melchi'ah.
malkiyah.
Melchis'edek.
Melchishu'a.
malkishū'a.
Melchiz'edek.
malki sedhek.
Me'lea.
Me'lech.
melekh.
Meli'cu. m'likhū.
Mel'ita.
Mel'zar.
ham-melsar.
Mem'phis.
mōph.
Memu'can. m'mūkhān.

|                                                |                                         |                                           |                                                    |                                        |
|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|
| Men'ahem.m'nahēm.                          | Meshull'am.m'shullām.               | Mik'loth.miklōth.                     | Mo'lid.mōlidh.                                 | Na'ham.nahām.                      |
| Me'nan (R.V. Men'na).[Me'ne.m'né.]     | Meshul'lemeth.m'shullemeth.         | Miknei'ah.mikneyāhū.                  | *Mor'asthite (R.V.Mor'ashtite).                | Nahuma'ni.nah'māni.                |
| Menuhoth (R.V.).menūhōth.                  | Meso'baite.m'sōbhāyah.              | Mil'alai.mil'lai.                     | Mor'decai.mord'khai.                           | Nah'arai.nah'rai.                  |
| Men'uim (R.V.).meō'nenim.m'ōn'nim.     | Mes'opota'mia.'aram nah'rayim.      | Mil'cah.mil'kah.                      | Mo'reh.mōreh.                                  | Nah'ari.nah'rai.                   |
| Meono'thai.m'ōnōthai.                      | Messi'ah.Messi'as.                  | Mil'com.milkôm.                       | Mo'resheth-gath.mōresheth gath.                | Na'hash.nāhash.                    |
| Mepha'ath.mēpha'ath (mēphā-'ath).      | Meth'eg-am'mah.methegh hā'ammaḥ.    | Mile'tus (Mile'tum).Mil'lo.millō. | Mori'ah.mōriyah.                               | Na'hath.nahath.                    |
| *Mephib'osheth.m'phibhōsheth.              | Methu'sael.m'thūshā'ēl.             | Minia'min.minyāmīn.                   | Mose'ra (R.V. Mose'-rah).mōsērah.          | Nah'bi.nahbi.                      |
| Me'rab.mērabh.                             | Methu'selah.m'thūshelah.            | Min'ni.minni.                         | Mo'seroth.mōsērōth.                            | Na'hor.nāhōr.                      |
| Mera'iah.m'rāyah.                          | Me'unim.m'ūnim.                     | Min'niṭh.minniṭh.                     | Mo'ses.mōsheh.                                 | Nah'shor.nahshōn.                  |
| Mera'i'oth.m'rāyōth.                       | Meza'hab.mē zāhābh.                 | Miph'kad.miphkād.                     | Mo'za.mōsā.                                    | Na'hum.nahūm.                      |
| Mera'ri.m'rārī.                            | Mezo'baite (R.V.).m'sōbhāyah.       | Mir'iam.miryām.                       | Mo'zah.ham-mōsah.                              | Na'in.nāyōth.                      |
| Mera'rite.m'rāthayim.                      | Mia'min.miy-yāmīn.                  | Mir'ma.mirmaḥ.                        | Mup'pim.muppim.                                | Na'omi.no'mi.                      |
| Mer'atha'im.m'rāthayim.                    | Mib'har.mibhār.                     | Mis'gab.ham-misgābh.                  | Mu'shi.mūshi.                                  | Na'phish.nāphish.                  |
| Mercu'rius (R.V. Mer'-cury).               | Mib'sam.mibhsām.                    | Mish'ael.mishā'ēl; mish'āl.           | Mu'shite.[Muth-lab'ben.mūth labbēn.]       | Naph'tali.naph'tālī.               |
| Me'red.meredh (māredh).                    | Mi'cah (Mi'chah).mik'kah; mik'hā.   | Mi'sham.mishām.                       | My'ra.Mys'ia.                                  | Naph'tuhim.naph'tūhim.             |
| Mere'moth.m'rēmōth.                        | Micai'ah.mikhāyehū.                 | Mi'shal (Mish'eal).mish'āl.           |                                                    | Narcis'sus.Na'than.nāthān.     |
| Me'res.meres.                              | Mi'cha (R.V. Mi'ca).mik'hā.         | Mish'ma.mishmā'.                      |                                                    | Na'than-me'lech.nathan melekh.     |
| *Meri'bah.m'rībhah.                        | *Mi'chael.mik'hā'ēl.                | Mishman'nah.mishmannaḥ.               |                                                    | Nathan'ael.Na'um.                  |
| Me'rib-ba'al.m'rībhba'al; m'rī-bha'al. | Michai'ah.mikhāyah (-y'hū).         | Mish'raite.mishrā'ī.                  | Na'am.na'am.                                   | Nazare'ne.Naz'areth.               |
| Meri'bath (R.V.).m'rībbath.                | Mi'chal.mik'hāl.                    | *Mis'pereth.mispereth.                | Na'amah.na'amah.                               | Naz'arite (R.V. Naz'-irite).       |
| Meri'both (R.V.).m'rībbōth.                | Mich'mas.mikhmās.                   | Mis'rephoth-ma'im.mis'rēphōth mayim.  | Na'aman.na'amān.                               | nāzir.                                 |
| Mero'dach.m'rōdhakh.                       | Mich'mash.mikhmāsh (mikh-mash). | Mith'cah.mithkah.                     | Na'amathite.Na'amite.                          | Ne'ah.han-nē'ah.                   |
| Mero'dach-bal'adan.m'rōdhakh bal'adhān.    | Mich'methah.mikhm'thah.             | Mith'nite.mithr'dhāth.                | Na'arah.na'arah.                               | Neap'olis.                             |
| Me'rom.mērōm.                              | Mich'ri.mikhrī.                     | Mityle'ne.Miz'ar.mis'ar.          | Na'arai.na'arai.                               | Neari'ah.n'aryah.                  |
| Meron'othite.                                  | Mich'tam.mikhtām.                   | Miz'pah.mis'pah.                      | Na'aran.na'rān.                                | Ne'bai.nēbhai or nōbbai.           |
| Me'roz.mērōz.                              | Mid'din.middin.                     | Miz'peh.mis'peh; mis'pah.             | Na'arath.na'rāth or na'arah.                   | Nebai'oth (Neba'-joth).            |
| Me'sha.mēsha'; mēshā'.                     | Mid'ian.midhyān.                    | Miz'par (R.V. Mis'par).mispār.        | Na'ashon.nahshōn.                              | Neb'bayōth.                            |
| Me'shach.mēshakh.                          | Mid'ianite.Mid'ianit'ish.           | Miz'raim.misrayim.                    | Na'ason.Na'bal.nābhāl.                     | Nebal'lat.nebhallāt.               |
| Me'shech (Me'sech).mesekh.                 | Mig'dal-el.mighdal'ēl.              | Miz'zah.mizzah.                       | Na'both.nābbōth.                               | Ne'bat.nebhat.                     |
| Meshel'emi'ah.m'shelemyah; -yāhū.          | Mig'dal-gad.mighdal gād.            | Mna'son.Mo'ab.mō'ābh.             | Na'chon (R.V. Na'con).Na'chor.nākhōn.      | Ne'bo.nēbhō.                       |
| Meshezab'eel.m'shēzabb'ēl.                 | Mig'dol.mighdōl.                    | Mo'abite.Moadi'ah.mō'adhyah.      | Na'dab.nādābh.                                 | Neb'uchadne'zar.nēbhūkhadnēssar.   |
| Meshille'mith.m'shillēmīth.                | Mig'ron.mighrōn.                    | Mola'dah.mōlādah.                     | Nag'ge (R.V. Nag'gai).Naha'līel.nah'lī'ēl. | Neb'uchadrez'zar.nēbhūkhadhrēssar. |
| Meshille'moth.m'shillēmōth.                | Mija'min.miy-yāmīn.                 | Mo'lech (Mo'loch).mōlekh.             | Nah'al(l)al.nah'lāl.                           | Nebushas'ban.nēbhūshazbān.         |
| Mesho'bab.m'shōbbābh.                      |                                         |                                           | Nahalol.nah'lōl.                               | Nebuzar'adan.nēbhūzar'adhān.       |
|                                                |                                         |                                           |                                                    | Ne'cho (R.V. Ne'co).nēkhō.         |
|                                                |                                         |                                           |                                                    | Nedabi'ah.nēdhabyah.               |

|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        |                                    |
|---------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| [Negi'nah.n'ghinah.]                    | Nib'shan.han-nibhshân.          | O'both.'ôbhôth.                    | P                                      | Pat'robas.                         |
| [Negi'noth.n'ghinôth.]                  | Nica'nor.                           | Oc'ran (R.V. Och'ran).                 |                                        | Pa'u.                              |
| Ne'elamite.                                 | Nicodemus.                          | 'okhrân.                               | Pa'arai.                               | pâ'a.                              |
| Nehemi'ah.                                  | Nicola'itane (R.V.-tan).        | O'ded.'ôdhêdh.                     | Pa'arai.                               | Paul.                              |
| Nehem'ya.                                   | Nic'olas.                           | Og.'ôgh.                           | Pa'lan (R.V. Pad'dan).                 | Paul'us.                           |
| [Nehi'loth.n'hilôth.]                   | Nicopolis.                          | O'had.'ôhadh.                      | pu'dân.                                | Ped'ahel.                          |
| Ne'hum.                                     | Ni'ger.                             | O'hel.'ôhel.                       | *Pad'an-a'ram (R.V.Pad'dan-a'ram). | ped'hah'êl.                        |
| Nehush'ta.                                  | Nim'rah.nimrah.                 | Oh'olah (R.V.).'ôh'olâh.           | Pa'don.                                | Pedah'zur.                         |
| Nehush'tan.                                 | Nim'rim.nimrim.                 | Oholi'ab (R.V.).'ôh'olî'âbh.       | pâdhôn.                                | ped'hâ'zûr.                        |
| Nehush'tân.                                 | Nim'rod.nimrôdh.                | Oholi'bah (R.V.).'ôh'olîbhah.      | Pag'iel.                               | ped'hâ'zûr.                        |
| Nei'el.                                     | Nim'shi.nimshi.                 | Oh'oliba'mah (R.V.).'ôh'olîbhâmah. | pagh'i'êl.                             | Pedai'ah.                          |
| Ne'keb.                                     | Nin'eve.                            | Ol'ivet.                               | Pa'hath-mo'ab.pahath mō'âbh.       | ped'hâyah ; ped'hâyâhû.            |
| han-nekebh.                                 | Nin'eveh.nin'wêh.               | Olym'pas.                              | Pa'i.                                  | Pe'kah.                            |
| Neko'da.                                    | Nin'evite.                          | O'mar.'ômâr.                       | pâ'i.                                  | pekah.                             |
| Nekôdhâ.                                    | Ni'san.nisân.                   | O'mega.                                | Pa'lal.                                | Pekahi'ah.                         |
| Nem'uel.                                    | Nis'roch.nisrôkh.               | Om'ri.'omrî.                       | pâlâl.                                 | pekahyah.                          |
| Nem'uelite.                                 | No.                                 | On.                                    | Palesti'na (Pal'es-tine).          | Pe'kod.                            |
| Ne'pheg.                                    | Noadi'ah.nô'adhya.              | 'ôn.                                   | p'lesheth.                             | pkôdh.                             |
| Neph'ilim (R.V.).neph'ilim.             | No'ah.nôah ; nô'ah.             | O'nâ.                                  | Pal'lu.                                | Pelai'ah.                          |
| Ne'phish.                                   | No'am'on (R.V.).nô'âmôn.        | O'nâ.                                  | pallû.                                 | p'layah.                           |
| Nephish'esim (R.V.Nephush'esim).        | Nob.                                | O'nâ.                                  | Pal'luite.                             | Pelali'ah.                         |
| nephish'esim (or ? neph-ush'esim).      | No'bah.nôbh.                    | Ones'imus.                             | Pal'ti.                                | p'layah.                           |
| Neph'thalim.                                | No'bah.nôbhah.                  | Onesiph'orus.                          | paltî.                                 | Pelati'ah.                         |
| Neph'to'ah.                                 | No'bai (R.V.).nôbbai or nêbbai. | O'no.'ônô.                         | Pal'tiel.                              | p'layah ; p'layâhû.                |
| Neph'usim (R.V. Ne-ph'isim).            | Nod.nôdh.                       | O'phel.hâ'ôphel.                   | paltî'êl.                              | Pe'leg.                            |
| neph'usim (or ? nephi-sim).             | No'dab.nôdhâbh.                 | O'phir.'ôphîr.                     | Pal'tite.                              | peleg.                             |
| Ner.                                        | No'e.                               | Oph'ni.hâ'ophni.                   | Pamphyl'ia.                            | pelegh.                            |
| nér.                                        | No'gah.nôghah.                  | Oph'rah.'ôphrah.                   | Pan'nag.pannagh.                   | Pe'let.                            |
| Ne'reus.                                    | No'hah.nôhah.                   | O'reb.'ôrêbh.                      | Pa'phos.pâphos.                    | pelet.                             |
| Ner'gal.                                    | Non.                                | O'ren.'ôren.                       | Pa'rah.hap-pârah.                  | Pe'leth.                           |
| Ner'gal-share'zer.                          | Noph.                               | Ori'on.k'sil.                      | Pa'ran.pâran.                      | Pe'lethite.                        |
| nêr'ghal shar'êzer.                         | No'phah.nôphah.                 | Or'nan.'ornân.                     | Par'bar.parbâr.                    | Pe'lonite.                         |
| Ne'ri.                                      | Nun.                                | Or'pah.'orpah.                     | Parmash'ta.parmash'tâ.             | *Pen'iel.                          |
| Neri'ah.nériyah ; nériyâhû.             | Nym'phas.                           | O'see.ôshêa.                       | Parmen'as.parmenas.                | p'ni'êl.                           |
| Neta'im (R.V.).nê'tâ'im.                |                                     | Oshê'a.hôshêa.                     | Par'nach.parrâkh.                  | Peniu'nah.                         |
| Nethan'eel (R.V.Neth'anel).             |                                     | Osnapp'par (R.V.).'osnappar.       | Pa'rosh.par'ôsh.                   | p'niimah.                          |
| Nethan'iel.                                 |                                     | Oth'ni.'ôthnî.                     | Parshanda'tha.parshandâthâ.        | *Penu'el (Pen'uel).                |
| Nethani'ah.nêthanyah ; nêthan-yâhû. |                                     | Oth'niel.'ôthnî'êl.                | Par'thian.                             | Pe'or.                             |
| Neth'inims (R.V. -im).                      |                                     | O'zem.'ôsem.                       | Paru'ah.pârûah.                    | p'ôr.                              |
| Neto'phah.nê'tôphah.                    |                                     | Ozi'as.                                | Parva'im.parwâyim.                 | Pe' res.                           |
| Neto'phathite (Neto'-phathi).           |                                     | Oz'ni.'oznî.                       | Pa'sach.pâ-akh.                    | p'rês.                             |
| Nezi'ah.nê'zâh.                         |                                     | Oz'nite.                               | Pas-dam'mim.pas dammim.            | Pe'resh.                           |
| Ne'zib.nê'zîbh.                         |                                     |                                        | Pase'ah (Phase'ah).pâsêah.         | Pe'rez.                            |
| Nib haz.nibhaz.                         |                                     |                                        | Pash'ur (R.V. Pash'-hur).          | p'eres.                            |
|                                             |                                     |                                        | pashûr.                                | Pe'ezite (R.V.).                   |
|                                             |                                     |                                        | Pat'ara.                               | Per'ez-uz'za (-uzzah).             |
|                                             |                                     |                                        | Path'ros.pathrôs.                  | p'eres'uzzâ ('uzzah).              |
|                                             |                                     |                                        | Path'rusim.pathrûsim.              | Per'ga.                            |
|                                             |                                     |                                        | Pat'mos.                               | Per'gamos (R.V. Per'-gamum).   |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Peri'da.                           |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | p'ridhâ.                           |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Per'izzite.                        |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Per'sia.                           |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | pâras.                             |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Per'sian.                          |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Per'sis.                           |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Peru'da.                           |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | p'êrûdhâ.                          |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Peter.                             |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Pethah'iah.                        |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | p'ethayah.                         |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Pethor.                            |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | p'ethôr.                           |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Peth'uel.                          |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | p'ethû'êl.                         |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Peul'thai (R.V. Peul'-lethai). |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | p'ull'ethai.                       |
|                                             |                                     |                                        |                                        | Pha'lec.                           |

|                                      |                                      |                                                    |                                             |                                          |
|--------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|
| Phal'tu.pallú.                   | Pil'tai.piltai.                  |                                                    | Rami'ah.ran.yah                         | Reu'ben.r'ûbhên.                     |
| Phal'ti.paltî.                   | Pi'non.pînôn.                    | Q                                                  | Ra'moth.râmôth.                         | Reu'benite.r'û'benite.               |
| Phal'tiel.paltî'el.              | Pi'ram.pirâm.                    | Quar'tus.Quirin'ius (R.V.).                    | Ra'moth-gil'ead.râmôth gil'adh.         | Reu'el.r'û'el.                       |
| Phanu'el (Phan'uel).                 | Pira'thon.pir'âthôn.             | R                                                  | Ra'pha.râphâ ; râphah.                  | Reu'mah.r'û'mah.                     |
| *Pha'raoh.par'ôh.                | Pira'thonite.Pis'gah.pisgah. | Ra'ama (R.V.).ra'mâ.                           | Ra'phah (R.V.).râphah.                  | Re'zeph.reseph.                      |
| Pha'raoh-hoph'ra.par'ôh hophra'. | Pis'ia.pishôn.                   | Ra'amah.ra'mah ; ra'mâ.                        | Ra'phu.râphû.                           | Rezi'a.risyâ.                        |
| Pha'raoh-ne'cho.par'ôh n'khô.    | Pi'son (R.V. Pi'shon).               | Ra'umi'ah.ra'amyah.                            | Reai'ah (Reai'a).r'ayah.                | Re'zin.r'sîn.                        |
| Pha'res.                             | Pis'pah (R.V. Pis'pa).               | *Raam'ses.ra'amsês.                            | Re'ba.rebha'.                           | Re'zon.r'zôn.                        |
| Pha'rez.peres (pâres).           | Pi'thom.pithôm.                  | Rab'bah.rabbah (rabbath).                      | Rebec'ca.ribbkah.                       | Rhe'gium.rhe'su.                     |
| Phar'isee.                           | Pi'thon.pithôn.                  | Rab'bath.rabbah (rabbath).                     | Re'chab.rêkhâbh.                        | Rho'da.Rhodes.                       |
| Pha'rosh.par'ôsh.                | Plei'ades.kimah.                 | [Rab'bi.]Rab'bith.hâ-rabbith.              | Re'chah.rêkhah.                         | Ri'bai.ribhai.                       |
| Phar'par.parpar.                 | Poch'ereth.pôkhereth.            | [Rabbo'ni.]Rab-mag.rabh magh.              | Re'chah.rêkhah.                         | Rib'lah.riblah.                      |
| Phar'zite.                           | Poch'ereth - hazze-ba'im (R.V.). | Rab-sa'ris.rabh sâris.                         | Reelai'ah.r'êlâyah.                     | Rim'mon.rimmôn.                      |
| Phase'ah.pâsêah.                 | Phe'be.                              | Rab-sha'keh.rabh shâkeh.                       | Re'gem.reghem.                          | Rimmo'no (R.V.).rimmônô.             |
| *Pheni'ce.                           | *Pheni'ce.Phenic'ia.             | [Ra'ca.]Ra'chab.Ra'chal (R.V. Ra'câl).     | Re'gem-me'lech.reghem melek.            | Rim'mon-pa'rez (R.V.Rim'mon-pe'rez). |
| Phi'beseth.pî bheseth.           | Phi'chol (R.V. Phi'col).pîkhôl.  | Ra'chal (R.V. Ra'câl).                             | Rehab'i'ah.r'habhiyah (-yâhû).          | Rim'mon peres (pâres).                   |
| Philadel'phia.                       | Phile'mon.                           | Ra'chab.râkhâl.                                | Re'lob.r'hôbh.                          | Rin'nah.rinnah.                      |
| Phile'tus.                           | Phil'ip.                             | Ra'chel.râhêl.                                 | Rehobo'am.r'habh'âm.                    | Ri'phath.riphath.                    |
| *Philip'pi.                          | Philip'pian.                         | Rad'dai.raddai.                                | Re'loboth.r'hôblôth.                    | Ris'sah.rissah.                      |
| Philis'tia.pesheth.              | Philis'tia.pesheth.              | Ra'gau.ragu'el (Rag'uel).                      | Re'hum.r'hûm.                           | Rith'mah.rithmah.                    |
| Phil'istim.peshitim.             | Phil'istines.peshitim.           | Ragu'el (Rag'uel).r'û'el.                      | Re'hum.r'hûm.                           | Rizi'a (R.V.).risyâ.                 |
| Philo'logus.                         | Phin'ehas.pin'hâs.               | Ra'hab.râhâbh ; rahabh.                        | Re'i.r'êi.                              | Riz'pah.rispah.                      |
| Phle'gon.                            | Phœ'be (R.V.).                       | Ra'ham.raham.                                  | Re'kem.re'em.                           | Robo'am (R.V. Reho-bo'am).           |
| Phœ'be (R.V.).                       | Phœ'nia (R.V.).                      | Ra'hel.râhêl.                                  | Remali'ah.r'malyâhû.                    | Ro'danim (R.V.).rôdhânim.            |
| Phœ'nix (R.V.).                      | Phry'gia.                            | Ra'kem.râkem.                                  | Re'meth.remeth.                         | Ro'gelim.rôgh'lim.                   |
| Phry'gia.                            | Phu'rah.pûrah.                   | Rak'kath.rak'kath.                             | Rem'mon.rimmôn.                         | Roh'gah.roh'gah.                     |
| Phu'rah.pûrah.                   | Phut.pût.                        | Rak'kon.hâ-rak'kôn.                            | Rem'mon-metho'ar.rimmon ham-m'etho'ar.  | Romani'tie'zer.rônanti' ezer.        |
| Phygel'us (R.V. Phyg'-elus).     | Phu'vah.pûwah.                   | Ram.râm.                                       | Rem'phan.reph'ael.                      | Ro'man.Rome.                         |
| Pibeseth.pî bheseth.             | Phygel'us (R.V. Phyg'-elus).     | Ra'ma.Ra'mah.hâ-râmâh.                     | Re'phah.rephah.                         | Rosh.rôsh.                           |
| Pi'hah'i'roth.pî hahirôth.       | Pur.pûr.                         | Ra'math.râmâth.                                | Re'phah.rephah.                         | Ru'fus.Ruha'mah.ruhâmah.         |
| Pi'late.                             | Pu'rah (R.V.).pûrah.             | Ramath'a'im-zo'phim.hâ-râmâthayim sô-phim. | Re'phan (R.V.).Reph'idim.r'phidhim. | Ru'mah.rûmah.                        |
| Pil'dash.pildâsh.                | Pu'rim.pûrim.                    | Ra'mathite.Ra'math-le'hi.râmâth l'hi.      | Re'phan (R.V.).Reph'idim.r'phidhim. | Ruth.rûth.                           |
| Pil'eha (R.V. Pil'ha).               | Pute'oli.Pu'thite (R.V.).        | Ra'math-miz'peh.râmâth ham-mispeh.             | Re'sen.resen.                           |                                          |
| pilhâ.                               | Pu'tiel.pûti'el.                 | Ram'eses.ra'mêsês.                             | Re'sheph.resheph.                       | [Sabach'thani.][Saba'oth.]           |
|                                      | Pyr'rhus (R.V.).                     |                                                    | Re'u.r'û.                               | Sabe'an.sh'bhâ'im ; s'bhâ'im.        |

|                                                                |                                                    |                                         |                                             |                                                        |
|----------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|
| Sab'ta.sabtâ.                                              | Sar'gon.sar'ghôn.                              | Ser'gius.Se rug.s'rug.          | Sham'ma.shammâ.                         | Shebnah (R.V.).shebhnâh.                           |
| Sab'tah.sabtâh.                                            | Sa'rid.sâridh.                                 | Seth.shêth.                         | Sham'mah.shammâh.                       | Sheb'uel.shêbhû'êl.                                |
| Sab'techa(h) (R.V.).(Sab'teca).sabht'khâ.              | Sa'ron.Sar'sechim.sar'sekhîm.              | Se'thur.s'thûr.                     | Sham'mai.shammâi.                       | Shechani'ah (She-cani'ah).shêkhanyah (-yâhû).  |
| Sa'car.sâkhâr.                                             | Sa'ruch.Sa'tan.s'wênêh.                    | Seve'neh (R.V.).s'wênêh.            | Sham'moth.shammôth.                     | She'chem.shêkhem (shekhem).                        |
| Sad'ducee.Sa'doc.Sa'la.Sa'lah.shelah (shâlah). | Saul.shâ'âl.                                   | Shaalab'bin.sha'labbin.             | Shammu'a (Sham-mu'ah).shammû'a.     | She'chemite.Shede'ur.shêdhê'ûr.                |
| Sal'amis.Sala'thiel.sh'altî'êl.                        | Sce'va.Seyth'ian.Se'ba.s'bhâ.          | Shaal'bim.sha'al'bbîm.              | Sham'sherai.shamsh'rai.                 | She'erah (R.V.).shê'erah.                          |
| Sal'chah (Sal'cah;R.V. Sal'ecah).sal'khah.             | Se'bam (R.V.).s'bbâm.                          | Shaal'bonita.Sha'aph.sha'aph.   | Sha'pham.shâphâm.                       | Shehari'ah.shêharyah.                              |
| Sa'lem.shâlêm.                                             | Se'bat.sh'bhât.                                | Shaara'im.sha'arayim.               | Sha'phan.shâphân.                       | She'lah.shêlah; shelah.                            |
| Sal'lim.Sallai.Sallu.sallû; sallû'.                | Seca'cah.s'khâkhah.                            | Shaash'gaz.sha'ashgaz.              | Sha'phat.shâphât.                       | She'lanite.Shelemi'ah.shelemyah (-yâhû).       |
| Sal'ma.sâlmâ.                                              | Se'chu (R.V. Se'cu).sêkhû.                     | Shab'bethai.shabb'ethai.            | Sha'pher.shepher (shâpher).             | She'leph.sheleph.                                  |
| Sal'mai (R.V.).sâlmâi.                                     | Secun'dus.Se'gul.s'ghûbh.                  | Shachi'a.shâkhe'yah.                | Sha'phir (R.V.).shâphîr.                | She'lesh.shêlesh.                                  |
| Sal'mon.sâlmôn; sâlmôn.                                    | Se'ir.sê'ir.                                   | Shad'dai.shaddai.                   | Sha'rai.shârai.                         | Shelo'mi.shêlômî.                                  |
| Salmô'ne.Sal'me.Sa'lu.sâlû'.                       | Sei'rath (R.V. Sei'rah).has-s'irah.            | *Sha'drach.shadrakh.                | Shara'im.sha'arayim.                    | Shelo'mith.shêlômîth; shêlômôth.                   |
| Sama'ria.shôm'rôn.                                         | Se'la (Selah).sela'.                           | Sha'ge.shâghê'.                     | Sha'rar.shârâr.                         | Shelo'moth.shêlômôth.                              |
| Samar'itan.Sam'gar-ne'bo.samgar n'bhô.                 | Se'lah.selah.                                  | Sha'har.shâhar.                     | Share'zer.shar'eser.                    | Shelu'miel.shêlûmî'êl.                             |
| Sam'lah.sâmlah.                                            | Se'la-hammah'lekoth.sela' ham-mah'lekôth.      | Shahara'im.shah'arayim.             | Sha'ron.shârôn.                         | Shem.shêm.                                         |
| Sa'mos.Samo'thra'cia.                                      | Se'led.seledh.                                 | Shabazi'mah.shah'simah.             | Sha'ronite.shârônite.                   | She'ma.shema'; shêmâ'.                             |
| Sam'son.shimshôn.                                          | Selen'cia.Sem.                                 | Shal'lem.shâlêm.                    | Sharu'hen.shârûhen.                     | She'ma'ah.hash-shêmâ'ah.                           |
| Sam'uel.sh'mû'êl.                                          | Sem.Semachi'ah.s'makhyâhû.                 | Shal'im.sha'lim.                    | Sha'shai.shâshai.                       | Shemai'ah.sh'ma'yah (-yâhû).                       |
| Sanbal'lat.sanballat.                                      | Sem'ei (R.V. Sem'ein).Sena'ah.has-s'nâ'ah. | Shali'sha.shâlîshah.                | Sha'shak.shâshak.                       | Shemari'ah.sh'maryah (-yâhû).                      |
| Sansan'nah.sansannah.                                      | Se'neh.seneh.                                  | Shal'lecheth.shalleketh.            | Sha'ul.shâ'ûl.                          | Sheme'ber.shem'êbher.                              |
| Saph.saph.                                                 | Se'nir.s'nîr.                                  | Shall'um.shallûm.                   | Sha'ulite.shâ'ûlîte.                    | Shemed (R.V.).shemer (shâmer).                     |
| Sa'phir.shâphîr.                                           | Sennach'erib.sanhêribh.                        | Shall'un.shallûn.                   | Sha'veh.shâwêh.                         | She'mer.shemer.                                    |
| Sapphi'ra.Sa'rah (Sa'ra).sârah; sârah.                 | Senu'ah.has-s'nû'ah.                           | Shal'mai.shalmâi; sâlmâi.           | Sha'veh-kiriatha'im.shâwêh kiryâtheyim. | Shemi'dah (Shemi'da).sh'mîdhâ'.                    |
| Sa'rai.sârai.                                              | Se'phar.s'phâr.                                | Shal'man.shalman.                   | Shav'sha.shawshâ.                       | [Shemi'nith.hash-shêminîth.]                       |
| Sa'rapph.sârâph.                                           | Sepha'rad.s'phârâdh.                           | *Shalmane'ser.shalman'eser.         | She'al.sh'âl.                           | Shemi'daite.Shemira'moth.shemîrâmôth.          |
| Sar'dis.Sar'dite.Sarep'ta.                             | Sepharva'im.s'pharwayim.                       | Sha'ma.shâmâ'.                      | Sheal'tiel.sh'altî'el; shaltî'êl.       | Shem'uel.shêrû'êl.                                 |
|                                                                | Seph'arvite.Se'rah.sêrah (sârah).          | Shamari'ah.sh'maryah.               | Sheari'ah.sh'aryah.                     | Shen.shên.                                         |
|                                                                | Serai'ah.sêrayah; sêrayâhû.                    | Shamed.shemer (shâmer).             | She'ar-ja'shub.sh'âr-jâshûbh.           | Shen'azar (R.V. Shen-az'zar).shen'assar.       |
|                                                                | [Ser'aphim.sêrâphîm.]                          | Sham'gar.shamgar.                   | She'ba.sh'bhâ; shebba'.                 | Shen'uir.s'nîr.                                    |
|                                                                | Se'red.seredh.                                 | Sham'huth.shamhûth.                 | She'bah.shibb'ah.                       | She'pham.sh'phâm.                                  |
|                                                                |                                                    | Sham'ir.shâmîr.                     | She'bam.s'bbâm.                         | Shephati'ah (She-phatî'ah).sh'phatyah (-yâhû). |
|                                                                |                                                    | Sham'tai (R.V.).shamlai or shalmâi. | She'banah.shebhanyah (-yâhû).           |                                                        |
|                                                                |                                                    |                                         | She'ber.shebher.                        |                                                        |
|                                                                |                                                    |                                         | Sheb'na.shebhnâ; shebhnah.              |                                                        |

|                                       |                                                |                                                                  |                            |                                       |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Shepher (R.V.).shepher (shâpher). | Shim'eah.shim'ah; shim'â; shim-'ah.    | Sho'choh.sôkhôh.                                             | Sí'don.sîdhôn.         | So'tai.sôtai.                     |
| She'phi.sh'phi.                   | Shim'eam.shim'am.                          | Sho'ham.shôham.                                              | Sido'nian.sî'hon.      | Sta'chys.Stephanas.               |
| She'pho.sh'phô.                   | Shim'eath.shim'âth.                        | Sho'mer.shômér.                                              | Si'hor.shîhôr.         | Ste'phen.                             |
| Shephu'phan.sh'phûphân.           | Shim'eathite.Shim'ei (Shî'mi,Shim'hi). | Sho'phach.shôphakh.                                          | Si'las.Sill'a.         | Sto'icks.                             |
| She'rah.she'rah.                  | Shim'eon.shim'ôn.                          | Sho'phan.shôphân.                                            | Silo'ah.hash-shelah.   | Su'ah.sûah.                       |
| Sherebi'ah.shêrêbhyah.            | Shi'mite (R.V. Shim'-eite).                | [Shoshan'nim.shôshannîm.]                                    | Silo'am.Silva'nus.     | Suc'coth.sukkôth.                 |
| She'resh.sheresh.                 | Shim'ma.shim'â.                            | Shu'a.shû'â; shû'â.                                          | Sim'eon.shim'ôn.       | Suc'coth-be'noth.sukkôth benôth.  |
| Shere'zer.shar'eser.              | Shi'mon.shimôn.                            | Shu'ah.shû'â; shû'ah; shû'ah.                                | Sim'eonite.Sî'mon.     | Such'athite (R.V. Suc'-athite).   |
| She'shach.shêshakh.               | Shim'rath.shimrâth.                        | Shu'al.shû'âl.                                               | Sim'ri.shimrî.         | Suk'kiims (R.V. Suk'-kiim).       |
| She'shai.shêshai.                 | Shim'ri.shimrî.                            | Shub'ael.shûbblâ'êl.                                         | Sin.sîn.               | Suph (R.V.).sûph.                 |
| She'shan.shêshân.                 | Shim'rith.shimrîth.                        | Shu'hah (R.V.).shûhah.                                       | Sí'na.Sî'nai.          | Su'phah (R.V.).sûphah.            |
| Sheshbaz'zar.shêshbazzar.         | Shim'rom.shimrôn.                          | Shu'ham.shûhâm.                                              | Sí'nei.Sî'nai.         | Sur.sûr.                          |
| Sheth.shêth.                      | Shim'ron.shimrôn.                          | Shu'hamite.Shu'hite.                                         | Sí'nim.Sî'nim.         | Su'sanchita.                          |
| She'thar.shêthâr.                 | Shim'ronite.Shim'ron-me'ron.               | Shu'lamite (R.V. Shu'-lamite).                               | Sí'nite.Sî'on.         | Susan'na.                             |
| She'thar-boz'nai (R.V.-boz'enai). | Shim'ronite.Shim'ron-me'ron.               | Shu'mathite.Shu'nammite.                                     | Sí'ón.Sî'ón.           | Su'si.sûsi.                       |
| She'va.shewâ.                     | Shim'shai.shimshai.                        | Shu'nem.shûnêm.                                              | Siph'moth.sîphmôth.    | Sy'char.                              |
| Shi'bah (R.V.).shibbâh.           | Shi'nab.shim'âbh.                          | Shu'ni.shûnî.                                                | Sip'pai.sippai.        | Sy'chem.                              |
| *[Shib'boleth.shibbôleth.]        | Shi'nar.shim'âr.                           | Shu'nite.Shu'pham.                                           | Sí'rah.sirah.          | Sy'ne.swênêh.                     |
| Shib'mah.shihmah.                 | Shi'phi.shiphî.                            | Shu'pham.shêphûphâm.                                         | Sir'ion.sîryôn.        | Syn'eon (R.V.).                       |
| Shic'ron.shikk'rôn(ah).           | Shiph'mite.Shiph'rah.                      | Shu'phamite.hash-shûphâmî.                                   | Sis'amai (R.V. Sis'mai).   | Syn'tyche.                            |
| [Shiggai'on.shiggâyôn.]           | Shiph'tan.shiph'tân.                       | Shup'pim.shuppim.                                            | Sis'era.siserâ.        | Syracuse.                             |
| [Shig'ionoth.]shigh'yônôth.       | Shi'sha.shishâ.                            | Shur.shûr.                                                   | Sith'ri (R.V.).sithrî. | Syr'ia.'arâm.                     |
| Shi'hon (R.V. Shi'on).                | Shi'shak.shishakh.                         | Shu'shan.shûshan.                                            | Sit'nah.sîtnah.        | Syr'ian.Syrophenic'ian.           |
| Shi'hor.shîhôr.                   | Shit'rai.shitrai.                          | Shu'shanchites (R.V.).[Shu'shan e'duth.shûshan 'êdhûth.] | Sí'van.siwân.          |                                       |
| Shi'hor-lib'nath.shîhôr libnâth.  | Shit'tim.shit'tîm.                         | *Shuth'alhite (R.V.Shuthel'ahite).                           | Smyr'na.So.            | T                                     |
| Shik'keron (R.V.).shikk'rôn(ah).  | Shi'za.shizâ.                              | Shuth'elah.shûthelah.                                        | Sô'cho.sôkhô.          | Ta'anach.ta'anâkh; ta'nâkh.       |
| Shil'hi.shilhî.                   | Sho'a.shô'â.                               | Sí'a.sî'â.                                                   | So'coh (So'choh).          | Ta'anath-shi'loh.ta'anath shilôh. |
| Shil'him.shilhîm.                 | Sho'bab.shôbbâbh.                          | Sí'aha.sî'ahâ.                                               | So'di.sôdhî.           | Tabba'oth.tabbhâ'ôth.             |
| Shil'lem.shillêm.                 | Sho'bach.shôbhakh.                         | Sib'becai (Sib'bechai).                                          | Sed'om.sêdhôm.         | Tabbath.tabbâth.                  |
| Shil'lemite.                          | Sho'bai.shôbbhai.                          | [Sib'boleth.sibbôleth.]                                      | Sod'ome.Sod'omite.     | Tab'eal.tabbê'al.                 |
| Shilo'ah.shilôah.                 | Sho'bal.shôbbâl.                           | Sib'mah.sibhmah.                                             | Sol'omon.shêlômôh.     | Tab'eel.tabbê'êl.                 |
| Shi'loh.shilôh.                   | Sho'bek.shôbbêk.                           | Sib'raim.sibhrayim.                                          | So'pater.Sophereth.    | Tab'erah.tablê'rah.               |
| Shi'loni.shîlonî.                 | Sho'bi.shôbbî.                             | Sí'chem.shêkhem.                                             | So'rek.sô'êk.          | Tab'itha.                             |
| Shi'lonite.                           | Sho'co (Sho'cho).                              | Sid'dim.siddîm.                                              | Sosip'ater.Sosthenes.  | Ta'bor.tâbhôr.                    |
| Shil'shah.shilshah.               |                                                |                                                                  |                            | Tab-rim'on (R.V. Tab-rim'mon).    |
| Shim'ea.shim'â.                   |                                                |                                                                  |                            | Tabhrimmon.                           |
|                                       |                                                |                                                                  |                            | Tach'monite (R.V.Tahchem'onite).  |
|                                       |                                                |                                                                  |                            | Tad'mor.tadlmôr.                  |
|                                       |                                                |                                                                  |                            | Ta'han.tâhan.                     |
|                                       |                                                |                                                                  |                            | Ta'hanite                             |

|                                            |                                                                     |                                                            |                                                        |                                               |
|--------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| Tahap'anes.tahpanhês.                  | Tel-har'esha (Tel-har'sa; R.V. Tel-har'sha).têl harshâ. | Til'gath-pilne'ser.tighlath piln'eser (pil-neser). | Trachoni'tis.Tro'as.                               | Uzzi'ah.'uzziyah (-yâhû).                 |
| Ta'hash (R.V.).tahash.                 | Tel-me'lah.têl melah.                                           | Ti'loa.tilôn.                                          | Trogyl'ium.                                            | Uz'ziel.'uzzi'êl.                         |
| Ta'hath.tahath.                        | Te'lah.telah.                                                   | Timæ'us.timnâ.                                         | Troph'imus.                                            | Uz'zielite.                                   |
| Tahpan'hea.tahpanhêa.                  | Tela'im.têlâ'im.                                                | Tim'na.timna' (timnâ').                                | Tryphe'na.                                             |                                               |
| Tah'penes.tahp'nês.                    | Telas'sar.têlâssâr.                                             | Tim'nah.timnah; timnâ'.                                | Trypho'sa.                                             |                                               |
| Tahre'a.tahreâ.                        | Te'lem.telem.                                                   | Tim'nath.timnâth.                                      | Tu'bal.tûbhal.                                     | ▽                                             |
| Tah'tim-hod'shi.tah'tim hodhshî.       | Te'ma.têmâ.                                                     | Tim'nath-he'rea.timnath heres.                         | Tu'bal-cain.tûbhal kayin.                          | Va'heb (R.V.).wâhêbh.                     |
| *[Tali'tha cu'mi.]                         | Te'mah (R.V.).temat (tâmah).                                    | Tim'nath-se'rah.timnath serah.                         | Tych'eus.tyran'us.                                 | Vajeza'tha (R.V. Va-za'tha).waizâthâ. |
| Tal'mai.talmai.                        | Te'man.têman.                                                   | Tim'nite.                                                  | Tyre (Ty'rus).                                         | Vani'ah.wanyah.                           |
| Tal'mon.talmôn.                        | Te'mani.têmani.                                                 | Ti'mon.                                                    | U                                                      | Vash'ni.washni.                           |
| Ta'inah.temah (tâmah).                 | Te'meni.têmeni.                                                 | Timo'theus.                                                | U'cal.'ûkhal or 'ukkâl.                            | Vash'ti.washti.                           |
| Ta'mar.tâmâr.                          | Te'rah.terah.                                                   | Tim'othy.                                                  | U'el.'û'el.                                        | Voph'si.wophsi.                           |
| Tam'muz.tammuz.                        | [Ter'aphim.terâpnim.]                                           | Tiph'sah.tiphsah.                                      | U'lai.'ûlai.                                       |                                               |
| Ta'nach.ta'nakh.                       | Te'resh.teresh.                                                 | Ti'ras.tirâs.                                          | U'lam.'ûlam.                                       | Σ                                             |
| Tanhu'meth.tanhûmeth.                  | Ter'tius.                                                           | Ti'rathite.tir'âthi.                                   | U'la.'ûllâ.                                        | Za'ana'im.sa'nannim.                      |
| Pa'phath.pâphath.                      | Tertul'us.                                                          | Tirha'kah.tirhâkah.                                    | Um'mah.'ummah.                                     | Za'anau.sa'nân.                           |
| Tappu'ah.tappûah.                      | *Thad'deus.                                                         | Tir'hanah.tirh'nah.                                    | Un'ni.'unni.                                       | Za'anau'nim.sa'nannim.                    |
| Ta'rah.terah (târah).                  | Tha'hash.tahash.                                                | Tiri'a.tirya.                                          | Un'no (R.V.).'unni (or ? 'unnô).                   | Za'avan.za'awân.                          |
| Tar'aluh.tar'alâh.                     | Tha'mah.temah (tâmah).                                          | Tirsha'tha.hat-tirshâthâ.                              | [Uphar'sin.ûpharsin.]                              | Za'bad.zâbhâdh.                           |
| Tare'a.ta'reâ.                         | Tha'mar.                                                            | Tir'zah.tirzah.                                        | U'phaz.'ûphâz.                                     | Zab'bai.zabbai.                           |
| Tar'pelite.tarp'layâ.                  | Tha'ra.                                                             | Tish'bite.tishbî.                                      | Ur.'ûr.                                            | Zab'bud.zakkûr (or ? zâbhâdh).            |
| Tar'shish.tarshish.                    | Thar'shish.tarshish.                                            | Ti'tus.tist.                                           | *Ur'bane (R.V. Urba-nus).                          | Zab'di.zabhdî.                            |
| Tar'sus.                                   | The'bez.têbnês.                                                 | Ti'zite.tizî.                                          | U'ri.'ûri.                                         | Zab'diel.zabhdî'el.                       |
| Tar'tak.tartak.                        | Thel'as'ar.têlâssâr.                                            | To'ah.têah.                                            | Uri'ah.'ûriyah.                                    | Za'bud.zâbhûdh.                           |
| Tar'tan.tartân.                        | Theoph'ilus.                                                        | Tob.tôbh.                                              | Uri'as.'ûriyah.                                    | Zab'ulon.zâbhûlôn.                        |
| Tat'nai (R.V. Ta'-tenai).tatt'nai. | Thessal'onian.                                                      | Tob-adoni'jah.tôbh 'adhônîyah.                         | U'riel.'ûrî'el.                                    | Zac'cai.zakkai.                           |
| Te'bah.tebah.                          | Thes'saloni'ca.                                                     | Tobi'ah.tôbnîyah (-yâhû).                              | Uri'jah.'ûriyah (-yâhû).                           | Zac'chae'us.zakkâr.                       |
| Tebali'ah.têbhalyâhû.                  | Theu'das.                                                           | Tobi'jah.tôbnîyah (-yâhû).                             | U'thai.'ûthai.                                     | Zac'cur (Zac'chur).zakkâr.                |
| Te'beth.têbhêth.                       | Thimna'thah.timnâthah.                                          | To'chen.tôkhen.                                        | Uz.'ûs.                                            | Zachari'ah.z'kharîyah (-yâhû).            |
| Tehaph'nehes.têhaphn'hês.              | Thom'as.                                                            | Togar'mah.tôgharmah.                                   | U'zal.'ûzai.                                       | Zachari'as.Za'cher.zekher (zâkher).   |
| Tehin'nah.têhinna.                     | Thyati'ra.                                                          | To'hu.tôhû.                                            | U'zal.'ûzâl.                                       | Za'dok.sâdlôk.                            |
| [Te'kel.têkêl.]                        | Tibe'rias.                                                          | To'i.tô'î.                                             | Uz'za.'uzzâ; 'uzzah.                               | Za'ham.zaham.                             |
| Teko'a (Teko'ah).têkôâ.                | Tibe'rius.                                                          | Tok'hath (R.V.).tokhath.                               | Uz'zah.'uzzah.                                     | Za'ir.sâ'ir.                              |
| Teko'ite.                                  | Tib'hath.tîbhath.                                               | To'la.tôlâ.                                            | Uz'zen-she'rah (R.V.-she'erah).'uzzân she'rah. | Za'laph.sâlâph.                           |
| Tel-a'bibtêl 'âbbîbh                   | Ti'dal.tidhâl.                                                  | To'lad.tôladh.                                         | Uz'zi.'uzzi.                                       | Zal'mon.salmôn.                           |
|                                            | *Tig'lath-pile'ser.tighlath pil'eser (pil-ser).             | To'laite.tôlaite.                                      | Uzzi'a.'uzziyâ.                                    | Zal'mo'nah.salmônah.                      |
|                                            | Tik'vah.tikwah.                                                 | To'phet.tôphet.                                        |                                                        | Zal'mun'na.salmunnâ.                      |
|                                            | Tik'vath.tokvath.                                               | To'phet (To'p'nerh).tôpheth.                           |                                                        |                                               |
|                                            |                                                                     | To'u.tô'û.                                             |                                                        |                                               |

|                                                                                           |                                                                |                                                                                    |                                                |                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Zamzum'mim.zamzum'mim.                                                                | Zeb'udah.z <sup>eb</sup> huddah.                           | Ze'rah.zeraḥ (zārah).                                                          | Zid'dim.has-siddim.                        | Ziv (R.V.).zīw.              |
| Zano'ah.zānōah.                                                                       | Ze'bul.z <sup>eb</sup> hūl.                                | Zeruhi'ah.z <sup>er</sup> ahyah.                                               | Zidki'jah.sidhkiyah.                       | Ziz.sīs.                     |
| *Zaph'nath-paan'eah.zāph'nath pa'nēah.                                                | Zeb'ulonite.z <sup>eb</sup> hūlūn.                         | Ze'rahite (R.V.).zarḥi.                                                        | Zi'don.sidhōn.                             | Zi'za.zizā.                  |
| Zaphenath - pan'eah(R.V.).sāph'nath pa'nēah.                                      | Zeb'ulunite.Zechari'ah.z <sup>ek</sup> haryah (-yāhū). | Ze'red.zereḥ.                                                                  | Zido'nian.Zif.zīw.                     | Zi'zah.zizah.                |
| Za'phon.saphōn.                                                                       | Ze'cher (R.V.).zekher (zākher).                            | Zere'da (R.V. Zere'-dah).has-s <sup>er</sup> ēdhah.                        | Zi'ha.sīhā.                                | Zo'an.sō'an.                 |
| Za'ra.Za'rah.zeraḥ (zārah).                                                       | Ze'dad.s <sup>ed</sup> hādḥ (s <sup>ed</sup> hādḥah).      | Zereda'thah (R.V.Zere'dah).s <sup>er</sup> ēdhāthah.                       | Zik'lag.siklagh.                           | Zo'ar.sō'ar.                 |
| Zar'eah.sor'ah.                                                                       | Zedeki'ah.sidhkiyah (-yāhū).                               | Zere'rath (R.V. Zere'-rah).s <sup>er</sup> ērāth or s <sup>er</sup> ērāth. | Zil'lah.sillāh.                            | Zo'ba.sōbhā.                 |
| Zar'eathite.sor'āthi.                                                                 | Ze'eb.z <sup>eb</sup> ebh.                                 | Ze'resh.zereḥ.                                                                 | Zil'pah.zilpah.                            | Zo'bah.sōbhah.               |
| Za'red.zereḥ (zāredh).                                                                | Ze'lah (R.V. once Ze'la).sēlā' ; sēlā'.                    | Ze'reth.sere'th.                                                               | Zil'thai (R.V. Zil'-lethai).sill'thai. | Zobe'bah.has-sōbhēbhah.      |
| Zar'eaphath.sar'phath.                                                                | Zel'ek.sēlek.                                              | Ze'reth-sha'har (R.V.).sere'th hash-shaḥar.                                    | Zim'mah.zimmaḥ.                            | Zo'har.sōḥar.                |
| Zar'etan (Zar'than).sār'thān.                                                         | Zeloph'ehad.sēlophādḥ.                                     | Ze'ri.s <sup>er</sup> i.                                                       | Zim'man.zimrān.                            | Zo'heleth.zōheleth.          |
| Zar'ethan (R.V.).sār'thān.                                                            | Zelo'tes.Zel'zah.sēlāh.                                | Ze'ror.s <sup>er</sup> ōr.                                                     | Zim'ri.zimrī.                              | Zo'heth.zōhēth.              |
| Za'reth-sha'har.sere'th hash-shaḥar.                                                  | Zemara'im.sēmārayim.                                       | Zeru'uh.s <sup>er</sup> ū'ah.                                                  | Zin.sīn.                                   | Zo'phah.sōphah.              |
| Zar'hite.zarḥi.                                                                       | Zem'arite.sēmārī.                                          | *Zerub'abel.z <sup>er</sup> ubbābhel.                                          | Zi'na.zīnā.                                | Zo'phai.sōphai.              |
| Zar'tanah.sār'thān(ah).                                                               | Zemi'ra.zēmīrah.                                           | Zeru'ah.s <sup>er</sup> ūyah.                                                  | Zi'on.sīyōn.                               | Zo'phar.sōphar.              |
| Zat'tu (Zat'thu).za'tū'.                                                              | Ze'nau.sēnān.                                              | Ze'tham.zēthām.                                                                | Zi'or.sī'ōr.                               | Zo'phim.sōphīm.              |
| Za'van.zu'awān.                                                                       | Ze'nas.Zephani'ah.sēphanyah (-yāhū).                   | Ze'than.zēthān.                                                                | Ziph.zīph.                                 | Zo'rah (Zo'reah).sor'ah.     |
| Za'za.zāzā.                                                                           | Ze'phath.sēphath.                                          | Ze'thar.zē'har.                                                                | Zi'phah.zīphah.                            | Zo'rathite.sor'āthi.         |
| Zebadi'ah.z <sup>eb</sup> hādhyah (-yāhū).                                            | Zepha'thah.sēphāthah.                                      | Zi'a.zīā'.                                                                     | Zi'phims.zīphīm.                           | Zo'rite.Zorob'abel.          |
| Ze'bah.zēbah.                                                                         | Ze'phi.sēphī.                                              | Zi'ba.sībā'.                                                                   | Ziph'ion.sīp' yōn.                         | Zu'ar.sū'ār.                 |
| Zeba'im.sēbhāyim.                                                                     | Ze'pho.sēphō.                                              | Zib'eon.sīb'hōn.                                                               | Zi'phites.zīphīm.                          | Zuph.sūph.                   |
| Zeb'edee.Zebi'dah (R.V.).z <sup>eb</sup> huddah(or ? z <sup>eb</sup> hīdhah). | Ze'phon.sēphōn.                                            | Zibi'a.sībhyā.                                                                 | Ziph'ron.zīphrōn.                          | Zur.sūr.                     |
| Zebi'na.zēbhīnā.                                                                      | Ze'phonite.Zer.sēr.                                    | Zibi'ah.sībhyah.                                                               | Zip'por.sippōr.                            | Zu'riel.sūrī'ēl.             |
| Zebo'im (Zebo'iim).sēbhōyim ; sēbhō'im.                                               |                                                                | Zich'ri.zikhrī.                                                                | Zippo'rah.sippōrah.                        | Zu'ri-shad'dai.sūrī shaddai. |
|                                                                                           |                                                                |                                                                                    | Zith'ri.sithrī.                            | Zu'zimis (R.V. Zuzim).zūzīm. |

RECENT DISCOVERIES IN BIBLE LANDS

A Sketch by

WILLIAM F. ALBRIGHT

Ph.D., Litt.D., D.H.L., Th.D.

W. W. Spence Professor of Semitic Languages in Johns Hopkins University; formerly Director of the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem

---

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY
NEW YORK and LONDON

COPYRIGHT, 1936, BY
FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY
[Printed in the United States of America]

Copyright Under the Articles of the Copyright Convention of the Pan-American Republics and the United States

TABLE OF CONTENTS

| CHAPTER                                                                        | PAGE |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
| I. THE BIBLE AND THE ANCIENT NEAR EAST: FORMS AND METHODSOF RESEARCH ..... | 1    |
| II. THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT EGYPT .....                                        | 2    |
| III. THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT MESOPOTAMIA .....                                 | 8    |
| IV. THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT PALESTINE AND SYRIA .....                          | 14   |
| V. THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT ASIA MINOR.....                                     | 19   |
| VI. THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT PERSIA .....                                       | 20   |
| VII. THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT ARABIA.....                                       | 20   |
| VIII. THE CREATION OF THE WORLD IN THE ANCIENT ORIENTAL LITERA-TURES ..... | 21   |
| IX. MANKIND BEFORE AND DURING THE FLOOD.....                                   | 23   |
| X. THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE NATIONS.....                                        | 25   |
| XI. THE PATRIARCHAL AGE.....                                                   | 25   |
| XII. THE CANAANITES AND THEIR CULTURE.....                                     | 28   |
| XIII. MOSES, THE EXODUS, AND THE CONQUEST OF CANAAN.....                       | 29   |
| XIV. THE JUDGES AND THE UNITED MONARCHY.....                                   | 31   |
| XV. THE KINGDOM OF SAMARIA.....                                                | 33   |
| XVI. JUDAH BEFORE THE EXILE.....                                               | 34   |
| XVII. THE EXILE AND THE RESTORATION .....                                      | 35   |
| XVIII. INTERTESTAMENTAL HISTORY: MACEDONIANS AND MACCABÆANS.....               | 37   |
| XIX. THE HERODIAN RENAISSANCE.....                                             | 38   |
| XX. LIGHT ON THE NEW TESTAMENT FROM EGYPTIAN PAPYRI.....                       | 39   |
| XXI. ASIA MINOR AND GREECE IN THE AGE OF PAUL.....                             | 41   |
| XXII. NEW LIGHT ON THE EARLIEST VERSIONS OF THE BIBLE.....                     | 42   |
| XXIII. THE BIBLE IN THE CRUCIBLE OF NEW DISCOVERY.....                         | 43   |
| CHRONOLOGICAL TABLE .....                                                      | 44   |

RECENT DISCOVERIES IN BIBLE LANDS

A SKETCH BY

WILLIAM F. ALBRIGHT, Ph.D., Litt.D., D.H.L., Th.D.

W. W. Spence Professor of Semitic Languages in the Johns Hopkins University; Formerly Director of the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem

CHAPTER I

THE BIBLE AND THE ANCIENT NEAR EAST: FORMS AND METHODS OF RESEARCH

WHEN Adam Clarke published his famous Commentary on the Holy Scriptures (1810-26), in which he gathered together all available material for the elucidation of the Bible, nothing whatever was known about the world in which the Bible arose except what could be extracted from extant Greek and Latin authors. The ancient Orient was still mute; none of its scores of scripts and languages had yet been deciphered, and most were not even known by sight or name. Egypt, Mesopotamia, Palestine, Syria, Asia Minor, Persia, Arabia—all were silent. Surface exploration was in its infancy and excavation had not commenced. Since most of the fragmentary data on the ancient Orient in classical sources was erroneous, the picture then drawn of it was not only very dim and full of great blank spaces; the vague outlines were so badly distorted as to be almost unrecognizable to us today. From the chaos of prehistory the Bible projected as though it were a monstrous fossil, with no contemporary evidence to demonstrate its authenticity and its origin in a human world like ours.

The recovery of the ancient Orient is the result of extensive surface exploration, followed by intensive excavation. Thanks to the former, the geography of Bible Lands was mapped and their archaeological remains still standing above ground were recorded; ancient sites were examined and identified where possible; manners and customs, languages and traditions were studied and described before they were swept away by progressive waves of westernization and nationalism. Excavation brought to light ancient cities, with their palaces, temples, private houses, and tombs.

In these surface explorations and excavations, two main types of material have been discovered: written documents on stone, clay, wood, papyrus, leather, etc.; unwritten documents including everything from buildings and fortifications to artistic monuments, household objects, and above all, uncounted masses of pottery, broken and whole. The humble potsherd has proved to be more important for chronological purposes than any other human artifact, because of its abundance, its tenacity of form, and its relative indestructibility. The study of these two types of material has led to the development of forms and methods of research, following the same inductive and deductive principles which have created all branches of modern science.

In dealing with written documents of all classes, whether long or short, whether poetical epics, business and legal documents, or short formal inscriptions, there are four main stages to be considered: decipherment of the script, linguistic interpretation, philological exegesis, and utilization for historical purposes. The decipherment of an inscription may be a tedious process, as when an entirely unknown and complex script like Egyptian hieroglyphs or Babylonian cuneiform is read, or it may be a simple task when the script is well known and the difficulty is due to its poor state of preservation or comparative inaccessibility. The linguistic interpretation is a more technical matter, requiring less ingenuity and a better knowledge of modern linguistic method, especially as developed in the field of Indo-European languages. Many of the first students of ancient Oriental inscriptions used to arrive at their translations by use of conjecture and intuition; now we follow rigid rules of grammar, lexicography, and comparative linguistics; and the results are very much more correct. But the work of interpretation is not finished when the text is correctly translated. Now begins the task of the philologist (as distinct from the linguist), who compares the document with others of the same class, determines its character, investigates its verse-form or its literary category, and draws conclusions which may be utilized directly by the historian. Finally the historian attacks the documentary material, using it carefully and critically in order to reconstruct some phase of human history: political history and chronology, religious history, history of civilization, history of institutions and laws, etc. In practice the field is never subdivided in this fashion; the investigator is often decipherer, linguist, and philologist, or linguist, philologist, and historian. The two most important essentials for success are accuracy and critical spirit: without the strictest accuracy that is humanly attainable, the results are incorrect and often transmit errors which have been disproved by others; without critical method one throws away the assistance that may be derived from the codified experience of many other scholars.

The use of unwritten documents has been slower in establishing itself than the employment of inscriptional materials. As a result, the methodology of this field is not yet as far advanced. Here we find two main types of investigation, stratigraphy and typology. The former is concerned with the study of the exact succession in which objects are excavated in any site where we find superimposed layers (strata) of human occupation. The stratigraphic method may be applied almost everywhere in the Near East, owing to the fact that the same site was generally inhabited for many centuries, often for several millennia. It is most important in Southwestern Asia, least in Egypt, where excavators have limited themselves in the main to temples and cemeteries, neglecting the sites of ancient towns, which are nearly always inhabited today and are thus either inaccessible or uninteresting. Since a given region has a homogeneous culture at any one period, the objects belonging to it will be similar, whether they are excavated in the tenth stratum or in the second. By purely stratigraphic methods only a relative chronology can be obtained, but this may be reduced to absolute dates by a careful study of all inscribed or otherwise datable objects found in a given context. The typological method consists in the comparative study of all artifacts of a certain class, and often leads to valuable results for the history of art or of civilization generally. Thanks to the combination of both stratigraphy and typology, it is possible to set up a more refined chronology than otherwise attainable, and it is further possible to trace the movements by which civilization is diffused from a given center. The rapidly developing science of comparative archaeology has been created by the fusion of these two methods. When comparative archaeology is combined with the results secured from the philological study of written documents, it becomes possible to write a real history of civilization.

We shall not discuss the details of the relation between archaeological discovery and historico-literary criticism of the Bible here, since we have reserved it for Chapter XXIV, after we have outlined the principal discoveries which throw light on the Bible. The reader may rest assured: nothing has been found to disturb a reasonable faith, and nothing has been discovered which can disprove a single theological doctrine—except that of verbal inspiration, which is not included in any standard Christian creed. The real value of these discoveries lies elsewhere. The Bible now forms, humanly considered, part of a great whole, to the outside parts of which it can be related. Its languages, the life and customs of its peoples, its history, and its ethical and religious ideas are all illustrated in innumerable ways by archaeological discovery. But though the Bible arose in that world, it was not of that world; its spiritual values are far richer and deeper, irradiating a history which would otherwise resemble that of the surrounding peoples. The importance of archaeological discovery to the Bible student consists in the fact that we can at last study the history of the Chosen People in the same way as we do that of any other people—as the story of an evolving organism, standing in symbiotic relation with surrounding peoples, borrowing from all sides and transforming all that it borrowed. We can thus distinguish more clearly between the eternal spiritual verities and those which are evanescent.

CHAPTER II

THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT EGYPT

IN our account of the recovery of the archaeological remains of Bible Lands, we shall follow a roughly chronological order, that is, we shall take each country in the order in which it emerged into the foreground of antiquarian interest and activity. First, therefore, comes Egypt, whose magnificent temples and tombs stood through the centuries, defying the destructive forces of nature and the quarrying activities of man. The first serious effort to record them was made by the savants who accompanied Napoleon to Egypt in 1798, and who prepared the stately tomes of the Description de l'Égypte (1809-13). Here we have the record of many of the most important surface remains, some of which were so badly damaged later that this work remains our principal source. In 1799 the soldiers of Napoleon's army accidentally discovered the famous Rosetta Stone, which fell into the hands of the British and was deposited in the British Museum. In 1802 the Swedish diplomat Akerblad began the decipherment of the Demotic portion of the trilingual inscription; in 1814 the famous English physicist, Thomas Young, made a successful beginning with the hieroglyphic part, also on the basis of the Greek version. But it was reserved for Champollion to make the decisive step in the interpretation of the hieroglyphic text of the Rosetta Stone, a step which he followed by the application of the newly found principles and facts to other inscriptions. After the initial publication by Champollion in 1822 progress was rapid, though it was interrupted for some years by his premature death in 1832. A few years later the task of linguistic interpretation was resumed by other scholars, notably by Richard Lepsius and Edward Hincks. The description of the surface remains that had been inaugurated by Napoleon's expedition, was continued by Champollion in a great posthumous work, by Rosellini, and especially by Lepsius in his standard publication on the monuments of Egypt and Nubia (1849-56).

The first excavations in Egypt were undertaken by treasure-hunters and collectors like Belzoni, none of whose work could be called scientific in any sense. Then Mariette (Mariette Pasha, as he was later called) discovered the Serapeum in 1850, and was soon afterwards made Director of Antiquities in Egypt. For thirty years he monopolized excavation in Egypt, putting an end to nearly all spoliation of sites for museums, but carrying on his own numerous enterprises in little more scientific manner. However, the most important thing was that the monuments were rescued from natives and adventurers, and were installed in a museum at Cairo. In 1881 Mariette died and his enlightened successor, (Sir) Gaston Maspero, made it possible for European excavators to work in Egypt. The first to take advantage of the new situation were the English, who speedily organized the Egypt Exploration Fund and sent Naville to dig there (1883). The latter was followed by Petrie, Griffith, and others, to whom we owe a long series of yearly excavations, described in over fifty volumes of reports. For more than thirty years (1896—) another organization founded by Petrie, the Egypt Research Account, otherwise known as the British School of Archaeology in Egypt, also conducted excavations, published in another fifty volumes. Sir Flinders Petrie, to whom we owe an interesting sketch of his own work under the unusual title, Seventy Years in Archaeology, has himself published, alone or jointly, over eighty archaeological works. In 1885 and the following years he discovered the value of pottery as a chronological criterion; in 1901 he published his method of sequence-dating. By these and many other discoveries with regard to method, he revolutionized the science of archaeology.

An important forward step was made in 1901, when the newly founded German Orient-Society began its excavations at Abusir in Middle Egypt, under the direction of Ludwig Borchardt. The latter had begun his work in Egypt six years before, and had introduced the methods of historical architecture developed by Doerpfeld and Koldewey in Greece and Asia Minor. The subsequent publications of this school, reaching their culmination in Uvo Hölscher's brilliant volumes on Medinet Habu (1934—), published by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, testify to the importance of this departure. Borchardt's work was closely followed by that of a gifted American scholar, G. A. Reisner, whose career as an independent excavator began in 1899. Standing on the shoulders of Petrie and Borchardt, and employing American methods of recording and filing, Reisner has created the most important archaeological school of today. The Reisner-Fisher school, which numbers among its members such distinguished scholars as C. S. Fisher (now of the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem), H. E. Winlock (director of the Metropolitan Museum), followed closely by many younger British and American archaeologists, lays emphasis on the fullest and most accurate surveying, planning, photography, draughting, recording, and stratigraphic interpretation of an excavation. The methods of this school are being employed with great success in nearly all the excavations of the Oriental Institute.

While very successful excavations were being carried on by the already-mentioned organizations and many others, including especially the Service des Antiquités of the Egyptian Government, equal progress was being registered in the study of the written documents of ancient Egypt. Fifty years ago hardly a single Egyptologist believed that the early Egyptians possessed a "grammar," in the sense in which we speak of a Hebrew or an Arabic grammar. In 1889 Adolph Erman published the first of a series of grammatical treatises in which he demonstrated that, on the contrary, Egyptian had an elaborate grammatical structure. The work of Erman and Sethe, Gunn and Gardiner, has resulted in the formulation of a most elaborate and detailed grammatical system, varying somewhat at different stages of the linguistic history of Egyptian. Even the vowels, not ordinarily expressed, are now being reconstructed. All of this work is based on meticulously accurate copies of the inscriptions, which are then analyzed inductively with the aid of modern comparative linguistic method. The great dictionary of the Berlin Academy of Sciences, edited by Erman, is now in process of appearing; the first part, containing nearly 3000 pages, is completely published. It goes without saying that the inscriptions cannot be correctly translated throughout unless the meaning of all words and the function of all grammatical constructions are as fully understood as possible with the inscriptional material now at our command.

In the following sketch of the most significant discoveries for the Bible student, we shall group the subjects discussed under three heads: historical documents, literary texts, and archaeological finds.

The oldest important text of direct historical importance is the Sinuhe Romance, which describes the adventures of an Egyptian prince of the twentieth century B.C. in Palestine and Syria. While it is probably a romance with an historical nucleus, it was unquestionably composed not later than the following century, since the earliest manuscripts of it are to be assigned to the nineteenth or eighteenth centuries B.C. Reference will be made to it in Chapter XI.

From the New Empire we have numerous historical inscriptions and lists of conquered towns and districts in Palestine and Syria, which help both in clarifying our knowledge of Palestine just before the Hebrews conquered it, and in fixing details of biblical topography. The most important belong to the reigns of Tuthmosis (Thothmes) III,* Sethos (Seti) I, Ramesses (Ramses) II, and Ramesses III, who reigned between 1500 and 1164 B.C. The Annals and other inscriptions of Tuthmosis III, describing the events which culminated with the capture of Megiddo, and the lists of towns in the Coastal Plain, Galilee, and northern Transjordan which accompany his Annals, are the most important of these bodies of material. Closely related to them is the important literary work known as Papyrus Anastasi I, which contains a rhetorical account of an imaginary trip in Palestine and Asia (the so-called Travels of a Mahar), written in the thirteenth century B.C. by a scribe who knew the country.

The latest list of Palestinian towns was inscribed under Shishak I, head of the Twenty-second (Bubastite) Dynasty (cir. 940-915 B.C.), whose invasion of Judah in the fifth year of Rehoboam is mentioned I Kings 14: 25 ff. (II Chron. 12: 2 ff.). Unfortunately it is broken (see Chapter XV).

From the late New Empire comes a direct reference to Israel in the famous "Israel Stela" of Menephtes (Merneptah). This stela, dating from his fifth year (B.C. 1230)† was discovered by Petrie at Thebes in 1896. Most of the text is devoted to a triumphal poem celebrating Pharaoh's victory over the Libyans (Lubim of the Bible), but there is a most interesting and tantalizing reference to Israel, called Yasir'ira (there was no l in New Egyptian), in lines 26-7:

"Canaan is despoiled, with every evil (treatment):

Ashkelon has been captured, Gezer has been taken, Yanoam has been destroyed;

Israel has been laid waste, it has no offspring (lit. seed);

Khuru (Palestine-Syria) has become a widow for Egypt."

As the oldest mention of Israel in contemporary inscrip-

* Since the Egyptian orthography did not employ vowels except in writing foreign words and names, it is now customary for Egyptologists to use transcribed Greek forms, though they reflect a much later Egyptian pronunciation. In parentheses we have given forms which may be more familiar to readers.

† Following the new Borchardt chronology, just published.

tions it is most important; the name Israel is written with the determinatives for "foreign people," not with the signs for "foreign country," and so the Israelites had evidently not yet become well settled, though already located in Palestine. Unfortunately there are two rather ambiguous words in the passage, so it is not certain whether devastation of Israelite crops or decimation of the people is referred to.

From the first decades of the eleventh century, about the time of Gideon or his son Abimelech, comes a most unusual document, which purports to be the report of an Egyptian envoy to Byblus on his experiences and adventures at Dor and Byblus. The literary flavor of the text is rather against its entire authenticity, but the local colour is so good that it is probably based on such a report. This document will be referred to again in Chapter XIV.

A most curious recent addition to our knowledge of early Palestine and Syria has been made by Sethe, who published (1926) a number of texts on broken vases from about 2000 B.C. These vases were inscribed with magical texts cursing Egyptian and foreign enemies of the king by name; they were then broken, in order that the act of breaking the vases might be changed by sympathetic magic into the destruction of the persons who are cursed in the inscriptions. These documents are thus not historical in the ordinary sense, but they yield very precise and accurate knowledge of the names of towns, tribes, and chieftains of Palestine in the early Patriarchal Age (see Chapter XI).

Turning to texts of literary character, we find that the vast majority of them are religious. The most remarkable class of religious documents are the funerary texts, which include three great bodies of material: the Pyramid Texts, the Coffin Texts of the Middle Empire, and the Book of the Dead. The Pyramid Texts were originally discovered in several pyramids from the Fifth and Sixth Dynasties (minimum dates 2350-2200 B.C.), opened by Maspero in 1880, as soon as he had been appointed to Mariette's post as Director of Antiquities. Since they were already archaic at the time they were inscribed in the pyramids, and since their language represents the speech of Egypt in the early third millennium, it has taken decades of work by scholars, led again by Sethe, to interpret their contents. After a long wait Sethe's standard translation and commentary, following his authoritative text-edition, has begun to appear (1936). Meanwhile, in recent years other pyramids with similar texts in them have been opened, but the inscriptions in them have not yet been published. These thousands of lines relate entirely to the future of the Dead King, and are mostly of magical type; they form the only large and well-preserved body of religious documents from before 2200 B.C. which is known from any country.

The next body of funerary texts, of the same general character, is found on coffins of the Middle Empire (Eleventh-Thirteenth Dynasties, 2050-1750 B.C.). These texts were so scattered that no serious attempt to collect and study them was made until Breasted and Gardiner inaugurated a complete edition of them under the auspices of the Oriental Institute; the first volume of the text-edition, by A. de Buck, has just been published (1936). These texts extend the privileges of the blessed hereafter to nobles; commoners seem still to have been excluded from participation—except as slaves of the wealthy and well-born.

The Book of the Dead is a collection of magical spells ensuring the well-being of the deceased in the hereafter, and written on papyrus, so that any man who could afford the price of the manuscript collection might enjoy its efficacy. The oldest manuscript dates from the early Eighteenth Dynasty (sixteenth to fifteenth centuries B.C.) and the latest comes from the Ptolemaic or early Roman period.

No two manuscripts agree entirely, and most of them show considerable variation. Many of the "chapters" or spells are found alone, and there are also some cheap "abbreviated" editions in Demotic. Scholars have arranged these spells in a convenient order, following that of the best-known papyri, and have numbered them accordingly for purposes of reference. It is quite incorrect to say that the Book of the Dead was the Egyptian Bible, but it was certainly their most important sacred book. We can trace the gradual evolution of many spells from the Pyramid Texts through the Coffin Texts and through numerous later stages, where successive layers of commentary and harmonization have both swelled the bulk of the spell many times over and have also completely changed its meaning and purpose. In his Dawn of Conscience (1933) Breasted has brilliantly shown how Egyptian religious conceptions changed in the process of three thousand years, and how the benefits of the cult of the gods were gradually extended from king to noble, from noble to commoner, becoming purified and ennobled in the process. This remarkable book should be read by every cultivated Bible student, who should, however, bear in mind that the author's hoministic interpretation of the phenomena can with exactly the same logical force be transformed into a theistic view. The facts lend themselves at least as well to the latter as to the former.

Two other bodies of literary texts demand special attention: the prophetic compositions and the gnomic collections or books of proverbs and wise sayings. The Egyptian prophecies begin with the early Middle Empire (cir. 2000 B.C.) and extend down into the Roman period; of all ancient Oriental literature of this type they resemble most closely the biblical prophets. If we possessed more prophecies from early Israelite times, especially of the so-called "false prophets," the resemblance would doubtless be even greater than it is. The most important prophetic composition is the one attributed to a certain Neferrohe, supposed to have flourished in the early Fourth Dynasty; the text was written down in the Middle Empire, and is extant on a papyrus of the New Empire and various fragments of the same age. Here we have the prediction of the coming of Ameni, that is, of Amenemmes (Amenemhet), the first king of the Twelfth Dynasty. Probably the Admonitions of Ipuwer, also from the Middle Empire, belong in part to the prophetic category, though there is some difference of opinion in this respect. Two other prophetic documents from Egypt are known, both purporting to go back to kings Amenophis (probably the third of the name, 1415-1380 B.C.) and Bocchoris (cir. 720 B.C.), but they are both much later in their extant form.

The Egyptians were very much given to the collection and publication of books of secular wisdom, of which we possess nearly a dozen in good state of preservation. The most important of these are the Proverbs of Ptahhotpe, the Story of the Eloquent Peasant, the Instructions of Merikere, the Proverbs of Ani, and the Proverbs of Amenemope. The closest resemblance to Biblical Proverbs is shown by Ptahhotpe, Ani, and especially by Amenemope. Ptahhotpe was the vizier of king Isesi (Assa, etc.) of the Fifth Dynasty (cir. 2350 B.C.), and the principal manuscript belongs to a date some four centuries later. The other two compositions are preserved in papyri of the tenth or ninth centuries B.C., but the contents may be somewhat (not much) earlier. The papyrus of Amenemope was published by Budge in 1923 and greatly improved translations were made by Lange and Erman afterwards. The latter pointed out in 1924 that the resemblance between Amenemope and Prov. 22: 17—24: 22 was much too close to be accidental, and the parallels which he gave (and others) have convinced all competent scholars that a literary relationship does actually exist. This is so close that Erman was able to emend a strange expression in Prov. 22: 20 to "thirty" (referring to the number of sections in the composition, just as in Amenemope), without the change of a single Hebrew letter, by comparing the two. It is, in the writer's opinion, probable that this composition reached Israel through Phœnician intermediation (see Chapter XII).

Only two pure romances of direct interest to the Bible student have been discovered. First comes naturally the famous Papyrus d'Orbiney, containing the story of the two brothers Anubis and Bitis (Bata). The episode with which the story begins, the attempted seduction of Bitis by his brother's wife, bears a striking superficial resemblance to the story of Joseph and Potiphar's wife. Both Bitis and Joseph resist the temptress, suffering ignominy, and in Bitis's case physical mutilation in consequence. The rest of the story of Bitis is much more obviously mythological, but even in this part there are some faint reminiscences of the life of Joseph as narrated in Genesis. The second romance is also mythological in origin, and is particularly interesting in that it is derived from a Canaanite source: the story of Astarte and the Sea. A pendant to it has just been discovered at Ugarit (see Chapter XII), where we find a poem describing the combat between Baal and the Sea.

After a period of nearly a generation in which no new Egyptian romance of importance had come to light, Gardiner published (1931) an account of a new collection of literary texts known as the Chester Beatty Papyri, containing numerous items of great interest, several of which have already been published. Most interesting are two stories: the Contest of Horus with Seth and the Blinding of Truth by Falsehood. Both papyri date from the New Empire, in the twelfth century B.C., and both are reminiscent of certain passages in the Bible.

There are also hymns to the gods, love songs, and pessimistic compositions which are interesting to us as illustrations of literary genres familiar from the Bible. Many love songs have been discovered. An authoritative edition of all then known was made by W. Max Müller in 1899; the most important subsequent addition is due again to the Chester Beatty Papyri. These songs bear no little general resemblance to the biblical lyrics in the Song of Songs, but there is no literary relationship, so far as we can tell. Among pessimistic poems, resembling Ecclesiastes somewhat in their tone, we have especially the Song of the Harper and the Dialogue of a Man with his Soul.

Next to the Proverbs of Amenemope, the most striking parallel between Egyptian and Israelite literature is found in the Hymn of Akhenaten (Amenophis IV) to the Sun, which is very much like Psalm 104, as has repeatedly been pointed out in recent years. An indirect literary relationship is hard to deny, in view of the remarkable parallelism of theme and arrangement of subject-matter. Two explanations are most plausible: (1) that the Hebrew psalm is an adaptation of a Canaanite hymn which was influenced by the Egyptian; (2) the Egyptian hymn was known to the Hebrews in Egypt, from which the prototype of our biblical psalm was brought to Palestine. In the writer's opinion the first alternative is more probable (see Chapter XII for illustrations of the process in question).

Turning from Egyptian literature to archaeological discoveries in Egypt, we shall sketch a few of the ones of outstanding interest to the student of the Bible, taking them in order of occurrence. Minor discoveries of interest to us will be mentioned in subsequent chapters.

In 1881 Maspero discovered the cave repository in which Egyptian priests had piled most of the royal mummies of the New Empire, in an effort to save them from tomb-robbers. Numerous papyri from about 1100 B.C.—still being found today—orient us remarkably well with regard to the details of the official process against these robbers, which created a tremendous sensation in contemporary Egypt. When all the papyri have been published, we shall be able to follow this court-process in almost minute detail. In the cache were found the mummies of Amosis (Aahmes), Amenophis I (Amenhotep), Tuthmosis I, II and III (Thotmes), and especially of Sethos I (Seti) and Ramesses II (Ramses), one of whom was probably the Pharaoh of the Oppression, during whose reign the Exodus took place. The mummies now repose under glass in the Cairo Museum, where curious tourists could for many years gaze at the majestic dead and even laugh in their withered faces, as many of them shamelessly did. Now the Egyptian authorities have removed them to a closed room, where serious scholars and persons of influence may still see them, but where they are no longer exposed to the gibes of the thoughtless. We are now well acquainted with the anatomy of these kings, and can even say in some cases why they died; yoeman work in their study has been done by Elliot Smith. Maspero's discovery was supplemented by Loret's excavation (1897-98) of a Theban tomb which contained several royal mummies, including those of Amenophis II, Tuthmosis IV, Amenophis III, Menephthes (Merneptah), etc. These mummies were doubtless placed here for safe-keeping at nearly the same time that the rest were put into the cache described above.

One of the most interesting problems connected with the exploration of Egypt has been that of the location of the Egyptian towns mentioned in Exodus, in connection with the account of the Exodus. Particularly acute has been the interest in the identification of the two store-cities built by the Israelites, Pithom and Raamses (Rameses). The first undertaking of the Egypt Exploration Fund was, therefore, the excavation of Tell el-Maskhutah by Naville (1883). The conclusion of Naville, that this is the site of biblical Pithom, has convinced most scholars, including the present writer, though no less an authority than Gardiner opposed it some years ago.

Various sites were proposed for Raamses, identified by nearly all with the Residency of Ramesses II, called Pey-Ra'mesese, "the House of Ramesses" in Egyptian, but the correct solution, previously adumbrated by Brugsch and others, was not found until Montet excavated at Tanis (Zoan), beginning in 1929. Raamses, the Residence of Ramesses the Great, is Tanis itself. A further discussion of this subject will be found in Chapter XIII.

In 1887 a peasant woman came accidentally on a hoard of clay tablets with cuneiform writing at Tell el-'Amar-nah, which were divided among several fellahin, coming eventually into various museums, but not before they had been considerably damaged by careless handling and transportation. These tablets, numbering over 350, most of which were fairly well preserved, proved to contain the correspondence of Pharaohs Amenophis III and IV (and a few later letters) with kings of Babylonia, Assyria, Mitanni, the Hittites, Cyprus, and with Horite (Khurrian) and Canaanite princes and governors in Syria and Palestine. Most of them were published in 1889-92, and scholars immediately began work on them. Nearly all are written in an Accadian (Babylonian) that varies from the pure Middle Babylonian of the letters from Babylon to a hybrid language, Egyptianizing when written from Akhetaten by Egyptian scribes, Canaanizing (Hebraizing) when written from Canaanite towns by native scribes, Khurrianizing when written from Mitanni or northern and central Syria. Because of their difficulty, linguistic work on them has not yet been completed satisfactorily. A Norwegian Assyriologist of eminence, J. A. Knudtzon, brought out a standard edition of these priceless documents in 1907-15. Subsequent excavations by Germans (before the World War) and English (mostly since the War) have yielded nearly a score of additional tablets, some of which are not yet published (discovered 1934). In 1921 Thureau-Dangin published a most important group of six well-preserved tablets from the earlier discoveries. Two of the new documents are particularly interesting: one is a large tablet containing part of the text of an historical romance in epic form, known as the "King of Battle," and describing the exploits of Sargon I of Accad, about 2700 B.C. or a little later; the other is a fragment of an Egyptian vocabulary in cuneiform characters, undoubtedly used as a textbook by Egyptian scribes who were engaged in studying Accadian in order to fit themselves for the foreign office.

In 1895 there commenced an exceedingly interesting period in the history of Egyptian archaeology: the recovery of the wholly unknown age which preceded the building of the Great Pyramids, especially of the Thinite period (first two dynasties) and the Predynastic Age.

While in a sense these discoveries have little direct interest to the student of the Bible, they are indirectly of great significance. The reconstruction of the evolution of early Egyptian culture has done away with the widespread idea that the great civilization of the Fourth Dynasty sprang somehow "full-armed from the head of Zeus," with no long prehistory behind it. In this way the archaeologist no longer has to contend with the idea that there was no progress in Oriental antiquity, but rather a long, slow decadence. Furthermore, the recovery of the earliest stages of Egyptian culture has helped immensely with the fixing of early Palestinian chronology, as we shall see below. In 1895-97 Amélineau and de Morgan excavated most of the royal tombs of the First Dynasty, including that of Menes, the first king of the First Egyptian Dynasty. The evidence of the famous Palermo Stone (and the recently published Cairo fragment of it), containing the annual record of Egyptian events from Menes down to the Fifth Dynasty, shows that there were traditional dynasties before Menes, and even kings who reigned over both Upper and Lower Egypt, but they are purely shadowy figures, whose names may sometimes be written but cannot be pronounced, and whose personalities elude us completely. Research in cemeteries and village sites, beginning with Petrie in 1895, has gradually extended our knowledge of the evolution of predynastic culture back to the Badarian period (discovered since 1924) and even earlier cultures in the Fayum and elsewhere in the north.

In 1904 a collection of beautifully preserved Aramaic papyri from the fifth century B.C. (time of Nehemiah and Ezra) was found at Elephantine at the extreme southern boundary of Egypt and sold to English travelers; two years later it was edited by Sayce and Cowley as Aramaic Papyri Discovered at Assuan. In 1906-7 a German expedition directed successively by Rubensohn and Zucker, worked on the Island of Elephantine, and recovered many additional documents of even greater importance. These documents, which are of capital significance for the history of postexilic Jewry, date from before 480 to about 400 B.C.; they were edited by Sachau in 1911, and have since been reedited in convenient form, together with the Assuan Papyri, by Cowley, Aramaic Papyri of the Fifth Century B.C. (1923). The language is practically identical with the Biblical Aramaic of Ezra and Nehemiah, and the documents are thus of even greater linguistic value for the biblical philologist than they are of direct historical significance. For additional details see Chapter XVII.

In the season of 1904-5 Petrie explored the ancient Egyptian mine workings at Serabit el-Khadem in the Peninsula of Sinai, less than fifty miles from the traditional site of Mount Sinai. His most important discovery here, even greater than the excavation of the temple of Hathor and the finding of many important Egyptian inscriptions, consisted of about a dozen short inscriptions and graffiti in a hitherto unknown alphabet, resembling simplified hieroglyphs. Three expeditions from Harvard University (1927, 1930, 1935) and a Finnish expedition (1929) discovered enough new texts in this alphabet to more than double the available extent of the documents. It was not until 1917 that Alan Gardiner published an initial essay at decipherment, which was so convincing that it has been accepted by practically all students. Meanwhile the discovery of various later stages of the same script in Palestine and Syria, connecting it with the Hebrew-Phœnician alphabet of the Mesha Stone, has demonstrated to the satisfaction of most scholars that this proto-Sinaitic alphabet actually represents the earliest stage in the history of our alphabet, before 1800 B.C. Somewhere around 2000 B.C., we may suppose, Semites in close contact with Egypt invented the alphabet by application of a simple acrophonic principle: e.g., they took the Egyptian hieroglyph for "house," simplified it, and used it to write the first consonant of the Semitic word bet, "house," which continued to be employed as the name of the letter (Hebrew beth, Greek beta).

The most sensational archæological discovery ever made in Egypt was, of course, the discovery of the tomb of king Tutankhamon (cir. 1362-1356 B.C.) in 1922. This find yielded little new historical information; it did not even contribute much to our knowledge of the development of Egyptian art. But the extraordinary richness of the funeral gifts and the tomb furniture, combined with the minute care with which the excavation was carried out by Howard Carter and his associates, has made this tomb a mine of information with regard to technical processes of Egyptian art and craftsmanship, extending even to the recovery of a completely lost metallurgic process by which gold could be given a rich royal purple colour (more red than purple in the English sense). Future study of the technical processes of Canaan and Israel at the time of the erection of the Tabernacle and the Temple of Solomon will owe much to the results of this unique discovery.

Last, but in some ways more important than all the previously described discoveries together, are the innumerable finds of Greek papyri, mostly in the Fayum. Since the Greek papyri of Egypt form a very different body of material from all other archæological remains described here, we shall devote a special chapter to a survey of their discovery and their significance (Chapter XX).

CHAPTER III

THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT MESOPOTAMIA (BABYLONIA AND ASSYRIA)

IN Mesopotamian territory (that is, the basins of the Tigris and Euphrates) the archæological situation is very different from what it is in Egypt. There are hardly any imposing, well-preserved ruins above ground as in Egypt. The inscriptions and reliefs so common on the walls of Egyptian temples and tombs are entirely lacking; in return we have a goodly number of orthostates (facing slabs) from Assyrian palaces, carved with representations of military scenes. The Egyptian soil is so dry that papyri are preserved in great abundance; in Mesopotamia no manuscripts worth mentioning have been found except at Dura on the Euphrates. On the other hand, the Mesopotamians invented the art of writing on clay tablets about the middle of the fourth millennium B.C. (Warka period), and continued to use clay, both sun-dried and baked, as their writing material until the beginning of the Christian era. For some 3500 years, then, the Babylonians wrote on clay with styli, developing their script from a primitive pictographic form to a highly cursive cuneiform, impressed on the moist clay with a reed stylus. Since clay tablets are relatively indestructible, it is small wonder that we possess them by the hundreds of thousands from all periods and nearly all parts of Mesopotamia.

Since Napoleon did not reach Iraq, there is no description of that country by his savants. In fact, all the archæological exploration of Mesopotamia has been piecemeal, with no massive sets of stately volumes such as the Egyptologists are accustomed to handle—when their use can no longer be avoided. Even before the first excavation began in 1842, scholarly explorers like Niebuhr, Rich, and Porter had visited the country and had collected information and antiquities, recognizing the opportunities for great archæological discoveries in the mounds which dotted the plain in all directions. But it was reserved for a young Franco-Italian vice-consul at Mosul, Paul Émile Botta, to begin systematic excavations in December of that fateful year. Botta's work at Khorsabad, the capital of Sargon II of Assyria, was quickly followed by that of a young Englishman, Austen Henry Layard, at Nimrud (biblical Calah) in 1845. Layard soon extended his operations to Nineveh itself and to Assur, the oldest capital of the Assyrian Empire, with the result that by 1847 he had accumulated a mass of sculptures and inscriptions for the British Museum.

Thanks to the quantities of inscriptional material which were thus brought to Paris and to London, it was possible for scholars to begin work on them immediately. But there was no Rosetta Stone to ease the first steps of the decipherers. What was to be done? Fortunately there was a clue, coming from an unexpected direction. At Persepolis and neighbouring places in the Iranian province of Persis travelers and explorers had copied inscriptions in cuneiform characters. These copies had attracted the interest of savants in France, Germany, and elsewhere during the eighteenth century. In 1802 a classical scholar named Grotefend became interested in the problem of their decipherment. Standing on the shoulders of his predecessors, especially of the renowned Arabist, de Sacy, who had begun the decipherment of Middle Persian (Pahlevi) inscriptions in 1787, Grotefend made some brilliant guesses which made sense and fitted in well together. The decipherment of Old Persian had now really begun. Yet it was more than forty years until Rawlinson's edition of the great Behistun inscription of Darius I placed the capstone on the edifice. A number of the shorter Persian inscriptions were trilingual, the other two languages (also written with wedge-shaped characters) being Babylonian and Elamite. Thanks to the partial decipherment of the Old Persian before Rawlinson it was possible to guess the meaning of some Assyrian signs. The forms of Babylonian characters were not so very different from those of Assyrian, so several scholars made the leap from the Persian trilinguals to the Assyrian royal inscriptions after the Louvre texts had become available for study in 1845. Thanks to the publication by Rawlinson of the Babylonian version of the great Behistun trilingual in 1851, the task was hastened. By 1855 the joint work of Rawlinson, Hincks, Oppert, and others had brought the period of decipherment to a successful conclusion, though it was more than two decades before all competent philologists in other fields were convinced of the substantial correctness of the results.

Some fifteen years later the fascinating subject of Assyrian cuneiform was taken up by a trained German Semitist, Eberhard Schrader, whose first work on the subject appeared in 1872. Schrader was horrified by the lack of scientific method characteristic of the work of the earlier English and French Assyriologists, with the distinguished exception of the Irishman, Edward Hincks (also one of the first to employ scientific methods in interpreting Egyptian). He and his pupils, notably Friedrich Delitzsch, who founded the Assyriological school which prevails today, speedily introduced modern linguistic methods, based on accurate editions of the texts and careful induction from them, just as the German school of Erman similarly revolutionized the study of Egyptian inscriptions about the same time. Grammars and dictionaries appeared, followed by ever more intensive work on details. Among recent Assyriologists the outstanding men, all directly or indirectly from Delitzsch's school, are Thureau-Dangin, Meissner, and Benno Landsberger, who has himself founded a school in which Assyriology is reduced to an exact science. Today we know Assyrian, or Accadian as we now call it following Babylonian practice, and its various dialects much better than we know any phase of ancient Egyptian.

One of the most remarkable facts about Accadian is that it was employed in the second millennium B.C. as the lingua franca of the Near East, and was used for international correspondence in lands so far removed from one another as Lycia, Cappadocia, Armenia, Susiana (Elam), Syria, Cyprus, Palestine, and Egypt (cf. above, p. 7). The Accadian cuneiform system was employed at different periods to write ten languages: Sumerian, Accadian, Elamite, Horite (Khurrian), Hittite (Nesian), Luwian, Khattic (Proto-Hittite), Balaic, Uartian, and Aramaic; it was also used to write vocabularies, words, and phrases in considerable number in four additional tongues, Indo-Iranian, Cossæan (Kassite), Canaanite (Hebrew), and Egyptian. Two cuneiform alphabets are known to have been modeled in part, at least, after it: North Canaanite (Ugaritic) and Old Persian. There can be no doubt that further discovery will considerably extend these lists.

Of all these languages the most important, next to Accadian, is undoubtedly Sumerian, a tongue which was spoken in many dialects over most of the Land of the Two Rivers during the fourth millennium B.C., and which profoundly influenced the later development of Accadian, the Semitic tongue which replaced it during the third millennium. Thanks to names of rivers and early sites of human occupation, thanks also to the fact that Sumerian influenced Canaanite in Syria before Accadian had been thrust like a wedge between them, we know that almost the entire Euphrates and Tigris valleys were once inhabited by these Sumerians, to whom we therefore owe the oldest and most important civilization of Southwestern Asia, a culture which influenced all subsequent cultures in this region to an extent which was denied the Egyptian, great as it was. Sumerian became extinct as a spoken language well before the end of the third millennium, but it continued to be used as a learned language, much as Latin was in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, until the beginning of the Christian era. Many Greek transcriptions of Sumerian words prove that the decipherment of this earliest dead language of history is absolutely correct even in minute details. Though the existence and general character of the language was long ago inferred by Assyriologists from bilingual tablets and vocabularies of the seventh century B.C., unilingual texts in this language could not be understood, unless they were very brief or of a type well known from bilinguals, until the brilliant work of Thureau-Dangin, Langdon, Delitzsch, and Poebel, since 1905. When the latter and his pupils have completed the great Accadian and Sumerian dictionaries on which they have been working for years under the auspices of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, we shall know a great deal more about Sumerian. In the latter (without Accadian translations) are a great many mythological and cultic poems, hymns to the gods, etc., only a small part of which have yet been published, but which are little posterior to the Pyramid Texts of Egypt in date and are much more diversified than the latter in content.

After the early excavations in Mesopotamia in the forties and fifties of the past century, there was a prolonged period of comparative inactivity, broken in 1872, when George Smith worked in Assyria. In 1877 M. de Sarzec, French consul at Basrah, began a long series of campaigns at the South-Babylonian site of Tello, Sumerian Lagash, where he discovered priceless sculptures and inscriptions from the first half of the third millennium (Ur-Nanshe to Gudea). Twelve years later an American expedition from the University of Pennsylvania undertook excavations for a number of campaigns at Nippur, the religious centre of Babylonia for some two millennia, and also uncovered important historical documents, as well as scores of thousands of cuneiform tablets, belonging in part to the temple library of the city, and in part to collections of business documents. These excavations made possible the reconstruction of Babylonian history in the third millennium B.C. Yet they were not conducted according to the scientific methods now demanded of excavators, so the results were much less than they should have been.

It was reserved for the Germans to inaugurate scientific excavation in Mesopotamia with the work of Koldewey at Babylon (1899-1917) and of Andrae at Assur (1903-13), not to mention minor undertakings. These excavations were all directed by trained historical architects with previous excavating experience, so both method and publication leave little to be desired—aside from the fact that an unfortunate quarrel arose between excavators and Assyriologists which deprived the former largely of the indispensable aid of the latter during the progress of the campaign.

After the War Iraq became a British mandate, while northwestern Mesopotamia (sometimes alone called Mesopotamia) was included in the French mandate over Syria. Departments of Antiquities were speedily created, and in the new wave of interest in archaeology which swept over the world, nations and institutions vied with one another in sending expeditions into the field. This is not the place to describe all these undertakings; we shall select a few of the most important for our purposes: Ur, Kish, and Erech in Babylonia; Nuzi and early historical sites in Assyria; Mari and Dura on the Middle Euphrates.

After preliminary work by Hall in 1919, (Sir) Leonard Woolley began the systematic excavation of Ur in 1922 and worked there every year until 1934, twelve campaigns in all. This site has always attracted interest on the part of biblical scholars because of its having been the traditional site of the home of Abraham (Ur of the Chaldees, Gen. 11: 31, etc.). While no direct light on the patriarch was found, innumerable discoveries of archaeological significance were made, carrying the history of the site back from the Macedonian period to remote chalcolithic times. By far the most sensational were the royal tombs of the Early Dynastic kings of Ur, especially those of king Mes-shar-kalama (Mes-kalam-dug) and of queen Shub-Ad (the exact reading of the name is unknown). In these and other tombs were found vast quantities of precious objects and exquisite examples of the jeweler's and the stone-engraver's art. In the tomb of the queen (excavated in 1927-28) we find a vertical shaft communicating with a sloping tunnel, which led to the "death pit," at one end of which was the tomb chamber proper. In the tunnel were the skeletons of five soldiers who had originally formed the queen's bodyguard. At the southwest end of the death pit were the bodies of ten women attendants, with a beautiful harp beside them, bearing the head of a bull covered with gold leaf and with an impressive lapis-lazuli beard. Near the entrance to the tunnel from the death pit was a sledge-chariot with the skeletons of two asses, among which were found the bones of four grooms. The body of the queen was discovered in the tomb chamber, lying on her back on a wooden bier; by her were the remains of two women attendants. The magnificence of the regalia worn by her, especially her hair ornaments, was indescribable. All over the tomb, especially around a great wooden chest in the centre, were scattered priceless objects of art, together with still other skeletons. It is easy from the foregoing sketch to form an idea of the barbaric wealth and the callous brutality of the culture of Abraham's home about a thousand years (more or less) before his time. The splendid publication of Woolley's, The Royal Cemetery (Ur Excavations, Vol. II, 1934), is recommended to all who can obtain access to a copy.

The excavation of Kish, the Sumerian capital of northern Babylonia, was also begun in 1922, under the direction of Mackay, followed by Watelin. Like the Ur expedition (under the joint auspices of the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania Museum), the work at Kish was Anglo-American (Oxford University and the Field Museum in Chicago). Unless Kish is the prototype of the Cush of Gen. 10: 8, as is quite possible, it is not mentioned in the Bible. Nimrod was in any case probably considered as the first ruler of Kish. So far this undertaking has not yielded as important results as Woolley's work at Ur, but there is no reason to doubt that there are still priceless archaeological treasures concealed in its extensive remains, which have hardly been breached.

The Germans resumed work at Erech (Gen. 10: 10), modern Warka in southern Babylonia, in 1928 under the successive directions of Jordan and A. Nöldeke (nephew of the great Orientalist). Subsequent campaigns, carried on according to the best modern methods of excavating, have been extremely fruitful, especially in the light they have shed on the evolution of early Babylonian culture before the age of the Royal Tombs of Ur. We now divide this age (cir. 3100-2600 B.C.) into several phases, before the first of which comes the Jemdet Nasr period (cir. 3300?-3100 B.C.), called after the site near Kish where Langdon and Mackay first identified it as a distinct culture. Before the latter comes the Warka period, in which clay tablets covered with pictographic writing made their appearance; the classic site for this rich culture is Erech. Still earlier comes the long age of painted pottery, the upper part of which is called the Tell el-'Obeid period, after a site near Ur where Hall found this culture.

It is becoming increasingly clear that the alluvial plain of Babylonia, which must have been less than half as large seven thousand years ago as it is today, and must have been covered with jungles and swamps to boot, was occupied by a settled population after the river valleys of the north. The first excavation in the north to bring concrete evidence for a very early chalcolithic culture was undertaken by E. A. Speiser at Tepe Gawra in Assyria in 1927, followed after an interval by several successive campaigns. This undertaking—on behalf of the American Schools of Oriental Research and the University of Pennsylvania Museum—has secured a remarkable stratigraphical sequence, running back from the middle of the second millennium to very early chalcolithic or neolithic times. Stratum VI already takes us back to about 3000 B.C., and stratum XIII brings us still farther, to the 'Obeid period, in the early fourth millennium. Here the story is taken up by Mallowan's work at Arpachiyah near Nineveh, as well as at Nineveh itself, where we have an astonishing sequence of early occupations, the latest of which coincides roughly with the 'Obeid period in Babylonia (at least with the latest part of it). Much lower in the mound we come to the so-called Halafian culture, with some of the most beautiful painted pottery known anywhere in the world, consisting especially of plates and shallow bowls covered with intricate geometric and floral designs. noteworthy for their harmony as well as for their variety. The end is not yet; we can rest assured that the human occupation of Mesopotamian towns goes back over seven thousand years, though a precise chronology is naturally still unattainable.

Another American undertaking merits special attention: the excavations carried on by Chiera and later by Starr at ancient Nuzi near Kirkuk, centre of the Iraqi oil fields. Here Chiera was so fortunate as to find a wealthy villa of about 1400 B.C. right under the surface (1925). In a few weeks, with a small force, he recovered a thousand tablets of the fifteenth and fourteenth centuries B.C., nearly contemporaneous with the Amarna Tablets. These, combined with a considerably greater number subsequently dug up, give a remarkably complete picture of the culture of a Horite community in eastern Mesopotamia, during the interval between the Patriarchal Age proper and the Hebrew conquest of Palestine. More will be said about this in Chapters XI-XII. This discovery was the first to give a clear idea of the importance of the Horites or Khurrians (Hurrians) for the history of ancient civilization. For nearly fifteen hundred years these people were dominant in northern Mesopotamia and Armenia; for much of that time they were the principal element in the population of Syria. Our knowledge of the Horite language is still patchwork, derived from Assyrian vocabularies, from tablets in Accadian found at Nuzi, at Ugarit (see Chapter IV), at Boghazköy (see Chapter V), and at Tell el-'Amarnah (see Chapter II), etc. The Horites are mentioned in the Bible in a number of passages (including two in the Greek version where the Hebrew text has erroneously "Hivites").

In 1933 M. Parrot began excavations at Tell el-Hariri on the Middle Euphrates, just inside the modern Syrian border, where the writer had some years previously located the site of the northwesternmost Babylonian capital, Mari (a Sumerian name meaning "Ship City"). Here the most extraordinary finds have been made by M. Parrot during the past three campaigns. In an early temple of Ishtar he discovered many statues and carvings from a previously unknown Semitic (Accadian) kingdom, belonging to the very beginning of the third millennium, before Sargon of Accad. This is the earliest yet known Accadian state in Mesopotamia, confirming the often expressed opinion that the Accadians first obtained a foothold in the north, from which they conquered northern Babylonia, and later still the land of Sumer proper. Even more sensational is the discovery in the seasons of 1935 and 1936 of a vast palace of the twenty-first century B.C., occupied by the great Hammurabi and later destroyed by the Horites from the north. Some of the hundred-odd rooms already excavated are preserved nearly up to the ceiling; bath-rooms are numerous and there is even a schoolroom with the pupils' benches still in place. In the palace have been discovered some twelve thousand cuneiform tablets, which furnish material of inestimable historical importance, since they consist mainly of business documents and letters belonging to a people who wrote Accadian but who were really Western Semites (East Canaanites), speaking the very language that must have been used by Abraham. It is most instructive to find so important a centre for the diffusion of Accadian (Babylonian) culture, located some four hundred miles in a straight line from Ur, and almost exactly the same distance from Jerusalem. It is probably here that the term "Amorite" (originally Accadian Amurrium, "West-lander") was applied by a West-Semitic people to itself.

A few hours' ride upstream from Mari brings us to the site of Dura of Nicanor (Dura Europus, es-Salihieh), where Breasted recorded some important mural paintings in 1920, and where excavations have been carried on continuously since 1928, under the auspices of Yale University and the French Académie des Inscriptions. Dura was inhabited continuously from the early third century B.C. to the middle of the third century A.D., over five hundred years. It was built far above the river on the desert plateau, where the climate is so dry that stucco painting and even parchments and papyri have survived in protected places—a phenomenon virtually unknown elsewhere in Southwestern Asia. The remains here nearly all belong to the Parthian (first century B.C.-second century A.D.) and Roman periods; the city was destroyed by a Sassanian irruption. Thousands of formal inscriptions and graffiti, in Greek, Latin, Aramaic (Palmyrene), and Middle Persian (Pahlevi), etc., give us a vast mass of information regarding the nationality of the inhabitants, their organization, customs, religious practices, etc. A number of fine murals are most enlightening with regard to the nature of the pagan Aramaean cults of that age. Most sensational, however, has been the discovery of a sanctuary of Mithras (Mithraeum), a Jewish synagogue, and a Christian chapel, all of the early third century A.D. The Mithraeum was found to be covered with graffiti, which have more than doubled our inscriptional data for the still obscure Mithraic cult. The synagogue was literally lined from wainscoting to ceiling with paintings representing biblical scenes—the oldest which we possess, with the exception of a very few crude designs from the Roman Catacombs. The chapel is the oldest excavated Christian church in the world, and—much to the excavators' surprise—was also found to contain mural paintings, though few and relatively poor; these paintings naturally represent various scenes from the New Testament, all of them executed only two centuries after the Crucifixion!

We shall now make a rapid survey of the Babylonian and Assyrian writings which are most valuable for comparative purposes. We can naturally make only a very small selection from the vast mass of already edited and interpreted material. First we shall take the historical and chronological documents. The Mesopotamians possessed a much keener interest in matters of political history than did the Egyptians, a characteristic which accounts for the fact that Mesopotamian political history is now, on the whole, so much better known, in spite of the comparative recency of our discoveries. The Accadian historical records in the narrow sense consist of the following main types: (1) lists of kings and dynasties, with or without regnal years; (2) chronicles of all kinds, ranging from lists of events connected with a temple, with the wars between Babylonia and Assyria, with omens, etc., to true chronicles like the invaluable Babylonian Chronicle and its continuation, the Nabopolassar Chronicle; (3) lists of year-dates, primarily for business purposes; (4) Babylonian and Assyrian building inscriptions, occasionally mentioning other events; (5) Assyrian annals and geographically arranged accounts of campaigns; (6) triumphal inscriptions and poems; (7) historical romances. There are, of course, still other documents of value for political history, such as letters, but since all written documents have some historical value we must naturally draw the line somewhere.

Thanks to the texts listed under (1), with the aid of astronomical documents and references to celestial phenomena in the other literature, we can now fix dates with a possible error of not more than ten years back to the fifteenth century B.C. For another thousand years we can fix dates with an accuracy which gradually diminishes as we go back from about fifty years in the twentieth century to about a century in the twenty-fifth. The date of Ur-Nanshe of Lagash can be fixed with a margin of some two centuries at the outside. The Babylonian Chronicle (including its continuation) and the Assyrian eponym lists, with the aid of the eclipse of the year 763, fix the exact chronology of the Assyrian campaigns in the west in the time of the Divided Monarchy, and thus enable us to correct the transmitted chronology of the Bible. A new Assyrian king-list, discovered in 1933, but not yet published, contains the names of ninety-five Assyrian kings, and gives their regnal years back to the eighteenth century B.C. The chronicles above mentioned, together with the Nabonidus Chronicle, furnish exact information regarding the political vicissitudes of the troubled period between the eighth and the late sixth centuries, when empire succeeded empire and pertinent historical records are often entirely lacking, all told with striking objectivity.

The Assyrian royal inscriptions (mostly under No. 5 above) are very numerous and extensive. For the biblical student the most important are the triumphal poem of Tukulti-Ninurta I (late thirteenth century), which resembles the Song of Deborah in certain respects, and the official inscriptions of Tiglathpileser I (cir. 1108-1081 B.C.), Asshur-dan II, Shalmaneser III, Adad-nirari III, Tiglathpileser III, Sargon, Sennacherib, Esarhad-don, and Asshur-ban-apal (Sardanapalus), who reigned between 934 and cir. 626 B.C., being contemporary with nearly the entire Divided Monarchy, down to the reign of Josiah. We shall refer to them frequently in Chapters XIV-XVI.

Historical romances and sagas in poetic form were very popular in Mesopotamia, both among Accadians and Horites. It is hard to say whether the Gilgamesh Epic belongs here or not; the writer's opinion is in favour of the mythological theory of its origin (see below). There was a whole cycle of historical and romantic sagas attached to the memory of the great kings of Accad (between 2700 and 2500 B.C.), who claimed suzerainty over most of Southwestern Asia in their day. The epic of the King of Battle (see page 7) describing the exploits of Sargon I in Asia Minor, was exceedingly popular. We may derive the story of Nimrod from a similar source. A Horite text discovered at Boghazköy (see Chapter V) refers to a whole series of such saga-cycles of the third and early second millennium; most of the royal heroes are otherwise unknown to us—a fact which vividly illustrates the extent of the gaps in our knowledge.

Next we may describe the legal and contractual documents from ancient Mesopotamia. First in importance comes the great Code of Hammurabi (cir. 2003-1961 B.C.), discovered at Susa (Shushan) in 1901, published soon afterwards, and now almost as clear to us throughout as a corresponding section of the Pandects would be to a trained Roman jurist. This great code was the result of a long process of legal development in Babylonia, some of the previous stages of which are known to us in the form of Sumerian laws. It remained the official law-code of Babylonia for centuries, however much modified in detail by subsequent legislation and by the influx of new peoples with new customs, and was still copied in Neo-Babylonian times. Next in importance we must list the Assyrian laws found at Assur, and published in 1920. These laws date from about the fourteenth century B.C. in their original form, but it is still disputed whether they form part of a true code or represent a collection of supplementary court decisions, etc. Without passing other more fragmentary law-codes in review, we must not neglect to describe the vast mass of business and legal documents of every possible type, ranging from detailed accounts of court cases, which sometimes cover several tablets, through contracts of the most diverse types to inventories, receipts, dockets, and similar documents with little or no juristic significance. Some day it will be possible to write a history of Mesopotamian law and legal practice; a very good beginning has been made by Koschaker and San Nicoló, not to mention others. It will also be possible to describe the fluctuations of trade, of prices, of business cycles, etc., and to relate them to international political and cultural history. Unquestionably there will be many curious sidelights on biblical passages which now stand quite isolated. We are now beginning to rewrite the history of the Pentateuchal law-codes, which has been so sadly misunderstood by the long dominant school of Wellhausen, whatever its contributions to our knowledge of Hebrew law may have been.

Along with contract tablets we have a great many official and private letters, treating about many things and giving us a much more vivid picture of everyday life and of the organization of the state than any of the more formal documents can give. Of the many groups of letters actually found in Mesopotamia (omitting reference to the Amarna Tablets and the Cappadocian letters, for which see Chapter V) the most valuable for our purposes are those from the time of the First Dynasty of Babylon (cir. 2100-1800 B.C.), from the Sargonid archives in Nineveh (705-626 B.C.), and from the Neo-Babylonian and Persian periods. The second group, published by Harper, is particularly useful, since it belongs to the time of King Hezekiah and his successors, as well as to that of Isaiah and Jeremiah, and throws innumerable sidelights on the age.

Turning to religious and secular literature in the strict sense, we also find an extraordinarily rich material, which is swelling from year to year, thanks to new discoveries. We shall restrict ourselves to a brief account of the outstanding writings from our point of view. First comes the Creation Epic, which will be described in Chapter VIII. Second we must list the Gilgamesh Epic, in twelve tablets (Assyrian recension). The Accadian version first appears on Old Babylonian tablets dating from about 2000 B.C., but it was probably composed several centuries earlier. From the Temple library at Nippur we have numerous tablets belonging to a much older Sumerian form, which differs so greatly from the Accadian that we must assume a long period of oral modification between the two. Tablet XI of this epic will be discussed in Chapter IX. The Descent of Ishtar to Hades, also found in Sumerian and Accadian form, is interesting because of the light it sheds on the Babylonian conception of the underworld, which resembled the Canaanite and Hebrew ones very closely. A pendant to it is the myth of Nergal's journey to the underworld (for Nergal see II Kings 17:30). The poem of the god Irra is interesting because of the prophecies which it contains; one shows a form curiously reminiscent of the Hebrew prophets:

"A land (shall not spare) another, a house (shall not spare) another,
A man (shall not spare) another, a brother shall not spare another, (But they) shall kill each other.
Then shall the Accadian arise, destroy them all, Overwhelm them all together!"

The cycle of Ea and Atrakhasis, found also in Old Babylonian and Late Assyrian recensions, is particularly interesting because it refers to a number of successive partial destructions of mankind, in each of which the species is saved from complete annihilation by the intervention of Atrakhasis ("the exceedingly wise one"), who is called "the man" (elsewhere also "the seed of mankind"). The hero appears once as the Babylonian Noah (see Chapter IX). The mythical cycles of Adapa and Etana are both related conceptually to the biblical story of the Fall, though the details are different. Related in a similar way to the biblical allusions to Yahweh's conflict with the dragon of chaos are the poems of Tishpak and the labbu, as well as of Lugalbanda and the gigantic bird Zu, who had stolen the Tablets of Destiny. The latter is very ancient, and much of the Sumerian original is preserved. In general it may be said that all Accadian mythological poems go back in large part to the third millennium B.C., though many details and even episodes have been added in the extant Assyrian forms.

There are a very large number of hymns to the gods, which bear a much closer general resemblance to the biblical Psalms than do the Egyptian texts of the same nature. Lamentations and prayers, which are almost entirely lacking in Egypt, are also very numerous; many of them are attached to specific historical events or bear the name of historical kings; cf. the Lamentations of Jeremiah and the Psalms of David, etc. A catalogue of the opening lines of erotic songs belonging (mainly, at least) to the Ishtar cult, suggests that the Accadian love songs bore a closer resemblance to the Song of Songs than did the Egyptian.

Didactic and gnomic compositions are not quite so abundant, relatively speaking, as in the more self-conscious Egyptian culture, but they are fairly numerous and important for our purpose. The most interesting of these is perhaps the poem "I will praise the lord of wisdom," which has been justly called "The Babylonian Job"; like Job, the hero Laluralimma suffers unjustly, but is rewarded in the end. Another text of much later date contains an acrostic poem which has been termed "a Babylonian theodicy" by Landsberger; it is related both to Job and to Ecclesiastes. To the same category as the latter belongs the curious dialogue of a man with his servant. We are not well provided with proverbs, since there are only two short collections, aside from various scattered sayings and didactic texts in the form of omens, etc. One of them, found in the library of Assurbanapal at Nineveh (seventh century B.C.) actually contains the Golden Rule (which accidentally does not occur in the Old Testament): "Him that doeth evil to thee shalt thou requite with good." The animal fables of Accadian literature stand in type about half-way between those in the Bible and the Greek fables of Æsop, which were said by the Greeks themselves to have been borrowed from Oriental sources.

Of considerable comparative value are the masses of tablets containing rituals, hemerologies, liturgies, general incantations of the Shurpu and Maqlu class, since they have many points of contact with the Pentateuch (though the differences are far more numerous, of course). A very large part of the religious literature is devoted to magic and divination: astrology, liver divination (hepatoscopy), lecanomancy (oil dropped into water), oneiromancy (divination by dreams), omens from monstrous births, etc., etc. This vast literature is of great importance for the history of culture, and since Accadian magic and divination spread throughout the Near East as early as the second millennium B.C., it is significant because it enables us clearly to understand the nature of the ideas against which the religious leaders of Israel struggled ceaselessly for a thousand years.

CHAPTER IV

THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT PALESTINE AND SYRIA

1. Palestine

OWING to continued interest in ancient Palestine on the part of scholars and pilgrims, work on the recovery of the past of the Holy Land began soon after the Crusades. While there are some outstanding names among these early travelers, such as those of Borchardt of Mount Sion, Marino Sanuto, and Felix Fabri, it was not until the seventeenth century that archæological exploration began. But in spite of the numerous Roman sites discovered and described, none of this study could be called scientific in the modern archæological sense. The founder of scientific surface exploration in Palestine was an American biblical scholar, Edward Robinson, whose first journey in 1838 proved revolutionary. Many ancient sites were discovered, many were correctly identified with biblical places, and throughout he employed accurate knowledge of the documentary sources, careful reproduction of Arabic place-names, and critical topographical method. After Robinson, important additions to topographical knowledge were made by Tobler, Guérin, and others, while the work of de Sauley, de Vogüé, Warren, Clermont-Ganneau, and Guthe, to mention only the outstanding names, laid the foundations for the archæological recovery of Palestine. Among them we must single out Clermont-Ganneau for special mention. From 1872 to 1878 the Palestine Exploration Fund, founded in 1865, carried out the great Survey of Western Palestine, under the direction of British army officers, especially of Conder and Kitchener (later known as the conqueror of the Mahdi Empire and as Secretary of War during the World War).

In 1890 a new era opened with six weeks' soundings at Tell el-Hesi in southwestern Palestine, directed by Flinders Petrie, who had already dug for nearly a decade in Egypt and had discovered the value of pottery for chronological purposes. The Palestine Exploration Fund was responsible for this undertaking, as well as for most of the subsequent work in Palestine before the War. After Petrie's soundings had demonstrated the importance of the site, work was continued for three campaigns under the direction of a young American, F. J. Bliss. The publication of Bliss's results in a modest volume entitled A Mound of Seven Cities (1894), aroused much interest, but did not yield as much information as might have been expected, owing to Bliss's inexperience and to the primitive stratigraphical method which then existed. Bliss then spent several years excavating in Jerusalem, after which he returned to the low hill-country (Shephelah) of Judah with a young Irish archæologist, R. A. S. Macalister. For two long seasons they dug in the mounds of Tell es-Safi (probably Libnah), Tell Zakariya (Azekah), Tell ej-Judeideh (Moreseth-gath?), and Tell Sandahannah (Maresha-Marisa), making many discoveries and laying a solid foundation for pottery chronology. It is very interesting to note that the pottery chronology presented by Bliss and Macalister—in their publication of this work in 1902—was not superseded for fully twenty years, though many additions were naturally made in detail. In fact, most subsequent archæological publications were far behind this work in the accuracy of their classification and chronology.

The work of the Fund at Gezer in the Shephelah of Central Palestine (1902-1909) was directed single-handed by Macalister, who published his results in three large volumes (1912). This work has remained until now the largest single repository of archæological material from Palestine. Unfortunately, the chronology finally adopted by the author was inferior to that held ten years before by Bliss and himself, though much material was added.

In 1901 a German scholar, Ernst Sellin, began digging at Taanach on the southwestern edge of the Plain of Esdraelon. Two years later the Germans began more elaborate excavations at Megiddo, continued for three years. Discoveries were more abundant than in the south, but much less attention was paid to pottery. In 1907, however, Sellin and Watzinger began work at Jericho, with the assistance of trained architects, and the excavation here was both better handled and better recorded than any hitherto made in Palestine. Unfortunately, not so much can be said for the chronology, which disregarded the standpoint attained by Bliss and Macalister a decade before, and was nearly a thousand years off in the date of the supposed "wall that fell before the Israelites."

In 1908 excavations were begun by Harvard University at Samaria, with a gift of $60,000 from Jacob Schiff. Thanks to the unprecedentedly liberal funds at its disposal, but especially to the competent direction of G. A. Reisner, the foremost field archæologist of the day, the Samaria excavation was admirably conducted and splendidly published (1924). Results were, it is true, disappointing, except for the great discovery of over seventy ostraca from the ninth century B.C. (see Chapter XV).

Passing over a few minor excavations before the War, let us turn to archæological work after the War. In 1920 a Department of Antiquities was established, an Antiquities Ordinance was drawn up, and the directorship was entrusted to the hands of a well-trained English archæologist, John Garstang. In following years there was a new spirit of cooperation, previously unknown, thanks to the collaboration of the three leading archæological institutions in Jerusalem, the American, British, and French schools of archæology, with the government and with other expeditions in the field. The establishment of an international learned association, the Palestine Oriental Society (now in its sixteenth year), has also helped greatly to further the joint effort.

The first major excavation undertaken after the War was at Beth-shan (Beisan), under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania Museum (1921-33). Under the successive direction of Fisher, Rowe and FitzGerald this has proved to be unusually productive both of historical results and of archæological monuments. Of first importance is a superimposed series of Canaanite and Egyptian temples extending from the fifteenth to the eleventh century B.C., and yielding much information on Canaanite religion and religious practices as well as three large royal stelæ belonging to Sethos I (Seti) and Rameses II, besides monuments of Rameses III (1195-1164 B.C.). A succession of early strata was investigated in 1933, beginning about the middle of the fourth millennium B.C. and reaching down to late in the third millennium, being thus of prime value for the archaeological chronology of early Palestine.

The second major excavation launched in Palestine after the War is undoubtedly the Oriental Institute expedition to Megiddo (Armageddon), which began in 1925 and has continued until the present, under the successive direction of Fisher, Guy, and Loud. This great undertaking has cleared up the chronological problems left open by the German expedition nearly a generation previously, and has made many important discoveries. Most important of all its finds is undoubtedly that of well-built stables and quarters for horses and grooms, dating from the time of Solomon to the eighth century B.C. Some three main phases of the history of the stables were found; for additional details see Chapter XIV. In 1931 a valuable series of floor-levels dating from the late fourth millennium to the middle of the third was uncovered; the careful comparison of the stratification here with that at Beth-shan has stabilized the archaeological chronology of the Early Bronze in Palestine.

In 1926 two smaller American excavations were opened; one was directed by the writer (with the aid of the late Dr. M. G. Kyle) at Tell Beit Mirsim, and the other by W. F. Badè (with the aid of Dr. Fisher) at Tell en-Nasbeh, believed by many scholars to be the site of Mizpah. Four campaigns at the former site and five at the latter have added greatly to our knowledge of Southern Palestine in the period of the Judges and the Jewish Monarchy. The former site has an excellent stratification, so the contribution which it has made to pottery chronology is very considerable. In 1931 a similar excavation was inaugurated at Beth-zur, under the direction of O. R. Sellers (assisted by the writer); the first campaign was exceptionally successful, yielding the first evidence for a Jewish silver coinage in the Persian period. In 1934 the writer directed a successful campaign at Bethel (assisted by Dr. Kelso and a staff of nearly a dozen). This undertaking has yielded few objects, but has been exceptionally important because of the rich stratification and the light shed on the history of the place, which is mentioned more frequently than any other town in Palestine except Jerusalem. Between 1928 and 1933 Elihu Grant continued the work at Bethshemesh begun by the Palestine Exploration Fund before the War, with the assistance in different campaigns of Fisher and Rowe. His five campaigns here yielded many objects, including some unique inscriptions in Canaanite alphabetic characters (both linear and cuneiform). All of these expeditions were connected, directly or indirectly, with the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem; the excavations at Tell Beit Mirsim, Beth-zur, and Bethel were conducted jointly by the School and the Pittsburgh-Xenia and the Presbyterian (Chicago) Theological Seminaries.

In 1926 two European excavations of interest were undertaken: the excavation of Shechem by a German group, headed by Sellin, and work at Shiloh, directed by H. Kjaer with the assistance of Aage Schmidt. The work at Shechem (Balatah), begun in 1913 but interrupted by the War, has been relatively unsuccessful, owing to neglect of pottery chronology by the responsible archaeologists until 1934, when H. Steckeweh resumed operations, digging according to modern methods. The Shiloh excavation has been very well managed, though little ground was covered.

In 1927 Sir Flinders Petrie shifted his field of work definitively from Egypt to Palestine, beginning at Tell Jemmeh (probably Gerar), and going on in 1928 to Tell el-Far'ah (probably Sharuhén, and certainly not Bethpelet), both in the extreme southwestern part of Palestine. In 1930-34 Petrie excavated at Tell 'Ajjul south of Gaza. Valuable archaeological material was obtained from all these sites; inscriptions were few and far between. Unfortunately, Petrie's adherence to a long-antiquated system of Egyptian chronology, which is not accepted by a single competent younger scholar, has led to extravagantly high dates for his discoveries, exaggerated by his total disregard of all work done by others since his initial campaign in 1890. Accepted by non-specialists, these dates have upset the historical balance of several recent popular books. None of Petrie's historical and ethnological conclusions is accepted by competent historians.

In 1929-1936 Garstang excavated for six campaigns at Jericho, continuing the work begun by the Germans before the War. His work has been very successful, though it has by no means exhausted the site, much less cleared up all the problems of its history. The chronology of the fortifications has been settled and the mud-brick wall which surrounded the latest Canaanite town has been identified. The date of the fall of this town has been fixed between 1400 and the early thirteenth century B.C., giving the extreme chronological limits for this occurrence (see Chapter XIV). But the most significant discoveries of all have been made in the earliest strata of the mound, where a more-or-less continuous occupation going back through the Early Bronze, Chalcolithic, and Neolithic into the Mesolithic, not later than 6000 B.C., has been established. The remains belonging to the ages before pottery had been invented are entirely new in type, helping materially to fill the gap between prehistory and history. Jericho may well be called the oldest occupied town in the world (if we allow for a slight shift in its exact location during the millennia). Garstang is now (1936) beginning work on an elaborate scale at Canaanite sites in Galilee, notably at Tell Kisan, which may represent Achshaph.

In 1930 the late Fr. A. Mallon began work at the very early site of Teleilat el-Ghassul, on the eastern side of the Jordan just north of the Dead Sea; work is still continuing in 1936, under the direction of R. Koepfel. This site, as we now know, was occupied in the late fifth and early fourth millennia; it has yielded many interesting remains of the Chalcolithic Ghassulian culture of Palestine, including remarkable mural frescoes. The place was abandoned at least a millennium and a half before Abraham, so the fancied association with the "wicked cities," Sodom and Gomorrah, is quite baseless.

The excavation of Samaria (interrupted for lack of funds in 1910) was resumed by Harvard University in 1931, this time in collaboration with the Palestine Exploration Fund and the Hebrew University. The work was directed by J. W. Crowfoot, head of the British School in Jerusalem, who had previously undertaken some excavation at Jerusalem and at Jerash. The work at Samaria was very well organized and managed; discoveries were relatively few. The most interesting ones will be referred to in Chapter XV.

In 1932 excavations began at Lachish (Tell ed-Duweir), under the very competent direction of Mr. J. L. Starkey; work here is still under way. The Lachish undertaking has been carried on in a way comparable to that at Megiddo, and very important finds have already rewarded the excavators. So far, the pièce de résistance has unquestionably been the discovery of nearly a score of inscribed potsherds (ostraca) in the ruins of the city gate; see Chapter XVI for details.

In 1933-35 the late Mme. Marquet-Krause directed three seasons of work at Ai, near Bethel. The results were at first somewhat disconcerting, since no remains of the entire period between cir. 2200 B.C. and the twelfth century B.C. were found. Further work, however, yielded some of the most significant finds that have yet been made in Palestine, proving that the Early Bronze culture of the hill-country was unexpectedly well developed before the middle of the third millennium. The discovery of Egyptian alabaster in the upper temple pinned down the chronology of this hitherto obscure age. Thanks to the recent work (since 1934) at Ai and Jericho, combined with the results obtained since 1931 at Megiddo and Beth-shan, we can now give a precise chronological outline of the evolution of culture in Palestine during the entire millennium before Abraham.

Turning from major excavations in Western Palestine to minor undertakings, we shall limit ourselves for lack of space to a rapid sketch of the more important work bearing on the Hellenistic-Roman-Byzantine period. The excavations of the Palestine Exploration Fund at Jerusalem, directed successfully by Macalister, Duncan, and Crowfoot (1923-28) were very disappointing. More success is now falling to the lot of Mr. C. N. Johns, who is at present working slowly and carefully in the ground under the Turkish citadel at the Jaffa Gate. Recent excavations and soundings under the property of the Dames de Sion and the Franciscan Convent of the Flagellation have led, in the expert hands of Fr. L. H. Vincent, to a completely new picture of the Prætorium and the Tower of Antonia. Dr. Sukenik's clearance of the line of the Agrippan Wall north of the old city (1925-27) has solved one of the most elusive topographical problems connected with New Testament Jerusalem. His excavation of numerous tombs of the last century of the Second Temple around Jerusalem has doubled the available number of inscribed ossuaries (see Chapter XIX).

Dr. Sukenik and other Jewish scholars have been very active since the War in clearing the sites of ancient synagogues, so our present level of knowledge is far above that reached by Kohl and Watzinger in their admirable publication of 1916. The most important synagogues which have been excavated are located at Capernaum, Chorazin, No'aran (near Jericho), Jerash, Beth Alpha (near Beth-shan), and el-Hammeh (to which must be added the remarkable synagogue at Dura on the Euphrates on p. 12). All of them date from between cir. 200 and cir. 630 A.D., but in many respects their arrangement and furniture must be considered to carry on traditions of the Herodian age.

There has also been an extraordinary increase in attention to Christian churches. According to Fr. Vincent, the oldest one hitherto cleared is that of Emmaus ('Amwas), dating from the early third century. However, Crowfoot and Watzinger, followed by most other archaeologists, reject his chronology and date it in the Byzantine period. The chapel at Dura (see p. 12) must remain the oldest known Christian church. The oldest basilica is undoubtedly the "Mother of Churches" over the Grotto of the Nativity at Bethlehem, which dates from the time of Constantine, about 330 A.D. Excavations here since 1934 have brought to light the foundations and original floor of this structure, under the present basilica, which was built by Justinian. At Jerash no fewer than eight Christian churches have been excavated by Crowfoot, some very well preserved and all dating between the fourth and the seventh centuries A.D.

2. Syria

In the following sketch we shall restrict ourselves to the territory now occupied by the French mandate west of the Upper Euphrates; for Mari and Dura see Chapter III.

The first systematic archaeological exploration in Syria was organized by Ernest Renan, who directed the work of a French expedition in Phœnicia in 1860-61. Attention had been directed to the possibilities here by the discovery of the sarcophagus of Eshmunazar king of Sidon (fifth century B.C.) in 1855. Gesenius's successful decipherment of the Phœnician inscriptions from Cyprus, Carthage, etc., in 1837 had also shown the great importance of finding more inscriptions in Phœnicia itself. Renan's expedition did yeoman service in mapping sites and studying remains above ground; it also made a number of interesting discoveries through excavation in various places. He was followed in 1887 by Hamdy Bey, who dug two hypogæa near Sidon, discovering a wealth of marvelous sarcophagi, including the coffin of Tabnit king of Sidon and the so-called Alexander Sarcophagus, which is now the choicest treasure of the Ottoman Museum in Istanbul.

Aside from valuable surface exploration, mainly devoted to Byzantine churches, on the part of de Vogüé, Butler, and others, little excavation had been undertaken in the rest of Syria before the War, except in the extreme north. The Germans devoted five campaigns (1888-1902) to the Late-Hittite site of Zenjirli, where von Luschan and his colleagues uncovered important architectural and inscriptional remains which have been of great service in elucidating the history and culture of Syria-Palestine in Iron II (period of the Divided Monarchy). Garstang supplemented their results by his work at Sakhegözü (1908, 1911), and Hogarth and Woolley made valuable excavations at Carchemish on the Euphrates (see Chapter XVI) from 1911 to 1914 (also 1920).

The War changed the entire situation, as elsewhere in Bible Lands. Under the favorable régime of a French mandate, with Ch. Viroilleaud installed as Director of Antiquities, followed in 1929 by H. Seyrig, there has been an almost uninterrupted increase of archæological activity. The most important excavation has been carried on at Byblus (Gabal) by Montet (1921-24) and Dunand (1926—). Here many sensational discoveries have been made, including a whole series of Phœnician (Canaanite) inscriptions, extending from the fourth century B.C. back toward the middle of the third millennium. The first outstanding discovery was that of the sarcophagus of king Hiram (Ahiiram) of Byblus, with inscriptions which carried the Hebrew-Phœnician alphabet back several centuries to the twelfth century B.C. Then came the finding, first of one, then of a number of long inscriptions in a hitherto unknown syllabary, containing at least eighty and probably more than a hundred different characters, and dating from the late third millennium. Since these inscriptions are probably in a very early Canaanite, antedating all known samples of this language by many centuries, we must await their publication with the deepest interest. Any Canaanite from such remote antiquity would probably prove to be the direct ancestor of biblical Hebrew.

In 1929 Schaeffer began excavations at Ras-esh-Shamrah, ancient Ugarit, north of Lattakia at the extreme northern end of Canaan. As at Byblus there have been a great many sensational discoveries, but here again the most remarkable finds have been of Canaanite inscriptions. This time the inscriptions are written in a previously unknown cuneiform alphabet, and date from the middle of the second millennium B.C. For further information on them see Chapter XII.

Important work has been carried on by the Danes at Hamath on the Orontes, under the direction of H. Ingholt (1931—) and by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago at three sites near Rihaniyeh in the region of Antioch (1932-36). The archæological method employed in these sites has been better than that employed in most other excavations in Syria and the staffs have been much larger. For the archæological chronology of Syria they have, accordingly, been of decisive value, and they have thus directly affected our knowledge of the development of civilization in Palestine.

Two Syrian sites have proved of outstanding importance for the post-Christian period: Palmyra and Antioch. In the course of the past two centuries and a half the romantic desert metropolis has attracted an increasing stream of travelers and archæologists, who had recorded practically everything that was accessible without digging before the War. After the War work was early begun here, and Gabriel, Ingholt, and Seyrig—to name some of the excavators—have greatly increased our material for the history and civilization of Tadmor, whose remains span the first three centuries of the Christian era. Palmyra and Dura together have yielded nearly all that we know from contemporary sources of the Semitic Aramæan language and culture of Syria and Palestine in the time of Christ and the Early Church. Even Petra is of far less importance in this respect.

The excavation of Antioch, the first Christian centre outside of Palestine, was begun in 1933 by a joint Franco-American expedition organized by Professor Morey of Princeton University. Here several hundred mosaics covering most of the first six centuries A.D. have added enormously to our information on the evolution of mosaic art in the East. Indirectly, these unprecedented discoveries of mosaics will eventually make it possible to date many of the Christian churches and other buildings of Palestine more precisely than has often been true in the past.

We close this brief sketch with emphasis on the prediction that Syria will prove to be one of the most important foci of archæological activity in the world during the coming generation, if political circumstances do not impede excavation. Syria lay in the centre of the ancient civilized world and all cross-currents of culture had to pass through it. Since Syria generally shared a common civilization with Palestine, discoveries here are likely to affect Palestinian archaeology almost as directly as though they were made in Palestine itself.

CHAPTER V

THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT ASIA MINOR

ASIA MINOR (or Anatolia) is nearly coterminous with the present geographical term "Turkey in Asia," if we exclude Armenia and the extreme north of Syria. From Cilicia and Cappadocia on the east we pass through Pisidia and Phrygia, emerging in Lycia, Caria, and Lydia on the shore of the Ægean. Since Asia Minor is of less direct interest to biblical students than are the countries which we have so far passed in review, we shall devote less space to it. For convenience we shall survey the more important excavations, from our point of view, according to their significance for three different periods: the age of the Cappadocian tablets, the Hittite Empire, and the Hellenistic-Roman period.

In 1881 the first tablet from Cappadocia was made known to the scholarly world. It was some time before this class of cuneiform document was recognized both as genuine and as Old Assyrian by Golenischeff, Delitzsch, and Jensen, and it was not until after the War that a sufficiently large number of tablets became available for more penetrating study. Thanks to the discovery of many hundreds more by natives, as well as to the excavations of Hrozny at Kanish (Kül-tepe) and of Schmidt and von der Osten at Alishar (on behalf of the Oriental Institute), we now have several thousand of them, nearly two thousand of which have already been published or will appear in print shortly. The importance of these documents is that they reflect intensive trading activity in Mesopotamia, Syria, and Asia Minor on the part of Assyrian merchants in the twentieth century B.C. Consisting of contracts and letters, they give us a more vivid picture of the culture of the region through which Abraham wandered than any other body of material now known (see Chapter XI). Facile princeps in this field of study is Julius Lewy.

In 1871 some strange-appearing hieroglyphic inscriptions were discovered at Hamath in Syria. This find was followed by others, and in 1879 the late A. H. Sayce, who had applied the term "Hittite" to them, pointed out that the same script appeared on monuments in different parts of Asia Minor. From that time on this script has been termed the Hittite hieroglyphic system, and unceasing efforts have been made to decipher it. Since inscriptions in it range from the basin of the Ægean through Asia Minor to northern Syria, it is evident that their interpretation would be a matter of no little interest to biblical scholars, who can still remember the time when references to the "kings of the Hittites" in the Bible were declared to be false. Until 1928 little progress was made, in spite of many attempts by Sayce, Jensen, and others. Then Meriggi laid a solid foundation for further progress, and others, notably Forrer, Bossert, and Hrozny, have succeeded in giving a convincing, though still very partial and defective, decipherment. These inscriptions date from before 1600 B.C. (as we know from Bittel's latest discoveries at Boghazköy) to after 700 B.C.

In the search for more information about the Hittites, Hugo Winckler was led to Boghazköy, where he and Puchstein excavated from 1906 to 1912. Since 1931 Kurt Bittel has continued the excavation. Here nearly twenty thousand cuneiform tablets and fragments have been discovered, most of them in an Indo-European language closely related both to hieroglyphic Hittite and to the speech of southern Asia Minor (Luvian). The decipherment of this language by Hrozny in 1915 led to a great burst of activity, as soon as the War was over. Thanks to the cooperation of men like Forrer, Friedrich, and Götze, texts in Nesian can now be read quite as well as Accadian or Egyptian were fifty years ago. The value of this material for the ethnography, history, and civilization of Asia Minor and Syria during the second millennium B.C. is very great; we may single out historical records, a code of laws, and mythological compositions as particularly important for us. There are many direct and indirect sidelights on the Bible.

Archæological interest in the great cities of more recent times in western Asia Minor arose in the seventeenth century, and excavation in their stately ruins began soon after it had commenced in Egypt and Assyria. The most important site here to a Bible student is that of Ephesus, where J. T. Wood began excavations on behalf of the British Museum in 1868, working until 1874 and returning for another campaign in 1883. The British work here was followed by that of an Austrian expedition, which dug from 1894 to 1900, followed in its turn by the British Museum excavation of the Temple of Artemis by Hogarth (1904-06) and now again by an Austrian excavation under Keil. Sardis, the ancient capital of Lydia, called Sepharad (Sfard) in the Old Testament and in its native inscriptions, was excavated by an American expedition, headed by Howard Crosby Butler (1910-14). Work was resumed after the War but was interrupted again by the Turkish victory over the Greeks. A third one of the Seven Cities of Asia mentioned in the Apocalypse, Pergamum (Pergamus), was excavated in part by an elaborate German expedition from 1879 on. German expeditions also dug at Miletus, Magnesia, Priene, Cos, and elsewhere in Asia Minor, while Americans worked at Colophon, etc. The site of Antioch in Pisidia, mentioned frequently in the Book of Acts, was attacked by a Michigan expedition, led by D. M. Robinson (1924). Of great importance for our knowledge of Asia Minor in the first centuries A.D. are the innumerable Greek inscriptions above the surface, which have been collected and published over a period of generations by a distinguished array of scholars, chief among whom was the late W. M. Ramsay. At present this important work is being carried on by an international group under the auspices of the American Society for Archaeological Research in Asia Minor.

CHAPTER VI

THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT PERSIA

IRAN or Persia Proper, as distinguished from the Persian Empire, is often mentioned in the Bible. These references begin in Gen. 10 and 14, where Media and Elam (Susiana) are mentioned, and become more and more frequent in later history. Since, however, archaeological research in Iran is a little remote from direct contact with the Hebrews, we shall restrict ourselves to a few remarks on the more interesting undertakings. In Chapter III we have already referred to the surface exploration of Iran in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries, when the Old Persian inscriptions at Persepolis, Pasargadae, and Behistun were copied and deciphered. The first real excavation was conducted under French auspices at Susa (Shushan), first by Dieulafoy from 1885 on, and later by de Morgan and others (since 1897). Dieulafoy devoted himself mainly to the Persian ruins on the summit of the acropolis (called Shushan the Palace in the A.V. of Esther); de Morgan dug down into strata of the Elamite period, finding such treasures as the Code of Hammurabi (1901). The ancient Elamite language, culture, and history have been largely reconstructed, and Chalcolithic remains going back to the fifth millennium B.C. (the first to be found in southwestern Asia) have been excavated.

After a series of brilliant exploratory trips and studies of isolated monuments, Ernst Herzfeld was entrusted with the systematic excavation of Persepolis by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago in 1931. During the four following years much of the surface of the great acropolis of the Achæmenian kings was cleared, including a procession staircase of Darius Hystaspes and the palaces of Darius and Xerxes, etc. The procession staircase was found to be lined with sculptures mainly depicting tribute bearers from all over the then known world. In a small room opening from it were discovered some thirty thousand clay tablets, mostly in Neo-Susian (the latest known phase of Elamite). When these documents have been published and studied we may expect to see a tremendous increase in our information about the administrative organization, ethnography, etc., of the Persian Empire. We may confidently expect indirect light to be shed on many problems of Post-exilic Judaism (see Chapter XVII).

The researches of Herzfeld and Schaeder promise to throw definite archaeological light on the obscure problem of the chronology of early Mazdayasnianism. At present there is no agreement with regard to the date of its founder Zoroaster, who is variously dated from somewhere in the late second millennium down to the middle of the sixth century B.C.; there is no certainty with regard to the authenticity or date of any of the compositions in the Avesta; it is not even known when the Avesta was first edited in a form somewhat resembling its present one. We do not know whether Cyrus was a follower of Zoroaster or not; we do not know the nature of Magianism; we do not understand the religious situation in Persia before the Sassanian period, which began in the third century A.D. In view of the real and supposed points of contact between Zoroastrianism and later Judaism, all this is very important for our purposes.

CHAPTER VII

THE RECOVERY OF ANCIENT ARABIA

THE great peninsula of Arabia, including the Syrian Desert, is generally believed to have been the cradle of the Semitic race, and hitherto no valid arguments have been brought against this view. In any case, the desert of Arabia drew its inhabitants irresistibly toward a nomadic life, in which the population of the peninsula was continually shifting from south to north and from north to south. It is not surprising then that Arabia exercised a very direct influence on Palestine and was, in turn, influenced at least as strongly by the latter. In J. A. Montgomery's Arabia and the Bible (1934) the situation has been effectively and completely stressed.

After a Danish expedition, whose only survivor was the famous explorer Carsten Niebuhr, had opened South Arabia to scientific research in 1762-63, a few alphabetic inscriptions in the pre-Arabic script then called "Himyarite" found their way to Europe, either in the originals or in copies. In 1841 Gesenius and Rödiger almost simultaneously published monographs in which they successfully began their decipherment, using the Ethiopic alphabet (itself derived from South Arabian) as their starting point.

Nearly all the South-Arabian inscriptions known today were collected (in the original, in squeezes, and hand-copies) by two Jewish Orientalists: Joseph Halévy (1870), to whom we owe some six hundred; and Eduard Glaser (in four journeys occupying over six years between 1882 and 1894), who found no fewer than a thousand. In subsequent years the greatest additions came through original inscriptions and monuments dug up by the natives and sold through antiquity dealers. Several hundred new inscriptions have been made available to scholarship in this way. There are probably nearly 3000 published South-Arabian inscriptions, many of which are mere graffiti from North Arabia, while some have even been found in Egypt, Babylonia, and as far as Greece—a fact which bears witness to the commercial enterprise of the ancient Yemenites.

Excavations were first made in Arabia in 1928, when two scholarly travelers, Rathjens and von Wissmann, dug under the protection of the Imam Yahya. However, they were quite untrained men, and the natives were hard to control, so the work can be considered important only because of its promise for the future.

Thanks to the work of many Semitic scholars since their decipherment in 1841, the documents can now be pretty well understood, though they offer difficulties in detail. N. Rhodokanakis of Graz is recognized as the leading authority in this field. After a long dispute between adherents of the "high chronology," numbering especially Hommel, Glaser, and Weber, and of the "low," counting nearly all younger men, the latter view has very definitely prevailed, though we still lack absolutely decisive evidence. The principal South Arabian states were Sheba (native Saba) and Ma'an (also mentioned in the Bible), whose history may be traced back to the eighth century B.C., thanks to Assyrian inscriptions. The South-Arabian inscriptions begin about this time and extend down to the sixth century A.D., when the Himyarite civilization fell before Abyssinian (Axumite) invasions, after showing clear signs of internal decay. However, it is now reasonably clear that the South-Arabian alphabet is descended from the Proto-Sinaitic alphabet (see p. 8), which had already developed in the north beyond the point which must be assumed for the branching of the former, as early as the thirteenth century B.C. There can, therefore, be little doubt that we shall eventually find inscriptions carrying us well back into the Bronze Age, centuries before the date of the biblical Queen of Sheba.

The South-Arabian inscriptions are of great value for the study of Hebrew antiquity, since they share many words and personal names with the Israelites, and since their institutions and their religious practices have much in common. The Minæan evidence for the original meaning of the term "Levite" is of great significance, though it is still somewhat ambiguous. It will be recalled that one biblical tradition derives Sheba and Dedan (el-'Ula, where there was a Minæan colony) from Keturah, the second wife of Abraham.

CHAPTER VIII

THE CREATION OF THE WORLD IN THE ANCIENT ORIENTAL LITERATURES

THE biblical account of the Creation appears, as is well known, in two forms, one in Gen. 1:1—2:3 and the other briefer one in Gen. 2:4-7. The former, which belongs to the body of source material known conventionally as the "Priestly Document," bears certain points of resemblance to the Babylonian Epic of Creation, "When first" (the translation of its Babylonian name; see p. 13). The principal resemblance is superficial: the Babylonian epic has seven tables, while the Hebrew account covers seven days of creation; the Babylonian text, like many similar ones, starts with the same formula (also found in the second account of creation, Gen. 2:4 f.): "When... then.*" The cosmological conceptions were also in some respects similar; e.g., all the people of south-western Asia seem to have believed that there was a great subterranean fresh-water ocean, called tehom by the Hebrews (and by the Jews of rabbinic and mediæval times) and apsu by the Accadians. Otherwise nothing could be more different from the purely monotheistic Hebrew account, where nothing is superfluous, than the verbose, redundant, crassly mythological Babylonian narrative. At the beginning there were two monsters represented in art as dragons, Apsu, the fresh-water subterranean ocean, and his consort Tiamat, the salt-water * Gen. 1:1 ff. should be rendered: When God began to create heaven and earth—and the earth was in a chaotic state and darkness was over the primordial ocean, and the Spirit of God was soaring over the water—then God said . . . . Gen. 2:4 f. should be translated: When YHWH-God made earth and heaven—and there was as yet no herb of the field in the earth and no plant of the field had yet sprouted, for YHWH-God had not yet rained on the earth, and man was not there to till the soil—then there sprang forth a stream from the earth and watered the whole surface of the ground.

ocean that surrounds the earth (etymologically the same word as Heb. tehôm, but with a secondary meaning). From this pair sprang a series of generations of deities, and finally some of the younger ones became so powerful that the two primordial dragons plotted to destroy them. In the ensuing theomachy, which occupies most of the epic, Ea slays Apsu, while his son Marduk, god of Babylon (generally called simply Bel, "the Lord") destroys Tiamat after a terrific combat. The body of Tiamat is split in two, heaven being formed from the upper half and earth from the lower. Then mankind is created from the blood of Qingu, Tiamat's chief minister; the text (VI:30-35) on which the following rendering is based has just been completed by Weidner (1936):

"They bound him (Qingu), before Ea they fettered him;
Punishment they imposed on him, his blood-vessels they cut open,
With his blood they created mankind;
On him (man) they imposed the service of the gods."

It is a little difficult to see how this mythological structure can be connected in any direct way whatsoever with the biblical story, though many scholars have tried to establish such a connection.

The second, relatively earlier account of Creation in Genesis offers a striking point of contact with the Upper Euphrates valley. The Hebrew word ed, which the Greek translators in the third century B.C. and a little later rendered "fountain" or "gushing forth" (A.V. "mist") is proved by the context to mean "stream," or the like. In form this word goes back directly to Sumerian id, "stream, river," also personified as the river-god Id, called either Id or Naru by the Accadians. But Id or Naru was regarded as the primeval deity, the "primordial king" by the Accadians, as we know from a number of interesting allusions in cuneiform literature. An Accadian incantation reads:

"Thou art the River which created everything
When the great gods dug thee; "
On thy bank they established prosperity;
In the midst of thee Ea, king of the subterranean ocean, built his abode,
Giving thee a (river-) flood beyond compare.
.....
The judgment of mankind thou dost judge,
O great River, exalted River . . . !"

There were a number of brief descriptions of the creation of man. In the Old Babylonian recension of the Atrakhasis epic, we read that the "wise Mami" was the mother-womb which created the first man (called Lullu), in order that he might bear the yoke of divine service: "a god shall be slain, . . . with his flesh and his blood let the goddess Ninkhursag mix clay. Let god and man spring from it, united in clay!" In a Sumerian cosmogonic narrative found at Assur, we find the gods called Anunnaki saying to Ellil: "In Uzumua, the link of heaven and earth, we shall slay the Lamga-gods; with their blood we shall create mankind, whose lot shall be the service of the gods."

In Egyptian cosmogony we find an almost entirely different set of ideas. The most striking similarity here is one that only occurs in cuneiform literature in a very secondary form which may have no primary relation at all to the Creation. This is the idea that light arose from the primeval ocean (Nun) in the form of the sun-god Amon-Re', who is called in this connection "the living flame." The ram-god Khnum of Elephantine is represented in the act of creating mankind on the potter's wheel, but we have no special myths describing it.

Turning to Phœnician (Canaanite) cosmogony we have an interesting situation. The cosmogony attributed to an ancient priest named Sanchuniathon by Philo Byblius (first century A.D.) has been considered by most scholars as either apocryphal or as very much coloured by the author's syncretistic philosophical interest. The discovery of the Canaanite mythological and religious texts of Ugarit (Chapter XII) has changed this attitude completely, since we now have the original Phœnician names of many mythological figures mentioned by Philo, and the mythological picture is very similar in both. It is true that we have no true cosmogonic poems from Ugarit as yet, but the vindication of Philo's general accuracy in detail makes it possible to accept the cosmogony which he gives as belonging to at least one Byblian school of priests. While this cosmogony may be more recent than the biblical one, certain details are clearly archaic, as for instance the conception that the first men (really demi-gods), called "the original one" (Heb. 'olam) and "the first-born one" sprang from the union of the east (?) wind with a female figure named Baau, probably the same word as Hebrew bohu, "chaos." The idea that the creation began when the world was in a state of chaos is again like that of Hebrews and early Greeks. More resemblances will probably be found eventually. Meanwhile we obtain new light on words which are otherwise obscure; for example, the Hebrew stem rhp, used of the spirit of God in Gen. 1:2 (A.V. "moved") is used repeatedly in the Daniel epic of the Canaanites (published by Virolleaud in 1936) in the sense of "fly, soar over (a place, of a bird)."

There are many references to a conflict between YHWH and the dragon of chaos, Tehom, Rahab, or Leviathan, in later poetical books of the Bible, notably in Isaiah, Job, and the Psalms. Most of these passages date from shortly before or after the time of the Babylonian Exile (roughly speaking), and must be considered as poetical imagery drawn from contemporary Canaanite (Phœnician) literature (which was, of course, also written in Hebrew), in the same way that Milton drew from classical mythology in his "Paradise Lost." Some of the illusions, however, probably come from Israelite poems describing YHWH's triumph over the dragon, just as Baal had triumphed in similar Canaanite poems. Parallels are numerous and good. In Mesopotamia we have the primordial conflict between Marduk or Assur and Tiamat (Heb. Tehom), between Ea and Apsu, between Tishpak and the labbu, between some god and the seven-headed dragon, etc.; in Asia Minor we have the conflict between a god and the dragon Illuyankas; among the Canaanites of Ugarit we find a poem describing the combat between Baal and Yammu or Naharu (the sea or the primordial river), who is represented as a dragon, as shown recently by Ginsberg. Even more interesting is the fact that we now have a passage describing Lotan (older Lautan), Heb. Leviathan, in exactly the same terms, even with the same adjectives brh and 'qltn which are applied to Leviathan in Isa. 27:1 (cf. Job 26:13); moreover, he is said to have seven heads, agreeing with the many heads attributed to this monster in Ps. 74:14.

As already observed, it cannot be accidental that these allusions are all found in poetical passages, and that there is not the slightest hint of similar ideas in the early chapters of Genesis. The monotheistic conceptions of the most enlightened circles in Judah could not be harmonized with the legend of the battle between YHWH and the dragon of chaos at the beginning of the world. Yet we can hardly doubt that the belief in this conflict persisted in more tolerant or more syncretistic circles, until it emerged with elaborate embellishment in rabbinic Judaism. Like the other narratives in the early chapters of Genesis, the Hebrew cosmogony ultimately reflects ancient Oriental conceptions. Since Israel was not only a rarely endowed people, but was also affiliated by blood and by cultural ties with all surrounding nations, it was able to select the most vital elements in their religious literatures, and to combine them into a new and richer synthesis. This was then refined by the pedagogical processes of oral tradition, purified by the monotheism of Moses, and spiritualized by the inspired insight of the Prophets. It is not, therefore, surprising that it stands comparison with ephemeral modern cosmogonies so well that it will endure, we confidently believe, long after they have perished. The recurrent effort to "square Genesis with science" is as futile as the search for perpetual motion—and as lacking in philosophical insight.

CHAPTER IX ### MANKIND BEFORE AND DURING THE FLOOD

AFTER the Creation man was placed in a marvelous garden, planted in the eastern part of Eden (Gen. 2:8), a passage misinterpreted by later versions and commentators to mean that Eden was situated in the Far East. Actually, Gen. 2:10 (a river went forth out of Eden to water the garden, and thence it was divided, becoming four heads) proves that Eden was localized in the west, a view confirmed by the fact that the Euphrates, the Tigris, and the two Niles (Pishon and Gihon) were believed to rise in Eden.* So far there is no good parallel to the Garden of Eden in ancient Oriental literature. However, there are many parallels to isolated features. The idea of a primeval period of bliss is found in Sumerian literature, notably in the so-called Tilmun myth, but seems to vanish in later Babylonian writings. Curiously enough the same is true in Egypt, where there are allusions to an early age of bliss in the Pyramid Texts. In later Egypt, however, there is a good explanation for the disappearance of this conception: the paradise in the hereafter was painted in such glowing colours that the primeval one was forgotten (though it seems to have been revived in Greek times). The conception of the four rivers arising in the underworld to water the earth (or water a garden) appears both in Egyptian, Babylonian, and early Greek mythology, but it is nowhere important, and the idea of the two streams springing from a vase or vases in the underworld is much commoner. In Egypt the two streams form the two Niles; in Mesopotamia they become the Tigris and Euphrates. The idea of the Tree of Life is found in Egypt, especially in the Pyramid Texts; in Babylonia we have the plant of life, called by various names. In the Gilgamesh Epic the plant of life is carried away by a serpent, which immediately sloughs its skin, becoming eternal (or at least renewing its life). The closest parallel to the Tree of Knowledge in the garden is perhaps the vineyard paradise of Siduri Sabitu, who is called "the goddess of wisdom and the protecting genius of life."

It is thus impossible to find any real parallel to the Garden of Eden either in Mesopotamia or in Egypt. We shall probably discover a closer parallel in Canaanite (Phœnician) literature, to judge from such passages as Ezekiel 28:2,13 ff. and the references to the "field of El, who causes the rivers to spring from the midst of the source of the two deeps (tehamatem)" in the Epic of Baal from Ugarit, published by Virolleaud in 1931.

* See the writer in American Journal of Semitic Languages, Vol. XXXIX, 15-31.

Nor is there a close parallel to the Fall of Man. There are a number of myths describing how man lost the gift of immortality, especially the Adapa myth and the myth preserved by the Gilgamesh Epic, just described. It may be added that there are obscure allusions to the serpent which carries off a sacred plant in Sumerian religious poems of the third millennium. These stories belong with a large number of parallel myths collected by Frazer from all over the world. The closest parallel to the loss of man's innocence and his sexual seduction is found in the episode of Engidu in the Gilgamesh Epic; here again the parallel in the Old Babylonian recension is closer than that in the recensions of the first millennium.

Several lists of antediluvian patriarchs have been discovered in cuneiform sources, paralleling the two lists in Gen. 4 and 5, one with seven names, the other with ten. Two of these lists, both published by Langdon, belong to the end of the third millennium B.C.; one gives ten names, including Ziusuddu, the Babylonian Noah; the other gives only eight names, and does not mention the Babylonian Noah at all (in this respect perhaps resembling the account in Gen. 4). The third list comes from Neo-Babylonian times, and was put into Greek by Berossus, who lived in the third century B.C.; it agrees sometimes with one early list, sometimes with the other, and sometimes differs from both. The total length of the antediluvian age appears variously as 241,200, as 456,000, and as 432,000 years, yielding an average reign of from 30,000 to 45,000 years. In spite of numerous efforts, there is not the slightest basis for an attempt to identify any of the Sumerian names with names in the biblical list.

In Gen. 6:1-4 we have an exceedingly curious survival of early Hebrew lore, obviously antedating the monotheistic period of Hebrew history. The phrase "sons of God" (or "sons of the gods") has been elucidated by the just-interpreted Canaanite mythological poems from Ugarit, where it occurs in the clear meaning, "gods," in strict accord with common Hebrew usage in similar cases. The Nephilim, also designated here as "heroes of antiquity," correspond to such Babylonian figures as Gilgamesh (son of a goddess and a mortal and called "two-thirds god and one-third man") and Meshkim-gasher (son of the sun-god and a mortal woman). Of course, the polytheistic interpretation was no longer accepted by the editors who admitted this interesting fragment into the Pentateuch, and it may well have been replaced by an interpretation as "angels" centuries before.

The story of the Flood has some remarkably close parallels in ancient Babylonia, but none whatever in the rest of the ancient Orient, aside from some vague allusions in the Egyptian Book of the Dead (see p. 5). In Mesopotamia we have a Sumerian recension from the third millennium, one complete Assyrian form (going back to an Old-Babylonian one) and two fragmentary ones, part of another Old-Babylonian recension, and an abstract of a Late-Babylonian one translated into Greek by Berossus. The Flood-hero is called Ziusuddu (literally "life [unto] distant day[s]," but the name is probably abbreviated, like many other Sumerian personal and divine names), translated into Accadian as Ut-napishtim-ruqu (generally abbreviated to Ut-napishtim); another Accadian appellation is Atram-khasis, "the very wise one."

As in the Bible, the Flood is sent because of the wickedness of the human race, though the motivation is on a distinctly lower plane in the cuneiform account. An ark is made and elaborately described; all the hero's wealth, his retainers, animals, etc., are loaded on the ark. Then comes a terrific storm, which lasts seven days; the description is one of the vividest passages in cuneiform literature. The goddess Ishtar then persuades the other gods by her tears to spare the hero, whose ark presently grounds on Mount Nizir in the mountains of the northern Zagros. For six days the waters subside, and on the seventh day the hero releases successively a dove, a swallow, and a raven. Ut-napishtim is then translated by the gods to an Elysium at the Mouth of the Rivers (see above on the Garden of Eden). The Babylonian poems are all shot through and through with crassly polytheistic passages such as the following:

"The gods feared the Flood,
They retreated and climbed up into the highest heaven;
The gods crouched like dogs, they cowered at the bulwarks (of heaven)."

* * * * *

"The gods smelled the savour,
The gods smelled the sweet savour;
The gods gathered like flies over the offerer."

Since Woolley's excavations in the lower levels of the great site of Ur several years ago, a great deal has been written about the Babylonian archaeological evidence for the Flood. In reality there is no solid basis for this supposed "evidence." Woolley found clear signs of a considerable deposit of pure river-silt and sand between remains of human occupation, a fact from which he correctly deduced that there had been an inundation. Subsequently he found other similar traces, and Watelin, working at Kish in the north, discovered several beds of silt and sand, also pointing to destructive inundations. But the inundations shown to have taken place at Kish belonged to quite different periods from any of those at Ur. Moreover, none of these inundations, not even the big one first found at Ur, separates periods; all are found in the middle of deposits belonging to homogeneous cultures. The extraordinary diffusion of deluge stories over the earth also indicates that the Story of the Flood is one of the oldest cultural possessions of humanity, presumably going back far beyond the middle Chalcolithic of the fifth or early fourth millennium B.C. at Ur.

CHAPTER X

THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE NATIONS

THE tenth chapter of Genesis has long attracted students of ancient Oriental geography and ethnography. It stands absolutely alone in ancient literature, without a remote parallel, even among the Greeks, where we find the closest approach to a distribution of peoples in genealogical framework. But among the Greeks the framework is mythological and the peoples are all Greek or Ægean tribes. It has been suggested recently that the Table of Nations is partly based on a Phœnician map of the world, a view which is possible. It is also possible that some of the elements go back to Phœnician sources, but there is no clear hint anywhere of a non-Israelite derivation of anything beyond isolated data. There can be no doubt that our document antedates the downfall of Assyria; the writer's preference is for a date about the end of the eighth century B.C., since Resen in 10:12 is probably the popular name for Dur-Sharrukin, the capital of Sargon II of Assyria at Khorsabad, which is situated near a great group of fountains (whose name would be pronounced res-en=Resen in late Assyrian).

Many of the names of peoples and countries mentioned in this chapter have been discovered on the monuments for the first time: e.g., Tubal=Tabal; Meshech (properly Moshech with the Greek Bible)=Mushke; Ashkenaz=Ashkuz (of which Greek Skythoi is a corruption); Togarmah=Tegarama; Elishah=Alashi (Alashiya); Tarshish=Tarsisi (pronounced in Assyrian Tarshish); Cush=Egyptian (E)k'osh, Assyrian Kusi (pronounced Kush); Phut=Putu; Seba and Sheba=Saba'; Dedan=Ddn; Accad=Akkadu; Shinar=Shanghar (whose geographical application shifted down the Euphrates); Asshur=Assur (Babylonian Ashshur); Rehoboth=Rebit Ninua (of which it is a translation); Calah=Kalkhu; Pathrusim=the inhabitants of Patorese (Upper Egypt); Caphtorim=the inhabitants of Caphtor=Kaptara; Heth=the land of the Hittites, Khattu; the Amorites are the inhabitants of Amurru, etc. In this list we have not included the numerous names of places and peoples which were already known from Græco-Roman sources, upon all of which the monuments have shed much additional light. Nor have we included many plausible but uncertain identifications.

In view of the inextricable confusion of racial and national strains in the ancient Near East it would be quite impossible to draw up a simple scheme which would satisfy all scholars; no one system could satisfy all the claims made on the basis of ethnic predominance, ethnographic diffusion, language, physical type, culture, historical tradition. The Table of Nations remains an astonishingly accurate document. An occasional peculiar collocation, such as the inclusion of Lud (presumably the Lydians) among the sons of Shem instead of among those of Japhet is perhaps due to the fact that the name was accidentally omitted from the latter group and later inserted between columns, being reintroduced into the text on the wrong side of the column, in this case among the sons of Shem.

Nor is there any parallel for the Tower of Babel in Gen. 11; the tower itself is evidently a reminiscence of the temple tower of Marduk at Babylon (pronounced Babel in Accadian and Hebrew). This zigguratu (called Etemenanki) was founded at an early date, presumably about 2000 B.C. or earlier; in Neo-Babylonian times it was over three hundred feet high, and was one of the wonders of the world. Since Babylon was probably one of the most polyglot cities in the world in most periods of its history, the localization of the confusion of languages there is very effective.

CHAPTER XI

THE PATRIARCHAL AGE

THE Patriarchal Age of Hebrew history has long been a subject of controversy. The opinions of competent scholars vary all the way from absolute denial of its "historicity" to qualified acceptance of the Patriarchal narratives as "historical." We employ quotation marks because of the wide divergence in the definitions given to "history." A record of objective facts is not necessarily sound "history," since it may leave so many indispensable facts and phases of culture out of consideration that it gives an entirely false impression. Sometimes a rich body of tradition which contains little objective "history" may yield a far truer picture of an age than a chronicle of isolated or selected facts. In our case the principal difference of opinion lies between those who think that the Patriarchal traditions are reflections of conditions in the age of the Monarchy—between the tenth and the seventh centuries B.C.—and those who, like the writer, believe that they go back through the medium of a great national epos to the first half of the second millennium B.C. In his Archæology of Palestine and the Bible (third ed., pp. 129-151) the writer has explained his position and cited many newly discovered data to confirm it; here we may quote a few of these facts, as well as some additional ones which have been known for some time and others which have just been discovered.

The list of Abraham's ancestors in Gen. 11: 14 ff. points unmistakably to northwestern Mesopotamia, as has been stressed by several scholars. Eber is the eponymous ancestor of the Hebrews; Peleg reminds one of the later Paliga at the mouth of the Khabur; Nahor reflects the city of Nakhur (later Til-Nakhiri) in the region of Kharran, which was a flourishing place in the twentieth century B.C., as we know from the Cappadocian tablets studied by Lewy; Serug corresponds to the neighbouring town of Sarugi (later Serug); Terah, or as we should probably pronounce, Torakh, is perhaps found in the name Til-sha-turakhi (Mound of Torakh or of the ibex) belonging to a place on the Balikh river. That these striking parallels are not mere coincidences, as would otherwise be likely, is indicated by the fact that Kharran (Haran) remained the focus of Hebrew associations with Mesopotamia, as well as by the fact that most of the other names in Patriarchal tradition belong also to tribes or places. On the other hand there is nothing concrete about the relation of Abraham to Ur in Babylonia, and nothing has been discovered by the excavators there (see p. 10) which can throw direct light on the Patriarchal narratives. The Ur relation is, accordingly, episodal, so far as we are concerned.

It is also important to notice that a number of the early stories of Genesis suggest a formative influence from northern Mesopotamia. Moreover, the recent discovery and publication of the Nuzi documents (see p. 11) shows that there were many episodes in the narratives of Genesis which may be explained or illustrated from Nuzian parallels. For example, the relation of Eliezer to Abraham (Gen. 15: 2) was entirely obscure until the discovery that the Khurrians of Nuzi invariably adopted an heir if they had no children, a practice which had led to the abuses of "sale-adoption" by the fifteenth century B.C. Moreover, the passage Gen. 31: 19-35, which describes Rachel's theft of Laban's teraphim, remained enigmatic until it was found that possession of the father's household gods played an important rôle in inheritance. Many other less striking parallels have been pointed out by Speiser, Gordon, and others. The significance of these parallels will become clearer when it is shown that there was an essentially homogeneous culture in northern Mesopotamia and Syria in the early second millennium B.C., a culture which rested on Sumerian foundations, but was developed partly by Accadians, partly by Khurrians, and partly by Amorites and Proto-Aramæans. It was this culture which we find reflected at a slightly later date in Nuzi, and it was a very similar culture which was shared by the ancestors of the biblical Hebrews in northwestern Mesopotamia.

The problem of the identification of the name "Hebrew" ('Ibri) with the cuneiform Khabiru of Old-Babylonian, Nuzian, and Amarna-Boghazköy documents is far from being settled, and the problem is much too complex to be discussed here. In the writer's judgment the two names are ultimately identical, but there can be no doubt that the name has shifted meaning repeatedly. Originally it would appear to have denoted a special class of wandering condottieri, who did not belong to any special race and moved from land to land with great facility. Ethnically, the strongest element was apparently West-Semitic; certainly the Hebrew Patriarchs were Western Semites, as proved by their names and by their traditional tribal associations.

During the past four years Dussaud and Viroilleaud, followed by many scholars, have tried to connect the North-Canaanite mythological poems of Ugarit (see pp. 22 and 29) with the earliest Hebrew traditions. The poem of Keret they believe to reflect the conflicts between Terahides and Proto-Phœnicians before the fourteenth century B.C. In the writer's judgment there is no basis whatever for these views, which are based on coincidences and on wrongly interpreted passages and words.* It is quite true that Terah (Torakh) appears as the Canaanite name of the moon-god, but the same word also meant "ibex," and biblical Terah presumably reflects a tribal name which may itself have been derived from the word for "ibex" or from the name of the moon-god (as an abbreviated name, like Asher or Gad).

The date at which the Hebrews entered Palestine, presumably in association with Abraham, remains obscure. The early Patriarchal traditions and especially the puzzling fourteenth chapter of Genesis offer some chance of fixing a more precise date, but since all this material must have passed through an oral transmission of many centuries before it was reduced to writing, we cannot be too sure of details in the present state of our knowledge. It is remarkable that most of the towns mentioned in connection with the Patriarchs were demonstrably or probably occupied during part of the first half of the second millennium and the end of the third. It is also very striking to note that none of the important religious centres of Israel in the time of the * See the writer's discussion of the Keret poem in Bulletin of the American Schools of Oriental Research, No. 63 (October, 1936), pp. 23-32.

Monarchy whose remains show no trace of occupation at so early a date, appears in connection with the narrative of the Patriarchs. If the Patriarchal stories grew up around Israelite cult-centres, we should expect to find the Patriarchs playing a bigger rôle in them.

Genesis 14 used to be considered by most cautious scholars as unhistorical because it contained such precise information about kings and military movements which could not be traced outside of this chapter. Now we are more modest, particularly after Forrer's publication of a Khurrian (Horite) tablet containing allusions to numerous great conquerors from all over southwestern Asia, who flourished in the third and early second millennia and hardly any of whom are otherwise known. One of them was a king of Elam like Chedor-laomer. Moreover, many strange words and data of this chapter have turned out to be historically correct for the early second millennium. The route taken by the eastern kings down through eastern Palestine, between the desert and the broken country to the west, later known to the Israelites as the "king's highway," was densely peopled in the late third millennium and the beginning of the second, as shown by the explorations of Glueck and the writer, but became desolate before 1800 B.C. The great site of Bab ed-Dra' on the Dead Sea probably belongs to the age of Sodom and Gomorrah; its remains date from about the last third of the third millennium, when occupation here came to an abrupt close. It is, accordingly, increasingly probable that the period of Abraham must be pushed back two or three centuries before the date about the eighteenth century B.C. which the writer formerly suggested. We then find ourselves in a time when the Elamites were actually dominant in Mesopotamia, between the fall of the Third Dynasty of Ur about 2235 B.C. (Thureau-Dangin's chronology) and the victories of Hammurabi in the latter part of his reign (cir. 1975—B.C.). The name Chedor-laomer may actually be preserved in a Babylonian poetic composition of the theodicy type (the so-called Spartoli tablets), but the reading is not certain. A more concrete documentary illustration of the situation is found in the vase-inscriptions from Upper Egypt, dating from the end of the Eleventh Dynasty, which have been published recently by Sethe (see p. 4); here we find just the situation into which the Abrahamic movement would best fit. Moreover, the chieftains here are attended by the same hanikim as we find in Gen. 14: 14 f.; the very same Egyptian word is used in both cases. Even Jerusalem appears as a town in these documents, though there is no reference to Melchizedek (whose name belongs to a type which was then very common, both elements being found). Shinar did not then mean Babylonia, but was the name of the Middle Euphrates country, which was then at the height of its political power, as we learn from Parrot's recent excavations in its capital, Mari (see p. 11 f.).

The most beautiful story in the Old Testament is perhaps that of Joseph. His brilliant career in Egypt and the numerous references to Egyptian affairs and customs have always attracted the interest of scholars. Unfortunately for us, however, the period to which we may most reasonably assign Joseph was one of decadence and anarchy, from which we have very few contemporary inscriptions: the so-called Second Intermediate Age, between 1800 and 1570 B.C. A. S. Yahuda's recent books on the subject of Egyptian materials in the Pentateuch, where the story of Joseph is treated in considerable detail, are unsound. Owing to the close cultural relations which always existed between Egypt and southern Palestine, the episode of Joseph, always a favourite in Israel, was again and again revised in order to bring its Egyptian local colour up to date. We have an excellent illustration of this process in the Alexandrian version of the Pentateuch (the Septuagint), dating from the third century B.C. Here we have a number of striking modernizations of place-names, personal names, and words; e.g., the Egyptian name of Joseph, which was no longer intelligible, was changed into a form which utilized the current Egyptian tongue of the day. In the same way, the Egyptian name of Joseph in Gen. 41:45 belongs to a type unknown before the Twentieth Dynasty (twelfth century B.C.) and not common before the Bubastite period (tenth century and after). Similarly, names of the type Potiphar and Potiphera were unknown before the Twentieth-Twenty-first Dynasties and did not become common until later. But this fact does not mean for a moment that the Joseph story is a romance of the period of the Monarchy of Israel; it merely shows that the process of modernization has been at work, just as in the name Rameses (Gen. 47: 11), which could not have come into use before the thirteenth century B.C. (see p. 29).

While the historical nucleus of the story of Joseph thus escapes us completely, there are many bits of Egyptian colouring in the narrative which have been beautifully illustrated by Egyptological discoveries. The most interesting literary parallels are the Story of the Two Brothers (pp. 5 f.) and the late account of a famine of seven years, attributed to the Third Dynasty, early in the third millennium. The finest archaeological parallel is probably the representation of the entrance of a party of West-Semitic immigrants into Middle Egypt about the year 1900 B.C., beautifully pictured on the walls of a tomb at Beni-Hasan. In any event this painting doubtless reproduces the Hebrew costume of the age very accurately.

CHAPTER XII

THE CANAANITES AND THEIR CULTURE

THE term "Canaanite" was a fluid one, which was sometimes restricted to the inhabitants of Phœnicia and most of western Palestine, while it was also sometimes extended to include all the inhabitants of Palestine and Syria. We find similar extensions of the terms "Amorites" and "Hittites" in Mesopotamian literature. Outside the Bible we find the name used for themselves by the Phœnicians and their African colonists, the Carthaginians. In Egyptian and cuneiform inscriptions Kena'an (Kinakhna, etc.) is used in nearly the same way as in the Bible. Gen. 10 defines Canaan as including all the pre-Hebrew and pre-Philistine inhabitants of Palestine, and also as comprising Phœnicia as far as Arvad and the Orontes Valley (Hamath).

From the evidence of place-names it is now certain that the inhabitants of western Palestine and southern Phœnicia already spoke a form of Hebrew as early as the beginning of the third millennium B.C., if not before. By the middle of the second millennium B.C. there were already at least four distinct dialects of Hebrew, three of which may be outlined from inscriptional evidence, while the fourth, Proto-Hebrew, must be reconstructed from biblical Hebrew by the use of modern comparative linguistic methods. But all these dialects were very closely related, differing from one another rather less than a corresponding number of modern Arabic or German dialects would differ. It is becoming increasingly clear, thanks especially to the latest discoveries at Ugarit, that the literature and religion of the Canaanites were as essentially homogeneous as was their material culture, including pottery. To be sure, this substantially common culture of the Canaanites was a very composite organism, where Egyptian and Mesopotamian elements were found side by side with Anatolian and Ægean; and the degree of influence from any given direction varied considerably in different parts of the land of Canaan. Moreover, there were important centrifugal factors, such as the fact that Palestine looked toward Egypt, Phœnicia toward the sea, and eastern Syria toward Mesopotamia, to which it was closely bound by ties of geography, language, and tradition.

Curiously enough, the Canaanites did not adopt a single script for their exclusive use until about the twelfth century B.C. Before, we find at least three different native scripts: the syllabic Byblian of the third millennium (see p. 18), the cuneiform alphabet of Ugarit (Ras-esh-Shamrah) and Beth-shemesh, and the linear alphabet sprung from the Sinaitic script (see p. 8). At the same time Egyptian hieroglyphs and Accadian (Babylonian) cuneiform were employed to a certain extent as media for writing Canaanite.

Canaanite material civilization was older and richer than we have been accustomed to think in recent years. This is now certain as a result of discoveries in various parts of Palestine, which enable us to distribute finds in their proper chronological order and to assign them dates based on Egyptian synchronisms.* It follows that the remarkable palace on the summit of the acropolis of Ai and the adjacent shrine belong to about the twenty-sixth century B.C., and that the rich ceramic culture of the Khirbet Kerak type flourished about the middle of the third millennium. At that time towns like Megiddo and Beth-shan had been occupied for a millennium or so, while the earliest sedentary occupation in the Jordan Valley went back at least another thousand years (though we cannot say whether it was Canaanite or not). Byblus (Geba) was a flourishing emporium for the trade with Egypt at least as early as the Second Dynasty (cir. 2700 B.C.), and the remains from the third millennium found there, though largely of local manufacture, attest both the wealth of its inhabitants and the dominance of Egyptian culture.

The irruption into Palestine of a new nomadic wave, called "Amorite" following contemporary Babylonian usage, in the last third of the third millennium, gave the material culture of Palestine a severe setback. As pointed out in Chapter XI, it may have been at this time that the Hebrews migrated to Palestine. The newcomers settled in towns in their turn, however, and eastern Palestine, hitherto little occupied by a sedentary population, was thickly peopled, until a new movement from the desert presumably brought this phase to an end between 2000 and 1800 B.C. A great transformation took place in the eighteenth and seventeenth centuries, when southwestern Asia and Egypt were swept by irruptions of barbarians from the north and east, which displaced older peoples from their abodes and filled Syria and Palestine with an almost incredible variety of new peoples, of every possible origin: Indo-Europeans, Horites, Anatolians, etc. This so-called Hyksos movement also brought with it a complete transformation in the art of waging war, where horses and chariots thenceforward played a leading rôle. With chariots came a feudal organization, comparable in some respects to the feudal chivalry of western Europe more than two thousand years later. After this influx of new blood had revitalized the Canaanites there was a burst of artistic and other cultural activity (seventeenth-fifteenth centuries) followed by a decline in the fourteenth and thirteenth centuries, probably in part because of the oppresssive fiscal methods of the Egyptian overlords.

* See especially Wright, Bulletin of the American Schools of Oriental Research, No. 63, p. 20, which is more recent than Albright, Journal of the Palestine Oriental Society, Vol. XV, p. 201.

Our knowledge of Middle and Late Canaanite material culture is principally derived from cemeteries, fortifications, and public buildings, excavated in such places as Megiddo, Beth-shan, Jericho, Lachish, Tell Beit Mirsim, etc. What we know of social and political organization, etc., is derived mainly from the Amarna Tablets, as well as from contemporary documents in Accadian, discovered at Taanach, Shechem, Tell el-Hesi, Gezer, etc. Our information with regard to religion, literature, and language comes chiefly from the excavations since 1929 at Ugarit (see Chapter IV), supplemented by cautious use of Philo Byblius and by miscellaneous data from many sources, including especially the Egyptian and the later Phœnician inscriptions.

The cuneiform alphabetic texts from Ugarit include several different categories of writing. First both in importance and in bulk come the mythological cycles, especially the epic of Baal and Mot (several broken tablets of which were discovered, about three-fourths of which have now been published). Then there are important remnants of three other mythological poems, especially those of Daniel, Keret, and the "Gracious Gods." There are a number of hymns to the gods, and many ritual texts and lists of offerings, etc. Then there are lists of names and words, letters and contracts, as well as a most interesting part of a veterinary treatise dealing with diseases of horses. Besides there are a number of texts in an unidentified language, probably Horite, and a good many tablets in Accadian, one of which contains a trilingual vocabulary.

Comparison of the cult objects and mythological texts of the Canaanites with those of the Egyptians and Mesopotamians forces one conclusion, that Canaanite religion was much more completely centred on sex and its manifestations. In no country has so relatively great a number of figurines of the naked goddess of fertility, some distinctly obscene, been found. Nowhere does the cult of serpents appear so strongly. The two goddesses Astarte (Ashtaroth) and Anath are called "the great goddesses which conceive but do not bear." Sacred courtesans and eunuch priests were excessively common. Human sacrifice was well known, though it does not seem to have been practised quite so frequently as used to be thought. The aversion felt by followers of YHWH-God when confronted by Canaanite idolatry is, accordingly, very easy to understand.

Yet, for all this, the highly developed culture of Canaan had many good features and Israelite civilization and literature were profoundly indebted to it. The poems of Ugarit contain a great many passages which remind us of corresponding passages in the Bible; the very wording is often nearly identical. There are numerous quotations from Canaanite mythological poems, especially in the exilic Isaiah (14:12-14, etc.); Psalms 29 has been shown by Ginsberg to be a monotheistic adaptation of a Canaanite poem. Some parts of Proverbs (e.g., ch. 9) may now be traced back to Canaanite models, which have strongly affected both language and style. Such Hebrew stylistic peculiarities as parallelismus membrorum and ellipsis are both of Canaanite origin; so apparently are Hebrew poetic forms, including especially the dominant metres.

CHAPTER XIII

MOSES, THE EXODUS, AND THE CONQUEST OF CANAAN

TREMENDOUS as was the ultimate historical importance of the Mosaic period of Hebrew history, it was a most insignificant episode when measured by the historical standards of that age. So we must not be surprised to find it difficult to correlate the events of sacred history with those of profane. There is no conclusive proof that the Israelites ever were in Egypt, and there have been not a few scholars who have rejected the historicity of the Egyptian episode in toto. However, few go to such absurd extremes, and most are convinced by the remarkable fact that many of the personal names borne by Aaronites and Levites are undoubtedly of Egyptian origin: e.g., Moses, Hophni, Phinehas, perhaps Merari and others.

The identification of the places mentioned in the account of the Egyptian phase of the Exodus has proceeded slowly and with many curious episodes. We may now be reasonably confident that Raamses was situated at Tanis, later Zoan (often mentioned under this name in the Bible) and that Pithom was located at Tell el-Maskhutih (see p. 6). While the name Goshen has not been discovered on the monuments, in spite of earlier reports based on an erroneous reading of a hieroglyph, there can be no doubt that it refers to the northeastern Delta, otherwise called "Plain of Zoan" both in the Bible (Psalms 78:12, 43) and in the Egyptian inscriptions. The names Succoth and Pi-hahiroth have been identified, though the places are only approximately fixed; the name Baal-zephon is also certainly authentic, though its location is obscure. It is also reasonably probable that the Hebrews had long lived in the vicinity of Tanis, in view of the striking parallel between the definite historical allusions in Num. 13:22, Ex. 12:40 f. and the data in the so-called Four Hundred Year Stela, recently reinterpreted by Sethe and rediscovered in 1933 by Montet in his work at Tanis.

The date of the Exodus is a much more elusive problem. One would think that the explicit statement in Ex. 1:11 would suffice to put the Oppression under Ramesses II, but there is always the possibility that the name Raamses may be modernized, just as in Gen. 47:11. There are four principal theories: one (held by Gardiner, Hall, Wreszinski, etc.) considers that the Exodus story is a garbled form of the Egyptian saga of the Expulsion of the Hyksos, or is in some way connected with it; a second theory accepts the 480 years given in the Hebrew version of I Kings 6:1 for the interval between the Exodus and the foundation of the Temple, and thus arrives at a date in the reign of Amenophis II, about 1440 B.C. (Garstang and others); a third theory dates the Exodus somewhere in the reign of Ramesses II (the writer suggests a date about 1290 B.C.); a fourth finds a still later date preferable (so Petrie, Eerdmans, etc.). Hardly anyone now maintains that Menephtes (Merneptah) was the Pharaoh of the Exodus. Since there is no other direct evidence, it will be much better to postpone the conclusion of this discussion until we consider the date of the Conquest.

Though several of the principal Egyptian points in the route of the Exodus are thus now identified, there are two theories with regard to the continuation of the Israelite march: one (especially Eissfeldt) takes them along the shore of the Mediterranean; the other carries them southward through Sinai. The location of the Mountain of God is still obscure: one group of scholars prefers the traditional location of Mount Horeb (Sinai), or at least one in the neighbourhood; the other explains the theophany of YHWH as a description of volcanic phenomena, and locates Sinai somewhere in a volcanic district, preferably in the region south of Midian and Edom, east of the Gulf of Aqabah. There can be no doubt that the second view, which was strongly held by such scholars as Eduard Meyer, Paul Haupt, and Gressmann, has been greatly weakened by Morgenstern's objections to this interpretation of the theophany, as well as by the discoveries at the Egyptian mining centres in Sinai, especially at Serabit el-Khadem (see pp. 7 f.) and Wadi el-Mugharah. Since Hebrew traditions connect the Kenites closely with Moses and the formation of Israel, and since the name "Kenite" means "smith," it is almost impossible to separate the events at Sinai from these mining centres. At present it is definitely wisest to adhere to the traditional site of Mount Sinai, in spite of the absence of any conclusive evidence in its support.

There is no direct monumental material bearing on the origin of the Tetragrammaton, the Ineffable Name YHWH. After all the supposed cuneiform occurrences of this name before the Iron Age (when it is found both in Israelite and in other names probably of Israelite origin) had been disproved, one by one, a recent attempt was made to find the name in the Ugaritic documents—but unsuccessfully. That the name means "He who causes to be" is still probable, especially in view of good Egyptian parallels for the abstract idea of bringing into existence in connection with creator-gods, and these parallels make it likely that the name is an abbreviation of a formula corresponding to "I am that I am," but couched in the third person and in the causative (like Yahweh (the pronunciation of which is fixed by later tradition). In other words, the full name may have meant originally "He is the One who brings into existence what He wills"; there are several perfect parallels for the phrase in nearly contemporary Egyptian literature. There is thus good reason to credit Moses (or possibly his Kenite friends) with the introduction of this sublime name of God.

The older name, Shaddai, has recently been identified with a North-Accadian word for "mountaineer," in the sense of "the One of the Mountains." The name may have been brought with them to Palestine by the ancestors of the Israelites, many centuries before. Since YHWH is always closely associated with the mountains, especially in poetic theophanies, this interpretation (which is phonetically perfect) is reasonable.

There has been no new light on the route of the Exodus after Sinai. The identification of Kadesh-barnea, once thought to be established, has been completely upset by Woolley and Lawrence. At present the most plausible identification is with 'Ain el-Qudeirat, where there is a fine spring, extensive pasturage, and a small mound on the site of an Israelite fortress (tenth century on). Glueck's researches have proved that Edom and Moab were not resettled to any extent, at least, until the transition from Late Bronze to Iron I (thirteenth-twelfth century); with this agrees the otherwise inexplicable absence of the names of towns in southern Transjordan from the Amarna Tablets and the Egyptian lists and other historical records. This fact both explains how the Israelites could wander so freely in this region and offers a serious obstacle to any much earlier date for the exodus, since both Edom and Moab appear as states in the traditions of the Wilderness Wanderings.

Excavations in Palestine have been slow to yield any decisive evidence for the date of the Conquest. This is partly due to the excavators themselves, who have sometimes (as at Jericho before the War) so confused the chronological situation that no conclusion has been possible; but it is often due to the ambiguity of the stratification or to the uncertainty of the identification of the site. Naturally, where only soundings have been made, as in the towns of the Shephelah where Bliss and Macalister worked in 1898-99, no conclusive results can be expected. The most promising excavated sites are now Jericho, Bethel, Ai, Tell Beit Mirsim, and Lachish. At Jericho Garstang has proved that there was Canaanite occupation down to the fourteenth century; he dates its end at the earliest possible point, about 1400 B.C., but the writer prefers a date later in the fourteenth century and Vincent maintains his original thirteenth-century date. Decisive evidence is still lacking. At Bethel the writer found the clearest possible demarcation between Canaanite and Israelite strata; the end of the former occupation he places in the first half of the thirteenth century, but it could be dated a little higher and conceivably a little lower. At Ai the excavators have drawn a blank, with a large city covering most of the third millennium and a small Israelite village of the twelfth-eleventh century on the acropolis, but no occupation in the interval, a period of a thousand years. There are a number of theories to explain this apparent anomaly; the writer refuses to take the view that the Ai episode (Jos. 7-8) is legendary, and thinks that there has been a certain interchange of names between the adjacent sites of Bethel and Ai, only two miles apart, so that the Canaanite "Ai" has been brought to light by the excavations at "Bethel."

Turning to the Shephelah of Judah, there are two sites of particular value to us, both certainly Canaanite "royal cities": Lachish and Tell Beit Mirsim (probably Debir or Kiriath-sepher). At Lachish (p. 17) the excavators have not yet reached the Canaanite strata inside the wall, but outside they have cleared three superimposed Canaanite sanctuaries, the latest of which belongs to the first half of the thirteenth century, as shown clearly by the rich inventory. The fall of Lachish into the hands of the Israelites then presumably took place somewhere about the middle of that century, late in the reign of Ramesses II (1301-1235 B.C.). The fall of Canaanite Tell Beit Mirsim, excavated by the writer (see p. 16), also took place somewhere in the thirteenth century, preferably late in the reign of Ramesses II. With this rough date for the fall of at least two of the Canaanite towns of the Shephelah into Israelite hands agrees the first mention of Israel (as a people, not as a land!) in the Stela of Merneptah (see p. 4), cir. 1230 B.C. It should be said in this connection that we now have so much evidence from hieroglyphic and cuneiform sources (as well as from archaeological data) for the history and condition of Palestine between 1500 and 1250 that no earlier date for the decisive phase of the occupation seems possible unless we are going to surrender the historicity of the Hebrew traditions of the Conquest almost entirely. This the writer declines vigorously to do, since the evidence in support of their substantial historicity seems conclusive to him.

CHAPTER XIV

THE JUDGES AND THE UNITED MONARCHY

SO FAR not a single person mentioned in the historical records bearing on this period has been identified in the ancient monuments. Yet there can be no doubt that we are here on solid historical ground almost throughout; the reason for this negative situation lies in the paucity of contemporary historical records. There are virtually no references to Asia in Egyptian documents between 1164 and 920, except for the Wen-Amon report (see p. 4). The cuneiform inscriptions are almost equally silent with regard to Syria and Palestine, except for the inscriptions of Tiglathpileser I (1108-1081) and a few references to the progress of the Aramæan penetration into the Upper-Euphrates country (see below). The few inscriptions found recently in Byblus from this age do not throw light on any political events, and the Hittite hieroglyphic inscriptions, part of which belong to this period, have not yet been sufficiently deciphered to yield any pertinent information. To be sure, it is precisely this weakness of Egypt, Mesopotamia, and Asia Minor which made it possible for Israel to be consolidated into a state and then to enjoy a "place in the sun" for two generations under David and Solomon.

Not long after the Israelites had established themselves firmly in the hill country and had occupied part of the Coastal Plain as well, there was a great irruption of peoples from the northern shores of the Mediterranean, called "the Peoples of the Sea" by the Egyptians. Thanks to the elaborate inscriptional and pictorial records from the reign of Ramesses III (1195-1164), in whose reign this event took place, we are remarkably well oriented with regard to many details of the movement. The epigraphic survey carried on by Nelson and others for the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, the results of which are now being published, has yielded as complete as possible a permanent record of this important historical material, carved on the walls of the temple at Medinet Habu, and has corrected many erroneous views based on previous inadequate publication. The most important of these peoples were the Philistines, who came from somewhere in the Ægean basin; biblical traditions derive them from Caphtor (Amos 9:7; cf. Deut. 2:23), cuneiform Kaptara, commonly believed to be Crete, though without conclusive proof. Their pottery is adapted from various Ægean prototypes, as definitely shown by Heurtley (1935), a fact which proves that they continued to keep up their Ægean ties after settling in the Philistine plain, just as Phœnician and Greek colonists did in later times. The next group in importance was that of the Tsikar or Tsikal, possibly the Sicilians, who occupied the district of Dor, as we know from the Report of Wen-Amon (p. 4).

The oldest document in the Bible which has been preserved to us in approximately its original form is the Song of Deborah. Recent discoveries have greatly clarified the problem offered by its language and style, both of which are very different in some ways from later Hebrew poetry. The stratigraphical excavations of the Oriental Institute at Megiddo (see p. 16) have rendered it likely that we must date the Song about 1125 B.C., in round numbers, but this view may have to be modified after the publication of the Megiddo excavation has made all its results accessible.

The most important excavations in Palestine hitherto from the standpoint of the period of the Judges are those of Shiloh, Bethel, Gibeah, Shechem, Tell Beit Mirsim, Beth-shemesh, and Tell en-Nasbeh (see pp. 16 f.). Shiloh, the town contemporary with the Tabernacle, covered a considerable area, and it is practically certain that the Tabernacle was outside this area, just as it must have been outside the town of Bethel somewhat later. Somewhere in the first half of the eleventh century or a little later we find clear traces of a destruction by fire, followed by abandonment; this destruction doubtless corresponds to the fate of Shiloh after the battle of Ebenezer, about 1050 B.C. (cf. I Sam. 4:10 ff. and Jer. 7:12 ff., 26:6 ff.). At Bethel it was found that the Israelite town had been destroyed three times before the age of Saul; here were brought to light the first really well-preserved Israelite building remains from about 1100 B.C. Gibeah (where the writer dug in 1922 and 1933) showed traces of a destruction by fire before the time of Saul; this destruction probably is the one described in Jud. 20:40. Since the stratigraphical side of the work at Shechem was sadly neglected until the campaign in 1934, we have no clear idea of the chronology of the site, but it is probable that certain building remains found in the acropolis of the town reflect the pagan temple of Baal-berith (Jud. 9:46 ff.), destroyed early in the eleventh century. Tell Beit Mirsim is particularly interesting because of the evidence found that the Israelites rebuilt the destroyed Canaanite city-wall almost immediately, but on an entirely different, much less massive plan; the latter is presumably the work of Othniel if Tell Beit Mirsim has been correctly identified with Kiriath-sepher. At Tell Beit Mirsim and at Beth-shemesh clear evidence was discovered that the Israelite occupation began shortly before the Philistines appeared in the country, a fact which agrees very well with the writer's chronology of the Conquest, but not with materially earlier or later theories.

The only archaeological discovery which throws direct light on the reign of Saul is the writer's discovery of his fortress-residence at Gibeah (see above), a find which gives a good picture both of the rusticity of his mode of life and of building and fortification in his time.*

No direct light at all has been shed on the reign of David by excavations in Palestine, though it is possible that some of the remains of fortifications around the oldest Jerusalem ("Ophel"), excavated by Macalister and Duncan, belong to David's time. External documents throw some indirect light on his military operations in Syria. Assyrian inscriptional references to Zobah (Suate, etc.) make it clear that it was located in the region east of Antilibanus and north of Damascus, though Hadadezer seems to have conquered part of the Biqa' to the west, since his capitals Tibhath and Chun may be identified with Tubikhi and Conna. Two references in later Assyrian inscriptions from the reigns of Asshur-dan II and Shalmaneser III show that the Aramæans conquered the territory along the Upper Euphrates, which had belonged for a century to the Assyrian Empire, in the reign of Asshur-rabi II (1012-972), David's contemporary. It follows with high probability that this conquest was achieved by Hadadezer of Zobah shortly before his defeat by David, whose victory may thus, by the irony of fate, have saved the Assyrian Empire from overthrow by the Aramæan hordes.

We are now better off with regard to the reign of Solomon, since the extensive building operations and administrative activities of the latter lend themselves to archaeological illustration. Curiously enough, most light has been thrown on the stables which he built for his chariot horses (I Kings 9:19, 10:26, etc.). At Megiddo the Oriental Institute (p. 16) has discovered exceedingly well-built stables belonging to some three periods, from Solomon to the eighth century. As might be expected, the oldest stables belonging to the time of Solomon are the best constructed, though the latter ones are much more solidly built than most private houses of the age. At Megiddo there were stabling quarters for at least five hundred chariot horses. Similar groups of stables, from Solomon's time or shortly afterwards, have been found at Hazor and at Tell el-Hesi. It must be remembered that Solomon was the first king of Israel to employ chariots and horses in fighting; David "houghed the chariot-horses" (II Sam. 8:4).

While no architectural or constructional remains found in Jerusalem can be attributed with the slightest reason to Solomon, indirect light of considerable importance has been cast on the description of the Temple. Thanks to numerous discoveries in Palestine and Syria, we can form a fairly good idea of the appearance of the building and especially of its ornamentation. There can no longer be any doubt that the proto-Ionic, or rather proto-Æolic pilaster capital was used extensively in it, since examples of the latter have recently been discovered at Megiddo, at Samaria, at Shechem, in Moab, and near Jerusalem, dating from before 1000 (Megiddo, 1935) to the eighth century B.C. The two enigmatic pillars which flanked the front entrance, Jachin and Boaz, have been found to be characteristic of Phœnician temple construction; it must be remembered that a Phœnician, Hiram by name, was the architect of the Temple.

*See the revised conclusions outlined in Bulletin of the American Schools of Oriental Research, No. 52, pp. 6 ff.

No little information bearing on Solomon's trading activities has been gleaned from ancient Oriental sources. Esarhaddon mentions Tarshish in an inscription found by the Germans at Assur; the reference proves that Tarshish was somewhere in the Mediterranean, but does not affect the plausible identification with Spanish Tartessus at all. Ophir is nowhere mentioned outside of the Bible, but the striking parallelism between its products and those of Egyptian Punt shows that it must be sought in the same region, the southeastern Red Sea basin, perhaps extending into southwestern Arabia. The "peacocks" of I Kings 10:22 are really monkeys, the word being a loan-word from Egyptian like the word for "ape," really "baboon." The "linen yarn" of I Kings 10:28 actually means "from Cilicia"; horses were then brought from Asia Minor, where particular attention was paid to their breeding. These are only a few of many illustrations of the light shed from archæological sources on the age of Solomon; a great deal might be said on the subject of the culture of the period and on the administrative organization which he introduced.

CHAPTER XV

THE KINGDOM OF SAMARIA

THE only direct information from Egyptian sources bearing on the history of the Divided Kingdoms before the fall of Samaria is found in the list of Palestinian towns conquered by Shishak (see p. 4) in the campaign described in I Kings 14:25 ff., etc. Though the Biblical narrative, here derived from Judaic sources, does not mention the fact that his campaign extended into the Northern Kingdom, this is proved by the numerous northern towns in the list as well as by the recently discovered fragment of a stela of Shishak, set up at Megiddo. Fortifications attributed by Petrie to Shishak, with reason, have also been excavated at Tell el-Far'ah (probably Sharuhén) in the Negeb of Simeon.

The Assyrian royal inscriptions and other records furnish a great deal of information about the political history of Palestine and Syria, all of which is valuable for the reconstruction of the situation in which Israel found itself, as well as for a better understanding of the Prophets. Shalmaneser III refers to his victory over a Syrian coalition headed by Hadadezer (Ben-hadad) of Damascus in 853; Ahab of Israel was one of the combatants. In 841 Jehu, king of Beth-Omri (the official name of Samaria, accidentally not preserved in the Israelite records) paid tribute to him. These two dates are fundamental for the reconstruction of the chronology of the Book of Kings, which has been somewhat garbled in transmission. Tiglathpileser III refers to the reception of tribute from Menahem and mentions the fall of Pekah and the elevation of Hoshea to the throne of Israel, giving at the same time a list of the towns and districts in Israel which he had conquered. In his inscriptions we find the first reference to a king of Judah by name: Ahaz being mentioned under his full name Johaz. Sargon II describes the capture of Samaria at the opening of his reign (in the beginning of the Julian year 721 B.C.), and tells of carrying off 27,290 people as captives. According to II Kings 17:6 some of the captives were settled in "the (valley of the) Habor, the river of Gozan." The location of Gozan, capital of the Upper Khabur district, was established by Baron von Oppenheim's excavations at Tell Halaf in northern Mesopotamia, where he has made most remarkable discoveries.

Of all recent excavations in Palestine, the work of Harvard University at Samaria (see pp. 15-17) has been most productive of information regarding the Northern Kingdom. Reisner and Crowfoot have traced the Israelite walls of Samaria a considerable distance, and have examined the remains on the acropolis, distinguishing three periods of construction, referred provisionally to the Omride dynasty (or to Omri and Ahab) and the dynasty of Jehu, especially to Jeroboam II. In a building of the second phase, probably belonging to the latter part of the ninth century, not to Ahab (cir. 870-850) as first thought, were found some seventy ostraca, all containing dockets originally attached to shipments of wine and oil to the palace. There are two principal views with regard to the administrative function of the dockets: one, held mainly by Alt and Noth, considers them as belonging to the crown-property administration; the other, defended particularly by the writer, regards them as falling under the fiscal service of the state. The ostraca also contain a great many place-names and personal names, adding considerably to our knowledge both of the topography and of the onomasticon of the ninth century B.C. For our knowledge of the clan organization of Manasseh they have already proved invaluable. Together with the recently discovered ostraca, just published by Sukenik, they provide us with our first reliable information in regard to the language of the Northern Kingdom, which turns out to be nearly the same as Biblical Hebrew, from which it differs mainly in a few details: e. g., "year" is shanah in the south but shat in the north; "wine" is yayin in the south but yein in the north.

Another remarkable discovery at Samaria has been the finding of many pieces of carved and inlaid ivory inlay, used for the decoration of costly wooden furniture; cf. the "ivory house" of I Kings 22:39 and Amos 3:15. Dating from the ninth and eighth centuries B.C., they are of great value for our knowledge of the Phœnician and Israelite art of the time, especially when combined with recent finds of similar nature elsewhere (particularly at Khadatu in northwestern Mesopotamia, where one of the ivories bears the name of Hazael king of Damascus, mentioned II Kings 8:7 ff., etc.).

The most valuable inscription ever found in Palestine remains the Mesha Stone, discovered at Dibon in Moab nearly seventy years ago and now in the Louvre. This document contains some thirty lines, and throws contemporary light on the history of eastern Palestine in the ninth century B.C.; it is especially interesting when read together with II Kings 3:4 ff., where Mesha is mentioned repeatedly. It is now certain that the kings of Israel erected similar stelæ, though only one fragment of such a stela has yet been found, containing a single word (published by Sukenik in 1936 from the Samaria finds).

CHAPTER XVI

JUDAH BEFORE THE EXILE

OUR material for the history of Judah after the fall of Samaria has been considerably increased in recent years, so that we are now better off for this period than we are for the preceding one.

The Assyrian inscriptions continue to provide a valuable commentary to the Books of Kings and Chronicles, as well as to the collections of oracles and poems preserved in Isaiah and Jeremiah. Thanks to the detailed accounts of their campaigns in Palestine which Sargon II and Sennacherib have handed down to posterity, we can discuss the historical background of the prophecies of Isaiah with a wealth of detail seldom possible in the entire range of ancient Oriental studies. The most interesting problem raised by this new material is that of the exact date, sequence, and character of Sennacherib's military operations in Palestine. Did he invade Judah once or twice (or even more frequently)? In particular, is the catastrophe described in II Kings 19:35 to be connected with the campaign of the year 700 (perhaps 701) or with a later campaign? Recently there has been a distinct shift on the part of scholars to the one-campaign theory, after Winckler and others had popularized the hypothesis of two campaigns; the writer, however, adheres to the latter for reasons which cannot be outlined here. Of the later Jewish kings only Hezekiah and Manasseh are mentioned in the Assyrian records.

In 1923 C. J. Gadd published a tablet containing part of the continuation of the Babylonian Chronicle (see p. 12), which gives us a detailed account, year by year, of the events attending the downfall of the Assyrian Empire. It was discovered that the usual reconstruction of historians, based mostly on Greek and misunderstood Biblical sources, was wrong in the main. Necho of Egypt was not hostile to the Assyrians, but was in league with them against the Babylonians and the Medes; his campaign of the year 609, in which Josiah was killed, was directed against the Babylonians, whose ally the king of Judah had become. Nineveh fell in the year 612, to which date the prophecy of Nahum is to be attached. The Assyrian Empire continued, however, for several years longer, with its capital at Harran, the old home of the Hebrew Patriarchs. In 605 Nebuchadnezzar defeated Necho at Carchemish on the Euphrates (Jer. 46:2); this victory was followed by the sack of Carchemish, vividly illustrated by the excavations there (see p. 18).

Many inscriptions have been found in Judah, belonging to the last century of its history; most of them are short legends on seals, seal-impressions, and vases, but there are a number of outstanding significance, such as the Siloam inscription and the Lachish ostraca. The Siloam inscription was discovered in 1880; it undoubtedly comes from the reign of Hezekiah, about 700 B.C., and refers to the excavation of the water tunnel mentioned rather indirectly in II Kings 32:3-4. The inscription is beautifully cut, in perfect Biblical Hebrew (aside from peculiarities of orthography) and gives some interesting details regarding the work.

One of the most sensational epigraphic finds ever made in Bible Lands was the discovery at Lachish (see p. 17) in the spring of 1935, of more than a dozen ostraca written in ink, some of considerable size and in excellent preservation. These ostraca were discovered in the debris of the last destruction of the city by the Chaldeans in 589 B.C., and consist mainly of letters to a certain official named Yaosh (an abbreviated form of the name Josiah), who seems to have been in command of the garrison here, both judging from the contents and because of the fact that the documents were found in a guard-room at the city gate. These documents, of which four have been published so far by H. Torczyner, are written in perfect Biblical Hebrew, like the Siloam inscription, though the orthography is somewhat more archaic than the usual spelling of the Hebrew Bible. This relative archaism is simply due to the fact that there was a rather thoroughgoing revision of the orthography of the Bible at some time between the fifth century B.C. and the time of the Greek translation (third-second century B.C.). Biblical Hebrew is thus essentially the dialect of Jerusalem in the seventh century B.C.

Since the letters date from the time of Jeremiah and offer a remarkable supplement to the picture of conditions in Judah which is found in his book, we may present revised translations of Nos. II-IV.* No. II runs as follows:

"To my lord Yaosh: May YHWH cause my lord to hear tidings of peace! Now at this time, now at this time, who is thy servant (but) a dog that my lord hath remembered his servant? May YHWH confound those who [say] anything that thou dost not know!"

Letter III is the longest well-preserved document:

"Thy servant Hoshaiah sendeth to report to my lord Yaosh: May YHWH cause my lord to hear tidings of peace! [And now] thy servant hath sent a letter to the inspector(?), and [in it] thy servant referred to the letter which my lord had sent to thy servant yesterday, for the heart of thy servant hath been ill ever since thou didst write to thy servant. And when my lord saith, 'Thou dost not know it!—read (my) letter!'—as YHWH liveth, verily no man hath ever tried to read me a letter (from thee), nor have I seen any letter which might have come to me (from thee), nor have I seen anything of it at all!

"It hath been reported to thy servant, saying, 'The commander of the host, Chebariah son of Elnathan, hath come down in order to enter into Egypt, and unto Hodaviah son of Ahijah and his men he hath sent to get rations.' And as for the letter of Nedabiah, servant of the king, which came to Shallum, son of Jaddua, from the prophet, saying, 'Be on thy guard (etc.),' thy servant hath sent it to my lord."

Letter IV is brief but historically important; it also furnished documentary proof of the identification of Tell ed-Duweir with Lachish, first maintained by the writer some years previously:

"May YHWH cause my lord to hear now at this time tidings of good! And now, according to everything that my lord hath sent (written), so hath thy servant done. I have written on the door (scroll?) according to all that my lord hath sent unto me. And as for what my lord hath sent about the matter of Bethharapha, (behold) there is no man there. And as for Semachiah, Shemaiah hath taken him and hath brought him up to the city (Jerusalem). And as for thy servant ('s matter), O my lord, let Ahijah (?) be sent thither..... And let him (my lord) know that we are waiting for the fire-signals of Lachish, according to all the indications which my lord hath given, for we cannot see Azekah."

This letter must be read in connection with Jer. 6:1 (where the same rare word for "fire-signal" is employed) and 34:7, where we read, "The host of the king of Babylon was fighting against Jerusalem and against all the cities of Judah which were left, against Lachish and against Azekah, for they (only) were left among the fortified cities of Judah."

As stated above, a great many short inscriptions, nearly all on seals and seal-impressions, have been discovered in Judah; several of them mention officials of reigning kings, such as Uzziah and Joiachin (cf. the beautiful seal of Shema, servant of Jeroboam, found before the War at Megiddo); at least two of the officials, Shebna and Jaazaniah, are mentioned in the Bible. The most interesting group of seal-impressions contain the words "belonging to the king—Hebron (or Socoh, Ziph, Mamshat)." It has now been established conclusively that these stamps belong to the royal fiscal organization of Judah; all date from between 750 and 589 B.C. Since nothing resembling them has been discovered elsewhere in the ancient Orient, it seems probable that this device for standardizing receipts of wine and oil was invented by the treasury of Judah.

There is no space here for a description of the innumerable additions to our knowledge of the life and culture of Judah in the days of Isaiah and Jeremiah. One of the most interesting results of recent excavations is that the guild system presupposed by I Chron. 2 and 4 does not belong to the fourth and third centuries B.C., as believed by Wellhausen and others, but dates from the seventh century, before the Exile.

CHAPTER XVII

THE EXILE AND THE RESTORATION

STRANGE to say, there are few periods of Biblical history that are any more obscure than the age which began with the Babylonian Exile in 587 and closed with the Macedonian conquest in 332 B.C. Until very recently it was impossible to disprove the views of Torrey and other eminent scholars who declared that the destructive effects of the Chaldean conquest had been greatly exaggerated in the Hebrew records and that the Babylonian Diaspora did not become important until much later; the Book of Ezekiel was regarded by this group as being more or less unhistorical. Two theories about the relative order of Ezra and Nehemiah are held by competent scholars; Catholics and Protestants, conservatives and liberals are found on both sides of the discussion. We can naturally not go into details here, but will restrict ourselves to a rapid survey of the most important archaeological discoveries bearing on the period.

* For a discussion of the translations see Bulletin of the American Schools of Oriental Research, No. 61, pp. 10-16, No. 63, pp. 36-7.

Excavations in Judah (see Chapter XVI) have proved that many of the towns of the land were completely destroyed about 600 B.C. or a little later, and never re-occupied; others were destroyed and their occupation interrupted for a considerable length of time.*

Moreover, the discoveries at Tell Beit Mirsim, Bethshemesh, and Lachish have shown that the final catastrophe took place between 589 and 587, when Jerusalem was captured and destroyed, according to the chronological researches of the late Fr. Kugler.

Our extra-biblical information about the Diaspora in Babylonia and in Egypt comes from two sources: the business documents from the fifth century B.C. discovered at Nippur (see p. 10) and the Aramaic Papyri of Elephantine (see p. 7), from the same century. The Nippur tablets mention many typical Jewish names, whose provenience is certain because of the characteristic ending yau (written ya-a-ma but pronounced yau, as we know from modern comparative linguistic study of the Neo-Babylonian documents). By the fifth century B.C. Jews had thus created an important place for themselves in the community, and many of them had become wealthy. Many other details in Ezra and Ezekiel are illustrated by discoveries made in Babylonia.

The Elephantine documents are not only of the greatest general historical and philological importance; they also tell us explicitly that the Jewish colony at the southern end of Egypt Proper was founded before Cambyse's conquest in 525, thus being probably connected with the migration to Egypt described in Jer. 41-44 (not long after 587 B.C.). Most interesting is the fact that this Jewish colony had built a temple of its own to YHWH, where YHWH was worshipped together with certain of His manifestations, personified or hypostatized as separate entities.† This remarkable phenomenon may lead to very interesting historical results when it becomes possible to evaluate it in the light of comparative data (which has hardly been feasible hitherto). In 419 a certain high Jewish official named Hananiah writes to Elephantine giving the text of an edict of Darius II fixing the details of the observance of Passover. In 408 the Jews of Elephantine write to Bagoas, Persian governor of Judah (also mentioned by Josephus, Ant., XL, 7, 1) complaining about the destruction of their temple by the Egyptians three years before, and asking him to intercede on their behalf with Arsames, the Persian governor of Egypt. Incidentally, the letter also states that they had previously written to Bagoas himself and to the principal Jewish authorities in Jerusalem, the high priest Johanan and Ostanès, brother of Anani (who seems to have been the ranking noble), but had not received a reply. After this rebuff they wrote to Delaiah and Shemaiah, the sons of Sanballat, governor of Samaria, who replied favourably. Evidently the orthodox Jews of Jerusalem were not so well disposed toward the heterodox brethren of Upper Egypt as were the likewise heterodox Jews of Samaria. The Elephantine Papyri have compelled us to rewrite the history of the Restoration period, but we are now awaiting new finds in order to solve the new problems which they raise.

Thanks to the discovery of a number of texts relating to the triumph of Cyrus in Babylonia, we know that the edict of Cyrus (Ezra 1:1-4) is quite in keeping with that enlightened monarch's general policy, though the Bible only gives us its general tenor. On the other hand, the text of the edicts and letters quoted in extenso, Ezra 4:7 ff., is almost certainly original (aside from possible parentheses and copyists' errors), as has been demonstrated from ancient parallels by Eduard Meyer and H. H. Schaefer (1930). The names of Zerubbabel and of Sheshbazzar (his uncle) are now known to be good Babylonian (Zer-Babel and Shin-ab-usur). Much new light has been shed on the history of Darius's reign, so that we can put the prophecies of Haggai and Zechariah into their proper setting.

Thanks to two discoveries in Egypt, those of the Elephantine Papyri and the Gerza Papyri (see p. 37), we can fix Nehemiah's date with certainty—even the exact days can often be transferred to our calendar, thanks to the complete reconstruction of the Babylonian calendar of this time by Kugler and others—and can obtain a much clearer idea of conditions at the time. We now know that both Sanballat and Tobiah were Jews, one being the governor of the Persian province of Samaria, the other being the governor of the province of Ammon (including part, at least, of Gilead). Nehemiah thus appears as the champion of orthodox Babylonian Jewry against more conservative and paganizing Palestinian Jewry.

While no recent discovery has conclusively settled the debate with regard to the priority of Ezra or Nehemiah, the writer maintains the order Nehemiah—Ezra with increasing conviction. Schaefer has proved (1930) that Ezra was a high Persian official—probably a kind of Undersecretary for Jewish Affairs.

The Elephantine Papyri have also proved that Johanan was high priest as early as 411 B.C., and have thus made it almost impossible to believe that his son and successor, Jaddua, was still alive in the time of Alexander the * See especially Journal of Biblical Literature, Vol. LI, pp. 77-106, supplemented by the article cited above in the Bulletin.

† See American Journal of Semitic Languages, Vol. XLI, pp. 92 ff.

Great, eighty years after, as a story preserved by Josephus would have us believe. There would, therefore, seem to be a considerable gap in the list of high priests between Jaddua, the last one mentioned in the Bible, and Onias I (Johanan II), in the third century.

Archæological discoveries in southern Palestine have shown that the reoccupation of Judah after the Exile was a slow process, and that the country did not regain anything like its former prosperity until the third century B.C. Settlements of the Persian period have been excavated at Beth-zur, Bethel, Gibeah, Lachish, Gezer, and elsewhere. They have also brought to light a large number of stamped jar-handles belonging to the Temple treasury, and carrying on the preëxilic fiscal tradition (see p. 35). Most interesting of all has been the finding (mostly outside of excavations) of many Atticizing coins following the drachma standard, belonging to the fifth and fourth centuries B.C. This is one of the many recent discoveries which prove that Torrey and his followers are wrong in holding that the references to "drachmas" in the work of the Chronicler (including Ezra) belong to the Greek period. The trend of recent study has been strongly in favour of raising the date of the compilation of the Chronicler's work from the third century (as supposed by nearly all competent scholars of the past generation) to the early fourth. With this goes a correspondingly higher respect for its historical value. In 1933 E. L. Sukenik demonstrated that several silver coins of the Atticizing type (including the "Yahu" coin of Gaza, erroneously supposed to contain a representation of YHWH) were actually struck in Judah in the fourth century B.C., and bear the name of Judah (Aramaic Yehud). This discovery carries back the date of the earliest Hebrew coinage nearly three centuries.

CHAPTER XVIII

INTERTESTAMENTAL HISTORY: MACEDONIANS AND MACCABAEANS

THE length of the Intertestamental Period is hard to fix, unless we adopt some arbitrary definition, since there is ample evidence that the compilation of our present Old Testament was not finished until well along in the second century B.C. Here we use the term as roughly synonymous with "Hellenistic." It is often stated that there was an abrupt change in the civilization of southwestern Asia after Alexander's conquest. That there was a rather violent political change cannot be doubted, and the gradual transformation that takes place in culture is too obvious to be gainsaid. Yet it was a much slower process than is commonly thought, and it had, moreover, set in long before the time of Alexander. We now know that Greece of the late sixth century B.C. represented only one end of a world-culture, with the Persian Empire, which then controlled the major part of the Greek-speaking world, acting as a political bond and with the Phœnicians and Aramæans acting as a commercial and cultural link. Through the fifth and fourth centuries there was a vigorous interpenetration of cultural elements. Since Greece had by the age of Pericles outstripped the East, its influence on the latter became more and more dominant, as we learn from the number of Greek vases, coins, objects of art, etc., from the Persian period which we find in practically every excavation, no matter how small, in contemporary sites, whether in Egypt, in Palestine, in Syria, or in Asia Minor. Greek colonies continued to flourish and new Greek emporia were founded all along the coast of the eastern Mediterranean. All that Alexander's conquest did from the standpoint of material culture was to intensify the movement which was already under way.

New light on Palestine in the third and early second century comes mainly from two sources: the Zeno or Gerza Papyri and the excavations at Marisa and Beth-zur, as well as scattered archæological discoveries in many other sites. Palestine was then under the domination of the Lagide kings of Egypt, who bore the hereditary name "Ptolemy." The Zeno Papyri were discovered by natives, just before and during the War, at the site of Philadelphia, modern Gerza in the Fayum; they have been scattered through many museums, and many volumes have been published, principally by Edgar of the Cairo Museum. Zeno was a high official in the Egyptian administration under Ptolemy Philadelphus (285-246 B.C.) and the documents in his archives refer frequently to Palestine. The most interesting is a letter from Tobias, who was then governor of Ammon, stating that he was sending horses, dogs, camels, onagers, and hemionagers to the king. This letter and other documents referring to Tobias have made it possible to combine other scattered facts and to trace the history of the Tobiad family from the time of Nehemiah until the Maccabæan revolt. Other documents throw light on the history of the Sidonian colony at Marisa (see below) and give many details concerning the Palestine of the day.

The excavations at Tell Sandahannah, directed by Bliss and Macalister in 1900, brought to view an entire town of the period in question, with many interesting individual finds. Two years later the painted tombs of the vicinity, discovered by the natives, were explored by Peters and Thiersch; their painted walls and inscriptions are extremely important for our knowledge of contemporary Palestine. The town of Marisa, biblical Mare-shah, which stood here, was founded in the reign of Philadelphus by a Sidonian named Apollophanes; the names of his descendants and relatives by marriage are partly Greek, partly Phœnician, and some of them are Edomite (Idumæan). The most interesting painting represents a zoological garden, including numerous imaginary animals, probably drawn from descriptions and then transferred from drawings to the walls of one of our tombs.

Curiously enough, archæological and epigraphic evidence bearing on the following Maccabæan age (166-37 B.C.) is even scantier than it is for the previous period. The most interesting archæological remains come from Beth-zur (p. 16) and Gezer; in the former site Sellers and the writer excavated a Maccabæan fortress and cleared remains of frequently repaired fortifications which gave a vivid picture of the vicissitudes of that age, and of the important rôle then played by the town. Almost the only remains of the Maccabæan period which stand above ground are the ruined walls of Jannæus's fortress of Alexandrium, situated on the summit of Qarn Sartabeh. The interesting Tobiad remains at 'Araq el-Emir in Transjordan may belong to the early Maccabæan period, but are more likely to date from the third century (see above).

From the reign of John Hyrcanus (134-105) on we have an abundance of Jewish coins, nearly all bronze. It was formerly believed that the Maccabæan coinage commenced with Simon (143-134 B.C.), but recent excavations have effectively disproved this theory. Almost the only inscriptions outside of the coins are the short legends cut deeply in the rocks around Gezer and bearing the words "the boundary of Gezer"—probably referring to the limits of a Sabbath journey.

CHAPTER XIX

THE HERODIAN RENAISSANCE

WHEN Pompey took Jerusalem in 63 B.C., the death-knell of the Maccabæan dynasty was sounded, though it retained a feeble hold on Judæa until Herod's victory in 37 B.C. The bloody wars of Alexander Jannæus (104-78 B.C.) had nearly ruined the country, and had depopulated its cities, a number of which were then abandoned, as we know from the excavations at Marisa, Beth-zur, Gezer, etc. The land was, therefore, fortunate to be rid of Hasmonæan rule, brilliant as had been its early achievements. With Herod the Great came in a strong tide of Græco-Roman culture, supported by an able but unscrupulous prince who considered himself at once Idumæan, Jew, Greek, and Roman. Hellenism did not obtain a complete victory in Palestine until the reign of Herod the Great, who undid much of the work of the Maccabees.

In Herod's time the land was again wealthy and commerce was more active than ever before, in spite of the oppressive taxation to which he subjected the people in order to secure funds for his costly building operations in Palestine and elsewhere. Archæological investigations have naturally thrown a great deal of light on his building. In Jerusalem we have the great retaining wall of the Temple enclosure, formerly attributed, at least in part, to Solomon. This massive wall was examined in part to bed-rock (over fifty feet down in a number of places) by Warren, between 1867 and 1870. Some of the great piers which supported the Herodian esplanade south of the Temple may still be seen in the so-called Stables of Solomon. North of the Temple area the remains of the Prætorium and of the Tower of Antonia have been studied by Fr. Vincent during the past few years, but are only partly published. The excavations here had to be made in the face of serious difficulties beneath the buildings of the Sisters of Sion. C. N. Johns has cleared the interior of the citadel south of the Jaffa Gate, throwing more light on the Herodian fortifications, extensive portions of which stand above ground in this sector. Bliss traced the city wall of Herod for a considerable distance on the south of the city, and his work has been continued by subsequent excavators. In Hebron and Ramet el-Khalil, the original site of Mamre (or at least the site accepted as Mamre two thousand years ago), architectural researches and excavations have disclosed impressive remains of two great structures of Herod: one erected over the traditional site of the Cave of Machpelah, where the Patriarchs were buried; the other built at the supposed site of the Terebinth of Mamre ("Abraham's Oak"). Remains of Herodian work have also been discovered at Samaria, which he rebuilt, naming it Sebaste in honour of Augustus; at Ascalon, reputed to be his birthplace; at Jericho; and elsewhere. His palace and burial-place at Herodium (Frank Mountain south of Bethlehem) have not yet been attacked by the pick of the archæologist, though many scholars have fixed their eyes covetously upon this attractive spot, deterred only by the heavy expense of digging there.

The most interesting masonry structure from the late Herodian period is undoubtedly the line of the third wall of Jerusalem, laid out by the engineers of Herod Agrippa and completed by the Jewish rebels between the years 67 and 70 A.D.

Jerusalem is nearly surrounded by Jewish cemeteries from the Maccabæan and Herodian age, mostly from the latter. It is now very unlikely that any of the elaborate tombs around Jerusalem, such as the "Tomb of Absalom," the "Tomb of Zechariah"—believed by Galling to be part of the complex belonging to the Tomb of the Bene Hezir ("Tomb of St. James")—the "Tomb of the Judges," etc., antedate the first century B.C. After the studies of Clermont-Ganneau and Klein, it is reasonably certain that the "Tomb of St. James" belongs to a family of priests (of the order of the Bene Hezir, mentioned in I Chron. 24:15 and in rabbinic literature) who held office during the reign of Herod the Great. It has long been quite certain that the "Tombs of the Kings," cleared by de Saulcy more than eighty years ago, represent the mausoleum of Queen Helena of Adiabene and the members of her house, who became converted to Judaism and migrated to Palestine not long before the First Revolt. The sarcophagus of the queen, with a bilingual inscription in Hebrew and Syriac, now stands in the Louvre.

An exceedingly interesting inscription was recently published by Sukenik, who discovered it among the old collections of the Russian museum in Jerusalem (1931). It is written in the Aramaic script of the time of Christ, on a beautifully carved slab, and reads: "Hither were brought the bones of Uzziah king of Judah—do not open!" In other words, the supposed bones of king Uzziah (eighth century B.C.) were brought from their traditional burial-place and deposited in a new mausoleum, presumably at the order of some king (Herod the Great?). It is the longest Aramaic inscription from the time of Christ which is not purely formulaic or composed of proper names, and is most interesting as showing that current impressions with regard to the Palestinian Aramaic of the time (including Dalman's and Torrey's) are to some extent anachronistic.

Sukenik's researches and excavations have doubled the number of Aramaic and Greek inscriptions on ossuaries (bone caskets) which were known. The value of these simple documents for our knowledge of the nomenclature, the social and family organization, etc., has hardly been stressed at all. They contain hundreds of Jewish names from the time of Christ and the apostles, including a "Jeshua (Jesus) son of Joseph," many Simons, Judases, Ananiases, Sapphiras, etc. Among them we find Salome, Apphia (Philemon 2), the latter for the first time outside the Bible. From Beth-phage or its vicinity come lists of laborers of the period. When Sukenik has published his detailed study of the entire ossuary material we shall undoubtedly be surprised at the wealth of information which can be extracted from it, all bearing on the history and culture of Jerusalem in the New Testament Age.

Among the inscriptions of this period found in Palestine, two Greek ones demand attention. One is the famous notice, once placed in prominent locations at the entrances to the Temple precincts. A perfect example was discovered in 1871 by Clermont-Ganneau and is now in the Istanbul Museum; another broken fragment was found in 1935. The text reads: "No Gentile may enter inside the enclosing screen around the Temple. Whoever is caught (entering) is alone responsible for the death (-penalty) which follows." These warning inscriptions were probably set up by Herod the Great, and were thus standing in the time of Christ and the Apostles; they help us to understand the force of the accusation brought by the Jews against Paul (Acts 21:28). The second inscription was discovered by R. Weill in his excavations at the southern end of "Ophel" in 1913-14, and was published after the War; it is the oldest synagogue inscription known, and is probably the oldest known architectural fragment from a synagogue, dating from before the year 70 A.D. (for other later synagogues see p. 17). The text reads: "Theodotus son of Vettenus, priest and synagogue-president, son of a synagogue-president and grandson of a synagogue-president, has built the synagogue for the reading of the Law and the teaching of the Commandments, and (he has built) the hostelry and the chambers and the cisterns of water in order to provide lodgings for those from abroad who need them—(the synagogue) which his fathers and the elders and Simonides had founded." The patronymic, derived from the Roman gens Vettia, proves that Theodotus was son or grandson of a Jewish freedman, presumably descended from a captive taken by Pompey or Gabinius a century or more previously. The synagogue is thus almost certainly the "Synagogue of the Freedmen" (Acts 6:8), founded presumably about the time of Christ.

CHAPTER XX

LIGHT ON THE NEW TESTAMENT FROM EGYPTIAN PAPYRI

In 1788 Nicholas Schow published the first Egyptian papyri, which belonged to a find made some time previously at Gizeh. Little attention was paid to the few Greek papyri which were discovered and brought to Europe in the following decades, and the amount of irreplaceable documentary material which was destroyed by the finders must have been considerable. In 1877 more general interest was aroused by the discovery of quantities of Greek papyri at Arsinoe in the Fayum, followed in 1888-90 by Petrie's finds in a cemetery at Hawarah. But the tremendous importance of Egypt's buried papyrus treasures did not become fully evident until Grenfell and Hunt scored their initial triumph at Behnesa, the site of ancient Oxyrhynchus in the Fayum, in the year 1897. In the forty years that have elapsed since then excavators have vied with native diggers in searching for the priceless rolls and scraps of vegetable fibre which have added so immensely to our knowledge of Græco-Roman antiquity. The principal finds have been made at Oxyrhynchus itself, at Tebtynis, at Philadelphia (Gerzeh), and elsewhere in the Fayum, though the Nile Valley proper has also yielded many papyri, from Elephantine, where some of the oldest Greek documents have been found, to Memphis at the southern end of the Delta. Nearly ten thousand distinct texts and documents, many in very fragmentary condition, have been published, and at least half as many again (more if we include insignificant fragments) remain to appear in printed form. In time they range from the second half of the fourth century B.C. to about the middle of the seventh century A.D., when they are fast replaced by Arabic papyri.

The content of the Greek papyri is most diversified. We have many hundreds of literary texts, containing the oldest fragments of the Old and New Testaments (see Chapter XXII), the oldest preserved copies of the Iliad and the Odyssey, rolls and fragments containing parts of many other known writers and of numerous lost or even unknown works, official documents and business contracts of every possible type, private letters, school exercises, lists and miscellaneous jottings. For our present purposes the private letters and other documents written in the current Greek of the day are most valuable, for reasons which we shall proceed to explain.

The most complete and scientific dictionary of New Testament Greek before the revolution brought by the papyri, was Thayer's Lexicon, the revised edition of which appeared in 1896, forty years ago. Here more than five hundred Greek words were listed as appearing only in the New Testament—or only in the New Testament, Septuagint, and Apocrypha. Even after numerous personal names and loan-words of Hebrew and Aramaic origin had been eliminated from the list, it still amounted to several hundred, including dialectic variants of well-known Greek words. The intensive study of many thousands of letters and documents written in the ordinary Greek of the Hellenistic-Roman age has so greatly reduced this list that all competent scholars now agree that the New Testament was written in the current lingua franca, the koine. The latter is descended from the Attic Greek of the fifth century B.C. in which nearly all classical Greek literature is written, but has some admixture of dialectic elements, mainly from Ionic. Until the Egyptian papyri came to light there was not a single known example of the koine, except in the Bible and literary compositions dependent on it. Small wonder that the latter was believed to be written in a special "Biblical" Greek, supposed to be a jargon of Greek-speaking Jews—or even to be an artificial construction of the Hellenistic Jews.

Quite aside from this general result, which is most valuable because it shows that the New Testament was written in the language which was current throughout the civilized world of the time, are innumerable specific gains to biblical philology. Practically every discussion of the meaning of a Greek word in the New Testament draws heavily upon occurrences of the word in question or a closely related form in the papyri. Many hitherto obscure or peculiar turns of phraseology have been explained. For example, the word epiusion, which occurs only in the Lord's Prayer (Mat. 6:11, Luke 11:3), has recently been discovered to mean "ration," a fact which proves that some of the explanations hitherto offered of the word are wrong: "our daily bread" is correct, but "our ration of food" would perhaps be a more literal translation. Deissmann, Moulton, Meecham, and others have given long lists of previously found word-parallels and correspondences in idiom, grammatical form, and syntax. New data are being added almost every time a new papyrus or group of documents is published.

At this point it is well to insert a caveat. The parallelism between the New Testament and the contemporary documents of vulgar (i.e., not literary) Greek only extends to the language and to other externals. The gulf between the style, teaching, and conceptual background of the New Testament and those of contemporary Græco-Roman paganism is tremendous.* Moreover, the New Testament was written entirely by Jews, with a spiritual and literary background in the Bible and the proto-rabbinic culture, so it remains a Jewish work, in spite of its contemporary Greek dress.

Since there are very few literary documents of the Hellenistic period among the papyrus treasures, direct literary light on the New Testament comes mainly from the Roman period, and consists of extra-canonical writings resembling the New Testament in style and content, but mostly later in date. The most interesting of these writings is probably the Logia Iesu, the first and most important of which was discovered by Grenfell and Hunt at Oxyrhynchus in 1897 and published the same year. Since these Logia date from the late second or early third century, and purport to give the text of various sayings of Jesus which have otherwise disappeared, their extraordinary interest is evident. We shall follow the latest interpretations in our translations of Logia II, III, and V; the rest are variants of sayings in the canonical Gospels:

*See the excellent sketch by A. D. Nock, Journal of Biblical Literature, LII, 1933, pp. 131-9.

II. "Except ye keep (your life in) the world ~~is~~ a fast, ye shall not find the Kingdom of God; and except ye keep the (whole) week as a sabbath, ye shall not see the Father."

III. "I stood in the midst of the world and in the flesh was I seen of them, and I found all men drunken, and none found I athirst among them; and my soul grieveth over the sons of men, because they are blind in their heart, and see not . . ."

V. "Wherever there are two, they are not without God, and wherever there is one alone I say, I am with him. Lift the stone, and there thou shalt find Me; cleave the wood, and I am there."

Since this first discovery a number of others have been made. In 1903 two more fragments were discovered at the same site; one probably belongs to the same work as the first find, and contains the following interesting logion:

"Let not him who seeks cease until he finds, and when he finds he shall be astonished, astonished he shall reign, and having reigned he shall rest."

The other fragment belongs to a lost gospel, like a larger piece published in 1908 and another which appeared six years later. All three bear unmistakable indications of belonging to uncanonical, though perhaps relatively orthodox gospels, such as the lost-gospels of Peter and of the Hebrews. In 1935 Bell and Skeat published a much longer and better preserved group of fragments, belonging to the second century A.D., perhaps even to its first half. This unexpected find thus antedates the Logia Iesu. Though the contents diverge quite sharply from the corresponding passages in our canonical Gospels, there is nothing about them to render their orthodoxy suspect. The text stands in a particularly close relation to the Gospel of John, but it is not clear whether it is partly based on it or whether both go back to a common source. In view of the striking individuality of the Book of John, and of its superior literary composition, it is probable that the new document is secondary, so that it becomes a witness to a much earlier date for the composition of the Gospel than has been allowed either by the antiquated school of Tübingen or by the even more radical Dutch school.

CHAPTER XXI

ASIA MINOR AND GREECE IN THE AGE OF PAUL

IN no part of the Roman Empire have so many inscriptions in Greek been discovered as in Greece and Asia Minor. The Hellenization of Asia Minor, which probably began as early as the fourteenth century B.C., advanced apace after Alexander's conquest, and the country was almost completely Greek-speaking by the time of Christ, aside from some mountaineers of the Taurus and other comparatively isolated regions—and perhaps some of the Gauls who had settled in Galatia nearly three centuries before. In Chapter V we have briefly described the archæological exploration of Asia Minor in recent decades, and have alluded to the work of Sir William Ramsay, who perhaps did more for the recovery of Græeco-Roman Asia Minor than any other modern scholar.

Most of the cities of Asia Minor and Greece mentioned in the Book of Acts are now securely identified; one of the most recalcitrant, Lystra, was located in 1885 by Sterrett. We can, therefore, trace the journeys of Paul very accurately on the map. Much more significant for us, however, is the vivid picture of conditions in the Apostolic Age which we may now draw, thanks to the many thousands of Greek inscriptions belonging to late Hellenistic and early Roman times which have been recovered and published. The greatest of these is the Monumentum Ancyranum, a partial duplicate of which was recently discovered by Robinson at Antioch in Pisidia. This priceless text on stone gives the official version of the "Deeds Accomplished by the Divine Augustus (Cæsar)," dating from the boyhood of Jesus and giving a remarkable picture of Augustus's efforts to fulfil the Messianic expectations of the time. Disappointed in their hope of a reign of the gods on earth, the masses of Asia Minor turned with the greater eagerness to the teachings of the first missionaries of Christianity.

A surprising number of details mentioned in the narrative of Paul's missionary career in the eastern Mediterranean basin, have been confirmed by the inscriptions. For instance, the titles "asiarch," applied to Ephesian officials (Acts 19:31), and "politarch," given to Thessalonian officials (Acts 17:6 ff.), are both repeatedly attested on inscriptions. Inscriptional mention of Gallio, proconsul of Achaia (Acts 18:12 ff.), is of value for Pauline chronology. Numerous suggestions for the identification of persons mentioned in Acts or the Pauline Epistles with men of the same name and locality attested by inscriptions, have been made; among the more plausible are the suggestions that Demetrius the silversmith of Ephesus (Acts 19:24) is a contemporary Demetrius, and that Erastus of Corinth (Rom. 16:23, etc.) is the Erastus of an inscription found in Corinth in 1929. Neither combination can be proved, and other hypotheses of the same character are even vaguer. On the other hand, the temple of the Ephesian Artemis (Diana) has undoubtedly been discovered, and recent American excavations in the Agora have thrown additional light on the topography of Athens and the question of Mars Hill (Acts 17:22). The "altar to an unknown god" (Acts 17:23) is one of a type known from archæological discoveries belonging to the same age. One of the most recent discoveries in this field is Cadbury's identification of an inscriptional fragment from the American excavations of Corinth as belonging to the flesh-market there which is referred to in I. Cor. 10:25.*

CHAPTER XXII

NEW LIGHT ON THE EARLIEST VERSIONS OF THE BIBLE

AFTER the great achievements of Tischendorf (1843) and others in finding old biblical manuscripts in remote places, the flow of new texts of early date ceased almost entirely for half a century or more. Then came discoveries of papyri, gradually increasing in number and importance until we now have a remarkable collection of fragmentary materials for the early history of the text of the Bible, both the Old and the New Testament.

At the end of the nineteenth century the oldest certainly dated Hebrew manuscript of the Old Testament was the so-called Codex Petropolitanus, now preserved at Leningrad, dated in the year 916 A.D.; it contains the later Prophets. Shortly before, an older manuscript had been discovered in Cairo, and two manuscripts, one in the British Museum and the other at Aleppo, were considered by many to be older. Thanks especially to the researches of P. Kahle, much greater clarity in the matter of dating Hebrew biblical manuscripts has been attained, and there can be no doubt that the oldest manuscripts from the Cairo Genizah and the Firkowitsch collection in Leningrad belong to the eighth or ninth century A.D. There are also a few papyrus fragments of Byzantine or early Arabic age.

In 1903 S. A. Cook published a fragment of papyrus (the Nash Papyrus), containing twenty-four lines from the middle of a page or roll, both beginning and end of each line being lost. He then dated it in the first half of the second century A.D., a date subsequently followed by most scholars, though some declare it to be later, and even to form part of a liturgy or lectionary. In the light of the greatly increased epigraphic data of today (including an unpublished graffito of the second century B.C. from Marisa), there can be no doubt, in the writer's judgment, that the Nash Papyrus belongs to the second or the early first century B.C.—in other words, to the Maccabæan age. Its divergences from the received Hebrew text and certain unexpected agreements with the earliest Greek version are to be expected, since our fragment dates from the general period in which the Septuagint was translated from Hebrew into Greek. In no case can it be more than two centuries later than the latter.

After recent discoveries of papyri had carried our first-hand attestation of the Greek text of the Old Testament back to the second century A.D. (Beatty papyri), it seemed that earlier evidence would hardly be forthcoming. In 1936 C. H. Roberts published five fragments of Deuteronomy which were dated both by the script, by the accompanying Demotic fragments (all from the same mummy case) and by the Greek accounts on the reverse, to the second century B.C., not more than a century or a century and a half after the translation of the Septuagint. The editor supposed erroneously that the new fragments diverge from the oldest form of the Septuagint, but J. A. Montgomery has just pointed out that this is actually not the case at all, and that they stand in a remarkably close relation to the latest critical reconstruction of the latter by Rahlfs (1935).

After press announcements had aroused wide interest among students of the Bible, the Chester Beatty papyri of the New Testament were published by Sir Frederick Kenyon in 1933-34. These papyri are mostly in the British Museum, with some pieces in the University of Michigan; they consist of extensive fragments of codices of the Gospels, the Acts, the Pauline Epistles, and the Book of Revelation. They all date from the third century A.D., some even from its first half, being thus a good century older than the Codex Sinaiticus (recently acquired by the British Museum from the Russian Government) and the Vaticanus. Though written less than two centuries after the composition of the books of the New Testament, they show that our current critical texts are correct in all essentials—in some respects probably more correct than the Beatty papyri!

Even earlier, in all probability, than the oldest Beatty fragment (though considerably younger than the new gospel fragment described on p. 41) is a parchment page of the Diatessaron of Tatian from Dura (see p. 12), discovered March 5, 1933, and published by C. H. Kraeling in 1935. This priceless fragment cannot be later than the middle of the third century, when the city was destroyed and abandoned; a date in the first quarter of the third century appears to be certain. The long debate as to the language in which Tatian's work, the oldest Harmony of the Gospels, was written is now settled in favour of Greek. Our fragment cannot have been written more than two generations after the composition of the Diatessaron, and it may be somewhat older. Through it we obtain a direct attestation of the original Greek of several verses of the Gospels, carrying us back to within a century and a half of the Crucifixion.

*See his interesting article in Journal of Biblical Literature, LIII (1934), 134 ff.

CHAPTER XXIII

THE BIBLE IN THE CRUCIBLE OF NEW DISCOVERY

At the end of Chapters I and VIII we have made some observations with regard to the bearing of the new discoveries in the ancient Orient on the Bible. Here we shall recapitulate briefly, with a few additions to what has been said in the course of this sketch.

Of first importance is the fact that the history and culture of Israel now form part of the organic continuity of Western civilization, which originated in the ancient Orient, spread westward in the Mediterranean basin, and then flowered in Europe. No philosopher of history can henceforth dissociate the Bible from the historical evolution of our own race and culture. There are innumerable points of contact between the details of Hebrew history, life, and literature, and the world around it. Even Hebrew religion is the resultant of many forces and tendencies which under God's Providence have played their part in giving us the Christian faith of today. Without the prehistory of the Bible we cannot understand it as philosophers or as theologians; without seeing it in the perspective of its time we cannot recognize its true greatness. Climaxing and transcending all ancient religious literatures, it represents God's culminating revelation to man at the latter's coming to the age of maturity. At least a hundred thousand years had elapsed since man first learned to make artifacts—less than two thousand years have passed since the close of the Canon. Yet some ask us to believe that the Bible reflects so primitive a stage of cultural and even biological evolution that it no longer has a meaning for modern man!

The problems of historical and literary criticism which disturbed our fathers when freed rudely from certain preconceived ideas to which they had become attached, no longer disturb a generation of biblical scholars who are discovering that they must retrace their steps toward a rational conservatism.* We no longer trouble ourselves with attempts to "harmonize" religion and science, or to "prove" the Bible. The Bible can stand by itself; it has suffered more in many respects from its well-intentioned friends than from its honest foes. As research and discovery continue it will become greater and greater in the widening perspective which they will give to our children.

---

*For a recent discussion of the reaction toward a modified conservatism see Chapter III of the writer's Archaeology of Palestine and the Bible (3rd ed., 1935).

CHRONOLOGICAL TABLE

| MinimumChronology B.C. | Palestine(Syria)      | Egypt                                          | Babylonia                             | North Mesopotamia(Assyria) |
|----------------------------|---------------------------|------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| At least 50,000—           |                           | Early Palæolithic (Chellean, Acheulian)        |                                       |                                |
| At least 30,000—           |                           | Middle Palæolithic (Levalloisian, Mousterian)  |                                       |                                |
| At least 15,000—           |                           | Upper Palæolithic (Aurignacian, Lower Capsian) |                                       |                                |
| At least 8000—             |                           | Mesolithic (Microlithic: Natufian, etc.)       |                                       |                                |
| At least 5000—             |                           | Neolithic (coarse monochrome pottery)          |                                       |                                |
| At least 4000—             | Ghassulian                | Badarian                                       |                                       | Early Halafian                 |
| At least 3500—             | Late Chalcolithic (to     | Early Predynastic                              | Obeid period                          | Late Halafian                  |
| At least 3300—             | Bethshan XVI)             | Late Predynastic                               | Warka period                          |                                |
| At least 3200—             |                           |                                                | Jemdet Nasr                           | Gawra VIII                     |
| At least 3000—             | Early Bronze a            |                                                | period                                |                                |
|                            |                           |                                                | Early Dynastic                        |                                |
| 2900—                      | Early Bronze b            | First Dynasty                                  |                                       | Assur G                        |
| 2600—                      | Early Bronze c            | Third Dynasty(Pyramid Age)                 | Empire of Accad (Sargon I, Naram-Sin) |                                |
|                            |                           |                                                | Irruption of the Guteans              |                                |
| 2300—                      | Early Bronze d            | Sixth Dynasty                                  | Third Dynasty of Ur (Shulgi)          |                                |
|                            |                           | First Intermediate                             | Dynasties of Isin and                 | Assur independent              |
| 2100—                      | Middle Bronze I           |                                                | Larsa                                 |                                |
|                            |                           |                                                | Dynasty of Babylon                    |                                |
| 2000—                      | Middle Bronze II          | Twelfth Dynasty                                | (Hammurabi)                           | Cappadocian colonies           |
|                            |                           |                                                | [2100-1800]                           | (Sargon I of Assyria)          |
| 1800—                      |                           | Second Intermediate                            | Barbarian irruption                   | Early Hittite Empire           |
| 1700—                      |                           | (Hyksos period)                                | Cossæan Dynasty                       |                                |
|                            |                           | [1730-1570]                                    | [1732-1156]                           |                                |
| 1600—                      |                           | Eighteenth Dynasty                             |                                       | Mitannian Empire               |
|                            |                           | [1580-1320]                                    |                                       | [16th-14th cent.]              |
| 1500—                      | Late Bronze I             | (Tuthmosis III)                                |                                       |                                |
|                            |                           | [1500-1450]                                    |                                       |                                |
| 1400-1350—                 | (Amarna period)           | (Amenophis III)                                |                                       | New Hittite Empire             |
|                            |                           | [1415-1380]                                    |                                       |                                |
| Late 14th cent.            | Late Bronze II            | Nineteenth Dynasty                             |                                       | Revival of Assyria             |
|                            |                           | [1320-1200]                                    |                                       | (Asshur-uballit)               |
| Late 13th cent.            | Israelite occupation      | (Ramesses II)                                  |                                       | [1370-1335]                    |
|                            |                           | [1301-1235]                                    |                                       |                                |
| 1200—                      | Iron I a                  | Twentieth Dynasty                              |                                       | (Tukulti-Ninurta I)            |
|                            |                           | [1200-1070]                                    |                                       | [1250-1215]                    |
| Late 12th cent.            | Iron I b(Philistines) | (Ramesses III)                                 | Fourth Dynasty of                     | (Asshur-dan I)                 |
|                            |                           | [1195-1164]                                    | Babylon                               | [1185-1140]                    |
|                            |                           |                                                | [1156-1025]                           |                                |
| 1100—                      | Gideon                    | Dyn. XXI (Tanis)                               |                                       | (Tiglathpileser I)             |
|                            |                           | [1070-940]                                     |                                       | [1109-1082]                    |
| 1050—                      | Fall of Shiloh            |                                                |                                       |                                |
| Late 11th cent.            | Iron I c                  |                                                |                                       |                                |

CHRONOLOGICAL TABLE—Continued

| Chronology   | Palestine              | Egypt                                       | Babylonia                               | Assyria                    |
|--------------|------------------------|---------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| c. 1010 B.C. | Saul                   | -----                                       | Dyn. of Sea-Lands                       | Asshur-rabi I [1013]       |
| c. 1000      | David                  | -----                                       | [1024-1004]                             | Asshur-resh-ishi II [972]  |
| c. 960       | Solomon                | Dyn. XXII                                   | Dyn. VIII                               | Tiglathpileser II [967]    |
| c. 930       | Division of Monarchy   | Shishak I [c.940]                           | [976-732]                               | Asshur-dan II [934]        |
| 912          | Asa in Judah           | Osorkon I [c.915]                           | -----                                   | Adad-nirari II [912]       |
| 886          | Omri in Israel         | Takehot I [c.880]                           | -----                                   | Asshur-nasir-apal II [884] |
| 872          | Jehoshaphat (Judah)    | Osorkon II [c.860]                          | -----                                   | Shalmaneser III [859]      |
| 843          | Jehu in Israel         | -----                                       | -----                                   | Shamshi-Adad IV [824]      |
| 804          | Amaziah in Judah       | -----                                       | -----                                   | Adad-nirari III [806]      |
| 790          | Jeroboam II            | -----                                       | -----                                   | Shalmaneser IV [782]       |
| 776          | Uzziah in Judah        | -----                                       | -----                                   | Asshur-dan III [772]       |
| 749          | Menahem (Israel)       | -----                                       | Nabonassar [747]                        | Tiglathpileser III [746]   |
| 734          | Ahaz in Judah          | End of Dyn. XXII                            | Shalmaneser V [727]                     |                            |
| 722-1        | Fall of Samaria        | Ethiopian conquest c. [725]                 | Sargon II [722]                         |                            |
| 714          | Hezekiah (Judah)       | Taharko [689]                               | Sennacherib [705]                       |                            |
| 686          | Manasseh               | Assyr. conquest [671]                       | Esarhaddon [681]                        |                            |
| 642          | Josiah                 | Necho [609]                                 | Asshur-ban-apal [669]                   |                            |
| 609          | Jehoiakim              | Apries (Hophra) [588]                       | Nabopolassar [625]                      | Fall of Nineveh [612]      |
| 587          | Fall of Jerusalem      | Amasis [569]                                | Nebuchadnezzar [605]                    | -----                      |
| -----        | -----                  | -----                                       | Cyrus of Persia conquers Astyages [549] |                            |
| 538          | Edict of Cyrus         | -----                                       | Cyrus conquers Babylon [539]            |                            |
| -----        | -----                  | Pers. conquest [525]                        | Cambyses of Persia [530]                |                            |
| 515          | Temple finished        | Darius II (Hystaspes) [522]                 |                                         |                            |
| -----        | -----                  | Xerxes (Ahasuerus) [486]                    |                                         |                            |
| 458          | Ezra's mission ?       | Artaxerxes II (Longimanus) [464]            |                                         |                            |
| 445          | Nehemiah arrives       | Darius II (Nothus) [423]                    |                                         |                            |
| 397          | Ezra's mission !       | Artaxerxes II (Mnemon) [404]                |                                         |                            |
| -----        | Jaddua high priest     | Artaxerxes III (Ochus) [359]                |                                         |                            |
| 330          | Macedonian conquest    | Alexander the Great conquers Asia [334-323] |                                         |                            |
| -----        | Egyptian occupation    | Ptolemy I [323] (Egypt)                     | Seleucus I [312] (Syria & Mesopotamia)  |                            |
| -----        | -----                  | Ptolemy II [285]                            | Antiochus I [280]                       |                            |
| -----        | -----                  | Ptolemy III [246]                           | Antiochus II [261]                      |                            |
| -----        | Simon the Just         | Ptolemy IV [221]                            | Seleucus II [247]                       |                            |
| 200          | Syrian conquest        | Ptolemy V [203]                             | Antiochus III [223]                     |                            |
| -----        | -----                  | Ptolemy VI [181]                            | Seleucus IV [187]                       |                            |
| 167          | Maccabæan revolt       | -----                                       | Antiochus IV [175]                      |                            |
| 160          | Jonathan high priest   | -----                                       | Demetrius I [162]                       |                            |
| 143          | Simon high priest      | Ptolemy VII [146]                           | Alexander Balas [150]                   |                            |
| 134          | John Hyrcanus          | -----                                       | Antiochus VII [138]                     |                            |
| 104          | Alexander Jannæus      | -----                                       | -----                                   |                            |
| 63           | Pompey takes Jerusalem | -----                                       | Roman occupation of Syria [63]          |                            |
| 37           | Herod the Great        | Roman conquest [30]                         | -----                                   |                            |
| 4 B.C.       | Archelaus              | Augustus (first Roman emperor) [30]         |                                         |                            |
| -----        | -----                  | Tiberius [14 A.D.]                          |                                         |                            |
| 37 A.D.      | Herod Agrippa          | Caligula [37 A.D.]                          |                                         |                            |
| -----        | -----                  | Claudius [41 A.D.]                          |                                         |                            |
| -----        | -----                  | Nero [54 A.D.]                              |                                         |                            |
| 70 A.D.      | Fall of Jerusalem      | Vespasian [70 A.D.]                         |                                         |                            |

A15921

THEOLOGY LIBRARY
CLAREMONT CALIF.

BS Young, Robert, 1822-1888.
425 Analytical concordance to the Bible; on an Y7 entirely new plan ... Also Index lexicons to 1930 the Old and New Testaments ... 20th American ed., rev. ... by Wm. B. Stevenson. To which is added ... Recent discoveries in Bible lands, by William F. Albright. New York, Fund & Wagnalls [193-?] viii, 1090, 23, 93, 43p. 29cm.

